Pinch Hitting

By Garry Alexander

ANOTHER LOST WEEKEND!

The McFarlands salvaged only one point out of a possible six over the weekend, despite the fact that at times they appeared to be hitting their stride.

In Whitby Saturday night after Gordie Bell kept the Macs in the game for two periods with his best performance of the season, the club came to life with plenty of hustle and drive in the final heat. The result was a 4-4 tie with the Dunlops right on Whitby ice. And to make it more impressive the Macs got the tie after trailing 3-0 in the first and 4-1 entering the third period.

But then on Sunday, the situation was reversed. It was the Cheviots who scored three times without an answer in the third period to down the faltering Allan Cup champs 5-3.

Penalties were a bugaboo Friday through Sunday and while they helped the Macs to their tie with Whitby, the ledger was a little unbalanced in the three games.

Friday Belleville received seven minors and a major, while the Dunnies took six minors. As a result the Dunlope scored twice while our side was shorthanded. But that was not the whole story. Just when the Macs had scored once and appeared to be coming to life, another pair of minors killed all hopes for a comeback.

Saturday, penalties left little sting in the Belleville offensive in the first and second periods. As a result Whitby built 3-0 and 4-1 leads. Fate turned here, however, as the Macs took advantage of Whitby penalties to score twice on the way to their tie. But it took a whale of a change in the Macs' style of play and a red-hot Gordie Bell to get the tie.

One can't help but think that without those earlier penalties the Macs might have had a goal or two more scored in behind of a tie. The penalties total reached ten with Belleville drawing six minors and a misconduct.

Sunday it was the same story from the midway point in the game on. The score was tied 2-2, Bradley having fired the equalizer while the Cheviots were shy a man. But Hildebrand and MacDonald took penalties before the second period ended. MacDonald's overlapped and Benoit joined him in the sin-bin early in the third period. Moe was still off when Cornwall scored the winning goal. Crawford, Benoit again and Ragian made it six straight penalties for the Macs in the second half of the game. Cornwall did not draw one. The totals showed Belleville with seven and Cornwall with three.

In other words the Macs had 85 minutes in penalties in three games. The opposition had 24. Figure it out for yourself. How can a team expect to keep any kind of sustained attack under way with men in the penalty box all night?

True, the power play had its moments for our side, something that has not been prominent to date this season. Bathgate scored twice while the Dunlops were shorthanded Saturday and Bradley got one Sunday with the Cheviots a man down. But for every one chance the Macs have to work a power play, the opposing team has two. And when the Macs are a goal or two behind and should be storming the opposition's net, they are busy instead trying to kill off penalties.

Come on, boys, let's get on the ball! You looked like champions for one period Saturday night. But it will take a heck of a lot more than one period of hockey to beat Belleville. Staying on the ice and hustling all the way may be the answer.

ON THE GRIDIRON

Anybody who watched both of Saturday's big playoff football games, in Ottawa and Edmonton—how that phrase would have raised eyebrows before TV—would be pardoned for concluding that if the Grey Cup final on Nov. 29 is not between Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Winnipeg Blue Bombers there ought to be an investigation by a royal commission.

Ottawa Rough Riders are dead, dead, dead. Even if the TiCats play like the little kittens that lost their mittens, that 25-point bulge they took back to Hamilton with them should buy their tickets to Vancouver. Ottawa's only hope is to persuade the Big Four executives to pass a rule requiring Bernie Faloney to wear handcuffs and Gerry McDougall to spin a hula hoop while toting the pigskin. Even that, though, wouldn't do anything about Coach Jim Trimble—and Trimble was worth fourteen points to the TiCats Saturday. First he came up with a new spread formation, with Bernie Faloney looking awfully lonely in the backfield, and Faloney promptly proved the beauties of solitude when it provided an extra potential pass receiver. It was Faloney to Milt Campbell for 69 yards and a touchdown. Coach Frank Clair of Ottawa, thought he would try the solitude trick, and left the Ottawa backfielders shy one of their mates on just one play which was enough for Ron Howell to catch another Faloney pass, lastly oldest the casually reliable Ted Smale, and waltz 55 yards for the Ticats' second touchdown, against the eleven Rough Riders on the field. After that the Rough Riders decided a dozen players made a better team, but the Ticats had a thirteenth man working for them on the bench as Coach Trimble came up with a short kickoff, a Hamilton recovery and a new one with Faloney doing what Russ Jackson was supposed to do, scrambling to the pasture, and running a keeper play to the 4-yard line. McDougall was over two plays later and it was 21-0 and the Rough Riders were out in the desert without a sleed.

Eskies' plight is not quite so bad. That 23-point edge the Blue Bombers had Saturday doesn't ride back to Winnipeg. The Western final is a three-game series and Edmonton might just win a couple of quarterbacks. If they do they can thank a Bomber, Leo Louis, who took a swing pass from Quarterback Jimmy Vampelt in the third quarter and ambled 72 yards to make the count 23-0.

The Eskies looked so pitiful on that play that Coach Sam Lyle decided to gamble, put Canadian Don Getty in to run the team and shifted Jackie Parker to halfback. From then on the Eskies were no worse than even. Getty kept knocking, knocking, knocking at touchdown door—and finally it opened, he could pass to Parker.

New York Rangers Manhandle Top NHL Clubs

Post Fourth Straight Win In 2-1 Victory Over Habs; Leafs Just Miss Big Fine

By BEN WARD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Hey, look at those New York Rangers!

The Rangers posted their fourth straight win Sunday night, a 2-1 victory over the league-leading Montreal Canadiens in a slam-bang battle at New York. It vaulted them past Detroit Red Wings and Chicago Black Hawks into third place in the National Hockey League.

It was the second double-victory weekend in a row, both at the expense of the two top clubs.

In other NHL action Sunday night, Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Habitants battled to a 4-4 tie and Chicago Black Hawks won a home-ice against Detroit Red Wings 3-2.

Saturday the Wings dumped Leafs 4-1 at Toronto and Canadiens took the Hawks 3-1 in Chicago.

MOORE IN FEUD

The Ranger win Sunday came in a heated fight-filled outing that saw 13 penalties handed out in the first period. Ranger captain Red Sullivan and Dickie Moore tangled twice in that period. At one point in the fray near the Madison Square Garden crowd chanted, "Get Moore, get Moore."

None of the game's 19 penalties had any effect on the scoring, thanks chiefly to standout netminding by Habs' Jacques Plante and Ranger Gump Worsley.

Jim Bartlett put Rangers ahead at 1:08 of the game. Maurice Maigret put the matter beyond his 500th NHL goal. Andy Bathgate's 11th goal of the season put his first goal of the 1958-59 campaign. Bob Pulford and Allan Stanley got the other Toronto markers.

Hawks had to come up with two goals in the second period for their victory over Red Wings. Ed Litzenberger, Ted Sloan and Bobby Hull fired the winners. Wing scorers were Nick Mickoski and Marcel Pronovost.

HOW THEY STAND

The Hawk victory gave them a fourth-place tie with Wings at 16 points, five up on the hapless Leafs and one behind the hot New Yorkers.

Canadiens rule the roost at 20 points. Bruins have 18.

Saturday afternoon at Chicago the Canadiens showed a United States television audience the style that has made them overwhelming favorites for the NHL title. They spotted Hawks an Ed Litzenberger goal in the first period the game was to go downhill back.

LEAFS LOOK BAD

Leafs looked bad against Wings Saturday night. Toronto netminder Ed Chadwick blamed himself for the loss but he couldn't have been serious. Wings outshot their hosts 36-18.

Bathgate produced two neat goals to give the Ranger win against Bruins. He's tied with Litzenberger as NHL leader in scoring points.

PETERBOROUGH (CP) — Peterborough Collegiate Vocational School won the Central Ontario Secondary Schools football title with a 13-6 win over Richmond Hill High Saturday.

Baltimore Colts And Cleveland Head Divisions

NEW YORK (AP) — Baltimore Colts and Cleveland Browns moved away from the crowd Sunday en route to what they hope will be a playoff for the National Football League championship.

The Colts, with George Shaw at his sharpest, chopped down the Chicago Bears 17-0 and took a two-game lead in the western conference. The Bears, who had not been shut out in 148 games in 12 seasons, fell into a second-place tie with Los Angeles Rams, who whipped Green Bay 30-7. The Rams and Bears each have 5-4 records to the Colts' 7-1.

In the eastern conference, Cleveland Browns (6-2) regained full possession of first place with a 24-10 victory over Washington Redskins while fullback Jimmy Brown smashed to a one-man rushing record, New York Giants (5-3) nibbled to second place with Jack Ross at Pittsburgh.

Philadelphia Eagles swamped Chicago Cardinals 49-21 and Detroit Lions defeated San Francisco 35-21 in the other games.

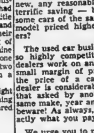
BEARS BOTTLED

The Colts, never NFL champs, held the Bears to 107 yards rushing but a handful passing while Shaw, subbing superbly for injured Johnny Unitas completed 10 of 23 passes for 131 yards and the first touchdown.

It was the spectacular sophomore, battered his way for 152 yards and three touchdowns, scored both touchdowns on a plunge and five-yard run. Brown now has packed away 1,193 yards rushing and 17 touchdowns in eight games.

The Giants, who had given up only 10 points in the Second half while winning three straight, were upended by a 24 - point Steeler surge after the intermission. The Steelers, who had bounced the Giants out of title consideration in 1950, '51, '52 and again last season, won their third in a row on passing of Bobby Layne, who tossed nine yards to Tom Tracy for one touchdown and plunged for two after setting up the first with a 49-yard pass play.

The Steelers, all square in eight games, hold the Giants' running attack — which missed injured Alex Webster—to 66 yards.



OTT, WIFE IMPROVING

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP) — The condition of Mel Ott, 49-year-old baseball's hall of fame, and his wife was unchanged today. They were injured critically last Friday in a two-car crash at nearby Bay St. Louis. Ott underwent surgery Saturday.

TORONTO KEEPS CUP

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Olympic Club retained possession of the International Trophy Saturday when it won the 30-mile relay for the fourth consecutive year. Toronto Gladstone was second and Hamilton Olympic was third. Winning time was three hours and 35 seconds, more than a minute slower than last year's record time.

USED CAR FACTS

HOW MUCH IS A GOOD USED CAR?

When you consider the original value of any car when new, any reasonable price is a terrific saving — but why are some cars of the same year model priced higher than others?

The used car business today is so highly competitive that all dealers work on an exceedingly small margin of profit. When the price of a car from one dealer is considerably less than that asked by another for the same make, year and model... beware! As always, you get exactly what you pay for.

We urge you to pay a visit to KEN PINDER LTD., 149 Front St. . . . inspect our cars . . . then shop around. We sincerely believe that you won't find better value anywhere or phone us at WO 2-3408 and we'll be glad to come and see you.

Macs Tie Dunlops But Drop Decision To Cornwall

Rally in Third Earns Tie While Cornwall Reverses Procedure for 5-2 Victory

By GARRY ALEXANDER

Belleville McFarlands flashed championship form to overcome a 4-1 deficit and gain a 4-4 tie with the Whitby Dunlops in Whitby Saturday night, but on Sunday they dropped a 5-2 decision to the Chevies in Cornwall.

In the weekend action, Hull defeated Kingston to pull into a tie with the Macs for second place, each with 10 points. Hull has played three less games than Belleville. Kingston defeated Cornwall Saturday night but remain in the loop cellar. Whitby retains a wide first-place margain with ten wins and a tie in 11 games.

The McFarlands backed Gordie Bell's great goaltending with three unanswered goals in the third best to collect the tie with Whitby. On Sunday the situation was reversed with Cornwall scoring three without a reply in the third to hand the Macs their eighth defeat. Cornwall scored at 1.14 to snap a 2-2 tie while the Macs were a man short.

Penalties prevented Belleville from getting any kind of attack organized throughout the period.

WHITBY — Facing a 4-1 deficit going into the third period Saturday night, the McFarlands suddenly sprang to life and played their best hockey of the campaign to earn the 4-4 tie, thus snapping the Dunlops win string at 10 games.

Gordie Bell alone kept the Macs in the game during the first forty minutes when Whitby had a whole guys in play. He had no chance on the four that did get by but he robbed the Dunlop snipers time and time again with acrobatic saves.

Then came the final chapter opened the Macs began to show the necessary finish.

Frank Bathgate got the comeback underway at 3.55 when he teamed up with Payette and Brown to beat Henderson with a hard drive for a 4-3 score. Then at 11.38 Pete Babando was thumbed to the penalty box. Less than a minute later Ike Hildebrand set the Dunnies back on their heels, cutting the lead to 4-3.

Belleville continued to carry the play and at 14.53 "Wiener" Brown, scoring in his sixth consecutive game, climaxed the uphill battle on a three-way play with Payette and Bathgate to tie the score at 4-4.

The Macs' McLellan drew a minor sentence at 15.54 but after Bell turned back Attersley Flori Goegan broke away and went in alone on Henderson. His bullet drive had the goalie beaten but the disc hit a goal post and bounced away.

Belleville received all three penalties in the opening stanza and while they did not figure in the scoring, the manpower shortage prevented the Macs from getting an attack organized.

Sandy Air at 6.13, Sid Smith at 14.58 and Bob Attersley at 18.30 built the Dunlops a 3-0 lead.

The McFarlands took advantage of penalties to get on the score sheet in the second. Chascewski was called for holding at 1.24 and Air for hooking at 2.34. Both were cooling their heels when Frank Bathgate blasted the rubber by Henderson from the point on a powerplay at 3.03.

Whitby again took over play and at 6.23, after Bell had booted the puck out three times, Samolenko made it 4-1 .

Minnie Menard drew a hooking sentence and had a misconduct added for arguing the call at 13.43. Whitby kept the puck in the Belleville end for almost all of the period but could not beat Gordie Bell.

Right-winger Frank Bathgate topped the Belleville scorers with two goals and one assist. "Wiener" Brown had one and one while Ike Hildebrand also scored. Paul Payette had two assists, Menard and McLellan one each.

Bobby Attersley added to his loop - leading points total with one goal and two assists for the Dunnies. George Samolenko had one and one while Air and Smith also scored.

LINEUPS—

Belleville—Hildebrand (Menard, McLellan) 13.31

Belleville—Brown (Payette, Bathgate) 14.38

Penalties — Babando, McLellan.

CORNWALL — Cornwall scored the winning goal at 1.14 of the third period while the Macs were a man short Sunday and went on from there to take a 5-2 victory with another pair of goals.

Penalties hurt the Macs badly in the final twenty minutes. Although only the one Cornwall goal was scored with the Macs shorthanded, the losers never had a chance for any kind of attack as they battled to kill off four penalties. The Chevies were sinless during the entire second half of the game. In that time Belleville drew six minor penalties.

Reg. Grigg led the Chevie point-getters with one goal and two assists while mates Chek Melaki and Nobby Clark each gathered one and one. Guy Henri and Dennis Menard bagged the winners' other goals while Neil Burke, Brian McLay, and Gerry Servias had single assists.

Belleville marksmen were coach Ike Hildebrand and centre Bart Bradley, Defenceman Ragan Raglan and wingers Lou Smrke and Dave Jones each picked up one assist.

Ottawa referee Percy Shore assessed ten minor penalties in all with the losers drawing seven of that total. Each club scored once while the other was shorthanded.

Belleville opened the scoring in the first when Hildebrand returned from the penalty box in time to take Raglan's pass and beat Gerry Devaney at 10.52.

Cornwall went ahead 2-1 before the period's end on goals by Melaki at 16.30 and by Dennis Menard at the 19 minute mark.

The Macs pressed as the second period opened with McLay still serving a penalty he received late in the opening stanza. The Macs could not find the net then but later, when Dennis Menard was called for boarding, Bart Bradley tied the score at 3-3. The clock read 8.37.

But from this point on the Chevies stayed out of the penalty box. The Macs did not.

Guy Henri broke the tie while Moe Benoit was serving a tripping penalty at 1.14 of the third. Belleville never had a chance to come back as Crawford at 3.47, Benoit at 10.19 and Raglan at 16.43 drew penalties.

Reg Grigg made it 4-2 at 1.53 banging the rubber by Gordie Bell off Mac defender Flori Goegan's shot. Gerry Clark closed the scoring with an insurance goal at 13.31.

Penalties — Benoit (2), Crawford, Raglan.

NEW YORK (AP)—The bubble burst Saturday and Rutgers came floating back to earth, leaving the Quantico Marines for its first two after eight consecutive victories.

The score was 13-12. But there was a mitigating circumstance. They'll be saying for years at New Brunswick, N.J., that the story might have been different had Rutgers not been deprived of the services of its ace back, Billy Austin, who was out with an injury.

The demise of Rutgers left Louisiana State as the only major unbeaten-untied team in the country, LSU, No. 1 in the Associated Press Poll, defeated Mississippi State 7-6 on fullback Tommy Davis' third-quarter conversion, in a southeastern conference night game.

The undefeated but tied list also was trimmed by one, but it didn't have much significance. Iowa, ranked No. 2 behind LSU, came a cropper at the hands of Ohio State 26-0.

But the Hawkeyes already have clinched the Big Ten Rose Bowl berth, so it was only natural that they'd relax somewhat.

The other members of the undefeated but tied club came through unscathed as the season rushed into the home stretch.

Army, No. 3, trounced Villanova 26-0; Auburn, No. 4, answered more-than-usual powes in defeating Georgia 21-6 and the Air Force Academy, No. 10, downed Wyoming 21-6.

Notre Dame snapped North Carolina's winning streak at six with a 21-0 decision, while Tennessee chopped down once-beaten Mississippi, 18-16.

Winnipeg Blue Bombers Run Over Edmonton Eskys 30-7

By JIM PEACOCK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

EDMONTON (CP)—Coach Sam Lyle holds several theories on the fall of Edmonton Eskimos to Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the opening game of the western football final, but he sums them up this way:

"They played extremely good football, and we weren't ready to play."

Bombers whipped Eskimos 30-7 in the chill, 13-degree weather of a cloudy Saturday afternoon and the 17,000 fans would have to agree with Lyle's diagnosis.

If Bombers win Wednesday night in Winnipeg they will make their second straight appearance in the Grey Cup final. If a third game is necessary in the best-of-three final, it will be played Saturday afternoon also in Winnipeg.

Quarterback Jim Van Pelt, a 22-year-old rookie from the University of Michigan, mixed his plays well and passed the pants off the Eskimos Saturday, while his line gave him fine protection.

The Bomber defenbe, led by Herb Gray and Dave Burrell-bolder, held quarterback Jackie Parker and the rest of the Edmonton offence in check until late in the game.

The Eskimo defence, kept loose by the variety of plays used by Van Pelt, often was ineffective, and Momber runners shook off tacklers with regularity.

Fullback John Varone counted two Bomber touchdowns on one-yard plunges after Van Pelt's passing has moved the ball into position. Van Pelt pitched 25 yards into the end zone to end Wally Pitts for another touchdown and halfback Leo Lewis, in a sensational 72-yard run, scored another on a screen pass play.

Van Pelt kicked four converts and got a single when a 32-yard field goal attempt went wide and deep. Fullback Charlie Shepard, whose charleyhorse early in the game was the only notable Bomber casualty, got the other Winnipeg point on a quick kick on the last play of the first half.

Parker got the Edmonton touchdown in the last minute of the game, grabbing a 16-yard forward from Don Getty. End Joe Hoborn converted.

Parker moved from signal-caller to halfback midway in the third as Lyle juggled to fill the gap left by the absence of Ralph Pfeifer, attending his father's funeral, and Don Flynn, suffering a rib injury.

Bombers exploded in the second quarter for a 16-0 lead, increased it to 23-0 in the third quarter and to 30-0 in the fourth before Edmonton scored.

Statistically, the story was fairly even. Each club got 19 first downs, Bombers had 192 yards rushing and 240 yards passing to 179 rushing and 84 passing by Eskimos.

Bombers completed 11 of 19 forwards tried while Eskys made good on 13 of 37. Two interceptions by Bombers had no bearing on the scoring.

"Wiener" Brown is awarded the Carling's Red Cap Player of the Week award for his stellar performance in last week's games by Al Brady, area representative for the Carling Company.

Riders All But Eliminated By 35-7 Defeat by TiCats

By REBBARD DUPRESNE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Ottawa Rough Riders face a seemingly hopeless uphill fight at Hamilton next Saturday with the Tiger-Cats taking a 28-point bulge into the windup of the Big Four football union's two-game, total-points finale.

Unless Riders can win by at least 30 points—a doubtful possibility—Tiger - Cats will go to Vancouver Nov. 29 for the Dominion championship against the western titlists Nov. 29.

That is the situation today after Hamilton's resounding 35-7 triumph over Riders here Saturday. The victory was a spectacular mixture of opportunism and the kind of offensive power that carried Ticats to their easy first-place finish during the regular season.

Power-runner Gerry McDougall scored two touchdowns on close-in ground plays and quarterback Bernie FarFarey passed for three more to Milt Campbell, Ron Howell and Harry Lampman. Steve Oneschuk kicked five converts.

Hamilton's fancy stuff, used early in the game until it produced a 69-yard touchdown play, Faloney-to-Campbell could be described as a "lonesome quarterback" offence.

Faloney took the snap about seven yards behind the line of scrimmage, with two potential pass receivers split wide on each end and his forward line slightly wedge-shaped. He called the play six straight times until it produced the game's first score early in the game before a small crowd of 10,350.

The formation had the Ottawa defence slightly upset, but Ottawa coach Frank Clair did not strike out the Riders' loss to it alone.

"It was a combination of many things," he said. "We were a physically tired ball club meeting a solid, rested club."

The Ticats took the Ottawa defence by surprise again in the second quarter. After Howell's touchdown pass play, Don Sutherin kicked off short. Campbell stole the ball and ran it to the Ottawa 29, setting up McDougall's first touchdown three plays later.

Hamilton led 7-0 after the first quarter and 21-0 at halftime.

Apart from their one scoring play, Riders came close on a couple of occasions, losing the ball on fumbles twice—once on the Hamilton one-yard-line and again on about the five.

"It's enough to drive you crazy," Clair moaned.

Tiger-Cats got a lay into the final and a week's rest, while Ottawa's plane eliminated Montreal Alouettes last Wednesday in the sudden-death semi-final.

"It's too much to expect any team to play three games in eight days and be physically and mentally rested on the third," said the Ottawa line coach Bill Smyth.

Jackson, the Canadian rookie who clocked Mosien on its car in the semi - final, quarterbacked Riders most of the game. Import Hal Ledyard took over briefly in the second quarter and for most of the final period, trying to shake potential scorers loose with long passes that did not always come off.

Tiger-Cats advanced to 25 first downs, compared to 17 by Ottawa. Hamilton gained 221 yards rushing and 90 yards passing, in nine on the ground and 261 in the air for Ottawa.

MAY HIRE FARRELL

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Courier-Express said today Kerry Farrell, former manager of Miami Marlins, may be hired as manager of Buffalo Bisons in the International League.

On the Tracks

LONDON (Reuters)—A 60-year-old Philadelphian topped the list of winning race horse owners in Britain Saturday—54,377 ahead of Queen Elizabeth, last year's champion, who ranked second.

John McShain had won £63,264 ($187,139) on his horses when the first racing season ended Saturday. The Queen had won £47,415 ($132,762).

TORONTO (CP) — Bernfield, owned by Jim Chai o/ Buffalo, N.Y., scored an easy victory in the $10,000 Victory Handicap at Nev Woodbine before a crowd of 11,215 Saturday.

It was the second successive victory for Bernfield in the marathon of 1¼ miles. He scored an equally easy victory in 1957.

Bernfield, showing no fondness for the very muddy track, led all the way and romped home six lengths in front of Gin'ral. The latter was 21 lengths ahead of Dur Sirdar which struggled home third place.

The running time, in deep mud, was a slow 2:03 2-5.

Ridden by Toronto - born Ted Atkinson, Seinfeld's entry barely nosed out Jan Burke's Whodunit, a 25-to-1 shot. Jacques D. Wimpfheimer's Zorko's Walk was third and the favored Eddie Schmidt fifth.

Harness Racing

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)— Veteran driver Billy Robinson said he could do no better than third on a disqualification Saturday night in Gold Worthy, driven by Wayne Smart, stormed to victory in the third leg of the $75,000 American pacing classic at Hollywood Park, covering a race-off next Wednesday.

While the favored Belle Acton and Widower Creed were fighting it out in the home stretch, Smart put Gold Worthy high and great on the outside for a length win in 1:57 1-5.

Belle Acton finished second with Widower Creed—winner of the first dash—another length behind. But Belle Acton was disqualified for being bumped by Lou Mal. O'Brien's horse, when she broke near the wire.

The two race-off will be between Widower Creed and Gold Worthy tonight.

O'Brien had to declare his original entry the great Shadow Wave, out of the runoff because of a leg injury which did not respond to treatment.

Shadow Wave won the second heat of the pacing classic a week ago Saturday when O'Brien guided the horse to victory over second time for a three heat race of 1.56 3-5.

MONTREAL (CP)—Ezra Dean, an eight - year - old bay gelding from Smiths Falls, did the mile in 2:05 to win the $3,000 open pace race on closing day at the Richelieu Harness racing season Sunday.

The horse, owned by J. C. Cameron and driven by Keith Waples, paid $14.60, $5.40 and $3.20.

Bonnie Song, from Owen Sound, driven by Allan Waples, won the main race, a mile open trot for a purse of $4,000.

The film tells of the operations of a narcotic ring in the famed Louisiana jazz metropolis. Stacy Harris, Louis Sirgo and Ellen Moore are co-starred. On the same program "The Young Lions", starring Marlon Brando, Montgomery Clift and Dean Martin.

Claude Richard Leads Habs To 2nd-Place Tie With Macs

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Richard Ted the Canadiens to another victory Saturday. The Richard was 20-year-old Claude of the famous hockey family, and the team Hull-Ottawa sandiens of the OHA Senior A eastern division.

Claude scored three goals and assisted on another as Canadiens defeated Kingston Aggregates to move into a second-place tie with Belleville McFarlands.

McFarlands did something no other team in the league has managed this season by tying Saturday. Whitby, undefeated in 10 games, took the measure of the pacesetters.

In other OHA eastern division games, Kingston Merchants edged the visiting Cornwall Chevrolets 7-6 in overtime, Barrie defeated McFarlands 5-2 Sunday.

In the OHA-NOHA Senior A series, the league-leading Chatham Maroons made a sweep of their second northern tour of the season by defeating North Bay Trappers 5-2 Saturday. Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds were walloped 12-7 by Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen in Kitchener Saturday, but came back to defeat Windsor Bulldogs 7-3 Sunday.

Richard scored in all three periods. Habs blew a 3-2 lead in the second but came back with four goals in the third for the win.

BATHGATE LED ATTACK

Whitby built up a 3-1 first-period lead on goals by playing coach Sid Gordon, Stanley Ace and Bobby Attersley. George Samolenko scored in the second.

In the Barrie game, Kingston's Cornwall, Chester Melski, Dennis Menard, Guy Henri, Bobby Clarke and Reggie Grigg scored for Cornwall. Barton Bradley and Hildebrand scored for Belleville. Chevies led 2-1 after the first.

Guy Henri, Kingston's 5-foot-6 yard scored at 19:49 of the final period to edge Cornwall. Bob Guidolin's third goal of the night had tied the game at 15:48 of the period. Clarke and Grigg scored were Belringer, Gagnon and Buckacheski.

Belleville scorers were Knobby Clarke and Chester Melski with two each and Grigg. Kingston's Cornwall led 2-1 after the first and each club scored twice in the second.

George Aitken led Chatham with five goals. John Bailey, Bill Connelly and Ted Power got singles. Right winger Tony Poeta scored both Trapper goals.

Wally Maxwell and Doug Ryder were the only Bulldogs until the third when Windsor staged a rally with goals by Lonnie Speck, Fred Hildebrand and Erwin Grosse.

Bulldogs' only substitute goalie Art Jarvivere, a Saskatoon junior graduate, in place of Danny Desrochers who suffered an eye injury at Kitchener last Wednesday.

Geo. Bayer Wins Havana Open In Playoff

HAVANA (AP) — Now that George Bayer is harnessing his power he is threatening to become one of the great all-time attractions of golf.

Bayer is no slugger. They made Babe Ruth an idol in baseball and Jack Dempsey one in boxing. For years they have flocked to watch Sam Snead, the graceful prodigious golfer from West Virginia.

Now comes Bayer, who stands six-feet-five and hits the longest ball in the game. He won a dramatic sudden-death playoff from Snead Sunday for the $6,500 top prize in the $45,000 Havana International toll tournament.

Bayer was in with a 72-hole score of 286, six over par, when Snead arrived at the 18th green needing only a five-foot putt to win.

Snead missed and the tournament went into an extra - hole playoff.

SOON SETTLED

"I'll get him now," said Bayer. He did.

Bayer drove almost the length of the 374-yard extra hole and got down in par four. Snead three-putted for a five.

Thus Bayer won his second big prize since turning pro five years ago—the other was the Canadian open last year.

How far can Bayer hit a ball? The 240-pound Bayer says his longest drive was measured at 42 yards. The ball struck a police car, however, on a hole that length at Los Vegas a few years ago.

Al Balding of Toronto, only Canadian to survive the 36-hole cut with four others for 11th place to collect $686. He had 80-76-72-78—306.

AT THE BELLE — Two polar bear cubs disregard their parents hunting lesson and take a frolic in the snow, in this scene from Walt Disney's true-life adventure feature "White Wilderness" offering the most fun you and your family have had in a theatre in a long, long time. "White Wilderness" is in Technicolor, and is continuing at the Belle Theatre.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Tuesday, November 18, 1958

Aries (March 21 to April 19)—Confidential meetings with partners, financiers, experts are very fine today, for you get wonderful suggestions on how to increase your abundance and worldly acclaim. P.M. steer clear of outsiders or you ruin your trend of thought.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20)—A.M. brings opportunity to be with vital people for working out mutual beneficial details and ideas. Be specific with them and you get their support and complete co-operation. P.M. avoid irate television.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21)—From Sunup to Sundown you can labor in methodical, efficient fashion that a higher-up takes particular notice of you and you get raise and other benefits. P.M. steer clear of altercation between associate and an official.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — Possible now to take time out from busy day to be with a fascinating person for charming conversational time, or sport. Be feeling well and looking fine, however. P.M. avoid getting into any dull-doldrum work or chores.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Be affectionate with kin today and they will release backing and encouragement to a great extent. Tonight you must be careful not to spend extravagantly for pleasure or you make a deep hole in your savings.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — Here is a day when kin, pals, neighbors confide in you, and it is a fine time to ask for what you need most. They will co-operate. P.M. retain perfect equilibrium at home household and be the soul of gentility.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — A.M. is good for any specialized, artistic work, also come to better meeting of minds with partners everywhere. Speak gently. P.M. take great care while driving or in motion.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Happily, you are attuned intuitively to what is the best course for you to follow at this time. Play those hunches in both business and personal, intimate relations, creative work. P.M. be conservative.

Sagittaries (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) —Private support can be had today easily, but the amount and quality will be commensurate with the degree of enthusiasm you display. P.M. it will not be necessary to use forceful selling ability. Your logic is fine.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Step into the world of activity early today so that you will get the right advice on how to be more successful and happier, efficiently clever. Good day to shop and make out reports, too. P.M. there is no time to private worry.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)—A most ethical and influential person will readily give you backing if you have ideas all worked out practically. P.M. a pal with too much self-importance argues strongly for the suggestions which would be very bad for you. Ignore.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20)—Keep your poise very easy to day, as well as other prized matter, and get fine ideas. Then out of dull doldrums and make rapid strides toward bigger things. P.M. avoid an executive who wants to vent his spleen on you.

If your child is born today — The delightful child born today will early require some fine and thorough training in things religious, moral and ethical, for the personality is such that if this is ignored, the adult life will be marred. Otherwise there is a very great potential here. Especially so in fields of banking or government outlets, anything that has to do with the most highly confidential matters of life.

TWEED

Friends Hold Shower for Recent Bride

TWEED — Mrs. W. J. Yeates, (the former Beverly Way), who is now residing in Trenton, was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower held recently at the home of Mrs. Emerson Hodgins of Wooler. Mrs. Harold Emerson, Mrs. S. Howard Connor, Mrs. Ken S. Belch, Mrs. Ross H. Cotton and Mrs. P. C. Barnett were co-hostesses.

The young bride, was presented with a corsage of yellow mums, and was seated in a corner of the spacious living room, which was attractively decorated with large bouquets of yellow blossoms and baloons.

During the evening, Mrs. Belch displayed antiques, and Mrs. Alton's contribution was a hand-operated vacuum cleaner which created much interest.

Among the 30 guests in attendance were Mrs. Paul Foster, and Mrs. J. Ogden, sisters of the bride, Miss Marion Lynn and Mrs. M. G. Dales, all of Belleville.

spread of flames to the adjoining buildings.

Cpl. Doug Sears of the O.P.P. at Madoc, said he with firemen had gone to the rear of the adjoining Brett building when a bystander reported seeing a face at the window. They found no one despite a search through smoke-filled rooms.

The Madoc volunteer fire brigade were first on the scene and when it was seen that they were unable to control the blaze, calls for assistance were quickly put through to Tweed, Marmora, and Belleville.

"Firemen really did a good job in preventing the spread of flames beyond the Maynard block," stated Cpl. Sears. "They deserve all the credit coming."

This was echoed by Fire Chief Gerald Vance of Belleville, fire co-ordinator for the Hastings district.

Chief of the Madoc Fire Department Kelly Muiroooney, Michael Moon is head of the Tweed department as James Walker, head of the Marmora department.

Firemen said the blaze probably started when grease on the kitchen stove caught fire and spread up a ventilator shaft.

Damage to the interior of the burned building and a garage on the south were slight-ly more extensive.

Both Mr. Maynes, owner of the building, Mr. Mac Maynard, tenprofitor, lived in apartments above the block.

At the time of their morning firemen were still pouring water into the ruins from three lines of hose from Durham Street, while at the rear firemen, almost completely enveloped in heavy columns of smoke were directing flames breaking out occasionally from the gutted building.

Less than an hour after sweep-one had escaped from the burning the floors of overhead apartments started collapsing.

"We could see planes and re-frigerators crashing down into the basement," stated Mr. Maynes said that he would likely rebuild.

POPE JOHN

ter today he had appointed Vatican secretary of state, in charge of the Holy See's relations with foreign governments.

Cardinal Tardini administered the secretary of state's office as pro-secretary, a post to which he was named by the late Pope Pius XII. But Pope Pius, himself a former of the Vatican diplomatic service, had never named a full secretary of state to succeed Luigi Cardinal Maglione, who died in 1944.

Another Italian to be elevated is Magr. Montini, dynamic diocesan archbishop of Milan, who at one time was considered by many a likely prospect to succeed Pope Pius.

Pope John's call of a consistory to meet after his coronation on Nov. 4 came as no surprise. The vigorous new pontiff had been expected to act at once to fill and strengthen his administration.

However, the 24 new cardinals to gather this soon after the conclave put a heavy stain on the college and the Italian on the ranks of the college.

Almost all of them have returned to their homes—some hundreds of miles away—since they elected the pontiff. They now face the trip back to Rome in less than a week.

STIRLING

Laurel Lodge Holds 38th Birthday Party

STIRLING — Laurel Rebekah Lodge, No. 211, held a delightful birthday party last Tuesday evening following the regular lodge meeting in the I.O.O.F. Hall.

Noble Grand Mrs. Marion Carter presided over a short Remembrance Day Service in memory of those who paid the supreme sacrifice in three wars.

Musician, Mrs. Harry Morrow, contributed a piano solo after which the group sang a chorus of "The Bells o f St. Mary's."

Mrs. Aileen Vandervaeter gave a vivid description of her recent holiday in Honolulu, Hawaii. Mrs. Ed Heasman was in charge of the table and the pictures were both colorful and educational. The gorgeous flowers were very beautiful and the Hawaiians' love of color was much in evidence.

Mrs. Neva Vandervoort voiced appreciative thanks to sister Aileen for her travelogue.

The group then repaired to the banquet hall, were the convenors, Mrs. Ruby Tompkins and Mrs. Della Carlisle, had attractively arranged the tables. The head table was centered with a large birthday cake in the shape of the number 38 and it was iced and lettered in pink and green. Novelty place cards and matching tapers in the candelabra added to the decorations. The front portion of the head table was studded with red poppies on a white background.

Mrs. Nora Wannamaker, chaplain, invoked the blessing and the guests were served refreshments.

Past Grand Mrs. Olive Whitehead presided over the birthday ceremony. Her only candidate, Mrs. Marguerite Sine, lit the candles while the immediate P.D.D.P. Mrs. Marion Heath extinguished the candles and spoke briefly. Mrs. Ethel Duffin, P.D. D.P., had the honor of cutting the cake.

Mrs. Duffin paid tribute to the founder of Laurel Rebekah Lodge which was founded in 1920 and to all the deceased members. She urged those in attendance to live up to their motto of, "Friendship, Love, and Truth."

A toast to the future followed and thanks to the conveners was expressed to conclude the meeting.

SUDANESE ARMY

Little is known here about Abdood. He commands a fighting force estimated at 18,000 to 12,000 men. British trained and British armed, which has high morale and whose fighting capacities are held in high regard.

In line with other military chiefs who have seized power in the Middle East and Asia recently, Abood accused his country's political leaders of corruption and dissension which hamstrung government operations.

There has been no individual head of state or president in the Sudan, but a sovereignly council made up of elder statesmen has functioned pending the drafting of a constitution.

DAM KEY PROBLEM

Improved relations between Sudan and the U.A.R. have become urgently necessary for Nasser because of his plans to push work on the Aswan high dam on the Nile, for which Russia has agreed to lend him 400,000,000 rubles.

The dam would flood parts of Sudan territory, and Khalil's government had balked at agreement with the Egyptians on compensation for the flooded lands and on division of the Nile waters which would be impounded.

The Sudanese government had plans of its own to build irrigation works farther up on the Blue Nile. Khalil has been accused by the Nasser government, of violating a 1929 agreement on the Nile's water. In answer the Sudanese government abrogated the agreement.

RAWDON

S.S. Class Holds Crokinole Party

RAWDON — Mrs. Eric Summers and her senior Sunday School class of young people sponsored a crokinole party Friday evening at Mount Pleasant church hall. The proceeds were for their special missionary project. Several visitors were in attendance.

There were 10 tables in play and the group enjoyed candy and popcorn as they played their games, and raffles at the close.

The winners were: ladies' high, Marilyn Haggerty and low, Vickie Armstrong; men's high, David Potts and low, Robert Hoard.

At the close the Friendship Circle was formed and the pastor, Rev. W. G. Fletcher, pronounced benediction.

Bennett Orders B.C. Power Probe, Charging 'Smear'

Aims to End Attacks, Destroy Forces of Evil

SIDNEY, B.C. (CP)—Premier W. A. C. Bennett, seeking to stamp out what he called a smear attack on his Social Credit government, announced Monday night a royal commission will investigate the Crown-owned British Columbia Power Commission.

"We are going to end once and for all this smearing, all these terrible attacks," he said.

The inquiry is to cover the power commission's financing, debt structure, operating and projects costs and general organization. It will be set up this week.

The premier's announcement came in a speech to Social Credit supporters.

"We are going to end once and for all this smearing, all these terrible attacks," he said.

The inquiry is to cover the power commission's financing, debt structure, operating and projects costs and general organization. It will be set up this week.

The premier's announcement came in a speech to Social Credit supporters.

"We're going to destroy the forces of evil in this province," the premier said. "We're going to meet them head on. . . . We are going to end it."

Mr. Bennett spoke at a Chamber of Commerce meeting in this community 20 miles north of Victoria.

Mr. Briggs, after issuing further statements concerning the Social Credit government, proposed hydro-electric development in the Peace River. He was fired from his job last Friday.

When informed of the premier's statements Monday, the 55-year-old electrical engineer said he would have no comment on the commission.

"In fact, I'd like to be the very first witness."

Said Mr. Bennett Monday night:

"Everybody is against this government." He accused Liberals here in the province of "dirty politics and dirty criticism, of throwing mud in the guise of a "writing drivel," and of smearing the Social Credit government "because they can't tell us what to do."

Arabian Prince's Guard Attacks Begum Aga Khan

CAIRO (AP)—The guard of a young Saudi Arabian prince got in the wrong room at Shepheards Hotel, found the begum Aga Khan and attacked her in the belief that she had done something to his five-year-old charge.

The beautiful widow of the late Aga Khan III was hit in the face by a glass ash tray but suffered only minor bruises. Police raged hotel attendants, summoned by the begum's secretary, saved her from serious injury.

The incident occurred early Monday as the begum was dressing in her hotel suite. Her rooms are in the same position as those of the Arabian prince on a higher floor.

Salem Abdullah, apparently got out of the elevator on the wrong floor, Entering the suite, he saw the woman in what he thought was his young master's bed and shouted angrily, "Where is the young prince?"

HIT, BEGUM.

Then he began hitting the begum, whose screams awakened the secretary in an adjoining room.

Hotel authorities refused to identify the two princes, but local press reports said he was a member of the Saudi royal family.

The begum had been visiting Egypt in connection with the permanent mausoleum being built for her husband at Aswan in southern Egypt. She left Cairo this morning for her home in France.

The begum did not file a complaint and declined to discuss the incident.

"Her Highness understood that it was all a mistake," an informant said.

Power Prices To Rise in 1961 States Duncan

TORONTO (CP)—A 10-per-cent increase in power prices can be expected in 1961, it was stated by James S. Duncan of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission said today.

Appearing before the commission's government investigator appointed by Premier Frost last May, Mr. Duncan said the increase will be on the basis of trends in interest costs, taxes and prices of materials.

"When one takes into consideration construction labor rates and material costs, the volume of new construction which has taken place during the past year and the carrying out of the revised depreciation program, the fact that we have been able actually to effect a reduction in the 1963—1965 rate structure and only expect a 10-per-cent increase in 1961—is a remarkable performance."

U.S. Air Force Silent About Fate of Atlas

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) An Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile thundered into space Monday night but the U.S. Air Force was silent today on the fate of the giant rocket.

If the 100-ton missile hit its target, the United States took another step forward in its campaign to develop a carrier that can drop a nuclear warhead on any target on earth.

The three-year-old Atlas has built up more than 350,000 pounds of thrust in the missile when it is released from its launching pad. When it soared upward, the brilliance of its exhaust flames almost blinded reporters watching from a platform a few miles from the launching pad.

Four minutes later, it resembled a giant star hanging in the sky. Then, 30 seconds later, it vanished.

It was reported aimed at a target 5,000 miles down the Atlantic tracking range.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synopsis:— The first widespread winter storm of the season which moved northward across the central plain and the eastern Great Lakes of the Woods this morning and is expected to move eastward across Northern Ontario during the next 48 hours as it weakens and gradually moves out.

Many points in southern parts of the province reporting record breaking temperatures in the cold this morning will experiment a fall of 30 degrees by Wednesday morning as cold air moves in today and tonight to cover the whole province by Wednesday morning.

In the North, rain and drizzle will give way to snowflurries by evening. Cloudy skies and light snowflurries will continue on Wednesday.

First Blizzard of Season Sweeps Northward Through U.S. Mid-West

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A giant storm system, which plastered the midcontinent Monday with tornadoes, heavy storms and snow, moved northward into the Dakotas and Minnesota.

At least seven persons were attributed to the severe weather.

Skies cleared late Monday as far north as eastern Colorado and Western Kansas but the storm continued Monday night from Nebraska to the northward.

The weather bureau forecast blizzard conditions to spread from central Nebraska over most of the eastern and central Dakotas and the Minnesota Valley of Minnesota.

Usually severe for this time of year, the storm deposited as much as 16 inches of snow—that was at Lemmon, S.D.

Generally the depths were six to eight inches across western Kansas. Throughout the blizzard area, gusts of as much as 70 miles an hour whipped the snow into drifts.

In the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles Monday's snow turned to slush then froze again at night, making driving treacherous.

In Arizona the storm left two inches of snow on the desert, deposited 4½ inches at normally warm Tucson and 14 inches at Flagstaff in the north.

Bone-chilling temperatures followed the blizzard. The mercury dropped to zero in northern Arizona and 10 below in northern New Mexico.

Tornadic winds battered three areas Monday, the last Monday. There were no known fatalities and only four persons with minor injuries.

Homes faded in Arizona for the safety of three boy scouts reporting since Saturday in the Santa Rita mountains near Tucson.

In other parts of Arizona about 10 hunters were trapped but believed safe in cabins near Flagstaff. Three others were snowbound near Prescott. A dozen hunters and campers were blocked in mountain snow near Tucson.

Damage estimated in the millions of dollars resulted from tornadoes and hurricane-force winds in northern Texas.

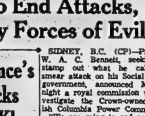
LIBERALS SEEK TOP ORGANIZER AT OTTAWA MEET

Some Private Doubts About Future Voiced

OTTAWA (CP) — The Liberals have let loose a flood of charges against the Progressive Conservatives while openly expressing confidence of growing strength in the Liberal party.

But there also were indications that some in the party had private doubts about its future.

Delegates to the three-day national advisory council conference were reported to have bared their hearts in a three - hour closed - session Monday night. They were reported to have emphasized the critical need for a stronger party organization, of stronger links between top and lower echelons, of rekindling grassroots enthusiasm.



Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson was reported to have agreed — as he did in open sessions earlier in the day—that a stronger organization is essential. And he was reported to feel the need for a rebuild the Liberal fire, but emphasized that the party itself has to work hard if it is to deserve a victory at the next general election.

In corridor gossip, strength appeared to be growing to boost Senator Sidney John Smith, 66-year-old British Columbia businessman, to the presidency of the National Liberal Federation.

Some delegates from the maritimes opposed such a move. One prominent delegate suggested privately that Senator Smith, who makes his home at Kamloops, B.C., was too far from Ottawa and another said someone should be brought up from the lower mainland.

Other candidates mentioned to succeed Mr. Pearson are Jean Lesage, Liberal leader in Quebec, and John Wintermeyer (centre), Liberal member for Edmonton (CP Wirephoto).

Supermarkets Trim Farmer's Profit Share, Union Charges

OTTAWA (CP)—A detailed indictment of supermarkets was presented today to the royal commission on price spreads. It said they reap "super" profits, lead the consumer down the primrose path of promotion and turn the tiny farmer's share of the food dollar.

It is a document totalling some 15,000 words, District 8 of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (UCL) said chain stores and supermarkets now occupy a "decisive" position in the Canadian food industry. They were increasingly able to control the consumer, farmer and important segments of food processing.

"A correct understanding of current price spreads on food requires a close look at the leverage in the hands of chain stores." the union said. "Their competitive position now bold the whip hand to such an extent that formerly powerful "passive and helpless" in determining sales terms for crops and livestock. . . . are particularly many workers in the food industry suffer from nutritional deficiency; and that concentrated mass buying of meat by big chains has coupled with decline in the small butcher shop, is transferring bargaining power from the packer to chain management.

Other points in the union submission were that advertising of food has gained the "position of diminishing utility"; that razzle-dazzle packaging and promotion have greatly widened the price spread; that consumers are being systematically overcharged; and that the supermarket, instead of widening the housewife's choice, has in fact limited it.

"Paradoxically, the consumers have less with a more plentiful that, too often, they have not able.

BERLIN (AP) — The Soviet Embassy in East Berlin held its first press conference in four years today in an effort to dramatize Russian charges that West Berlin is a hotbed of Western spies against the Russian regime.

The Soviets presented two Russians—a 29-year-old Soviet army lieutenant and a Moscow circus acrobat—who said they had defected to the West, broadcast the Americans' and then had a change of heart.

Russian spokesman J. W. Besborov charged in a new propaganda campaign of anti-Soviet propaganda and activity to undermine the German government. "It is only endangering the Soviet Union and the other Socialist countries (Communist) lands but also all humanity."

The press conference, attended by more than 300 Western and Communist correspondents, was another step in the new Soviet offensive to drive the Allies out of West Berlin.

Besborov said international tension would be aided if the West stopped trying to send Russian refugee spies into the Soviet Union.

The Soviet campaign against the Allied occupation already has won a significant propaganda victory for Nikita Khrushchev, choice. The housewife frequently has no place else to go . . . for a few small groceries rimain."

Three other briefs were presented to the seven - member royal commission, which this week concludes public hearings on the gap between producer and consumer prices for food products.

The supermarket's role in modern society was also examined by the Canadian Association of Consumers. In a 8,500-word brief it said there are strong indications that supermarket growth in some areas has taken place too quickly, with a resulting excess capacity raising the danger of possible amalgamation and "monopolistic control" of food retailing.

"It is our hope that the consumers will consider the possible danger to consumers' interest if a few chains ever succeed to become able to control food marketing from production through processing and distribution," the association said.

The Co - Operative Union of Canada, representing some 2,000 marketing and purchasing cooperatives, presented a 26-page brief saying the food business is dominated by the profit motive. The distributive system should be owned by producers and consumers co-operatively.

"The interest of the investor and middleman is to keep the spread to the producer at the lowest possible level, and the price to the consumer at the highest possible level," said the union.

The "continuing increase" in pressures tending to produce higher prices was foreseen by British Columbia Peakers Limited of Vancouver. If so, higher consumer prices would be inevitable.

Diefenbaker Visits Historic Khyber Pass

KHYBER PASS, Pakistan (CP) This historic invasion route today was a friendly invasion by Prime Minister Diefenbaker, visiting the first place I have always wanted to see."

Before flying to New Delhi on the Commonwealth tour, the Canadian leader was decked with garlands by tribal headmen who only a few decades ago carried on running skirmishes against British forces seeking to hold the vitally strategic northwest frontier.

He walked in within a few feet of the Afghanistan border and through the Khyber, historic route of invaders through the centuries. Through this pass part of the armies of Alexander the Great, the legions of Tamerlaine and other conquerors from Central Asia.

BOMARC MISSILE WILL COST LESS THAN ESTIMATED

Two Canadian Sites Total $164,000,000

OTTAWA (CP) — The defence department has some good news for Canadian taxpayers: The Bomarc anti-aircraft missile is going to cost considerably less than first estimated.

Defence Minister Pearkes announced Sept. 23 that two Bomarc sites to be built in Canada would cost a total of $164,000,000.

Mr. Pearkes last week visited Florida to examine the American Bomarc at first hand—and, incidentally, became the first defence minister and one of the very few Canadians to fly 'faster than the speed of sound. Mr. Pearkes, 70, took a ride with an American pilot in an F-102 jet fighter plane.

WILL NOT LESS

He found that simplification of the Bomarc and its launching sites will result in considerably saving from the $164,000,000 estimate when the two missile zones into operation in Canada in late 1961.

The Bomarc coming into use now with the United States Air Force is the "A" version. The RCAF will get the more advanced "B" version which will have a range of 400 miles or better.

It is known Mr. Pearkes is enthusiastic about the Bomarc, one of the deadliest in the air.

Mr. Pearkes feels all the household of the missile's components can be built in Canada. However, costsharing with the U.S. on the Bomarc program has not yet been worked out.

TWO INSTALLATIONS

The two Canadian Bomarc installations will be built on a line running roughly from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., to Quebec City. One will be in Ontario, the other in Quebec.

Each site will have 56 launching platforms as well as the radar control centre, living for personnel, maintenance shops and the like.

The Bomarc can be fired in two minutes. It climbs vertically to a preselected height and then levels out to seek its target.

Some authorities in the RCAF have maintained that the Arrow is required for reconnaissance, to monitor the flight of aircraft coming from the north.

But the defence minister believes this task can be safely entrusted to ground radar.

Water So Bad Unfit to Mix With Whisky

PORT CREDIT, Ont. (CP) The water in the Lake Ontario area village is so bad, Reeve Stephen Hogg said at council Monday night, that whisky drinkers are complaining.

One taxpayer was reported to report he had mixed water with his whisky and the result was so bad he couldn't drink it.

Councillor Arthur Farrington, water committee chairman, said a high phenol content was discovered in the water during recent days. Workers were flushing mains to remove it.

Appeal Filed By 8 Provinces On Freight Rates

Green Declares Cabinet Ready to Study Issue

OTTAWA (CP) — An appeal to the federal cabinet against the latest freight rate increase granted the railways was filed today by eight provincial governments.

Earlier, Acting Prime Minister Green had said any appeal by eight provincial governments against the latest railway freight rate increase will be heard by cabinet.

"If there is an appeal we are prepared to hear it," he told reporters as he entered a morning cabinet meeting.

Mr. Green also said that after cabinet, has considered the rate boost today he hopes to be in touch by telephone with Prime Minister Diefenbaker who is in Pakistan.

The appeal could affect settlement of the dispute between rails ways and 15 unions representing 130,000 non-operating employees, scheduled to go on strike Dec. 1.

On the cabinet's decision will hinge the question of whether the railways get enough additional revenue to meet the demands — to pay the workers' wage demands.

It was learned Monday the railways have told the unions' negotiating committee they will settle before the strike date unless the board of transport commissioners.

This attitude was communicated to the unions, according to an informant, at a meeting in Montreal between top railway and union negotiators after the board's decision was announced.

Blizzard Dumps 9 Inches of Snow On Winnipeg

WINNIPEG (CP) — A raging blizzard hit Southern Manitoba today, dumping nine inches of snow in Winnipeg in a six-hour period.

Winds up to 46 miles an hour swept the Red River Valley. Freezing rain struck Northwestern Ontario. Ontario was the fringe of a storm that blasted north of the international border.

The weather office here issued weather warnings for Southern Manitoba where road transportation was brought almost to a standstill by the storm. Few vehicles moved on Winnipeg streets.

There were no serious accidents or deaths were reported.

The centre of the storm crossed this, international border from Saskatchewan to Minnesota Monday night, that wintry drinkers are complaining.

One taxpayer was reported to report he had mixed water with his whisky and the result was so bad he couldn't drink it.

Councillor Arthur Farrington, water committee chairman, said a high phenol content was discovered in the water during recent days. Workers were flushing mains to remove it.

Space Pilots May Go to Mars, Moon in Shirtsleeves Prediction

NEW YORK (AP) — Space pilots may whip off to Mars or the moon in shirtsleeves, editor Lloyd said today.

And the big luxuries of the trip might be only a shave and a change of underclothes from time to time.

This was the rugged future of man in space suggested by a panel of scientists and editors gathered at the 13th-annual meeting of the American Rocket Society.

The comfort of the shirtsleeves was advanced in hopes the space pilot would be able to do his job better if his morale were higher.

The space pilot's worst problems may come at the beginning and end of his trip. That's when he must withstand the enormous stresses of blast-off acceleration and the braking of returning into the earth's atmosphere.

A new space capsule, being built at the U.S. Air Force school of aviation medicine in Texas, was described by Lt. Col. Willard R. Hawkins and Dr. George T. Smith.

It will serve as a training capsule for future space flyers and as a laboratory chamber as well and incorporate many items developed in earlier space-flight experiments.

Food may be one of the biggest morale items of the space flyer.

A simulated space trips, volunteers said today food and drink concentrates lost their appetite pourly. A high caloric diet with a number of exotic foods, plenty of fruit juices and cool water, was the biggest morale factor in the first seven-day pretended space flight, the scientists said.

4 Ships Aground In Detroit River As Result of Fog

TORONTO (CP) — Ships went aground and air flights were cancelled Monday night as heavy fog shrouded Ontario.

There were few highway traffic accidents however. At Toronto's Malton airport more than 50 flights were grounded or diverted but airport officials said flights were due to resume today. The fog was reported clearing.

Zero visibility was reported overnight at North Bay, Muskoka, Sudbury and London airports.

Fog swirling around Windsor and Detroit Monday blamed for the grounding of four ships in the Detroit River which closed the channel to navigation.

The cutter Dahlia and freighters Frank E. Taplan and Harry R. Jones went aground in the Detroit section of the river. The Norwegian motor vessel Hoegh Duke grounded crosswise upstream but was pulled herself free by pumping ballast.

The downtown Toronto area was clear at 2:30 a.m. after blanketing the early hours today. One observatory at 2:30 a.m. reported lasted for seven minutes, the other at 6:36 a.m., lasted 11 minutes.

A Hydro official said the damp weather and was atmosphere affected circuits.

The weather office forecast snowflurries for northern and central regions of Ontario today and said a Delaney who operated the southern part of the province.

Parents Hungry So Children Can Be Fed

Welfare officials say some of 13,000 workers at the International Nickel Company, on strike since Sept. 26, just can't live on their unemployment payments supplied by the International Union of Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.).

Welfare operations are being run by the Salvation Army Lt.-Col. Hammond and Rev. J. D. Delaney in charge of the Roman Catholic aid.

A typical call came from a father of seven who is getting $12 a week from the union," said Lt.-Col. Hammond. "He phoned from a converted garage.

"He asked for food to forego paying rent, so he can feed the children, but he and his wife are hungry and are getting cold.

"We could help with some food and clothing, but not rent."

SIDNEY, B.C. (CP)—Premier W. A. C. Bennett said today he will call a smear attack on his Social Credit government, announced Monday night a royal commission will investigate the Crown-owned British Columbia Power Commission.

"We're hoping to end once and for all this smearing, all these terrible attacks," he said.

The inquiry is to cover the power commission's financing, debt structure, operating and projects costs and general organization. It will be set up this week.

The premier's announcement came three days after W. Leo Briggs, former general manager of the commission, accused Mr. Bennett of juggling its finances to fulfil a political promise to have B.C. free of debt by 1960.

"We're going to destroy the evil forces," he said in this province," the premier said. "We're going to meet them head on. . . . These people they can't tell us what to do."

Mr. Bennett spoke at a Chamber of Commerce meeting in this community 20 miles north of Victoria.

Mr. Briggs, after issuing further statements concerning 'the evil forces' in the province, and proposed hydro-electric development, said Monday night he was fired from his job last Friday.

When informed of the premier's announcement, Mr. Briggs, 56-year-old electrical engineer, said he would be happy to appear before the commission.

"In fact, I'd like to be the very first witness."

Said Mr. Bennett Monday night:

"Everybody is against this government. He is accused wrongly in the province of "dirty politics and dirty criticism, of throwing mud in the gravel," of "writing drivel," and of smearing the Social Credit government "because they can't tell us what to do."

Arabian Prince's Guard Attacks Begum Aga Khan

CAIRO (AP)—The guard of a young Saudi Arabian prince got in the wrong room at Shepheards Hotel, found the begum Aga Khan and attacked her in the belief that she had done something to his five-year-old charge.

The beautiful widow of the late Aga Khan III was hit in the face by a glass ash tray but suffered only minor bruises. Police and the hotel attendants, summoned by the, begum's secretary, saved her from further injury.

The incident occurred early Monday in the begum's sitting-in her hotel suite. Her rooms are in the same position as those of the Arabian prince on a higher floor.

Salem Abdullah, apparently got out of the elevator on the wrong floor. Entering the suite, he saw the woman in what he thought was his young master's bed and savagely attacked. "Where is the young prince!"

HIT BEGUM

Then he began hitting the begum, whose screams awakened the secretary in an adjoining room.

Hotel authorities refused to identify the Arabian prince, but local press reports said he was a member of the Saudi royal family.

The begum had been visiting Egypt in connection with the permanent mausoleum being built for her husband, Aga Khan, in southern Egypt. She left Cairo this morning for her home in France.

"Her Highness understood that it was all a mistake," an informant said.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) An Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile launched from here Monday night but the U.S. Air Force was silent today on the fate of the rocket.

If the 100-ton missile hit its target, the United States took another step forward in its campaign to develop a carrier that can deal a deadly warhead to any target on earth.

The engines of the Atlas built up more than 350,000 pounds of thrust before the missile was released from its launching pad. When it soared upward, the brilliance of exhaust flames from most blinded reporters watching from a point three miles from the launching pad.

Four minutes later, it reseached a point where no action was going on in the sky. Then, 30 seconds later, it vanished from view.

It was reported aimed at a target 3,000 miles down the Atlantic tracking range.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synopsis:—The first vicious wintry storm of the season moved northward across the central plain states and the eastern end of the Lake of the Woods this morning and is expected to move eastward across Northern Ontario during the next 48 hours bringing heavy snow and blowing gales.

Many points in southern parts of the province reporting record breaking temperatures in the mid 60s this morning will experiment a fall of 30 degrees by Wednesday morning as cold air moves in today and tonight to cover the whole province by Wednesday morning.

In the North, rain and drizzle will give way to snowflurries by evening. Cloudy skies and light snowflurries will continue on Wednesday.

TORONTO (CP)—A 10-per-cent increase in power prices can be expected in 1961, chairman James S. Duncan of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission said today.

Appearing before the commission's organization committee appointed by Premier Frost last May, Mr. Duncan said the increase will be made on the basis of trends in interest costs, taxes and labor costs generally.

"When one takes into consideration mounting labor rates and higher interest costs, the new construction which has taken place during the past two years and the carrying out of the frequency standardization program, the fact that we have been able actually to effect a reduction in rates between 1953 and 1957—and only expect a 10-per-cent increase by 1961—is a remarkable performance."

First Blizzard of Season Sweeps Northward Through U.S. Mid-West

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A giant storm system, which plastered the midcontinent Monday with tornadoes, heavy storms and blizzards, moved northward today to the Dakotas and Minnesota.

At least seven deaths were attributed to the storm and its fringes.

Snow blanketed an area from North Dakota south to Texas. The storm dropped 22 inches in northern Panhandle, New Mexico and Arizona.

The weather bureau forecast continued conditions to spread from central Nebraska over most of the eastern and central Dakotas into the Red River Valley of Minnesota.

Usually severe for this time of year, the storm deposited as much as 18 inches of snow—that was at Lemmon, S.D.

Generally the depths were six to eight inches across western Kansas. Throughout the blizzard area wind gusts of as much as 70 miles an hour whipped the snow into drifts.

In the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles Monday's snow turned to slush then froze again at night, making driving treacherous.

Bone-chilling temperatures followed the clearing. The mercury dropped to zero in northern Arizona and to below in northern New Mexico.

Tornadic winds battered three Texas and Iowa late Monday. There were no known fatalities but only four persons with minor injuries.

Hopes faded in Arizona for the safety of three boy scouts missing since Saturday in the Santa Rita mountains near Tucson.

In other parts of Arizona about 10 hunters were trapped but believed safe in cabins near Flagstaff. Three others were snowbound near Prescott. A dozen hunters and campers were blocked in mountain snow near Tucson.

Damage estimated in the millions of dollars resulted from tornadoes and hurricane-force winds in northern Texas.

LIBERALS SEEK TOP ORGANIZER AT OTTAWA MEET

Some Private Doubts About Future Voiced

OTTAWA (CP) — The Liberals here let loose a flood of criticism against the Progressive Conservatives while openly expressing confidence or growing strength in the Liberal party.

But there also were indications that some in the party had private doubts about its future.

Delegates to the three-day national advisory council conference were reported to have bared their hearts at a three - hour closed - session Monday night. They were reported to have emphasized the critical need for a stronger party organization, of stronger links between top and lower echelons, of rekindling grassroots enthusiasm.

Liberal Leader Lester Bowles Pearson was reported to have agreed — as he did in open session earlier in the day—that a stronger organization is essential. And he pledged to do what he could to rebuild the Liberal fire, but emphasized that the party itself must do work hard if it is to deserve a victory at the next general election.

In corridor gossip, strength appeared to be growing to boost Senator Sidney John Smith, 66-year-old British Columbia businessman, to the presidency of the National Liberal Federation.

Some delegates from the maritimes opposed such a move. One provincial delegate suggested privately that Senator Smith, who makes his home at Kamloops, B.C., was too far from Ottawa-actually to effect a reduction in the 1957-1963 — deficit — is a remarkable

Supermarkets Trim Farmer's Profit Share, Union Charges

OTTAWA (CP)—A detailed indictment of supermarkets was presented today to the royal commission on price spreads. It said they reap "super" profits, lead the consumer down the primrose path of promotion and trim the farmer's share of the food dollar.

It is blockbuster brief totalling some 15,000 words, District 8 of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (UCL) said chain stores and supermarkets now occupy a "decisive" position in the Canadian food industry. They were increasingly able to control the consumer, farmer and important segments of food processors.

The union said supermarkets now hold the whip hand to such an extent that farmers often are "passive and helpless" in determining sales terms for crops and livestock. It is paradoxically true, said many workers in the food industry suffer from inefficiency; and that concentrated mass buying of meat by big chains, coupled with decline of the small butcher shop, is transferring bargaining power from the packer to chain management.

Other points in the union submission were that advertising of food has passed the "point of diminishing utility"; that razzle-dazzle packaging and promotion have greatly increased the cost of food spread; that consumers are being systematically overcharged; and that the supermarket, long the vital widening link in the wasteful choice, has in fact limited it.

"Paradoxically, the consumers are faced with an ever diminishing choice. The housewife frequently has no place else to go . . . for a few small groceries remain."

Three other briefs were presented to the seven - member royal commission, which this week concludes public hearings on the gap between producer and consumer prices for food products.

The supermarket's role in modern society was also examined by the Canadian Association of Consumers. In a 6,500-word brief, it said there are strong indications that supermarket growth in some areas has taken place too quickly, with a resulting excess capacity raising the danger of possible amalgamation and "monopolistic control" of food retailing.

"It is our hope that the commission will examine the possible danger to consumers' interest if a few chains of supermarkets become, in fact, controlling factors in determining food production through financing and distribution," the association said.

Dairy Co - Operative Union of Canada, representing some 2,000 marketing and purchasing co-operatives, presented a 25-page brief saying the food business is dominated by the profit motive. The distributive system should be owned by producers and consumers co-operatively.

"The interest of the investor or middleman is to keep the price to the producer at the lowest possible level, and the price to the consumer at the highest possible level," said the union.

A "continuing increase" in pressures tending to produce price spreads was forecast by British Columbia Packers Limited of Vancouver. If so, higher consumer prices would be inevitable.

BERLIN (AP) — The Soviet Embassy in East Berlin held its first press conference in four years today in an effort to dramatize Russian charges that West Berlin is a hotbed of Western spies against the Russian regime.

The Soviets presented two Russians—a 29-year-old Soviet army lieutenant and a Moscow circus acrobat—who said they had described to the West, broadcast for the Kremlin and then had a change of heart.

Russian spokesman J. W. Besbarov charged that a Western campaign of anti-Soviet propaganda and activity to undermine East Germany's economy was only endangering the Soviet Union and the other Socialist (Communist) lands but also all humanity."

In the press conference, attended by more than 300 Western and Communist correspondents, was another step in the new Soviet offensive to drive the Allies out of West Berlin.

Besbarov said international tension would be added if the West stopped trying to send Russian emigre spies into the Soviet Union.

Diefenbaker Visits Historic Khyber Pass

KHYBER PASS, Pakistan (CP) This historic invasion route today heard a friendly invasion by Prime Minister Diefenbaker, visiting "the one place I have always wanted to see."

Before flying to New Delhi on the fourth leg of Commonwealth tour, the Canadian leader was decked with garlands by tribal chiefs from only a few decades ago carried on running skirmishes against British forces seeking to hold the vitally strategic northwest frontier.

He walked to within a few feet of the Afghanistan border and looked down the approach route of invaders through the centuries. Through here came parts of the armies of Alexander the Great, the legions of Tamerlaine and other conquerors from Central Asia.

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Summer has hit Brazil. Thousands crammed in the beaches as temperatures climbed to 96 here and to 86 at Sao Paulo.

BOMARC MISSILE WILL COST LESS THAN ESTIMATED

Two Canadian Sites Total $164,000,000

OTTAWA (CP) — The defence department has some good news for Canadian taxpayers: The Bomarc anti - aircraft missile is going to cost considerably less than first estimated.

Defence Minister Pearkes announced Sept. 23 that two Bomarc sites to be built in Canada would cost a total of $164,000,000.

Mr. Pearkes last week visited Florida to see the American Bomarc at first hand—and, incidentally, became the first defence minister to fly in the very few Canadians to fly faster than the speed of sound. Mr. Pearkes, 70, took a ride with an American pilot in an F-102 jet fighter plane.

WILL COST LESS

He found that simplification of the Bomarc and its launching sites will result in substantial saving from the $164,000,000 original estimate when the second site comes into operation in Canada in late 1961.

The Bomarc coming into use now with the United States Air Force is the first version. The RCAF will get the more advanced second model which will have a range of 250 miles or better.

It is known Mr. Pearkes is enthusiastic about the Bomarc, one reason being that it will have a range as great as that of the supersonic arrof jet interceptor which Canada is building.

Mr. Pearkes feels all the housing and launching equipment and of the missile's components can be built in Canada. However, costs would be lower if the Bomarc program has not yet been started out.

TWO INSTALLATIONS

The two Canadian Bomarc installations will be built on a line running roughly from Sault Ste Marie, Ont., to Quebec City, 50 miles in Ontario, the other in Quebec.

Each site will have 56 launching platforms as well as the radar, radio, control room, personnel, maintenance shops and the like.

The Bomarc can be fired in two minutes. It climbs vertically to a pre-determined height and then levels out to seek its target.

Some members of the RCAF have contended that the Arrow is required for reconnaissance, to identify the type and nationality of any bomber attack.

But the defence minister "believes that Canada can be safely entrusted to ground radar.

Water So Bad Unfit to Mix With Whisky

PORT CREDIT, Ont. (CP) The water in the Lake Ontario area village is so bad, Reeve Stephen Bradley said at council Monday night, that whisky drinkers are complaining.

One housewife called him to report he had mixed water with his whisky and its result was so bad he couldn't drink it.

Councillor Arthur Farrington, water committee chairman, said a high pressure fire tent was discovered in the water department recent days. Workers were flushing mains

Appeal Filed By 8 Provinces On Freight Rates

Green Declares Cabinet Ready to Study Issue

OTTAWA (CP) — An appeal to the federal cabinet against the latest freight rate increase granted the railways was filed today by eight provincial governments.

Earlier, Acting Prime Minister Green had said any appeal by eight provincial governments against the latest railway freight rate increase will be heard by cabinet.

"If there is an appeal we are prepared to hear it," he told reporters as he entered a morning cabinet session.

Mr. Green also said that after cabinet has considered the rate issue today he hopes to be in touch by telephone with Prime Minister Diefenbaker who is in Pakistan.

The appeal could affect settlement of the dispute between railways and 15 unions representing 130,000 non-operating employees threatening to go on strike Dec. 1.

On the cabinet's decision will hinge the question of whether the railways get enough additional money—about 80,000,000 a year—to pay the workers' wage demands.

It was learned Monday the railways have told the union negotiating committee with which they have before the strike date unless the cabinet intervenes with 15-per-cent freight rate increase authorized earlier in the day by the board of transport commissioners.

This attitude was communicated to the unions, according to an informant, at a meeting in Montreal between top railway and union negotiators after the board's decision was announced.

Blizzard Dumps 9 Inches of Snow On Winnipeg

WINNIPEG (CP) — A raging blizzard hit Southern Manitoba today, dumping nine inches of snow on Winnipeg in a six-hour period.

Winds up to 46 miles an hour swept the Red River Valley. Freezing rain struck Northwestern Ontario. One death was reported of a storm that blasted north to Saskatchewan.

The weather office here issued weather warnings for southern Manitoba where road transportation was brought almost to a standstill. Even the city's vehicles moved on Winnipeg streets.

No serious accidents or deaths were reported.

The centre of the storm crossed the international border from Saskatchewan to North Dakota Monday night, after leaving death and confusion in the United States. Its effects extended to Lake Superior on the east and more than 300 miles west to the Portage la Prairie area of Manitoba.

Although it moved northquickly, the weather office here said the storm would linger for some almost to a standstill in the Kenora area, allowing more snow to fall on Manitoba than was first expected.

Space Pilots May Go to Mars, Moon in Shirtsleeves Prediction

NEW YORK (AP) — Space pilots may whip off to Mars or the moon in shirtsleeves, scientists said today.

And the big luxuries of the trip might be just a change of underclothes from time to time.

This was the rugged future of man in space suggested by a group of scientists meeting here to discuss the latest in earth space-flight experiments.

Even if simulated space trips, volunteers said today food and other unattractive items did their job poorly. A high calorie diet with a number of exotic foods, plenty of fruit juices and some salad was the biggest morale factor in the first seven-day protected space flight, the scientists said.

4 Ships Aground In Detroit River As Result of Fog

TORONTO (CP) — Ships went aground and air flights were cancelled Monday night as heavy fog shrouded Ontario.

There were few highway traffic accidents however. At Toronto's Malton airport more than 30 flights were grounded or diverted but airport officials said flights were due to resume today. The fog was reported clearing.

Zero visibility was reported overnight at North Bay, Muskoka, Sudbury and London airports.

Fog swirling around Windsor and Detroit was blamed for the grounding of four ships in the Detroit River which closed the channel to navigation.

The cutter Dahla and freighters Frank E. Taylor and Harry R. Jones went aground in the lower section of the river. The freighter Maumee and the Duke grounded crosswise upstream but freed herself, free by pumping ballast.

The downtown Toronto area was blanketed by fog overnight, ing the early hours today. Ceiling was reported at 2:18 a.m. EST lasted for seven minutes, in other at 5:36 a.m. lasted 11 minutes.

A Hydro official said the damp weather and wet atmosphere affected circuits.

The weather office forecast snowflurries for eastern and central regions of Ontario today and said it will be windy around the southern part of the province.

Parents Hungry So Children Can Be Fed

SUDBURY (CP)—Parents trying to get by in this nickel-belt town are going hungry so they can feed their children.

Welfare officials say some of 13,000 workers of the International Nickel Company, on strike since Sept. 24, just can't live on the meagre strike benefits supplied by the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Can.).

Welfare operations are being run by Salvation Army Capt. Ken Hammond and Rev. J. J. Devine, in charge of a Roman Catholic aid.

"A typical call comes from a father of five who is getting $12 a week from the union," said Capt. Hammond. "He needs food from a converted garage.

"If the best able to forego paying rent, so he can feed the children, but he and his wife are going hungry and cold.

"We could help with some food and clothing, but no fuel."

ALDERMAN WANTS GIFT TO ACQUIRE INDUSTRIAL LAND

"A suggestion that the city or the Chamber of Commerce option land for industrial use and hold it at cost to prospective industry on a tax-free plan for ten years or more, was made to council last night.

The suggestion was made by Alderman Don Whalen under general business.

"In my opinion Belleville needs more industry and I feel that this matter should be investigated," he said.

BELL TO OPERATE ENGINEERING SCHOOL IN THIS CITY

The proposed opening of a Bell Telephone engineering school which would see groups of about 30 or more men come to the city for specialized telephone training was announced at city council last night by Mayor Gerald Hyde.

Today Mr. Grant Proctor, local manager of Bell Telephone, said he expected the engineering school would start in the spring. "It will be a good thing for Belleville," he said.

The understanding is that the old telephone exchange building on Pinnacle Street would be used to stage the courses.

LIFE UNDERWRITERS' COURSE UNDERWAY

Mr. Donald G. Williams, C.L.U., chairman of the local Life Underwriters Association training course announced that this course is started again this year. Mr. Clarence Fuzzey, of the Fidelity Life has been chosen as moderator of the course, and will conduct the classes weekly in the Y. The life underwriter who takes this course is taught the fundamentals and principals of life insurance, especially in regard to selling and servicing. On completion of this course, he gains greater knowledge in the life insurance business and will be able to give better service to the insuring public.

ALD. EFFIE McCABE ASSISTING MADOC BURNED-OUT FAMILIES

"The Red Cross are supplying new bedding and new clothing to the burned-out families in Madoc," said Alderman Effie McCabe, chairman of the Disaster Committee of the local branch, today. The Alderman has been requested by the Provincial Police and the Fire Department to assist in arranging for much needed help for the unfortunate people and has kindly consented to act in this regard. Any assistance to be given can be phoned to the Alderman and it will be relayed to the proper authorities. Mrs. McCabe will also receive donations for the Madoc Relief Fund.

Gas Seepage Problem Raised At Council Meet

The possible danger of natural gas seeping from undetected gas main leaks through old sewers and into residential basements, was raised in city council last night.

Alderman George Wishart raised the question asking if there had been any investigation of gas seepage from local residents.

City Engineer Marcolm Turnbull said there had been a few complaints but he was unable to state whether any actual damage existed.

He said the distinctive odor emanated from gas mains during testing operations and is apparently travelled through the sewer system and into basements even where there were no gas connections.

Ald. Wishart raised the question of gas seeping from an undetected leak in the street mains and getting into basements through an old unused gas main. He suggested that where any old unused gas mains entered basements these be capped for safety.

Small Fry Get Best Views of Santa Parade

The small fry are to get front seating room priority during the December 6th Santa Claus Parade through downtown Belleville.

And city police will be expected to see that the kiddies get the front row seats ahead of the adults.

To afford a better opportunity for all to see the parade no parking will be permitted along the parade route during the morning of December 6th until after the parade. And the parade route will be barricaded with prominent signs indicating that the parade will pass. To properly police the route, all off duty police will be called back during the parade.

Route of the Santa Claus parade, again this year headed up by Fire Chief Gerald Vance and city firemen, will be over the Upper Bridge at 10 o'clock sharp, along Front Street to Dundas, along Dundas to Pinnacle and North on Pinnacle to Station and back over the Upper Bridge to the firehall.

There will be no traffic interruption in the parade except in case of emergency and through traffic will be routed around the city on 401 highway.

Arena Renovation Program At Estimated $215,000 Cost Is Rejected by Council, 8-6

The proposed alterations at the Belleville Memorial Arena which would have cost an estimated $215,000 to provide a new floor structure roof, new seating, heating and a new entrance, was turned down by council last night.

Discussion on the arena question took up a major portion of the regular evening session before the proposals were defeated by the vote of 8 to 6.

Voting to remove the recommendation from the night's agenda were Aldermen Digby, Ireland, Mozam, McCabe, Templeton, Whalen, Wishart and Augustine. Approving the proposed alterations were: Mayor Hyde and Aldermen Collins, Rosenberg, Graham, Grandame and Tice.

DIGBY HEADS OPPOSITION

The spearhead in the arena question was headed up by Alderman Les Digby who introduced the appropriations following the recommendation.

He said that an expenditure of this nature should not be thrust upon the taxpayer at this time when there is a new jail, a factory, sewage plant, new high school and other matters had to be paid.

Answering a statement made by Ald. Tice at the Finance Committee members last week, which was that Ald. Tice was the only speaker, that part of renovation costs could be paid out of profits, Ald. Digby said the fact that the local arena had lost $47,000 in the past four years.

Mayor Kingston arena had shown a profit of only $3,100 last year.

"Even if we netted a profit of $3,100 on the renovated arena it would be a long way under debenture costs of $215,000," Alderman Digby said.

CANNOT AFFORD IT

"The city just cannot afford a project of this nature," he said.

Alderman Digby made no say that he approved of public support for participating sports, but not for professional sports. The $215,000 would not provide any extra time for minor hockey.

Alderman George Wishart was of much the same opinion agreeing that it was a responsibility of responsibility to supply facilities for minor hockey but not necessarily for spectator sports.

On the other hand Alderman Frank Grandame as member of the Arena Commission, noted that the Arena Board had decided to show a profit the revenue would have been even smaller and there is no senior hockey team.

He felt that the hockey fans in the city, who helped to pay arena operational costs, were deserving of better seating conditions and heating at the arena.

REPORT AUTHORIZED

Alderman Ralph Graham explained (the reason the committee plan had brought in the recommendation at this time for arena renovations, was that during the summer the commission had been authorized by council to bring in a report on what could be done with the arena.

The committee had turned down one proposal from architects for a $400,000 expenditure to renovate and a new building at upwards of $900,000 was out of the question, he said.

Then engineers had come up with the proposal which had been submitted to council.

The proposal was in three stages, the first two of which would accomplish the purpose of providing better seating facilities at the arena. These two steps of removing the present roof and steel posts and providing a new clear truss roof with new seating were, "absolutely necessary," he said.

The third stage of providing more heating for the arena was expensive, but he hoped it would have the approval of the municipal board.

MUST CONVINCE BOARD

Ald. Graham said it was unnecessary for council be convinced of the economical aspects of the move as the municipal board would have to be convinced "and it would be much harder to justify the expenditure to the board than it would be to city council."

"If we satisfy the municipal board we would have no difficulty in satisfying council," he assured.

He urged tentative approval by council to enter that the matter could go before the municipal board immediately. This was necessary now, he urged, if any action was to be taken on renovations this spring.

He said the arena commission felt the board would authorize the first two renovational steps and he hoped it would also authorize stage three.

Alderman Robert Temple wondered if the average attendance at senior hockey games here warranted the proposed increased accommodation. "Arena and stadium owners never built to provide accommodation for maximum crowds," he said.

And he wanted to know why there was such a rush in getting the matter before the municipal board.

NEED MORE INFORMATION

He questioned the advisability of putting $215,000 in the arena and suggested that more information was needed before action was taken. "Maybe shelving the matter a year would not be the worst thing to be said.

Alderman Tice as chairman of the Arena Commission, said there was a class of people in the city who could not afford to pay they did not have a good place to see it.

He said the present arena with its wooden seats and wide cracks between the boards was a definite fire hazard. If there was a fire everyone would be responsibility would be that of council. Whether or not the proposal for renovations was approved by council, sealing in the arena would have to be removed.

"The arena commission has gone into this very deeply and the five members are unanimous in wishing to see the renovations carried out. I feel council should let us go to the municipal board."

Alderman Doug Moxam felt the matter was being rushed and council "just a little too fast," and asked that it be laid over for further discussion. "We've got to think of the taxpayer," he said.

Alderman Robertson Collins agreed that there was no reason for the commission not being responsible for an arena, but said that in Belleville, "there are more municipalities "like it or no, we have it."

He said they had had the arena for 11 years, during which time there had been little capital expense.

SEATS FIRETRAP

"The seats are bad, they are a firetrap and not a nickel has been spent on them.

He said the city could put off renovations "for a year or even a fall down," but suggested the city had to do something about facilities at its investment.

"The city should have a new arena," declared Alderman Argue. "The city might just as well face up to the fact that we will have to outlived its usefulness."

He said the plan should be for a new building, but he could not see the cost of $900,000 or $1 million dollars as had been suggested by some council members.

Alderman Don Whalen objected to the statement that it was the commission's responsibility if a fire occurred at the arena. "It is the responsibility of the whole commission and if there is anything wrong it should be corrected," he said.

Alderman Effie McCabe also spoke against the renovations. The matter had been brought along "a bit too fast." More time was needed, she said.

Board's Action Questioned in City Council

Bay of Quinte District High School board action in awarding a construction contract for a $1,500,000 high school in Oshawa firm at a cost of $1,088,000 when a local contractor's bid was only a small amount higher, was questioned in city council last night. The matter was raised by Alderman Jack Ireland who asked why council had nothing to do with school contract.

He said there were many rumors floating around the city to the effect that the Oshawa company had never done a job of this size before; would employ out-of-town sub-contractors, and that a second contractor in the Belleville area was only a few dollars higher than his bid.

Mayor Gerald Hyde replied that council had no authority to go to the board action, going on to say that several years ago council's authority over school board for not accepting the lowest bid on a tender call for a new school.

He said it was his understanding that the board had considered the matter very carefully and had even reconsidered the matter.

One of the main factors in the board accepting the job of the Fidelity Construction Company of Oshawa had been the completion date of next September. Other contractors had given a much longer completion date.

Alderman Moxam felt the board could have saved money by specifying coal heating instead of gas heating. He said cost of coal would be $4,300 less per year than gas.

Alderman Frank Grandame noted that the architect would provide full time supervision of the construction job.

"And well he might", interjected one alderman "considering he is getting $65,000."

By-Pass Village Of Halloway With New Road

On the main county road between Foxboro and Madoc since the artery was constructed many years ago, the village of Halloway, 10 miles north of Belleville, has gone modern.

The village has been by-passed.

The by-passing of Halloway is part of the road reconstruction and widening program presently on the entire Foxboro - Madoc section of road built to accommodate highway standards. The north end-of the road running from Belleville to the city of Madoc Lake was rebuilt a year ago and was paved this summer.

The Halloway by-pass was started last year and cuts over the hill and a deep gully between filled in to straighten the road and reduce the grade.

Traffic is already rolling over the by-pass although county forces still have to complete the grading and set in guard rail posts.

Work on the widening of the bridge at Chrysal Creek, south of the Halloway by-pass is now also complete, thus eliminating another narrow traffic bottleneck on the Madoc - Foxboro road.

Council Permits Parking During Rush Hours 4 to 6 On South Side Bridge St, E.

Rush hour parking on the south side of Bridge Street from Front to Pinnacle Street will be permitted on a temporary basis until the end of the year, it was decided by city council last night.

The meeting saw ratification of committee recommendation to allow the rush hour parking by voting nine to four in favor of the recommendation.

The motion was introduced at last week's council meeting by Alderman Don Whalen who claimed the opening of 401 highway had relieved traffic condition sufficiently to allow parking to be resumed at least on a temporary basis until the end of the year.

Parking spaces under an official layout had been cut in recent years, it was stated.

Alderman Effie McCabe brought up the question, asking the number of parking spaces before and after paving operations. Alderman Graham replied with a number of private parking spaces at the rear of building the total number would be from 150 to 155.

The alderman complimented the city hall staff and particularly City Planning Engineer Charles Mott for his "excellent job" in having paving operations carried out with a minimum of inconvenience.

He said that parking meter installation would be installed this week or by early next week.

A covering by-law authorizing the parking meters to be put into operation was passed by council.

140 Metered Parking Spaces In New Lot

The city's newly-paved Moira River parking lot will provide for 140 metered parking spaces under a revised layout at the council last night.

Parking spaces under an official layout had been for 127 cars, it was stated.

Alderman Effie McCabe brought up the question, asking the number of parking spaces before and after paving operations. Alderman Graham replied with a number of private parking spaces at the rear of building the total number would be from 150 to 155.

The alderman complimented the city hall staff and particularly City Planning Engineer Charles Mott for his "excellent job" in having paving operations carried out with a minimum of inconvenience.

Says Druggists' Closing By-Law Not Enforceable

On the advice of City Solicitor R. A. Pringle that the early closing by-law presently in force could not be enforced as it was written, council last night rejected the by-law for further consideration.

City druggists had been unanimous in requesting the by-law and council had no alternative but to follow Alderman Graham noted.

However, Mr. Pringle said the by-law purported to control Sunday closing which was already covered under the Lord's Day Act, while it also purported to set up a system of rotation which was beyond the power of council. He said the by-law had not been drawn by him but was presented by the druggists' solicitor.

On the other hand Ald. Graham said the by-law had been in force since the city of Stratford, where it had been enforced for years.

When the by-law came up for consideration, Mayor Hyde said he didnot think it should be the responsibility of the municipality to enforce it. He agreed that council had no alternative but to pass the by-law.

The by-law was withdrawn on recommendation of Ald. Whalen with council voting 8-8 for the withdrawal.

Enlightened Church Leadership Great Need of World Today States Chairman of Presbytery

At the recent west Hastings Woman's Association rally held in Foxboro United Church, Miss L. Johnson, chairman of the Belleville Presbytery, spoke on "Leadership Education."

Previous to the address, Mrs. Steenburg, of Trenton, led the devotional period, using as her theme, "Leadership Through Service". The president of the W.A., Mrs. Windover, presided, and also favored with a beautiful solo, "God's Tomorrow." Mrs. J. Marsh brought greetings from the Presbytery, and stated that the purpose of the Woman's Association il to deepen spiritual life, and to help raise money to meet the needs of the church.

In opening her address, "the guest speaker prefaced her remarks by defining the word 'leader' as one in charge of a group; the president of a W. A. or the chairman of a standing committee. In W. A. work the leader of a standing committee is known as a 'chairman', not as a convener.

"The great need of the world today," said Miss Johnson, "is for enlightened leadership in the church activities; in community business and in the government. Enlightened leadership in the church and community is just as important as is leadership on the provincial or national level of church and government. Enlightened leadership is that given by persons who are following Christ's example; who have an ever-widening vision; willing to accept responsibility; unprejudiced; humble; wise and unselfish.

GOOD LEADER REQUISITES

"No one is indispensable, and only by trial and error is there any growth. Leadership is a challenge to service for others; to serve the group, to share with group members; not to dominate. There is no substitute for sincerity, generosity and genuine respect. The good leader will study the present needs of the group, its history, and background. A leader is a bridge operating in the present and connecting the past with the future.

The good leader will have understanding; looks below the surface and seeks to enter into the feelings of group members; will exercise patience with the group's weak points, and await the outcome of plans and hopes. A good leader will persevere with God's help on the path toward a worthy goal.

A good leader will persevere in prayer and with God's help will overcome obstacles and problems by ideas given to her.

Growth in ability and performance will come with the desire to serve; studies how to serve; exertises understanding, has patience and perseverance and prayers for Divine guidance. Leadership in the Woman's Association is a serious problem because the majority of adults shrink from responsibility and from spending time and energy necessary to become a good leader.

LEADERSHIP PREPARATION

Miss Johnson gave some suggestions which would be helpful in the preparation of leadership; training through the study of literature: the Dominion Council of the W.A. of the United Church of Canada distributes literature informing members how to conduct meetings; how to prepare programs for different types of meetings; for Christian fellowship; Christian stewardship. A brief 15 minute study of these per day would bring results.

Good readers make better leaders by training through trial and error; by training among being a group member, when issues are required; studying the abilities of each member, and by personal insight and understanding of group behavior and by means of leadership training schools.

EFFECTIVE MEETING

An effective meeting is one in which members and leaders combine their abilities to carry out the aims and objectives of the W.A. so that those present will feel that their taking part has been worthwhile. And for such a meeting there should be advance preparation; a good member is a creative, active, productive one who puts the common goal beyond the personal aim. All members should share responsibility. A good group member makes a good leader.

A leader should be well informed; enthusiastic; flexible; show initiative; a meeting should be well advertised as to date, time and place, by both telephone and church calendar. There should be proper lighting, temperature and seating in a friendly formation. There should be courtesy and promptness.

In conducting the business parliamentary procedure should be followed to ensure justice and courtesy for all; the recognition of the chairman; the right of motion for the rights of the minority, to have an agenda for an organized routine, which would include a devotional, Bible study or both.

Every W.A. should have a group or committee responsible for program planning on a yearly, half-yearly or monthly basis; the timing should be well planned and developed out of the needs and interests of the members and the aims of the association; there should be variety in the program; in less formal sections there might be a speaker, and in the formal section the business period. A knowledge of the W.A. constitution should be known by every member.

A good meeting will further some action, either from the business or program portion, or visitation; donating to an United Church project, or touring institutions of the church; but above all, do something to attain the goal set up.

DISCUSSION LEADER

In leading a discussion the leader should know her subject; establish a friendly, sincere attitude with genuine respect for others; enlist the help of the members; be less critical when taking an active part in a discussion, and should be able to guide the discussion to the point without too many detours.

The following methods are used in leading discussions: open forum; group discussions; couples' discussions; buzz sessions; Bible study; study groups; panel discussions and impromptu discussions.

To be a good leader takes energy and strength and faith in people. Let us resolve to proceed prayerfully, individually, for power for work in the church; seek conclusively to develop the powers of others for work in the church."

"Take time to work, it is the price of success;
Take time to think, it is the source of power;
Take time to read, it is the foundation of knowledge;
Take time to worship, it is the highway of reverence;
Take time for friendship, it is the source of happiness;
Take time to love, it is the sacred symbol of life."

At the close of the session refreshments were served by the Foxboro ladies.

Woman Sucker For Sales Talks Says Official

OTTAWA (CP) — Six men and two women, pondering the perils of modern advertising, agreed Monday that the poet had something when he wrote: "Frailty, thy name is woman."

The trouble with women, Mrs. F. E. Underhill of London, Ont., told the Stewart prices commission, is simply that they're weak human and suckers for sales talks.

They were intelligent and they knew what they should buy, but they often were "deluded by love of family" into buying an inferior product.

Mrs. Underhill, speaking with the dedicated sincerity of one often stretched on the huckster's rack herself, was testifying on behalf of the National Council of Women of Canada. She is practising lawyer in London and the mother of four girls and a boy.

In a brief to the royal commission on price spreads of food products, she spoke sharply of advertising and sales gimmicks which, she said, are often unnecessary and merely increase prices to the consumer, "since you never get something for nothing."

Commission member Dr. W. M. Drummond of Guelph appealed to Mrs. Underhill to suggest something concrete the government can do to help sales - susceptible women.

Mrs. Underhill thought hard. She admitted it was a tricky problem. In London, her organization had approached radio and television people to try to get them to exercise control over advertising, but it was a "matter of dollars and cents and wheels within wheels, and there is nothing you can do."

In the long run, she said, it looks as though an educational

Curator at Museum Once Housemaid in Manitoba

By EDNA USHER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — Mrs. Neda Leipen is one of the best-trained housemaids who ever dabbed a duster.

She is the assistant curator of Greek and Roman antiquities at the Royal Ontario Museum here, but back in 1951 she was housemaid to the family of Errick Willis, then Progressive Conservative leader in Manitoba.

"There's no doubt that I was well-trained," says the dark-haired present post, "but none of my training was towards being a housemaid."

Coming from Yugoslavia, she had to sign for a year's work in domestic service in Canada before she could obtain her passage here.

CLASSICS EXPERT

A 1944 graduate of the University of Zagreb, she is an expert in the Latin and Greek languages, classical archaeology and ancient history. She worked in an archaeological museum and later in a museum of sculpture in Zagreb until 1951.

"The Communists were in power then, and there was too much brain-washing — too much pressure on university graduates to force them to attend classes expounding the value of Leninism and Stalinism," she explained.

"I decided to leave Yugoslavia but could not get a passport. When the opportunity came, I fled illegally to Trieste. There all the money I had, $50, was stolen from me."

But a few months later she came to Canada, her passage being paid by the Canadian government in return for her promise to work as a domestic servant for a year.

"It seemed the longest year of my life," she said. "I'm a Canadian citizen now, and I know we claim there is no snobbery in North America. But as a domestic servant I found myself in a kind of limbo.

"I had little in common with other domestic servants that I met, but persons with a background similar to mine had little to do with me because I worked as a housemaid."

While she wielded the duster and scrubbing brush in Winnipeg, Mrs. Leipen was offered a research job at the University of Indiana, but couldn't take it because of visa problems.

"I don't really regret my year of housework," she said. "When I married at least I knew how to keep house."

Her job at the Royal Ontario Museum involves authenticating pieces of Greek or Roman art work which the museum has acquired or which are sent to it for identification. She also advises on arrangement of exhibits.

DISTRICT WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

JOHNSTOWN W.A.

JOHNSTOWN — The Women's Association of Johnstown held the November meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Curtis on Thursday afternoon with a nice attendance.

Mrs. Everett Clapp opened the service. The Scripture lesson was found in Luke 21:25-33, and in Acts 2:1-4, read by Mrs. Alec Vandervoort. The lesson thoughts were given by Mrs. Fred Meyers, who said, "The Christian Church was borne in the disciples, for they were witnesses of Him."

Mrs. Clapp thanked the hostess and welcomed the guests. An invitation was received from Centenary W.A. asking the W.A. to attend its bazaar, tea and sale, on November 19.

It was decided to have a Christmas party the same as last year, to be held at the home of one of the former members, Mrs. W. B. Grant of Trenton and also agreed to send a gift to a neighbor who is in the hospital.

"Remembrance Day" was read by Mrs. C. J. Brunt and "Lazarus" by Mrs. A. Meyers, with "What God Had Promised" by Mrs. W. B. Grant.

A contest was put on and won by Mrs. William A. Curry and refreshments served by the hosters and conveners, ending a nice afternoon.

ST. PETER'S W.M.S.

MADOC — Mrs. Field Allan was hostess for the November meeting of St. Peter's W.M.S. Mrs. Bailey, the president read a poem, "Peace", to open the meeting.

Mrs. Johnson read the Scripture lesson, Gen. 31:44-55. Verses containing the word "Gracious", were read and the meditation given each.

The business part of the meeting was then conducted by the president.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Johnson who read a story, "Thais are the Happiest".

Recently, a sectional rally of the W.M.S. was held at Foxboro. Four of the members who had attended this meeting gave concise and informative reports to the home group. The challenge toward greater achievement is the duty of each member.

A social hour followed the conclusion of the meeting.

King George H-S Holds Panel Discussion

The monthly Home and School Association meeting was held in King George School, recently with a good number of parents present. Previous to the meeting, the rooms were opened for a half an hour to permit viewing of the work done, and the teachers of the Unit System explained how the system is working in the school. Teachers of the higher grades were also present to meet with the parents.

An interesting point was the awarding of the School Shield to the pupil showing the most improvement during the year, which was explained by the principal, Mr. John Eacon.

Mrs Georgina Digby introduced the guest speaker, Mr. Adamson, Case Supervisor of the Children's Aid Society, who in turn introduced the panel consisting of Mr. Hasinah from the protection staff, Mrs. Great of Child Care; Miss Payne, in charge of Foster Homes, and Mrs. Hartley of the Adoption Department.

Many interesting points were put forth as to what constitutes neglect; the type of home sought for foster children, the large need for these homes, and the care supplied by the Aid for any of its children.

Mrs. Hartley stated that parents wanting to accept children far exceeded the available children. It is best to deal in a case of adoption with a bonafide agency.

An enlightening question and answer period followed.

Mr. Adamson was thanked by Mrs. Phyllis Lane.

Wedding

CARR — LORIMER

Yellow / chrysanthemums adorned the altar and white satin bows designated the guest pews in the Church of St. Michael the Archangel, for a recent lovely double-ring ceremony when the Reverend Peter F. Murphy united in marriage Theresa Barbara Lorimer, of Belleville, daughter of Mrs. Ralph Lorimer, of Belleville, and the late Mr. Lorimer, to Claude James Carr, also of Belleville, son of Mrs. Fredrick Carr, and the late Mr. Carr.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. William Lorimer, of Belleville, the bride was radiant in her floor-length bridal gown of white petit point lace fashioned on Elizabethan lines with fitted bodice having a scalloped, rounded neckline and sheath-like sleeves ending in points over the wrists. The fully bouffant skirt was in bell shape of tier-upon-tier of handcut scalloped lace. She wore a crown-style headdress accented by tiny seed pearls and rhinestones, and finger-tip veil of silk tulle illusion. Her bouquet was a cascade of red roses, mingled with white stephanotis and maiden hair fern. A single strand of pearls completed her ensemble.

Mrs. James Hooper, of Montreal, attended her sister as matron of honor, while Miss Barbara Carry, of Belleville, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Simeon Dolorme, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids. The matron of honor and the bridesmaids were gowned alike in cocktail-length imported red velveteen fashioned with short sleeves molded bodices and necklines high in front and tapering to a deep V at the back. The bouffant skirts were very full and crinolined. They wore matching mitts, petit chapeaux, and matching tinted pumps, and carried white mums in crescent arrangement.

The little flower girl, seven-year-old Marie Hooper, niece of the bride, was frocked in a similar modelled gown to those of the other attendants, with white roses, and matching chapeau, and carried a white basket of white pom pom mums and red Sweetheart roses.

Mr. David Jones, of Belleville, attended the bridegroom, while Mr. Pat Gilmour, of Point Anne, and Mr. Don Dolan, of Belleville, acted as ushers.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall, where the guests were received by the bride's mother, wearing a sheer crepe in bouquet-blue with upper bodice of imported lace over net; dusty rose hat and gloves, and corsage of pink Sweetheart roses. The bridegroom's mother, assisted, wore a tailored wool in toast-toned with orange ice hat and gloves and corsage of bronze 'mums.

The bride's table was beautifully centred by a three-tier, all-white wedding cake, flanked by silver candelabra with lighted white candles, and accented by the bridal bouquet.

For travelling to Watertown, Lake Placid, Vermont and other northern United States, and Montreal, Quebec, the bride chose a royal blue suit of cashmere wool, matching felt and feathered hat, tropical tan shoes and purse, with grey Persian lamb for jacket, and corsage of bronze 'mums.

Guests were present from Montreal, Quebec; Point Anne; Picton; Frankford; Kingston; Stirling and Trenton.

Previous to her marriage, the bride was entertained at a miscellaneous shower held at the home of Mrs. David Jones, and also at a kitchen shower at the home of Mrs. William Lorimer, with Mrs. E. Cockell as co-hostess, and at a trousseau tea given by the bride's mother in honor of her approaching marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Carr are residing at 20A West Moira Street, Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude James Carr are pictured leaving the Church of St. Michael the Archangel following their recent marriage. The bride is the former Miss Theresa Barbara Lorimer, daughter of Mrs. Ralph Lorimer, of Belleville, and the late Mr. Lorimer. Women's Activities

TABERNACLE E. A.

The November meeting of the Tabernacle Evening Auxiliary was held at Mrs. G. Page's, 11 Symington Drive, with 18 members present.

The president opened with a helpful poem and prayer.

Secretary's and treasurer's reports were read by Joyce Babiak.

Edith Stanton explained Christian Citizenship and made it most interesting.

Refreshments were served and a small auction of food and other articles was held.

Chatterton W.I. Views Scenes Of Overseas

Chatterton W. I. held a social evening at Turner's School and most gratifying crowd turned out despite the rain. Mrs. C. B. Gardiner acted as chairwoman for the evening.

The program opened with a sing-song with Mrs. Pat Dolan at the piano, Leslie and Nicky Gardiner sang medley of three songs accompanied by their mother on the uke.

The pupils of Turner's school accompanied by Mrs. Floyd Mc-Innes, sang several Christmas carols led by Mr. Tully the new teacher, whom Mrs. Gardner thanked and welcomed on behalf of the neighborhood.

Leslie Gardner rendered a lovely Scotch ballad 'Acappello'. Leslie's clear sweet true voice lent itself beautifully to the charm of "Oi Te I Rova My Bonnie Bon."

Several more songs were sung by the assembly until the arrival of the guest of honor, Miss Kay Homan, president of the Junior Farmers for Ontario who was one of four chosen to represent Canada on the Commonwealth judging team in Great Britain last summer.

Miss Homan had a beautiful array of slides of the pictures she took overseas. Great Britain may be a cold damp place, but the gardens and scenery make it a veritable Eden.

Sumptuous refreshments were served of sandwiches and pie.

The Caribbean Topic at Tabernacle

The Tabernacle United Church W.M.S. held its regular monthly meeting in the church on the afternoon of November 11th.

The president, Mrs. Ray Lockyer, opened the meeting.

Mrs. Archibald took charge of the devotional period. The Scripture lesson was read from Deuteronomy 6-8-15. In this portion of Scripture the predominant idea is that the Jews are the chosen people of God. God promises to prosper them and destroy their enemies if they keep His commandments.

Some comparisons were mentioned concerning the Jews' idea of God as depicted in the Old Testament, and the idea of God as depicted in the New Testament.

Mrs. Eastcott was asked to invite Miss Boyd, a missionary from India to speak to the WMS in the near future.

Mrs. Archibald gave a report on the WMS rally at Shannonville recently.

Mrs. Lavish had charge of the Study Book, subject was "The Caribbean."

From 1492 to 1900 the Roman Catholic religion was predominant in the Caribbean. However, now the Protestant church is growing strong in this area. Those escaped slave started preaching in Jamaica and started a Baptist church. Now there are many Baptist churches in this area, also Episcopal churches and some Methodist churches. The Protestants in this area now have substantial reason to think that a new day is dawning for religious tolerance under the banner of democracy and the leadership of men with a great zest for the Protestant faith.

During the early history of the Caribbean, not much was done concerning education in this area. Europeans sent their children back to the home land to school. The natives had no schools, now educational prospects for children in Caribbean are are good.

In Peurto Rico 800,000 children are settled in crowded classrooms.

Mrs. Lockyer thanked Mrs. Slavin for her interesting talk.

Club Activities

MARSH HILL M.S.

MARSH HILL — Marsh Hill Mission Band held its November meeting at the school house with 15 children, six ladies and two visitors present.

Quiet music was played by Marilyn Finkle, A poem, "November Lullaby," was read by Elizabeth Kuglin. The hymn, "Jesus Loves Me," was sung, followed by prayer.

The Scripture reading, from Matthew 5: 1-13 was read by Carol Lindenfield, after which Mrs. Durfee led in prayer.

The hymn "O Valiant Hearts" was sung by Patsy Little, Elizabeth Kuglin, Linda Finkle, Carol Lindenfield, Gwenda Detlor and Elizabeth Finkle. Mrs. Leslie Finkle gave a temperance story.

At this time, Mrs. Maurice Clancy, Presbyterial Mission Band secretary, was introduced and gave an interesting talk on "Building a Bridge." She said in part, "We have as our chief engineer, Jesus, the assistant engineer, our Mission Band leader, and the workers are the members of the Mission Band.

"To build a bridge of kindness so it will be strong we must have Bible reading, prayer, Sunday School attendance and church attendance."

Mrs. E. B. Finkle thanked Mrs. Clancy for her talk to the children. The hymn, "Jesus Bids Us Shine", was sung.

Mrs. Harold Detlor gave the chapter, "The School Picnic," from the study book, "Here Comes Dick."

Gwenda Detlor gave a reading.

The members were thanked by Mrs. Detlor for bringing articles for the bale.

Mrs. E. B. Finkle gave the benediction after which refreshments were served.

BIGGER FEET

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP) — The feet of New Zealanders are steadily getting larger, shoe dealers and chiropodists report. They say that children are wearing much larger shoes, with many children now taking shoes two sizes larger than children of equivalent ages 10 years ago.

Women's Guild Enjoys Talk on European Trip

The regular meeting of the Albert College Women's Guild was held in the Manor on November 13th, with the president Mrs. Charles Hyde, presiding.

Miss Down, of Albert College, was in charge of the program for the afternoon. Miss Phyllis O'Neill and Miss Margaret Soden, accompanied by Miss Betty Whiting at the piano, sang a duet. All three girls are senior pupils at Albert College. Their performance was much enjoyed.

Mrs. H. F. Swann gave a brief address entitled "Thoughts on Remembrance Day." She spoke of the debt owed to the men who halted aggression in both the first and second World Wars. History has shown that aggression and tyranny can not be completely overcome by one victory, but each victory is of inestimable value, to the cause of freedom.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Jessie Gilles of Albert College. She had spent the summer in Europe, and gave a most delightful account of her trip. She was especially impressed by the kindness of the people and the beauty of the small villages both in Europe and England.

Mrs. Hyde thanked Mrs. Gillis for her interesting address, and she also thanked all those who had taken part in the program.

Would Produce Show Directed To Teen-agers

By BILL RATHBUN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

EDMONTON (CP) — Laura Lisset now would like to produce a television program directed to teen-agers.

The show would be along the lines of an old-fashioned women's program, but the interviews, news, cooking and sewing demonstrations would be at the teen-agers' own level.

Since last summer of 1956 Laura has been the official hostess of station CFRN-TV, producing and acting as hostess on her afternoon programs "What's Cooking" and "Visitors Please."

INTERVIEWED MANY

During this time she has interviewed dignitaries and entertainers visiting Edmonton, as well as many Edmonton women who have unusual stories to tell.

Blonde, slight, Laura was born 44 years ago in the southern Saskatchewan community of Yellowgrass. She moved about "everywhere from Florida to Vancouver" in the footsteps of her father, a salesman. She started school in London, Ont., and "ended my compulsory High School and one year of university at Saskatoon."

She is the wife of Ben L. Banks, a gas company accountant, and is mother of five active children ranging in age from nine to 22 years. She met and married him in Calgary, where they lived for 13 years before moving here in 1949.

Laura stepped into television at the time when CFRN-TV had been without a woman's director for several months.

"The only cooking I knew was what I had learned from books after I was married," she recalls. "But I've always been conscious of nutrition, and try to give my family well - balanced meals."

She has never taken sewing lessons, but she has been a dressmaker since she was 16, and has worked several times as a sewing machine demonstrator, and her own dressmaking shop in Edmonton for two years.

Her hours are long. They start at 8.30 a.m. when she sets out to visit grocery stores and to gather new material for her program. She is active at least three hours each week at dinners and club meetings or as a commentator at fashion shows.

She may finish at 2 or 3 a.m., when she completes a cooking or sewing project for presentation on her program.

Her gracious manner and sparkling personality enables her to make most timid persons immediately feel at ease. The informality of Laura's programs results from her "real life" approach.

"I try to talk to an individual rather than to the camera or the audience," she says. "On the show, I feel I am exchanging ideas with other women."

From her close association with Scotland, Laura has drawn the conclusion:

"TV is an absolutely wonderful thing in the house . . . if people learn to accept it, and not let it rule."

Women's Institute

CANNIFTON - CORBYVILLE W.I.

The November meeting of the Canniffton-Corbyville Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. A. Eves with the president, Mrs. D. Windsor, presiding.

A demonstration of the different articles that can be made from colored foam rubber was given by Mrs. W. Clare, Corbyville.

Each member made a pair of earrings.

In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. C. Ellsworth recorded the meeting.

Mrs. George Shorey acted as the convener for the "Pensioners' Banquet" on November 12, which was held at Corbyville.

It was decided that the Christmas dinner be held at the Queen's Motel, and the party at the home of Mrs. G. McPherson.

Those who preferred to give money instead of a white gift would put it in an envelope to be added for the purchase of a turkey or chicken.

Mrs. E. Pusic proposed that the W.I. see about having a rink for the children and teen-agers, and will ascertain details regarding same. A special meeting will be called to discuss the findings.

The sewing committee for the bazaar will be planned at the January meeting.

Mrs. Shorey gave a report on the historical dates. Cards were sent to Mr. H. Tweedy and Mrs. R. McKay and thank-you cards were received from Mrs. A. Dodge, also from Mr. H. Tweedy and Mrs. S. Pound.

After the meeting closed refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants, and thanks extended to Mrs. Eves for opening her home to the meeting.

Fashions designed in London with a special appeal to those who like sport clothes will be on sale simultaneously in Britain and Canada next spring. Different weight mohair will still be the fabric season. These fashions by Simon Small of London are a Royal blue and white mohair jumper suit (left) and a pale grey outfit of washable fabric. British Designer All Set For Gay Mexican Styles

By SYLVIA HACK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — British designer Digby Morton, a man who seeks fashion inspiration outside Europe, has all set to make next season a gay Mexican fiesta.

With traditional Mexican styles in vivid colored fabrics, Morton plans to do more than bring a touch of the exotic to British and Canadian women next spring. He also plans to add a touch of history.

Identical patterns of Aztec stone sculpture back to 200 B.C. have been printed on many fabrics, and garments of typical Mexican wear have been copied in detail.

FOR BEACH TOWELS

The Mexican "zarapes" — the hand-woven rug Mexicans carry draped on their shoulders — has been adapted as beach towels, lying in with matching beach wear.

And "carlzon"—Mexican peasant trousers with front-slit cross-overs make pretty plain wear.

One Aztec - patterned outfit in tan, white and black has a three-waisted skirt, simple blouse topped with poncho shawl with black ribbon bow. Another comprises a short flare cotton skirt with motifs on either side, worn over tight blue gaucho pants.

Hot printing weather requirements, Morton's recent fashion show displayed a golf outfit in beige wool mixture with turquoise jersey back and self-colored shirt.

And for teen - agers to dance through summer, there's a melon-yellow sailcloth skirt and cotton blouse, linked together with a deep cummerbund. Like the Morton clothes, Susan Small fashions will be on sale simultaneously in Britain and Canada next spring. The collection concentrates on light-weight jersey and knitted fabrics, in bright shades, designed mostly for the Paris - inspired chemise line.

The display is of special appeal to those who like sporty clothes. There is a tangerine wool dress with an empire line bodice and short matching jacket. Jersey dresses with adjustable draw string waistline come in plain shades and white stripes alternating with gold ones for cocktail wear.

Jumper suits in pastel wools and knitted nylon have youthful pleated skirts. The nylon type has an advantage over the wool. It can be run through a washing machine without affecting the pleats.

Different weight mohair will still be in style for next spring. Used in royal blue and white for a cheerful boxed design jumper matched to a plain white skirt, the outfit had a couture look for considerably less than couture price.

A new fabric, courtelle, resembled a fine jersey in appearance but requiring only drip-dry washing, doesn't need ironing and won't stretch or sag after continual wear.

A pale grey dress, featuring round neckline, three - quarter sleeves and tie-belt, will be one of the new courtelle numbers on sale in 1959.

GOOD MANNERS

By Mrs. Beeckman

A WEDDING IN TIME OF MOURNING

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

When the bride's family is in mourning, is it proper to have the wedding in a church, as originally planned before the death in the family, provided the date is not kept very small, only members of both families in the house, and guests present? — Reader.

Yes . . . this is entirely proper.

PLANNING WEDDING INVITATIONS

Dear Mrs.Beeckman:

My husband and I have only one child, a daughter, soon to be married to a clergyman. We are planning the invitations, and our problem is the titles. My husband is a doctor. I know from reading your columns how very important it is to have "The" engraved before "Reverend," but may "Rev." be used? And may "Dr." be used before my husbands name?

— B.

R is in best taste to use "Doctor" before the name of both Doctor and Mrs. Arthur Lee Blake. For the bridegroom's name, The Reverend Paul Martin Clark. However, if his name is too long for this, The Rev. may be used.

Club Activities

ST. ANDREW'S CLUB

IVANHOE — St. Andrew's Presbyterian Club met at the home of Mrs. Ross Small. David Fargey on Friday evening. Club president, Arthur Hassall, presided. G. Spirit of "O Canada God" was sung and the Rev. W. H. V. Walker led in prayer.

Psalm 33 was read by Harold Thompson.

A short business session followed. Mrs. Russell Sills and Mrs. William Thomas were appointed to bring in a slate of officers for 1959 to the December meeting. Small fashions were served by the hostess and co-hostesses.

A short course, "Choosing and Using Electrical Appliances" by Ivanhoe W. I. was conducted by Miss Eleanor Hearst, Department of Agriculture and home economics, Toronto, was held in the town hall, Ivanhoe, on Tuesday afternoon. There were 16 in attendance.

Thurs. Nov. 20.

SAGO PUDDING:

or until water is all absorbed (sup'), in a greased or packed dish desiccated cocoanut, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 4 cups hot milk, 1 cup light brown sugar. Mix all ingredients well but the milk in double boiler — then add hot milk stirring and cook over boiling water until it begins to thicken, about 15 minutes, stirring once or twice. Transfer to greased baking dish and bake about 45 minutes to 1 hour at 350 deg. Fahr. This pudding may be baked longer or shorter time in cooler or hotter oven depending on what else you may be baking at the time. Serve hot or ice cold with cold top milk or cream.

An old-fashioned pudding I never grow tired of. Put in a slightly rich blanc mange baked with a chocolate meringue. It has a soft delicate texture. Was improved if made 24 hours in advance.

POMPADOUR PUDDING:

Scald 2 1-2 cups milk with 1 tablespoon grated orange rind. Mix 5 tablespoons cornstarch, 1-2 cup sugar, 1-8 teaspoon salt well, then add 1-2 cup cold milk, add to scalded milk in double boiler, cook about 5 minutes and add 1 teaspoon vanilla. Turn baking dish and cover with Meringue: Two egg white beaten stiff with 3 tablespoons sugar, added while beating. Melt 1-oz. chocolate, cool slightly beat into meringue along with 3 tablespoons milk. Bake in oven at 325 deg. Fahr. until meringue is lightly tinged with gold. Refrigerate if keeping for 24 hours before serving.

Old Fashioned Puddings

by Mary Moore

The Social Planning Council of Metropolitan Toronto had a guest from Burma — her name is Daw Hnin Hla and she is from the town of Moulmein (remember the old Moulmein pagoda?). She is a volunteer social worker visiting Canada as a representative under the auspices of the Colombo Plan.

Dinner Menus

by Mary Moore

TUESDAY

Braised Beef with Vegetables (Genuine Rostbraten) or Swiss Steak (for both see Monday); Whipped Potatoes; Tomato Jelly Mould on nut Cress or Lettuce; Stewed Apricots with Whipped Cream; Oatmeal Cookies; Coffee.

After that auspicious introduction I will now get down to cooking.

Mrs. Hla cooked a Burmese meal for the staff of Metropolitan Toronto Social Planning Council of which my sister Dorita is a member.

Mrs. Hla (you pronounce it — I'll write it) said; "If you are going to do Burmese cooking you have to have oven clean pil-lowcase." (Sounded like doing Burmese laundry to me.) "Put shredded cocoanut through food chopper onto a large tray. Then put it into the pillowcase, and pounding water over it, fold and knead it squeezing juice out of it. Keep on and add more boiling water. When you feel you have add a little cold!" (well thanks!)

This hard-come-by cocoanut milk was cooked with long grain, polished white rice until it was "absorbed by".

Some was also used to cook sago in for a dessert with sweet potatoes. You cook it on top of the stove and it breaks up as you stir and the juice "absorbs up" is it too You add spices and salt but no sugar.

Doris assures me it was "real good".

The proof of the pudding being in the eating, I made my own sago pudding with cocoanut and being Canadian, bound bred, I think I can assure you you will like it.

Families with young children could keep their dessert expenses in hand and their children well-fed by serving puddings like these I am giving you today, once a week.

Steamed Rich Fruit Puddings for Christmas will be given

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on 'problems that have been well wish by responsible agencies and consultors.

Henry G. — I want to be a foreign correspondent.

Mr. E. G. — He's lucky to have a chance in our business.

Henry G. — I'm in IV and I expect is start college next year. This has started a big feud in my family.

My parents want me to major in economics or business administration so that I can go into the family business when I graduate. But I want to major in journalism as I am planning to become a foreign correspondent.

My parents point out that I can make much more money in business, but I don't seem to care about money. I can have a great time on peanuts. My parents don't want me to live as I live. They ought to be satisfied because one of my brothers and my brother-in-law are already in the business, they can't I have a life of my own?

Mr.'E. G. — Henry doesn't know what he's talking about. Things have been too good and too easy for him. He has lived on the best of everything, yet he thinks he knows how to live on peanuts. He spends more in an evening than he'll have to live on for a week on a beginner's salary.

We have tried to make Henry understand that we want him to live his own life, but we want him to have a good life. Young men come into every day begging for the opportunity to get a start in a business like ours. They would consider themselves the luckiest men in the world if they had Henry's chances.

Henry sees himself as a one kind of hero, a big-shot correspondent. What if he never makes it?

The Council: Parents might spare themselves a good deal of grief if they would help, rather than direct, their children into suitable occupations.

Mr. E. G. overlooks the fact that Henry wouldn't be much good as either the business or himself if he is pressured into it.

Mr. E. G.'s hand would be far stronger if he set himself the task of helping his son to develop his interests and capacities and at the same time tried to help him understand the realities of life in a world of work. It is certainly true that youngsters romanticize themselves as heroes in various occupations and don't think much about the work itself, the drudgery and the fact that although most of us dream of reaching the top, few actually do.

We don't think it makes much sense for parents to push-pooh their children's highest aims. Let them keep their goals, but encourage them to see what they must do to arrive at them. If Henry really investigated his, he would find that majoring or minoring in economics would be excellent preparation for it. His studies in this field would also leave the door open for many other possibilities if he should feel differently about things four years from now.

Henry should also be helped to understand what his responsibilities are for him in the field he has chosen. He might very well find that a part - time job on a small paper that he has neither the taste nor the ability for that type of work. If his parents encourage him to seek and find for himself visions. If they try to impose their will, he will be forced to stand up against them, even against his own inclinations and better judgment.

If Henry's ambitions should survive the trial and test of life or reality, it is reasonable to suppose that he has developed what he likes and is suited to. By that time he will be mature enough to evaluate the opportunities and disadvantages of various fields and make the decision that is best for him.

Children Are Reading More, More Children Are Reading

By CAROLYN WILLETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — When it comes to reading, children are doing fine and perhaps the adults who don't do enough, says a Canadian librarian.

"Children are reading more, and more children are reading. Our children are doing fine—perhaps we should worry about adult reading—so few of us find time."

Mr. Spicer took a look at the children's reading in the capital and found that the percentage of Ottawa's juvenile population using the library has shown "a steady and most gratifying increase."

The average number of books borrowed by each young reader has increased so much, he said, that the adult reading frequency is being challenged.

"Perhaps we should stop worrying about our children's reading and pay more attention to our own."

Children's librarians had found children's interests are running non-fiction — especially science books—as a result of television programs.

There are indications that television is influencing reading by changing slightly the emphasis from fiction to non-fiction, Mr. Spicer said, "It would appear that TV satisfies the need for entertainment but increases the thirst for information."

Librarians here have found that readers generally are reading the old favorites their parents read.

But a great many good books, have been written since the pre-teen-day parents were children, Mr. Spicer emphasized.

"The child's environment is quite different today, and he needs different, newer books to help him understand and enjoy it."

He suggested that, generally speaking, a North American book is closer to the needs and interests of a Canadian child than a British book, and books are plenty of value when read.

"The best books for children are those they enjoy. If they do not enjoy reading, they are likely to become voluntary illiterates when adults."

Spotlight on Harness Racing

The popularity of harness racing in central and eastern Canada has soared in recent years and the western provinces, particularly Manitoba and Saskatchewan are showing increasing interest in the sport. About 200 tracks operate throughout the country and prize money runs to $2,500,000 annually. Above, winner streaks across finish line at the Fredericton Raceway. All races are photographed and winners declared on the basis of the "photo finish". With recent developments in flood-lighting facilities, night harness racing has become especially popular.

While many top Standardbred trotters and pacers in Canada today were bred in the United States, Canada has also produced some outstanding animals. Above, Thelma Sewell of Fredericton with 4-year-old "Charmion".

Standardbreds are raced in harness in a fast trot or pace by a driver seated in a light 2-wheeled sulky. The breed was developed along the Atlantic seaboard of North America in the first half of the 19th century. The French-Canadian horse with its speed and stamina is said to have contributed to the breed. The mile record for both trotters and pacers is a fraction more than 1.55 minutes.

Tests are carried out on winners by federal officials to determine if the horse has been "doctored" with any stimulant which would automatically disqualify the horse. Above, Dr. E. S. Hicks makes a saliva test.

STIRLING

River Valley W.I. and Lodge Hold Euchres

RIVER VALLEY — River Valley Women's Institute sponsored their first euchre party at the school house on Friday evening with nine tables in play.

The prizes were donated by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Brooks and the winners were ladies' high, Mrs. Grace Thompson, Frankford, and second, Mrs. Harry Morrow; men's high, Mr. Lorne Wilson, Stirling, and second, Mr. Joe Black.

Guests attended from Frankford, Marsh Hill, Stirling, and the United States.

LOBA EUCHRE

On Friday evening Stirling LOBA No. 635, held a successful euchre in the Orange Hall under the direction of Worthy Masters, Mrs. Rozella Clancy.

The hostess was Mrs. Burton Woodcock. Various members donated the prizes.

There were eight tables in play. Winners were: ladies' high, Mrs. Greta Nickolson, and low, Mrs. Hiram Rodgers; men's high, Allen Sine, and low, Archie Madill; travelling lone hand, Mrs. James Mitts.

Marsh Hill

MARSH HILL W. M. S.

MARSH HILL — The November meeting of Marsh Hill WMS was held at the home of Mrs. E. B. Pinkle with 11 members and one child present.

Mrs. Leslie Pinkle opened the meeting with the reading, "As We Forgive." Followed by the hymn, "O Christ in Thee My Soul Hath Found", and prayer.

The members reported sending 19 cards, making one house call and one hospital visit.

The members, who had attended the sectional rally at Shannonville, each gave a highlight of the meeting.

Mrs. David Hollinger, the supply secretary, reported she was preparing another bale to be sent at once.

Mrs. Frank Pinkle, assistant stewardship secretary gave a reading, "Sense of Urgency".

A nominating committee was appointed: Mrs. Berson Mitts, Mrs. Harold Detlor and Mrs. Alex Tenner.

Mrs. Bartindale was in charge of the worship service, the theme being "Are Strangers Enemies?"

Mrs. Farley Lindenfield read the Scripture reading from Deuteronomy 7:6-12.

Mrs. Bartindale gave the comments on the Scripture, and led in a discussion and also gave a reading, "Living with Others".

Mrs. Farley Lindenfield read, "Learning to Lean on God."

Mrs. Harold Detlor gave the chapter on "Canada", from the study book, "Concerns of a Continent".

Mrs. David Little read, "Missionary Work is Never Dull".

After the benediction, refreshments were served.

Ivanhoe

IVANHOE — Huntingdon Township veterans joined by members of Madoc Legion paraded to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church last Sunday evening.

The parade was marshalled by Donald McFadden and the service conducted by the Rev. W. H. V. Walker, assisted by the Rev. Harold Siobhart of Beulah United. The theme was "Remembrance" with special music under the direction of choir leader, Mrs. William Doman. An anthem — "O Lord, To Thee Our Hearts We Lift" was sung and a solo — "Let Us Have Peace".

A brief "In Memoriam" service was conducted by Donald McFadden assisted by Barton Haggerty, with the following numbers, "O Canada", "O Valiant Hearts", "Last Post" with a two minute silence and "Reveille".

The address was given by Don McFadden and as the names of those who paid the supreme sacrifice were read, poppies were dropped by Barton Haggerty, followed by "Abide With Me", the Queen and the benediction.

Former Prime Minister King Had Serious Love Affair

By C.R. BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's record-making prime minister and foremost bachelor of his time had a serious, true love affair and wanted to marry but was dissuaded by his family.

This and many other interesting facts of the life of Mackenzie King are revealed in the first book of a three-volume biography published today.

It is by the late Professor R. MacGregor Dawson and published by the University of Toronto Press ($7.50). Professor Dawson died last summer when the book was still in proof form.

The book covers the period of Mr. King's life with which most of today's adults are unfamiliar—from his birth in 1874 until 1923, shortly after he formed the first of the Liberal governments he was to head for a record 21 years and 164 days.

STARTED AT EIGHT

Mackenzie King attended his first political meeting in 1882 when he was eight years old. He saw Sir John A Macdonald receiving plaudits and a bouquet from a beautiful girl. Sir John kissed her and the young Willie King was impressed.

Of this he later wrote in his diary: "I could do nothing but envy him and decided then that politics has its rewards."

Mackenzie King was an adult almost before he was out of short pants and the book is an austere account of an austere, single-minded, ambitious - ridden youth reaching his goals.

But it also, almost casually, reveals that the young Willie King was a warm-hearted romanticist who wanted to follow the normal course and love and marry.

All through his life there were two or three women to whom he turned for sympathy, advice and encouragement, to whom he poured out his thoughts, aspirations and worries.

MYSTERIOUS NURSE

But in 1897, while he was studying in Chicago, he was attended through a typhoid attack by a nurse who became the serious idol of his young heart.

They were never officially engaged so far as the biography reveals but in 1898, when he was 23 and at Harvard, Mackenzie King wrote his idolizing family in Toronto and told them he wanted to marry this nurse.

They replied with copious and tearful arguments why he should not abandon them for an alien love, severe nurse who was something less than socially acceptable, and at a time when they were hoping he would be producing some cash contributions to the family finances which were usually precarious.

He broke off with the un-named nurse and the book says she was married two years later. Hasken King was to have many girl friends and a number of life-long attachments to women but no more love affairs so far as this volume records.

PUBLIC LIFE KNOWN

The serious political events listed and described from the vantage point of Mackenzie King's diaries and memos add little to the knowledge already in print of the major Canadian developments of these times.

Because of limitations in the will, perhaps, or because of the decision of the biographer, there is less revealed of the man and romanticist.

Interesting facets are the records of his long association with the late Sir William Mulock and probably there will be more appreciation of the two volumes to follow; and his relations with his sponsor and idol, Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

At one stage when Mackenzie King was hoping Laurier would take him into the government (the call came eventually) Laurier worried about the ambitious young politician's lack of wealthy backing which he thought a politician should have.

Laurier introduced Mackenzie King to a fascinating and rich young widow and thought he had solved the financial problem.

King wrote in his diary that he entered into some "skirmishings" with this very desirable lady but was not yet afre and finally decided she was not part of his future. "I will never be controlled save by my heart," he wrote.

MORE HUMAN TOUCH

The book obviously could have had more general appeal if the biographer had been permitted or permitted himself, to reveal more of the human interest in the diaries and letters.

The biographer had an exhausting and difficult task and he died as he was in the midst of it. Authors handling the second and third volumes will be aided by professor Dawson's work of organizing the material. But many readers probably will hold it against Professor Dawson that he lifted so slightly the veil of secrecy surrounding Mackenzie King's private life. They will always wonder about the Chicago nurse, who she was and how she fared and if she still lives.

And Mackenzie King, if he could speak, would be unhappy about the fact that throughout the book he is referred to as Mr. King or just King.

As this reviewer well knows from personal contact over a period of 15 years, he always wanted to be referred to in print as Mackenzie King.

MADOC

Remembrance Day Service Observed

MADOC — The annual Remembrance Day service was held in the armouries Tuesday morning with an unusually large crowd present.

John Howard, president of the Madoc branch of the Canadian Legion No. 362, was in charge, with the Rev. R. A. Milley taking the prayers.

The oration was given by Flight Lieut. Jules Neff, of Trenton, who was an outstanding speaker, and left much food for thought with those in attendance.

Following "Last Post" and "Reveille" by Bugler Com. R. Debutie, and with the Madoc High School bugle band, the members of the Legion Fo. 362, D. Company of Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, Ladies' Auxiliary, under the direction of Parade Marshal Lieut. H. D. Sears, paraded to Thompson Memorial Park, where wreaths were placed at the cenotaph.

...to give you good telephone service

On the job, his skillful work reflects his careful training. But more than that, we like to think that a friendly smile and unfailing courtesy lend a pleasant touch to his brief visit.

We try to encourage this friendly spirit all through the business. You'll see it when you visit the Business Office. You'll hear it in the operator's "voice with a smile".

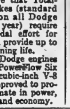
TORSION-AIRE MAKES DODGE RIDE SMOOTHEST

Dodge Torsion-AIRE Ride stays way ahead in 1959 as new, improved ball joints and rubber bushings make it more efficient than ever. Assisted by "levelizing" rear springs, deep-cradled rear suspension and exclusive Oriflow shock absorbers, Torsion-AIRE makes your new Dodge the most roadable, rideable auto of the year.



New push-button heating matches the convenience of push-button drive

The new 1959 Dodge makes comfortable driving as easy as pressing a button!

Not only does the new Dodge provide a newly styled, vertical push-button drive control, it also offers an exclusive new push-button all-weather heating system.

Five vacuum-powered buttons and an easy-operating temperature lever comprise the controls of the new heating system. In addition to the extra ease of operation, the 1959 Dodge heating system also permits lower fan speeds, making it quieter and longer lived. And the improved distribution provides better fresh-air ventilation.

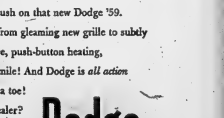
The new push-button-drive console panel is provided on all models equipped with either of the famed Dodge automatic transmissions—TorqueFlite or PowerFlite.

Total-Contact Brakes, New Improved Engines For Best Stop, More Go

Dodge is a car with a new kind of go . . . and a new kind of stop. Dodge Total-Contact brakes, plus a choice of new improved Dodge engines, make it so.

Facts prove that Total-Contact brakes (standard equipment on all Dodge models this year) require 25% less pedal effort for smooth stops, provide up to 30% longer lining life.



Two 1959 Dodge engines—the husky PowerFlow Six and the 315-cubic-inch V-8—are both improved to provide the ultimate in power, performance and economy.

Swing-out, swivel seats make new Dodge easiest to enter, easiest to leave

Swivel seats—introduced on the Dodge this year—have developed into one of the automotive world's major 1959 news stories.

This unique development is two pivoted front seats that can be turned outward after the front doors are opened.

Women, especially, have flocked to see and try this new feature. Now they can enter and leave the car easier—much more gracefully.

QUALITY BUILT
to the highest standards of automotive craftsmanship

(It figures!) The whole family has a crush on that new Dodge '59.

And who can blame them? Dodge is all fashion—from gleaming new grille to subtly flared fins! Dodge is all ease with push-button drive, push-button heating, plus famous Torsion-AIRE Ride to cushion every mile! And Dodge is all action with a power plant that says "go" at the nudge of a toe!

Isn't it time you talked Dodge with your Dodge dealer?

FIGHT FOR SECOND

Hull-Ottawa Canadiens and Belleville McFarlands, tied for second place in the OHA Eastern Section "A" League, at least in points, will battle on Memorial Arena ice here tonight beginning at 8.30.

Usually a game between a couple of teams battling for the runner-up spot in any league indicates they are strong, well-balanced teams. And such is the case here too. But one could everything prove it looking at their respective records. Neither club has hit its stride.

The Baby Habs actually own second place at the moment, since they have four games in hand over the Macs, and both clubs have ten points. Hull has played ten games, winning four, losing four and tying a pair. The McFarlands have played 14 games, three more than Whitby and Cornwall and four more than Hull and Kingston. They have a dismal record of four victories, two ties and eight defeats at the moment.

Canadiens defeated Kingston on Sunday 9-6. It was their first victory in six games. The Macs have won a single game in their last seven, and that was against the Hull club. Something has got jo give tonight.

Belleville has had good success against Hull so far this season, the only club which they have been able to do much with. Five, or exactly half the Macs' points, have been gathered in games with Hull. Belleville has won 5-4 and tied 3-3 in the Quebec rink while here at home they lost a toughie 3-2 and whipped Canadiens 12-3.

The Hull club has had a rough season with injuries and sickness to date, but, with one exception, all players are expected to be in action tonight. Gilles Tremblay is out for some time yet with a broken leg. Rob Boudrey, who missed the game here last week because of the death of his father, will be back, along with-goalie Claude Cyr and defenceman John Longarini. Claude Richard, who first three goals against Kingston, is the top Hull scorer and seems to be improving all the time. He will bear watching tonight.

It is unknown at the present time who coach Ike Hildebrand will rest for the Macs as he attempts to find a combination that will win consistently. It is a rough proposition. One thing we do look great this game and the next night he defil show nothing.

"Wiener" Brown, who has been flying over the past week and a half, missed the last two periods of Sunday's game. At times sprained an ankle weekend encounters with a bruised ankle. Eddie Marineau missed both with a bad leg and Keith MacDonald rested a stiff knee Saturday but played on Sunday. Likely the only players with the worst injuries will warm the bench tonight.

Brown apparently suffered an injury to his wrist against Whitby Saturday but did not quit until it bothered him in the first period Sunday. It is a bad one to be out of the lineup. "Wiener" scored ten goals, including two hat tricks, and bagged at least one in each of the last six games before Sunday. His total was accumulated in eight days.

One improvement over the weekend was in the Macs' powerplay which produced three goals, one each by Bathgate, Bradley and Hildebrand. It has been noted throughout this season that this year's edition of the Macs do not strike fear into opposing goalies' hearts with their tremendous shooting as they did last year.

It was not unusual last winter to see the Macs pour between 40 and 50 shots at a goalie during a regular game. With all that rubber aimed at one little net and considering that a great deal of these shots were "bullets" fired by Brown, Benoit and Company, it was inevitable that a certain percentage would get by the goalie. Usually enough got through to produce a victory.

This season the Belleville shots-on-goal total has been considerably lower in most games. Instead of 40 we get 25. If we had shots are still with the club, in fact there's a couple more. Dewsbury shoots a low bullet, for one example. Getting those shots on the net may help.

Bathgate, Litzenberger Tied For Top In Scoring Race

McKenney of Boston Bruins Vaults From 18th to Third Place With 9-Point Spree

MONTREAL (CP) — The National Hockey League scoring race, frantic enough at any stage, went into violent upheavals last week that defied analysis but far loose the co-leaders.

Andy Bathgate of New York Rangers and Eddie Litzenberger of Chicago Black Hawks managed to remain on top, now with 20 points each, because of respectable scoring splurges of their own.

Outside of that, there were somersaults-go as the 18th-place player of a week ago bouncing into third place and a dislodged occupant plummeting back to eighth.

Bathgate drove in three goals and added an assist while Litzenberger collected six points behind the co-leaders. At 18 points he is tied with Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard of the Montreal Canadiens. Richard scored no goals but amassed four assists.

McKenney not only ranks above the little Rocket but recorded a tie with Bathgate in goal production. Each has scored 11 times.

ROCKET MOVES ON

Big brother Maurice Richard, the Rocket, added two more goals and an assist to boost his point total to 17. He has scored 10 goals.

Tied with him for fifth place are teammate Dickie Moore and Bronx Geoffrion and Johnny Bucyk of Chicago. Bucyk almost duplicated the feat of fellow-Bruin McKenney by breaking loose for three goals on four goals and four assists. He, too, zoomed out of 18th-place tie of a week ago.

Dickie Moore of Montreal leads two others in the 16-point bracket — teammate Jean Beliveau and Chicago's Bobby Hull. Beliveau, in a third-place tie with Gordie Howe of Detroit and Vic Stasiuk of Boston, Stasiuk had the best week of the three, with five assists. Howe had two goals and two assists and Sloan only a goal, dropping him from a fifth-place tie of a week ago into a tie for 11th.

On the Tracks

TORONTO (CP)—Dr. Jay, owned by Lazaro Farms of Toronto, won the feature Nobleton Purse at New Woodbine Monday as the Canadian racing season went into the final four days. Ridden by Hugo Dittfach, Dr. Jay defeated White Apache by five lengths while Knuckle Duster was third.

The crowd of 5,722 overlooked Dr. Em Jay in the wagering and he paid $11.50, $5.90 and $3.70 as he romped 1 1-16 miles through the mud in an easy 1.47 2-5.

Harness Racing

MONTREAL (CP) — Richelieu Raceway, which closed out its 100-day harness-racing meet Sunday, had a total betting handle for the season of $25,626,626, an increase of more than $5,500,000 over last year's figure.

The Sunday crowd of 10,081, one of the largest of the season, moved $490,877 into the mutuel machines.

Coach Believes Packers Find 'Moscow Legs'

O'Reilly said his men had suffered from the strangeness of the city, the Russian players and the food before their first match but after the practice session appeared to be in top form.

George S. Dudley, secretary-manager of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said he had no worry over the Canadians' 4-3 loss to the Central Sports Club of the Soviet ministry of defence in the opening match of the five-game series Sunday.

"Ten men in the Soviet lineup were members of their national team that toured Canada last year," Dudley said. "They were good but not super. It's almost as good. A game that close could have gone either way."

O'Reilly prescribed rest and a careful diet for his charges Monday. Practice, he said, and finding the heavy Russian food "ticks and a little hard to take."

Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, said: "The Canadians took part in the first match of the Soviet Union and in the first match with the Soviet champions in about 14,000 fans from the first to last minute witnessed a beautiful and friendly game."

NEW YORK (AP)—Science has arrived in the scoring of cross-country races.

An electric brain was given the job Monday of providing the standings of the Metropolitan A.A.U. cercollegiate meet. It didn't miss a score.

The machine was at Yale University, 75 miles from the running scene as the boys raced here.

George Schlebler, assistant commissioner of the games, tacked up the list of team scores as calculated by telephone from the electrical brain centre. It showed Michigan State champions with 76 points. Notre Dame was second with 107. Army third with 118, Manhattan fourth with 127 and Penn State fifth-with 143.

Little Crawford Kennedy, a native of Toronto and running for Michigan State, was the winner in the individual title for the second straight year, covering the five-mile grind at the Yale course in 24:31.6. No electrical brain was needed to figure that one. Kennedy was 85 yards in front of second place Ron Gregory of Notre Dame.

Scoring big cross - country meets has been a problem. The runners must finish in order for a school to be placed. It's a long mathematical problem.

The machine did the job in 31 minutes.

BEAT B.E. CHAMP

PARIS (AP) — World bantamweight champion Alphonse Halimi of France outpointed Peter Keenan, British Empire title-holder, in a 10-round non - title bout at the sports palace Monday night. Each weighed 118¾ pounds.

Wayne Connelly Tied for Top In Scoring Race

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Wayne Connelly of Peterborough Petes scored one goal and assisted on another Monday night for a share of first place in Ontario Hockey Association junior A scoring and led Petes to a 3-2 win over Hamilton Cubs.

In other action Monday night the two Toronto teams — St. Michael's Majors and Marlboros —fought a battle royal in their first meeting this season with Majors taking a 4-3 decision.

Connelly is tied with St. Catharines Teepees' Stan Mikita at 26 points. His teammate, Larry Babcock, isolated himself to fifth place with a goal and one assist.

Petes' win leaves them in second place, nine points behind the crack St. Catharines squad. The Teepees have remain last and Majors' win puts them in a third place tie with Guelph Biltmores. Marlboros stay one point above Hamilton and three below Barrie Flyers.

PETES OPEN FAST

Connelly, Gary Darling and Ron Schock gave Petes a 3-0 lead in the first period and the hosts looked capable of running away from the Cubs. But Hamilton came back in the second with a goal by Ed Litzenberger and a pair of goals into the third.

Dennis Bartlwell fired another for the visitors in the final period and in the closing minutes they pulled goalie Carl Wetzel but couldn't tie.

The eight penalties were shared equally in fast, clean play.

In Toronto, St. Michael's owed much to Jack Costello's two goals and two assists and to netminder Ivo Cesare who blocked 43 shots, 18 during a second-period rush by Marlboros.

QUICK COUNTER

St. Michael's skated on to the ice and into the lead in almost the motion as Dave Draper fired one after 38 seconds. Marlboros' Jim Morrison made it 1-1 after the final seconds of the same period.

Costello scored again in the first minute of the final. Dave Draper added Michael's fourth with less than three minutes to play.

Giles Against Forming Third Baseball Loop

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Warren Giles let New York's ambitious planners in on his version of the facts of baseball life Monday night.

Forming a third major league, said the National League president, "is easier to accomplish than to press release than actually getting the cities, parks and players.

At the same time, Giles apparently is in opposite to the Continental Baseball Circuit's hopes for an expansion of major league baseball. Branch Rickey said Giles, must "keep a small structure."

Speaking at a testimonial dinner for general manager John Quinn of Milwaukee Braves, Giles means dilution of our product we are not keeping faith with the people."

Quinn said he favors co-operation within baseball on all levels —in player recruiting and if necessary in the subdivision of minor leagues to guarantee a supply of talent for the majors.

Coach Lyle of Eskys Says Desire, Defence Key to Game

By JIM PEACOCK

Canadian Press Staff Writer

EDMONTON (CP) — In the words of coach Sam Etcheverry of Edmonton Eskimos, desire and defence are the keys to success against Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the crucial game of the western football final.

"The boys know they've got to play their best game to beat the Winnipeg," Lyle said in the team training room on the campus of Edmonton Eskimos, venue for Winnipeg, where the second game will be played at 2 p.m. MST (9 p.m. EST) Wednesday.

"If the defence has the desire to go out there and play their best football, and show the offence they want to play their best, and pay the price they have to pay to do the job, then the offence will be all right."

The defence was weak here when Bombers romped to a 36-7 victory over Eskimos to take the lead in the best-of-three series and become a to 1 favorites on the point spread for the second game.

If a third game is necessary to determine the West's Grey Cup representative, it will be played at 1 p.m. MST in Winnipeg Saturday.

TEAM WASN'T READY

Eskimos' tackling and blocking Saturday was far below the expected level and Lyle said the team just didn't seem ready to play.

"I don't know what the reason was. Maybe it was because we were starting a week's two practices and this is only 10 imports. Maybe there was some other reason. You can't tell what happens to a team.

"But I know this: if they don't have the desire to play Wednesday, they'll get what they deserve."

Lyle still had his halfback problems. Don Flynn's ribs are sore and its painful for him to carry out blocking and tackling assignments.

PFEFFER EXPECTED

Ralph Pfeffer, who missed the first game when his father was killed in a car accident in Kansas, was to join the club in Winnipeg today, but there was a possibility he wouldn't be able to make connections.

As a result, quarterback Jackie Parker was running from the half line with Rollie Miles and Canadian Don Getty was calling the plays from quarter.

Lyle said his decision on using Getty or Parker at quarter will hinge largely on Pfeifer's condition when he answers in Winnipeg.

Judge Orders Don Newcombe To Appear

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — County Judge James R. Giuliano has ordered baseball pitcher Don Newcombe and his two brothers to appear in court today or be prepared to give a good reason for not doing so.

Newcombe, a member of Cincinnati Redlegs and owner of a tavern here, has been indicted with his brother Norman on charges of allegedly beating up the former East Orange policeman Ulysses Ross.

An older brother, Harold, has been charged with threatening Ross with a gun. Don and Norman have been indicted for atrocious assault and battery. The brothers have denied the charges.

Don was barnstorming last week with some other major league players and received an adjournment.

Chatham Coach, Player Bailey In Fist Fight

CHATHAM (CP)—Fights are a dime a dozen in hockey these days but Chatham Maroons put a new twist on the one which occurred Monday night during their 3-0 conquest of Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds.

Maroons coach John Horeck criticized winger John Bailey of Maroons for lack of backchecking and ordered Bailey forward to go to the dressing room late in the second period.

After the incident neither Horeck nor George Sherman of the Greyhounds Hockey Committee would comment on Horeck's status with the Maroons.

In the third period when a heavy fog caused by humid air hitting the cold ice surface hampered both clubs. The game was halted five minutes while the misty condition cleared.

Maroons capitalized on Greyhound penalties for their first two goals. Jim Connelly hit the mark in the second period when Greyhounds were man short and Ted Power clicked at the 13-second mark of the second with two Hounds off. Connelly added another in the third.

The fourth - place Greyhounds visit Sudbury Wolves tomorrow night while Whitby Dunlops take on the Dutchmen at Kitchener.

Strong Peterborough Junior Club Thumps Belleville 12-2 in Opener

By GARRY ALEXANDER

Peterborough Laton's, last season's group champions, chalked up their second lopsided victory of the current campaign, a 12-2 win over Belleville Lambert-Bollins, here last night to take over top spot in the OHA Central Ontario Junior "B" league. Laton's earlier took a 11-2 decision over Kingston in their only other tilt.

Belleville put up a strong battle for the first twenty minutes but trailed 4-2 at the end of the period. Peterborough scored another pair in a penalty-riddled second session and finished strong with six in the third.

The Laton's proved to be a big, strong-skating crew that tossed the puck around well. They used a number of pretty passing plays and took advantage of a weak Belleville defence to score the majority of their goals.

Belleville goalie Larry DiPietro held back the flood over the first two periods as he stopped the Peterborough attackers time after time when they waited in on his doorstep unmolested. Many of the winners' goals came on breakaways, a couple more were screened and at least one was a deflected shot. DiPietro showed a good pair of hands.

The visitors opened the scoring at 1:47 of the first with Belleville a man short via a penalty. Kelly got the first one and at 3:48, Paul Wakely, one of the Peterborough stars, made it 2-0. Gary Goyer got that one back for Belleville at 8:12, slamming home Jack Elliott's rebound. Dennis Kerrulish also drew an assist on the play.

Ron Jewell made it 3-1 shortly after. Gary Rowbotham cut the lead to 3-2 at 12.12 while Bob Ellis, in the Peterborough nets, dropped Ab Wright's shot. Rowbotham, standing in front of the cage rapped it home. Doc Carter acted again for Laton's at 18.14.

The second period saw referees Whitey Walton and Stan Scrutton hand out 13 of the game's 23 penalties. The feature bout involved Gary Bowerman and Dennis Kerrulish of Belleville and the Petes' Joe English and Frank Daly. All four drew majors for fighting and Bowerman had a minor tossed in at 18.32. Barry Titterson and Nichols had received fighting majors at 16.32. Titterson also received the game's lone misconduct at 16.01 of the third period.

Paul Wakely was the big gun for Peterborough with four goals, three of them coming in succession in the third period. Ron Jewell followed closely with three while singletons went to Kelly, DeCarlo, Gally, Heffernan and English. Assists were few and far between on the winning goals. Val Armstrong and Frank Daly each had a pair while Nichols, Kelly and Coombes collected one apiece.

Trimble May Have Couple More Surprises for Ottawa

HAMILTON —(CP)—Coach Jim Trimble and his Hamilton Tiger-Cats may have more surprises ready for Ottawa Rough Riders when the two wind up their Big Four football finals here Saturday.

Ticats, who hold a 25-point lead in the two-game total-points series, pulled a surprise in the opener at Ottawa Saturday by reaching back 25 years for an old pass formation that caught Riders off guard.

The stunned Riders never recovered from the confusion into which the manoeuvre threw them and dropped a 35-7 decision.

MORE SURPRISES

Trimble indicated Monday that Ottawa will be in for more surprises Saturday. "We'll have something interesting for our fans. After all, it's the last home game this year." He did not elaborate.

The Ticat coach, who left town on a personal business trip Monday, said his club is confident it will defend its Grey Cup title at Vancouver Nov. 29.

The ends split wide, about 15 feet outside the tackles on a five-man line. Two halves took up positions behind each end, giving quarterback Bernie Faloney a alone in the backfield about eight feet behind centre, to make pass receivers.

After the runs, the ends ran deep along the sidelines, pulling out Ottawa's two deep pass defenders. Two backs then came and hooked in, pulling off the secondary and leaving a big area unprotected down the centre.

TRIPLE MENACE

The formation, which also carried the threat of a quick kick or run by Faloney, forced Riders to switch to a man-to-man coverage and abandon zone defence.

Ticats used the formation for their first six offensive plays, scoring a converted touchdown. Then they reverted to their customary bruising ground and passing attack for the straight-7.

Trimble had tipped sports writers earlier that he would have a surprise or two but no one figured he'd go so far into the past for the plays.

Ted Reeve, Toronto Telegram sports columnist, recalled Monday that the formation was used by the Toronto Balmy Beach club of the Ontario Rugby Football Union 25 years ago.

In those days, though, only one or two players were used as pass receiving threats. The formation was ideal for plungers on a direct snap.

The punt formation—or spread as it is sometimes called—is still in use by some teams, but coaches have not sent two ends and four halves downfield as potential pass receivers, leaving the line to provide the quarterback's only protection.

Sports writers asked Trimble if the defence pattern handy in case Riders adopted the spread formation in the second game. He said the Ticats had worked out a defence before they began using the pass offensive into practice.

"It's an extreme offence so it needs an extreme defence," he explained. "Either go all out on the rush or all out blanketing the pass catchers. And a great offensive line, such as we have, makes it tough either way."

Some writers recall that Winnipeg Blue Bombers employed the short punt formation in 1950 and both the Ottawa Rough Riders and Saskatchewan Roughriders came up with it in 1951.

Morton Cooper, Former Hurler For Cards, Dies

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Morton Cooper, 46, former outstanding pitcher for St. Louis Cardinals, died Monday in a Little Rock hospital.

Death was caused by cirrhosis of the liver and staphylococcal infection. He had been a patient at St. Vincent's Infirmary about three weeks.

The last five years he had been connected with a boys club at Houston, Tex.

Morton and his brother, Walker Cooper, formed the famed brother battery for the Cardinals. He pitched for the Cards eight seasons, 1938 through 1945.

The big righthander was named the National League's most valuable player in 1942 when he had a 22-7 record and pitched a complete game in every contest he won. In 1943 Mort had a 21-8 record and posted a 22-8 mark in pacing the Cards to their third straight pennant in 1944.

His 12-year pitching record in the majors was 128 victories and 75 defeats. He rounded out his career with the Boston Braves, New York Giants and finished with the Cubs in 1949.

Morton is survived by his wife and a son.

Haney Thinks Braves Can Win Third Pennant

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Manager Fred Haney said Monday night his Milwaukee Braves can win their third straight National League pennant next summer without second baseman Red Schoendienst.

He hastened to add, however, that he wasn't counting the red-head out. Schoendienst is in hospital awaiting results of tests to determine whether he has tuberculosis.

Haney said he had three second baseman in mind — Mel Roach, who broke his leg last season, Felix Mantilla, and Casey Wise.

Riders' Bid For Big Four Playoff Revision Gets Mixed Reception From Other Clubs

OTTAWA (CP)—Ottawa Rough Riders' suggestions for a revision of the Big Four football league's playoff schedule has met mixed reception from the circuit's other three clubs.

The Ottawa proposal, which Rider general manager Jim McCaffrey says he plans to place before the league's annual meeting in January, would eliminate the necessity of having one of the playoff teams go into action three times in eight days.

That is the situation Riders have just experienced, and they don't like it a bit, especially after taking a 35-7 mauling from Hamilton Tiger-Cats here Saturday in the opener of their two - game, total-points league final.

As McCaffrey sees it, the league's three playoff games could be spread over three Saturdays, providing a week's rest between each game—the sudden-death semi-final between the second and third-place teams and the two-game final between the first-place team and the first-place team.

SUGGESTS A WAY

McCaffrey said this could be arranged by starting the 14-game schedule earlier, or by having each - to - back games on Labor Day weekend, just as on Thanksgiving weekend.

Under the present arrangement, he said, the first-place club gets the long lay into the final "automatically gets the championship" and a shot at the Grey Cup against the western champs.

The experience of the last two years—Montreal winning in 1956 and Hamilton last year—would seem to bear out his claim.

Riders finished their regular season with a game at Hamilton a week ago Saturday, went to Montreal for the sudden - death semi-final Wednesday and then met Ticats here Saturday in the opener of the final. Last game of the final series is in Hamilton next Saturday at 1 p.m. EST.

Montreal Alouettes favor McCaffrey's proposal. Ticats feel the present system is quite satisfactory. Toronto Argonauts, while admitting the present playoff schedule is not infallible, say the league will have to stick with it until something better comes along.

Gorman Kennedy, managing director of Alouettes, said Montreal has been trying for three years to get the Big Four playoff rearrangement McCaffrey now proposes, both from the standpoint of the teams and with a view to improving ticket sales.

OTTAWA OBJECTED

Ted Workman, the Als' president, said Riders were the stumbling block in past attempts to start the regular season a week earlier, which would make playoff games on three successive Saturdays feasible.

He said Ottawa objected because the earlier start would conflict with dates of the annual Central Canada Exhibition, which spills over into the football stadium—and this would prevent Ottawa from playing any home games during that earlier week.

Workman said another objection always was raised in the past: The first-place team would have to wait two weeks between the end of the regular season and its first playoff game. "This could be an awful disadvantage—it's a long time."

At Hamilton, Ticat president Jake Gaudaur said no complaints were heard when McCaffrey's team got the break in the playoff schedule.

ECONOMIC REASONS

"To make any changes in the present setup," he said, "we'd have two alternatives—a shorter season or an earlier start. I'd be opposed to both for economic reasons."

An earlier start would cut down on the number of pre-season exhibition games, a financial necessity to most teams," Gaudaur said he thinks "we're already starting as early as I think it's possible to sell football."

At Toronto, Argo managing director Lew Hayman wondered that McCaffrey would be saying if his team had finished first instead of third.

A freshman coach heads this lineup of brains behind Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Interprovincial Football Union. Coach Sam Lyle (left) joined Eskimos this season, replacing Pop Ivy. A native of Eldorado, Ark., Lyle started coaching eight years ago at Georgia Tech and Oklahoma. Georgia hired him as an assistant in 1950 and he stayed there until 1954 when he went to Oklahoma to replace Ivy, moving to Edmonton. Ted Youngling (centre), is line coach and spotter. He played college football at Cornell, Dartmouth and Delaware and had coached at Hofstra, Duke and Virginia Polytechnic Institute before joining Lyle at Oklahoma in 1954. Quarterback Jackie Parker, the team's brilliant field general, has played a big part in Edmonton's Grey Cup triumphs over Montreal Alouettes in 1954, 1955 and 1956. One of the greatest three-way threats in Canadian football, the 26-year-old native of Tennessee, was the team's leading scorer in league play this season with 88 points. (CP Photo).

Here are two plays that have made the Eskimos a power in Western football the past few seasons. Top is Eskimo's Fullback Off-Tackle play, the basic play in the team's double-fullback formation. Quarterback Jackie Parker (91) fakes to fullback Johnny Bright (84), hands off to fullback Normie Kwong (95) who plunges between tackle Ed Gray (61) and end Jim Lecavlis (73). End Joe Mobra (77), tackle Roger Nelson (66) and right half Ralph Pfeifer (86) move out to block. After the handoff Parker moves back and fakes to half Don Flynn (96) who continues around right end and down. Bottom is the Roll-Out Option play. Kwong (95) and Bright (84) take fake handoffs from Parker (91) who moves back and out toward right end. Parker can either carry the ball himself or toss a short pass to Flynn (96). Another play possibility results if the deep decoys — Mobra (77), Lecavlis (73) or Pfeifer (86) — break into the clear for a deep pass. (CP Photo.)

Jackie Parker Named Winner Of Nicklin Award

WINNIPEG (CP)—Jackie Parker, Edmonton Eskimos' fleetfoot ace, has been named winner of the Jeff Nicklin Memorial Trophy for the fourth time in his last five years.

Sports writers and broadcasters throughout Western Canada gave Parker overwhelming endorsation in this year's balloting. He was mentioned on all 26 ballots, 11 times in top spot of the list.

The trophy, awarded to the player rated most valuable to his team in the Western Interprovincial Football Union, probably will be presented to Parker at the East-West Shrine game at Hamilton, Dec. 6.

AT THE BELLE — Monarch of the Arctic — this artists conception of the mighty polar bear, king of the frozen north, and two playful cubs, is based upon their real life counterparts, as they appear in Walt Disney's "White Wilderness". The feature-length true-life adventure, in color by technicolor, is continuing at the Belle Theatre. The complete Walt Disney color program includes "Cow Dogs", and the ever-popular Paul Bunyan cartoon comedy.

Writers Cutting Great Ballymoss Down to Size

LONDON (AP)—It's tough at the top—even for a race horse like Ballymoss.

The four - year - old Americanowned colt has been variously described as "great," "fabulous," and the "horse of the century."

Now the British flat season has ended and some cold debunking is going on aimed at cutting Ballymoss down to size.

"I cannot rate him (Ballymoss) as highly as Ribot (the Italian thoroughbred) or certain other giants of the past, to name only Fairway; his son Blue Peter and Mighty Paris," commented Jim Nickalls in the Sporting Life—the bible of British horseracing fans.

LONDON EVALUATION

Hotspur, the London Daily Telegraph's horse racing writer, said he rated Ballymoss an outstandingly good four-year-old over 1½ miles "but not in the Ribot class."

The Irish Ballymoss won £85,124 ($238,347) this season for his Philadelphia owner, John McShain—a record for a European-trained racehorse in one season. Six days ago Ballymoss finished third in the Washington, D.C., International at Laurel, Md.

Many experts argued that made no difference to his value because that race was decided on a track with sharp bends—entirely different to tracks on which Ballymoss had been brought up.

Queen Frederika, Princess To Attend Imperial Ball

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—How do you converse with a queen? Can a princess dance with movie stars? Where does royalty sit in a ballroom?

These are some of the hundreds of issues Hollywood matrons have been wrestling with for the last three months. The climax of their struggle comes this Saturday night when the local chapter of W.A.I.F.F., the international child adoption society, presents its annual Imperial Ball. Their guests: Queen Frederika and Princess Sophia of Greece.

You don't just ask a queen to dinner and let it go at that. Actress Coleen Gray, local W.A.I.F. president, found that out.

"Everything has to be planned, down to the smallest detail," she said. "We have consulted the state department. We have read 15 etiquette books. We consulted the queen's grand maitress de la court."

BONA FIDE ROYALTY

Coleen's struggle began last June. The Chrysler Corporation agreed to co-sponsor the ball if the ladies could obtain a bona fide member of royalty as guest. Coleen and nine aides worked 13 hours composing a letter to Queen Frederika. It was sent through the American ambassador in Athens.

Weeks passed, went by and no answer came. After repeated cables, the word finally resurfaced. Yes, the ball would coincide nicely with the queen's visit to the U.S.

"Then the work began," Coleen said.

She had to find out whether the queen would dance. The answer was no. Would the princess like to dance? Yes! How would the dancing start? The princess would. And where on the floor with the leading dignitary. Could she dance with movie stars or would she prefer civic figures? Movie stars would be all right if they were "normal in fact" (acceptable).

Results: Comme il faut scores such as Robert Stack and Hugh O'Brian have been designated.

AFRICAN ORE

Swedish experts estimate Liberia in Africa has iron ore deposits amounting to 200,000,000 tons.

AT THE PARK — Marlon Brando takes on the most unusual role of his career, that of "Christian," the last officer of Jorge Shaw's bestselling novel, "The Young Lions" which opens at the Cinemascope Park Theatre today and Wednesday. Brando and co-stars Montgomery Clift and Dean Martin went to France and Germany to film many of the Twentieth Century-Fox production scenes in actual locales. The film, which also introduced the story of World War II directed by Edward Dmytryk from a screenplay by Edward Anhalt. On the same program and having its first showing "New Orleans After Dark", starring Stacy Harris, Lewis Martin and Ellen Moore.

LUNDE IN HOSPITAL

DETROIT (AP) — Centre Len Lunde of Detroit Red Wings entered a Detroit hospital Monday for observation. Lunde was checked into the boards Saturday night in the National Hockey League game at Toronto and suffered a slight concussion.

"Young male lovers are creeps!" says YUL BRYNNER

In an exclusive Saturday Evening Post interview, Yul Brynner reveals:

- what he really thinks about love and women—and what makes a man attractive.
- why he almost gave up acting because they made him play boy lovers.
- the facts behind the weird stories of his past — and why he has never talked about his private life for publication.
- how the Chinese Communists got their hands on his multimillion-dollar inheritance.
- why he almost didn't play his famous role in "The King and I."

It's a wonderful week in the Post — 9 articles, 3 stories, many cartoons and photographs.

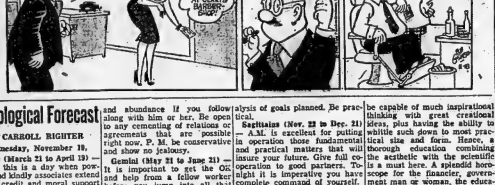
Joyce of Blues Voted Best Player in Loop

TORONTO (CP)—All-star halfback Peter Joyce of the University of Toronto Varsity Blues has been voted the most valuable player in the senior intercollegiate football league.

The trophy was won last year by Joyce's fellow Blues Ron Stewart, former halfback for Queen's University Golden Gaels. Stewart now is with Ottawa Rough Riders of the Big Four football league.

The winner is selected by vote of the players, coaches and managers of the four teams in the league — Queen's, Toronto, University of Western Ontario and McGill University.

Thorpe Selected For Hall of Fame



OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Famed Jim Thorpe, who died five years ago, has been named to the United States Indian hall of fame.

The selection of the Sac and Fox Indian, outstanding athlete of the first half century in the U.S., was made Monday by the hall's board of directors.

A statue of Thorpe is to be erected at the hall of fame near Anadarko, Okla. He was the 16th Indian honored by the group.

LIBERALS SEEK

Earlier in the day as the 300 council delegates began deliberations, W. J. Henderson of Kingston, president of the Canadian Federation, accused the Conservatives of squandering all of Mr. Diefenbaker's war surpluses built up by Liberal governments over a 14-year period.

"The federal conservative party has no fiscal policy," he said, "no gathering of facts to understand the problem. It is absurd."

The Victory Bond conversion program had shaken confidence "of every investor in Canada." It had in effect "deprecated and ruined the credit of every municipality, every provincial government they have to borrow, so that now we have an atmosphere of doubt and indecision that is very bad."

An innovation was the introduction of non - political speakers. First of these was H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, who said that while price supports may not exist much longer "they are going to be with us for a long time."

With surpluses piling up, "we have a chance to be frugals and try to improve on our farm price support programs," he said.

Canadian Community of 145 Families Settled Down on Project Near Khyber Pass

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—A slice of suburbia stands incongruously on the craggy fringes of the Khyber Pass. Canada taxpayers put it there.

In territory beloved of Kipling, the Canadian in the grey flannel suit—or engineer's overalls—has moved from motels and supermarkets into the wild northwest frontier area of Pakistan, taking wife and children with him.

There, under project manager Les Miller of Niagara Falls, Ont., and construction manager Percy Robbins of Fort William, Ont., Canadians work alongside turbanned Pathan tribesmen on the Warsak dam, a $70,000,000 Colombo Plan project.

CANADIAN COMMUNITY

Nearby, about 15 miles from Khyber Pass, is a Canadian community of some 145 families, complete with swimming pool, bowling alley, tennis courts, dance hall and the commuter's usual shopping facilities.

Expected to be completed in 1960, the Warsak development will provide 180,000 kilowatts of electric power capacity. It will irrigate 100,000 acres and increase food production by at least 60,000 tons a year.

Warsak is bringing jobs to a once-unsettled area. Some 3,000 tribesmen, their unruly energies harnessed by native "foremen," are doing most of the hard work involved in throwing a man - made obstacle across swift-flowing waters of Afghanistan's Kabul River.

MAY SOLVE PROBLEM

If Warsak brings stability to the northwest frontier, it will lighten a big headache for Pakistan.

The tribesmen have long talked of setting up an independent state called "Pakistonistan." With Russia nearby, its independence might be short-lived.

"To help settle such a turbulent area, to bring some benefit to 4,000,000 people, is something Canada can be proud to do," says Nik Cavell, formerly Canada's Colombo Plan administrator.

"It is well worth the difficulties of carrying through this project."

Mr. Cavell, now Canada's high commissioner in Ceylon, used to live among the tribesmen. He says he came to admire their qualities and to "love them as men of character."

But their world is a different one, and he compromises involved in enlisting their co-operation added to the problems Canadian engineers faced on a project some felt was doomed from the start.

MAJOR DIFFICULTY

A major physical difficulty was provided by the Kabul River, in flood from April to November. Engineers would work on the river bed only during the low-water season. A special diversion tunnel helped overcome this obstacle.

The Warsak site stands in bleak territory, between narrow, rocky gorges, though picturesque Peshawar, once military headquarters of the Bengal Lancers, is only about 15 miles away.

For centuries, the scrubland around Warsak has been used mainly for grazing goats. Now, there will be a three-mile irrigation tunnel, providing water for agricultural settlements on which experts hope the Mohmand, Mullagori and Afridi tribes will settle permanently, ending a roving hand-to-mouth existence.

The first explosion paving the way for the tunnel was touched off in November, 1955, by Lester B. Pearson, former Canadian external affairs minister. Mr. Pearson was on a round - the - world journey.

The coming of civilization to the foothills of the Khyber has had some impact. Once the Kabul River was a paradise for smugglers. It drifted downstream carrying Afghanistan cloth into Pakistan.

END OF SMUGGLING

Warsak stopped that. A cable strung across the river as part of initial engineering works toppled a boat carrying illicit cargo, and the smugglers were drowned, ending the contraband activities.

Canadian officials hope there will be more constructive results from this experiment in international aid, one of many plans for Asian development in which Canada is co-operating under the 22-member Colombo plan.

Since the Colombo plan started in January, 1950, Canada has allocated some $225,000,000 to help under - developed countries. By the end of the fiscal year next March 31, 1959, her contributions of capital aid and technical assistance will have totalled more than $230,000,000.

In addition, there have been grants and loans for wheat and flour, outside the Colombo Plan to a total of $61,000,000.

Recipient members in the Colombo Plan are Burma, Cambodia, Ceylon, Federation of Malaya, India, Indonesia, Laos, Nepal, North Borneo, Pakistan, Philippines, Sarawak, Singapore, Thailand and Viet Nam.

Donor countries are Australia, Canada, Japan, New Zealand, the United Kingdom and the United States.

This composite photo gives a panoramic view of the Colombo Plan Warsak dam site in northwest Pakistan, only 15 miles from the Khyber Pass. Canadian engineers, backed by Canadian dollars under the Colombo Plan, are building the electric-power project. Nearby is a transplanted Canadian community, complete with bowling alley and dance hall, for the engineers and their dependents. Canada is contributing $36,000,000 toward construction of the dam and powerhouse. (CP Photo).

Batawa

Engineer Albert Ahlborn, president of Albeko Shoe Machinery Corporation, well known shoe machinery manufacturers from Frankfurt-on-Main, West Germany, visited Batawa this past week.

Four employees award winners for constructive suggestions who received their cash awards from Mr. Frank Vozobule are: D. Tyrer, Dept. 326, $16; W. Irwin, Dept. 705, $5; K. Walsh, Dept. 422, $5; John Foster, Dept. 481, $100.

Those responsible for the sales of Canada Savings Bonds through Bata Payroll Savings Plan wish to thank all the committee workers for the assistance given in reaching a new record.

When all figures are assembled, it will reveal the best sale of Canada Savings Bonds and second only to the record sale of the 9th Victory Bond issue when the figure reached $171,500.

This year's figure has already reached $169,300, which tops last year's figure. All can be extra proud of this record today because of the visit of two distinguished representatives of the Bank of Canada, Mr. D. Humphries, head of the securities division of the Bank of Canada, and Mr. Simpson, director of sales in Ontario for Canada Savings Bonds. Mr. Humphries is visiting various industries and Batawa will be his only stop in central Ontario.

TO STUDY NATO

PARIS (AP)—Plans were announced today for a five-day "Atlantic congress" to be opened in London next June 5 by Queen Elizabeth. About 600 prominent private citizens and members of Parliament from the 15 member nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization will study ways of developing NATO politically, economically, culturally, and militarily.

Why 1 in 4 comes to "MY BANK" TO 2 MILLION CANADIANS
B of M

Hundreds of thousands of Canadians in every walk of life regularly look to the Bank of Montreal for assistance in their personal financing because they know that:

1. At the B of M they borrow at the lowest interest rates and on the most favourable terms.
2. When they ask for a loan at the B of M they do not ask a favour.
3. If their proposition is sound and reasonable, there is money for them at the B of M.

If you have a good reason to borrow, talk over your requirements with the Manager of your neighbourhood B of M branch. You will like his helpful approach to your problem.

For every kind of useful purpose there people — about one out of every four who borrow at a bank — find it good business to borrow at the B of M.

LAKE MICHIGAN GALE SINKS FREIGHTER

Jobless Number Up 50 Per Cent From Year Ago

313,000 Seeking Work By Middle of October

APPEAL OUTCOME WILL DETERMINE STRIKE ACTION

Federal Cabinet Will Hear Issue Monday

MONTREAL (CP)—Outcome of a provincial appeal in the federal cabinet against a railways freight rate increase is likely to determine whether some 120,000 non-operating railway employees go on strike Dec. 1 to back up wage demands.

The cabinet will hear the appeal of provincial governments, including Quebec and Ontario—at 10 a.m. EST Monday, Nov. 24 in Ottawa.

The cabinet can't refuse to act on the matter, observers say, and has three choices:

1. Turn down the provincial appeal against the 6 per cent freight rate increase, almost automatically producing an agreement between the railways and the non-ops and thereby averting a strike.

2. Throw out the increase authorized Monday by the board of transport commissioners, putting the railways back where they started.

3. Toss the matter back to the board for review.

NEED FOR ACTION

Whatever the cabinet decision, it is expected quickly as only 12 days remain before the strike deadline of 6 a.m. local time Dec. 1.

The authorized freight rate increase is to go into effect the same day—unless the cabinet doesn't upset it in the meantime.

Tuesday night in 13 unions representing the non-ops — those who do not actually run the trains —rejected a post-wage settlement offered by the railways and refused to call off the strike.

No new meetings were scheduled after the collapse of management-union talks here Tuesday.

The railways—the CPR, CNR, four smaller lines and an express company—had offered to sign an agreement giving wage increases amounting to about 14 cents an hour, but on the understanding that the agreement would come into effect only if the freight rate increase goes through Dec. 1.

UNIQUE SITUATION

The situation is unique in that the unions are agreeable to the 14-cent wage boost recommended earlier this year in a majority report of federal conciliation board report, and that the railways are willing to grant it even retroactive to other railway workers at a total cost of $67,000,000.

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian unemployment in mid - October was about 30 per cent higher than a year earlier, the government reported today.

The figures in the government's monthly labor survey indicated prospects of a post-war high of jobless that would exceed the previous top of 580,000 set last winter.

Today's figures showed that at Oct. 18 there were an estimated 313,000 persons without jobs and looking for work, compared with 211,000 a year previously.

The total had moved up from 271,000 at Sept. 20, on estimates of the bureau of statistics based on a sampling survey of 30,000 households.

Meanwhile, the number of persons with jobs dropped to 5,864,000 in October from 5,898,000 in the previous month and from 5,890,000 in October, 1957.

In addition to the estimated jobless lists, there were, in October, 120,000 temporary layoff, 2,000 up from September, and 4,000 up from the year before.

With the bureau's category for actual unemployment, the government released figures on applications for jobs with the National Employment Service showing 342,502 persons registered as of October 16th.

This compared with 327,112 at September 18 and 278,696 in the corresponding date of October last year.

FARM JOBS DOWN

In a statement accompanying the figures, the government said farm employment declined by about 50,000 during the month while employment in other fields went up.

"In non-farm industries," it said, "employment rose by 71,000, reflecting greater activity in logging in British Columbia and Eastern Canada and construction in all regions."

"Although agricultural employment showed a drop of 14,000 from a year ago," the government said, "non-agricultural employment at virtually the same level."

There was still a considerable variation among non-farm industries. Employment in mining and manufacturing was down from a year earlier, while the finance and service industries showed a corresponding gain."

Employment in agricultural in-

The figures showed 5,135,000 dustries in October, against 5,114,000 in September and 5,137,000 in October of 1957.

Farm employment dropped by 729,000 from 774,000 in September and 743,000 a year earlier.

The number available for work—rose in October to 6,176,000 from 6,164,000 in September and 6,091,000 in October, 1957.

Employment in Ontario declined. There were an estimated 1,- with 13,000 from the previous month and 20,000 from a year earlier.

FUND TOPS MILLION

MONTREAL (CP) — Contributions received or pledged for the Springhill Miners' Relief Fund now have exceeded $1,000,000, it was announced Tuesday.

The 666-foot self unloader John G. Munson, owned by the Bradley Transportation Co., shown here in a slightly longer vessel as the type the Coast Guard said went down in Lake Michigan in heavy seas 60 miles southwest of the Straits of Mackinac last night. The 615-foot self unloader Carl D. Bradley of the Bradley Co., the ship reported sunk, usually carries a crew of about 35.

TYPE OF GREAT LAKES FREIGHTER REPORTED SUNK

2 Survivors Are Rescued, Eighteen Bodies Found, Hunt Rest Of 35-Man Crew

Life Raft With Men Aboard Reported Sighted by Plane

CHARLEVOIX, Mich. (AP) — Two men were found alive today in angry waters of Lake Michigan, which it was feared had claimed the lives of 33 others from the freighter Carl D. Bradley when she went down in the cold storm-tossed lake late Tuesday.

Unofficial tabulations indicated 18 bodies had been recovered.

Some veteran seamen expressed amazement even two men survived overnight the 50-degree water in howling gale winds that piled up mountainous waves on the Great Lakes. The air temperature was 40.

The 615-foot Bradley went down about 6 p.m. off Gull Island at the top of Lake Michigan in 60-miles-an-hour winds. Split apart, she may have exploded when listing water hit her hot boilers.

The Coast Guard cutter Mackinaw Sartori, which battled for more than an hour to cover the three miles to the sinking site, found no survivors, no life boats; nothing except a tank that came from deep inside the Bradley and indicated an explosion.

PAIR RESCUED

First mate Elmer Fleming, 43, and deckhand Frank Metz, 20, both of Rogers City, Mich., were found alive today off High Island, 30 north of here by the cutter Bradley went down.

A plane reported sighting eight bodies on a raft, but was unable to say whether any one was alive.

Rescue craft, with waves still running high in 30-mile-an-hour winds, were having difficulty getting into shallow waters where bodies were reported sighted.

At 5.30 p.m. Tuesday the 14,800-ton Bradley, bound for the home port, Rogers City, that it estimated it would arrive at 4 a.m. today. A 31-year-old limestone carrier, it was en route home after having left the Gary Steel Mills at Buffington, Ind.

BROADCAST SOS

Then at 5:31—just 11 minutes later—Capt. Roland Bryan, the Bradley's skipper shouted into his radio: "Mayday, mayday, mayday. This is the Carl D. Bradley. Our position is approximately 45 miles southeast of Gull Island. We are in serious trouble."

Next, a voice was heard: "Run grab life jackets. Get the Jackets. Bradley, the ship is breaking up."

Then, the Mother of the Christian Sartori heard. He set his course for the Bradley, three miles away. But in 60-mile winds and 30-foot waves, which tossed each other much more closely on the lakes than on the oceans, it took him nearly an hour to get there.

"I believe," he finally reported, "all hands are lost. No lifeboats are visible."

T-V IN GALE

A U.S. coast guard plane flew out of Traverse City, Mich., took off over Gull Island and dropped flags signifying a gale. It dropped flares, going back and forth over the freighted grave.

The coast guard cutter Sundew, based out of Charlevoix, but smaller craft which tried to fight their way through the storm, joined the Sundew nor the plane spotted anything all night.

Then the plane's crew spotted Fleming and Mays shortly after dawn.

The Sundew, which took them aboard, radioed that Fleming said he did not recall any explosion and it was his belief that

WEST PREPARES TO DEAL WITH EAST GERMANY

Soviet Withdrawal From Berlin Certain

BERLIN (AP) — The Western Big Three today got set to cope with the impending transfer to the East German Communists of Russia's control over Allied supply lines to West Berlin.

The Soviet withdrawal from the four-power occupation of Berlin was considered a certainty, although it was not known how soon it would come.

The United States, Britain and France were reported to have prepared steps to take if the East Germans begin controlling Allied military truck convoys or trains. The East Germans already regulate civilian traffic from West Germany.

Western officials declined to say what Allied soldiers would do if checkpoints now manned by Russians are turned over to representatives of the East German regime which the allies refuse to recognize or deal with.

POSSIBLE STEPS

But experts here believe the allies will react with these steps:

1. Formerly refuse to accept East German controls.

2. Proceed strongly against a one-sided Russian withdrawal from the four-power occupation agreements drawn up after the war.

3. If left no choice, yield to East German controls while making it clear that this does not constitute recognition of the Communist regime. East Germans in transit checkpoints would be regarded simply as agents of the Russians.

An alternate would be for the allies to attempt an airlift airlike to the one that broke the Soviet blockade in 1948.

As Winnipeg Digs Self Out Gov't Gets Tail of Gale

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The punch was late but vicious. Wintry weather blasted into Manitoba Tuesday with a blizzard that dumped more than a foot of snow over the southeastern part of the province, leaving Winnipeg virtually paralyzed for hours.

Gale winds whipped the Great Lakes to fury and a freighter was lost in Lake Michigan with 33 men aboard.

By contrast, parts of Ontario and Quebec enjoyed record high temperatures for the second half of November. The mercury soared 19° in Toronto and Waterloo in Ontario,—seven degrees warmer than the reading in Jacksonville, Fla.—to 63 in Ottawa and 70 in Hamilton.

At Port Arthur and Fort William, winds reached 72 miles an hour late Monday as a storm lifted up slipping and caused widespread damage. About 25 ships were caught up in the breakwater to ride out the storm.

Temperatures fell rapidly over most of Ontario as cold air moved across the province in the wake of the storm. They were expected to be 20 to 30 degrees cooler today than Tuesday.

Mild air still prevailed in southern Quebec but the mercury was expected to dip over prairie tonight across the province. Freezing rain prevailed a side area south of Lake St. John, breaking power lines and snarling highway traffic.

WINNIPEG (CP) — Snow-shrouded Winnipeg bounced back today from the worst November blizzard on record as plows opened blocked streets and highways.

With 430 men operating 66 pieces of snow - removal equipment, city works department spokesman J. H. Blegie said streets will be cleared by Thursday if no more snow falls. Buses of the Greater Winnipeg Transit Commission were expected to be running on all routes today.

The weather appeared ready to give the city and the snowbound Red River Valley a break. Clear weather was expected today with only light snowflurries tonight.

One death was attributed to the howling storm which hit Monday night and lasted until Tuesday afternoon, covering the city with more than 14 inches of snow carried by winds up to 46 miles an hour.

Solomon de Johns, 74, was found dead in his backyard at Inwood, Man. He was believed to have died from exposure.

Of five hunters reports missing Tuesday, RCMP said three have been located—Robert Knox and Raymond Magnuson, both 16, are still were missing in the Lac du Bonnet area northeast of Winnipeg. No serious accidents were reported.

Wholesale grocery firms said there was no danger of food shortages in rural communities. All were expected to have enough supplies to last until roads are cleared.

Sudden Russian Concession Makes Space Pact Possible

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — The awesome challenge of outer space appeared today to have reached in a orcatorium by all the United-Nations member countries on, procedural disputes over how and when it should be settled.

Political, military, legal, medical and economic questions—to name only a few — remain to be solved. But for the first time the Eastern and Western big powers seem agreed that no small issues should stand in the way of humanity's progress into the cosmos.

On Tuesday afternoon Russia's deputy foreign minister, Valerian Zorin, told the UN's political committee, which has been debating the issue for almost a week since last week, that his Moscow government would withdraw from its previously solid position of linking outer space with big power military issues and disarmament. This contention, obviously now an idea of the United States, until then had threatened any form of agreement here.

The Soviet delegate earlier in the day has passed this word privately to U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, and repeated it to a press conference attended by correspondents representing all areas of the world. There was a heartening reaction at the UN even before Zorin spoke up in the political committee itself.

Combining the two operations would be economically feasible for the government to take responsibility for general inspections away from the commission, he said.

The two met in charge of administering Ontario's liquor laws and regulations, the control commission today. They are Commissioner W. H. Collings of the Liquor Control Board, and Judge W. T. Robb of Orangeville, chairman of the Liquor Licence Board which supervises more than 2,000 bars and other licensed establishments.

Also to appear before the three-man committee were chairman A. M. Snider of the Ontario Hydro Resources Commission and chairman S. H. S. Hughes of the Highway Transport Board.

Coal Will Cost Hydro $280 Million Yearly if A-Power Not Available

TORONTO (CP) — James S. Duncan, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, said today he expects will have to spend $280,000,000 a year on United States coal if nuclear power isn't available by 1980.

He told the Gordon committee of inquiry into the province's future Tuesday that the federal government is doing a splendid job in planning for nuclear energy. It would be to the federal interest to help Ontario into the atomic energy picture if only to keep Canadian dollars at home.

At another point, he told chairman Walter Gordon that freedom of action is essential to a government commission such as hydro, which employs both electrical and natural gas systems by the Ontario government also was

Hearing on Move To End Monopoly Of TCA Near End

OTTAWA (CP)—The air transport board's long hearings into the question of whether Trans-Canada Air Lines' monopoly on domestic transcontinental services should be broken and competition introduced appears to be nearing an end.

W. J. Stenason, Canadian Pacific Airlines' research director, was due to be questioned today by TCA, the could be the final witness.

After his testimony, the board was expected to adjourn until perhaps early next week to hear closing argument by CPA and TCA, which is opposing the Canadian Pacific application.

Tuesday, Grant McConachie, CPA president, offered the board an alternate set of transcontinental routes to those originally proposed by the company in his application a year ago.

He said the offer was being made because, since the CPA application was put in, the government-owned TCA had taken over the Calgary-Saskatoon and Edmonton-Toronto legs of the Canadian Pacific had originally proposed for itself.

NEW ROUTES

CPA's proposed new routes: Vancouver - Winnipeg - Toronto-Montreal; Vancouver - Edmonton - Ottawa - Montreal; Vancouver - Calgary - Winnipeg-Ottawa - Montreal.

These would substitute for: Vancouver - Winnipeg - Saskatoon - Ottawa - Montreal; Vancouver - Edmonton - Montreal; Vancouver - Winnipeg - Toronto-Montreal; Edmonton - Regina-Toronto; and Winnipeg - Ottawa - Montreal.

CPA's proposal would be to run a daily flight each way on all routes, using 60-passenger DC-8B planes.

Mr. McConachie suggested to the board that TCA had jumped in on parts of its proposed routes after the CPA application was filed in order to gum up CPA's chances of making a success of these lines.

Dairy Farmers Told They Must Cut Production

TORONTO (CP)—The dairy industry has been critical of government handling of butter and powdered milk, but has not produced much in the way of proposals to meet the problem, says Dr. J. G. Taggart, federal deputy minister of agriculture.

He told the Ontario Cream Producers' annual meeting Thursday the dairy industry this year faces a "serious" production expansion despite a cut in the number of farms brought about by a cost-price squeeze.

He said only voluntary action by farmers to reduce production is likely to be effective. There appeared to be little chance of disposing of butter and skim milk surpluses by export, he said there is no indication the federal government will adopt any of the suggested export other stabilization measures.

Gordon Greer, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, said farmers "are going to be out on butter" unless the federal government adopts a realistic agriculture policy. He said producers' payments might make consumer butter prices down and "there will be no more farmers' income.

"I don't think it would cost the government any more than it is costing them now," Mr. Greer added.

Remake Picture

After three days of negotiations, a spokesman for the company filmdom Solomon and Sheba announced the picture will be remade with Yul Brynner replacing Power. Gina Lollobrigida will star as Queen of Sheba.

Production on the $4,000,000 film was stopped Saturday when Power collapsed on the set and died of a heart attack.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synopsis: Much cooler air swept into Ontario Tuesday night in the wake of the gigantic storm that raked the central sections of the continent earlier this week. As this major storm crosses Hudson Bay and northern Quebec today gale force winds will be in evidence over most of the province. Snowflurries will persist in Northern regions, with a few showers and thunderstorms likely in Central Ontario and as far south as eastern Lake Huron and Georgian Bay.

Thursday will see some slackening in the wind, with temperatures remaining seasonably cool. Southern Ontario will be mainly sunny but northern and central regions will have more snowflurries and showers in advance of a minor storm currently crossing Alberta.

Watering Can Blower Needed To Sound 'A'

LONDON (Reuters) — Wanted: A fat schoolboy under the age of 12 to blow down the spout of a watering can at a Royal Festival Hall concert here Friday.

Jonathan Ashby, 11, discovered the musical can and offered it to Hoffnung, who promptly signed the boy for the concert.

Jonathan is ill however and will be unable to play.

Hoffnung believes the boy performer must be fat because "a watering can needs a lot of puff."

Think Japan's Crown Prince Tells Ancestor's Spirit of Plans to Wed

TOKYO (AP)—Crown Prince Akihito worshipped at the shrine of his great grandmother Tuesday, arousing speculation that he had informed his ancestor's spirit that he soon will become engaged.

The young prince paid his respects to the spirit of the Empress Meiji, founder of the modern Japan, at Meiji Shrine.

By Japanese custom, major events and deadlines, especially those involving family relationships, are reported in the spirits of ancestors at family shrines.

There is speculation—without confirmation — that an official announcement will be made before New Year's. It is considered a lucky period under the Asiatic astrological tables consulted by most Japanese when planning an important undertaking.

Sources have reported that Akihito, 25 next month, has decided to marry Michiko Shoda, 24-year-old daughter of a wealthy flour company president and a commoner.

Council Grants Wage Increases To Workers

DESERONTO — A special meeting of the town council was held on Wednesday, November 12th to deal with a number of subjects. The pay roll of the Deseronto Firemen was passed as submitted with the exception of the pay for Percy Knight, who served on the Council for a few months early in the year. Council cut from his pay all the calls he answered while a member of the council.

Mayor Sweetman was granted $100 for expenses incurred on the Industrial Committee.

An honorarium of $100 each was granted the present councillors and $150, was granted Mayor Sweetman. Previous members of the council were granted $3 per meeting. Council granted wage increases to town employees, K. Sharpe, street foreman, was raised to $60 per week; B. Elms, street employee was raised to $50 per week and William Rowbotham, caretaker was given an increase to $100 per month.

An unanimous vote of confidence was given Mayor Sweetman in the way he has run the houses in the town numbered.

The motion of council to appoint a superintendent for the town was rescinded.

The voting and counting of the town council was held on Monday night and dealt mainly with correspondence and routine matters. In dealing with a letter from the Workmen's Services Corporation, the mayor stated that he had promises of donations up to date to number the houses in the town. One donation received at council was for $25 from the Whig Standard. In dealing with the latter, another letter from a ratepayer was read in which the ratepayer contended that the money would be better spent in repairing sidewalks and roads.

FOX BOUNTY

The provincial bounty on foxes came in for discussion but no action was taken on the matter.

A letter from T. W. Stewart advised council that he was not satisfied with the location of the Court of Revision and would take the appeal to the higher court.

A letter from the McGregor Supply Company brought motions, counter motions, amendments and counter amendments and it was finally decided to determine the type of business before granting a license.

A letter of thanks is to be sent to Mr. E. McDonald who externed to the clerk the honorarium paid him for his participation as mayor.

The report of the finance committee revealed that the town is now indebted to the Small Bank Account in the sum $23,000. From this it would be assumed that the year will end with a considerable deficit.

A complaint from the streets department regarding the destruction of lawn property was referred to the police committee.

By-laws were passed authorizing the increases in wages to the town employees and for the lease of the rink to the Athletic Association

Mayor Sweetman inquired regarding the ownership of the property formerly occupied by the public school. He said some inquiries had been made to purchase lots.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Percy Knight spoke to council regarding the cutting of his pay for fire-fighting. In reply to a statement Reeve Alford denied that the council had ever been influenced by spite in the actions during the year.

WORKMAN HURT

TRENTON — Eugene Frank of 143½ Marmora Street was taken to the Trenton Memorial Hospital yesterday when he was injured at work at the Titus Block. A large beam fell from the top wall of the building which is being demolished and struck him on the face. He was rushed to the hospital by Weaver Ambulance. It was first believed the leg had been broken but it was later determined that although the bone may be cracked it is not a serious break.

STRING LIGHTS

The new ladder truck purchased by the Public Utilities Commission this year was put to a new task yesterday when the electrician strung the Christmas colored lights along the main business artery of town, Dundas Street. The lights "zig-zag" across the street from pole to pole and the work of doing this was made much easier than in former years by using the ladder truck.

ACCIDENT AT BRIDGE

A slight accident on the approaches to the 401 bridge last night caused some inconvenience for the driver of one of the vehicles concerned, whose name is not known. He said he was coming off the 401 and proceeding towards Highway 33 on the cloverleaf and on rounding the curve ran into the rear of a truck which had stopped. He was unable to brake the car fast enough to prevent the mishap and bent the hood of the car as well as punching a radiator back. Brighton OPP investigated and called a tow-truck to haul the car to town for repairs.

POUR LAST CEMENT

The last pour of cement on the deck of the town bridge has been made and may allow the span to be open to two-way traffic this weekend. However it would be for cars only and trucks still would not be allowed to cross. Today the deck of the guard rails are being welded to the bridge framework and it will mark the end to the biggest part of the work on the bridge.

Council Briefs

TRENTON — Town council has decided they would not put a bounty on foxes due within the town limits. This was decided after a letter had been read from Jim Derrickson of Municipal Affairs saying it was intended by the department to pay a portion of the bounty on all foxes killed. This was being done to decrease the population of fox in the province and also as a step in stamping out rabies. Councillor Hilton said if Trenton paid a bounty on the animals claimed, would be bringing them from all over.

Council rejected a plan to keep a deposit on plans by contractors who may seek them for bidding on different portions of the new sewage disposal plant. Councillor Hilton said he never heard of such a thing as a charge a deposit for the plans and then keep a portion of the deposit after the plans had been returned. He said he felt all monies deposited should be returned if plans were. Council agreed.

A letter from the postal department informed the council here it had received the inquiry concerning a mail box on the street where motorists could drive up and deposit mail without getting out of the car. The department said the request had been forwarded to higher authorities and the matter would be informed as soon as an answer had been obtained.

A request from Winnifred Mitchell concerning the holding of art classes in her hall above the police station was read and the council granted the use of the building for this purpose, providing it was not wanted on the dates stated for official purposes.

Two requests for money were left over to be dealt with in next year's budget. One request came from the school guards who asked for a salary increase of $2 weekly. The record came from the mayor of Belleville, Elston, who said in fixing for a donation from the town either this year or the first of next to send Mrs. Diefenbaker to Europe. Both requests will be left up to the new council.

Town council approved the moving of the assessor's office from upstairs to the one which had been formerly occupied by the Chamber of Commerce. Clerk-treasurer C. W. Larry brought the matter up and also suggested that the room left vacant when the assessor moved be made into a library for the councillors, with table and chairs and the necessary books and by-laws. It would be a place where they could look up information concerning the town if they so wished. He said the move would not likely take place until next year and the budget when permission to make the change.

heavy seas broke the Bradley apart. He was reported suffering from exposure, but was in good condition.

The Charlevoix coast guard station ordered crew members flown to Beaver Island, largest in a group at the top of Lake Michigan, to man a 46-foot boat there in hopes of getting into shallow waters where bodies were reported spotted.

CONDITIONS NASTY

As the searchers combed the turbulent seas, the temperature dropped to sub - freezing and southwest winds blowing in one of the worst late-shipping-season storms in years.

Throughout the night, flares lit up the scene. When the Sarlyn exhausted its supply, a plane dropped a fresh load.

The Bradley, under the command of Capt. Roland Bryan of Londerville, N.Y., was flying the flag of the Bradley Transportation Company of Rogers City, Mich. The firm is a subsidiary of U.S. Steel Corporation.

Most of the crew members were from the Rogers City area and officials in telling families that the ship was lost, advised: "The only thing we can do now is pray."

WORST IN YEARS

Coast guardsmen said the approximately 1,000 - foot Great Lakes' worst cargo-shipping disaster in nearly 20 years was about 15 miles west of the south end of Beaver Island. Water at that point is 250 to 300 feet deep.

The last major cargo - vessel disaster on the Great Lakes was in 1940, Two ships—the Novadock and Anna C. Minch—went to the bottom in a November storm with a loss of 37 lives. The storm lasted three days.

In another storm on Nov. 11, 1913, a total of 19 ships were lost and 254 persons died.

Thief Finds Skepticism Is Profitable

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Helen Leonard put this note on the safe at the fuel company office where she works:

"Attention: a 5 o'clocker's. Only papers are kept in this safe. We keep our money in the bank. Thank you."

When she opened the office Tuesday the safe was open and $1,000 was gone. Beneath the typewritten note the safecracker had used her own typewriter to add:

"Can't read."

TV-Radio Strike Action Deferred

NEW YORK (AP) — Possible strike action against the four major television - radio networks was deferred again today by a performers' union.

The union, the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists, said its strike deadline will be extended at least through further talks scheduled for today.

The union made the announcement after a meeting of its council at 6:30 a.m. It began at 3:45 a.m. The negotiations were discussed until 5 p.m. tonight.

Union spokesmen reported substantial progress in the latest round of negotiations.

The union represents 12,000 radio and TV performers employed by the American Broadcasting Company, Columbia Broadcasting System, Mutual Broadcasting and National Broadcasting Company.

The union is seeking a 10-per-cent wage increase across the board and demanding additional pay for performers each time a taped presentation is used over the networks current wages have not been made public.

Bequest Made To High School

KITCHENER (CP) — A $5,000 bequest has been made to the Kitchener-Waterloo Collegiate by a teacher who died this month.

The money was left by Mrs. Margaret Mason, who taught home economics classes for six years. She asked the board of education to invest the $5,000 in securities and that the interest be used to assist a girl to complete her 12th grade in home economics.

Postage Stamp $1 Package Deal Offered Public

The Honorable William Hamilton, Postmaster General announces that this year the Post Office is giving the public a new convenience through "a package deal" in the purchase of Postage Stamps which is being introduced in time to facilitate Christmas mailings.

Recognizing that the annual queueing up at stamp wickets in crowded postal lobbies during Christmas rush days is wearisome to patrons and Postal Clerks alike, the Postmaster General is trying out a new and more convenient method. It is expected that it will help reduce the buying of stamps "piecemeal" thus saving time for the buyers and congestion in the lobbies.

Special envelopes have been prepared each to contain $1 worth of stamps, the envelope printed in green to contain fifty cents worth and the other printed in blue to contain twenty-5-cent stamps.

The scheme does not intercede with the present arrangements whereby the public can buy whole sheets of Postage Stamps. The Post Office hopes that by buying in quantity will become a regular habit.

Christmas mail is the only season when the public can save itself time and trouble through purchasing stamps in quantity—they are always useable and never lose their face value.

One Arrested After $97,000 Taken off Train

PORTLAND, Me. (AP) — A mail car was looted and United States Treasury cash in the sum of $97,000 was stolen from a mail car on a train that left Portland at 3:50 a.m.

The train arrested, according to these reports, came back to Portland at 4:30 a.m. and that about $7,000 on him when arrested. Most of the remaining money was found in a car parked at the Union Station.

DIEFENBAKER ON THE COMMONWEALTH

Prime Minister John Diefenbaker was speaking in Lahore, West Pakistan, but we cannot help thinking that his words were aimed not so much at his listeners there as at his fellow countrymen thousands of miles away.

At a special convocation of the University of Punjab, which awarded him an honorary doctor of laws degree, he remarked that "it is sometimes forgotten how uniquely these Commonwealth countries in Asia and Africa have contributed to the evolution of the concept of the Commonwealth as we know it today."

If this is forgotten, it is much more likely to be forgotten in Canada than in Pakistan, where the need for the concept of the Commonwealth to change, if Pakistan were to remain a member, was only recently a vital factor in practical politics.

Canadians, though, and Britons, too, may not be so keenly aware of the importance which Asian and African countries, with their new-found independence, have had on the Commonwealth.

The transformation of the Empire into the Commonwealth, important though it was, hardly required such a sweeping readjustment as that which has occurred, without fanfare, in the structure of the Commonwealth itself in recent years. When the first of the Dominions attained independence, they still retained their allegiance to the Crown and this link smoothed the change from the concept of Empire, with Britain in command, to the idea of a Commonwealth in which Britain was the senior partner. Today, though, several of the Commonwealth members owe no allegiance to the Crown and their only ties with Britain are in Mr. Diefenbaker's words, "our common heritage of free institutions and our common recognition of the worth of man."

In truth, the bond of ideas and ideals is stronger than any shared sovereign, but this is not something which would have been understood by many of the earliest Empire-builders. The Commonwealth today is something which defies analysis. Its members are brought together not much in spite of, as because of, differences. What makes Prime Minister Diefenbaker feel at home away from home, as we suspect he does, in Pakistan, in India and other Commonwealth lands in the East cannot be defined. It is not a common tongue, or a common flag, or a common monarchy, it is "Commonwealth" in a concept of a unique kind.

Even, in the generally accepted sense, the common heritage to which they referred, since this heritage has been subjected to such widely differing catalysts in the shape of the cultures peculiar to the individual countries of the Commonwealth.

The Commonwealth cannot be explained: it can only be appreciated and appreciation demands a recognition of its changed and changing form. That was the message of Prime Minister Diefenbaker at Lahore.

THIS LEAVES US COLD

The suggestion by U.S. Senator Henry M. Jackson that NATO launch an earth satellite for peaceful outer space research fails to stir us to wild enthusiasm.

This does not mean that we lack enthusiasm for outer space research, but we cannot believe that this is the most fertile field for demonstrating the fact that those nations which make up NATO can co-operate in some other project besides defence.

In the first place, it might be extremely difficult to convince other countries that a space satellite was, indeed, divorced from defence.

In the second place, any satellite designed for peaceful space research will operate just as effectively if put aloft by one nation as it would if put aloft by a dozen. In other words, co-operation is not necessary for the success of the enterprise. But there are dozens of fields in which no worthwhile achievements are possible without the co-operation and support of several nations. Wouldn't there be bigger dividends accruing if NATO concentrated on some such project, instead of setting itself up as a third entry in the race into space?

Communist propaganda is usually adroit, and often effective. Sometimes, however, it is merely silly and silly propaganda is worse than futile.

Claims that Chinese Nationalists have been firing poison gas on the Chinese mainland fall into this category. It is of the same ilk as that which claimed germs were being dropped into China at the time of the Korean war.

It would be entirely stupid for the Nationalists to use poison gas against the Communist mainland. The reason is apparent. Poison gas could be even more effective if dropped in retaliation on Formosa. (Windsor Daily Star)

GOLDEN WEDDING TOAST

By EDGAR A. GUEST

You and I, my little lass,
Have travelled many paths together,
Rough with stones, and soft with grass,
Needless of the wind and weather.

You and I, my gentle wife,
Hand in hand have journeyed far;
God grant you to bless my life,
God made you my guiding star.

Summer suns and winter blasts
You and I have undergone;
Had our banquets and our fasts,
Now our night is coming on.

Hand in hand, my little lass,
Thus far we have journeyed straight;
May it be our lot to pass
Hand in hand through Heaven's gate.

Unusual Sources of Power

By F. W. Golding in UNESCO Features

Record progress in finding and developing new sources of energy to furnish the world's much-needed power has been so rapid that the "unusual" quickly becomes conventional. Coal, oil and water power are still the three mainstays with nuclear energy as a runner-up in the near future), but even these three are being used in new ways.

Underground gasification of coal, for instance, enables the seams of low-grade coal, uneconomic to mine, to be used, in gas form, through the process of controlled combustion.

"natural gas" often closely associated with oil — though occurring also in separate gas wells in new areas — is significant in supplies some 14 per cent of the world's energy needs.

The use of water power is also being speeded by the introduction of reversible turbine pumps which create a reserve of water, kept as a kind of "pumped storage". Then there are the nowly developed "tidal barrages" which can be immersed in the flow of tidal waters, thus avoiding, without incurring heavy costs, for civil engineering works. And experiments are in progress to make useful by "seeding" clouds have been carried out in Canada, Poland, Russia and elsewhere to improve water power prospects.

The possibilities of obtaining power from the wind and from solar radiation are also being studied experimentally.

What other sources of energy are available?

In fact, used for centuries as fuel in the cottages of Ireland and Scotland, is now being harvested commercially by the peat-cutting machines which travel slowly along the bogs, digesting sods, or milling the peat to a powder, and spreading it out to dry on the surface. Some 300 tons per acre of Ireland's electricity was generated from peat during the war years. The Scandinavian countries, the U.S.S.R., and even Ireland have vast areas of peat bogs, and surveys are now being made to determine the size and quality of the deposits. (World reserves of peat are estimated as being at least 400 times as great as the 65,000 million tons of coal).

Geothermal energy, the heat from the earth itself, is also being exploited. Where there is a geothermal installation of some 300,000 kilowatts, as there is at Wairakei on the North Island of New Zealand, a power station of 100,000 kilowatts will be operating this autumn. Iceland also has plenty of geothermal energy, and Italy is already being used in domestic heating systems.

The heat pump, a sort of "refrigerator in reverse", is now a commonly used device to extract heat from such low temperature sources as rivers or the soil and pass it, at a much higher temperature, into a working fluid for space heating. The result is that three or more times the energy used to drive the heat pump.

Solar heaters are also capable of providing large quantities of energy from sunlight. In areas where conditions are favourable. To produce hot water cannot be trapped at high tide, in an estuary or basin, and released through water turbines when the tide is low. There are several good sites in France, England and on the eastern coasts of North America but only one — on the Rance estuary near St. Malo, in Brittany — is now being developed. Here an initial installation of 240 000 kilowatts will provide experience as a basis for a 10 million kilowatt project that may be built eventually on the Chausey Islands in the nearby bay of the Mont St. Michel.

Another French experiment in power production has used the differences in temperature of the surface and deep water in the Ivory coast. By using the warm water at the surface and the cold water at a certain depth, a thermal power station can be operated. As a by-product, the plant also produces water for drinking purposes. The two requirements are that the surface water shall be hot a d that the level of the sea bed shall drop to a great depth near the shore.

Even the power in sea waves might be captured either by using a float, whose up-and-down motion, in the waves, could be converted into useful work, or by allowing the waves, as they reach the beach, to spill over into a reservoir from which the water could flow and so operate a turbine.

Far removed from such projects is small-scale power production from farmyard manure. It is kept at a temperature between 75 and 80 degrees F the manure, as it ferments, gives off methane gas over a period of several months. This gas is suitable for heating or as fuel for an engine. Other organic materials, such as straw, can be used instead of manure. One ton (dry weight) of straw will produce enough to run an engine for 600 cubic metres of gas. Dry wastes such as those from sugar refineries can be burned to heat steam to drive a steam engine. To meet the needs of a house, a portable engine, with its own furnace and boiler, has been developed in England.

Thus the methods which could conceivably be used to produce power open almost endless choices for the future and even a humdrum farmyard has been considered as a possible source. But the question is always: "How much will it cost to exploit the new source? Is it an economic proposition?"

Railway Best For Families

Sudbury Star

Before the kiss of death is put on railway passenger travel it should be noted that the railways assure that funeral arrangements are necessary. There are sound economic reasons why the electrical that the C.N.R. and the C.P.R. may be prepared to give up too easily.

The railways plead competition from motor cars and buses as the reasons for low passenger interest, but there are other reasons surely. The trains can offer more leisurely travelling comforts if a people who have grown accustomed a bit on long journeys. Have the railways always catered to the travelling comfort as the answer to the airlines' growth as a threat? Have the railways priced passenger traffic out of the rail market?

The railways hold the answer to most of these questions in their revenue and expenditure accounts. But is the whole story told in dollar figures in ledgers?

Is it possible that railway lines have neglected to publicize to the travelling public what they do offer in passenger service? Perhaps they have. Certainly in the past age in highlighting their tourist resort and hotels — facilities that can now be reached by bus or automobile as well as by railways.

It seems to us that the railways have been missing the boat in not placing the emphasis on family travel by train. Parents of small children have sometimes realized mean when we speak of the facilities and services to be found on railways. It is high time that the railways have much to offer travelling families.

What will be the end result? The end of passenger service? Rationalization of the two railway systems in Canada? The next few years will see some radical changes, and particularly if the railways lose both passenger and freight traffic to competing airlines, buses and trucks.

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BygoneYears

20 YEARS AGO

November 19th., 1938

Mrs. V. White and Mrs. Harold Mott will be the hostesses at the Badminton Club party Saturday evening.

Miss Lucila Reid of London has left to reside in Brampton.

Mrs. R. C. Woodley and daughter, Betty, have returned home from Toronto, where they visited Mrs. Woodley's mother, Mrs. W. Williamson.

The first work on the extensive reassessment of all properties in the city was commenced this week with the employment by the Citizens' Research Bureau of Toronto in charge of the work. Six young Belleville men are at present making the rounds of Colemin Ward with questionnaires filling out information necessary for the bureau. The forms are intricate in nature and require considerable questioning and filling in.

From the flag staff on the top of the city hall an honor flag floats proudly symbolizing that the City of Belleville has gone over its objective of $700,000.00 in the Victory Loan campaign. As a result the Governor-General's flag was presented to the city and the occasion to raise the flag to the mast head was made long to be remembered. The bugle band and the First Depot Battalion under the command of Lieut. Col. Smart and many citizens gathered in the parade ground in front of the city hall the parade halted and the flag was presented to Mayor Dr. Platt by Mr. E. Guss Porter, K.C., M.P. Speeches were made by Mr. Porter, Mr. W. B. Deacon, the chairman of the Victory Loan committee, Mayor Platt, Rev. C. Miles and Archdeacon the Venerable G. A. Beamish.

"Citizen" writes strongly to this paper against a return to the ward system, a question which will be voted on at the next municipal elections. Incidentally he thinks that government by three commissioners would be the best thing for Belleville. Perhaps it would, but a good deal of cumbrous and expensive legal machinery would have to be set in motion in order to bring about. In the meantime the next best thing is a council of ten aldermen and a mayor elected at large, thus doing away with any possibility of favoritism or favoritism. To return to the archaic methods of the ward system would simply be a step in the wrong direction.

Austria Plans 'Noise Police'

Chatham News

"There ought to be a law" is it would appear the belief in Austria, or at least in Vienna.

Austrians, irked by the noise of motorbicycles, outboard motors, motorcycles and especially the new light motorcycles which need no licences, are taking steps.

A new law to be introduced in parliament at the current session aims to prevent the disturbance of the peace of Austria's famous summer tourist resorts.

The new law, if passed, will establish a small "noise police" who will have special instruments for measuring noise and will patrol the mountain lakes and the remote summer resorts where people go especially to escape from the noise and odors of the cities.

In the future, if this bill goes through, motorboats and outboard motors will have to be efficient mufflers or they will be banned. Water-ski fans will be banned forever from areas of the lakes so they do not disturb swimmers, fishermen and rowers who want to enjoy a quiet holiday.

Motorcycles will also be taken to prevent the pollution of the mountain lakes by motorcycle waste oil, which is alleged to have caused the destruction of many fish and to have spoiled the bathing in some of Austria's most popular resorts.

It is suggested that electrically propelled motorboats have been developed for gasoline-driven ones. They are not as fast but they make little noise and do not pollute the water.

To Your Good Health

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

GALL BLADDER DISEASE CAN AFFECT DIGESTION

"Dear Dr. Molner: Please discuss gall bladder diseases. Would a diseased gall bladder cause loose, watery bowels?—Mrs. G. T.

There are various gall bladder diseases, but the major portion of them are related to the presence of gall stones, and the gall stones may at times block the bile ducts—the tubes that carry bile.

Bile is a rather complicated chemical, but one of its essential values is that it digests the food. More specifically, we need it to digest fats.

Should gall bladder disease be such that it has shut off the flow of bile, then the answer would certainly be that digestion would be impaired. The symptoms Mrs. G. lists could occur.

But now let me say something else which might sound paradoxical until you observe the logic.

I've just said these symptoms might occur against a return to bladder disease, but I will now add that personally I would be very much suspicious that they did come from something else.

Why? Because if the gall duct is really stopped up, either by gall stones or by some inflammation (inflamed area, or any other cause) we would really notice some of the symptoms I've listed.

BILIARY COLIC PAINFUL

The most inescapable symptom to the patient is "biliary colic," or, in short, pain. It makes one want to howl. Further, if the shutting off of the bile supply continues long, the bile will have to be absorbed by the blood stream, and the resulting yellow color will become apparent. Yes, that's right: Jaundice.

Therefore, I say that gall bladder disease, if it curtails the flow of bile, will affect the digestion. You should also expect other symptoms, and in a case like that proposed by Mrs. G., the wise doctor (and wise person) would suspect the possibility of colitis or some other condition.

One of the difficult things to learn, it seems, is the simple fact that we are not entirely ordaining that we should have only one ailment at a time. In fact, when one thing goes to start, the body is that much more likely to fall victim to the other.

Don't expect treatment of just one thing to be automatically the whole answer. Wise (and in the long run healthier) is the person who remembers this fact, too.

Mary: The trait of hemophilia, or bleeding that refuses to stop, is a medical one. It is transmitted from mother to son. It is not transmitted to daughters. Unless there is something quite removed from that, which you haven't told me, there is no reason why you should not be able to carry your pregnancy to full term whether the baby is a boy or a girl.

"Dear Sir: What causes cold sores to break out on my lips when I have neither a cold nor a fever.—V.M."

Most likely a virus; second guess, an allergy. The term "cold sore" developed when we didn't know any better. We knew that often (not always) sores came when we had a cold or a fever. It wasn't the cold or the fever: it was the virus that was causing the cold or fever. Today we know that we can, at night occur a case of gall bladder disease, but I will now add that personally I would be very much suspicious that they did come from something else.

Electronic Pocketbook

Fort William Times-Journal

Will wonders never cease? Word comes from a couple of electronic experts in Cleveland, Ohio, have come up with a modification of a gadget which, they say, will make folding money obsolete.

It may be a few years yet — fidelity or security-live—by the electronic pocketbook. But when that day arrives, bet-money as people know it will disappear and be replaced by the electronic pocketbook. But when that day arrives, bet-ter money as people know it will disappear and be replaced by the electronic pocketbook. But when that day arrives, transactions will become as easy as falling off a log.

The inventor of the scheme, Messr. Hunt and Lanman of the Lanman & Kemp-Barclay Designers for Industry, describe the electronic pocketbook a a laminated metal card, about the size of today's driving licence. It will contain a complete array of printed circuits tied in to a "meter" showing the amount of money available at the user. Deposits will send the meter up, and payments will send it down.

The inventors don't say what will happen in case the withdrawals exceed the deposits. Maybe a bell will ring or a red light flash or send off, or something equally disturbing. Nor do they say what safeguards will be able to protect the owner in case someone pinches his electronic pocketbook.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

When Walt Disney produced the Davy Crockett series of TV shows some three years ago, achieving a sensational success among the junior generation, he associated with each instalment a lively and rousing song called "Davy Crockett", which rang out from millions of TV sets all over the continent. It was impossible to escape it, and any we have had in recent years, even in the 1958 model.

Naturally the success of the Davy Crockett series inspired imitation. Nothing reveals the poverty of mind and imagination of the advertising world like the vertising industry more than the frantic rush to imitate a success. We do not expect much mind or imagination in actors and singers who, after all, are merely vocal

The instruments for somebody else's mind and imagination. Nor should we expect too much originality in advertising profession whose job is to attract public attention at any cost. But in the case of the Davy Crockett craze the usual enterprising should be willing to admit, in public, that they won't get an idea of their own, and are ready to grab onto the coat tails of anybody who has.

It is several years since Davy Crockett strode onto the stage to the accompaniment of a simple coonskin cap. But, whatever a Western or a plaster figure of it produces a fabled character, they still have to make room for one of the Davy Crockett song to raise the curtain. How long does it take to write such a good idea to dig?

MAJESTY OF GOD

Job and his family are pictured as having every privilege which human beings may possess. Suddenly everything is swept away from them all. Job himself falls victim of a loathsome disease. Three of his friends come to commiserate with him and to point out to him what they believe to be the cause of his sufferings. It was a day when oil men believed t h a t prosperity and happiness were the gifts of God and that misfortune and suffering were clear indications of the fact that one had displeased God and was being punished as a result.

Job denied that he was a great sinner. He admitted in all humility that he was as much of a sinner as is the common run of man. But he had not committed a great sin which had resulted in his great suffering. The more h i s friends argued with him and tried to convince him that he was doing what was coming to him as an evil person, the more he protested, rebelled, and stubbornly maintained his innocence.

The book of Job does not work out the plot and give us an answer as to why God required to suffer. God simply revealed himself to Job in all of his majesty and glory. The conclusion of Job is that a God of this nature deserves our homage to badgering a little man. Job does not understand his suffering, but he endures it with a new spirit because he regards it as consistent with the majesty, righteousness, and wisdom of God.

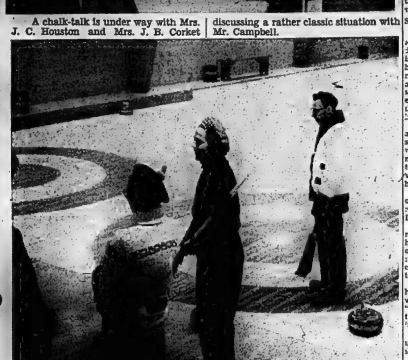
The world, and all-ig suffering Jobs, must be all right in a universe over which such a God presides.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE BABY IN YOUR HEART

Owen Wister," a popular novelist of a few years ago in a book he wrote about Theodore Roosevelt stated that every man carried about with him a baby in his heart. I never thought of this statement many times. What did he mean? I think he meant that some small, warm place in h i s heart every man had a place for the gentleness and beauty of a child.



All great and noble efforts in this world I like to think a v e their origin in the heart, and this origin is a baby, how very wonderful to think of it as an inspiration from heaven itself. Do you recall the Bible line that "a little child shall lead?"

The smile of a baby — any baby — can well be said to be immortal. It may go through a score or more changes in its passage through life, but it will have touched all life everywhere. Never since the beginning of settlement by Wister I have especially liked the smile on scores of little tots looking out from sparkling eyes into a world that must be very strange to them. I like to imagine, however, that thousands of others have thought of babies as Wister did, and as I have.

Every time I pass a small carriage with a baby resting in it, I think of that line by Wister, and would like to stop and tell scores others have looked into a baby's eyes and felt its warmth in the heart. I pray to God that none of these small sized citizens of tomorrow shall know of the horrors and brutality of war. Each one is the level of some mother's love, but more precious than all the gold in the world! May we all pray that no baby shall ever see some baby that God has planted within our heart!

A chalk-talk is under way with Mrs. J. C. Houston and Mrs. J. B. Corkett discussing a rather classic situation with Mr. Campbell.

The Quinte Curling Club although this procedure is some-members have had a privilege times varied according to the in the past two days and today of receiving individual instruction from Garnet Campbell of Avon Lea, Saskatchewan, one of Canada's top curlers. Mr. Campbell, a four-time member of Canada's Dominion curling championship team, is on a tour of Ontario curling clubs staying a few days at each club to give its members advice on improving their curling technique and habits.

The tour, which is sponsored by the Labatt's brewing firm, started two weeks ago and will carry through until January of next year, giving Mr. Campbell enough time to get in shape for the Dominion curling championship event next spring. He is hoping to play with an Ontario rink for the 1959 event, which will be the first time he has not represented the Province of Saskatchewan in the championship hospital.

Mr. Campbell's technique is to first give a "chalk-talk" followed up by personal attention to the individual club member's delivery technique on the ice, he is not getting enough curling himself and might get a bit "rusty" for the heavier competitions towards the end of the season. He expressed interest in the Quinte club's efforts at promoting school-boy curling in Belleville over the past season. It provides a continuing source of new blood for a club and assures the success of curling as a national sport in the future.

very easy and likeable person. Mr. Campbell or Garnet, as people are soon calling him, exhibits that combination of patience, knowledge, and love of his subject which makes a person an excellent instructor.

A curler since the age of fifteen, Garnet, finds the "club circuit" very interesting although some times exhausting his only apparent worry is that

Traffic Safety Division Head Talks to Kiwanis Club on Problems Confronting Drivers

Automobile drivers should "pay more attention to the big picture ahead, try to blend with the traffic, and be as least inconvenient to others on the road as possible."

Inspector Witts, whose headquarters is in the Traffic Safety Division at the Attorney General's Office in the Parliament Buildings, addressed the club on the subject of "Traffic Safety."

He warned that regardless of whether a person feels he is a good driver or not, he still has "a lot to learn." The development of super highways and other traffic engineering conveniences to facilitate the continual flow of traffic is responsible, he added.

STUDY TRAFFIC PROBLEMS

"Studies of the traffic problem and how to attack it, all indicate the man behind the wheel is the most important factor," he stated. "We all try to do the right thing — particularly when a law enforcement officer is in sight! he said He noted however, that most drivers break the law by committing minor infractions every day.

"We, as automobile drivers, are not inclined to blame ourselves for our shortcomings — we tend to rationalize our little mistakes." He felt the Point System will slow some of the drivers the error of their ways, however.

"The Point System will weed out the chronic cases and locate accident prone conditions," the inspector said.

Inspector Witts stated in many instances traffic officers have failed to take advantage of their opportunity of educating and elevating the thinking of the driving public in regard to traffic safety.

He added that on the other hand many automobile drivers who have been stopped by the "Man In Blue," fail to realize the traffic officer was only trying to keep them alive.

"The restrictions imposed upon you are imposed by necessity," he said.

Regarding the minor delays and inconveniences caused when a driver is forced to stop by a red traffic light or a patrol officer at a busy intersection, the OPP Inspector urged his audience to remember the main aim of automatic control devices and law enforcement officers is "to see that you get a fair share of that intersection."

WOMEN DRIVERS PRAISED

Inspector Witts highly praised women drivers. Regarding the driving ability of men, he said "We haven't anything to be smug or proud about — women are showing us the light."

The speaker said that studies of women drivers show they have developed a high degree of confidence in the last few years, and are better able to cope with situations causing slight inconvenience than are men.

"One reason is that men haven't the patience Providence gave to women," he remarked.

"Every time you see a woman driver make a mistake, just look around, and you'll probably see at least seven male drivers making the same mistake," the Inspector added.

Inspector Witts, who rose from the ranks of a motorcycle patrol officer to his present position, has been attached to the Traffic Division in various capacities since 1930. He was made an inspector in 1949, and while at general headquarters in Toronto, was authorized to make a study of traffic problems. He is at present a member of the Midland Safety Council.

The speaker disclosed that "wherever reasonably possible," the speed limit on the highways will be raised. Safety factors, such as the engineering quality of the road and the density of traffic, will determine on which roads the speed limit will be raised.

He said that on one stretch of road between Woodstock and London, the speed limit has been raised to 60 mph.

He further disclosed that on a new stretch of the 24 yet uncompleted Gardiner Expressway in Toronto, the motorists have been "behaving very well" in keeping within the speed limit despite the fact the speed limit signs have not been posted yet.

Inspector Witts was introduced by Hal Floyd, and thanked by Ron Godden. He was presented with a token of the club's appreciation by president Charles Lusk who noted the Inspector's speech was in keeping with the club's objective this year of "backing the attack on traffic accidents."

INDUCTION HELD

Prior to the address three new members were officially inducted into the club. The induction ceremony was conducted by A. G. Drysdale, chairman of the Laws and Regulations committee.

The new Kiwanians are: Malcolm Turnbull, city engineer, who was introduced by Lorne McDougall; Donald Hickson, accountant for Reed Limited, who was introduced by Gerry Wishart; and William T. Simpson, manager of the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, who was introduced by Staff McKenna.

In his address to the new members, Mr. Drysdale reiterated the ideals of Kiwanis, emphasized the international aspect, and stressed the importance of attendance. "You only get out of Kiwanis what you put into it,"

Charles Hepburn New President Conservatives

PICTON — Members of Picton Progressive Conservative Association would like to have the Queen visit the Bay of Quinte and Picton during her forthcoming visit to Canada. At the annual meeting, a request was made that such an invitation be issued and that C. S. Milligan, MP for the riding, contact General Howard Graham, who is in charge of tour arrangements.

Reviews of municipal legislation were given by Mr. Milligan and Mrs. Norris Whitney, MPP. Charles Hepburn was named president with Mrs. Ronald Church as vice-president and Mrs. Roy Breakenridge as secretary-treasurer. Poll chairmen are Wilkie Bruce, Ker Ostrander, Mrs. Fred Howes, Mrs. J. N. Ballis, Phil Dodds, Mrs. J. Hollingsworth, Mrs. Hugh Bruce, James Bird, Mrs. George Pitt.

Maynes Block In Madoc Will Be Reconstructed

The Albert Maynes block at Madoc which was destroyed by fire with a loss of over $300,000 early Monday morning, will be rebuilt as soon as possible, it was learned today.

Mr. Maynes Tuesday evening applied for a building permit to replace the structure and it was understood the permit would be issued today.

Plans call for the construction of one-storey super store 66 feet by 100 feet to be built of cement block and steel.

Monday morning's fire which destroyed the half century old Maynes block together with two stores and 13 apartments, made 38 persons homeless when they were forced to flee in their night attire.

Yesterday the ruins were still smouldering with the main street still blocked off and the Madoc fire department continuing to pour water into the smouldering embers.

he stated. He then presented the three new members with the club booklet, membership certificate, pin, car sticker, and lapel pin.

The new Kiwanians were then officially welcomed on behalf of the club by president Lusk.

Fashionable Furry Wigs

By ALICE ALDEN

In the summer it was flower wig hats, so naturally, come fall, the fur wig hat has taken over. It is not at all limited to the luxury class, either. Nicely priced is this one designed by Lilly Daché for the young career woman and the girl who has to stay within a prescribed clothes budget. Fashioned hatbrand red fox is the fur in this cozy, becoming wig job, the crown resting on a neat bandeau of tan kid leather.

Wedding

O'BRIEN — RUTTAN

A lovely, late autumn wedding was solemnized on Saturday at 2.00 a.m. on November 8th in Holy Rosary Church, Belleville, when Mary Margaret Ruttan, of Belleville, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ruttan became the bride of Michael Charles O'Brien, of Belleville, son of Mr. and Mrs. William O'Brien. The Reverend Michael Simeon, of Holy Rosary Parish, officiated before a background of snapdragons and a blend of red-for-valley.

Mrs. W. G. Grant rendered the traditional wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Mr. Ronald Cassidy, of Tweed, who sang, "Ave Maria" during the ceremony, and "Sacrament Most Holy," at the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her white bridal gown of Chantilly lace, net and taffeta, featuring a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace with skirt of lace and net over taffeta. She wore a matching headdress with finger – tip veil of silk tulle illusion, and carried a prayer book crested with yellow rosebuds and satin streamers knotted with rosebuds.

Miss Joan Ruttan, of Belleville, sister of the bride, as maid of honor was gowned in pink crystalette, and Mrs. Theresa Reid, of Trenton, as bridesmaid, in yellow crystalette, respectively. Both wore matching feathered headdresses and carried rosebuds of pink and white "mums."

Mr. Donald O'Brien, of Picton, attended his brother as groomsman, while Mr. James Peoples, of Belleville, and Mr. Charles McDonald, of Point Anne, ushered the guests.

The reception for sixty guests was held at the Kiwanis Centre, Belleville, where the bride's table was daintily appointed with white damask, and centred by an all-white, three-tier wedding cake topped with a tiny bride and bridegroom beneath a white floral arch. Tall white candles in silver holders, and the bridal bouquets completed a pretty picture.

Mrs. Russell Ruttan, the bride's mother, elegantly gowned in a sapphire, two-piece wool ensemble, with corsage of red roses. She was assisted by Mrs. William O'Brien, mother of the bridegroom, in a navy blue two piece sheer wool in duster style, with corsage of red roses.

For the wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the bride chose a three piece suit with beige and brown accessories, and corsage of yellow rosebuds. Upon their return, the young couple will reside at the Massassaga Apartments, Rossmore, R.R. 2.

The bride was entertained prior to her marriage at a shower given by Mrs. Murray Reid, of Trenton; at a presentation by the office workers of the bride, at the Corbin Lock plant, when she was the recipient of a lovely wool blanket, and the bridegroom of an electric coffee maker.

The bride chose November 8 as the date of her wedding in honor of the bridegroom's grandmother, who was celebrating her 84th birthday on that day.

The bride's gifts to her maid of honor and bridesmaid were matching sets of pearl necklaces and earrings.

This - - - and That

By HARRIET STEVENS

Going shopping? —

Who isn't going shopping when it gets to be the middle of November? We have heard in the stores that this is pricing season. Shoppers are nearly going around finding out the prices of articles they hope to buy. For that reason it might be a good idea to cut down in price and while a few things we should keep in mind when making extensive purchases, as we do for the holiday season.

How much money you have to spend is less important than how you make use of it. We all know people who spend their income as fast as it comes in – we know others who have no money but always seem to get the things they want. Shopping means different things to different people, but, to be a smart shopper means only one thing — doing the very best buying job possible with the resources you have available. Resources include not only money you have for spending, but interest and ability, the time and energy at your disposal, and the markets available to you.

Benjamin Franklin said, "Time is money and those advantage there is in having it." When you want to make your money go the furthest, watch prices and use variations in price to your advantage. It will pay off in increased buying power. Some people like to shop. Others are eager to "get it over with" as quickly as possible. Interest and ability usually go hand-in-hand.

If you like to shop, you're probably a good shopper. If you don't like to shop, you probably haven't developed your buymanship skills to the point where you can judge a "best buy" easily.

He are some questions which may help decide if you are, or are not, a skilled shopper. If all you answers are 'Yes', you are a good shopper.

Do you buy according to the broad price classification you and your family? Do you plan your shopping to your best advantage?

Do you know how to decide upon the characteristics you want and need in any given article, and buy according to those characteristics?

Do you consider your time and energy as well as the use of the article when shopping to get the value for your money?

Do you keep your shopping plans flexible in order to make advantageous substitutions? So much for ways of shopping.

Since this is Young Canada Book Week, and since Christmas is not too far in the future, we should like to quote from the cover of a special book edition of the New York Times: "Philanthropists give presents, but they have" to be kept in vaults. Pocket handkerchiefs are seldom given because they're thoughtless to give a yacht unless you can furnish the crew. And when a woman buys a man a tie, the result is often traumatic for both.

But books are a Christmas shopper's best friend. A book is just about the only present with which a commuter can delight a child, with which a millionaire can surprise another millionaire. The family that owns a thousand books inevitably wants more. And the family that owns none will be flattered to get one. Only in a book can you give your child the moon. Or his future."

We were with friends one night last week who had been in various countries of Europe for sixteen months. They had only landed at Quebec and were driving home to Saskatchewan. About eleven thirty in the evening one of the travellers remarked that she was delighted that the TV set had not been turned on to spoil the visit.

They told of an anecdote about friends in California who had entertained several couples at dinner. After dinner they were asked where the TV set was located. It was on the third floor in the rumpus room and within a short time after dinner, there was only one couple left in the living room. Our visitors assured us that the story was not exaggerated, because it actually happened and related. They went on to tell us that in Europe and the United Kingdom, the joy of conversation still existed.

They wanted to know if it was true that TV was replacing radio as they had heard. It was nice to be able to re-assure them that radio sales were growing stronger all the time and that there was a place for both mediums; each was slowly but surely falling into its most useful and needed areas.

They confirmed the stories in our newspapers that there is a mighty resurgence of vitality, in confidence and hope throughout western Europe since the War. They were in France during the period in which that country was without a government for so long. France then was without a Treasury or hope. Driving up through France during the past few weeks, they observed a new national spirit as though in de Gaulle the people had found a deliverer and a new prophet. The women were especially noticeable because their spirits showed in their new frocks and smarter appearance. Our friends report that they were back in Canada for certain after they entered Ontario and stopped for lunch. They ordered and were served delicious apple pie with cheddar cheese, and they were glad once again to be home in Canada.

BABY'S ESCAPE

GLASGOW (CP)—A 16-month-old baby was reported "quite comfortable" and out of danger at a Glasgow hospital after swallowing 40 tablets of aspirin.

V.O.N. Makes 255 Visits In November

The November meeting of the Belleville Board of the Victorian Order of Nurses was held Monday evening at the Y.M.C.A. The president, Mr. H. A. Parker, was in the chair. Committee reports and plans for the annual meeting, which is to be held the latter part of January were discussed.

The report on the nursing activities showed that 86 patients received care in October. The case load and visits for the month were as follows: medical and surgical (acute and chronic) 38 cases and 255 visits; mothers and babies — 48 cases and 87 visits. A total of 13 half days were spent at Cannifton Corbyville School, Holy Rosary School and assisting the Belleville Department of Health at the weekly Child Health Conferences at the Kiwanis Centre.

Avondale H-S Topic 'Retarded Children'

At the November meeting of the Avondale Home and School Association, the members were privileged to hear Mr. Tom Sibbald speak on the aims and the accomplishments of the Canadian Association for Retarded Children.

Mr. Sivvell, who is the president of the Belleville and Trenton branch of the association told of the school for these children which is already in operation in the city. He spoke of the necessity of finding suitable classroom space immediately, and of the need for the establishment of a second class.

In conjunction with this talk members saw the first public showing in Belleville of a Norwegian film which showed what progressive Norway is doing to help these children.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. Morris Smith, and thanked by Mr. J. Musgrove.

Mrs. Spence Wonnacott presided at the business meeting. All members were asked to contribute their experiences for program topics for the year.

Mrs. K. M. Bird was at the piano for the opening and closing ceremonies.

DISTRICT WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

W.M.S. A.A.

WELLINGTON — The president, Mrs. Hamel opened the W.M.S. afternoon auxiliary meeting with a poem and the hymn "O Quiet Hearts". The president called attention to the TV afternoon program, "Open House", which featured United Church films of Africa.

The treasurer, Mrs. Cronk reported that all monies raised over and above the allocations go to Dollars and Sense (gifts for building and advance) and these projects are designated specifically, so that all will share and not be given to one section of work that is better known.

Mrs. Gay, community Friendship secretary said that C.F. challenges the W.M.S. to a study of human relationships and urges all to serve one's fellowman, (1st John, 3:17-18).

Mrs. Bishop reported that rayon hose is used for gloves, sox mixed with cotton and hemp to make mats. A bale is to be prepared at once. Leave with Mrs. Bishop, diapers needed for layettes, sewing material and soap. For poor workers, plastic baby pants, small books, shoe laces, wash clothes, small toys and bath paste.

The nominating committee consists of Mrs. Gay, Mrs. Stanabury and Mrs Broadbridge. All members were asked to bring writing nominations for all offices.

Mrs. S. Foster had the worship service. The topic, "Tribal Worship and Relationship with Regards to the Israelites".

Mrs. Hamel presented the study book, "Answers of a Continent" pertaining to Mexico, Mrs. Bishop presented some "Mexican Legislam" serious lack of ministers of protestant faith.

Mrs. Teskey presented concern for agriculture — largely rural living and need of missionary agriculturists.

Mrs. Wait presented concern for health.

Community fairs established hospital and clinics to assist the people.

Mrs. Maybee presented concern for literacy, 41 per cent illiteracy due mainly to lack of facilities. Their law bans participation of religious bodies in supporting their new state run schools.

The president gave Mrs. Fox a token of farewell to be given to her sister who is leaving soon for her new home in Brighton.

After the meeting closed group 3 served refreshments.

SHANNONVILLE L. G.

The regular meeting of the Shannonville Ladies' Guild was held at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Page in Belleville on November 13. Mrs. Fitzgerald opened the meeting and Mrs. Page continued with a hymn and prayers.

There were ten members present. Flowers and cards were sent to Mrs. T. Whittle and Mrs. A. Long who are convalescing.

It was decided to hold the next meeting on November 27 as a card-party at the home of Mrs. V. McBride. The annual meeting will be on December 11 in the form of a Christmas party.

Mrs. W. Houston offered her home for a public luncheon on November 20 in Shannonville.

After some interesting woodgames, supervised by Mrs. Kilpatrick, the meeting was adjourned with prayer and refreshments were served.

Queen Victoria H-S Holds Panel Talk

The November meeting of Queen Victoria Home and School Association was held in the auditorium Monday evening with Mrs. Beatty presiding.

After welcoming the parents and teachers present, and reading the objectives of Home and School, Mrs. Winstanley was presented with her past parents' pin and also a life membership.

The banner for the room attendance this month was won by Miss Schaub's juniors, and by Mr. Marner's seniors.

Mrs. Savage gave an interesting report on the recent conference held in the Quinte Secondary School in October.

Following 'a short business discussion, the gathering was entertained by a panel on the $4,400 question. This proved most informative to the parents.

A social evening with refreshments served by Mrs. Jenkinson and her committee brought the evening to a close.

CHEERY PUNSTER

Praise Given By Institutes At Meeting

GUELPH (CP) — High praise for the Ontario department of extension branch services was given Tuesday by Mrs. P. Y. McCandless of Dundas in an address to the Federated Women's Institute of Ontario.

The work of the WI has been made more familiar, she said, by inviting non-members to attend short courses and training schools, and has been the means in some cases of increasing the membership by 50 per cent.

She urged the board of directors to have branch members advertise the work and ideals of the institutes in newspaper, radio and television.

Mrs. Ernest Irwin of Campbellford, reporting on home economics and health, said WI officials were pleased with reports received this year. "Women across Ontario generally are living up to their responsibilities and the health of a nation depends on women in the homes."

The delegates expressed opposition to liquor advertising in Ontario and unanimously adopted a resolution that the provincial government prohibit advertising of all brewery and distillery products in the province.

Another resolution asked the government to make five changes in the Ontario Succession Duty Act. Delegates contended it imposes a hardship on widows.

Third Edition Of Toy Manual Is Unveiled

By CAROLYN WILLETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—The 1959 edition of What's What for Children —an illustrated handbook on everything from toys to pets compiled primarily for parents' guidance — was officially unveiled here Tuesday night.

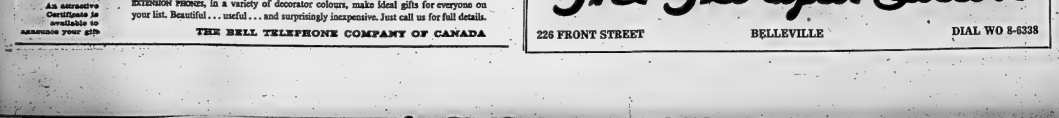
The handbook, which editor Mrs. Eve Kassirer said could be called a consumer's guide for children's cultural and recreational pursuits, sold like hotcakes at 50 cents a copy when it went on sale at the Design Centre. Some 150 parents were present for its launching.

The 116-page publication is the third edition prepared by the Citizens' Committee on Children, a group of Ottawa men and women.

The second edition—published in 1956 and sold across Canada and the United States — went through its first printing of 10,000 copies in a few weeks. The committee has 10,000 copies of the current edition.

FUN AND FACTS

Aside from its hints to consumers there also is fun in the behind-the-scenes facts.



Guides to what a child—not his parents—is interested in come from 31 experts in fields from pets to photography.

Ottawa's Yousuf Karsh, for instance, in his article encourages photography as a stimulus to a child's imagination from his conception of a picture to its finish as a snapshot.

A comprehensive toy - buying guide—for handicapped and sick children as well as the normal child—is part of the handbook. The guide has been compiled by the capital's toy-testing committee, an organization sponsored by the Citizens' Committee on Children and the Canadian Association of Consumers.

"This could be good-by!"

St. Michaels C.W.L. Sponsors Delightful Annual Tea, Bazaar

Blue and gold was the theme for the delightful annual tea and bazaar sponsored by St. Michael's League of Women's League yesterday afternoon at the Academy, which coupled with the delightful scent of poinsettias and fragrant Scotch pine formed a lovely setting for a most happy occasion.

Receiving the guests were, the president, Mrs. Blake Bolan, Edson Logan; convener of the bazaar, Mrs. Blake Bolan, co-convener, Miss Lillian Cournoyea, while Mrs. J. Boyd, treasurer, accepted the dues.

The spacious tea room was semtinelled by tall, white standards of Scotch pine which formed a pretty entrance where the long tea table, with its colorful centrepiece of white and red-dotted baby 'mums, surrounded by four tall, red candles in a silver-footed compotier on white damask, and the ornate silver services beckoned most invitingly. The little guest quartet tables were spaced about the enclosure, each with its white cloth, and tiny centre of pine forming a nest for the single red poinsettia in the base holder.

PRESIDING

Those presiding at the tea services included: Mrs. J. E. Boyd and Mrs. R. McDougall; Mrs. B. H. Burton and Mrs. Charles Meagher; Mrs. E. J. Butler, and Mrs. M. Stork.

Mrs. F. Domenico assisted by Mrs. D. Morran and Mrs. E. M. O'Connor were in charge of the tea room, while Miss Anne Quigley and Mrs. G. Donoghue invited to the tea room with Mrs. H. Cruji making the tea.

Those serving were: Mesdames, E. MacDonald, R. Robert Allore; Carl Casey; Frank Goyer; Richard Barrett; D. Templeman; T. McGee; A. McFadden; J. Brunner; O. Griffiths; F. R. Ross; P. Fayette; G. O'Connor, and Brunner.

Replenishing the trays of sandwiches and tiny cakes: Mesdames, J. Vinkle; N. R. Elston; J. F. Scott; L. Burke; M. Burke; holder; J. Beehler; J. Sheridan; J. V. Boyle; J. H. Cowan; E. Rivers and J. Barrett.

BAZAAR BOOTHS

Among the various attractions were the bazaar booths which included the novelties, conveyed by Mrs. Herbert Brown, assisted by Mrs. John Belanger, Mrs. Emerson McCallum and Mrs. Kenneth Soden. Here were little doll basinettes, tied and white work baskets; plastic wall plaques of fruits; costume jewelery of all kinds; a little doll bride; vases, cups and saucers; salad dishes; blue rug; coffee carafe; kitchen sets and many others.

The 'Country Store' conveyed by Mrs. Clarence Reed; Mrs. H. Logue; Mrs. Cyrus Middleton, and Mrs. Stanley Kwarda, was well stocked with corn sjlads, jams, relishes, jellies, pickles, canned fruits and vegetables, jellos, flour, baskets of carrots and jars of salad dressings.

The 'Home Bake Table' was overflowing with layer cakes with maple icing; pumpkin, apple, mince, and lemon pies; cookies of all kinds, plain and fruited date and orange loaves; luscious meringues; fancy tarts; lemon, raspberry; taffy; potato salads; Christmas cake; jam; jams; angel cakes, one in pink icing with floral topping of white and yellow 'mums, which would become the prized possession of the lucky ticket holder; as well as chocolate and white layer cakes. Mrs. John Boyle assisted by Mrs. William Frawley, Mrs. Joseph Legault; Mrs. Georges Lee, and Mrs. George Bronson, did a thriving business.

FINE CANDIES

The 'Candy Booth' was well patronized and displayed a fine assortment of boxed maple creams; nut-topped fudge squares; coconut chews, fudge, delight; and pretty baskets with red handles filled with the same. Mrs. John J. O'Connor with her assistants Mrs. H. J. Sheridan; Mrs. F. D. Doyle; Mrs. J. O'Connor and Mrs. Arthur Soaft were in charge of these.

Mrs. Jules Ethier, with her assistants, Mrs. Gus Faux; Mrs. James Walden, Mrs. Joseph Whalen and Mrs. M. J. Brooks, had an exceptionally fine display of aprons in all colors, shapes, half, and all-over types; pretty ones in pink organdy with black trim; red and white prints with frills; green foam rubber with appliqued white flowers; cobblers aprons; aprons in turkey red; white organdy all-over; Paisley pattern and childrens aprons, one, material one green, black, white and grey plaid which could be worn as a summer play dress.

LOVELY ARTICLES

The 'Fancy Work' was well manned with its bevy of lovely articles, each one most suitable for a Christmas gift. Outstanding among the many were green corduroy throw cushions; fancy towels with crochet lace edges; knitting bags with wooden handles in many shades; bridge covers; crochet hot plate stands; plaid place mats; lingerie bags; beautiful knitted while sweater in heavy yarn, with cowboy pictures on back in black, red and white; heart shaped pin cushions and dozens of fancy handkerchiefs. Mrs. B. J. Fraser, Mrs. Francis Callaghan, Mrs. J. J. Persuit and Mrs. F. H. Short had charge of these.

The 'Children's Wear' had about everything anyone might wish for; a wee bodice which included coral bed socks; tiny mitts in all colors; lovely bunnies knitted in white, blue, pink and yellow; flannelette nightdies; dainty bath-robes; bootees; and knitted sets of sacques, bonnet and booties. Convened by Mrs. Edward Brown; Mrs. Terry Scanlan; Mrs. A. Wines and Miss Stella Ford.

The 'Plant Booth' in charge of Mrs. Kenneth Burkett and Mrs. J. V. Hamilton showed sansevieria, ferns, tall Sansevaria; African violets; little cactus gardens; coral colored Sultanas; English, ivy, and many others including foliages; begonias.

SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS

Among the special attractions was a lovely doll basinette with doll and layette, Mrs. Al Mahaffy; Mrs. Irene Flagler. This was won by Mrs. Jack VanNorman, city, with Mrs. Martin Trudeau and Miss Hilda Blaind in charge of the sale of tickets. Mrs. M. J. Kelly convened the pull tickets. Assisting at the floral arrangements were Mrs. C. Rivers; of the teen-age doll, Miss Anne Nouthier, and of the panda bear, Mrs. E. Lally, with Mrs. D. Hoyle and Mrs. J. Legace convening the bear and the doll drawn. Winners of the cheques were: Mrs. R. McReady, $100, R. R. 2; Mrs. F. R. Ross, $50; Miss Margery Black of the city, and Mrs. L. Bennett of the $10, all of Belleville.

A Catholic lending library was also on view, convened by Miss Molly Weiler, Mrs. G. Donaghue, Mrs. Daly and Mrs. W. Sweet.

In the lower auditorium was the nursery in charge of Mrs. Paul Cleary and Mrs. C. Young, assisted by the Brownies; while in the classrooms a popcorn stand was situated, and doing a brisk business. This was convened by Mrs. Wilfred Callaghan, assisted by Mrs. Vincent McIntyre, and Mrs. Wilbert Graham.

FAVORITE FISHPOND

In the basement, was the great favorite of the children, the fishpond, with Mrs. Harold Bowden, Mrs. Al Wardhaugh, Mrs. J. M. Tobin, Mrs. Jack Goyer, Mrs. Marie Cooney and Mrs. Jack Brundrett, as arms wardens.

Appreciative thanks go to Miss Mary McLellan for her fine job of gathering the homecooking on East Hill, and to Mrs. A. V. Hamilton and Mrs. K. Burkett on West Hill; to Miss Anne Lafferty for the lovely decor; to those receiving donations and to the girls who sold ready in the lower corridors, for a most successful bazaar and tea.

GOOD MANNERS

By Mrs. Beeckman

ORDER OF SIGNATURE ON CHRISTMAS CARDS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

When I sign Christmas cards for my husband and me, whose name should I sign first — Mary and Kenneth or Kenneth and Mary? — Mary Courtesy demands that you sign your name last: Kenneth and Mary. Or: Kenneth and Mary Holmes.

GROOM'S INITIALS FIRST

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My fiance has asked me to ask you whether his or my initials are engraved first in my wedding ring, which we are soon to order. — Elizabeth

The groom's initials come first — A.B.R. to M.L.W., and the date of the wedding.

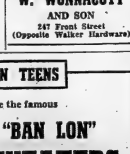
WHICH SIZE KNIVES AND FORKS?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My budget for silver is limited. Would you suggest that I buy dinner knives and forks or luncheon size knives and forks?

— Bride-to-be

Definitely I would suggest you buy the medium-size (luncheon) knives and forks . . . for the more frequent use if you're getting only one size.



CUT ONLY ONE PIECE OF MEAT AT A TIME

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Isn't it really correct to cut off several pieces of meat (from a slice of roast beef, for instance) before beginning to eat the meat?

— Bill R.

No, sir . . . No! Only one piece of meat should be cut at a time, this to be eaten before the next piece is cut. (This is the rule under Kindergarden days

SCOTT'S W.A. and W.M.S.

SCOTT'S W.A. and W.M.S.

ST. SIDNEY — A good crowd attended the November pot-luck dinner in Scott's church hall on Wednesday the 12th.

Mrs. C. Copeland, president W.M.S. called the meeting to order and gave a few highlights from the W.M.S. rally held recently in Centenary church.

A review of finances was made by the treasurer.

Mrs. Matthew took the group on a trip to Alaska for the study book program, showing the map where the snow is. She also viewed the early church history — Presbyterian, Methodist, Episcopal and Anglican.

In 1858 nine denominations united to carry on their work. The main problem in Alaska is the mobility of the population. Service men have been moved about. In one place the Sunday school pupils and teachers had been completely replaced twice in one year. There is need for more dedicated men and women to carry on the work. Alaska is the newest state in the United States.

Mrs. R. Dafoe, Mrs. R. McMullin, Mrs. Martyn and Mrs. K. Faul each brought a highlight from the rally.

Mrs. Morley Sine will be hostess for the November dinner to be held at noon on the 10th of the month in the church hall. The W.M.S. will be the guests of Mrs. (Rev.) McMullin on the occasion of the same day when the re-organization of the two groups will take place.

Mrs. K. Faul conducted the devotional service, which included Scripture — Deut. 15-12 read by Mrs. R. Coulter, comment on

Mother's Helper

MINIATURE Jack O'Lanterns will delight your child and her small guests at that Hallowe'en party. If you can find enough tiny pumpkins, thick-skinned orange may be halloyed out and carved in the same way. They make cay and attractive decorations for the table.

Worthy Motion Entertains Minerva

In spite of rainy weather and dull skies a large number of Minerva Chapter 138, Order of the Eastern Star, enjoyed the recently at the home of the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Lorne Hunt, Belleville, R.R. 3, with the first Worthy Matron, of the Chapter, Mrs. Virginia Nugent, as special guest. Other guests included those from Trenton, Belleville 58, and Quinte.

The guests were received by Mrs. Hunt and Mr. Hunt, Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron, while the tea room hostesses were: Mrs. Ray Gunsolus, Mrs. Leslie Finkle, Mrs. Les. Lennox, Mrs. Arthur Clare, Mrs. Ken Thompson, Mrs. Glyn Skarrup, Mrs. Morley Tugwell, Mrs. Edson Sine, Mrs. George Garrow, Mrs. York Bushell, Miss Audrey Stewart, Mrs. Janet Williamson, Mrs. Bruce Humphreys, Mrs. Ken Hunt, all Mrs. John Haggarty and Mrs. John Slendrick, assisted by Mrs. Windsor Bushell and Mr. John Haggerty.

Those presiding at the tea table, which was prettily decorated with a centrepiece of lovely yellow 'mums, flanked by silver candelabra with blue candles, and silver services were Mrs. Jean Ingram and Mrs. Albert Bird; Mrs. Jack Williams and Mrs. Albert Woonscott; Mrs. Percy Boulton and Mrs. Mark Vanzer; Mrs. Fred Politruf and Mrs. Wallis Manner; Mrs. Archie Jordan and Mrs. Ann Chapman.

The preparation and arranging of dainty refreshments were conversed by Mrs. Windsor Bushell, Mrs. John Haggerty and Mrs. John Slendricks, assisted by Mrs. Windsor Bushell and Mr. John Haggerty.

The lovely chrysanthemum centrepiece was a gift from Mr. and Mrs. William Adams from their garden on Stanley St.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Ruth M. — Mildred doesn't respond to my help.

Mildred S. — Nobody cares if I live or die.

Ruth M. — I have been a widow for several years and I feel that I am in a good position to help a good friend of mine whose husband died a year ago. However, I am worried because Mildred does not seem to be snapping back as doesn't respond to my help.

One problem may be that Mildred is childless. I have three married children and they a n d the grandchildren keep me busy and active. But even that is not enough. I have found a lot of pleasure in going to lectures and joining women's clubs.

I feel that Mildred needs that kind of thing, but she is so reluctant to go. She refuses to go out and buy herself nice clothes and then insists she has nothing to wear. If she does go she says she feels out of place. I tell her s h e must do these things. It's good for her.

Mildred S. — Is it good for anyone to do things you don't care for and have no interest in? These lectures and women's clubs Ruth has taken me to are so boring I could hardly sit through until the end.

It is certainly no incentive to have to get up and go out to a thing like that. Sometimes I think there is just no sense in getting up in the morning at all. Just poking on my old clothes seems to take more energy than I have.

My husband was an invalid for some time before he died. No effort I made for him seemed like too much. I had boundless energy. Yet I can't seem to do a thing for myself.

I suppose if I had a lot of relatives living near me things would be different. But I have nobody who cares if I live or die.

The Council: Mildred is lucky to have as good and thoughtful a friend as Ruth, particularly in view of the fact that at this time she takes no interest in others and probably does not reciprocate Ruth's kindness. She runs a strong risk of losing even this one good friend.

Ruth should realize, however, that good advice and graciousness can serve as a spur to a down-in-the-doldrums friend but it can't do the whole job. As long as Mildred allows herself to be dragged to various functions and is unable to generate any active interest, little will be accomplished.

Mildred's reaction to her lonely widowhood is a natural one, but it is also rather dangerous if it is allowed to continue indefinitely. What Mildred is really saying is that her incentive to live is gone now that she is no longer needed by and no longer in an active personal relationship with anyone. Possibly she has an inclination to punish herself for having survived her husband.

The problem isn't unique. Many individuals find themselves in such a situation at one time or another and it takes a good deal of gumption and effort to get out of it. Mildred must realize that the passive suicide she is now involved in is futile, wasteful a n d criminal. She should try to set herself some small tasks for others. If she looks, she'll f i n d friends, neighbors and strangers who can use something that she offers — even if it's nothing but good-fellowship. Gradually sh e will find ways of giving more and taking more from her new life.

Buffet Salads

by Mary Moore

At the monthly dinner meeting this month our branch entertained the Toronto members of the Canadian Women's Press Club.

The idea was so popular we kept getting calls to increase the numbers expected from both branches.

Dinner Menus

by Mary Moore

WEDNESDAY

Broiled Baby Beef Liver and Bacon; Oven French Fries; Creamed Green Pepper Rings; Cheese-Stuffed Celery; Sago Pudding (see Tuesday); Coffee.

The hotel set up a cold buffet table in one of their loveliest rooms. The recessed lights of pale rose, and artful arrangements of flowers and fruits and foods and round tables gave it a charm that exceeded the hopes of the executive, and believe me they are a high-hoping crowd.

The Toronto girls loved it, especially when we sprung on them a quadruple barbershop quartet — in bright red cummerbunds, no less!

The salads on that buffet table were so beautiful I resolved on the spot to stress salads to you for your Christmas entertaining.

I will give them to you in six-serving amounts. You can double or triple them according to the length of your guest list.

CHEF SALAD WITH MAYONNAISE EGGS:

One half small head of lettuce, broken (not cut), into small pieces, 1-2 bunch watercress, 1-4 cucumber, sliced thin with skin left on, 10 radishes sliced thin, 1-4 cup diced celery, 2 chopped hard cooked eggs, 1 dozen rolled anchovy fillets (optional), few strips of Swiss or Cheddar cheese, garlic and French dressing. Rub salad bowl with garlic. Put all ingredients into bowl. Pour over just enough French dressing to coat greens. Toss lightly with fork and spoon until well mixed. That is your Chef Salad and now here are Mayonnaise Eggs: Hard boil one egg for each person expected. Take a small slice off the widest part, after shelling, to make egg stand up firmly. Take off the top about one-third of the way down. Gently ease out the yolk. Mix yolks, seasonings to taste and about a dessert spoonful of mayonnaise (more or less depending on the number of eggs) to make a creamy paste. Cut the tops of the eggs attractively in points or scallops, and pipe filling back in. Arrange on a lettuce leaf on a platter of their own or else use as a border around your Chef Salad bowl.

MOULDED VEGETABLE SALAD:

Two tablespoons unflavored gelatine, 1-3 cup vinegar, 1 cup each chopped celery and cabbage, 1 pimiento chopped, 1 1-2 cups water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 cup chopped bread and butter pickles, 1 head of lettuce and mayonnaise. Put gelatine in 1-2 cup water and heat gently till softened. Add vinegar, remainder of water and salt. When it is ready to set add the vegetables. Pour into a mould and chill. When ready to serve unmould on lettuce or cut into cubes and serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

CRISP CARROT AND CABBAGE SALAD.

Two cups each finely shredded carrots and cabbage, 1-3 cup each vinegar, cream that is whipped and mayonnaise. Crisp shredded carrots and cabbage in ice water, drain well. Toss cabbage in vinegar and let stand for 15 minutes in refrigerator to chill. Fold whipped cream and mayonnaise together. Drain cabbage well and add carrots and cabbage to whipped cream mayonnaise mixture, keeping a little of the mayonnaise mixture for garnish. Serve in lettuce-lined bowl.

Luxurious Loungewear

By VERA WINSTON

Velveteen is used for a lovely lounge coat that subscribes to an Oriental feeling. The soft fabric is a jewel tone deep green with gold embroidered binding at the collar, the high - placed waistband and down each side. The sides are slit to reveal a facing of yellow satin, thus completing a luxurious home attraction.

Men Started To Laugh at Sack, Chemise

Los Angeles (AP)—That bunch of adolescent designers in Paris may not care what men think of women's clothes, but out here in California we do. We know men pay the bills.

Howard Greer, business man as well as couturier, makes the common sense of his collection of elegant and wearable feminine fashions for resort and spring. He adds:

"Women can't bear to be laughed at by the men in their lives. That's the real reason for the quick and merciful death of the sack, the chemise and all those other little horrors dreamed up by the boy wonders of Paris.

"When men stop ogling and start laughing, it's time women take a second look, and mend their ways."

Greer doesn't object to shorter skirts — neither do most other men, he observes. He also indulges in some revealing necklines, and puts flattering fluffs of organdie or marquisette like a frosting above slim black sheath dresses.

Irene is another who refuses to be coerced into distorting the natural feminine proportions. The designer, most of whose outfits have price tags of $500 and up, shows a group of streamlined meticulously tailored suits which definitely recognize the waist line.

She shows a number of strictly fabulous evening gowns, introducing a "pouf" silhouette, in which the full skirt is short in front and trails the floor in back. She tops it with a "pouf" cape, which she calls "a dream of motion."

Greer and Irene, whose showings climaxed a week of fashion previous here, represent the top echelon of the California designers. Both have dressed some of Hollywood's most glamorous stars for many years.

Safety Code For Gas Service Is Recommended

By KEN KELLY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — A recommendation for establishment of a code to ensure safe operation of gas services in Ontario has resulted from an inquiry into the capital's Oct. 23 explosion.

The suggestion was made by a coroner's jury which found the blast that claimed one life has resulted in millions of dollars damages in the centre-town business district was caused by an explosive mixture of gas and air.

The verdict, rendered shortly before midnight Monday after almost four days of hearings and seven hours of deliberation by the jury, was that gas entered the basement of the Addressograph-Multigraph Company building at the blast centre through an uncapped gas service pipe.

The gas system here, bought by Consumers Gas of Toronto in 1957, was built in 1916 and carried manufactured gas until introduction of natural gas this year.

The jury concentrated largely on its safety recommendations after stating its first finding that William Anderson, 65 - year - old caretaker in the Addressograph Multigraph Company building and the only fatality died Oct. 30 of second- and third-degree burns complicated by pneumonia and shock.

Testimony on the safety question during the hearing was that neither the Ontario Fuel Board nor the municipality has the power to require gas distribution systems to operate in a particular way as a safety measure. Responsibility for safety of service lines and mains and piping behind gas rested solely with the gas distributor.

In addition to establishment of a safety code, the jury recommended that:

1. "The provincial government designate a board with the authority to inspect all gas distribution services in the province for the purpose of ensuring safety and proper installation and maintenance.

2. "Records and plans of all gas distributing installations be maintained at local government offices.

2. "No installation for gas distributing services be allowed without a permit from the proper authority."

The recommendation about records and plans being available at local government offices grew out of testimony that such records and plans are not in existence here for installations prior to this year.

Only gas company records of customers and installations showed where there were service lines, and maps in the company's possession showed gas mains.

The Ontario Fuel Board put into effect shortly after the explosion another recommendation by the jury that all gas service lines on which no gas meter has been installed or from which the meter has been removed be disconnected outside the building.

However, A. R. Crozier, fuel board chairman, testified at the hearing that he isn't sure of the board's legal ground in making the order.

IRAQIS SENTENCED

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — A former director general of Iraq's radio, Brig. Mclaeo Mohammed Ali, was sentenced to 11 years at hard labor by a military tribunal Monday for broadcasts insulting President Nasser of the United Arab Republic. The director of the radio station, Kadhum Alhaidery, received five years at hard labor for rewriting and reading the comments.

RAWDON

W.M.S. and WA Hold Joint Meeting

RAWDON — A joint meeting of Mount Pleasant-Rawdon Woman's Missionary Society and W.A. was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Ralph Jeffs with 25 ladies in attendance.

Mrs. Don Johnson opened the W.A. with a call to worship, hymn and prayer. The reports were read by Mrs. Frank Spencer and Mrs. Raymond McConnell.

Invitations were read from Shiloh W.A. and St. Paul's W.A. This group is catering to a banquet and a sale in December.

The vice-president of the WMS took charge. The treasurer reported a total to date of almost $344. The autumn thankoffering was $40. The report of the secretary was read and Mrs. Earl McAdam read a letter of thanks.

The report of the nominating committee was read and the pastor, the Rev. W. G. Fletcher, conducted the election of officers for 1959.

Mrs. Gordon Linn, supply secretary, received a letter from Mrs. Neelands, outlining the requirements for next June and suggesting articles for port workers and personal parcels to missionaries as well as overseas relief.

TAKE SALE

The Mission Band is holding a bake sale in November and the Baby Band will sell candy sale in December.

The W.M.S. Christmas meeting will be held at Rawdon parsonage with Mrs. W. G. Fletcher as hostess. All mite boxes or Baby Band and auxiliary are to be handed in at this meeting or soon afterwards. In order that the all-union c. [illegible] may be reached.

The friendship calls were recorded. Donnie Campbell gathered the offering which was dedicated.

Mrs. John Muilberon synopsized the chapter on "Canada" from "Concerns of a Continent."

One noted writer in the United States has said that Canada has social and moral reforms, but it is still a religious nation, and people know about the books of the Bible in Canada.

Church extension is a great concern and the United Church continues to build a new church or church hall everyhird day. The rural churches are proud of their contribution of recruits. Without a doubt church extension is a mighty force for evangelism. Church union in 1925 was a boon for the small churches in the northwest. Today in all the churches of Canada there are devoted groups typical to Rawdon. Let us be selfish of the church to others. There seems to be an all-inclusive concern of the Christians of Canada that man must co-operate with the will of God.

The citizenship secretary read a message on "Personal Evangelism."

Mrs. Ernest Spencer presided over the program based on "Remembrance" and all sang "A Mother Race."

Mrs. Percy MacMullen offered prayer for the prayer partner, Miss Hedwig Barilla, of Vancouver, B.C., for all missionaries serving at home and abroad, and for those homes whose loved ones paid the supreme sacrifice.

Mrs. John Hulmes read the Bible lesson from Joshua, and Mrs. Kenneth Weaver gave a reading on the theme, "Memorial Stones." She paid tribute to the fallen, also to Edith Cavell and David Livingstone.

Mrs. Carleton Potts, Mrs. Wm. McAdam and Mrs. Mac Sharp rendered a trio, "The Voice of the People."

Mrs. Frank Jeffs arranged a missionary tour from coast to coast, using material from "Missionaries Reporting," and she introduced each one on the map. They were: Stella Burry, St. John's, Newfoundland, read by Mrs. Don Johnson; Aileen Ralz, Pope John XXIII chats with Msgr. Domenico Tardini, right, in the Vatican after he named Tardini full secretary of state and a few hours later nominated him to become a cardinal of the Roman Catholic church. CAMPBELLFORD

Drawings Nearly Completed for New High School

CAMPBELLFORD — At the regular meeting of the Northumberland High School Board, the chairman told the board that the working drawings for the addition to the Campbellford High School were nearing completion. Tuesday was the date set for a meeting of the board with the architect in view and discuss these plans. The architect assured the chairman that the addition would be ready for use in September 1959.

Correspondence included a letter of resignation from Mrs. Nancy Smith of the Warkworth High School staff and a letter from the Department of National Defence stating that the department cannot accept any responsibility for cadets firing on the range in the gymnasium until such time as it meets required safety standards.

TO PURCHASE GESTETNER

Authorization was given for the purchase of an electric Gestetner multimatic duplicating machine according to the quotation received from the Gestetner company including the premium of a Spirit duplicator.

Mr. Harling of the Cambellford school reported that 152 students are enrolled in the student accident insurance policy, and an additional 25 students are expected to subscribe to this protection. Arrangements were made to offer this policy to the Warkworth high school students.

Mr. Chynoweth reported that the enrollment at the Warkworth High School is now 87. "Commencement exercises will be held for that school on November 27th and 28th.

Accounts presented were approved for payment and the meeting adjourned.

Roslin

ROSLIN — Congratulations are in order for Miss Leslie Woodward of S.S. No. 19, Thurlow, Roslin School, who came first in the township public speaking competition, held at Plainfield hall on Wednesday evening. Winners of township honors will compete for county honors later in Belleville. She spoke on "The Life of Sir Winston Churchill."

November this year has been particularly mild and on Wednesday afternoon a large flock of wild geese were seen flying slowly southward.

On Thursday evening the Women's Institute held a community supper in the St. Paul's parish hall, with approximately 100 present. The guest speaker was the warden of the county, Mr. Lloyd Price, who gave an interesting address. Later games were enjoyed.

Will Pledge Part Of Pay for Work On New Hospital

LINDSAY (CP)—Members of the Lindsay local of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America have decided to pledge part of their wages to the building campaign fund if union members are employed on the contract for the proposed new extension to the Ross Memorial Hospital here.

The carpenters and joiners have communicated their offer to the board of governors by way of a letter from the union's business agent in Peterborough, Doug Craigs.

Mr. Craigs said Monday that in his experience as a union official he had never previously heard of a similar gesture.

He said that in his letter to the board of governors, he had suggested the deduction scheme be operated on a basis of voluntary pledges signed by the workers themselves. Deductions could then be made at wage source.

TALKED IT OVER

President of the Lindsay local, Eddie McLaren, said Monday some of his men had suggested giving as much as a day's pay per month but they had finally agreed on a minimum of two hours' pay per month.

"The men would still be free, though, to give more if they wished," he said.

Mr. McLaren said that even at a minimum of two hours a month, each union member would be contributing more than $1, if the contract lasted three months, the individual contribution would be about $40 a man.

It is expected that the union letter will be considered at a meeting of the board of governors this week to award the tender for the big contract.

U.K.-RUSSIA MOVIE

MOSCOW (AP)—Film producer Desmond O'Donovan announced plans Monday for the first joint British-Soviet movie. It will be a drama based on the crash of an air transport in the Arctic. Thousands of Fair Visitors Get Peek at Blue-Dotted Pig

TORONTO (CP)—Thousands of visitors to the Royal Winter Fair are taking their first peek at a blue-dotted pig that can be eaten and whose breeders think will be around for a long time.

The pig, from the Tweedie Farms at Fergus, Ont., is one of the biggest sideline attractions at the eight-day agricultural and livestock fair, scheduled to end Saturday.

Jack Tweedie, an importer and breeder, says large crowds are showing steady interest in his odd animal, a cross between a Landrace boar and Large Black English sow.

An interesting fact about the pig is that its blue dots—concentrated mainly around the rump and neck—disappear before its carcass is cut up and shipped off. The blue spots on the white-haired animal are caused by skin pigmentation.

Mr. Tweedie believes breeders will be interested in the blue-dotted animal. The sow on display, born in February, 1957, has given birth to 33 pigs in less than a year.

In international horse jumping Tuesday, American riders dominated competition over a 12 - obstacle 345 - yard course.

Top two animals sold were females with the highest price going for Inglewood Maggie, consigned by Robert Gullett of Welland, and bought by $1,500 by William Reid of Brampton.

Judged senior and grand champion Ayrshire cow was Sunnydale Alice 7th, owned by Donald MacIntyre of Ormstown, Que., and reserve going to Peggy Anne, entered by Stansell Brothers, Aylmer.

Jack Fraser of Concord won the junior championship Guernsey cow award with Fraserdale Rex's Henrietta and Kingfield Farms of King, entering Kingsheven Acme's Connie 4th, was reserve.

The junior get - of - sire class went to J. E. McCague of Alliston. J. M. Fraser of Streetsville won the premier breeder award, with Romandale Farms, of Gormley, runners. Sheffield Farms took the Premier Exhibitor Trophy, with Pickard and Clark second.

Housewives' Changing Habits Widen Food Price Spread Retailers Tell Commission

OTTAWA (CP)—Changing habits of housewives and new methods in processing are factors in widening the gap between farm and consumer prices, two retail groups said today.

The Retail Merchants' Association of Canada Inc., in a brief to the Stewart royal commission on price spreads of food products, said 1,500,000 Canadian women—co-partners of the labor force—work outside the home.

"It is not surprising that the Canadian woman looks for time-saving features in food products and is prepared to pay a premium for them," said the association speaking for merchants transacting 87 per cent of the nation's food business.

A generation ago, the average Canadian housewife spent 3.5 hours a day preparing meals for a family of four. Today the figure was 1.6.

Freeing the housewife from the kitchen meant new wrinkles in food production. These innovations cost money, interposing new charges between farmer and consumer.

"A comparison of potatoes on a Prince Edward Island farm with the same potatoes washed, graded and bagged in a supermarket elsewhere in Canada and would be much the same as comparing the utility of iron ore to that of steel in its variety of finished forms."

Briefs also were presented by General Mills, a United States company in the Canadian market-lower costs per sale.

Catholic Parley Hears Fulton's Speech by Phone

WINNIPEG (CP) — Justice Minister Fulton addressed the Canadian Catholic Social Life Conference here Tuesday night by telephone from his office in Ottawa.

Mr. Fulton read his speech by long-distance telephone and it was amplified at Winnipeg for an audience. Poor flying conditions had forced cancellation of a planned flight to Winnipeg.

Last year Mr. Fulton gave an address in this way to an English-Speaking Union audience in Vancouver.

Mr. Fulton said Christians tend to be indifferent to the sphere of action where they are most likely to defend their citizenship.

The battle with communism was being considered in the material sphere where the forces were about evenly divided and in the realm of morals and ideals. It was in this area that communism could be beaten "because we have all the resources and they have none".

WOULD REVERSE TREND

A Saskatchewan newspaper editor told the conference definite steps should be taken to reduce the number of working wives and mothers.

Grant Maxwell, editorial writer with the Saskatoon Star-Phoenix, said there are more than 600,000 women in Canada who have regular jobs.

The effect on family life is "beyond calculation," he said.

Springhill Group Off to Georgia For Holiday

BOSTON (CP)—Men who survived the Springhill mine disaster in Nova Scotia ran in a field of 1,000 as many Georgia today with their families, confident the community had happened to them at last.

The Springhill group, 46 in all including 30 children, spent the night in a Boston hotel because a blizzard closed in over New York, where they were to transfer to a southbound American Air Lines plane after a TCA charter flight from Halifax.

After a noon stop in Baltimore today, the group was to fly on to Jacksonville, Fla. Two buses were scheduled to meet the Canadians there and take them to Jekyll Island, Ga., where they will be guests of Governor Marvin Griffin.

But the party are mulatto miner Maurice Ruddick, his wife and four of their 12 children. They had no accommodation apart from the others in accord with Georgia's laws against mixing of the races.

"Things seem to be going our way at last," said Gorley Kempt, 37, entombed 6½ days after the upheaval in Cumberland No. 2 mine at Springhill that took 74 lives.

"After the explosion in 1956, and then the fire, and then this latest disaster, surely there was something good for us."

Two Canadian Missionaries Wounded in Cuba

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two Canadians have been shot in a fresh attack by Cuban rebels near Havana Sunday, their parents in Vancouver and church here Tuesday that there is "no danger" for them.

Marguerite Kern, 36, of Vancouver and Edgar Warr, 38, of Port Iberni, B.C., are missionaries for the Canadian Evangelistic Tabernacle.

Rev. J. H. Nicholls, pastor at Miss Kern's church here, said he believes the shootings were an act of terrorism but not connected with the fact that he couple are missionaries.

Church officials here described Mr. Warr as one of their finest missionaries. Mr. and Mrs. Hern and their daughter went to Cuba in July. The daughter was an English teacher at a grade school there.

Reports from Havana said the couple's jeep was fired on by rebels. Mr. Warr lost his right eye and Miss Kern was shot in both feet.

Eleven rebels and four policemen were killed Monday night in a running gunfight that followed the earlier attack on the Canadians.

Boeing Jetliner Beats Comet in Atlantic Race

NEW YORK (Reuters)—A Pan-American Boeing 707 jet airliner landed at Idlewild airport Tuesday 3 hours 45 minutes and 2 seconds ahead of its British Comet 4C jet it had been steadily overtaking throughout the 3,500-mile journey from London.

The smaller British Overseas Airways Corporation plane, with 58 passengers and a crew of 10, took off from London at 5:34 a.m. EST. The Boeing took off 36 minutes later, with 67 passengers and a crew of 16.

The Comet beat the Boeing out of Gander by 13 minutes, only to be overtaken en route to New York.

The American plane made the journey in an elapsed time of nine hours, five minutes, and a flying time of seven hours, 27 minutes.

The British plane had an elapsed time of nine hours, 56 minutes and a flying time of eight hours, 20 minutes.

Commonwealth Initiative Seen Canada's Now

LONDON (CP)—"For good or ill," Lord Hailsham said Tuesday night, "Canada now has assumed a position of initiative in Commonwealth affairs.

And the lord president of the Conservative party added: "We in Britain regard it as why to be good."

He told a Canada Club dinner meeting that this new initiative was underlined by Prime Minister Diefenbaker when he addressed an audience of nearly 2,000 in London several weeks ago.

"In preaching with his incomparable fervor . . . he was asserting, perhaps less obviously, but nonetheless inescapably, Canada's rights and willingness to undertake obligations hitherto tacitly assumed to be the exclusive province of the United Kingdom itself."

NEW AGE

"Canada," said Lord Hailsham, "has inaugurated a new age in Commonwealth development."

It now was up to every country in the Commonwealth to do its part.

George Drew, Canadian high commissioner in London, and chairman of the meeting, said that "in the lifetime of our children Canada will become one of the greatest nations in the world. He predicted a population of 40,000,000 by 1980, when the value of the country's trade would be "over $100,000,000,000."

Missing Wife Of Air Attache Found Killed

JERUSALEM (AP)—The missing wife of Britain's air attache in Israel was found today, shot to death 150 yards from the Syrian-Israeli border.

She had been shot in the stomach.

The woman was Mrs. Kenneth C. Doran, 47, head of the British consulate in Haifa, a resort house on the Sea of Galilee and had not returned from a walk Monday.

UN truce teams began an investigation.

Pearson Won't Let PC Chief Forget Unemployment Pledge Made Last General Election

OTTAWA (CP) — Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson has accused the Progressive Conservatives of turning the government into a confusing and bewildering piece of "show business."

He said there have been so many contradictions between Conservative words and actions that the country's economy has been jeopardized.

He promised he never would allow Prime Minister Diefenbaker to forget his pledge that "not one Canadian will suffer from unemployment while I'm in office."

"I believe," said Mr. Pearson, "that any single Canadian looking for a job is suffering from unemployment."

And he warned that the "government better do something" about the "real and serious danger" resulting from the "costly and mismanaged" $6,000,000,000 Victory Bond conversion program.

Mr. Pearson spoke before an audience of some 600, gathering to honor him at a Liberal Federation advisory council banquet. He drew repeated applause and laughter.

Cheers and standing applause also went to former Ontario premier Louis St. Laurent who at 76, presided over the banquet ex-officio.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Conservative party leaders ranging from defence to the decline in the dollar's purchasing power. Looking back, Liberals now could realize "there is no reason to think for what we have been able to do in the past."

President Smallwood of Newfoundland said he would never agree to having the Liberals revert to the "Madison Avenue advertising trickery" allegedly used by the Conservatives in the last election.

Mr. St. Laurent assured him Mr. Pearson would carry his campaigns in the "good old traditions of Canada."

During the day, in answer to questions from the floor, Mr. Pearson touched also on several issues.

He suggested it was time Chiang Kai-shek pulled his forces out of the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu. The U.S., by protecting it would defend the offshore islands against the Communist Chinese had engaged in "adventurism" that could involve Canada.

Diefenbaker And Nehru Chat For 90 Minutes

NEW DELHI (CP) — Canadian Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Indian leader Jawaharlal Nehru got together on a sofa and a 90-minute talk today on world affairs, especially Asian problems.

But courses said afterwards that they did not deal directly with the problem of Kashmir—the disputed area that has caused a deep rift between the two major Commonwealth nations in Asia, India and Pakistan.

They had a private exchange views on the situation in Pakistan, where Gen. Ayub Khan took power in a bloodless, virtually martial law.

Nehru has been critical of Pakistan's swing to authoritarian rule. But it is understood that Diefenbaker left Nehru unmoire and former Acoric president, and Clifford Buller, former general manager of "Wash trading" is artificial trading of shares without change in their ownership to boost stock prices by giving the appearance of heavy trading activity.

Under cross - examination, Dr. Bliss admitted his shares were not confined to Acoric stock. He said he had a trading account with Pooler and Company and speculated in the market for five years.

Earlier, Mrs. Raymond Duncan of Montreal, secretary to Buller from March, 1955, to last December, testified that her name had been used without her consent for trading in accounts with stock-brokers.

The trial is in its third week.

Lost Thousands Trading in Stock Says Witness

TORONTO (CP) — Dr. H. C. Bliss, an orthodontist practising in Toronto since 1937, testified Tuesday that he lost thousands of dollars on the stock exchange because he took the word of William Buller that he (Buller) would be handled most deals in Toronto involving Acoric stock.

Dr. Bliss said he purchased 2,000 shares of Acoric in 1957 at $2.50 a share from Ramsey Securities Ltd. of St. John. Pooler Company, on Ramsey's assurance it would go to $15 within a month.

More than $1,000,000 was lost when Acoric stock plunged in August, 1957. On the Toronto exchange it fell from a high of $9 to $1 a share from more than $10.

WOMAN SUFFERS BURNS

TORONTO (CP) — One woman suffered burns and 15 other persons, including three children, were forced out of their apartments Tuesday night when fire of unknown origin swept through a three-storey building on downtown Queen Street. Mrs. Louise Spence, 62, was taken to hospital suffering severe burns to her face, arms and legs.

FATHER GETS 10 YEARS

EDMONTON (CP) — Alfred Edwyn Bompas was sentenced Tuesday night to 10 years in penitentiary after he was convicted by an Alberta Supreme Court jury on a reduced charge of manslaughter. Bompas, 45, had originally been charged with murder in the beating death of his 12-year-old son.

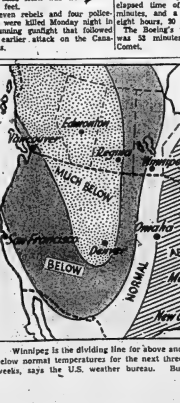
Political Experts Predict Another Victory for Menzies

CANBERRA (CP)—Five million Australians will be asked a new government Saturday, and most of the political experts predict another term of office for the Liberal-Country party coalition led by Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies.

But once said more people are saying that the Labor party, led by Dr. Herbert Vere Evatt, has a chance. Evatt has promised more family benefits and some tax concessions — among these making all rates to and from work an income tax deduction.

The Menzies government has 75 members in the old House of Representatives, which was 1 voting seats. The Labor party had 47.

Labor would need a gain of about 13 seats to win, and an eight-per-cent swing in the vote would be necessary.



'JESTER LABOR GAIN

Even the most conservative experts concede a slight swing to Labor, with the government losing four or five seats. Menzies and his colleagues attribute this trend to a natural reaction against a government in office a long time and to Labor's attractive "bread and butter" promises. The government contends the latter would bring inflation.

Australia uses the single-transferable-vote system of preferential balloting for the lower house; full proportional representation for the Senate.

It is in the Senate, where government and opposition groups have been deadlocked with 30 seats each, that the Menzies coalition hopes to make its best showing. There is a good chance that the government will regain a majority.

Half the Senate comes up for election each three years. This year 32 seats are at stake because of vacancies caused by deaths.

CAMPBELLFORD

St, Mary's PTA Holds Nov. Meeting

CAMPBELLFORD — The November meeting of St. Mary's P.T.A. was held this week, presided by an executive meeting. Sister Edwina read the opening prayer and minutes of the last meeting were given by Mrs. R. O'Connor.

The matter of uniforms for the school children which was proposed at a previous meeting was discussed at some length and Sister Edwina gave a report on this. It was finally put to a vote by ballot, and the matter was defeated.

Mr. Paul Coughlin outlined the budget for the P.T.A., and it was decided to have a card party and dance on November 21st to help raise funds.

Guest speaker, Father J. Collins, of Norwood, was introduced by Mr. James Forestell. Father Collins urged the P.T.A. to organize workshops and panel discussions to more effectively carry out the work of the lay apostle.

President, Mr. Andrew Moxta, thanked the speaker.

Miss M. Quinn's room won the attendance prize for the evening. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. R. Nuttall and her committee.

Alaska Election Steams Into Final Phase This Week

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Alaska's first state election campaign, boiling for nearly four months, steams into its final phase this week.

A new series of issues makes cloudy at best any effort to forecast the outcome of the Nov. 25 voting.

Two major developments during the last two weeks could affect the result.

The other was an announcement by Interior Secretary Fred Seaton, stumping here for Republican candidates. He said the 1956 Alaska fishing regulation proposals would contain a ban on salmon traps.

It probably won't be known until the votes are counted whether the Republican bid for favor on the ancient Alaska fish trap issue would offset the considerable weight of the Democratic election gains elsewhere.

At stake are two seats in the United States Senate, one seat in the House of Representatives, and control of the state government through Alaska's first elected governor.

Democrat E. L. (Bob) Bartlett generally is conceded election to the Senate. Major interest centres on the other Senate race between two former Alaska governors, Democrat Ernest Gruening and Republican Mike Stepovich.

Some 35,000 Alaskans are expected to vote.

Clair Says Rough Riders Will Give It Good Try on Saturday

OTTAWA (CP) — Now is the time for Ottawa Rough Riders to be consistent in their inconsistency.

Translation of this apparent double-talk: Riders must bounce back at Hamilton Saturday in the second game of the Big Four football union's home - and - home, total-points final, after taking a 35-7 pasting from the Tiger-Cats in the opener here last week.

"All we can do on Saturday is give a real big try," coach Frank Clair said Tuesday.

"We won't be as fresh as Hamilton and I don't know will be on us," he said. "With that 28-point cushion they'll be loose and can gamble. We won't be able to take too many chances."

Ups and Downs

But to get back to Riders' inconsistency. The Ottawa story during the 14-game schedule, ending with a third - place finish, reads like a cliff-hanger. On top one Saturday, in the depths the next.

After three exhibition wins, Riders opened here with a 44-7 victory over Toronto Argonauts and then they mustered seven straight losses, 12-9 and 11-9 to Hamilton and Montreal Alouettes.

They bounced back with a 17-1 over Ails, lost 24-0 to Hamilton, came back 17-14 and 28-4 over Argos. Then they lost 14-1 to Hamilton.

On Thanksgiving weekend, Riders crushed Ails 49-21 on Saturday, then promptly were slapped down in a reversal of form by Montreal, 38-0. Then they took it on the chin 41-0 and 43-24 from Toronto, before winning their only game from Tients here 14-0 in the last game of the season.

Then they were knocked in Hamilton 27-0, only to rear back four days later at Montreal and whip the second-place Alouettes in the series-finish semi-final, 25-12 with Pete Martin, Ottawa centre, scoring a touchdown.

Then came last Saturday's crushing.

So, if the pattern holds, Riders could come up with a win in Hamilton Saturday. The question is: Can they do it by 29 points, to wipe out the Tiats' bulge in the total-points series, and go on to the Grey Cup game in Vancouver Nov. 29?

Clair says his players through defensive drills Tuesday night, keeping in mind a solution to Hamilton's lonesome quarterback" formation that surprised everybody here last Saturday.

Everybody but the coaches thought it was new, Ticats' coach Jim Trimble admitted it was an adaptation of Chicago Cardinals' offence, developed by Paddy (Pop) Ivy of Edmonton Eskimos fame.

Clair said there was nothing new in it.

"We've been doing the same thing for a month, except that we have the quarterback in the regular field, instead of in the end zone, instead of taking the snap deep behind the line of scrimmage."

The formation hurt his ex-club "in a couple of times," but Trimble could have used the Notre Dame box or anything else and still have beaten us.

Stan Musial Will Play Regularly Again Next Year

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Stan Musial's play in Japan has convinced St. Louis manager Solly Hemus that the seven-time batting champion will be his starting left fielder next year.

"He's not in the grave yet," Hemus said of Musial who'll be 38 next week. Stan is normally a first baseman although he has also played the outfield before.

Solly and the St. Louis Cardinals returned Tuesday from a triumphant tour of Japan in which the Cards lost only twice in 15 games.

"Musial doesn't have the strongest arm in the league," Hemus told a press luncheon. "But he gets the ball away quickly. No one in the league is going to run on him."

Japanese baseball, he said, is about equal to a class-A baseball point.

Barrie Flyers Defeat Teepees In Rough Game

ST. CATHARINES (CP) — The powerful St. Catharines Teepees can be humbled and Barrie Flyers Tuesday night became the second team this season to prove it as they beat Teeps 5-2 in a penalty-studded Ontario Hockey Association junior A game.

Flyers' win bounced them back into third place, one point ahead of Toronto St. Michael's and Guelph Biltmore Mad Hatters. Ted Nash, Teepees, who lost their only other game out of 1-14 this season to Biltmore, stay out in front with 21 points, five ahead of Peterborough TPT.

Dale Lesslie led the way for Flyers with two goals in the first period. Dale Rolfe fired another for the visitors in the same period and Danny Patrick the other.

In the 16th minute of the second Chiko Maki made it 3-2. Maki's goal put him in third-place tie with Pates' Bill Mahoney in the individual scoring ranks at 20 points each.

TEEPS SERVE TIME

Teepees were handicapped by penalties and drew 44 of the 59 minutes handed out by referee Lou Marcon. Midway through a heavy third period Teeps' defence-man Jim Ferguson threw a mock punch and a match penalty for allegedly slugging the opposition's Barry Ashbee with his stick.

Later in the same period Ashbee and Rita drew majors for fighting.

Wayne Connelly of Peterborough and Stan Mikita of St. Catharines are tied for first place in Teepees scoring with 25 points each.

Tests Disclose Red Schoendienst Has Tuberculosis

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Tests have disclosed that second baseman Red Schoendienst definitely has tuberculosis and probably will not play baseball next season, Milwaukee Braves announced Tuesday.

The announcement came from Dr. Ray Martin, Schoendienst's physician. Schoendienst now is a patient at Mount St. Rose Sanitorium in St. Louis. The doctor said: "We are optimistic about a successful recovery."

The 35-year-old infielder entered a St. Louis hospital about 10 days ago for a checkup.

Don Newcombe Fails to Show Up in Court

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Don Newcombe failed to appear in court Tuesday to plead to an atrocious assault and battery indictment.

Assistant county judge James R. Giuliano said he will issue a bench warrant for the Cincinnati Redlegs' hurler if he doesn't show up Monday.

Newcomber's attorney, Morris Barnett, assured the court that Newcombe would be back in town by Sunday. He is barnstorming in Mexico. He is accused of blinding former policeman Ulysses Ross in the tavern the pitcher owns.

Don's two brothers, Harold and Norman appeared in court and entered not guilty pleas in the Ross case.

Harold is under indictment for possession of a gun with intent to use and Norman is under indictment for atrocious assault and battery. Giuliano set $1,500 bail for each.

Winnipeg Game Will Be Played Despite Storm

WINNIPEG (CP)—The West's representative in the Grey Cup clashes could be decided this very night when Winnipeg Blue Bombers and Edmonton Eskimos meet in the second game of the Western Interprovincial Football Union final series.

Bombers take the field at 8 p.m. EST with a 29-0 edge after victory already achieved in the first - of - three series. Eskimos must defeat Bombers by a margin of not less Saturday to stay alive.

Sportsmen here in Winnipeg might be postponed was stirred Tuesday when a fierce blizzard dumped more than 12 inches of snow on Winnipeg. However, footballers remained confident Sydney Halter said the game must go on.

MUST PLAY ON

"The game has to be played and that's all there is to it," he said Tuesday night. "If it isn't, it'll be weather has an ill effect on the expected attendance. We have a schedule to keep and we must stick by it."

British Columbia Lions offered the use of Empire Stadium in Vancouver for Saturday and Sunday if necessary, but the offer was not taken up.

The field here was covered by a tarpaulin estimated to be carrying 10 tons of sand and underneath was reported in good condition.

However, practice fields had no such protection. Neither the Bombers nor Eskimos had arrived here by plane, were able to get in a workout Tuesday.

The weather at game time is expected to be cloudy with the possibility of snowflurries and a temperature of 15 to 20 degrees. The wind is expected to be from the west at 15 miles an hour.

If Eskimos win tonight the third game is scheduled here for Saturday afternoon.

The main question appeared to be how close the teams would be to full strength for the game. Back Lew Lewis of the Bombers is nursing a toe injury and may not be able to go at top speed. The other major Winnipeg casualty is Fullback Ken Ploen, speed, who may be restricted to punting by a hip injury.

Injured Halfback Ralph Pfeifer is expected to be back with Eskimos. He missed the first game because of the death of his father in the United States and Eskimos' other first-string halfback, Don Flynn, is suffering from a rib injury.

A small crowd is expected due to the cold, difficulties in getting to the stadium because of the heavy snow and because of the superiority Bombers have shown over Edmonton so far this year. Bombers have beaten Eskimos in all five games played.

Getting Right Answer Not So Important to Henry Morgan

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry Morgan is a panelist of I've Got a Secret who refuses to believe that getting the right answer is a life or death matter.

As a matter of fact, Morgan once went for six months on the panel quiz show Wednesdays, 9:30 p.m. EST, CBS-TV) without guessing anything correctly.

"Nobody seemed to notice it," he said the other day. "I scarcely noticed it myself. Audiences generally like that panelists are dumber than they are anyway, and rather have fun on the show than get the right answer."

I've Got a Secret, with Garry Moore as host, has been on television seven years now. Morgan has been on panel three or four weeks after the program began. Secret panelists have been Bill Cullen and Betsy Palmer. The roles vacated recently by Jayne Meadows will be filled by various guests.

BATTLE OF SEXES

Morgan believes that in general among TV quiz panelists "women have a better time than men when they fail to come up with the right answer. I suppose it comes back to the battle of the sexes. They want to prove that they're bright as men."

In his opinion the most interesting type of guest who appears on I've Got a Secret is "somebody quite old who has accomplished something worthwhile."

Inclined to be pessimistic whereas the radio and television industry always seems to wear a fixed optimistic smile), Morgan nevertheless scrutinizes every sign of intelligent programs of conversation refleeting to television.

"I've been waiting for the day," he said, "when some quiz ally could go on television and talk about Ideas and things. There are signs of it now in Edmurrow's Small World and in that sort of conversation Author Godfrey had on his morning show with Jacqui Gleason.

"OH WE'RE DEAD"

"That sort of thing has to come back or we're all dead. Television used to be very courageous in its early years when it had to be inventive. Then it got carried away by the idea of enormous ratings. I've Got a Secret is an exception to that general trend!

"As a result of so many programs refusing to try to have fun with things and ideas a good many adults have become apathetic to television. In most homes these days the kids control the set—and how many kids have the money to buy the things the sponsors are advertising!"

Hollywood's Glamor Girls Find Going Pretty Tough

By BB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — As filmdom's tough enough for Hollywood's glamor girls, complains one of them, Frank Sinatra is making a movie with Florida lovelies.

Barbara is one of the small army of beauties who try to make a living here from being a model, showgirl or decoration in movies. And the going has been tough, she says.

"They're making so many westerns now," she observes. "That's hard on us girls who don't ride horses."

But the unkindest blow came when Sinatra took a company of 100 to shoot A Hole in the Head in Miami. The script calls for a flock of beauteous bobes.

Producer-director Frank Capra made this reply: "Pretty girls are the same the world over. I'm not Hollywood, and I'd like to use Hollywood girls. But it is economically sounder for me to hire Florida girls." . . .

Here are two of the plays that brought Winnipeg Blue Bombers into the Western Interprovincial Football Union final. Top is the Bombers' Option Pass or Run play. Quarterback Jim Van Pelt (86)—fakes a handoff to fullback Charlie Shepard (91) who dives over centre. Van Pelt also fakes to halfback Leo Lewis (99) who continues toward right end. Van Pelt bootlegs to the left and throws to either ends Frank Gilliam (74) or Ernie Pitts (77). Another potential pass receiver is half Kenny Ploen (89) who goes down deep. Bottom is Winnipeg's End Run. Van Pelt (86) fakes handoff to Shepard (91) who cuts between centre and right guard. Half Leo Lewis (99) takes handoff, continues wide around the right side behind blocking from guards Cornell Piper (58) and Ed Kotowich (56) and half John Varone (43). Gilliam (74) and Ploen (89) go down and out as pass decoys. (CP Photo).

Winnipeg Bombers Loaded With Talent, Rolled Through Season With 13-3 Record

By AL VICKERY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG (CP)—A year ago Winnipeg Blue Bombers practically limped into Toronto for a Grey Cup date with Hamilton Tiger-Cats. The walking wounded list was formidable, but the worst was yet to come.

Bombers absorbed a 32-7 lacing from the Big Four football champions and, to add to their woes, Gerry James suffered broken knuckles on his right hand in the first quarter that led to costly fumbles, and quarterback Kenny Ploen hobbled off the field in the third quarter with an injured leg. That finished Bombers for the day.

The old injury jinx stuck around this year. James, the hard-rock young Regina-born all-star fullback, went out for the season early in the schedule with a broken leg. Ploen followed him to the sidelines mid-September with a shoulder injury.

LOTS OF TALENT

But the Bombers, loaded with talent, whipped through the 16-game schedule with a 13-3 won-lost record that gave them first place and a bye into the best-of-three finals. Ploen, former lows star, returned to the lineup after missing six games, but as a halfback. Coach Bud Grant inserted Michigan's Jimmy Van Pelt into the quarterback slot and the 2-year-old was a tremendous success.

Bombers had lost two games—to Saskatchewan Roughriders and Calgary Stampeders—when Van Pelt went in cold at quarterback in Calgary Sept. 13. Bombers won that game 20-7, added five more victories before losing 16-8 to the last-place British Columbia Lions Oct. 11 and then won the next three, all with Van Pelt in the signal-calling slot.

Bombers topped the five-team league in scoring with 361 points while holding the opposition to a measly 122 points—an average of 11.3 a game.

The highlight in their drive to the top was four straight victories over Edmonton Eskimos. That was the first time a club had scored a sweep over the Eskimos since Calgary Stampeders turned the trick in 1948. Eskimos had topped the league standings the last four years but this season dropped to second place, seven points behind Bombers.

SWITCHED IMPORTS

Grant, former Bomber end who took over the coaching job a year ago, made several import switches following the injuries to James and Ploen. He finally wound up naming Ploen as one of his 12 Americans to complete the season.

Operating out of the T-formation and its variations, Grant had a well-balanced attack working all season with his quarterbacks and halves running and throwing.

The switch of Ploen to half gave them added passing strength. Halfback Leo Lewis, third-year import from St. Paul, Minn., and fullback Charley Shepard from North Texas State took turns at pitching passes along with Van Pelt. Ends Ernie Pitts from the University of Denver and Frank Gilliam of State University of Iowa along with Lewis were the best receivers.

Shepard topped Bomber scorers with 76 points, 10 more than Lewis. Each scored 11 touchdowns with Shepard gaining the edge on points with his punts. Van Pelt ranked third on the roster with 55 points in 10 games. He also handled the convert and placement kicking after James was hurt.

POWERFUL LINES

Line Coach Wayne Robinson, former centre with Philadelphia Eagles in his second year with Bombers, put together offensive walls that were second to none in the league. The club's for-and - against records proved that.

New import linemen — centre Garland Warren from St. Louis, Ill., guard Dave Burkholder, University of Minnesota, and tackle Frank Rigney of Iowa—fitted in well with the holdovers under the tough handling of Robinson, who also acts as spotter.

The Canadians played a big part in the Bomber march, allowing Grant to field two complete offensive and defensive platoons.

Tackles Roger Savoie and Steve Patrick, guards Cornell Piper and Eddie Kotowich, centre Walt Bilicki, half Gordie Rowland and end Cec Luining all had their best seasons. Norm Rauhaus took over the safety spot for the first time and Nick Miller showed well at defensive half.

In the backfield, relief quarterback Rosebrough, son of a former Saskatchewan Roughrider great, and backs Tony Nobrer, Ron Latourelle and Rick Fuller all had their opportunities as the coaches took advantage of the club's depth.

OLD METHOD

The term "blackball" stems from ancient Greece where white or black balls were dropped into an urn, in voting for or against.

Three men behind success of Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the Western Interprovincial Football Union this season were coach Bud Grant (left), Wayne Robinson (centre); line coach and spotter, and quarterback Jim Van Pelt. Grant joined Bombers in 1953 after two years with Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League. He retired as an active player in 1956 and the following season coached Bombers to the Grey Cup final against Hamilton Tiger-Cats. Bombers lost 32-7. Robinson, for years a stalwart with Eagles, was a leading power behind Winnipeg's play this season. He put together offensive and defensive walls second to none in the league. Van Pelt, from the University of Michigan and formerly used as a defensive half, replaced quarterback Kenny Ploen after the latter was injured Sept. 13. Trainer Says Yvon Durelle Has Chance Against Moore

MONCTON, N.B. (CP)—Paddy no doubt be shooting his best Colovito of New York, a veteran of 30 years in the fight game, figures fighting fisherman Yvon Durelle has a better-than-even chance to capture the world light-heavyweight title when he meets champion Archie Moore in Montreal Dec. 10.

Colovito, here to help whip Durelle into fighting shape, said the Bale Ste. Anne, N.B., scrapper will have to be careful in the first five rounds but after that "you can bet all the tea in China that Durelle will be in the driver's seat."

"Moore will be very dangerous at the start. His constitution will tell him to fire the works right off the bat and Durelle is a slow starter, and Moore knows it.

"But I talked to Willi Besmanoff, the Germán heavyweight who fought Moore . . . and he said that Moore had no more staying power after seven."

Durelle's manager Chris Shaban shares Colovito's opinion.

"I'll be worried sick for the first part of the fight. Moore will punches then.

"We're counting a lot on Yvon's second wind and his murderous body attack. I'm not letting out any secrets because I'm sure Moore knows what he's up against."

Durelle, Canadian and British Empire light-heavyweight champ and ranked third in world ratings, is approaching peak form.

"I'm not really ready yet," he said Tuesday, "I feel good and strong but I need to sharpen up some more."

Looking lean and fit, Durelle tipped the scales at 176 after a spirited drill. The light heavyweight limit is 175.

Durelle has been concentrating on defence.

"Yvon must learn to protect himself more against Archie," said Shaban. "Moore also has a good defence, that's why we brought up Nat Dixon."

Dixon is a New York heavyweight who sparred with heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson before his title defence against Roy Harris.

BOOSTER CLUB

President Armand Duffy has called a general meeting of the Mac Booster Club for Thursday night at this week. The meeting will be held in the city hall council chambers at 8.30 p.m.

As the time draws nearer for the Macs to leave for Prague the Booster Club will be busy in many ways helping prepare for the trip. There will be projects of all types to be handled and President Duffy feels that now is the time to make plans.

He has asked that all members who can possibly attend tomorrow night's meeting do so.

One of the projects getting under full swing this week is the second draw for the trip to the world hockey tourney. The winner of the draw can make the trip or take $1,000 cash instead.

Tickets sell for $1 apiece or six for $5. All the proceeds go toward helping the Macs with expenses in Prague. They are available at Jack Diamond's or Don Stanton's Front Street stores or from any member of the Booster Club. They will also be available at tonight's meeting and any club member wishing to sell tickets can obtain them at the above places.

Winner of the first of these draws was Bob Clare. Mr. Clare, however, exercised his option, and took the $1,000 in lieu of the trip. The winner of this second draw will have the same opportunity, but for anyone who has a hankering to see distant places, this is a chance of a lifetime.

A net profit of $1,758 was made on the first draw and the Booster Club executive hopes to at least equal or better that total on this one. Tickets are on sale now. Don't forget yours.

A SAD AFFAIR!

Frank "Iron" Orr is in a bad way!

Checking the sport pages of Monday's Cornwall sheet, we were almost drowned in the deluge of tears that poured forth, both from Orr's column and from the news story concerning the Kingston-Cornwall game last Saturday night.

Matter of fact, while he did mention that his Chevies had beaten the "bewitched, bothered and bewildered" Macs, most of Orr's copy dealt with Saturday's loss to the Merchants.

Glaring across the top of one page was a headline reading "Drop of Blood Keeps Chevies from Second." In three column sentences Orr continued: "A drop of blood prevented the Cornwall Chevies from moving into second place in the OHA Eastern Hills weekend. That drop was on the chin of Kingston's Billy Colvin. It was put there by an accidental high stick from Chevies' Don Labelle with four minutes to go and the Chevies leading the Merchants 6-5. Labelle was given a five-minute major and while he was off the Merchants rapped in two goals, the winner with 13 seconds to go, to down the Chevies 7-6."

After pausing briefly to mention the Sunday win, Orr cooled down enough to drop the length of his typewritten lines to a single column.

And away he went: "With seven minutes to go, the Chevies had made a 6-5 lead and were dominating play in the Kingston end.

"Then the turning point come," says Orr. Now dig this description.

"Don Labelle started to chase a loose puck into the Cornwall zone. As he turned, he stumbled and fell with his stick going up in the air. Billy Colvin, following close behind, was nicked on the chin. The stick knocked the head off a pimple on Colvin's face.

"At first referee Vern Goyer was going to let the incident pass but then handed Labelle a five minute major for drawing blood. The Chevies were forced to play the rest of the game a man down and Kingston potted two to snatch a win from the Chevies' grasp."

We mopped up enough tears to enable us to unfold the paper a little more and turned our attention to the sports column with Orr's byline.

Down near the bottom (he must have cooled off by now and was down to a mere sob), Orr had this to say:

"Billy Colvin pointed out the pimple with the head knocked off it that cost the Chevies the game Saturday night. It was a big joke, Vernie (as 'e' on the end of Goyer's name tells that one's free) Goyer was again unimpressive as a referee. He hesitated several times and in the refereeing game—he who hesitates is lost."

Now by golly, Frankie, that last statement was real clever! But we know that you are too shaken by that nasty pimple head to be taking bows for coining phrases. And our heart bleeds for you, Frankie boy, really it does. We are so upset by the whole thing that we wouldn't even ask who scored Kingston's winning goal.

Surely it would not be the same Moe Savard that you were telling us Cornwall was so lucky to let go this week, would it, Frankie boy? We would hate to think the whole thing was a matter of sour grapes on your part. But we know, deep in our bleeding little heart, that you were not serious when you leaned across the press box ivy here a month or so ago and muttered, "Letting Savard go to Kingston was the best move Cornwall ever made."

"This'll drive him crazy. I'm wearing a steel brapes!"

Montreal Royals Move to Top

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Montreal Royals grabbed three-point edge in the Quebec Hockey League standings Tuesday night, dumping Quebec Aces 4-1.

Meantime, Trois-Rivieres Lions moved in on the second - place Aces, taking an overtime 4-3 decision from the hapless Chicoutimi Sagueneens. Lions are one point behind the Aces although Quebec has two games in hand.

Nick Mickoski, on Other Side Of Hill, Paces Wings to 6-0 Shutout Over Beantown Boys

By RAE CORELLI

Canadian Press Staff Writer

Nicholas Mickoski is a veteran hockey player from Winnipeg whose personal data in the record books would indicate he's somewhere on the other side of the hill, downbound.

But you can't always go by what you read in the books.

Take Tuesday night at the Detroit Olympia. Nick was a busy man for a couple of hours or so in a National Hockey League game between the third - place Red Wings, for whom Nick is employed, and the second-place Boston Bruins.

By virtue of what Nick did with his two hours, the Bruins wound up the evening sharing second place with another team—Detroit.

FIVE-POINT NIGHT

Mickoski, whose 43-point season for the New York Rangers and the Chicago Black Hawks in 1954-55 was the best he has ever had, fired one goal and assisted on four others as Detroit fired a 6-0 shutout of the Bruins.

His five points in a single regular schedule game compare with the six—three goals and three assists—picked up by Montreal's Henri Richard in a home-ice game against Toronto Maple Leafs Oct. 17, 1957.

Mickoski's performance Tuesday night was an unusual one for the one goal and four assists registered by Glen Red Wing Johnny Wilson March 15 this year in a game at Boston which Detroit won 9-2.

THREE-GOAL EFFORT

Wilson is still around. He scored three goals Tuesday while Mickoski was occupied with setting them up.

Johnny, a 170-pound native of Kincardine, made it 1-0 for the Red Wings at 4 minutes of the first period. (Mickoski and Charlie Burns assisting). Wilson made it 2-0 at eight minutes of the second period. (Mickoski and Pete Goegan assisting). He lumped the score to 3-0 with 36 seconds to go in the second period. (Mickoski assisting).

Wilson took a rest and Nick put one in on net to make it 4-0. Burns helped him do it. Then they gave Wilson a turn and Mickoski assisted.

SAWCHUK SOLID

It was a good night for Terry Sawchuk, too. He made 36 saves, those in the latter stages of the spectacular kind as Boston stormed his cage. Don Simmons blocked 32.

The evening wound up with idle Montreal atop the standing with 30 points, Boston and Detroit have 19 points apiece, although Boston has four ties and Detroit has none. New York is fourth with 17 and Chicago holds fifth with 16. Toronto has 11.

ORC Suspends Horse Trainer

TORONTO (CP) — Trainer E. Percy Rickard has been suspended following an Ontario Racing Commission analyst's report last week which showed presence of a drug in the nature of amphetamine in the three-year-old gelding, Kandidatef.

Stewards of the Ontario Jockey Club said Rickard's case had been referred to the commission for what action it deemed necessary for the trainer's failure to provide protection for Kandidatef prior to the race.

NHL Expansion To West Coast Long Way Off

NEW YORK (AP)—Expansion of the National Hockey League to the West Coast is still "a long way off," Clarence Campbell, president of the six-team league, said Tuesday.

Commenting on a report that a Los Angeles group is seeking to obtain a franchise for ice hockey's Los Angeles, Campbell said the transportation problem would be too difficult to overcome at present.

"Air travel in the winter is something you can't figure. Bad weather could ground a club and throw our schedule out of order.

"We must have both the Montreal and Toronto teams at home almost every Saturday night. The Canadiens have sold out every game for the last 14 years and Toronto every one of the last 13. They don't want to go to Chicago or Detroit for a Sunday game but the West Coast is another story."

TALKED TO BRUINS

The Los Angeles group is headed by Arthur Chadwick, oil investor. Johnson was in Boston last week for talks with Walter Brown, president of Boston Bruins and a member of the league's board of governors.

"Johnson hasn't contacted me lately," said Campbell. "I know that Los Angeles is building a 18,000 stadium to try to rent (lease) it. They would have to have at least two or three teams out that way to make it feasible.

"Much more practical would be a television setup, one in the east and one in the west. The western division would include Los Angeles and perhaps San Francisco and Denver. But that's back to talk for a couple of years. At the moment we are more interested in getting the Chicago franchise on its feet. The Hawks seem to be getting some place after several years in last place."

Campbell also ruled out Cleveland and Buffalo as future national league cities. Cleveland American Hockey League franchises have been most prominently mentioned in NHL expansion talk.

Coach Pop Ivy Not Happy With Chicago Cards

CHICAGO (AP)—Coach Frank Ivy of Chicago Cardinals has a hit patience run out—he's reading the riot act to his players.

The usually easy-going coach is genuinely angry over the performance of his club, which has lost three games and tied one in its last four starts for a 2-4-1 record.

"It's a shame for kids to perform like we have lately," said Ivy, his face now beginning to know how it feels to be a losing coach.

Ivy, a Cardinal end in their post-war heyday, was an assistant to Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma when Sooners went unbeaten for 47 straight games. Edmonton, his Eskimos won the Grey Cup three times.

"Some of our fellows are giving 100-per-cent effort all the time," he said in trying to analyze the Cardinals' plight. "Some are giving 90 per cent and some 75 per cent. With a young team like ours, with so many rookies, we should be getting better each week. Instead we're going downhill.

"We must do something. If some of these kids can't go better, this is the wrong place for them."

Ivy said: "Losing is something new to me and it's awfully hard to take. I have had these kind of problems in Canada."

Packers, Moscow Wings In Brilliant Battle of Goalies

MOSCOW (CP)—In a brilliant battle of goalies, Canada's Dave Gatherum outdrove Evgeni Krzin of Russia Tuesday night although the Russian team's netminder was terrific for Kelowna Packers against a Soviet All-Star squad that did not. The nimble footwork of the 25-year-old Gatherum, from Fort William, Ont., kept the Moscow Wings of the Soviet Union, as this particular team is known, from piling up a higher score.

The Russians were losing 1-0 with less than two minutes left despite the fact they had outplayed the Canadians most of the way. Emil it seemed Kelowna would make up for a 4-0 loss another night when the Moscow team Sunday night.

MADHOUSE AT END

It was a madhouse as the crowd of 12,000 in the Lenin Sports Palace cheered, jeered and shouted for the Russians to do it again.

Tom Sleczk, who got a goal Sunday, put Kelowna ahead at 9:16 of the second period. The smaller but faster-skating Russians got the equalizer at 11:06 of the third period on a goal by Vladimir Grebennikov.

Sleczk's goal, on an assist from Greg Jablonski, caught Krzin off guard as the crowed whirled disapproval. But the Russians checked the Canadians every inch of the way from then on.

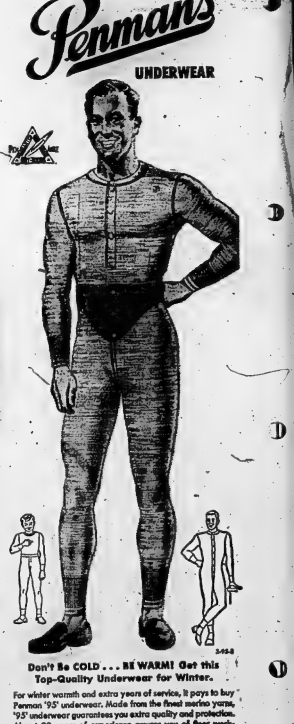
The Soviet team's passing and stickhandling was superior to Kelowna's.

GATHERUM FAVORITE

Gatherum was the star of the game and drew a cheer from the crowd as he came up with one spectacular save after another, recalling his amazing performance in the Allan Cup finals last season when he registered three shutouts against Belleville, a record.

In the early stages Tuesday night it seemed that he wouldn't make it. Just after five minutes of the initial period he was struck in the head by a flying puck and knocked unconscious. The crowd cheered as he picked himself up to turn in a glittering performance.

Six penalties were called, with the Canadians easily having the worst of it with five. Two went to Russ Kowaleuk during the slashing.



Nikolai Karpov of Russia and Kelowna's Jim Middleton were sent off together for roughing in the wild final minutes of play at 19:32 of the third period.

Tonight, Kelowna plays another Russian team in the third game of its five-game Soviet tour. In Sweden Kelowna won two and lost one against Swedish teams.

Macs Dump Hull 9-2 To Take Over Second Place

Menard Shakes Scoring Slump To Share Spotlight as Line Collects 16 Scoring Points

By GARRY ALEXANDER

Sparked by the high-flying trio of Johnny McLellan, Minnie Menard and Ike Hildebrand, Belleville McFarlands laced the Hull-Ottawa-Canadiens 9-3 here Tuesday night to take over undisputed possession of second place in the OHA Eastern Senior "A" series.

The Macs, dominating play in the first period when they outshot the visitors 16-7, took a commanding 5-0 lead by the end of the period. They outscored the visitors, at full strength for this contest, 2-1 in both of the final two chapters.

Belleville played a generally improved game with their passing plays clicking well and Gordie Bell turning in a solid performance between the pipes. Bell had 29 shots to contend with, 11 in each of the last two periods. Claude Cyr in the Hull goal had 32 shots.

One of the bright spots of the evening was Minnie Menard who finally snapped out of his hard-luck scoring slump. He fired two pretty goals and had three assists as his line picked up 16 points.

Coach Ike Hildebrand, right-winger on the big line, led all point - getters with one goal and five assists. Centre Johnny McLellan picked up a well-earned hat trick and added a couple of assists. Menard's first two goals of the season and his three assists topped off the line's 16 point performance.

Also sharing in the point parade were defenceman Moe Bernolt with a pair of goals and two helper and Jean Paul Payette with one of each. Rearguard "Stan" Raglan earned two assists with "Wiener" Brown claiming one.

Claude Richard and J. C. Tremblay blinked the light for the Canadiens. Bob Boucher and Guy Black had assists.

SPLIT PENALTIES

Penalty wise the clubs split 12 penalties. Belleville drew six minors while the Baby Habs had four minors and a pair of misconducts, to John Annable and J. C. Tremblay for talking out of turn. The Macs scored once with a two-man advantage and another time with Hull one man short. Canadiens' second goal was scored while Belleville was serving a minor sentence.

Johnny McLellan got the Macs away winging in the first minute of the game when his shot from side of the net deflected in off Tremblay. Benolt took a penalty at 6.38 and just as he returned to the ice Payette fed him a pay-off pass to make it 2-0. Moe stepped between the Hull defencemen, walked in on Cyr and flipped it over his leg to complete a pretty play.

Belleville carried the play all through the period and at 12.43 McLellan begged his second, finishing a picture passing play with Menard and Hildebrand. Less than a minute later Ike Hildebrand was the dirigger man on a similar play to make it 4-0.

Referee Jack Shropshire thumbed John Annable and Bob Mousseau, both of Hull, on the same play at 14.18 and tacked a misconduct on Annable when he argued. Nineteen seconds later Payette closed the period scoring. Raglan and Brown assisting.

BELL QUITE SHARP

Canadiens looked much sharper in the second and third periods and only fine plays by Gordie Bell prevented them making it a closer contest.

Belleville, however had the finishing touch around the net, and made it 6-0 at 13.54 of the middle heat with Hull two men short and the Macs one. Benoit fired his second of the game, a hard drive to the right corner, after Hildebrand and Menard had started the play.

Claude Richard broke the Hull goose egg at 18.46 with a quick shot from dead in front. It took the Macs only nine seconds to get that one back. Menard brought the house down as he steamed in to beat Cyr cleanly with his initial goal of the campaign. Hull outshot the Macs 11-9 but the period ended with a 7-1 score.

Bell continued to shine as Hull carried the play early in the final heat, outshooting the Macs by a wide margin in the first seven minutes.

But once again it was Belleville who scored as Minnie Menard took a pass in the clear at centre ice and roared in to deke Cyr cleanly at 8.37. A missing penalty to Crawford paved the way for Hull's second goal, coming at 15.03 when Tremblay's shot was steered past Bell by defender Raglan's stick.

Johnny McLellan made it 9-2 and completed his hat trick at 14.41 with a hard drive on a play with Hildebrand and Benoit.

The Macs make their next start in Kingston tonight when the clash with the tail-end Merchants, a club improving with each game.

Setting out last night's game were Dave Jones and Eddie Marineau, both forwards. Hildebrand played Al Dewsbury on a line with Bradley at centre and Smrke on the right wing. Dewsbury caught Bob Rousseau with a bone-shaking check in the opening minutes and over all played well for a defenceman in a new position.

President Will Decide Status Of Phil Maloney

VANCOUVER (CP) — The director of the Western Hockey League have turned over to Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, the task of settling the status of Phil Maloney, star centre with Vancouver Canucks.

New York Rangers have assigned their NHL playing rights on Maloney to Chicago Black Hawks.

But Maloney, in his fourth season with Canucks, is the property of Vancouver, Canuck president Coley Hall said.

Rangers said Hall agreed to allow them to sell their rights to Chicago.

Chicago now wants to draft the Vancouver captain for the $10,000 draft price.

SIGNED NOTHING

Hall said he signed no agreement with Rangers and refuses to let Chicago pick up Maloney. The Canuck star has also indicated he does not wish to leave Vancouver to join any NHL club.

The directors said a settlement could be reached through Campbell by the clubs involved.

Maloney was drafted last summer by Rangers. Since then a draft agreement between the NHL and the WHL has expired and a new one has not been signed.

Under the old agreement the draft players from the WHL. The Western League does not want a similar clause in any new agreement. It also wants to have equal claim to players farmed out by NHL clubs. The American league now insists on first minor league rights.

Maloney currently is out of action with a shoulder injury.

GARDENS PROFIT GOOD

TORONTO (CP)—Maple Leaf Gardens Limited made a net profit of $326,366 for the year ended Aug. 31, president Conn Smythe reported at its annual meeting. The net profit was equivalent to $1.54 a share. Mr. Smythe said business during the current year will be at least as good. The only area where there is a chance for loss money is league hockey, he said. The intake from the recent week - long Ex Capades was $40,000 more than last year's show.

Eastern Senior A League Scoring Statistics

Moe Savard, Bus Gagnon and Jim Maxwell of the tail-end Kingston Merchants are making a strong bid to catch Bob Attersley and Sid Smith of Whitby in the OHA Senior "A" scoring race, but it appears that will take some doing.

Attersley earned six points in two weekend games and tops the pack with 27 points, including 12 goals. His 15 assists ties him with Gagnon for the assist lead. Smith is in the runner-up spot with 25 points, including a loop-leading 13 goals. Savard with 18, Gagnon with 17, and Maxwell with 15 hold down the next three spots.

Whitby has four players in the league's top 11 and Kingston three. Hull Canadiens have placed a pair with Belleville and Cornwall each getting one spot.

Long John Henderson, Whitby, tops the goalies with a 2.27 average in 11 games. Cornwall's Gerry Devaney has a 3.64 mark in second place.

Belleville's "Wiener" Brown leads the loop in penalty minutes with 42. The total is compiled through three misconducts, one game misconduct and one minor. Al Dewsbury of the Macs and Kingston defencemen Vigor Gendron and Ralph McNiff each have 41 minutes.

Horse Racing Has Enjoyed Biggest Year

TORONTO (CP)—The longest and most successful season in the history of Canadian horse racing concludes at New Woodbine today. The 196-day Ontario season opened at the Fort Erie Jockey Club on Monday, April 7.

When the season ends a total of approximately 1,400,000 spectators will have watched the 1,568 races contested on the Ontario Jockey Club's three courses —New Woodbine, our Old Woodbine at Toronto, and Fort Erie.

Total wagering on thoroughbreds will reach a record total of approximately $60,000,000. Additionally, a Monday meeting of harness racing was conducted at Old Woodbine and spectators wagered $6,404,112 on the trotters and pacers. Harness-racing drew another 181,457 patrons.

RECORD PURSES

Purses distributed in 1958 to thoroughbred owners are another record of approximately $3,500,000. Kitty - nine riches events were contested during the season on the three tracks.

OJR directors are looking forward to another record year in 1959. Next season's racing will be featured by the 100th annual running of the Queen's Plate for a purse of $60,000.

A crowd of 3,885 saw The Schreiber, ridden by Sonny Boscoesen, defeat Norwin G. by a neck. My Kingdom was third.

The Schreiber paid $25, $6.80 and $3.20 as he ran the 1 1-16 miles in 1.46 3-5. The track was very slow.

Refuse Kramer's Offer to Quit As Team's Coach

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—U.S. Davis Cup team captain Ferry Kramer has turned down Jack Kramer's offer to quit as team coach because of his squabble with the Lawn Tennis Association of Australia.

The LTAA has banned Kramer's professional troupe from courts under its jurisdiction.

Kramer explained, however, that his offer to quit referred primarily to his being an official member of the U.S. squad at social functions.

"I may be too self-conscious," Kramer said, "but if I feel my presence is detrimental to the team rather than an aid, I am willing to get farther away from the team."

Jones said he couldn't see any reason why Kramer's run-in with the LTAA would make any difference to Kramer's position as chief coach of the team.

CROSBY SELLS RANCH

BLEDO, Myr. (AP) — Sale of Bing Crosby's 19,000-acre ranch 22 miles north of here was announced Tuesday. The price was reported in excess of $1,000,000. Crosby's 2,700 head of cattle were included in the sale to Edward Johnson and Earl Pruzzell of Modesto, Calif., and William Johnson of Escalon, Calif.

CANCEL REGISTRATIONS

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — The Costa Rican congress Tuesday approved a bill cancelling all licences for foreign ships to register under this Central American nation's flag. The bill also calls for an investigation of the operations of Costa Rican consulates which have been issuing licences to foreign ships.

POLAR BEARS MENACE

CHURCHILL, Man. (CP)—Residents of nearby Fort Churchill were warned to stay near their homes Tuesday because of the large numbers of polar bears roaming the district. Chief reason for the bears' presence is that ice pans in Hudson Bay are not big enough to support them on their usual trips after seals. They've been overturning and raiding the contents of garbage cans.

The civic centre of 1870 demonstrates convenience of the future in this drawing of a huge amphitheatre, served by rail, bus and car facilities. The vast sliding dome would be closed during inclement weather with indoor passageways leading to transportation. Plans for the centre, including museums, were drawn by U.S. engineers, who do not have any particular site or city in mind.

Some West Berliners who aren't tuned in modern art call this a glorified pincushion. But the bizarre sculpture created by Professor Hans Uhlmann of West Berlin's Graphic Arts college has just as many admirers. Built to set off the new 17-storey apartment building behind it, the sculpture has excited far more interest than the conventional skyscraper.

Bloomfield

BLOOMFIELD — Friends were indeed sorry to hear that Mr. Dunam Foster had suffered a heart attack early in the week and hope he may soon be much improved.

Mr. Maurice Huff, of O.A.C., Guelph, spent a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Huff, and attended the commencement exercises at Prince Edward Collegiate, on Friday evening.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. Harold Pride in the loss of his wife, Mrs. Pride who passed away on Monday, after a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Bert Walters, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Lyle Hagerman, and children, spent Friday at Welcome with Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kellogg, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Foster and Mrs. S. J. Bristow spent Sunday at Bath, with Mrs. M. R. Rowse.

Friends are glad to know that Mrs. Clarence Spencer is convalescing at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ray Herman of Deseronto, after being a patient in Kingston General Hospital.

Baby's Own Tablets are obtainable from druggists or sent post paid on receipt of price by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. Price 60c.

● NEW! BABY'S OWN COUGH SYRUP made especially for babies. Soothing, quickly relieving . . . pleasant . . . won't upset digestion!

Community Honors Couple With Gifts

GILEAD — Friends and neighbors of the community assembled recently at the Swan home to extend their best wishes and congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Swan (nee Shirley Foster), newlyweds of one month and also to wish them success in their new home at Massassaga.

Dancing was enjoyed as the friends gathered and at midnight Ralph and Shirley were called to the living room to occupy seats of honor.

Mr. George Clare read a cheery address in poetical style, which brought smiles to many faces as facts of earlier days were reminisced and regrets expressed at the thought of their removal from Gilead community.

As the address came to a close Messrs. Earl Ross, James O'Sullivan and John Huffman presented the smiling couple with a platform rocker a walnut stepup table and a nest of stools.

Luncheon was served and dancing continued until the close of a delightful evening when everyone bid adieu with smiles and best wishes to the newlyweds.

EGGLETON W.M.S. AND W.A. MEET

MADOC JCT. — The November meeting of the Eggleton W.M.S. and W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Smith on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Bruce Shipley presided over the program, which had been prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Dyson, and opened the meeting.

Mrs. Maurice Clancy read the Scripture lesson, taken from St. Luke 2: 38-50, and Mrs. Dyson then gave a thoughtful meditation on the lesson, using the theme "Forgiveness," and closed the devotional period with prayer.

There were 14 adults and three children present.

Little Sandra Stapley gathered the offering, which was dedicated with prayer by Mrs. B. Stapley. Another thank-offering envelope was also handed in.

Mrs. Dyson gave an interesting reading, "The Ladies' Aid," and also conducted an oral Bible contest, "Who Am I?"

A nominating committee, composed of Mrs. Bruce Shipley, Mrs. William McMullen and Mrs. Clarence Fitchett, was appointed to bring in the new slate of officers at the December meeting.

Short discussion followed on the number wishing to subscribe for the "Missionary Monthly," also those who would like to purchase a "Church Calendar."

Mrs. Stapley thanked Mrs. Smith for opening her home for the meeting and Mr. and Mrs. Dyson for preparing the program.

BUSINESS PROGRAM

Mrs. McMullen, W.A. president, took charge for the business period.

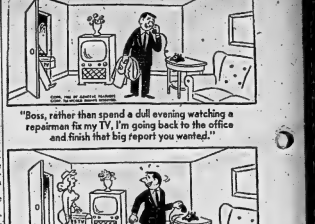
Bills for items needed for bazaar and the thermostat for the church oil-burner were presented, and a motion was made that the bills be paid.

Mrs. Murney Kirkey offered her home for the December meeting and Mrs. Maurice Clancy will prepare the program.

Plans were discussed for catering to a wedding dinner in the near future.

The treasurer, Mrs. W. Harlow, reported $123 proceeds from a bazaar and $8 from the sale of cook books.

Mrs. Dyson and Mrs. Smith each expressed thanks for cards received.



The last chapter, "Facing Tomorrow" from the study book, "Cross and Crisis in Japan" was presented by Mr. Dyson.

Mrs. Stapley, WMS president, requested that reports of WMS, W.A. Mission Band and Mission Band be prepared for the December meeting.

Mr. Dyson closed the meeting.

The hostess served refreshments and a social half-hour was enjoyed by all present.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this invigorating substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—the improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoidal conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Russia Informs West Germany Of Berlin Changes

Call Emergency Meeting Of Ambassadors at Bonn

BONN (Reuters) —Russia today informed West Germany of Soviet plans to end Berlin's four-power status and the Bonn regime immediately called an urgent meeting with the three Western powers.

Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano asked the British, U.S. and French ambassadors to meet with him this afternoon after he had heard the Soviet plans.

A Soviet Embassy spokesman said Russia's plans were outlined to chancellor Konrad Adenauer this morning by Soviet Ambassador Andrei Smirnov.

The talks followed a statement by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev last week that the Soviet Union intended to hand over control in Berlin to the east German government.

FOUR SECTORS

Under the Potsdam Agreement drawn up in 1945 the city was divided into four sectors and has been administered by the United States, France, Britain and Russia.

The East Germans have made East Berlin—the Soviet sector—their capital. The Western powers do not recognize East Germany.

Khrushchev's speech was viewed here as an attempt to force West Germany to accept the East Germans.

Until now, the Bonn government has always stressed that any such policy would be considered reversal of the present attitude of no contact whatever with the East German government.

But, they said, any such alliedEast German contact would be carried out only with announcements that the East German being treated as agents of the Soviet Union.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The West is reported drafting a tough policy to deal with any Communist move to interfere with allied air, rail and highway traffic to West Berlin.

This U.S.-British-French policy is taking shape in diplomatic consultation amid mounting belief the East Germans will seek to interrupt transportation to the divided city.

If a new Berlin blockade threatens, diplomatic officials said the allied governments could take far-reaching decisions on whether to:

1. Try to ram an armored train or tanked truck convoys through any barriers the East Germans might erect.

2. Revive the allied airlift that beat the Red blockade 10 years ago.

Initially, allied strategy may involve strictly limited dealings with East German authorities who might replace Soviet personnel at check points on roads and rail lines.

ULTIMATE

This has not been decided definitely, mainly because the West Germans fear it would be too provocative. The East Germans, it is believed, might consider dealings as a step toward allied recognition of their regime.

Allied officials acknowledged that any such policy would be considered reversal of the present attitude of no contact whatever with the East German government.

But, they said, any such alliedEast German contact would be carried out only with announcements that the East German being treated as agents of the Soviet Union.

ACCUSED SAYS HE WAS TALKED INTO ACTION

Evidence Given In Bribery Case

KINGSTON (CP)—Bribery defendant Arthur M. Mason was quoted Wednesday as claiming it was Mayor Frank P. Boyce, one of his present accusers, who suggested that offers totalling $20,000 for heo in swinging a gasfranchise deal be put in writing.

The testimony was given by provincial police inspector Harold Graham in Frontenac County court. Mason, a Kingston businessman, is being tried on charges of offering bribes of $10,000 each to Mayor Boyce and P. u b l i c Utilities Commissioner Thomas A. Andre for help in getting the city's gas distribution franchise for Consumers' Gas Company.

Mr. Andre and Mayor Boyce both testified Wednesday that they received letters from Mason promising $10,000 cash for their support.

Inspector Graham said he went around to see Mason last Sept. 26, three days before the charges were formally laid.

He quoted Mason as saying Mr. Andre had offered $10,000 toward the purchase of the Inter-County Railway Company franchise. Indicating to Mason at the same time that Mayor Boyce would also contribute $10,000 in the deal.

"I asked him if he had ever made an inducement to any members of the city council or the Kingston Public Utilities Com-

PRESBYTERIANS PROTEST

BRANTFORD (CP) — Paris presbytery of the Presbyterian Church in Canada protested Wednesday the federal government's action in naming Canadian representatives to the funeral of Pope Pius XII and the coronation of Pope John XXIII.

University Head Won't Reinstate Three Editors

OTTAWA (CP) — The University of Ottawa has rejected a student federation demand for reinstatement of the three editors of its French-language student monthly newspaper, La Rotonde.

The newspaper has not been published since the university administration Oct. 23 suspended Marcel Pruel, Pierre Trudel and Roger Roy from having anything further to do with La Rotonde.

The order followed publication Oct. 3 of a statement from a former editor accusing the administration of "religious paternalism."

Rev. Leonard Ducharme, dean of students, in announcing the prohibition, said in a letter received by student federation President Marcel Mason Wednesday night the university was not changing its stand.

Mr. Prud'homme was expected to call a federation executive meeting Thursday to decide on further action.

The federation had demanded in a resolution passed at a meeting Nov. 11 that the editors be reinstated, and said it considered the matter one of principle and it did not intend to back down.

Drug May Help to Protect Man Against Deadly Atomic Radiation

CHALK RIVER, Ont. (CP)—Biologists at this Canadian atomic energy project are experimenting with a drug which they hope will help protect man against deadly atomic radiation.

Results to date indicate that the drug — parathormone — provides best protection when it is injected immediately after exposure to radiation and to a lesser degree before irradiation.

But the biologists make no claim as yet that they are even approaching the stage where the drug may be used to protect humans against highly radioactive products from atomic bomb explosions, accidents in atomic power plants or from other conditions under which radiation is encountered.

"We are very pleased with results obtained so far in these experiments," Dr. H. B. Newcomb head of the biology division of Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, said in an interview.

"We are making no claims as yet about the effectiveness of the drug for humans. Our research has been only with rats and the tests still are in a preliminary stage."

Parathormone is a material extracted from the parathyroid

Springhill Survivors Enjoy Life at Millionaires' Isle

JEKYLL ISLAND, Ga. (AP)— Men entombed a short time ago in a Nova Scotia coal mine breathed the warm sea air and toes climbed down from two buses to begin their lives here from Jacksonville, Fla., where their plane landed Wednesday.

"I think it's a wonderful thing," said Maurice Ruddick, a miner entombed seven days with his companions on the vacation by Georgia' segregation laws.

Ruddick, who brought his wife and four of his 12 children, said, "It's quite a reception for me and my comrades."

Neither Ruddick nor his wife complained, who live as neighbors in Springhill, criticized the separation.

The Ruddicks all spent the week in three large house trailers on the Florida coast about 75 miles from the motels where the other visitors are housed.

Separate entertainment schedules were arranged for the white and Negro families.

The miners here were among 19 given up for dead after the Oct. 23 cave-in. Griffin, vacationing in Canada at the time, invited all of to spend a week at Jekyll Island at no cost. The six who did not come have a standing invitation they can take up at a later date.

Brunswick businessmen are helping bear the expenses.

Toronto Trade Board Hits Government by Commissions

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto Board of Trade said today that Ontario's laws hand over too much power to civil servants and often are enacted too quickly—sometimes even in secret.

Sweeping criticisms of the province's legislative procedures were made by the board in a brief to the Gordon committee on government organization in Ontario.

The committee, headed by economist Walter L. Gordon, was appointed by Premier Frost last May after provincial auditor Harvey Colman expressed concern about the growth of commission government in Ontario.

The board said the practice called for increased right of appeal from administrative tribunal tribunals on grounds "the unfettered fulfillioning of the courts is vital to the preservation of individual freedom."

It said: "The practice, apparent too often in recent years, of attempting to bar access to the courts in the case of judicial functions of administrative-judicial tribunals must be regarded as a grave threat to the continued existence of individual freedom."

The brief, submitted by board President G. H. Sheppard, cited examples of what the board considered to be extravagant powers—The Highway Improvement Act permitted expropriation of land up to half a mile from a highway and the Housing Development Act permitted expropriation of land from one private owner to be turned over to another private owner.

"The availability of powerful coercive action constitutes a standing temptation for busy public servants to brush aside opposition up to in order to perform what they conceive to be their task."

The brief said recent "legislation sometimes has been "skeletal" on matters of substantive law, allowing the details of substantive law.

"The proceedings through which regulations are established are not public. Unless the government makes some pre-announcement, which is unusual in Ontario, there is not advance knowledge of the contents of regulations prior to their publication in the Ontario Gazette.

"As a result, opportunity is not given for public discussion and the presentation of representations by those affected until after the regulations have become law."

AdvertisingClerk Doubts She Could Qualify

TOKYO (AP)—This advertisement appeared in the English - language newspaper Mainichi:

"Beautiful, drinking, carousing, Japanese-speaking Caucasian gentleman wishes to meet smoking, drinking, carousing, Japanese - speaking Caucasian girl for smoking, drinking, carousing."

The advertiser asked anyone interested to send her photo to a box at the paper.

A girl clerk at the paper said the 'advertiser was a "handsome man who looked like a movie actor." She said he picked up five replies today.

"I would have replied myself but I don't have the necessary qualifications," she added.

TWO SURVIVORS TELL STORY HOW FREIGHTER SANK

Thrown From Small Raft Three Times

CHARLEVOIX, Mich. (AP) — With but the faintest flicker of hope, grim sailors searched in still angry waters among tiny islands at the head of Lake Michigan today for 15 men still missing from a big ship which a howling storm sent to the bottom Tuesday night.

The ship carried a crew of 35. Eighteen bodies have been recovered.

Only two survivors, who rode out a near-freezing 14 hours on a tiny raft, have been found. They said two men who had left with them disappeared as mountainous waves tore it to pieces. A search of three times.

The 615-foot Carl D. Bradley broke in two and went down off Gull Island, some 45 miles northwest of the Charlevoix resort. Some half a dozen uninhabited islands are scattered to the north and east of the mainline. Nearly inhabited Beaver Island, largest in Lake Michigan, found no trace of any shipwreck victims, dead or alive.

The Bradley coast guard cutters Sun Dew and Hollyhock joined the search, but winds today in pushing to the islands. Three helicopters and two amphibians also were buffeted as they searched from aloft.

GALE WINDS

Winds ranged up to 70 miles when the Bradley broke up. It was 40 degrees and spitting rain as cold Wednesday night. One survivor said spray snatched violently from the waves froze in his hair and on his jacket.

Without hope today's searchers could have survived through even the first day. They were looking for bodies made ill overnight, and a physician described their survival as "an amazing proof of human endurance."

But if by chance some made it to land alive, they still might be alive. That was the one flicker of hope that searchers had had, although planes could spot no human footprints on any of the islands.

The grim story of the storm-battered ending of the freighter was told Wednesday night by the two survivors of the three canvas' greatest disaster since 1933, when the Henry Steinbrenner went down in the Lake Superior storm.

THROWN FROM RAFT

Frank Nevy and Elmer Fleming, the survivors were thrown from their hazardous raft not just three times in Tuesday's inkblack night. But each time they managed to find it and climb aboard again, clinging for their lives, hoping it would last until daylight. Two others couldn't. Authorities so far have refused to let them name the two who couldn't.

Police Officer Says Girl Made Oral Statement

WHITBY (CP)—Two policemen testified Wednesday that Beverly Black, 18, charged with arson in the Sept. 2 F. W. Woolworth fire, told them she was peeved at the management when they asked her why she set the fire.

Detective Sgt. John Powell said Miss Black made an oral statement while being taken to the police station from Woolworth after her arrest Sept. 4. Miss Black denied the conversations had taken place at that time but said she wasn't peeved at the store management.

'Lord Had His Arm Around People' As None Die When Train Hits Plane

EL TORO, Calif. (AP)—A jet fighter plane overshot an airfield and crashed on railway tracks Wednesday. Seconds later a seven-car passenger train plowed into the flaming wreck. No one was severely injured in the fiery collision.

The train sent the jet careering through the air. The plane came to rest against a lounge car containing 30 passengers. Spewing jet fuel exploded in flames.

The locomotive and four cars were derailed. Three sections of track were torn up. The plane's pilot, who suffered only bruises, was the most seriously hurt.

"I'd say the good Lord had His arm around a lot of people," said spokesman at the El Toro Marine corps air station, where the jet was practicing landings.

Hero of the near-disaster was Pal Schamber, brakeman on the Santa Fe's San Diegan, bound to San Diego from Los Angeles with 120 passengers and crew.

He dragged the stunned pilot, Marine Lieut. Philip M. Schmidt, 29, away from the wreckage. When they were about 50 feet away the FF-4D Skyray burst into flames.

University of Toronto Plan Stirs Enthusiasm

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Canadian university leaders are generally enthusiastic about the University of Toronto proposal which would give top Ontario high school graduates free university courses and spread them more evenly over the calendar year.

Any exceptions were taken mildly. Some felt a shorter summer vacation would make it hard on students who work to pay their tuition.

Dr. D. L. Thomson, vice-principal of McGill University, said he would like to look at the plan more closely abd see how it would affect the lives of the students. The plan to guarantee students with first-class honors a university education is fine—if one has the money. Here, the financing of a similar plan would have to be done out of university funds."

Dean H. Noel Fieldhouse of McGill's arts and science faculty said a committee at McGill is studying a plan similar to the one announced in Toronto. He said the findings of the committee "run closely parallel" to the Toronto proposal. It would free university tuition for all grades throughout university as long as first-class standing is maintained.

Dr. Bursary said related to each student's financial need and not restricted to any arbitrary amount.

3. Loans for emergency financing.

For students who get secondclass honors:

1. Bursaries available in amounts related to need.

2. Loans for emergency financing.

Third-class honor students would not be eligible for help if, however, such a student proved able to get four second-class honor standing in university he would be eligible for help as indicated above.

Such a program, the committee estimated, would cost the University of Toronto $1,500,000 a year. A special staff would be required to carry it out.

The report also outlines some drastic changes in the academic year which now is concentrated in seven months with only a five-month summer vacation period.

Although it admits that the present system provides for a period in which students may work to finance schooling, the committee says the present division does not lend itself to academic results.

The report is not good for the student "to study intensively for seven months . . . and then move to a five-month period with no other line of endravor, com-

Family in New Home Sharing With Skunk

GARLAND, Tex. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kirk tread softly around their new home. They have a skunk for a pet.

The Kirks moved in last Saturday. They went to investigate a car, or something, was scampering in the attic and between the walls.

They asked a plumber working in the neighborhood.

"As a matter of fact," the plumber said, "I saw a skunk around last week—with 10 little ones."

The Kirks had an opening cut into a bathroom wall. That would allow the skunk to get into the bathroom, they figured.

They put bread in the bathroom to lure him. Then they fixed a ladder with blobs of liver smeared over it. Presumably the skunk would eat his way to the top of the ladder and out the open window to freedom.

But it didn't work.

"I peek under the door occasionally to watch it," Mrs. Kirk said. "It eats the bread and took the pink tissue into the wall to make a nest."

The Kirks now are trying to hatch another plot to get rid of the skunk without getting it angry.

Mrs. Kirk says she hopes the report of "10 little ones" is unfounded.

"One," she said, "is plenty."

NEW SEWAGE SYSTEM AT FRANKFORD TO BE OPENED TUESDAY

Official opening ceremonies for Frankford's new water and sewage system are to be held Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 25th.

About 70 representatives of civic, provincial and federal government have been invited to attend the ceremonies, according to Reeve George N. Spencer.

Attending will be representatives of the Ontario Water Resources Commission who built the system, and Warden Lloyd H. Price, Reeves and mayors from district centres, Leo Ortlip, M.P. for Hastings South, and Elmer Sandercock, M.P.P. for Hastings West, also have been invited.

VELLEMANS HONORED BY ROSICRUCIAN ORDER

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Velleman, originators and founders of the Ontario Homes for Mentally Retarded Infants, Inc., in Plainfield, have been honored recently by the Rosicrucian Order, known as the Ancient, Mystical, Order Rose Crucis. The Order conferred the title of Humanist upon the Vellemans for their outstanding work in the operation of the home for mentally retarded infants.

The order, which is a non-sectarian fraternity devoted to the investigation and study of the higher principles of life . . . to furthering man's knowledge of himself and his universe," had, apparently, received several reports on the Velleman's unstinted efforts on behalf of retarded children and, upon further investigation, desired to recognize the Velleman's work with a certification of their personal merit.

Women Made Decision Long Before Police

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Ten women, members of a business and professional women's club, were holding a dinner meeting at a church Wednesday night. Just before dinner the telephone rang.

Miss Emma Work, the president, answered. She was told a bomb had been planted in the church.

The caller hung up; Miss Work went back to the girls. They discussed the call and made a decision. They had dinner.

No bomb was found. The caller, a man, was a fake. That's what the women had decided before dinner.

Object of an intensive search when found to be missing following last Monday's fire at Madoc, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Twa and baby daughter Lela, have turned up safe. The couple had been visiting at Fort Erie and although they learned of the fire which destroyed their apartment, neglected to phone advising they were safe.

Objects of Intensive Search Twa Family Returns to Madoc

Objects of a concerted search since Tuesday afternoon when it was realized they had not been seen following Monday's fire which razed the Maynes block at Madoc; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Twa and their four-months-old daughter turned up safely last night.

All day Wednesday volunteer firemen dug through the debris caused by the $200,000 fire in the Madoc business block and plans were being made for a stepped up search today.

"I hear you have been looking for us. I thought I had better let you know", stated Mr. Twa to officers as he entered the provincial police detachment office at Madoc shortly before nine o'clock last night.

The family turned up as OPP Corporal Douglas Sears was patiently awaiting a telephone call from Fort Erie which might give some light on the couple's disappearance.

The fact that Mr. Twa had failed to turn up for work with a hydro construction gang at Haviland added to the uneasiness of the couple's safety.

It turned out that the family had motored to the Bancroft area late last week when Mr. Twa went hunting. Shooting a deer he dressed his kill at his sister's home in the Bird's Creek area, then took part of the venison to his mother at Fort Erie.

Sunday the family left for home but car trouble caused them to stay over with friends. They had heard of the fire which destroyed the Maynes block, but had not thought to telephone and did not know they were the subject of an intensive search until they returned to Madoc last night.

ON THIRD FLOOR

The Twa apartment was on the third floor of the Maynes block.

When the fire broke out, O.P.P. Constable Larry Calnan, who also occupied a top floor apartment, ran along the hallway waking sleeping apartment dwellers.

He pounded on the Twa apartment door but could get no answer and then it was learned the family had gone away for the weekend.

But when the family failed to show after the fire, police contacted relatives in the Bancroft area and learned the family was to have gone to Fort Erie.

Police in that area took up the hunt and learned the family had visited at Mr. Twa's mother's, but had left for home.

There the trail vanished and Mr. Twa's mother could not be located at Fort Erie to ascertain when the Madoc family left for home or whether they would have had time to get back to Madoc before the fire.

The one glimmer of hope while firemen were digging through debris of the Maynes block was that the Twa car could not be located at Madoc. But there was still the possibility the family had run into car trouble and had come home by taxi or even hitch-hiked home.

"Boy, was I glad to see them," said Cpl. Sears after getting the full story from the Twa family.

Bond Believed Burned in Fire Found in Debris

There is always a silver lining.

That is what Mr. and Mrs. Allan McCoy who lost all personal possessions in the $200,000 fire which destroyed the Maynes' block at Madoc, are thinking. The McCoys rented a second floor apartment in the building and along with many families were forced to flee in their night attire.

Along with other possessions lost, they had saving bonds of considerable amount in the apartment.

Wednesday while firemen were searching the debris for possible traces of the Twa family who were believed may have lost their lives in the fire, searchers came across a blistered and battered suitcase which had belonged to the McCoys.

On opening the suitcase, the missing savings bonds were found safe and undamaged.

"The bonds were not even scorched", noted OPP Corporal Doug. Sears.

Thurlow Twp. Nominations Time Changed

Thurlow township will hold its nomination meeting from 12 to one o'clock on Friday, the time being set back an hour from the usual period.

In former years nominations had been held from eleven until 12 o'clock.

Nominations will be held for reeve, deputy reeve and for position of three councillors.

Advance polls will be held for the election of school trustees, two for the South Thurlow Public School Area, and three for the North Thurlow Public School Area.

Tweed Couple Celebrate 65th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Archie A. Godfrey, highly respected residents of Tweed, are today celebrating their 65th anniversary of their wedding. Both are enjoying good health and looking forward to many more anniversaries.

They were married at Keller's Bridge, north of Tweed, by the Rev. M. G. Mallet. They had three sons and two daughters by their first marriage. Mrs. Godfrey Percy was killed at Passchendale in World War No. 1 and the 2nd son, Lyman who served overseas in World War One, died in 1930. The third son, Earl, died suddenly in January of 1934. One daughter, Mrs. Jessie Hamburg resides near Shannonville, while Miss Goldie Godfrey is at home in Tweed.

The couple have received many congratulatory telegrams.

75 PC of Payroll Costs Will Be Paid by Govts.

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Frost today announced a seven-point program of provincial assistance for municipal works to see winter unemployment.

The program, to go into effect Dec. 1, will give municipalities 75 per cent of the payroll costs of special winter projects Ontario would contribute 25 per cent and the Federal Government 50 per cent.

Last year Ontario paid 70 per cent of the wages of workers hired from relief rolls for a restricted list of public works such as building repair, and park cleanups.

BROADER PLAN

Premier Frost said the new program "is very much broader."

"It provides a plan for assisting municipal projects, such as roads, sewers, and sidewalks as well as camp sites and picnic areas within municipalities."

In addition to adding a 25-per-cent contribution to the 50-per-cent deal announced last month by Prime Minister Diefenbaker the province would also step up its own public works throughout the winter.

Work would be done in reform institutions, provincial police establishments and Ontario hospitals and "other essential projects."

Solve School Trustee Problem

Annexation and the resulting necessity of re-organizing and extending city wards has created a problem of public and separate school trustee representation for Belleville which was solved on Tuesday.

Officials have decided that one trustee will be elected for each ward for a two year term.

This will mean that two of the city wards will have three school trustees for the next year with the new wards in the five annexed area to have one trustee.

The problem arose as result of the re-organization of city wards which was framed by Foster wards combined with two new wards being formed in the annexed area.

Elderly Israeli Couple, Italian Allowed to Stay

TORONTO (CP) — Deportation orders for an elderly Israeli couple and an Italian were quashed Wednesday by Mr. Justice R. I. Ferguson of the Supreme Court of Ontario after he criticized federal immigration procedure and legislation.

In his judgment on the appeals of Mr. and Mrs. David Shapiro he said one regulation of the immigration act, effected by the immigration department when making its deportation order was ultra vires.

"The lack of possession of an immigrant visa before the time for a special inquiry officer to make his finding is not a ground in law for an order of deportation," Mr. Justice Ferguson ruled.

The Shapiros came here from Israel in 1955, Andres Manaira arrived this year. All came on non-immigrant visas and applied for permission to live in Canada permanently.

But inquiry officers ordered their deportation after finding they were members of a prohibited class because they were not Canadian citizens and did not have proper immigration visas or medical certificates.

HAVE LEGAL RIGHTS

"No one has a right to enter Canada except on such terms, but once on our soil he is entitled to the protection of our laws," Mr. Justice Ferguson said. "He is then entitled to invoke any provision of the immigration act in his favor which he can demonstrate applies to him."

Mr. Justice Ferguson said he was quashing the order concerning Mr. Manaira, who had unsuccessfully appealed his deportation order to the minister of immigration. Ferguson said he was based on a misrepresentation of the law and misdirection to himself.

The immigration officer dealing with Mr. Manaira was empowered to issue an immigrant visa and to have him examined by a medical officer who could have issued the necessary medical certificate.

"But the inquiry took on a Gilbertian flavor," Mr. Justice Ferguson said. "Indeed, it became a farce. In ordering the appellant (Mr. Manaira) deported because he did not have that which he was applying or caused to get from persons empowered to give it to him."

IN MEMORIAM

BATEMAN. — In loving memory of a dear husband and friend, Ervine Bateman, who passed away November 20th, 1957.
God knew that he was suffering,
That his wife were hard to climb;
But there was a gentle whisper,
And whispered, "Peace thy child."
Lay in the beautiful hand of God,
By the valley of rest to lie,
Until the day we know not when.
We will meet our loved one there,
Sadly remembered by wife, Mrs. Bateman, and family.

CARDS OF THANKS

The family of the late George Francis Spencer of Stirling wish to express their sincere thanks and gratitude to their friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy during the illness and death of a loved father.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Dr. Ryley, Dr. Bruce and Dr. Bowerman for their special thank you to the nurses and staff on 3rd floor. Thanks to all my friends for the lovely flowers, cards and gifts, and to all my relatives and friends who visited me in the hospital.
—Mrs. Annie Rose, 32 Everett St.

Arabs Deny Raiders Killed British Woman

CAIRO (AP) — An official spokesman for the United Arab Republic (U.A.R.) today flatly termed as lies Israeli charges that Jordanian soldiers killed Joyce Mary Doran, wife of British air attache in Israel.

Said Afr. el Hifni, information department director, said in a statement that Israel tried to make it appear her killers are from Jordan.

"There is no doubt that these allegations are lies which Israeli sources are accustomed to circulate," Afro said. "We have no knowledge about this subject."

glands of cattle. These glands—in cattle and people—are located in the pituitary and enable the body to maintain a stable content of calcium.

Research with parathormone, being conducted under direction of Dr. Selye, is aimed at finding out old Vancouver physiologist, and Dr. James Whitfield, 57-year-old Sarnia cell physiologist.

They say experiments over the last 16 years show the drug protects rats against levels of radiation from A-bombs that would not injected with parathormone.

About 50 per cent of the rats without received parathormone one hour after irradiation survived. But 75 per cent of each group of rats without protection died.

There was no indication that provided protection against development of cancer or leukemia from irradiation. It was described the survivors were sterile.

pletely ignoring that which was previously his major preoccupation."

The recommendations call for a school term from Sept. 1 to June 30 with a one-week vacation at Thanksgiving, four weeks at Christmas and four weeks at Easter.

This would not add to the total time spent in classes, but would provide students with better-spaced periods of rest and time for reappraisal of their work.

"Such a schedule might well make also for more effective teaching," the report adds.

STILL "UNOFFICIAL"

Dr. Bissell did not comment on the proposals, which he said have been forwarded to the University of Toronto senate and to the leaders of other Ontario universities. He stressed that the plan was still "unofficial."

It will come up for study by the university's consultants, a group of 30 business leaders who are to meet at the university Dec. 3.

The report does not discuss financing of the new student aid proposals but recommends that the university set up a special committee to study ways and means by which existing funds can be used to finance the program.

It also asks that donors and potential donors be told how the university need for financial assistance increases with enrolment.

UNIVERSITY

details of the plan but it sounds like an excellent one. It is something that will help first-class students get to the university can't they be good.

A. D. Dunton, president of Carleton University, Ottawa: "This plan would do much to rectify a situation that exists in all of us. It is one of the most needed measures in Canada at the present time.

Very Rev. E. C. LeBel, president and rector of the Assumption University, Windsor: "I am all in favor of the plan. . . . I have some reservations on the proposal to change the academic year. This might work as an economic hardship on many students."

Dean G. C. Andrew, acting president of the University of British Columbia: "We are all in favor of any plan that will make it possible for the best students to get to university. Ability to pay for such a program is the only problem."

HEARTENING IDEA

S. G. B. Robinson, secretary of the Ontario Association of Teachers' Federation: "It's most heartening to hear of this plan to guarantee financial assistance cents get to the university. On the classroom level this year I am fearful that it would be very hard for many students to earn enough money to help in continuing their studies."

Rev. George P. Gilmour, president of McMaster University: "This plan sounds like one of the most democratic. Our academic year now is much too crowded and this plan would ease the strain of this concentrated year. It is very welcome."

Kurt Switzer, chairman of the national committee, Can-a-dian Conference on Education: "This is really a magnificent step forward in the field of education."

QUEEN'S WELCOMES

At Kingston, Dr. W. A. Mackintosh, principal of Queen's University, today issued the following statement on the proposals:

"Everyone who has been concerned about this problem will welcome the University of Toronto's suggestions enthusiastically. The central proposal that students of outstanding ability should be assured of university education regardless of their financial resources is thoroughly sound, if we can make that assurance known to high school students and their parents, there would be a very desirable reduction in the career plans of many able students.

"The secondary proposition that all aid to outstanding students should be given first by the financial need is also a prudent provision. Without such limitation, the cort would be unmanageable.

"The much less definite suggestion that the university seek should be encouraged to follow the British practice of one long and two short vacations in the year will encounter much more difference of opinion. It is not clear that this change is closely related to the realities of Canadian life."

Council at Special Meeting Approves By-law on Zoning

TRENTON — By-law No. 1329R covering zoning for Trenton was passed at a special meeting of the town council last night.

The council met in the Board Room of the Municipal Building under the chairmanship of Councillor Cecil Fox, who became acting mayor due to the illness of Mayor Ross Burtt, who is at home suffering from a cold.

The zoning by-law was given third and final reading by the councillors and will now be sent to the Ontario Municipal Board for its approval. Passing of the by-law brings to a close three years of long hours of work for the town's Planning Board, at present under the chairmanship of Councillor Jim MacDonald.

Once the Municipal Board approves the by-law the temporary by-law will be formally be dropped and the still regulations now in force will become more relaxed.

One main objection to the by-law was the commercial zoning committee of adjustment. This was overcome by passing the by-law with the condition that all members of council be included on this committee, along with the members of the Planning Board, to make it a 13-man committee in all.

Mayor Ross Burtt was telephoned at his home by Clerk-Treasurer O. Fox, who said the mayor said if this clause was passed then he was by favor of the zoning by-law being brought into force.

The by-law, put to vote, passed with only one opposed, Councillor Joe Gould, who told the council he could not state any one part of the zoning he thought was not right but that he was "just afraid of it," and therefore did not wish to vote in favor of it.

A resolution was also passed in which the Planning Board was extended the appreciation of the town council for its many hours of work and study on the zoning by-law. The thanks were accepted on behalf of the Planning Board by Councillor Jim MacDonald, who said the board had spent many hours on the other members of the board.

John Lyttle Named New Retail Merchants' Body

TRENTON — John Lyttle, was named president of the Trenton Retail Merchants' Association which was formed at a meeting of some 30 local shop owners in the hall at the Community Centre here last night.

The formation of the body to form the groups after the Trenton Chamber of Commerce announced intentions of closing down its office as a Municipal Information at the end of this year.

With Mr. Lyttle on the executive will be: vice-presidents Ian Minard; secretary, Glen Phillips; treasurer, Wilson Bailey; directors, Petr Aziz, George Bedford, Jim Holmes, Gerrit Hulzinga, Jim Thompson, Jack and Mrs. R. M. Hartman.

Following the election of the officers, the group discussed its next general meeting. It was tentatively decided that the next meeting would be in the form of a luncheon with a good speaker. Social activities will also be mixed with the meeting and members will be encouraged to bring their wives with them. This suggestion was made by Doug Whitley. Pete Aziz suggested that the group consider the possibilities of a breakfast meeting once or twice a month, but that this might be suitable for some of the members.

The council does for the group were tentatively fixed at $10 per year, and the executive were sure told the meeting he would be able to collect the money during December for the coming year.

GROUP GROUPS AIMS

In addressing the group the new president, John Lyttle, said, "The aim of this association should be to keep local citizens shopping in Trenton and to attract others to come to Trenton to shop."

In seeking projects for the association, Mr. Lyttle suggested the installation of one way traffic which needed serious study. He said he felt that parking in the commercial area is about up to better organized and space marked and if this was done many more shoppers would be able to leave their cars there. He also suggested that the parking regulation on Dundas Street be changed to come in Trenton to shop."

He said he felt that parking in the commercial area is about up to better organized and space marked and if this was done many more shoppers would be able to leave their cars there. He also suggested that the parking regulation on Dundas Street be changed.

Mr. Whitley recommended the group approach the owners of Dr. Bruce Mills' block about using this area for downtown parking for the use of shoppers rather than to have it blocked off. He said he felt this could be made available for this purpose since the area would enter and leave by the Market Square and in this way they would not interfere with traffic on the main street. Mr. Peter Aziz recommended that the Farrar property be sought for parking on the east side of the bridge. Both properties have been burned out during the year and have now been cleared of debris.

Other suggestions came from various members and it was decided that application cards of membership will be made up and the date of the next meeting will be left to the discretion of the executive.

WANTS STREET SWEPT

One member stated he would like to see the main streets of the surrounding area swept as they have only been given this treatment once this year and the dust blowing in was still a bother.

The president also suggested a fashion show twice a year might be an attraction for buyers, both from Trenton and outside of town. He suggested that Bridge Street be closed to show from time to time in which their merchandise would be displayed.

Outlines Work Of Canadian Cancer Society

TRENTON — At the regular November meeting held at the Belleville Street home last night, the Trenton Business and Professional Women's Club was privileged to have as its guest, Mrs. Clara Lowe, Chairman of the Education Department and Executive Director of the Ontario Division of the Canadian Cancer Society. Mrs. Lowe outlined the work of the Ontario Division of the Canadian Cancer Society, advising that its main function was the education of persons in the early detection of cancer, the incorporation of Cancer dressings, Cancer Dressings and general assistance to cancer sufferers. The local Women's Association does extensive work in preparation of Cancer dressings, and she stated that the women should be used to assist in this work would be welcomed by the local association.

In line with the cancer education program, Mrs. Lowe brought with her a film for showing in self - examination for the early detection of breast cancer. She was assisted in showing the film by Sgt. Brooks, who ran the projector.

Dr. J. C. Johnston spoke on the subject, explaining the different symptoms which would aid in the early detection of cancer. He stressed that cancer was more prevalent in the older age groups, it occurs even in the younger groups but is usually no respecter of age. He stressed the importance of not being done concerning cancer cures, that a great many cancer cases are curable, that the only key to successful treatment is the early detection of the disease.

Pamphlets provided by the Ontario Division of the Canadian Cancer Society encourage their work and the detection of cancer were made available to the club.

The president of the Trenton Bus. and Prof. Club, Pat Kennedy, advised the members that she had attended a meeting held for the purpose of organizing a local Red Cross group responsible for the collection of donors. Explanation of the function of such a group in the area and its connection with the community was given, and Keitha Mitchell was named member in the club, was appointed to the B&PW committee to act on the nominating committee of this newly formed organization.

The International Congress of Business and Professional Women will be held in Paris, France, in July, 1959, and President Kay is waging a one-woman campaign to have as many of the Trenton members as possible attend this conference.

Former Prime Minister St. Laurent, former National Liberal Federation President Duncan MacTavish and Liberal Leader Lester Pearson laugh heartily at something during sessions of the federation's advisory council here. A successor to Mr. MacTavish was picked yesterday. He is A. Bruce Matthews, a Toronto insurance executive. (CP Photo.)

Two, three and four week tours have been arranged, incorporating the five-week conference, which will enable members to take in many interesting sights in several different countries.

Under the chairmanship of Vice-President Fay Jeffery, plans are under way for the B&PW Club Tea, which is to be entered in the Santa Claus Parade, being held in Trenton on Saturday, November 29.

The president reminded the members of the Citizens' Meeting at which the elected bodies make their annual reports, to be held Monday night in the Community Gardens, and urged that as many as possible attend.

Flyers Win First Game of Season Over Kingston

TRENTON — The Trenton Flyers won their first game of the season last night when they defeated Kingston Intermediates 8-1 on home ice.

Both teams displayed fast action during the first two periods but the visitors showed the strain in the last stanza. They left with only 11 players and were no match for the home-town boys although although their goalie was at his best and held the Flyers to only one counter.

The game was scheduled to get underway at 8:30 but was held up for nearly 45 minutes by the visitors.

In the first period Taylor snapped a fast puck past the Kingston goalie at the 4:40 minute mark to open the scoring for the game and the home club. He was assisted by P. Scott and Burley.

At the 5.20 mark the visitors came back to knot the score to 2-0 for the Flyers. J. Scott scored the final counter of the period when he took a pass from Baker and Durst and broke in alone from centre ice the clock clicked even on the seven minute spot.

Two player from Kingston and another from Trenton spent the remainder of the time in the sin-bin during the period.

Penalties — Taylor the spotlight on the second period and Trenton made the first miscue at the 2.30 mark. J. Scott drew the penalty

SOMETHING IN COMMON

Another Remembrance Day has passed by. The fallen have once more been honored in hundreds, if not thousands, of suitable ceremonies across our nation and that vast country to the south. Wreaths were laid, words have been spoken, thoughts have been compiled and many an eye has been dried as the emotion of the occasion allowed our inner feelings to overcome our normal physical composure. We have honored our dead, but have we heeded the lesson which was written with their blood on the pages of the text-book of time?

A few in our community had the privilege of hearing a man speak last Remembrance Day who did not feel enough of us took to heart the frightful lesson of war and offered his ideas on how to create an environment in which war would have no chance to occur. Juan Sheridan, speaking at the local Canadian Legion's annual Remembrance Day dinner, outlined us the theory that a gigantic international sports program, supported by funds which our government would ordinarily spend on armament and organized by what could be our former armed forces units, would create this environment. The philosophy behind this theory is that peoples of different nations would get to know each other better through sports competition and, once becoming familiar with the people of other nations, would realize that everyone is basically the same - - a human being with strong social instincts.

This philosophy, we feel, contains a great deal of truth. . However, we accept Mr. Sheridan's interpretation and suggested application of it to some reservation. An international sports program is certainly an excellent idea. It has proven to be an excellent method of "selling" ourselves abroad to peoples in foreign lands who would otherwise never have the chance to meeting Canadians and vice versa.

However, we feel that there are a few other aspects which should be considered and developed simultaneously. An interchange of students and of citizens would also be very worthwhile with the ultimate end of the philosophy expressed above in view. And citizens could be interchanged at a community level rather than an university level or high school level. Information and propaganda could also be exchanged between, let us say, Belleville and some similar size of town in Germany or Spain or Yugoslavia or India.

THE OTHER THINGS . . .

We see that this young, twenty-two year old Yves Saint-Laurent, successor to the late Christian Dior, accepted director of women's fashions the world over, has devoted his life to the carrying on of his mentor's tradition of fashion leadership. That this task should fall to one so young is rather unusual, we feel, but obviously an excellent indication of Mr. Saint-Laurent's ability. The part of the Associated Press interview which attracted us, however, was Mr. Saint-Laurent's statement of his philosophy. He insists that the fame and fortune which have befallen him will make no difference to his life. He will buy "no sports cars, diamonds or fancy clothes," waste "neither time nor money on wine, women or song" and he has "no hobbies, no sports, no interests except fashion." As he states "I have no time for other things."

It seems to us that this young man had dedicated his life away to nothingness inasmuch as fashions are but temporary facades which are in the spotlight only a short period of notoriety. Life, we feel, might be compared to a rough diamond. It can stay rough, just existing, or it can be cut into a stone of beauty. The more facets cut the more the stone reflects what is around it and, with careful handling, the more facets cut the more beautiful and valued the stone becomes. Similarly, the more well-cultivated and developed interests a human being develops, the brighter and more worthwhile his individual personality becomes, and the greater is his value to those in his society and to human-ity as a whole.

We feel that Mr. Saint-Laurent is an example of a one-sided individual, like a diamond on which only the initial cut has been made.

We should, all of us, find time for "the other things" in life.

By EDGAR A. GUEST

I've known a lot of pretty girls;
I've known the one with laughing eyes,
The one with golden sun-kissed curls,
The simple maiden and the wise.
I've known the girl who sits and pouts,
I've met them all on life's broad track;
But that she lives I have my doubts—
The girl who sends those presents back.

I've met the fairy-mannered maid
Who'd never speak to me again;
I've met the timid and afraid,
I've met the girl who hated men.
I know the college girl, and I
Know girls who such advantage lack;
But I've not met, and wonder why—
The girl who sends those presents back.

They say this maiden lives, but still,
Of her existence I have doubts;
In future days, perhaps, I will Discover just her whereabouts.
Don't think that I'm of peevish mind
And thus the maidens here attack;
So far I've not my luck to find
The girl who sends those presents back.

Orchid Like a Butterfly

By F. W. Bayman Chaffer in Vickers Magazine

More than 300 years ago one of the greatest biologists of all times, Rumphius, arrived on the island of Ambonia in the Indonesian archipelago. Here he found a plant growing on the highest branches of the trees in the forest and possessing beautiful green leaves and exotic white flowers. The natives of the area call them Bunga Kupu-kupu, translated, means Orchid of the Moon. Some years later a Professor Blume discovered a similar plant on an island south of Java. He, too, thought when he approached saw this beautiful flower and at first he thought it was a butterfly. But, fortunately for him, he realized that indeed it was an orchid which he immediately named Phalaenopsis, from the Greek phalaena, or butterfly, and opsis (similar to).

The first Phalaenopsis was sent to England to a Mr. Cummings in 1837, where it produced a beautiful spray of flowers in the autumn of the same year and was called Phalaenopsis Amabilis. In 1858 another batch of flowers was sent to Consul Schiller in Hamburg, Germany, and two years later these plants came to bloom. But the orchid was pink and so they became known as Phalaenopsis Schilleriana in compliment to the man to whom they were sent.

Very soon after this these exotic flowers were in great demand. Expeditions went out all over the world in search of Phalaenopsis and at present there are today large areas where the species have become extinct.

Throughout the tropical regions of South America every possible species of orchid is found and the cultivation of hybrids has become so intense that there now exist magnificent varieties. Orchid Societies have been formed and annual exhibitions are held in most countries of South America. Some years ago in New York an offer of over 2,000 dollars for one single plant was rejected On this continent the natural conditions are in such abundance that orchids flourish to a greater extent than, probably, anywhere else in the world.

Orchids in their natural state live and grow in hot and humid conditions in the jungle or forests near the sea and are generally found on the tree trunks high up, or on the extending branches. Their leaves, as a rule, are usually flat, appear to vary in tones of green with the color of the flowers, or, in some of the orchid, with its magnificent markings not only in the flower but in the leaf, has become the most exotic flower known. The flowers are sometimes the huge butterflies. Each plant can produce from 20 to 40 flowers which, successively, thus allowing for a flowering plant to bloom for sometimes for nearly three months.

The pink variety has smaller flowers, its blooming period is shorter and as a result there is to a greater number of flowers to each plant - sometimes as to 100. A plant with more than 200 flowers on its stem at the same time has been known. There are three types of orchid found growing in their natural environment: (1) with white flowers; (2) with yellow flowers and (3) called Botanicea, with smaller flowers than the others but possessing a wide variety of color, sometimes striped and spotted which are the favorites of lovers. In the raising of hybrid orchids there are hundreds of different varieties. Each year, societies all over the world are still striving to produce a new variety and beautiful orchid to astound those who have the good fortune to present upon its magnificent countenance.

Student Pilfering

London Free Press

The cafeteria of the University of Western Ontario, opened in January, 1957, has been looted of silverware and dishes worth $2,500, and the manager appeals to the students to stop this pilfering. President Al-Sihl of the Students' Council says investigation and prosecution, close to this pilfering, will mean increased costs of meals.

Wolves Range Widely

Ontario Lands and Forests News

Wolves and coyotes are relatively inactive during the summer months. They are occupied with the raising of their young and do not range as widely as in the winter. There is also a great abundance of small game animals, mice, birds and fruit such as blueberries and raspberries are available which are high in protein and fat consumption needed by wolves during the winter is not required in summer and production on large wild and deer is much lower.

This lessening of wolf activity is by no means complete and few wolves being seen or killed and gives biologists and others working on wolf research and management an opportunity to analyse the information they obtained during the previous winter.

Among other things, the research work centred in Algonquin Park last summer has shown that wolves range over great distances in their search for food sometimes as much as 40 miles and are almost 80 miles in length.

Studies of the remains of 19 deer killed by Algonquin Park wolves indicate that do not support the idea that they kill only the sick and old; they appeared to be indiscriminate in their hunting and took young, old, sick or healthy deer probably as opportunity permitted.

The howl of early winter wolves and coyotes kept at the Wildlife Research Station in Algonquin Park for studies of various kinds do not disturb deer which inhabit the area. This apparent lack of fear has been noted by trappers and others who have watched deer feed quietly while wolves hunted close to them.

Wolf activity began to increase in late August and this was soon apparent in the increase in the number of requests recorded for bounty and sent to the Southern Research Station at Maple for examination. Campers' reports (in Algonquin Park) of wolf howling increased and their tracks became more common along sand beaches and old logging roads.

In early September workers in the wolf research projects in Algonquin Park set traps and snares to catch live wolves and within a week had already caught three.

The yellow ear-tagged and given a colored leather collar before they were released so they could be identified if they were seen or caught again during the summer. Such tagging, marking and release method aids workers in their studies of movement and range and in estimating the population of wolves in an area such as the park.

The handling and marking of these animals requires special equipment and techniques and efficient methods of doing the job have had to be developed. The recent introduction of a gun which fires a hypodermic syringe loaded with anesthetic and tranquilizing drug has proved to be of great value in immobilizing wolves, the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests reports.

The colors of the 39th. Battalion which was mobilized in Belleville during the first six months of 1915 were deposited for safe keeping in the old parish church of St. Thomas on the 17th. inst. The colors which were all of this city through the Women's Canadian Club, accompanied the battalion to England and have recently returned to Belleville. The service of receiving the colors was most impressive and was conducted by the rector of the parish, Archdeacon the Venerable C. B. Essenhigh. The church was filled to capacity.

Lieut. Col. J. A. V. Preston, officer commanding the 39th. Battalion, presented the colors to Archdeacon Essenhigh who received them on behalf of the parish and laid them upon the altar. Later they will be properly draped in the church.

Let there be a full vote in favor of these industries and better times in Belleville may be expected.

Bow Can Be Dangerous

Fort William Times-Journal

Archery is a fine sport, but carelessness with a strong bow and arrows can be extremely dangerous as was demonstrated when an 11-year-old boy lost the sight of an eye whey struck by an arrow while playing in his own back yard.

The mishap might have been worse: the boy could have been killed.

There is something about a fire-arm that warns of danger a b, d makes people cautious. But bow and arrow — yet even they romantic — appears harmless by comparison. Yet archers will prove that any living thing that can be killed by a firearm — can and has been brought down with bow and arrow. Compared to the strong hunting bow and steel-tipped arrow, the ordinary playtype bow and arrow is rather a harmless toy — yet even they can do damage and children should be allowed to use them only under the supervision of a responsible adult.

To Your Good Health

DERMABRASION HELPS REMOVE SCARS LEFT BY ACNE

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have recently heard of a method of smoothing scars caused by acne. It is called rotary dermabrasion. I'd like to know if this could be harmful. I'd also like to know if there are qualified skin specialists in my city who can do this, and the approximate cost. — J.W."

Well, young lady, I've mentioned this process before, but it was brief. I'm glad to know about it.

Dermabrasion means, essentially, grinding off the surface of the skin. Some years ago, when the process was first being used, it was commonly known as "sand papering". We still do that time, hear of some ill-advised people who actually thought they could "sandpaper" their own skin. Quite aside from the possibilities of such undertaking, they gouged the skin and, of course, caused infections which made the scars that much worse.

The way dermatologists (skin specialists) and plastic surgeons do this work is by gently but firmly scrubbing sandpaper across the skin. Actually, a fine-grit sandpaper can be used. Immediately there has been a trend toward using a rotary tool. In that way, the abrasive is used with a machine that rotates it at high speed.

The brush or other abrasive is applied to the skin which, too, of course, is made germ-free. Then local anesthesia is used, ordinarily a gas-type local which "freezes" the surface so there is no pain while the abrasion is being done.

ASK YOUR FAMILY PHYSICIAN

In any of the large cities, such as yours, there are both skin specialists and plastic surgeons who are highly qualified to do this work. Your family physician will keep a complete list of all the specialists in all cities. I'd do what I suggest you do: advise you to ask your own family physician to refer you to a specialist. That is the best way I know to assure you of being referred to a qualified person. Your family physician's usefulness in this sort of problem alone is vast.

If you do not have a family physician (but I hope you do) then ask for advice from the county medical society in your area, or perhaps advice at the hospital with which you have had dealings.

Maybe you'll think I'm passing the buck. Perhaps I am, in a way, but I assure you no one can have reliable knowledge about physicians all over the country, and I'm not going to try. It is part of a physician's responsibility to know the qualified specialists in his own area; however.

To get back to dermabrasion, it is eminently successful in removing surface scarring such as that left by acne. Where there are some deep pits, they prob-ably cannot be removed by this method, but neither are they likely to be objectionable, once the superficial acne scars are removed. (Dermabrasion is used for some other types of scarring too).

Now, smooth skin will result on the abraded area within a matter of days. I know of no aspect of the process which is harmful in any way, and some experts say that it can be repeated if desired in some circumstances, quite aside from the matter of appearance.

Sometimes more than one go-over is required, depending on the severity of the scars. The area and depth will control the result, and therefore I will not try to estimate it. It is work requiring skill and care and judgment. The best way to determine the cost is to ask the specialist. No two cases will be alike.

That identified him perfectly. The game as an art of cribbage is practised by a vast company who, by their quiet exhilaration, have freed themselves from chores of small talk, dependence on television and the responsibility of companionship.

GIVE CREDIT WHEN DUE

Bread and meat are not the only essentials in giving life to the body. There are those w h o thrive on these.

Withhold credit and appreciation from a man and you start to starve him! Keep from him that which gives life to his soul and you lead him away from hope itself.

Give credit where credit is due.

There is always honor and glory enough for all. It's a big world and there are millions of things still lying around undiscovered and undone. Do your part as it comes, but keep giving credit to others, who as nobly work on.

No worthy act ever becomes commonplace. Each effort i s at once the most im portant step for you and the world. For we are all associated. We are all our brother's keeper. We should be his helper, too.

Keep giving credit when credit is due.

More honor and glory comes to him who than ever leaves you — when you magnanimously applaud the other fellow.

When the controversy arose many years ago as to who most deserved the g r e a t honor achieved against the Spanish Fleet at Cuban waters, Admiral Winfield Scott Schley, he is credited with the noblest heroes of t h e battle when he exclaimed: "There is glory enough for all."

Scouting activities

A very well attended meeting of the local Boy Scouts' Association was held with president F. J. Lancaster in the chair.

Committee chairman were appointed covering all scouting activities. Capt. J. Watson is badge chairman and will have a small stock of scout badges that can be purchased when the scouts are qualified. This will enable leaders to award badge without delay. Mr. L. G. Mostelt is again in charge of swimming classes at the Y.M.C.A., held each Saturday at 1:00 p.m. He and his efficient staff will welcome all Cubs and Scouts who wish to learn to swim and also pass boys for badges. This is so important that leaders should make every effort to encourage their boys to attend these classes. The water safety chairman is Dr. C. H. Craig, who will direct and advise on all matters relating to equipment, boats and precautions necessary to water safety. Don't neglect to make sure you are right before taking your boys out. Publicity will be attended to by Chris Leggat. Phone or write interesting items to 2-5467 or R.R. 1 Foxboro. All committees will be named in this column in later editions.

A. R. SYMONS LIFE MEMBER

It gives us pleasure to announce that A. R. Symons has been made an Honorary Life Member of the Belleville Boy Scouts. Mr. Symons has given a great deal to Scouting and is inactive at present only because of serious illness. We know his interest is still keen and we hope that he will recover and be with us for many years to come. There will always be a welcome for this grand champion of Scouting.

LADIES' AUXILIARY MEETING

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Eleaner Blaker the Boy Scout Ladies' Auxiliaries held their fall dessert meeting at St. Michael's Academy. An exceptional turnout of 65 mothers made for an interesting meeting. Everyone was interested in suggestions for building active auxiliaries to support the group committees. Exuberant Cub Packs and Scout Troops call for the spirit in the group committees and it was felt that the Mothers' Auxiliaries form an indispensable part of every group.

The evening commenced with a supper, consisting of an infinite variety of the most delightful desserts served, with coffee. Then followed a series of reports and fifteen minutes of entertainment by the 3rd Belleville Scout Troop under the leadership of Scoutmaster Jervis.

The special guests of the evening were District Commissioner L. Alcorn and Mrs. Alcorn; Frank Lancaster, president of the Belleville local association and Mrs. Lancaster; president of the sponsoring body the 3rd Belleville, the P.T.A., Mrs. Barrett and Mrs. Barrett; Mr. Terry Wheeler, president of the 3rd Belleville group committee; Mrs. Dorothy Callaghan the new president of 3rd Belleville Ladies' Auxiliary.

Mrs. Art Fox presented a report of a provincial committee study course for Boy Scout Ladies' Auxiliaries which she and three other ladies had recently attended in Toronto. It stressed the need for good public relations at every level, well-informed Auxiliaries and particularly living Scouting every day in every way.

The hostess did a very fine job under the convenership of Mrs. McCallum, who is past president of St. Michael's Ladies' Auxiliary.

25 FRAUD COUNTS

TORONTO (CP) — Three men were committed for trial Wednesday on a total of 25 fraud counts after a number of elderly women testified substantial sums for house repair jobs which in some cases were never completed. One 79-year-old woman testified she gave the men a total of $2,400.

High School Activities

Last Friday, at Q.S.S., after their final performance of The Saturday Evening Ghost, the cast of the play, stage and make-up crews and guests repaired to the traditional "cast" party, here was dancing in the gymnasium, refreshments in the cafeteria and much conversation about the success of the play for which many people had worked very hard.

"To be or not to be" was the theme of the school yearbook for a while this fall. The Air Cadets are in the news again. 606 squadron, last year's winners of the Strathcona trophy are off to a good start this year with an enrolment of approximately 190 cadets.

Discussions are being held by Q.S.S. and R.C.A.F. Station Trenton concerning arrangements for a ceremony at which the Strathcona Trophy will be presented to the cadets of the squadron. A smaller replica which will be held by the squadron will also be presented at this time, it is probable that the newly acquired Air Cadet Ensign will be consecrated at the same time.

The squadron's drill team, with the emphasis this year on precision, has begun weekly practices early this fall and these will continue until the Tri-Service Cadet Drill Competition in May of next year.

On Thursday evening, November 20, a teacher's workshop, sponsored by the Ontario Secondary School teachers' Federation, will be held at Quinte Secondary School. Among the distinguished guests will be Mr. H. R. Wallace, M.A., assistant superintendent of Secondary Education; Mr. W. R. Stewart, B.A., Assistant Superintendent of Secondary Education; and Mr. H. Mitchell, Field Secretary of O.S.S.T.F. Over 150 teachers are expected to attend this workshop.

To celebrate the end of examinations and to raise funds for their organization, the Girls' Athletic Society of Q.S.S. will hold a tea dance on Wednesday, November 26.

On Friday evening, Nov. 28, the Keyette Club will hold a dance called, "The Gentlemen's Jump". The dress will be "collar and tie" for the boys and a similar degree of "formality" is expected of the girls.

Two students of grade 10, Michael Pohlada and Peter Volks are expending talent and time on an interesting art project. They are painting in oils, a mural 16 x 10 feet, at the landing of the main staircase. The mural will depict two students in a classroom with a teacher pointing to a map of Canada on which will be shown vignettes of Quinte students in their future professions.

Granite Quarries Humming

Granite, one of the finest and most permanent of building stones, is found in almost every province in Canada. The Stanstead district of Quebec is one of the most important granite producing areas of the country and its quarries hum from dawn to dusk, turning out stone for the many new buildings and bridges being constructed from coast to coast. Above, foreman Tom Archer directs placing of 40 ton block by hoist.

British Empire Dairy Show Has Increased Entry

Increased interest in the British Empire Dairy Show to be held at Belleville right hall November 26 and 27, is being shown this year, according to Mrs. Lillian Matthews, secretary of the Central Ontario Cheesemakers' Association.

The cheese show is held annually in conjunction with the cheesemakers' convention sessions of which are to be held at Hotel Quinte. This is the 31st annual cheese show and convention.

Entries from other districts are already up over previous years, according to Mrs. Matthews with the bulk of the local entries still to be received. There are classes for regular cheese, stillons and for square cheese and in addition there will be a mature class for storage cheese more than a year old.

Judges for the regular classes will be Jack Bain of London, and J. C. MacMillan, chief grader for the Central Ontario district.

Convention sessions at the Hotel Quinte will feature talks on cheese-making technique and on market trends. The sessions will also be addressed by H. P. Mulloy, fieldman for the Wisconsin Cheesemakers' Association, and by Mrs. Dorothy MacKinnon, Belleville, home economics director.

As usual the cheese show will be open to the public who are invited to inspect the cheese any time during open hours.

The concluding cheesemakers' banquet will be held Thursday evening, November 27, at the Masonic Temple. Guest speaker will be Mr. Everett Biggs, Ontario dairy commissioner.

Devices Keep Babies Handy To Mother

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Motherhood made a necessity of inventions by a London housewife.

Mrs. C. M. Peterson, wife of a dentist here, and mother of four, has invented several devices to keep babies handy and happy.

She has made a "babi-sitter," a wooden contraption something like a saddle, which a baby sits, watching the world from a 40-degree angle.

The sitter now is sold through gift shops at hospitals here and in Owen Sound, Ont., and Winnipeg. Profits go to medical social work.

Mrs. Peterson says she believes inventors have to be close to their mothers — but sometimes they get in the way.

She also has invented a shopping bag. It is built on a chicken wire frame and lined with foam rubber and quilted plastic material. Two well-secured straps enable it to be slung over the shoulders, so that baby can be popped in it and the container hung from mother's shoulders, or it can be attached to a double seat.

She also made a swinging bed — a banana boat hung from the ceiling — and a "babi-stole," a triangle of cloth attached to a belt in which a baby rides on the mother's back.

B.P.W. Club Enjoys Slides Of Wildlife

Miss Hilda Collier, president of the B.P.W., presided at the monthly meeting of the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club held at the home of Mrs. Vi Burwash on Monday.

The guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. F. Wallis of the Field Naturalist Club, who showed beautiful slides of birds and animals she had taken in the Quinte district. Mrs. Wallis has been a naturalist from early childhood and explained how she was able to call these birds and animals and follow up until she could get exactly the picture she wanted.

The president, Hilda Collier, gave a brief report on her trip to Sarnia where she attended the provincial convention in October.

Reports from member representatives to the Arthritic Society and Cancer Society were given and ways in which members could be of help to these organizations were suggested.

Plans were given for the Christmas party to be held at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Ellis next month.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Marie Huffman and her committee.

Successful Separates

Point Anne C.W.L. Plans Activities

The November meeting of the Point Anne Subdivision of the C.W.L. was recently held in St. Anne's School with a good attendance. The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. J.J. Buckley with the president, Mrs. Smith presiding.

The various conveners read their reports and the correspondence at hand was discussed.

It was decided that an apron, home bake sale, tea and euchre be held next month.

Father Buckley addressed the ladies and discussed fully the appointments of priests and bishops in the church also the jurisdiction of power within the church.

Mrs. Cook thanked Father Buckley for his most interesting speech.

The meeting was adjourned by Hazel Simmons.

Progressive euchre was played followed by refreshments.

Women's Hospital Auxiliary Presents Fashion Fiesta

Last evening nearly 1,000 fashion conscious women enjoyed one of the finest fashion events shown at the Collegiate in some time, amid surroundings superbly appointed with beautiful banked white chrysanthemums, ferns, red begonias, glistening chandeliers, and little, bridge-like ramp in white over which the models passed displaying their entrancing costumes, furs, and sports wear.

For approximately 10 years the Women's Hospital Auxiliary has made a yearly presentation of current fashions, each year successively better than the preceding one, with last night being a "sell out."

The large audience was most courteously welcomed by the president of the Auxiliary, Mrs. W. H. Finkle, who extended thanks to the various donors; to the ushers; to Miss Ivy Dickens; to Mrs. R. E. Burley, the vice-president, who for two years has convened the presentation; to Mrs. J. Deacon and Mrs. A. F. Radomiech for the stage decoration; to all who had participated in the "Fashion Fiesta," and introduced the commentator, Mrs. Robert Tanner, becomingly attired in black with green accent, and grey fur stole, whose comments were pointed and delightfully spiked with humor.

SOLID SELECTIONS

Mrs. Tanner introduced the soloist, Mrs. Helen Grant-Gafney, wearing a lovely, softly-tiered gown of green net, who sang three selections, prefacing the three divisions of the Fiesta with: "Getting to Know You", "Lady in Satin," and "Some Enchanted Evening," with Mrs. Victor Barkley as accompanist. Mrs. Barkley also presided at the organ preceding the opening of the dining.

The Fiesta opened with the showing of a sport outfit in a colorful Scottish plaid, having with reds, and greens in the original "McGuire of Ross Buie" tartan, worn with a white cardigan with convertible collar, worn either high or open, with finely tailored slacks. This was followed by an eye-catching jumper in black velvet with gleaming white satin blouse, a skirt matching, and with the showing of a fine leather coat in black, which was most arresting over colors of blues, greens contrasting with its winter-white-beige lone.

SPORTS OUTFITS

Another sports outfit was in apple red, with heavily knitted sweater and skirt with walking pleats, very chic. Jacob's coat of many colors was most arresting with its squares of vibrating colors. This was worn with a black velvet jacket, which had bottons of complementing colors, Slim-line were also shown demonstrating the "sloppy Joe" period. This was worn with a bulky knit pullover in white.

The well-known Grenfell coat was also modelled, so liked because of its warmth without weight, made from a heavy tweed in simple design with handsewn pockets and soft collar.

Mohair and wool holds a high place in young sports, because of its subtle appeal will its softly combined colors of Pink Lady, Creme de Cacao, and Creme de Menthe; another was shown in a lovely lynchuh blue, which was both suitable for dress and for sport's. Donegal tweed was used in a most becoming way and the coat serves a dual purpose as it can be worn as a jacket.

In all the models, sports, casual, and party, the prevailing length was below the knee, with the empire waistline being favorite and gracefully draped skirts a close second.

CRUISE TO CORSICA

In the "Cruise to Corsica," cottons, silks and prints of exotic hues and shapes were shown, including a "Buccaneer" dress of boatsailing in red and white plus stripes with wide belt. A jersey sheath, which it is must for trying to keep from wrinkling. A theatre costume consisted of coat and dress in tapestry effect with leaf spray. A kitten's ear leather coat in navy, wearing a lovely, softly-tiered gown of green net, who sang three selections, prefacing the three divisions of the Fiesta with: "Getting to Know You", "Lady in Satin," and "Some Enchanted Evening," with Mrs. Victor Barkley as accompanist. Mrs. Barkley also presided at the organ preceding the opening of the dining.

SPORTS OUTFITS

Another sports outfit was in apple red, with heavily knitted sweater and skirt with walking pleats, very chic. Jacob's coat of many colors was most arresting with its squares of vibrating colors. This was worn with a black velvet jacket, which had red, wild mink, Russian Kolinsky, were suitable for all occasions.

ENCHANTMENT

In the third portion of the Fiesta known as "Enchantment" there were gowns suitable for parties and evening, and in scintillating silks, nets, satins, taffetas and velvets, in black, peacock blue, green, amethyst, sapphire blues, Elizabethan rose, seafoam shades, Riviera blue and in Cleopatra white. These features the bouffant, harem, barrel and sheath. These were shown in the closing scene, worn with mink collars, and presented a picture long to be remembered as the models took their places about the stage at various points.

An interesting moment came with the drawing of the prizes which Mrs. Finkle, Mrs. B. E. Burley in charge, and Mrs. Buchan making the draws which went to the following:: Peggy's Beauty Salon, shampoo and wave, by Mrs. Vic White, 203 Albert Street; McIntosh Bros. black leather bag, Mrs. E. Bridge, 250 East Moira; Latimer's, basket of cosmetics, Mrs. Ann Doyle, Belleville R.R. 3; Woodley Furriers, $10 hat, Mrs. G. H. Christ Church Decorations Explained to CC

On Monday evening the Conquest Club of Christ Church held a study-group in the parish hall.

President Helen McCormick welcomed the members, and introduced Barbara Rouget as a member. Catherine Roulet gave a report on the recent vestry council meeting, and a report on the recent rummage sale. Members were reminded that next month will see the parking of the Moose Factory parcel for which much enthusiastic work has been done.

The president welcomed Archdeacon J. B. Creegan, who gave a talk on the meanings of the various colors and decorations of the church, and answered several questions as to church ritual and symbolism.

The whole idea and thought behind the church building itself, the speaker said, its furniture and decorations was to lead those who come into touch of God, and thus nothing is done to distract from the symbols of the Cross and the Altar.

Following the talk, a social hour with refreshments served by hostesses Florence Leunox, Verone Mathers and Mary Rompen.

Mrs. Red Storey Believes Hubby Does Good Job

MONTREAL (CP) — At least one person is sure that Red Storey does a good job in every National Hockey League game he referees.

That person is his wife, Helen St. Pierre Storey, who knew little or nothing about hockey when she married the famous redhead 14 years ago.

Red, a former football player, now is in his ninth season as an NHL referee. He was also once no longer worries about possible injuries, or rough times with players and abusive fans.

USE DIPLOMACY

"I used to worry at first," she admitted. "Fortunately, Red forgets about the game when he gets home, and whether or not I agree with his decisions I never express an opinion other than to say 'I think you did a swell job, dear.'

"Actually I think he does very well, so why not tell him so?"

The Storeys have two sons, Bobby, 13, and Douglas, 11, and Mrs. Storey finds it keeps her busy carrying on the home responsibilities. During the hockey season Red sometimes is away for two weeks at a time.

"And he plays golf all summer, so I am almost a year-round widow," says the wife, an attractive, bonne - haired, blue-eyed woman. During the long hockey trips of her husband, Mrs. Storey is "father and mother, too."

TALENTED PIANIST

Helen Storey is an accomplished pianist. A serious student of the piano from an early age, she completed her musical education at McGill Conservatorium of Music.

"My training was entirely in the classical," she says. "I'm not the rock 'n' roll type. Semi-classical is all right for me, but not the strictly popular kind of thing."

Red Storey has long been connected with sports, both as a player and an official. He made Grey Cup history in the 1938 game by scoring the only touchdown in each quarter, playing for the victorious Toronto Argos against Winnipeg. He was also an outstanding lacrosse player. He also became a top football official in the Big Four, En-

'Sadie Hawkin's Day' Held by C.O.F. at Tobe's

Recently, Court Belleville of the Canadian Order of Foresters held a Sadie Hawkins Dance at Tobe's County Gardens. There were over 200 people on hand to enjoy the fun and dancing which continued into the wee small hours.

All present were dressed to portray the true styles of Dog Patch, such as sack dress, made out of a well known brand of sugar bag, while several straw hats, wigs and corncob pipes were much in evidence.

This affair was open to the public resulting in many guests attending from far and near.

All enjoyed themselves immensely, satisfied that the night had been well spent.

GUARD HEALTH

For wet weather every child should have waterproof footwear as well as a raincoat or cape and hat.

Mother's Helper

SOMETHING your child will approve for her "property identification"; a roll of cellophane tape, advertised about 250 times with her name and address. The tape comes in her own fragrance, is easy to tear off and apply to books, pencils and pencil boxes, pens, records, skis and skates. Not inexpensive, but highly satisfactory.

GOOD MANNERS

By Mrs. Beeckman

MUST WEDDING ATTENDANT BE GIVEN A PHOTOGRAPH?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

It was matron of honor at my roommate's wedding. There were twelve attending in the wedding party. Before, during, and after the wedding we had pictures taken by a photographer. When the couple returned from their wedding trip, the bride sent me a print, and naturally I inquired about the pictures. She told me they came out very well, that I could see them whenever I wished to, and that if I wished to have her order one she would, the price being one dollar per picture.

I was shocked to think that any member of the wedding party would be given a photograph as a gift from the couple, and so I let the matter drop. However, just recently, I received a picture of the wedding party through the mail, enclosed with a bill for one dollar. Since I had not requested a photograph, and since my husband and I are both under the impression that I should have received one without a bill, we sent it back to the photographer. Are we right in thinking that I should have received a picture from the bride and groom? — Confused

No . . . you and your husband really had no right to assume that you were to be given a photograph. This gesture is not a "must" and the bride was in straightforward in telling you you could see the prints at your convenience and in what the price would be. I imagine, however, that the photographer sent you the photograph and the bill on his own responsibility, that the bride and groom probably didn't know about this. However, you of course had the right to return it to him if you had no wish to keep it.

WIDOW'S NAME ON GENERAL-

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I am about to order some letter-paper for my general use, printed at the top of each sheet with my name and address. I am a widow and, since my husband's death three months ago, I have used the name (for example) Mrs. Lorraine T. Brown. On this letter-paper I would like to u s e "Lorraine T. Brown." Would this be correct? — Widow

No. Why not begin now to use the correct form of your name: Mrs. Charles Brown (for example)? This is the correct name-form to use on the printed letter-paper. In other words, the name and address are printed on this general-utility letter-paper should be in the correct form of your postal address:

Mrs. Charles Brown,
133 Fourth Street
Haven City 5
Ontario

HOW TO SIGN BIRTH-ANNOUNCEMENTS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Our first baby is to arrive soon, and yesterday I bought the very attractive birth-announcements I am planning to use. The last line is "Parents." What is the correct way to write our names? My husband thinks perhaps it should be "Mr. and Mrs." — but this seems too formal to me.

— Mother-to-be

"Mr. and Mrs." would be incorrect for this signature. All of the cards may be signed "Katherine and Peter Lane"; or, if you wish, sign most of them this way, and sign those to relatives and intimate friends "Katherine and Peter."

WISE TO FOLLOW CUSTOMS OF ORGANIZATION

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. During the absence of one of the officers in an organization to which I belong, I have been asked to assume her duties. This organization has in years past used the first name of members in newspaper articles. I have always felt this was wrong, and that the member's name should read "Mrs. John Doe," not "Mrs. Alice Doe." One of my duties will be to write up the events of the organization for the newspaper, and I do so want to use the correct form.

2. In writing to those who are to receive chairmanships, should I say "Chairlady" or "chairman"?

3. In sending notes of thanks and invitation, is it correct to close by writing "Cordially and fraternally yours"? — Reader

1. You are right . . . "Mrs. John Doe" is the correct form of name to use when a member's name is listed for newspaper publication. However, since you are substituting for the absent officer, my advice is that you should follow the form that is the custom of the organization. Otherwise you might be criticized for not abiding by custom.

2. Today "chairman" is used.

3. "Cordially yours" or "Sincerely yours" is most often used, but I suggest you look in the files and follow the letter-closing customarily used in the organization's notes of thanks and invitation.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, a lawyer, a clergyman, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Hilda S. — I don't want to move any more.

Richard S. — The kids would have to pay a price, too.

Hilda S. — My husband and I have been married 12 years and have five youngsters. My husband's work calls for our relocating every three or four years.

As you can imagine, this is a very hard life for me. I can never really fix up a nice home. When we get really settled a n d comfortable in one place we have to pick up and take off. I am not complaining just for myself, but it is terrible for the children. They constantly being taken away from the schools and playmates they like. They cry for weeks before and after a move.

I feel that Dick should make up his mind to find a settled job. I am willing to take a cut in our standard of living if necessary. He can apply his skill in different ways if he really wants to settle down.

Richard S. — Before we got married I explained to Hilda that I was willing to serve be able to settle permanently in one community — at least not while I am young. There is a much higher income and do far more interesting and rewarding work if we keep on the move.

Hilda was thrilled by the idea at that time. She said she hated being stuck in one place. I realize, however, that it is much harder with young children. Each move seems to become more difficult, but I try to help out as much as possible. Hilda's complaints don't help a bit.

I'd be willing to make a sacrifice for the kids any day, but in this case it may be t h e kids who could actually be making the sacrifice. I certainly won't be able to help five through college if I take a big income.

The Council: Despite her pessimistic tasta that she is not concerned as much for herself as her children, we feel that Hilda deserves considerable sympathy and credit for her achievement in having made several addictions while bearing and raising five children. It certainly could not have been an easy life, but perhaps it might have been, and may yet become, a more entertaining one if Hilda could get herself to take it in stride.

Moving is hardest for children who have a deep sense of insecurity. If they are comfortable with themselves and feel secure about their parents' love, they are soon overly upset at the idea of going to a new school and making new friends. The fact that these children constitute a sizable group in a family should add to their sense of security. Possibly all or some of them need a little more understanding and attention from one or both parents.

It is very likely, however, that these children are reacting to their mother's fears. The parents seemed happy and excited about each move, the children would undoubtedly reflect this. The moves would seem like big adventures. The children may well have an edge over others. They get to learn about different sections of the country and will have to develop the ability to make friends quickly.

Nobody can tell Hilda and Richard what the best decision would be for themselves and their family, but it is important that they arrive together at some decision and stick it it without regret. If they decide to stay put and take the cut in living standard, Richard must avoid a sense of resentment. If they decide that the gypsy life is preferable, Hilda should make up her mind to accept it with good will. Children have a lot of capacity for adjusting to things, but few, if any, can adjust to long-term conflicts between their parents.

A Rich Pale-Colored Steam Pudding For Christmas

by Mary Moore

Nobody understands me. Here I work testing and tasting rich recipes for Christmas cooking and all the same time trying to streamline off about five pounds, so I will look sleek in my new dress, and what do I get? I ever worked so hard at two such conflicting projects.

The pudding I am giving you today certainly won't take off any pounds. But for you skinny cooks they will add gold leaves and stars to your cooking crown.

I was trying to create a light-colored steamed pudding with a rich flavor that would please the adults who want traditional Christmas food — but at the same time are open-minded enough to welcome some innovations.

Read through the mouth-watering recipe and see if you can accept my word for its richness and suitability for your Christmas dinner. It is the Steamed White Pudding suggested in the Christmas Dinner Menu which will be given here on December 15th.

STEAMED WHITE FRUIT PUDDING:

This may be made in advance and reheated before serving, but on the other hand is just as good if not better if made and steamed just before serving time.

Use one-half cup butter or mixed butter and best grade shortening, 1 cup sugar, (or 1-3 cup less sugar if you do not have too sweet a tooth), 3 large eggs, 1 teaspoon almond flavoring, 3 1-4 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup pale yellow tans raisins, 1-3 cup finely cut candied pineapple or fine coconut, 3-oz. shaved Brazil nuts, 1-3 cup chopped candied citron.

Cream the butter (or butter and shortening) until light; then beat in the sugar until light, then the eggs and flavoring. Sift together the sugar, flour, baking powder and salt and to them add the fruits and nuts. Stir the flour well through those sticky ingredients. Add to the butter mixture and stir until the batter is completely mixed. Turn into a well-buttered mould. Mine is a straight-sided aluminum pan 6 1-2 x 3 1-2" and hold this to perfection. Steam in covered steamer 1 1-2 to 2 3-4 hours. Serve with Lemon Sauce.

If this pudding is made in advance, turn it out of the mould to cool, wrap in wax paper then foil. Do not store in it an aluminum mould. When reheating to serve, heat in mould for 1 hour. If made and served at once turn out on a large serving dish

It unmoulds to perfection and has a pale gold outer surface. Serve with Orange Hard Sauce to be given here on December 22nd or with a simple Brown Sugar Hard Sauce: One cup fresh light brown sugar, 1-2 cup room temperature butter, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Beat butter and sugar together until as light as possible. Beat in flavoring. Pile lightly on serving dish, score top with fork, sprinkle with nutmeg and chill until hard.

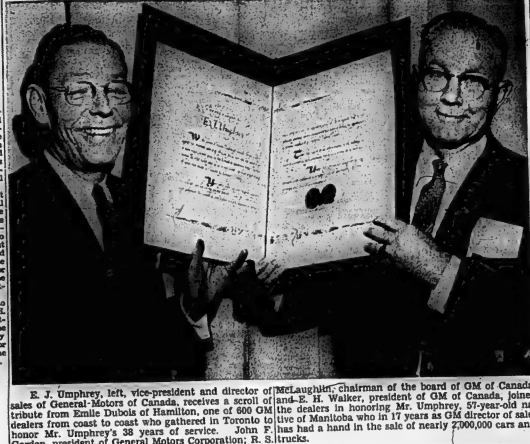
CAMPBELLFORD

R.C. Banbury Addresses Rotary Club

CAMPBELLFORD — Mr. Ralph C. Banbury agricultural representative of Northumberland county, was present at the regular Monday noon luncheon meeting of the Campbellford Rotary Club to answer questions concerning the Community Centres Act and the provincial grant available under it.

Mr. Banbury stated that Campbellford has received all but about $500 on the purchase of the present arena, as there is a limit of $3,000 to each project. He stated he is not too familiar with the procedure, but felt that the department would have to be convinced of the need before making a grant for a second project. The title to the project, he said, would be vested in the community.



Mr. Banbur was invited to Rotary by Rotarian Donald H. Morgan, chairman of a committee appointed to investigate the possibility of a community centre with artificial ice for skating and curling, with the Rotary Club as the instigator.

This is a model of an ion rocket engine described by space scientists as a new engine that could reach Mars. They said as long as it could be boosted into space by more powerful chemical rockets, the engine's thrust could counteract the lessened attraction of gravity. An ion engine developing only a pound of thrust could put a 10,000-pound vehicle in neighborhood of Mars in nine months, or near the moon in three months.

— BELLEVILLE —

Scoharie

SCOHARIE — Deepest sympathy is extended to Mr. Harold Pryde on the passing of Mrs. Pride after a long and painful illness. Mr. Pryde has been a faithful mail carrier for many years.

Miss Louise Huff, Toronto, came home for graduation exercises at Picton Collegiate on Friday night, and spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Huff, and family. Louise was one of the graduates.

Anniversary services were held at Bloomfield United Church on Sunday with Captain the Rev. Mackenzie, of Picton Heights, as guest speaker. He delivered splendid messages at both services. The senior and junior choirs rendered special music at both services. The junior choir was wearing their new gowns and caps for the first time. These will be dedicated at next Sunday morning's service.

Mr. George Gross was a recent Sunday supper guest of Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Foster, Darlene and Carol.

The Live Women's Circle met at Orser Hall on Thursday afternoon for their annual meeting and to make plans for the bazaar. They also cleaned the hall before the meeting.

Mrs. Blaine Foster and Carol accompanied her mother, Mrs. McWilliam and spent Monday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wannamaker, it being Mr Wannamaker's birthday.

Prince Edward County Junior Farmers are holding their church service at Demorestville Church on Sunday at 8 p.m., with Mr. Banbury, Brighton, speaking on "Give therefore Thy servant an understanding heart." All are welcome.

Marmora

W.I.

MARMORA — Mrs. W. Tisdill president of Marmora branch of the Women's Institute, was hostess for the regular meeting on November 11th, Mrs. F. Grant and Mrs. George Empey were co-hostesses.

Each member gave current events. Mrs. Tisdill gave an account of the St. Lawrence Seaway, showing several pictures of the Iroquois district before and after the flooding. The secretary, Mrs. R. E. Neal, showed in her report that the balance of the $75 yearly grant to Marmora Public Library had been paid. Tickets are being sold on a basket of groceries and all donations are asked to be in this week.

Mrs. Frank Grant read a chapter from a humorous book in the library, by Jean Kerr, "Please Don't Eat the Daisies."

Mrs. George Empey put on two contests, "How many bones in the human body?" which was won by Mrs. Grant and a flower contest was won by Mrs. E. C. Prentice.

The hostess served refreshments.

The next meeting will be the Christmas meeting.

Mrs. Manley Lavender has returned home from a five-week stay in Glasgow, Scotland, with her mother, Mrs. Ryrie, during the latter's illness, hospitalization and recuperation. It is seven years since Mrs. Lavender was in Scotland and she found many changes. She made both crossings via plane from Dorval, Quebec.

Mrs. George Empey visited her father, Mr. James Deline, in Civic Hospital, Peterborough, on Thursday.

Marmora Home and School Association held a court whist and bake sale on Wednesday evening in the Earl Prentice School. About 60 enjoyed the game and the bake table was also well patronized.

HAPPY EVENT

REGINA (CP)—Greetings from Prime Minister John Diefenbaker were among congratulations received when Mr. and Mrs. S. Ciamas celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary here. Married in Romania, they settled in Regina in 1903.

HUNGRY PUSSIE

BOURNEMOUTH, Eng. (CP)—Mandy, a pet Siamese cat, was found unharmed after being trapped for 16 days under the floorboards of an empty apartment next to his home in the Hampshire town.

Throbbing under the power of its three mighty engines, the air force Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile thunders away from the launch site at Cape Canaveral, Fla. A shower of ice which covered the missile falls away from the left side of the Atlas. The ice coating is caused by the liquid oxygen fuel mixture in the missile. The Atlas is believed to have flown a distance of approximately 3,000 miles, half of its ultimate range.

Wooler

WOOLER — Miss Helen Depley is spending her holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Powers at Picton.

Mrs. A. Anderson of Trenton spent the weekend with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Putnam and family.

A reception was held in the Wooler United Church parlors by the congregations of Codrington Tabernacle and Wooler for the new minister and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. McCullam on Thursday evening.

R.C.M.P. Police Service Dogs

Force's Famed 4-Footed Cops

Every year scores of lost children from coast to coast are miraculously returned to their families through the skill and daring of the nimblest, most intrepid cops in the world: the RCMP's famous Police Service Dogs. The dogs, sleek German Shepherds, are stationed in 17 centres across Canada and are driven or flown wherever need arises. Fearless in pursuit of dangerous criminals, the dogs will drag a lost child to safety with surprising gentleness. Above, Major of the Newfoundland detachment signals to searchers that he has found the missing boy.

Each dog serves about 9 years with the Force and during that time it obeys and is handled by one dog master who is a trained member of the RCMP and a volunteer for this type of duty. The dog is taught, groomed, exercised and fed by his master and they operate as a team. Dogs are bred and trained at the Mounties' division at Sydney, Nova Scotia. Each dog and his master must undergo annual refresher courses.

Dogs combine high intelligence with rugged strength, great courage; are called out on approximately 1,000 assignments annually. Tracking down criminals accounts for about 16% of their work and searching for lost persons another 20%. The rest of their work involves search for lost articles, sniffing out illegal moonshiners' stills. Above, Major shows his prowess in scaling walls; portraits of Bruce, Caesar and Prince; dog tracking is 14-year-old Ace.

Dogs possess an unerring nose for liquor and on the command "search booze" the most craftily concealed still is quickly brought to light.

National Film Board of Canada Photos by Chris Lund.

Dogs will attack only on command and are trained to seize gunmen by the "gun arm". They will stand guard over an escaped criminal or object indefinitely until police reinforcements arrive to take over.

De Gaulle Expected to Get Strong Support in Election

By DAVID ROWNTREE
Staff Writer

A swing to the right in support of General Charles de Gaulle, who is not personally involved, and a decline in Communist support are among the few guesses being made on the outcome of Sunday's election when French voters begin choosing their first parliament for the Fifth Republic.

The election is confusing for a number of reasons:

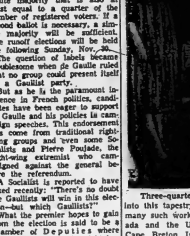
1. A new electoral system is being used and the size and boundaries of districts have been changed.

2. Party labels, always paradoxical to non-Frenchmen, have been changed again and even the French seem a little bewildered this time.

3. Voter reaction, apart from the referendum approving the formation of the Fifth Republic, has not been tested since the upheavals of May that lifted de Gaulle to power.

The principal change in the voting system is from the proportional representation system to the single-member constituency. Formerly voting was for a group of seats in each department (roughly equivalent to a county). For example, if there were six seats in a department, each party listed six candidates. Theoretically, a party getting one-sixth of the vote got one seat.

De Gaulle changed this so that metropolitan France now is divided into 465 single-member areas for about every 30,000 persons with only one seat in each. To be elected on the first ballot, a candidate must receive an absolute majority that is also at least equal to a quarter of the number of registered voters. If a second ballot is necessary, a simple majority will be sufficient. The runoff elections will be held the following Sunday, Nov. 30.



The question of labels became troublesome when de Gaulle ruled that no group could present itself as a Gaullist party.

But as he is the paramount influence in French politics, candidates have been eager to support de Gaulle and his policies is campaign speeches. This endorsement has come from traditional right-wing groups and even some Socialists and Pierre Poujade, the right-wing extremist who campaigned against the general before the referendum.

A Socialist is reported to have joked recently: "There's no doubt the Gaullists will win in this election—but which Gaullists?"

What the premier hopes to gain from the election is said to be a Chamber of Deputies where neither the left nor the right has a majority. He would prefer a big, middle-of-the-road independents to hold the balance of power. The electoral changes and his refusal to support any party may help him achieve this.

Voter reaction to de Gaulle will be shown by the vote. The campaign is reported to have stirred little interest. Many Frenchmen appear content that de Gaulle is in charge and are not greatly interested in who is in the assembly.

Three-quarters of a million stitches went into this tapestry by Lee Lapp, one of many such works of art being shown in Canada and the U.S. by Elizabeth Le Fort of Cape Breton Island. Here are scenes on tapestry is one handed down from generation to generation on Cape Breton and, using her own wool to isolate dyed colors, Miss Le Fort is able to make her work indistinguishable from oil painting at a distance of a few feet. Some of her work has sold for as high as $15,000.

Blame Lush Living Standards For Growing Price Spread, C of C Says Gap Not Harmful

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's lush living standards were blamed today for a growing gap between the farmer's return and the price consumers pay for the end product.

The widening spread reflects Canadian prosperity and is not in itself harmful to anybody, the Canadian Chamber of Commerce told the Stewart prices commission. Price spreads should "by no means" be discouraged.

Kraft Food Limited of Montreal, in similar vein, said the consumer is to blame and has to pay the show.

Costly changes in food processing had resulted because the Canadian and American people "continuously demanded" a better standard of living.

Two other briefs were presented to the seven-member commission.

The Meat Packers Council of Canada, with headquarters in Toronto, spoke of "vigorous and healthy" competition in the meat-processing industry, but said marketing margins for livestock and meats are complex and hard to calculate because of changes products undergo after primary sale.

The Canada Federation of Agriculture said marketing margins on food generally are widening.

"A drop of 10 per cent in price to the producer brings a much smaller, frequently a hardly recognizable, reduction in the retail price," the federation said. It blamed "disturbing" changes in marketing margins on beef and pork.

The federation made these recommendations:

Establishment of a food research and information council to help educate the public on the food industry. Consumer buying, quality standards, marketing methods and food trends generally would be studied. The body should be independent as possible though "financed by the government and under final authority of the minister of agriculture."

Banning of the word "free" in advertising.

Any evidence uncovered by the commission of restraint-of-trade practices or advertising and promotion banned by law should be given "fullest possible discussion" in the commission's report to the government.

Even if no legal or regulatory action were required, the commission should have no hesitation about including "costs which may be commercially successful but make little contribution" to consumer value. The federation urged the commission to give attention to any instances where marketing methods, distribution and processing techniques can be improved.

On trends toward "integrated" food production and contract farming, the federation said farmers feel there is a danger of serious loss in producer bargaining power. Increasingly, co-operative organizations were entering the field to keep control in pro-

End Year-Long Strike at Gypsum Company Quarry

WINDSOR, N.S. (CP) — One year and 19 days after they struck against the Canadian Gypsum Company members of the Iona Scotia Quarry Workers Union (CLC) have voted to return to work.

The provincial labor department said the violence-marked strike was the longest in the Maritimes since coal miners led up Nova Scotia colliteries for periods up to two years in 1909-11.

The end came Wednesday at a meeting of 207 union members. The union called out about 400 men when the strike started Oct. 31, 1957. Some went back to work on the company's invitation. Company Manager M. S. Mosher said about 100 men were at work when the strike ended.

The union struck for a pay increase of 15 cents an hour, a four-hour cut in the 44-hour work week and compulsory checkoff of union dues.

NO CHECKOFF

Their new 30-month contract gives them an 11-cent pay boost now, eight cents more in six months and another five cents after 18 months. Their work week will be cut to 42 hours now and to 40 hours after 18 months. They dropped their demand for a compulsory checkoff. When the strike began the basic wage was $1.22 an hour.

Settlement followed the personal intervention of Premier Stanfield 13 days ago. He asked union and company to submit to arbitration The Nova Scotia Federation of Labor threatened a province-wide strike if an agreement was not reached this week.

Mr. King met the premier's arbitration request with a new proposal which the workers accepted, 147 to 52. Under the agreement 20 workers will not be rehired. The company says these men committed acts during the strike that are cause for their dismissal. An arbitration board will consider their cases.

Toronto-Owned Freighter Limps Into Owen Sound

OWEN SOUND (CP)—A Toronto-owned freighter, battered for four hours by 75-foot-high waves and 60 - mile - an - hour winds, reached Owen Sound harbor late Wednesday with an injured captain, wheelsman and third mate.

The Sarnia-bound Eastern Sell owned by Shell Canadian Tankers Limited of Toronto, was caught Tuesday night in the gale above the western shores of Bruce Peninsula on Lake Huron, 40 miles south southwest of Tobermory.

Captain S. G. Williamson of Toronto is in hospital with a cut forehead, severed tendons in his right hand and a cut leg. The third mate, G. Beattie of Gaspe Peninsula, Que., and wheelsman Sydney Hicks, of Collingwood were treated for minor cuts and later released.

All three were in the ship's wheelhouse when five heavy plate glass windows were shattered by a giant wave. The ship-to-shore telephone, radar and directional finder were knocked out.

The Eastern Shell, with 37 crew members and 1,000 tons of Current on Manitoulin Island around 4 p.m. Tuesday after unloading fuel oil.

Included in damage, estimated at about $2,000, was a caved-in front wall, and crushed portside in the captain's cabin.

Missing Movie Star Found Dead In Wrecked Car

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Tom Pittman was considered one of Hollywood's most promising young actors.

Like the late James Dean, he was moody, a habitue of coffee houses. He never owned a suit—"I never go any place where you have to wear suits."

Like Dean, he had only one love-speed. Both owned sports cars.

Dean died in his when it crashed on a California highway three years ago.

Pittman's career was just beginning to roll. Friends say he was under contract to Allan Holtt, Borden, Sask., paid $1,000 a week and was being groomed by S. G. Bennett of Georgetown.

BERKSHIRE CLASSES

In Berkshire swine judging, Glen Gould of Florence, Ont., won both the senior and grand championships for boar and sow. Reserve boar went to Lorne Loucks, Zephyr, and reserve sow to J. Irvine Wood, Croton.

The senior and grand champion saddle horse stakes at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, Sept. 5, 1958, were won by Bar Sinister, owned by Mrs. Ruth Engel, Toronto. Ridden by Ruth Engel, in her first year in the show ring, Bar Sinister, a brown mare owned by Marilyn Farms, Regina had to go over the jumps twice to tie in the Silver Jubilee Stake Jumpers final.

Winner of the event, which required three elimination rounds to decide championship, was Andante, owned and ridden by 16-year-old David McCoy of Nanuet, N.Y., who also rode the other second-place horse, Saxon Wren, from Tryon, N.C.

Miss Engel also rode the winner in the $500 Campbell workout Stakes, with Bar Sinister. Happy Landings, from the Marilyn Farms stable.

WEST GERMAN WINS

In international horse jumping, major spectacular of the show, Fair West, Germany's Hans Guenther Winkler rode a double-clear round over obstacles to victory over Mexico's Rodolfo Trevino Sr. on Chapultepec Gayford.

Winkler, riding Sonnenglanz Kelly, gave a clean performance. Vimals rode Malinche and Chihuahua for the Trevino family while Gayford, aboard Blue Beau and Brave Hero, was third.

On the auction front, sale of a holstein bull calf for $30,000—second highest ever paid for a bull in Canada—upset the genial atmosphere of a busy day that has been running about par with previous years.

A syndicate of Ontario artificial insemination breeding units said the money was earned by Old Rosafie Citation, offered by Harry J. Wilcox and Sons of Weedon.

QUICK PROFIT

For Wilcox, who bought the bull as a baby calf only 10 months old last June, it meant a quick profit of $21,000.

The Ontario syndicate received stiff bidding competition from another syndicate from agriculture departments of the three Maritime provinces.

In 1946 the Waterloo (Ont.) artificial breeding unit paid $10,000 to C. B. McCaspe of Allston for another holstein, Glenhurst Rag Apple.

A total of 23 Holsteins were sold for $90,000 and two averaged $5,250, a record for Canadian livestock sales.

At the Northern sale, 12 beef bred brought a total of $7,190 and an average of $599, about 50 above the previous years, Ralph Elliott, Borden, Sask., paid $1,600 for the champion Hereford bull, Tornadoes, snow and rain swept over parts of the U.S., wrecking houses, television antennae and anything else not well anchored. This light plane, tethered by ropes, was child's play for the winds at Oklahoma City. They picked up the craft and upended it against the owner's home.

Rossmore

ROSSMORE — The autumn tea and bazaar sponsored by the Rossmore W.A. was held recently and was successful.

Some motorist exceeding the speed limit knocked down a row of mail boxes at the Picton Road-Rednersville corner. All concerned are patiently waiting for him to make restitution voluntarily.

Mr. W. Ross and Mr. A. Denure have returned from hunting and report a successful holiday.

Mrs. Charles Reddick had the misfortune to fall and break her wrist and other complications have prevented a quick recovery. All hope for a complete return to health very soon.

Mrs. Frank Belnap who has been on the sick list recently is enjoying better health.

Mrs. Pearl Rupert entertained her mother recently.

Mrs. Mabel Russell of Ottawa, has returned to that city after renewing acquaintances in this community.

Mrs. Root entertained the euchre club at her home on Wednesday evening of last week.

Mrs. J. Empey had the banquet euchre party at her home Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. W. Ross has returned to her home after holidaying in Toronto.

Thomasburg

THOMASBURG — Several ladies from Thomasburg attended the afternoon tea and bazaar under the auspices of Eggleton United Church.

Thomasburg United Church W.A. recently served a "delicious hot dinner to the teachers and pupils of the senior room. The regular meeting of the HS Association followed.

Her many friends are glad to see Mrs. Earl Morton, home again, after being a patient in Belleville Hospital for sometime, following a motor accident. Mrs. Morton is able to be up and about but will be forced to wear a cast for a while yet.

Several men from this district are among those engaged in the annual deer-hunting. Some parties have been successful in bringing home nearly their quota, but others have returned with only one or two deer for the whole party.

The United Church W.A. packed a bale of children's clothing recently which has been forwarded to the Rev. D. A. Richardson at Norway House, Northern Manitoba, to be used in his work among the less fortunate residents in that area.

The W.A. of Christ Church, Thomasburg, sponsored a successful bazaar and card party in the I.O.O.F. Hall."

Mr. Morton Elliott, of Niagara Falls, N.Y., was a weekend guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gray and Joan, accompanied by Mrs. C. Blackburn and Mrs. Percy McTaggart motored to Toronto on Thursday of this week.

It is regretted that Mrs. S. Fisher is a patient in Belleville Hospital at the present. A speedy convalescence is the wish of all who know her.

A group of members of the United Church W.A. were present at the afternoon tea and homecooking sale sponsored by St. John United Church W.A. in the church parlors, Tweed, last Wednesday afternoon.

Judge Decides He Had Reason To Be Excited

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — Judge Clark Olmstead agreed with William Van Dusen when the 70-year-old motorist said he forgot his glasses while driving because he was excited.

Judge Olmstead suspended a $25 fine after Van Dusen told him his wife was expecting their seventh child.

Van Dusen said he and his wife, Maxine, 30, have six children ranging in age from one to 12 years.

COMMUNIST VOTE

BUDAPEST (AP) — Communist-backed candidates in Hungary's election—the only set to be ballot—won a majority of 99.6 per cent, it was announced Tuesday. The voter's only choice was to approve the single ticket—70 per cent Communist — or mark his dissent in a tiny circle.

Marmora

MARMORA — Mr. Ray Scott has sold his lunch bar and grocery business on south Forsyth Street to Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Baker of Toronto. The new owners are in possession and at present are taking stock but expect to be open for business early in the week.

Spec. Donald Tandy and Ed Leblanc of the Royal Canadian Engineers' Corps, stationed at Petawawa, Ont., spent the weekend with Donald's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Tandy.

Mrs. E. Wannamaker of Belleville, spent last week with her daughter, Mrs. Percy Gordon and Mr. Gordon.

Mr. Arthur Tompkins is a patient in Belleville General Hospital.

"The early bird gets the worm" is still a working adage as Franklin Smith, of Franklin Coach Line, Marmora-Belleville, proved. Last Saturday morning he set out at dawn, got his deer and returned in time for his daily trip to Belleville.

A large number of deer have been taken out from around Marora this year, also a few bears

Mr. and Mrs. William Aunger spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fluke and Kathy at Oakville.

Mrs. Charles Airhart is a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough.

Mr. Robert Aunger has returned to Oakville after a few weeks visit at his home here.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sanderson (nee Barbara Mollie John), on November 8, at Civic Hospital, Peterborough, a son, Robert Brent.

Born in St. Joseph's Hospital on Saturday, November 8, to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Logie, a daughter.

FRANKFORD

Full Gospel CA Hears Talk on 'He Is Life'

FRANKFORD — Frankford Full Gospel Tabernacle C.A.'s met on Friday evening with president Doug Flood in charge.

Mrs. Carl Andrews led a "Sword Drill" with Miss Hetty Patrick's class. A vocal duet, "Because He Came", was rendered by Mrs. D. Flood and Mrs. Reg Elliott.

Following a hymn — the C.A. president Mac Rutter of Trenton brought a message from Deuteronomy 30:15-20 speaking on, "He is Life" and "Our Walk With Him". The service closed with prayer.

DISMISSED AGAIN

MOSCOW (AP)—Equally well-informed sources said Tuesday night ex - premier Nikolai Bulganin has been dismissed from all post as head of a regional economic unit at Stavropol. Bulganin was linked last week with Premier Khrushchev with an anti-party group.

Every time you make a bank deposit at the BNS you help keep the wheels of Canadian industry turning. Through its nationwide system of branches, The Bank of Nova Scotia puts your money to work in cities, farms and in factories across the country. This investment in Canada helps provide greater employment opportunities and a higher standard of living for us all. The BNS statement below shows what your money—and that of over 1,000,000 other depositors—accomplished in 1958.*

Highlights of The Bank of Nova Scotia's 127th Annual Statement as at October 31, 1958

ASSETS
—the Bank's resources and how they work for you

$247,872,764 cash, cheques and due from other banks
This is like cash in the Bank's till to the BNS. Once the cheques which BNS customers draw on their accounts.

$467,091,259 investments
These funds (mostly Canadian Government Bonds) help finance varied Government activities such as the St. Lawrence Seaway; the National Harbours Board; Wheat Board payments, our National Defence needs. Other investment funds go into the building of schools, highways, new plants and equipment — to make more of the good things of life available to us all.

$132,136,598 call loans, secured
This money, lent to investment houses, is subject to immediate recall if required.

$797,867,039 other loans, less provision for estimated loss
Our customers in Canada and abroad borrowed this amount for all kinds of personal and business purposes. These loans help finance the purchase of materials and the sale and distribution of goods . . . from the cutting of trees in the forest to the sale of refrigerators . . . from starting a business to improving a farm or home. Loans of this nature are the lifeblood of Canada's growth.

$31,253,962 customers' liability under Letters of Credit
This is the amount customers are pledged to repay the Bank for funds it may pay out on their behalf under Letters of Credit, covering trade in Canada and abroad.

$26,803,272 bank premises and other assets
Most of this money goes into a continuous programme of improving our branch facilities so that customers can do their banking more pleasantly and easily.

LIABILITIES
—money entrusted to us by you, the customer

$1,595,474,227 deposits
More than a million customers now bank with the BNS. They deposit their money for a host of reasons — to meet business and household needs . . . as a retirement fund for the future . . . or to finance a college education. Our customers place these funds for safety and convenience in current and savings accounts, personal chequing accounts and such special accounts as the Bank's unique PSP.

$31,253,962 Letters of Credit
This shows the amount of credit the Bank has guaranteed on behalf of its customers buying from suppliers, particularly those abroad. This encourages the expansion of foreign trade and in this way helps develop new outlets for Canadian goods and services . . . another way the Bank helps the wheels of industry go round.

$6,011,227 other liabilities
This represents money set aside to cover expenses which must be met, but are not yet due . . . such as our 1958 Income Tax.

WHAT THE SHAREHOLDERS CONTRIBUTE

$71,288,567 capital paid up, rest account and undivided profits
The shareholders—the real owners of the Bank—contribute these funds which protect the interests of the customers. They thus ensure the strength and stability of the BNS and help make possible the Bank's increasing contribution to the growth of Canada.

MADOC

O.E.S. Installs New Officers

MADOC — On Monday evening Madoc Chapter Order of the Eastern Star No. 143 held installation ceremonies for the officers elected for the coming year.

With the retiring Worthy Matron, Mrs. Alla Nicholson, in the chair, regular routine business was conducted and kind words of welcome to visitors from neighboring chapters, Belleville St. Trenton, Tweed, Bancroft and Marmora.

Several of the presiding Worthy Matrons of the visiting chapters were in attendance.

The chapter room had as decorations potted plants and flowers which always add to the beauty and solemnity of the installation service.

PRESENTATIONS

Worthy Matron-elect Mrs. Beverley Keller was presented with a spray of chrysanthemums by her husband, children and her parents.

The retiring Matron received her jewel from Mrs. Ida Broad and an emblematic compact was presented by Mrs. Gladys Naylor on behalf of the officers to Mrs. Nicholson also. The retiring Patron, Jesse Reid, was presented with a tri-light floor lamp by E. T. Naylor.

Following the close of Chapter bounteous refreshments were served to all.

CROONER UNDER FIRE

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia's top crooner, Mark Bernes, was rebuked Tuesday for "impudent actions" such as singing sentimental love songs. The Soviet ministry of culture lashed at the popular movie and TV star and demanded sweeping measures to cope with what it called immoral behavior of some film actors.

Moira

MOIRA — Mrs. Gordon McIlroy and Peter visited with Mrs. Wallace McIlroy Friday and Saturday, till her husband, Gordon, returned from the hunting camp.

Mr. Wallace McIlroy and two sons, Donald and Gordon, returned home Saturday with their quota from the north where they spent a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Mumby, Mr. and Mrs. Blake Ketcheson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Regenaburg, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Collins, Mrs. Wallace McIlroy and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Ketcheson attended the Federation of Agriculture banquet held in Stirling on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Olive Williams, Bobby and Gary, of Belleville, spent Tuesday afternoon with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Blake Ketcheson.

Sympathy from the community is extended to Mr. Angus Mumby and family in the loss of his brother, Mr. George Mumby, of Springbrook.

Mr. Ross Ketcheson attended the convention in Toronto of the Federation of Agriculture on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Choir practice was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Foster on Wednesday night.

Moira Victory Class was held on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McIlroy with a good attendance. The president, Mr. Milton Vanderwater, presided over the worship service.

Business was discussed and a short program was given. While Mr. Donald McIlroy got the projector in order, then showed on "Shorty the Sheriff", for the children, "Look to the Forest", showing the value of conservation, and "What the coal industry means to the families of Cape Breton."

Everyone enjoyed the films.

After Mr. Dyer closed the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess.

HELPING OUT

HAMILTON (CP)—Members of the Quota Club here bring their own food to dinner meetings, but don't eat it. Each member brings a can of food which goes into baskets for old-age pensioners.

FRANKFORD

United Church Annual Bazaar Tea Pleasingly Successful

FRANKFORD — The annual bazaar of Frankford United Church was held last Wednesday afternoon at 3.30 p.m. in Rose Lowery hall with a huge crowd in attendance from visiting surrounding towns and village.

Mrs. Walter Morrow played quiet music preceding the bazaar.

The president of the W.A., Mrs. Harold Terry, welcomed the guests at the door, assisted by Mrs. T. J. Riddall.

Mrs. Bruce Servos received the offering at the door.

HEAD TEA TABLE

One family organ that will play no more is this one wrecked by a tornado in Bowlegs, Oklahoma. Eight persons were injured as the winds cut a wide swath through the town, flattening houses and overturning cars. Other sections of the U.S. west suffered similar damage.

Feeding the Birds

Birds are continually helping the farmer in his war against insect pests, and although birds are generally associated with the growing season, a number of species may be persuaded to stay around homes all winter, by the use of well-placed feeding shelters and regular feeding.

The feeding shelter should be placed in a position where it can easily be seen from a window. It may even be built as an extension from the window sill with a short, upright portion to act as a windbreak. Grain or bread crumbs may be sprinkled on the horizontal part and a suet ball fastened to the upright wall for feed.

A feeding shelter may be so constructed as to revolve with the wind, so that the open front will always face away from the wind. It should have lumps of suet fastened to the walls, seed scattered on the floor, and a shallow pan of water must be kept free from ice by frequent changing.

Detailed information, with drawings and charts, on befriending the birds may be obtained from the Information Branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, or from the office of the county agricultural representative, at Stirling.

Frankie Filchock Backfield Coach Of Stampeders

CALGARY (CP) — Calgary Stampeders and Frank Filchock, boon one-time colorful figures in Western Canada football, have started the long trek back to the top.

The Western Interprovincial Football Union club Wednesday said Filchock has been signed as their backfield coach in a bid to revitalize the club's slumping fortunes.

Filchock, whose trademarks are a large cigar and a fiery, long, facial cuts, returns to the big leagues after a year of exile in the Ontario Rugby Football Union where his Sarnia Golden Bears walked away with the league championship.

Filchock was fired last season by Saskatchewan Roughriders after they finished out of the playoffs despite a roster of excellent material. The management said he wasn't strict enough with the players.

LONG EXPERIENCE

FFilchock is an 11-year veteran as a quarterback and coach in Canadian football. After six years in the National Football League with Washington and New York, he joined Hamilton of the ORFUF and piloted them to the league championship in 1948.

He moved to Montreal in 1949 and spearheaded the Alouettes to a Grey Cup victory. In 1952, in his second year at Edmonton, the Eskimos topped Winnipeg Blue Bombers for the WIFU title but bowed to Toronto Argonauts in the Grey Cup.

In 1954 he coached Regina's Roughriders to a first-place tie with Edmonton. The Eskimos went on to win the Grey Cup.

Filchock is reported to have planned to quit the Toronto management assignment after this year. A close friend of managing director Lew Hayman, and direc-early next month.

May Move Bisons To New Stadium

BUFFALO N.Y. (AP) — Buffalo Bisons, who have the oldest minor league baseball in attendance for two years, may get a new, 14,000-seat Offenmans Stadium and 40,000-seat Civic Stadium, thus making room for a new junior high school.

Proposals for turning Civic Stadium's huge oval into a baseball park were on the drawing boards today.

Spider Webb Beats Giardello

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Underdog Spider Webb slashed deep cuts under and over Joey Giardello's left eye Wednesday night to win by a seven-round technical knockout in the televised battle between the two ranking middleweights.

Webb took command almost at the start, starting in to score with short, sharp rights.

Giardello had blood pouring from his face when referee Vern Cox called a halt after one minute and 30 seconds of the seventh round in the scheduled 10 - rounder. Webb weighed 152¾, and Giardello weighed 159.

tor Eric Craddock. Filchock might have been hired as assistant to coach Hamp Pool. When Pool balked at hiring Filchock and the other directors lined up behind him, Craddock sold his stock in the club.

Filchock leaves for Eastern Canada immediately on a scouting trip and talks with interested junior and college prospects. He is expected back in Calgary

TiCats Favored Due to Strong Bench Strength

HAMILTON (CP) —Hamilton Tiger-Cats have a lot of potential 60-minute men but the club doesn't have to use them, says assistant coach Ralph Sazio.

"We have strength because we have depth," Sazio said Wednesday night in an interview, adding that much of the depth was top Canadian talent.

Depth meant that the players could go all out in short periods on the field, then come off and rest.

Coming off frequently meant they didn't tire. Tired players get injured more frequently than fresh ones, Sazio said. It's such benefits of depth, hadn't had a "key injury"—one to a player who couldn't be replaced —for two seasons. Both were winning ones.

TRIMBLE IN WEST

Head coach Jiri Trimble was scouting the second game of the Western Interprovincial Football Union final won by Edmonton Eskimos 30-7 over Blue Bombers at Winnipeg.

The Trimble earlier had indicated he might have more razzle-dazzle plays in store when Hamilton plays Ontario Rough Riders here at 1 p.m. EST Saturday but with the Tiger-Cats trailing in the two-game, total-point series, he may save the plays for the Grey Cup game at Vancouver Saturday, Nov. 29.

Sazio said quarterback Bernie Faloney has a minor knee injury but could go all the way if needed. Ticats could replace him with either Cornelius Gaffney or ex-all-star linebacker, or hometown Bobby Dawson.

Sazio says, the Tiger-Cats have depth.

Spokane Flyers Win First Game Of Season

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Spokane Flyers made their first victory a seven starts a 9-6 win Wednesday night. Their 5-4 win over New Westminster Royals moved them out of last place in the Western Hockey League's coast division into a third-place tie with Victoria Cougars.

Royals were left in the cellar, one point behind Spokane and Victoria.

Meanwhile, Cougars took their fifth straight loss—a 4-2 beating at the hands of Edmonton Flyers. The win boosted Flyers' lead in the prairie division to seven points—over second-place Calgary

'Kiss Me Kate' Should Prove Taped TV Just Like 'Live' TV

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)— Because of the threat of a strike by the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists, the television and radio performers' union, Kiss Me Kate will be seen on tape at 9 p.m. tonight over NBC-TV.

It should be a good example of the fact that the viewing audience can't tell the difference between live and taped television—provided the tape records the spontaneous quality of a straight run-through.

That is exactly the way it has been handled by producer-director George Schaefer of the Hallmark Hall of Fame production starring Alfred Drake, Patricia Morison and Julie Wilson in the Cole Porter musical.

"We have kept the same kind of excitement and live quality that we want in every Hallmark Hall of Fame show," Schaefer says.

PLAYED IT SAFE

The taping of the TV adaptation of the Broadway hit show was done last Saturday when a strike was scheduled to go into effect at midnight—and then was postponed for further negotiations.

Schaefer says the method used was the same as with every live show. He directed—first a dress rehearsal "at full pitch," then Schaefer's notes of comments were read to the actors, and finally the straight run-through, the only difference was that longer breaks were taken between acts.

After viewing the tape of both the dress rehearsal and the dramatic presentation Schaefer says he found what he always does: The final was better than the dress. And so tonight you can see live television on tape.

Another example of live television on tape will be visible tonight when Playhouse 90 (CBC-TV) presents a Horton Foote adaptation of William Faulkner's Old Man at 9:30 p.m.

Sterling Hayden and Geraldine Page head the cast of the Fred Coe production, which is being directed by John Frankenheimer.

Three key men in the drive of Ottawa Rough Riders to the Big Four Football League finals were coach Frank (Professor) Clair (left), Bill Smyth (centre), line coach and spotter, and quarterback Russ Jackson. Clair joined the Ottawa club in 1956 and a year later was given an unprecedented five-year contract. He coached Toronto Argonauts in 1950-54, went to the University of Cincinnati in 1955 and then joined Ottawa. A native of Hamilton, Ohio, he played football as an end there, at Ohio State and briefly with Washington Redskins of the National Football League. Smyth, 38, came to Ottawa with Clair. He played college football as an end and tackle at Notre Dame and Cincinnati universities and professional football for four years with Los Angeles Rams. He was line coach at Xavier University, Ohio, when Clair signed him for the Ottawa job. Jackson, 21-year-old rookie from McMaster University at Hamilton, Ont., topped a sensational first year by leading his club to a 28-13 win over Montreal Alouettes in the sudden-death semi-final. A native of Hamilton, Jackson starred for four years in every backfield position at McMaster. He got the starting assignment as quarterback job in Ottawa's 12th league game. (CP Photo.)

Eskimos on Threshold Of Elimination Take Bombers 30-7 to Even Final Series

By AL VICKERY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG (CP) — The Edmonton Eskimos, fighting mad and on the threshold of elimination, humiliated Winnipeg Blue Bombers 30-7 Wednesday night to send the western football final series to the three-game limit.

It was Eaks' first victory in six games over Bombers this season in the Western Interprovincial Football Union. It was a mighty big one.

Bombers made it five in a row over Eaks in Edmonton last Saturday by an identical 30-7 score and were favored to wrap it up in their home park.

But if they are to make their second consecutive trip into the Grey Cup final Bombers will have to hold off a hard-charging Edmonton line in the sawoff contest this Saturday, starting at 7 p.m. CST. (3 p.m. EST).

WALKER, GRAY SHINE

The Eskimos' defensive front wall, headed by Art Walker and Ed Gray, played havoc with the Bomber backfield all night with hard rushes.

Offensively, little veteran Rollen Miles was the born in the Bombers' side. Replacing injured Don Flynn at half, Miles caught two touchdown passes from Canadian quarterback Don Getty, and turned in a standout defensive game.

Twin fullbacks Normie Kwong and Johnny Bright scored the other Edmonton touchdowns both on short plunges. Ed Jeremy Mobra booted a field goal and two converts. End Jim Letavrik added a single.

Leo Lewis accounted for Bombers' lone touchdown on an 18-yard sprint which left would-be tacklers strewn over the turf. Charlie Shepard kicked a single for the other point.

FIELD EXCELLENT

The game was played on an excellent field despite a blizzard that hit Winnipeg Monday and Tuesday, leaving about 17 inches of snow. Workers toiled all day to remove it from the field. A field-size tarpaulin was lifted half an hour before game time. The temperature was 34 degrees.

Eskimos led in every department except punting and they did most of it without too much help from all-star quarterback Jackie Parker, running from the ball. Parker was slightly injured running back the opening kickoff, and was not used much as a plunger.

Getty completed 12 of 22 passes for 203 yards. He sent his backs crashing for 180 yards along the ground, with Kwong gaining 74 yards on 18 carries.

Eaks had 18 first downs to Bombers' 14.

PUT THE BUSH ON

The Edmonton defensive line held Bombers to 119 yards rushing and harried quarterback Jimmy Van Pelt and other passers to such a degree that Winnipeg was good on only six of 26 passes for 106 yards.

The Eskimos were mad and that was the key to the victory, said jubilant coach Sam Lyle in the dressing room.

"We tackled harder, blocked harder and had more desire to win. All wanted to win more than Winnipeg."

Bomber coach Bud Grant said he doubted the team was overconfident.

"We were still in there in the third quarter but a couple of bad plays set us back." He was referring to wild passes that went astray and were recovered by Eaks to halt Winnipeg downfield marches.

Sudbury Wolves Have-Been Met Rather Coldly

KITCHENER (CP) — Sudbury Wolves, in their search for player assistance, have been met rather coldly by teams in the southern half of the OHA-NOHA league.

At the last league meeting Sudbury voted down a suggestion by the Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen executive to have each team use players from one affiliate.

Now Sudbury has instituted a move to permit clubs to use two named players from one affiliated team. Last weekend they asked league convener Lloyd Pollock of Kitchener to sound out other league teams as to their views.

Kitchener manager Ernie Goman said Wednesday Windsor and Chatham favor the idea and the Dutchmen are cool to parts of the suggestion.

Goman had warned that some teams would be reluctant if they stuck to the 15-man limit with no affiliated players allowed to participate. They will not support Sudbury's modified plan because the two named players might be sick, injured, or unavailable when needed.

Clubs asked by Pollock to agree to a special meeting Sunday could be reached in the southern teams refused. They suggested a Monday night conference but no nothing has been decided on the matter.

BOXER DIES

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (AP)—Nate Simon, 25, Los Angeles lightweight, died at a hospital here Wednesday of injuries received in a sixth-round 10-round match with Danny Davis of Minneapolis Tuesday night. He collapsed at the end of his ninth round and never regained consciousness.

U.S. Nationals To Meet Dutchies

KITCHENER (CP) — The United States national hockey team will meet Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen of the OHA-NOHA in an exhibition game here Jan. 26.

The Americans will leave for Europe the following day to play in the world hockey championships at Prague.

Canada's representative at Prague will be Belleville McFarlands of the eastern OHA senior league.

Kitchener and the U.S. team have met twice before. In the 1956 Olympics at Cortina d'Ampezzo, Italy, the Americans upset the Canadians 4-1 but last year the Dutchies avenged the defeat by plastering the touring Yanks 9-0 here.

Hamilton TiCats Give Fans More Pleasing Type of Game With Faloney Chief Player

By EATON HOWITT
Of The Hamilton Spectator

HAMILTON (CP) — In 1957, Hamilton Tiger-Cats were ridiculed during the Big Four football season for their unspectacular ball-control, possession-type attack. They had rock Tirpick were the best defensive team in the East and their offence was centred on the line-crashing of fullbacks Gerry McDougall and Cookie Gilchrist.

Critics of the big tough team said that quarterback Bernie Faloney from the University of Maryland and Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Interprovincial Football Union couldn't pass. Coach Jim Trimble, a rugged tackler with Indiana in his playing days in 1939-41, took the wraps off his club in the playoffs and Ticats clobbered Montreal Alouettes 32-0 and 20-1 to take the total-point league final 56-11. Three of their five second-game touchdowns came off Faloney passes.

WON GREY CUP

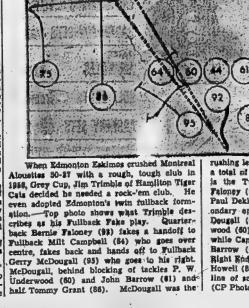
Tiger-Cats went on to win the Grey Cup final 32-7 over the injury - weakened Winnipeg Blue Bombers and the East, with Trimble as coach, walloped the West 202 in the annual all-star shrine game.

In the off - season, Trimble vowed that his club would be a passing team in 1958. They were unbeaten in their first nine games, mainly on a solid defence and a varied ground and aerial offensive. They had the league title wrapped up by the 11th game of the 14-game schedule and then slowly revved in their powerful ground attack with McDougall the power plunger.

McDougall, big, tough and rugged and the type of player the 48-year-old Trimble likes to have around, led the league's ground gainers with 1,109 yards on 221 line crashes for an average gain of five yards. McDougall, former YCIA star who was classed as a Canadian last year because his parents were born in this country, picked up valuable yardage on the club's "fullback fake" which sends him around right or gives him the option of passing. Faloney, whose magic ball-handling along with Jackie Parker's running, gave Edmonton a 38-25 Grey Cup victory over Montreal in 1954, was the league's leading passer with 108 completions, including 18 touchdown passes in 239 attempts for a gain of 2,322 yards.

Tiger-Cats "coasted" into the final with their first-place finish on only three losses and a tie in 14 games. After the third-game Ottawa Rough Riders upset Montreal 36-12 in the sudden-death semi-final, Hamilton was ready.

FANCY PLAY



Just as they did the previous year against the Als, the Ticats smothered a varied offence including a fancy play described in some quarters as "lonesome quarterback" to score an early touchdown and go on to win 35-7 in the first game of the total-point series last Saturday.

The second game will be played in Ottawa Saturday and football experts figure Tiger-Cats will continue set to be Cup final at Vancouver Nov. 30 as the east's representatives.

But Trimble doesn't like the fancy stuff. "It's not my kind of football," he says. He prefers the rough, rock-'em type of play final years the opposition down until his team can score without too much trouble.

His lieutenant, in charge of Coach Ralph Sazio who also acts as spotter, hit hand and mind.

Besides the "fullback fake" play, another that has picked up valuable yardage is the "two-man combination pattern." The rushing leader of the Big Four this season with a total of 1,109 yards on 223 carries. Bottom is the Two-Man Combination Pattern play. Faloney (12) hands back to pass either to end Paul Dekker (78) who cuts in behind the secondary or Grant (88) who goes deep. McDougall (29) blocks on left end with Underwood (60) who pulls out of his tackle position while Campbell (64) blocks on right end with Barrow (61) who leaves his tackle position. Right End Harry Lampman (72) goes deep and Howell (82) goes down and out just beyond the line of scrimmage as potential pass receivers. (CP Photo.)

When Edmonton Eskimos crushed Montreal Alouettes 30-27 with a rough, tough slub in 1956, Grey Cup, Jim Trimble of Hamilton Tiger Cats decided he needed a rock-'em club. He even adopted Edmonton's twin fullback formation.—Top photo shows what Trimble describes as his Fullback Fake play. Quarterback Bernie Faloney (12) takes a handoff to Fullback Mill Campbell (54) who goes over centre, fakes back and hands off to Fullback Gerry McDougall (29) who goes to his right. Want Protection

VANCOUVER (CP) — Downtown Vancouver merchants have appealed to Chief Constable George Archer for protection of their stores and customers during Grey Cup revelry later this month. The appeal was in the form of a letter to the police chief. "We trust," it said "that you will be making preparations to counteract the conditions which prevailed in the downtown area on the occasion of the 1955 Grey Cup game." Three years ago, those celebrating the Grey Cup festivities caused considerable damage to downtown premises.

Walker Intends To Stay Put In Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — Coach Doug Walker of the Montreal Alouettes says he has never considered leaving Montreal, putting the damper on speculation he may not be with the football club next season.

He added he hasn't been offered any other jobs in Canadian pro football.

There had been speculation in Montreal that Walker was coaching his last season with the Alouettes, who lost to Ottawa in the Big Four semi-final a week ago.

"I hope to stay in Montreal," he said. "My contract runs through 1960. Naturally there are some details to be ironed out but I have no thought of leaving.

"We have a good football town. The Alouettes have given Montreal some fine entertainment. We've produced some fine boys in Kitchevarry, O'Quinn, Hugh Patterson, Joel Wells, Abbruzzi and others among the imports. Our Canadians are improving."

Walker came to Montreal in 1952 and won only two games in the season. But since then the Als have been in the Big Four playoffs six times and in the Grey Cup final three times. He signed a three-year contract at the end of last season.

OMHA CONVENTION

Over 200 delegates are expected to gather at the King Edward Hotel in Toronto this Saturday to attend the 25th annual meeting of the Ontario Minor Hockey Association.

Twenty-one amendments will be brought before the executive and eleven nominations for executive positions will be voted upon, which should make for a lively convention.

All the top OMHA officers have been returned to office by acclamation. President Jack Ohles of Stanley, commences his second term, while secretary Gary McLeod of Toronto, will start his third term in office. Jack Christie of Toronto, is immediate past president.

Dr. Leon Hipwell, of Toronto, minor hockey enthusiast, and worker for many years, has retired as treasurer. Jim Whitton of Toronto, has been returned as treasurer, along with his other duties of registrar and insurance manager. First vice-president F. O. Doherty of Thorold; second vice-president Ted Elmes of Galt, and third vice-president G. V. Simmons, Gravenhurst, have retained their posts by acclamation.

Nominated for the executive committee [illegible] are: Doug Patterson, Stirling; James Austin, Stouffville; George Haskett, Newmarket; Gordon Howes, Whitby; Bev Schram, Port Dover; Stan Stokes, London and Albert Watkins, Peterborough, all members by election last term. New men seeking office are Harry Argent of St. Catharines, Cliff Gabel of Preston; Jim Oakes of Welland and Wes Oswald of Forest. Seven members will be elected at Saturday's convention.

Doug Patterson is doing his usual great job in this district and it is hoped and expected that he will again be named as a member of the executive committee.

Highlight of the convention will be the presentation of the Honor Award which goes each year to a person who, in the opinion of the OMHA, has contributed outstanding service to minor hockey.

Past winners have been: Ivon Ovens, J. Stanley Elliott, Bert Sullivan, Merve Duke, William Garner, the late Errol Russell, "Lo. O. "Nip" Whetstone, Dune Pollock, Dr. Kirk of Havelock and Tom Hyde.

The name of the winner will not be made public until after the presentation ceremonies next June.

This will be a busy day for delegates from all over the province. Registration begins at 8.30 a.m. in the King Edward "Hunting Room." President Ohles will bring the gavel down sharp at 10 a.m. to officially open the meeting.

One of the highlights will be the appearance of Tom Lockhart, president of the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States. Mr. Lockhart will be the guest speaker at the luncheon following the morning part of the meeting.

After the luncheon, which is always one of the features of the convention, comes the "bull session" in which the delegates get together to renew old acquaintances, talk about hockey and meet the OMHA executive members.

All will not be business, however. In the evening the delegates will be guests of Maple Leaf Gardens and the OMHA at the National Hockey League game between New York Rangers and Toronto Maple Leafs.

And following the hockey game these men will be leaving for their home towns with the knowledge that they are doing everything in their power to make Ontario a good place for boys to grow up, a place where boys can spend their evenings chasing a puck rather than being chased by a policeman.

The OMHA, the biggest organization of its kind in existence, is doing a fine job. Keep up the good work, gentlemen.

Canadiens Find 4 Clubs Hot On Their Heels In Race

Rangers Move Into Second Place With Handy 7-4 Win Over Hapless Leafs

BY BEN WARD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Handy Andy lived up to his name in a big way Wednesday night.

Andy Bathgate, the sparkplug behind New York Rangers' hottest streak in 17 years, turned in a dazzling performance with a goal and four assists as Rangers beat off the last-place Toronto Maple Leafs 7-4.

The 20-year-old Winnipeg native took over first place all alone in the league scoring race and boosted Rangers into second place, a point behind Montreal Canadiens. Dean Prentice shared the limelight by firing home all four passes set up by Bathgate.

In Chicago the on - again - off-again Black Hawks pulled out a 3-2 victory over Boston Bruins. The win put Hawks into a three-way tie for third place with Bruins and Detroit Red Wings, all at 18 points.

The Ranger win was the fifth in a row, longest streak for a New York club since 1941-42, the season in which they last took the NHL title.

BOWER SHAKY

Prentice scored two goals on forever Ranger Johnny Bower in the Leaf nets before the three-minute mark of the first period. Leafs drove back with goals by Frank Mahovlich, Bob Pulford and Dick Duff to take a 3-2 lead.

Rookie Eddie Shack of Rangers tied it up and Prentice scored his third on a give-and-go. New York the edge. Leafs got that one back when a poor clearing pass by the Ranger defence put the puck on Billy Harris' stick.

Bathgate, Prentice and Camille Henry sewed it up in the third.

At Chicago the hero was Ron Murphy, who scored two goals in the winning cause. Bobby Hull got the third Hawk marker.

Bruins tied it 1-1 on Leo Labine's second-period goal but that was at close as they came to a win. Larry Regan got the other Bruin goal.

A piece of strategy misfired for Bruins and ruined their chances in the last minute of play. Coach Milt Schmidt called goal Don Simmons out in order to use six attackers in a power play. But the play started before Simmons had reached the bench and Bruins were penalized for having seven men on the ice.

Gene Fullmer Wants to Fight Sugar Ray

WEST JORDAN, Utah (AP)— The manager of No. 2 ranked middleweight Gene Fullmer has challenged world ranking subscribes to make Sugar Ray Robinson defend his championship.

Marv Jenson said Webb's victory over Joey Giardello Wednesday night makes Fullmer the only logical contender for a title bout.

"We ask the National Boxing Association, the New York Boxing Commission and the World Championship Committee to give Robinson an ultimatum that he sign up to defend his title or else vacate it. If he doesn't sign up, they should take the title away and have Fullmer fight Carmen Basilio for the middleweight championship."

Jenson pointed out Fullmer won a unanimous decision over Webb last September.

Macs Explode For 9-3 Win Over Kingston

Smrke, McLellan Score Pair In Excellent Team Effort; Merchants Deep in Cellar

KINGSTON (Special) — Kingston Merchants remain deep in the suite of last place in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior 'A' Eastern section as a result of a 9-3 pasting handed them by the suddenly aroused Belleville McFarlands at the Kingston Community Centre last night.

Lou Smrke regained his scoring eye for the Macs with a four-point evening on two goals and as many assists. Johnny McLellan had his second big game in as many nights with a pair of goals and one helper, while Bart Bradley earned a goal and two helpers.

Ike Hildebrand and Dave Jones each gathered one and one, while Frank Bathgate and Moe Benoit also received helpers. Crawford led in assists with three, while Al Dewsbury had a pair. Minnie Menard and Eddie Marineau picked up singletons.

Showing little of the fire that was evident Tuesday night in Whitby where they led the world champions until five minutes of the final frame, the Merchants offered little opposition to the Macs after the first period.

The smallest crowd of the season, 1,774 fans, watched the losers press for the first five minutes of play and force Gordie Bell to handle five shots. Then Lou Smrke stole the puck and wove his way through the Kingston defence to beat Ken Johnson on the first Belleville shot of the game. Johnson is replacing Lynn Davis, the regular Kingston goaltender, who has been sidelined because he was allegedly ineffective.

Billy Colvin, one of the few Kingston players with any fire, carried the disc into the Macs' zone and fed an accurate pass to Moe Savard who rattled the equalizer. Another defensive lapse late in the period gave Smrke his second counter of the night.

Although Kingston displayed a new face on the rearguard in the person of big Red Olson, formerly of the Fort Wayne squad in the International League who proved effective in the checking department, the Macs had little trouble running the score to 5-1 in the second session.

Olson threw his weight around in a clean but useful manner, something not too often seen in the Kingston ranks, and with converted forward Ted Toppazzini covered the point effective defensive pair on the ice.

Moe Benoit scored a pretty counter early in the second that Johnson had little chance to stop. He took a neat pass from Davey Jones and scored five minutes after Kingston's Frank Chiarelli scored the second Merchants' counter. Jones finished the frame's scoring at the 16 minute mark.

Referee Cord Pranske of Ottawa had little work on his hands as both teams played a clean, if dull, game The Macs picked up five of the eight penalties handed out but this made little difference as the winners outshot Kingston 37-27.

Both teams fizzled out in the final frame except that the Macs had a little more steam and tallied four goals to the Merchants' single. Going into the dying moments of the game after Belleville had scored three counters the fans left the arena in droves and those remaining were cheering for the Macs.

Playing coach Ike Hildebrand scored the first goal after the second intermission as the tempo of the game slowed to a crawl. Frank Bathgate tallied another, followed by McLellan's second and Bart Bradley closed out the Macs' scoring. Colvin picked up the third Kingston goal in second later Bradley's counter.

The win moves the Macs up four points ahead of the Hull-Ottawa Canadiens, who take on fourth place Cornwall tonight. Kingston is three points back of the Ottawa crew. Hull-Ottawa were shipped 9-3 by the Allan Cup champions Tuesday night, will be out to lengthen their slim one point lead over the Cornwall squad.

Mervyn Rose May Turn Pro

MELBOURNE (AP) — Australian tennis star Mervyn Rose left the Lawn Tennis Association of Australia has almost forced him to become a professional.

Rose made the statement after getting a letter from LTAA secretary J. A. C. Andrews advising him that his suspension will not be lifted until Jan. 31, 1959.

On that date he would be permitted to play amateur tennis if he complies with a series of stipulations laid out by the LTAA.

Rose refused to disclose the conditions and said he would see a legal adviser about them.

"As usual, I have been made a scapegoat. If I am dealt with this way the LTAA would be justified in starting a general purge to inquire into the expenses of 30 other official and unofficial tennis tourists. It might be a good idea if the expenses allowed for amateur tennis managers also were investigated."

Rose said he had not officially heard about an offer by American tennis promoter Jack Kramer.

"In view of the LTAA's action I'd be silly if I did not make further inquiries," he said.

The LTAA suspended Rose for giving insufficient details about his expenses during this year's overseas trip.

Stomach Upsets Hit Canadian Golf Players

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The International golf championship and Canada Cup matches got under way today, but there were upsets before they started. Upset stomachs, that is.

Four of the 64 players from 32 countries who teed off today in the world championship of golf suffered varying degrees of "hurista"—upset stomachs — on the eve of the tournament.

Canada's Al Balding of Toronto and Henry Martell of Edmonton were stricken. Both complained Wednesday night of severe pains. Ben Hogan and Sammy Snead, the favored United States entries, were not hit.

Pills relieved most of those affected. Oxygen tanks at the ninth and 18th holes today were to take care of others who complain of the 14-mile high altitude.

BRIGHT FIELD

The brightest field yet for the International and Canada Cup matches went into action on the tough but beautiful 7,316 - yard, par - 72 Club de Golf Mexico course.

The two-man team with the lowest combined score will win the Canada Cup. Individual low scorer wins the international championship.

For a while it was feared the field might be cut by illness. Several players reported for practice Wednesday with upset stomachs.

They included Balding, Martell, John Fenton of Scotland, Dave Thomas of Wales, Frank Phillips of Australia, Bernard Hunt of England and Tony van Donck of Belgium. None was severely ill.

TOUGHER MALADY

Upset stomachs, known as turista because tourists are most susceptible to it, is not normally attributed to bad food here. It is blamed on the change in water, diet and overeating at night at this altitude, which slows down the digestive process.

Many of the players, however, blamed a lobster dish they ate at a banquet the night before. Those who passed up the dish did not become ill.

Ottawa Riders Determined To Dent Hamilton's Margin

By BERNARD DUFRESNE
CANADIAN Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Ottawa Rough Riders may not be strong enough to wipe out the 28-point edge Hamilton Tiger-Cats carry into the windup of the Big Four football final, but they are determined to make a dent in it by winning Saturday.

That's the word from coach Frank Clair as the Riders wrap up their home workouts today before leaving tonight for Hamilton where the second game of the home-and-home, total-points series will be played Saturday at 1 p.m. EST.

Clair, rested after getting a bye into the final, last Saturday as Ottawa scored a crushing 35-3 victory over Riders, an obviously tired club that had come out on top in the semi-final series against the Alouettes three days earlier in Montreal.

"If we can't overcome the lead, we're certainly out to beat them," Clair said.

LOOMS BIG

But he admitted the big Hamilton lead looms pretty big.

Clair did not bother to send anyone to Winnipeg for Wednesday night's western final game between Blue Bombers and Edmonton Eskimos.

We felt we were down quite a bit and decided to send no one to the game." He did his scouting of the western team by viewing the telecast of the game. Hamilton coach Jim Trimble did his scouting of the East's best right in Winnipeg.

The two champions will meet the eastern winners in the Grey Cup game at Vancouver Nov. 29.

MENTAL ATTITUDES

"It probably will be hard to get the players in the right mental attitude after that beating (last Saturday) and the 28 points to erase before we have a chance," the Ottawa coach said. The Rider workout Wednesday night concentrated almost exclusively on offensive strategy, with Clair trying to cook up some thing that may surprise the Tiger-Cats.

"We could stand some offence changes after what happened last week," he said.

He made some changes in the offence but said "you can't call them surprises."

To Clair, there isn't much new in the way of football devices — there are just new wrinkles to old, established patterns.

NEW BISONS MANAGER

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Kerby Farrell, former field manager for Cleveland Indians, was named Wednesday to manage the International Baseball League Buffalo Bisons next season. Farrell, currently in Greenwich where he is managing the Oriente club in the winter league replaces Phil Cavarretta. The Bisons finished in the cellar last season. Farrell, 43, played in 1943 with Boston Braves and in 1945 with Chicago White Sox.

Kitchener Dutchmen Close in On Maroons for Loop Lead

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Something seems to have clicked for Eddie McFarland. They've picked up 46 scoring points in the last two nights.

The Ontario Hockey Association Senior 'A' eastern division club walloped Kingston Merchants 9-3 Wednesday night, a day after downed Hull-Ottawa Canadiens 9-2.

The test of whether the slow-starting club has really caught fire will be Friday night when McFarlands are at home to the unbeaten first-place Whitby Dunlops.

Dunlops have a 11-0-1 record for 23 points, nine more than Belleville.

SECOND GOALIE INJURED

In the OHA-NOHA Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen defeated Windsor Bulldogs 5-1 in a game in which Windsor's replacement goalie was injured in the same manner as the first-string goalie was when the clubs met a week ago.

The win put second-place Kitchener within five-points of the first-place Chatham Maroons. Windsor's loss coupled with a 6-3 win by Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds over Sudbury Wolves left Greyhounds third with 19 points, one more than Bulldogs.

At Kingston, Lou Smrke scored two first - period goals, Johnny McClellan also got two and single lets went to Moe Benoit, Dave Jones, Ike Hildebrand, Frank Bathgate and Bert Bradley.

MAY MAKE TOP TEN

McClellan and Hild e brand should make the top 10 scorers McClellan picked up five points and Hildebrand six Tuesday night and they got three and two points respectively Wednesday.

Kingston scorers were Frank Savard.

Kitchener fans had to wait 30 minutes for their game to start when Bulldogs' bus broke down, then another 20, when Windsor goalie Ross Brooks, on loan from Trappers, was struck in the mouth by the puck and had to have four stitches.

He was hurt on a shot by Jerry Theberge who a week previously had a shot strike regular Windsor goalie Danny Olarvich. Olsevich, in hospital with an eye injury, is expected to return to action in Bulldogs' next game.

EARLY LEAD BROKEN

Windsor grabbed a first-period lead on a goal by Norm Wiles but Billy Flick and Butch Martin made it 2-1 for Dutchmen before the period ended.

Billy Wells scored for Dutchmen in the second and third periods with Ralph Hocking getting the final goal in the third.

At Sudbury Jim Porelli knocked in a goal a period for Greyhounds who led 3-0 after the first and 5-0 after the second. Other Soo scorers were Johnny Offidani, Gary Vena and John Lumley.

Joe Zorica and Jimmy Logan unassisted and Pete Pilote scored for Sudbury in the third.

Buffalo Bisons Hold 6-Point Lead Over Field

Eddie Kachur of Buffalo Bisons came close to setting an American Professional Hockey record Wednesday night. He scored a goal only eight seconds after the opening faceoff.

Buffalo went on to pour in three more goals in the first period and defeat-Providence Reds 5-2.

Kachur's strike was quick. But on Dec. 17, 1943 Wes Kilrea of the defunct Indianapolis Capitals found the net two seconds after the start of an AHL game.

Bruce Gamble, Gerry Gamble, Parker MacDonald and Bill Sweeney joined Kachur in the Buffalo scoring column. The assault was made against veteran Harvey Bennett, who replaced injured Harry Lumley in goal. Jack Blonda and Jim Bartlett found the range for Providence.

The victory gave the Bisons a six-point lead over runnerup Hershey, which dropped a 6-3 decision to the hot Springfield Indians in the other game scheduled.

Duke Edmundson had two goals for Springfield.

TWO SURVIVORS

The two were taken from the water by a U.S. coast guard cutter who also recovered eight floating bodies.

The job of trying to identify the bodies went on through the night in the town's mortuary chapel, turned into a temporary morgue.

BODIES FOUND

Eighteen bodies had been recovered by sundown Wednesday. Seventeen were brought here and the other was picked up by a freighter bound for Milwaukee.

Mays and Fleming told of the terror and confusion on the sinking Bradley and of their prayers and shivering for 14 hours on the floating raft.

Fleming, the Bradley's first mate, said:

"I was in the pilot house on watch with the captain. We heard a thud. Then the alarm bell started ringing.

"Something spun us around. Then we looked down on the deck. It wasn't hard to see something was wrong. The stern was sagging."

SENT DISTRESS CALL

Fleming managed to get off a distress signal on the Bradley's radio. Then he was in the cold water. It was almost sundown.

"We climbed on the rail and held on with all we had."

At first there were four on the raft, a wooden structure with a low metal railing and metal pontoons.

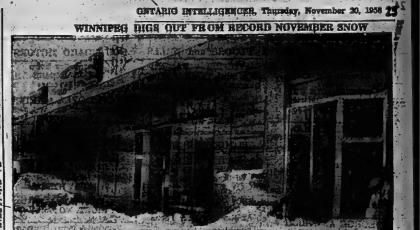
"We lost one of them when the raft took a complete flip," Fleming said. "I swam until I got back to it. Then I helped the others get back on."

Twice more during the night the waves whipped up by a 60-mile-an-hour wind lifted the raft and overturned it.

"I've never been so cold in my life," Fleming said. "Ice was beginning to form on my jacket and in my hair."

Mays, 36, was below decks in the conveyer room when a mysterious thud and the alarm bells sent him running to deck.

"Once we were on the raft," he said, "I thought we'd be all right. I knew they would find us."



The Bradley carried one raft—the one that saved the lives of Fleming and Mays—and two lifeboats. The lifeboats were not found in the first day of the search.

There were reports that the 615-foot Bradley split in two after an explosion. Fleming said he believes there was a slight explosion just as the stern sunk beneath the surface.

Norman Hoeft, manager of Bradley Transportation Lines, said there was nothing on the ship that could cause an explosion big enough to sink it.

The Bradley was carrying about 9,000 tons of water ballast —about two-thirds its payload tonnage capacity. The coast guard said this would discount any idea that the big ship broke up because it was travelling too light.

The Bradley was en route to Rogers City, Mich., on Lake Huron from Mays and Fleming and most crew members, after delivering a load of limestone at Gary, Ind. The latter has written the letters.

WINNIPEG HIGH OUT FROM RECORD NOVEMBER SNOW

Winnipeg storekeepers fought a losing battle as they valiantly shovelled away snow that dropped in record November quantities. But it did them little good as few shoppers ventured out through the huge drifts which caused Mayor Juba to call an emergency council meeting.

ACCUSSED

mission and he said he had not," Inspector Graham testified.

He said he had written any letter to anyone and he said, 'you must be referring to the letters to Andre and to Boyce.'

"He said he discussed the Inter-County gas business with Mr. Andre and told him that he was trying to sell it to Consumers' Gas and 'Mr. Andre told me he big enough to sink it.

"He said he would give me $10,000 to swing a deal.' Mr. Mason said Mr. Andre thought Mayor Boyce would quite likely be good for an additional $10,000."

Inspector Graham said he showed the letters to Mason who admitted the signatures were his and the stationery was his.

DENIES WRITING LETTERS

Inspector Graham added, Mason claimed he had given the stationery to Mr. Andre and that the letter has written the letters.

Moreover, the police official quoted Mason as saying, the letters were written at the request of Mayor Boyce.

"When we were about to leave, Mr. Mason said 'it was a stupid thing to do' and that if he were charged he thought he would plead guilty." He also said Mason told him Consumers' gas had nothing to do with the letters and they were written before Consumers' Gas retained him as a part-time representative.

LONG DELAY

Mayor Boyce testified earlier he had waited 18 months before reporting the alleged bribery attempt because he didn't want to ruin Mason.

The mayor told the court: "I thought his offer was ill-considered and he might want to reconsider it."

Power's Mother Not to Be Told Of His Death

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Tyrone Power's 82-year-old mother won't be told of her son's death.

"The news would kill her," a maid said Tuesday.

The disclosure recalls the family conspiracy that kept the mother of singer Russ Colombo ignorant of her son's death. She died in 1944 unaware that he had shot himself accidentally 10 years before while examining an old Civil War pistol.

Power's mother, who lives in a Hollywood home with a nurse and maid, suffered a stroke several years ago.

Power, who died Saturday of a heart attack on a movie location in Spain, was a devoted son.

"Good morning, sir. I represent the Jim Dandy Screwdriver Company . . ."

Tweed

TWEED — Several from this district were among the winners of cash prizes in the recent "Know Ontario" contest sponsored by The Toronto Daily Star. Bruce Jones, formerly of Tweed and now of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Jones of Tweed, was the heavy winner when he copped one of the ten $500 prizes. Bruce is employed in Toronto by the Ontario Hydro as a draftsman. His mother, Mrs. E. Jones, Tweed, won $96.30.

Among the lesser prize winners were: Mrs. Orrie Wagar, Tweed, who received $24.52; Miss Betty Northey, Northbrook, $105; Mabel A. Welsh, Tweed, $10; Miss Frances Harris, Tweed; $5; Mrs. W. J. Lynn, Queensboro, $5; Heath J. Jones, Tweed, $46; Mrs. W. L. Holmes, Queensboro, $10, and Wallis Moffat, Tweed, $5.

KINSMEN CAN PROJECTS

Vice-president Ken Thompson was in charge of the regular Kinsmen meeting held Tuesday night at the Stoco Lake hotel in Stoco, when a number of projects for the future were outlined. The club will take charge of the erection and decoration of the Christmas tree at the provincial park, near the new bridge on Hwy. 37 Highway. It is expected another organization will look after the tree at the Memorial Park, at the south of the village.

Fisher reported that tickets are selling well on the Christmas basket, while Robert Wood said the smoker was well attended and was considered a good success.

EUCHRE WINNERS

At the St. Michael's Altar Society card party held in Sulphide last week prizes were won as follows. Mrs. Margaret Mulroney and Mrs. Ann Hall, door prize, Charles Cassidy of Tweed. Seventeen tables were in play, making it one of the best attended euchre parties in some time.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RICHTER

Friday, November 21

Aries (March 21 to April 19)—A fine day for getting what you want, achieving the ends towards which you have labored for so long. Be sure you dress very smartly and conservatively, then off to see those important persons. P. M. good for making new friends, being sociable.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20)—While getting a start on that new venture towards which you have quietly planned for so long, it is necessary you are still very secretive about it. However, get in touch with authorities and backers wisely and start the ball rolling.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21)—Go to that glain - talking pal who will smooth the way for you towards greater success. Be specific in stating your desires and your plans. Any sort of round the-mulberry-bush tactics would be very hurtful at this time.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — Affairs of large scope are the best to consider and work on this fine day. Be certain you know and follow the best systems for increasing both popularity and position in life. See that your credit is A-1, your holdings secure.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — There is an opportunity present to meet a fine influential person today who can bring your dreams and ambitions much closer to you. Step out of dull doldrums and impress other persons with your friendliness and capabilities.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21)—A day for expanding and making sure that you are doing the very best in all problematical, career and artistic affairs. It would be wise to see the best authorities and get the benefit of their experience.

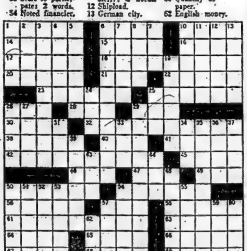
Libra (Sept. 22 to Oct. 22) — A day for being with associates, competition, kin, pals, et al., in order to work out a mutually beneficial plan for the future. See that your co-operation is unstinted and wholesome, honest.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — The best way to eliminate all the worry of commitments and responsibilities is to roll up your sleeves today and get them out of the way quickly. Impress fellow workers favorably and be their champion as well. A good day.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — If living astrologically right, you arise feeling just accurating to go. Be sure to see the vital personalities who can help you reach your goals more quickly. You have a great deal of talent. F. M. fine for frolic and fun.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Get out - of - door commitments attended to quickly, then concentrate on home duties with vim and vigor. Bring home tidbits, be very loving and kind toward kin, and do some entertaining at abode with perfect poise and charm.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — The ideal day to express yourself fully with partners. You can get their co-operation happily and cement better relations, make wonderful plans for the future. P. M. is fine for having a wonderful time with dearest pals.



Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — This day is best spent looking into real estate, all holdings, securities, etc. Also, set up a better budget, not quite so complicated. You are thinking very clearly so can cautiously get all financial matters in order quickly.

If your child is born today — The clever child born today will have a very fine mind and even a start to the latest trends and systems, inventions, modes. So, see to it that proper but interesting puzzles around, is given scientific things to work and study with early. Real success is in the chart provided you teach that what once has been started must be completed, and that loyalty and perseverance are the greatest stepping-stones to success.

Tells of Relief From Backache and Tired Rundown Condition

Surprised How Much Better I Am Since Taking Syntona, Says Grateful Woman.

"For a long time I was feeling miserable and it is certainly wonderful the way Syntona has helped me," said Mrs. Margaret Clark, 849 Princess Ave., London, Ontario, in a recent report.

Many Aches and Pains

"My nerves were very bad and I felt tired all the time. Especially to I had constant backache. At night I used to have to get up as I had a constant nagging pain after my back and my limbs, joints and muscles were sore and painful.

"But Syntona has been wonderful for me. My nerves are calmed down so that I sleep restfully at night. The backache and other aches and pains are also relieved and I am not always tired as I was before."

An Herbal Medicine

Although the Syntona formula includes 13 herbs and roots, its fine flavor makes it extremely agreeable to the taste. And its invigorating tonic action has helped thousands of people to get relief from nervousness, the blues and tired, rundown conditions. Syntona also brings grateful relief from backache, aching joints, muscular aches and rheumatic pain. Try Syntona today and see how much better you feel.

Syntona is sold and recommended in Belleville by Dolan The Druggist.

Province Will Enforce Natural Gas Safety Code

Frost Announces Govt. Will Make Inspections

TORONTO (CP) — Responsibility for enforcement of Ontario's new natural gas safety code will be taken over by the province in many municipalities.

Premier Frost, in announcing Thursday that a stringent gas code is being prepared to protect the public as far as humanly possible," made the enforcement point clear.

He said that in the larger centres, such as Toronto, the enforcement will be up to local authorities. But the province will step in and do the job itself in smaller places even if it means a loss of local autonomy.

"We don't propose to be tied up by a lot of red tape that prevents us from getting things done," he said. "Some municipalities don't know a thing about gas; we've got to take responsibility for inspection off their hands."

RULES READY SOON

Mr. Frost appeared at a press conference held by Mines Minister Spooner who said the new standards will be ready "in a couple of days" for cabinet and approval.

The code will involve the Ontario government in safety inspections for the first time. The target for these inspections will be natural gas distributions systems.

Three recent line explosions—at Otter, Stratford and Fraser mo, midway between Toronto and Hamilton — focussed public attention on the hazards of gas as a fuel.

OLD PIPE UNSUITED

The premier said those cases appeared to him to be cases of putting "new wine in old bottles" —piping natural gas into systems designed for the manufactured kind.

"The new gas apparently eats into the composition of the old pipe."

The new code of standards should meet the safety demands resulting from natural gas conversion in the province, said Mr. Frost, but "no code that could be devised could meet all requirements."

The code is based on the results of a study by the Ontario Research Foundation ordered by the government last April.

Germans Reach Berlin Civilian Traffic Accord

BERLIN (AP)—East Germany signed an agreement with West Germany today guaranteeing German civilian traffic free from movements to and from Berlin. The assurance was appended to a new trade pact between the two rival regimes.

This assurance to the 2,200,000 Germans in isolated West Berlin came as signs multiplied that the Russians may soon end the four-power occupation agreement and turn control of the Western "Berlin" supply lines over to Communist East Germany.

Germans work in the east-ern half of the old German capital said families of Russian soldiers and some officers and men already are pulling out of East Berlin. The Soviet Embassy denied this.

But the German informants said the exodus began in earnest after Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev—in a speech Nov. 10 —announced Soviet occupation rights in Berlin would be turned over to the East German regime.

HAS NO EFFECT

The agreement on free access to Berlin for German civilian traffic has no effect on the question of control of the Western Allies' supply lines to the divided city.

Ontario Works Program Help Starts Dec. 1

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Frost announced Thursday the Ontario government will pay 25 per cent of the wages of workers on special municipal works projects this winter.

The federal government has already offered to pay 50 per cent. This means the municipalities will get back 75 per cent of the cost of hiring men for special programs designed to combat unemployment as street and sidewalk construction, highway embankments, bridges, and gerpasses, towers, watermains, land clearing and parks.

The Ontario plan will become effective Dec. 1 and run to April 30. The only qualification for the assistance is that projects must be carried out in areas "where the bulk are unemployed."

The premier said the program will be "very much broader than last winter's. At that time the province paid 50 per cent of the wages of men recruited from relief rolls for special projects.

Building fairs and parks clearings were about the limit of last year's program. Under it the province paid 120 municipalities around $500,000.

Mr. Frost said no estimate of the cost of the 1958-59 plan can be made because there is no way to estimate unemployment in advance.

He said Ontario has a lengthy list of winter projects of its own. Some of these require federal aid. These works have a total value of about $25,000,000.

Projects by the municipalities must be of a type that would not otherwise have been carried out in the winter.

Today's Chuckle

It may be true that it is never too late to mend our ways, but most people feel it is too early.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synopsis:— Cloudy skies and scattered snowflurries were reported from most of the province today. Another weak disturbance in North Dakota will affect Ontario region Saturday, bringing more cloud and a few snowflurries or rain showers.

GM EMPLOYEES SCHEDULE STRIKE VOTE SUNDAY

Negotiations With Company Broken Off

TORONTO (CP) — Negotiations between the United Auto Workers of America (CLC) and General Motors of Canada for an agreement covering 15,000 employees reached a deadlock Thursday.

Talks are scheduled to resume Monday. Ontario UAW members in Oshawa, London, St. Catharines, Windsor and Toronto have scheduled a strike vote Sunday. If an agreement is not reached Monday, strikes were to have occurred the terms at the Sunday meetings.

George Burt, UAW Canadian director, said the union had tried to negotiate a settlement without resorting to a strike vote "knowing that they can upset everyone's equilibrium, but we have been unable to get it to budge."

He suggested the GM's bargaining in Canada was being dictated by the parent firm in the United States.

GM's offer fell short of the U.S. auto settlement, although the union is insisting on better terms than they have in the 26-cent wage gap.

MAKE VOTE PLANS

The union's GM inter-corpora, tion council, which includes representatives from the plants, met Thursday to make plans for Sunday's strike vote meetings.

It understood GM offered the same six cents an hour, or 2.5 per cent, whichever is greater, as included in the U.S. three-year agreement. But the company did'er fell short of U.S. terms on other points.

The UAW wants GM's terms to match or better U.S. terms including pensions, guaranteed annual employment benefits and severance pay.

Plants involved are the Oshawa and Windsor vehicle operations; Fisher Body plants in Oshawa; diesel plant in London and McKinnon Industries in St. Catharines.

The union this week began negotiations with Ford Motor Company of Canada and negotiations are expected soon with Chrysler Corporation of Canada.

3 Children Die In Fire Started By Six-Year-Old

CHICAGO (AP) — Three children died in their home Thursday night in a fire police said was started by the 6-year-old brother who stuffed a piece of paper into an air vent.

Dead are Mrs. Ethel Lewis and her brother, Fred, 15 months, who were rescued by their parents, who suffered burns. The dead children are Tommy Ray, 5, Elaine, 4, and Bennet, 3.

Tigers too Interested in Mating To Give Diefenbaker Shot at Them

KOTAH, India (CP) —Bengal tigers, more interested in their love life than in being shot, helped save the life of Prime Minister Diefenbaker Thursday as the Canadian leader went on his first tiger hunt.

Despite the efforts of several shouting brought the beast within a tiger was spotted this morning, no target appeared for the premier riding in a howdah on the Chambal River.

His host, the Maharajah or Kotah, who had buffaloes and goats stay out for several days to lure the tigers, apologized for the poor fortune.

The hunt lasted three hours. Normally guests stay two or three days and rarely leave without a trophy.

Diefenbaker, enjoying the most relaxing day of his world tour, said happily, "That's what hunting is."

He and his wife, having an elephant ride in the sun, saw brilliant blue-green parrots and kingfishers flying over the water and laughed at the antics of the monkeys on the cliffs of the riverbanks.

Actually, two tigers were spoiled by Indian hunters earlier Wednesday—one of which had killed a buffalo here one month ago in a narrow strip of jungle between the cliff and the river.

Indian hunters said it was fortunate to have lured the tigers close to the river for the beasts since this was the mating season.

Woman Loses Suit Against Plastic Surgeon

PARIS (AP) — A Paris civil court ruled Thursday that a 56-year-old woman shouldn't demand the impossible from a plastic surgeon and should be happy about any improvements he did make.

The suit was brought by Mrs. Idlia Lafaurie de Kassel, an American who lives in Mexico. She asked damages of francs 1,000,000 damages from Dr. Jean Voisin.

Court proceedings disclosed she came to Voisin with a request that he remove wrinkles and crow's feet around her eyes, a facial wrinkles, smooth the pouches under her eyes and make her look more youthful and give her bosom a youthful line.

The suit last was successful. She admitted in her complaint, however, that she was pleased. She claimed the surgery left her with scars when show when she wears low cut evening dresses.

Cold War Truce Paves Way For Outer Space Agreement

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) Only minor technicalites stood today in the way of a general political agreement on the peaceful uses of outer space.

In a series of moves that transcended the usual Russian-American considerations based on cold war politics, Canada and a Latin American group ready agreements for formal endorsement this afternoon to a joint declaration that member nations may use space should be based not on political boundaries but on principles for the benefit of the human race as a whole.

The Russian delegate, Valerian Zorin, in effect withdrew his demand that any space agreement be linked with the continued upon of American bases on foreign territories.

In exchange, he asked that the United Nations accept now the idea of setting up a committee of world geographical range to determine how the big powers may best use their scientific potential in developing the barrier of terrestrial gravity.

It was apparent that the committee idea would be accepted by the U.S.

It also was apparent that Britain, Canada and the 15 or so smaller countries have bought the Americans in the outer space political debate here might have put pressure on the U.S. to agree to it and thus win a unanimous agreement in the 82-nation assembly.

The only arguing point left appeared to be the setup of an outer-space committee.

The U.S. was known to be cool to the idea of including smaller and more backward countries on the scientific potential would be of little help. Russia held out for the inclusion of smaller countries in its effort to make propaganda gains in Asia and Africa.

Quebec Federation of Labor Critical of Provincial Police

QUEBEC (CP) — The Quebec Federation of Labor (CLC) has adopted a resolution calling for the replacement of the Quebec provincial police force by the RCMP.

The resolution was proposed by the Hull Stationery and Envelope Co. and adopted on the opening day of the QFL's annual convention which some 500 delegates are attending.

The resolution said the provincial force "is but a tool of the Union Nationale government and of management" and has shown "its partiality and brutality during strikes in its province by siding with the egployers."

The convention also adopted a USWA resolution calling for a royal commission inquiry into activities of "private" police. The resolution says "certain managers, among them those of Noranda Mines, hire strong-arm men and private policemen during strikes" and by living in "ugly in intimidate strikers and break their strikes."

Noranda Mines is the parent company of Gaspe Copper Mines Limited against which the USWA called a strike last year in Murdochville, Que. The seven-month strike was a violent one.

Another USWA resolution asked for a royal commission inquiry into the sale il Quebec Hydro's publicly-powered household gas distribution system in Montreal to the privately-owned Quebec Natural Gas Corporation.

MASON CLEARED ON ONE BRIBERY COUNT BY JURY

Must Again Stand Trial on Second

KINGSTON (CP) — Kingston businessman Arthur M. Mason was acquitted Thursday night on one of two charges that he attempted to bribe city officials to help him obtain a natural gas distribution franchise.

But a county jury said after deliberating eight hours that it could not agree on a second charge and Judge J. C. Anderson said Mason must face a new trial on the charge on which the jury disagreed.

Mason was cleared on the charge of offering $10,000 to Public Utilities Commissioner Thomas A. Andre if the Consumers' Gas Company was given the franchise.

The jury failed to agree on whether he offered a similar amount of money to Mayor Frank Boyce.

PRODUCED LETTERS

Both men claimed Mason offered them the money and produced letters signed by Mason which signified this.

Mason offered $10,000 offers originated with suggestions from his counsel. He said, that he demanded the amount for their help in the franchise matter.

He said he had first broached the matter of the franchise to the mayor and commissioner at a meeting in Toronto in January, 1957. He quoted the mayor as saying: "We want $10,000 apiece."

Mason, who once ran for mayor here, said he had no intention of paying but wanted to see how far the matter would go.

He claimed the letters were dictated by the mayor and typed out by Mr. Andre. He said he signed the letters and gave the others to the officials. Later he asked to have them back but said the officials would not produce them.

The bribery attempt is alleged to have occurred in March, 1957. Mason was fired in April of that year as a part-time representative of Consumers' Gas.

Judge Anderson told the jurors before they retired to consider a verdict that they must make a decision on each charge. He reminded them it was a second trial and not the city officials.

Girl Acquitted On Arson Count At Oshawa

WHITBY, Ont. (CP) — Beverly Black, 18, was acquitted Thursday of a charge of arson arising out of a fire that destroyed the F. W. Woolworth store in Oshawa Sept. 2.

She was employed as a clerk at the store when the fire broke out.

Miss Black, who has been in custody since Sept. 24 when she was arrested at her home in Oshawa, said after leaving the courtroom: "Oh, it's wonderful to be going home."

The girl accused police of lying about her alleged confession. Ontario county Judge W. S. Lane told her:

"You wouldn't have been in court if it hadn't been for your irresponsible answers to investigators."

U.S. Expert Gives Reds Even Chance Of Being First With Atomic Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia is given an even chance of beating the United States into the sky with an atomic-powered airplane reportedly before the end of the year.

However, the director of the defence department program for development of nuclear-powered aircraft says the U.S. is on the threshold of success in building an atomic plane.

Maj.-Gen. Donald J. Keirn says if the Russians do win the race the airplane they use might be relatively crude.

He told a defence general indicated Thursday that by using an atomic power plant in a conventional plane the Russians might manage a nuclear flight before the end of the year or early next year.

But he made it clear the U.S. Air Force wants an airplane sufficiently designed for atomic power and capable of virtually unlimited range and supersonic speed.

In addition to being able to launch missiles such a plane would be capable of low-level, high-speed flights into enemy territory.

He added that the air force "will soon be ready to embark" on a flight testing program of an atomic plane.

Nineteen Named For Aldermen, 2 For Utilities

Meeting at City Hall One of Quietest in Years

Elections for the office of Mayor, Public Utilities Commissioner, for Aldermen, and for Public and Separate School Trustees are possible as a result of today's nomination meeting at city hall.

At a rather quiet nomination, incumbent Gerald B. Hyde was nominated to again run for the office of mayor, while Alderman Effie McCabe was also nominated for the position. Aspirants have until nine o'clock Saturday evening to qualify.

There were two nominations for the office of public utilities commissioner now held by W. Harry Rollins. Mr. Rollins and Donald McNevin were nominated for the post.

There were 19 nominations for the office of alderman, including eight incumbent councillors whose two-year term of office is completed. Only two of the aldermen elected form the newly annexed area.

There were 11 nominations for public school trustees with possible elections in wards seven and two.

MAY BE CONTESTS

There are also possible contests in wards one and three for school trustees, in wards seven and two.

There were only a comparatively few taxpayers in the city hall council chambers as City clerk Mrs. Anne Haggerty declared nominations open at seven o'clock. The first nomination, that of Alderman Gerald B. Hyde for the position of alderman came a few minutes after the meeting was open.

City residents remarked at the comparative absence from the nomination of residents in the newly-annexed areas of Sidney and Thurlow townships from where close to 3,500 voters were added to the city voting lists.

There were only about half a dozen nominations from the annexed area for aldermanic, public and separate school board posts. The number of aldermen nominated is the lowest in a number of years.

20-Year-Old Youth Sentenced To Be Hanged

EDMUNDSTON, N.B. (CP)—John Jacob Vollman, 20, of Madawaska, Me., was convicted Thursday of killing 16-year-old Rosaire Cyr of Edmundston last East and sentenced to be hanged Feb. 27.

The conviction and sentence ended one of the longest murder trials in New Brunswick history. Forty-nine witnesses were heard during the eight-day trial.

The Supreme Court jury's verdict was accompanied by a recommendation for mercy.

The high school girl's body was found in the bush near Lac Baker, Boucher Post Office early May 14 with three stab wounds in her throat and chest. Vollman was arrested later the same day.

Vollman's counsel J. A. Pichette of Edmundston said after the verdict no decision has been made on an appeal.

City and District News

NEW VAPOR LAMPS ON MARKET SQUARE

The city market square has taken on a brighter night time appearance during the past few days as public utilities commission workmen have completed installation of new type vapour lamps replacing the old incandescent type.

The new lights have been placed on arms from existing hydro poles and are placed on the perimeter of the square rather than on the central walk.

With the placement of the new type lamps, the old lamp standards at the corners of the city hall and at the police station have been removed.

PARENTS' NIGHT HELD AT SWIM CLASSES

Parents Night was held at the Y.M.C.A. for boys taking part in pre-pre-years-to-swim classes. Fourteen boys took part in the lessons that have been under way since September.

The dads had an opportunity to swim in the pool for their parents and demonstrate the skills they had learned. Following the swim the boys were presented with certificates for their accomplishments. A discussion period was held about learning to swim and a film was shown "No Time To Spare", demonstrating artificial respiration.

The next course for boys eight years old will start on January 3rd and will run for 10 lessons.

QUINTE ROSICRUCIAN CHAPTER HONORS MR. and MRS. A. WARD

On Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ward were presented with the Humanist Award of the Rosicrucian Order, AMORC, for their untiring efforts on behalf of the retarded children in the Quinte district.

The Award, which was signed by the Imperator of the Rosicrucian Order, Mr. Ralph M. Lewis, was presented after the regular Convocation of the Quinte Chapter.

The Master, Mr. L.G. Hart, quoting from the letter addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Ward, said, "In keeping with its high ideals and purposes, the Rosicrucian Order is constantly in search of those members of society who are working toward making life more pleasant for all men. Your activities carried on in the interest of others would be considered over a period of several years. Your interest in retarded young children is a most commendable thing."

The award read in part, "In recognition of unselfish service performed in furtherance of humanitarian activities, the Rosicrucian Order, AMORC, takes pride in conferring upon Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ward the title of Humanist." Upon receiving the award, Mr. Ward thanked the Rosicrucians for the honour conferred upon him and his wife, and outlined the work being done by the Quinte Association for Retarded Children.

Following the presentation, the members and their friends viewed the color film "Hemo the Magnificent" through the courtesy of Mr. Flanigan of the Bell Telephone Co. Refreshments served by Mrs. Ross Lindsay completed the evening.

Mrs. Anne M. Haggerty, clerk for the city of Belleville, announces the nominations for the various posts to be filled in the municipal election on December 1st. The nomination session, held between 11.00 a.m. and 12.00 was sparsely attended.

Sons of Freedom Leader Planning Return to Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—An official of the external affairs department said Thursday that Stefan Sorokin, 56-year-old spiritual leader of British Columbia's Sons of Freedom Doukhobors, is attempting to return to Canada from Uruguay.

Sorokin called at the Canadian consulate in Montevideo a few days ago asking what arrangements he would have to make to return.

The department official said the exact status of the Russian-born spiritual leader is not clear. Sorokin arrived in Canada as a displaced person in 1950, the year he was proclaimed spiritual leader of the radical sect. He left Canada in 1952 for Uruguay.

Sorokin was reported to have taken thousands of dollars of Doukhobor money with him when he went to Uruguay to seek a new home for the sect. The Doukhobors now plan to emigrate to Siberia.

Recent articles in the Vancouver Sun said the bearded leader is leading a life of luxury in Uruguay.

Set Appeal Date

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. Justice C. H. Sullivan Thursday set Feb. 16 as the day the British Columbia Supreme Court will hear appeals in the Sommers bribery-conspiracy case.

Appeals against the jail term on bribery and conspiracy counts are former lands minister Robert E. Sommers and timber company executive H. Wilson Gray. They were sentenced last February to four years in prison.

Markham Couple Killed in Crash

TORONTO (CP) — Ernest G. Reesor and his wife, both of Markham, and believed to be in their 60s, were killed Thursday night in a car-car collision on Highway 7.

Raymond Allen, 42, and Robert Cronkhite, 30, both of Toronto, suffered undetermined injuries.

Police said all four were thrown from the vehicles, one of which veered across the roadway and sheered off three gasoline station pumps.

Hunter Killed

GREENWICH, N.Y. (AP) An 18-year-old high school girl hunting squirrels with a 20-gauge shotgun was shot through the throat and killed Thursday in a hunting accident at nearby Bald Mountain. Barbara Herrington was killed by a bullet from a 30-30 rifle held by Preston Keyes, 25, state police reported.

Struck by Car

MILTON (CP) — Allan Swann, 15, was killed instantly Wednesday when his bicycle was struck by a car as he returned from a newspaper delivery route. Police identified the driver as William Hunter, 32, of Milton. The boy was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Swann.

H. J. McFarland Picton's Mayor Next Two Years

Harvey J. McFarland was once again acclaimed for the unsparity of Picton at the nomination meeting held Thursday night in the auditorium of the Queen Elizabeth school. A capacity crowd of over two hundred people saw no other name proposed in opposition to Mayor McFarland, who, when "C's" term is completed will have served ten consecutive years as chief magistrate of the county seat of Prince Edward county. The coming election marks the fifth time Elizabeth's history that the posts for mayor and reeve have been filled without a contest. The by-law to this effect was passed last December by council without a referendum to the people.

Nominated for reeve are Woodrow Blakely and Ernest Ward. There will be no contest for deputy reeve as Bernard Hepburn was acclaimed. Six councillors will be elected nominated are — Donald Ward, Arthur Morgan, Randolph Clapp, Andrew Jarvis, all of Picton; Will ... running for re-election, Jack Hollingsworth, George Morden, Nesbitt McKibbon, Reverend Peter Reid, Howard Gorsline, and James Bird. Nominees for the two posts for public utilities commissioners are Jack Ward, William Henley Sr. and Ernest Incumbentai. Carmen Scott, Jack LeHeup, and Ernest Franklin.

If there is an election there will be referendum to the people to vote on the issue of twenty-one years of age and over to vote in municipal elections. If no election is held the motion will be shelved until two years from now.

Greek Family Left Homeless In $6,000 Fire

A local Greek family, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Angelatos, and their two children, were left homeless last night when fire swept through their local brick home at 84 Great St. James Street causing damage estimated at close to $6,000.

The family was not at home when the fire broke out, appar. ently in a domestic partition and caused from a space heater. When firemen arrived on the scene about 8.30 they found the home locked up and they had to break their way in to fight the fire.

Mr. Angelatos, an employee of the Silver Grill, was said to have been at the hospital visiting his wife, who is expecting another baby.

The fire ran through the partitions right from the basement to the attic," stated Deputy Fire Chief Gerald O'Brien. "The smoke was so dense that it made fighting the blaze difficult and we had to vent the attic to let some of the smoke out."

Firemen were hampered by the heavy smoke even wearing air packs.

Five pieces of fire fighting equipment were used at the blaze, the fire being brought under control in just over an hour.

U.S. AIRMEN JAILED

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's Supreme Court today upheld prison terms imposed on two U.S. airmen for injuring a Japanese taxi driver in an attempt to rob him. Andrew N. Hartman, 21, and Philip W. Morris, 21, were sentenced to four and 3½ years' imprisonment respectively. They have no further avenue of appeal.

Jimmy Willis Converted at Uncle's Funeral

Jimmy Willis, the original Kingfish of the Amos and Andy radio show, says he is now a fisher of the King of Kings. Jimmy told a large audience in Calvary Temple on Thursday night that he was converted five years ago at the funeral of an uncle in Atlanta, Greater Macedonia Baptist Church in Atlanta, Georgia. Now living a new life in Christ, he serves almost nightly as full time evangelist, preaching and singing wherever God leads him.

Fluent in seven languages and with the ability to sing from bass to tenor from highest tenor to lowest bass, Jimmy was featured in many Broadway productions in New York night clubs as a singer, dancer and comedian.

His mother, a devout Christian, had prayed before he was born that if she had a boy she would make him a preacher. "But I ran away from God a long time," said Jimmy, "before my mother's prayer were answered." In his interview in fame and fortune. Twenty years ago I was on the side walk preacher at 42th and Broadway. This preacher told me I was going to be a big success. He prophesy came true. During the big Christian crusade in New York last year I was reminded every night on TV and Broadway."

Emphasizing the power of prayer, the speaker related several instances of God's protection in starting his life. During the war thirty-nine men were killed all around him when a shell exploded, but he received not a scratch. When featured in the Hollywood entertainers during the U.S. Treasury bond drive, he was riding with the same plane that crashed, carrying Carole Lombard to her death. But during three occurrences his mother and dad were praying for his safety.

"It is a dangerous thing to go on day after day, resisting the Holy Spirit, thinking there is plenty of time to make your peace with God," declared the speaker with great earnestness. "God said that His spirit would not always strive with men. There comes a time when your last chance to get saved is gone. The Bible says 'now is the day of salvation.' You have no guarantee of tomorrow."

In response to the altar call several people indicated their desire to accept Christ. Reverend Laurie Perley, who was in charge of the service, announced that Mr. Willis would be telling his life story on Sunday night.

Mr. Willis thrilled the audience with the singing of his own arrangement of "There's a Highway to Heaven" and "Peace in the Valley", as Don Wound accompanied on the Hammond organ.

IN MEMORIAM

REEVES. — In loving memory of my dear mother, Agnes Florence Reeves, who passed away November 21st, 1946.

Time may fly by mile upon mile,
But those we love can never be forgotten.
Those we love, our dearest friend,
Are those we miss most when they're gone.

—Lovingly remembered by daughter Betty, son-in-law and family.

REEVES. — In loving memory of a dear wife, Agnes Florence Reeves, who passed away November 21st, 1946.

The depth of sorrow I cannot tell,
For the loss of one I loved so well;
Those who sleeps a peaceful sleep,
Is best.

Her memory I shall always keep.
—Lovingly remembered by husband Cecil.

REEVES. — In loving memory of a dear mother, Agnes Florence Reeves, who passed away November 21st, 1946.

A wonderful mother, woman and friend,
One who was better, God never made.
One thing I'm thankful, that mother was mine,
Just to your judgment, always rich.
Honest and liberal, ever upright;
Served by your friends and those who knew you.
A wonderful mother, that mother was to me.

—Ever remembered by daughter Grace, Sprucedale, Ontario.

REEVES. — In loving memory of my dear mother, Agnes Florence Reeves, who passed away November 21st, 1946.

Time to go passed and now we know
No distance can divide.
Our today in memory's garden
We still walk side by side.
Each day we take a thought of her,
At evening a prayer,
And though we wish her loved her,
We always will be there.

—Lovingly remembered by daughter Helen, Carl and Bob.

REEVES. — In loving memory of a dear grandmother, Maggie Reeves, who passed away November 21st, 1954.

Three years have passed since that sad day,
The one we loved was called away;
God took our dear one home to mercy
Unseen.
Sweet memories fond and true;
Death is only a day, grandmother,
That we do not think of you.
—Ever remembered by grandchildren Mavis and Ron Jill and Donald and Ronald.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market declined today in modest morning trading.

Banks were strong. Montreal, Nova Scotia and Commerce added fractions. Labatt was up 1½ points at 36 on a few sales and Canadian Tire added a point at 129 on a single sale.

International Paper was off 1¾ points to 112 on one sale while United Steel dipped 1¾ to 10¾ in moderate trading.

Senior base metals were mixed despite a 1¼-point jump to 84¾ by International Nickel. Among the speculatives, New Mylamaque climbed 17 cents but later slipped back to $1.17, a gain of seven cents, amid a turnover of 300,000 shares.

Western oils were lower. Consolidated Mic Mac dipped 35 cents to $3.95 and Central Del Rio lost 10 cents at $7.95.

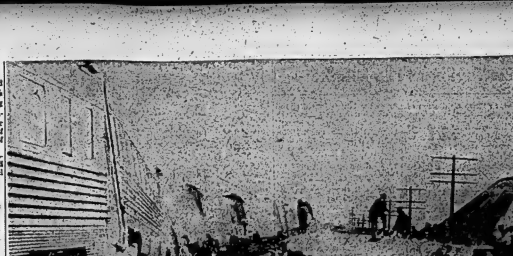
Weekend Livestock Review

TORONTO (CP)—Cattle prices were 50 cents a hundredweight higher at steers, heifers and yearlings and steady on cows and bulls at the Ontario public stockyard this week.

Replacement cattle were in good demand at firm prices. Veal calf prices were firm; Hogs were steady to 50 cents higher and sheep steady to 50 cents higher at the close; sheep were steady. Cow numbers were substantial at slightly more than 33-per-cent of the slaughter cattle offered and prices were generally unchanged. Slaughter cattle were under pressure from Tuesday afternoon until the close. Bulls were in good demand at firm prices.

Cattle receipts were some 500 head more than last week and about 400 head fewer than the same week in 1957. Cattle receipts from western Canada totalled 131. This is about 100 head fewer than last week. Western stock calf receipts were only 20 head as compared with 117 head last week and 324 head two weeks ago. In addition to the western receipts, there were 45 cattle and 26 calves from Quebec. There was only one carload of slaughter cattle shipped east and there were no exports to the United States.



Slaughter cattle. Choice steers 25.50-26; with sales to 26.50; good 24.50-25.50; mediums 22-24; commons 20-22; choice heifers 23.50-24; good 22.50-23; mediums 20-22; commons 18-20; choice fed yearlings 25.50-26.50; with numerous steer calves at 27; and odd tops at 27.50; good 24.50-25.50; good cows 17-17.50 with odd sales to 18; mediums 16-17; commons 15-16; canners and cutters 12-14; good cows 17-17.50 with odd sales to 18; mediums 16-17; commons 15-16; canners and cutters 12-14; good heavy bologna bulls 20-20.50 with odd tops to 21; commons and mediums 16-19.

Calves. Good veal calves 30-32 with choice to 34.50; mediums 26-29; commons 19-26; boners 15-18.

Hogs: Grade A 25.50; heavy sows 17; light sows 19; stags 16; hundredweight on a dressed weight basis

The Jet failed on takeoff and bounced onto the tracks right in front of the oncoming train. The pilot jettisoned himself to safety and there were no other casualties.

Belleville Woman Heads Campaign

From a calendar-packed itinerary that took her to 19 northern Ontario and western Canadian cities in just over three weeks, Mrs. K. Denton Taylor, chairman of the Presbyterian Deaconess Training School National Building Campaign Committee, arrived back home in Belleville late Tuesday. Altogether, Mrs. Taylor spoke at nearly 40 meetings of presbyteries, women's organizations and local campaign committees as far west as Victoria B.C., in the first steps to raise $400,000 for the erection of the new Presbyterian Missionary and Deaconess Training School in Toronto.

Between meetings and overnight train and plane hops between cities, Mrs. Taylor squeezed in a score of radio interviews and TV appearances as well as conferences with lay and clerical church leaders.

Mrs. Taylor is the first woman ever elected chairman of a Presbyterian Church board and after a few hours spent with her family in their McDonald Avenue home, returned to Toronto again Thurs. morning to chair a joint meeting of the school board and 38-member campaign committee.

Booster Club's Prague Project Very Important

President Armand Duffy told members of the McFarland Booster Club at a meeting last night that the draw for the two tickets to the world hockey tournament in Prague was probably the most important project that the club has taken on to-date.

"This is our final appeal to the citizens and we must push it across in a big way," Duffy told those at the meeting. "We have approximately $8,000 now and we require $10,000. We expect to make around $1,000 on the bingos at the hockey games and the remainder must come from this ticket draw," he added.

"There will be no more tag days, no more tickets or draws, other than this one, so I can't stress too strongly the importance of making this a successful campaign. We need to sell plenty of tickets to put our objective over the top," Duffy concluded.

This is the second such draw. The winner has a choice of two tickets to the world hockey tournament, in which the Belleville Mats will represent Canada, in Prague, during March, or $1,000 in cash. Bob Gray, winner of the first draw, took the cash prize.

Tickets are on sale by Booster Club members and at the Front Street stores of Jack Diamond and Don Stanton. They are $1 each or six for $5. The draw will be held at the hockey game here Friday, December 19th, when the Mats play host to the Cornwall Chevies.

The club executive also announced at the meeting that they had given the hockey team $750 for the purchase of Lou Smrke's release. The Mats obtained Smrke, a high-scoring right-winger, from Three Rivers of the Quebec Hockey League.

The team manager Denny Dwyer attended the meeting and spoke to the club concerning the team's plans. The Booster Club executive gave Dwyer a 100% vote of confidence and assured him that they were behind the team all the way.

Legion Welcomes 20 New Members

TRENTON — The regular monthly meeting of Branch No. 110 of the Canadian Legion was held in the Legion Memorial Hall recently, with approximately 250 members present and President J. C. Farrell in the chair.

Twenty new members including the Branch's 850th member for 1958, were initiated by the president, 1st vice president Horace J. Ketcheson and 2nd vice president W. T. "Bill" Lawson.

It was decided that the Branch would enter a float in the annual Santa Claus parade and Comrades R. Carl Taylor and K. K. Kenny were delegated to make the necessary arrangements.

Committee reports were confined in a minimum to enable the main item on the agenda, nominations for 1959 branch officers, to proceed.

Those present were reminded that a large delegation from the Thorold Branch of the Canadian Legion would visit Trenton on Saturday, November 22 and all local members were urged by branch sports officer W. H. "Bill" Milne to be on hand on Saturday at noon to welcome the visitors.

A short social period was held at the conclusion of the meeting.

Commonwealth Must Meet Needs of People

By ALAN DONNELLY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW DELHI (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker said today it is idle to speak of the Commonwealth preserving peace, freedom and democracy unless it can "meet the basic needs of its people."

"Unless each benefits the other in the Commonwealth membership, devotion to abiding principles will not be sufficient," the Canadian leader told assembled members of both houses of India's Parliament.

The vast majority of the Commonwealth's people lived in Asia. In this continent the quality of Commonwealth links would be tested and its ideals judged.

Canada it is said, has the prosperity and economic development of which the Indian delegation here may largely depend," he said.

The text of Diefenbaker's address was not made available in advance of delivery.

TAJ MAHAL

The Canadian prime minister returned here by plane from Agra where he viewed the Taj Mahal, the tomb built by Shah Jahan more than 300 years ago to enshrine his love for his wife.

"It is overwhelmingly beautiful; simplicity and grandeur blend together," he said as he left the white marble domes and minarets.

His speech here—the major one of his Indian visit — contained firm endorsement of the United States and Lesser arguments for the NATO defence pact. The Indian government has been cool to U.S. foreign policy and also to defence pacts.

He said periodic Canadian-U.S. disagreements are resolved by negotiation in a spirit of common sense. Canada's continued independent existence was convincing evidence that the U.S. is a good neighbor dedicated to peace.

RESPECT DECISION

Canadian supported the Indian decision to stay out of any alliances. Canada joined NATO because she felt Russia might be tempted to subjugate more of the smaller European nations. That threat had not disappeared.

Diefenbaker said the strength of the Commonwealth is that it imposes no limits on members' independence. It has become "a dynamic incubator of new nations that are not prone to accept political inheritance of parliamentary democracy."

Child Drowns

WOODSTOCK (CP) — Two-year-old Joseph Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Johnson, drowned Thursday in a hole filled with water behind his home.

THEATRE OPERATOR

CORNWALL (CP)—A. V. (Vic) Whitham, 71, vice-president of the Palace Amusement Company of Cornwall, died Thursday. Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Stuart Cheney of Stratford.

OTTAWA (CP)—Profits in the food industry came under vigorous attack today as the royal commission on prices spread its completed 30 days of public hearings.

The Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor complained of inadequate statistical data about profits and the Labor-Progressive (Communist) party said producer and consumer are "cold-blooded, gouged" by supermarket chain stores and big processing firms.

The CCCL, representing some 100,000 workers mainly in Quebec province, urged federal and provincial governments to establish "price arbitration" boards to supervise the setting of prices.

These bodies—something like a peacetime prices and trade board —would evaluate requests for price increases by producers, basic industry, and distributors, and approve them before the public" when not justified. There would be a national court of appeal.

Retailers would not have to request permission to increase prices but should be subject to inquiry." Agriculture and co-operatives would be exempt.

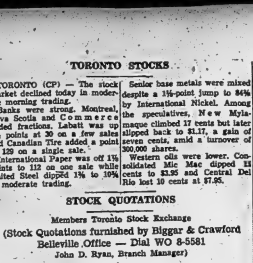
Producers, distributors and enterprises subject to the suggested legislation would not be allowed to increase prices until one month after arbitration board approval.

Petitioners applying for price increases would supply the court press and public with facts about financial situation, markets, costs and past history.

"It is undesirable," the CCCL said, "that there have been a number of cases of sharp increases of prices in Canada."

Canadian workers were not allowed to set their own wages. Supervision over wage earners should also be applied to producers and distributors.

The Labor-Progressive party said food chains are extending their grip over Canada. Retail food prices are becoming totally monopoly control, as rammed home by "super profits" of the grocery chains were a new factor in increasing price spreads.



Therefore, the Labor-Progressive brief said, the royal commission should recommend that "all profits over and above a reasonable rate fixed by capital actually invested, should be taken away from the food processors and distributors by the federal government."

Mother Outside As Fire Starts, 3 Children Die

COLD LAKE, Alta (CP)—Three children, the youngest seven months old, died in a fire early Thursday when fire swept their frame home near this community 200 miles northeast of Edmonton.

RCMP said the mother was outside when the fire broke out. She attempted to enter but was driven back by the flames.

RCMP did not release the names of the family or ages of the other two children.

The first meeting of the new board of broadcast governors was held Thursday. The board met to get acquainted and plan its administration as the regulatory authority for all radio and television broadcasting in Canada. GETTING PERSONAL

Never has fashion favored jewellery to such an extent as with "The Silhouette Look." The long narrow plain line has to be broken and there is no question more attractive way to do it, than by the addition of smart jewellery. Indeed, the unbroken line of this style needs something and also, perhaps several long strands of beads are a natural! The three quarter length sleeve and the short sleeve make bracelets and more bracelets a necessity.

A definite "must" regardless of fashion, are earrings. The long, slim look of the Silhouette Look dresses demands long, long, earrings or the shower carrings. See them during National Jewellery Week at the jewellery store nearest you.

Pins are enormous and are worn either in the middle of the bosom or in the middle of low backs. Also, two or three pins worn together have become very fashionable. The fashion parade is in your honor! That's how beautiful you will feel wearing the Tailored Line. Day and night the Tailored look is always on parade.

Jewellery, as shown by couture houses, is colorful and important looking. Numerous combinations of pearls and rhinestones or colorful beads give the effect of real gems.

Multi-strand necklaces are increasingly stgiflicant, massed at the collar bone and down to the bust line. Also, the ten strands in combinations of color, crystal and sparkling beads. This high line for necklaces follows the raised line in new fashion silhouettes.

WOULD GUARANTEE UNIVERSITY EDUCATION

The report of the President's Advisory Committee on Student Aid for the University of Toronto, released on Wednesday evening, makes exciting reading.

The report outlines a plan under which, in the words of a press release, "a university education would be guaranteed for any Ontario student with first class honors."

It is proposed that the plan should be made operative not merely at the University of Toronto but at other universities, the recommendations referring to "the university and faculty of their (the students') choice."

The estimated cost of the proposed plan is remarkably low. The report says that the cost will be "substantial, but will, in our view, be justified by the results it will bring." After reading this sentence, it comes as a pleasant surprise to learn that the estimated annual expenditure for this purpose at the University of Toronto would be approximately a million and a half dollars. In view of the size of the University of Toronto, this would mean that the total provincial expenditure, for Ontario, would be somewhere in the neighborhood of three million dollars a year. This is a considerable sum of money - - but small in relation to the dividends which would accrue. Compared with other educational costs, it is about the amount which might be spent on two new secondary schools.

The committee's report notes that "there has been emerging in Canada, in recent years, a firm conviction that all high school graduates of superior intellectual capacity should have the opportunity of attending university and should not be denied this opportunity because of inadequate financial resources." Increased financial support for worthy students, it says, is a trend "consistent with the national interest, with the purpose of the university and, indeed, with our concept of democratic society."

The report says that there has been a lack of consistency and comprehensive planning in schemes to aid worthy students resulting in "the creation of a huge patchwork of scholarships, bursaries and loan funds, governed by such a variety of conditions that it may be a matter of chance rather than merit if a good student with meagre monetary resources receives all the help he requires."

The committee reported that three things were required:

1—Additional monies for student aid programs.

2—Relatively flexible conditions governing the regulations so that individual needs may be met.

3—Firm public assurance to all students of merit that adequate financial help is available to them to complete their university work.

To achieve these results the committee recommends that students who secure first class honors, or an average of 80 per cent., in the final papers written in the same calendar year be given free tuition throughout their university course as long as first class honor standing is maintained. Such students would also be provided with bursary aid in an amount related to each student's financial need, and not restricted to any arbitrary amount, and loans for emergency financing. Students with second class honors in nine Grade 13 papers would also receive bursary and emergency loans assistance, but would not get free tuition, unless they secured first class honors standing during their university work. Third class honor students would not be eligible for help in any of these ways, but if admitted to university and able to secure first or second class honors would be eligible for the same assistance as other students of similar standing.

There are obviously some details in this program which will create administrative problems. We wonder, for instance, what real difference there is between the assistance to be given first class honor students and second class honor students. It is true that first class honor students would get free tuition, while second class honor students would not, but since bursary aid will be related to need, will not the fact that the second class honor student must pay tuition fees place an increased need, and therefore the amount of bursary money he will receive? Then, too, judging a student's financial need will be difficult. What happens if a student comes from a relatively prosperous family, but family assistance is denied him? Will he get more bursary aid, while another student, whose family is no better off, receives help from home? To deny a good student the opportunity of attending university because of lack of family support seems hardly fair. But neither would it be fair to permit one family to refuse to make any contribution, while another not only made sacrifices but perhaps, through taxes, contributed to the support of the student whose family refused to sacrifice.

TIME AND THE WOMAN

By EDGAR A. GUEST

Three weeks ago she bought a hat,
It seems,
Delight with roses red;
It was a beauty; all of that,
"A dream" is what she said.

In three short weeks he finds today
That beauty's fleet of wing.
He's ashamed to hear her say:
"This old and horrid thing."

With woman, years are weeks,
And hats grow commonplace;
Time turns to "frights" her choicest "dreams".
But somehow thirps her face.

Three weeks are years, with bonnets, we
Are very often told;
But, years are weeks with woman; she Seems never to grow old.

Newspapers His Blankets

London Times

Speed, in "Two Gentlemen of Verona," who was in love with his bed might have been less fond of it had he seen one of the Kitchener family. For the worthy colonel, father of the great field-marshal, had highly original views on what makes a bed comfortable. He detested blankets, and we told in the biography of his son just published, how, preferring healthy and less suitable as covering than newspapers. Good enough for him, he accepted a compromise on this issue in deference to the views of his wife whom he adored. He abandoned sleeping wrapped up in newspapers because the rustling disturbed his partner. But, being a resourceful man, he erected boards around the double bed and attached to them sheets of newspaper not sewn together. The number of pages was varied between autumn and winter and so the colonel maintained, a precise degree of warmth, not to be got with blankets, was achieved.

Unfortunately, what Mrs. Kitchener thought of this device does not appear to be on record. But she must surely have been in the conspiracy to retain in the history of a person so distinguished as she whose who insist that healthy sleep is only to be wooed when the end of the bed is raised so that the head of the sleeper is well below the feet. On the Continental insular visitors are still astonished that their hosts find comfort in such cumbersome, one-piece coverings which either weigh too heavily on the inexperienced or roll on the floor. In country cottages a visitor may find himself enveloped in the cloying embraces of a feather bed and be told by addicts of that form of suffocation that it is the coziest way of going to sleep ever invented.

Why is it that, human temperatures being much the same there is such an extraordinary divergence in taste between the hot and cold. A hard mattress with only one blanket between it and the sleeper and only one pillow is thought by some Spartans. Others feel a chill unless they are enveloped in a cocoon of blankets. There are others in Arctic regions who never fail to boil a kettle for the hot water bottle, even in a heat wave. What is more common the suspicion of Colonel Kitchener's critics, that he was desperate to think what he would have said about these electric blankets.

A Delight for Gourmets

Manchester Guardian Weekly

Mr. Ralph Lusty, sold a n d ible are piquant but not printable. cooked by a long white coat, gravely plunged a ladle into the cauldron of tawny liquid. He tasted it, pondered with the difficult dence of the expert. "Taste it", he said.

One mumbled an appreciation. It was turtle soup. It took five days to make, and its seasoning corrected and turtlemeat garnished, it was then simmered for a few hours before being poured into the traditional stone jars. This jar was to be sent by train destined for a very high table. Mr. Lusty, with modesty, preferred not to discuss his most eminent customers, but small splashed certificates that lined his office.

The family, he said had been turtle soup makers for nearly a century, and turtle specimens for rather longer. They were ships' chandlers originally.

When the West Indiamen docked in London with their cargo of live turtles, carried as deck cargo, in the days before refrigeration, the soup trade began when the Navy asked them to supply my lords of the Admiralty with turtle soup. much the same, but soup technology is much tidier these days.

Turtle meat is imported frozen. Nowadays the turtle soup largely remains one of the few kitchen operations to be subcontracted.

Mr. Lusty prefers all turtle flesh and herbs "for those who want to play about on their own". The process is too tedious for m o s t cooks. He also supplies the concentrate liquid, almost all oil. At one time Lusty's made their own oil. "It was a terrible job," he said.

With the Lord Mayor's banquet in mind, we asked Mr. Lusty what that turtle soup its civic pre-eminence. He thought it had a lot to do with the fact that the soup fortified and lubricated without filling it for days when so much was to follow.

It breed the stomach. Fashions change, but the Lord Mayor could take turtle soup for elevenses or be offered it as a pre-breakfast in the early hours after a lively party.

Nor was it — and here Mr. Lusty tapped a modestly priced tin of soup — a rich man's delicacy. Increased popularity and improved processing methods had enabled him to cling to 1939 prices. He wished more could be purveyed to take it cold in the summer.

To Your Good Health

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

DEHYDRATION-AND-ACIDOSIS A PROBLEM OF INFANCY

"Dear Dr. Molner: Would you explain 'dehydration with acidosis' My baby, 10 months old was taken ill very suddenly and hospitalized. He didn't vold for 18 hours, and his eyes seemed to roll back in his head. He is all right now, after intravenous feedings, but the attack left me with a terrible scare. Should I take any special precautions with him, and could this recurf — J. C."

Real acidosis (like this) is quite different from the common idea of "acid stomach" or "acid system" that you hear a lot about although it really doesn't usually have any foundation in fact.

In this case, though, it is real — and frightening to watch, as is a case of infant convulsions.

Here is what happens. When a child is ill and has a high fever (which a child does quite readily) the body loses water rapidly, both from perspiration and rapid breathing. Yes, we lose a great deal of moisture in the breath. To prove it, just breathe on a cold mirror and see the moisture collect.

This loss of moisture is dehydration. Taking all dehydration means — lots of water. That is why a baby needs cold. He was dehydrated, or "dried out."

The fever, this rise in temperature, means that the baby's metabolism, or "burning up of food," is increased. First the reserve supply of sugar in the blood is consumed. Then the baby draws on his reserve of fat, and starch in the body. The baby doesn't have much. Next the baby starts to burn protein and consuming this fat — a very complicated natural chemical process — produces a kind of acid in the system. Hence "acidosis."

LOSS OF MINERALS, TOO

If vomiting and diarrhea are present, these also result in loss of more water, and also loss of essential minerals such as salt and potassium.

With these losses, it is sure wonder that a child ever gets over it is pitifully laissez! It breaks your heart to see the fever and worse the illness is overcome, they recover rapidly.

Sometimes — if vomiting is not p.esent — one can prevent acidosis by giving generous portions by mouth: Syrup and water, slips of water, salty broth, even bits of candy.

In a hospital, however, it is quicker and more effective to give intravenous feedings. These provide water, sugar and the immediately-needed minerals.

As a baby grows, he increases his internal reserve supply of sugar and other necessities (a baby has enough sugar in the body every two to four hours, and gradually develops reserves, so by time he needs it there are meals a day). As he gets bigger, he also can co-operate by taking water or other fluids by mouth.

Therefore such dehydration-and-acidosis is a problem of infancy or early childhood. A little later the child has the physical reserves to cope with it usually — you don't see it twice in a child.

It's commoner than people think, and something mothers should be told about. It can come on quickly. It happened right under my nose with one of my own dear youngsters.

The signs: Extreme dryness of skin and tongue; rapid breathing; fruity odor to the breath which is combated it the baby can take sugar solutions to restore the chemical balance.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am very overweight. I have been on many diets and just can't lose weight. I have followed my doctor's advice and maybe after being on the diet for two weeks I would lose one pound. Isn't there any operation that can fix my glands to work properly? (initials withheld.)

A pound in two weeks? How much is that in a year? Why, 26. Isn't that remarkable is that you want to get thin faster than you do? Your trouble isn't glands, it's impatience.

Little Money In Wood Lot

Brockville Recorder and Times

There seems to be a growing interest in agriculture promotion circles to look to the potential of the farm 'wood lot. Tree farming is hailed as something that needs encouragement. Industry backs this view.

We do not exactly see the woodlot as something that is going to give the farmer a higher standard of living. We do feel the entire income from most woodlot operations won't pay for the equipment to do the job. Short term operators are few and not to be readily available at any given time.

Pulp and paper and furniture industries have been criticized and said to be encouraging more tree farming as this relieves on the pressure. The best encouragement we can think of is a guarantee of a market for the products of the forest.

We know of one operator who operates efficiently and makes for a great swamp of soft maple for the furniture industry. The same farm r was offered not much more for a large section of other wood for the lumber trade. The two bushes covered six acres of woodlot 125 acres. But this is only be cut once in a lifetime.

In theory tree farming may be sound. It gives a few years' additional revenue. In practice, like so many farming operations, it is a long time to work with small returns, not worth the effort.

Strength for The Day

DR. EARL D. DOUGLASS

BE PREPARED

Human achievements for some reason or other appear to come in bunches. Artistic, literary, scientific, and religious ages are definitely separated one from another. World history reveals that there are ages in which painting and sculpture are pre-eminent. In other ages, musical compositions and great composers hold the centre of the stage. Still o t h e r ages are characterized by intense religious devotion and revelation.

Everyone would admit that the 18th century was a century of revolution. First the Americans won their independence, then France destroyed the monarchy a n d spread the revolutionary spirit throughout the whole of Europe.

There is a way in which we appear right now to be in another age of revolution, War has taken a greater toll since the year 1900 than ever before in history. Right at present the notions of the world appear to be divided into two big camps — Communists and free-dom-loving. In the first, a little group of men get control of a n a t i o n a l kind of government they think it best to have and force their whole ill. Among the freedom-loving nations the people have a chance to choose what kind of a form of government and their rulers.

It may well expect that the next fifty years will bring some of the most stupendous changes the human race has ever passed through. This is a time of danger, of decision, and of desperate revolution. Every sign on the horizon is a danger signal. We must expect almost anything and get it with a bang.

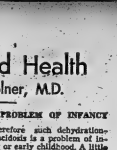
Be prepared.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

DOES IT MATTER?

What a lot of useless, and often bitter words are exchanged regarding the memories that live on for years. When we prolong a discussion, from which no good can result, it is wise for us to get a grip upon ourselves and ask — does it matter anyway? Life goes by so rapidly, that we have no time even to grasp at its opportunities.



Let us form the habit of asking ourselves, does it matter, matters or not. Much may depend upon our decisions. If it does matter, let us decide once and for all. For many years during the life of Abraham Lincoln, he used to spend several days, or a week, at his unique Bayport Inn, a beautiful restful place that I greatly enjoyed — especially did I enjoy reading the mottoes. One, especially, attracted my attention. It was: "They Will Talk Anyway." There is a rakish finality to such a statement.

We go on worrying, filling our minds with fears, and imagining life's trials may never even get standing room in our calculations! The things things matter so much that they take away our sense of values, and our incentive to do! Every day we run into situations that should matter with us. If we don't care ourselves, with things that should matter, the time may come when we may have forgotten how to care for others, especially if we choose the important from t h e trivial.

The person who takes no care with his clothes, his appearance, or his sense of fitness, should learn early in life that they often make a barrier between success and failure. We must never forget that we are always an exhibition, always on trial, as it were. We can not afford to be so thoughtless as to neglect the power that is within us to be somebody because and somebody in the world! We must not forget that each one of us is unique, as Emerson pointed out.

"On which side of the tree did you go, John?"

Built School For Just $45

Brockville Recorder and Times

An item that gives pause for thought appeared in "This Date" for November 11, 1815. It stated that a school had been contracted to build the first school house in Gananoque for the sum of nine pounds sterling.

Assuming that the British pound was worth nothing only five dollars — the school house would have cost in the neighborhood of forty-five. It doesn't say the size of the school but we can be grateful that it was at least a one - room school.

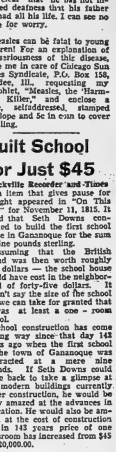
The school construction has come a long way since that day 142 years ago when the first school in the town of Gananoque was contracted at a mere nine pounds. If Sally Brown could come back to take a glimpse at the high school now under construction, he would be truly amazed at the advances in time he would also be amazed at the cost of construction — for 142 years the cost per classroom has increased from $45 to $20,000.00.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

A lawyer friend of mine has the habit, familiar in most courtrooms, of addressing his own witness in a tone of voice and with a manner encouraging them to speak up. But a Jekyll and Hyde transformation comes over him when he assaults witnesses for his opponents. He glares at them and their replies, by contrast, sound mumbled. He shouts, sneers, and on many years has he followed these tactics that it has become an integral part of his autocratic behavior on his part.

I have often sat in the spectators' enclosure when he is performing. Just for the fun of it. It is good drama. The last time, I noticed among the waiting witnesses an old fisherman friend of mine. During a brief recess, I met him out in the corridor having a smoke, and he told me he was not looking forward with much relish to being cross examined by my friend.



"When he starts yelling at you," he said, "hold extremely up t o your hand to your forehead, then turn and ask the judge to please request the lawyer to speak softly, as you have an ear ailment that causes you acute pain when people speak loudly."

This I promised what he did. My lawyer friend was completely flummoxed. He was as confused as is an actor who forgets his lines. He mufed the cross examination completely.

After court, when he and I were having a pot of tea together, he said:

"I don't know what's the matter with me today."

Canadian Legion L.A. Plans Events

The Ladies' Auxiliary Canadian Legion held its monthly meeting on November 18th. Tues at the Legion hall, Pinnacle Street. President, Mrs. William Bailey, was in the chair. There was a good attendance of members.

Two new members were initiated into the Auxiliary, and a member of the Port Hope Ladies' Auxiliary was transferred to the Belleville Auxiliary.

Reports from the banquet, bazaar, sick and social committees were read and a vote of thanks given each one, on their fine reports.

The final arrangements for the Legion members children's Christmas tree were made, and all look for a nice time for the children, on December 20th.

A Christmas party is to be held for the Auxiliary on December 12th and arrangements were made for it. It's hoped all the ladies will be present.

Refreshments were served when the meeting came to a close.

R.C. Association President Talks To A.O.T.S.

The men of Eastminster A.O.T.S. club were privileged to hear an inspiring address by Mr. Thos. H. Stovell, president of the Quinte Association for Retarded Children, at their regular monthly meeting Wednesday.

Mr. Stovell emphasized the magnitude of the problem of providing proper training facilities for the mentally retarded by stating that there are 180,000 persons in Ontario alone who are below normal, intellectually. There are no facilities for training and teaching these people except a few overcrowded institutions. There are nearly 9,000 mentally retarded children in Ontario and of these only 1,400 at the present time are in schools maintained by private and friends. It has been proven that many of these children can become happy, independent citizens, an asset rather than a liability to a community, if they are given proper patient training.

OUTLINED WORK

Mr Stovell briefly outlined the work the Quinte Association is attempting to do. Formed only last April, it already is sponsoring two classes for mentally retarded children. In a few years it is expected that well over 100 children from the Belleville and Trenton district will be enrolled in training classes. Providing transportation to and from the training centre is as big a problem financially as paying the teacher's salary. Classes are free to all children who can qualify. The parents and friends of the Quinte Association for Retarded Children are trying to give the retarded children of the Quinte district the right to live to the fullest kind of life of which they are capable. This is democracy in the truest sense!

Wedding

COLE — HARVEY

Red and white chrysanthemums adorned the altar in Holy Rosary Church, Belleville, for a recent morning wedding and white satin bows designated the pews when Greta Ann Harvey, of Belleville, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Harvey, became the bride of Harry William Cole, also of Belleville, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cole. The Reverend Michael Dolan officiated.

Mrs. William Grant provided the wedding music, and accompanied the soloist, Mr. Robert Burke, who sang, "Panis Angelicus", and "Ave Maria", during the ceremony and "I Am Not Worthy", during the communion.

Given in marriage by her father, Mr. John Harvey, the bride was radiant in her ballerina-length bridal gown of white imported floral Chantilly lace over nylon net and taffeta, featuring a molded bodice with Sabrina neckline outlined in seed pearls and sequins and sheath-like, lily-point sleeves. The full skirt was accented by net and lace panel in front and at the back by scattered lace flounce. She wore a matching tiara of seed pearls and sequins, shoulder-length veil of nylon tulle illusion and carried a shower bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Mrs. Clare Petrie, as matron of honor, sister of the bride, was gowned in turquoise velvet in ballerina-length with three-quarter sleeves. The full skirt was enhanced by a cummerbund, while a Sabrina neckline, edged with white fur, accented the molded bodice. She wore a matching turquoise feather hat, white shoes, and carried a nosegay of turquoise and white mums.

The bridesmaids, Miss Kay Harvey, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Arlene LaGuff, both of Belleville, were gowned in red velvet in similar style, with white fur trim and cummerbands, with matching feather hats, and white shoes. They carried nosegays of red roses and white mums.

The little flower girl, four-year-old Sheilla Harvey, sister of the bride, was frocked in red velvet with three-quarter length sleeves, the neckline and sleeves edged with white fur. She wore a matching headdress and carried a basket filled with red and white roses, and white mums.

Mr. Hugh Petrie, of Belleville, R. R. No. 2, attended the bridegroom, and Messrs. Clyde Brooks, of Cobourg and Edward Cole, of Belleville, brother of the bridegroom, were ushers.

A reception was held at McCaw's dining room, Belleville, where the bride's table was arranged with white damask and centred by a three-tier pink and white wedding cake, topped by a tiny bride and bridegroom beneath an arch of white flowers. Cascading pink streamers centred by a white wedding bell, and the floral bouquets of the bridal attendants, made a pretty nuptial picture.

The bride's mother, wearing teal blue lace over net and taffeta, with scalloped neckline, matching necklace and earrings of frosted crystals, navy and white accessories, and corsage of pink roses, received. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother, gowned in a two-piece black crepe and lace with rhinestone buttons, black and white accessories and corsage of pink carnations.

For the honeymoon to Toronto and Montreal, the bride wore a black ensemble style wool suit, black shoes, white fur hat and gloves and corsage of red roses. They will reside in Belleville.

Guests attended from Belleville, Wallbridge, Deseronto, Tweed, Cobourg, Ottawa, Toronto, Kingston and Foxboro.

The bride was entertained, previous to her marriage, by Mrs. Arlene LaGuff and Miss Kay Harvey as co-hostess, at the former's home, and also at the home of Mrs Rose McTaggart, with miscellaneous showers.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Everett Harry are shown signing the register in Foxboro United Church following their recent marriage. The bride is the former Miss Marilyn Mae Hollinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hollinger of Foxboro. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. Roy Harry of Trenton R.R. 5, and the late Mrs. Harry.

HARRY — HOLLINGER

Foxboro United Church was the setting for a recent pretty autumn - time wedding when the Reverend R. F. Darke, pastor of the church, united in marriage Marilyn Mae Hollinger, of Foxboro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hollinger to Charles Everett Harry, of Trenton, R. R. 5, son of Mr. Roy Harry and the late Mrs. Harry.

White and mauve chrysanthemums adorned the chancel rail, and white satin bows the guest pews.

Mrs. Reginald Skinner, of Foxboro, rendered the wedding music, and accompanied the soloist, Miss Shirley Fisher, who sang before the ceremony, "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden", and during the signing of the register, "Father Ali Creating."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in her floor-length bridal gown of nylon net acetate lace and nylon fashioned with strapless, molded bodice, with matching jacket having long, lily-pointed sleeves, and full, flowing skirt accented with tiers of lace. She wore a seed pearl studded headdress, finger-tip veil of tulle illusion, and carried a cascade of red roses and white orchid Shasta daisies.

Miss Joan Harry, of Foxboro, niece of the bridegroom, as maid of honor, was attired in a floor-length gown of nylon net and lace, and carried a bouquet of yellow and white carnations.

Miss Marie Hollinger, sister of the bride, wore pink net and lace, and carried blue and white carnations. Miss Joyce Hollinger, also sister of the bride, was in yellow nylon and carried a bouquet of mauve and white carnations.

Little Misses Caroline and Beverly Lewis, nieces of the bridegroom, were frocked in green satin and net, and carried bouquets of red carnations. All the attendants wore white feather hats, shoes, and gloves, with pearl necklaces completing their ensemble.

Master Gregory Shaughnessy was ring-bearer, carrying the rings on a white satin cushion.

Mr. Arnold Harry, of Trenton, attended his brother as groomsman, while Messrs. Carmen Nobes, of Belleville, nephew of the bridegroom, and Jack Weese, of Toronto, cousin of the bride, ushered the guests.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held at the bride's home which was adorned with white and pink streamers, white wedding bells, and chrysanthemums.

The bride's mother received, wearing a navy two-piece ensemble, with shrimp colored jacket accessories, and corsage of white carnations. Assisting in the receiving line was the bridegroom's eldest sister, Mrs. Mac Nobes, wearing wine with black accessories, and corsage of white carnations.

The bride's table was prettily appointed with a three-tier wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom, and flanked by pink candles on white damask cloth. They were girl friends of the bride, Misses Carol Jamieson, Barbara Smith, Marjorie Hewson, Lois Spencer, and Doris Norridge.

For the wedding trip to Miami, Florida, by motor, the bride donned a grey tweed coat, with red hat and scarf matching grey and red shoes, and purse with corsage of red and white roses. The couple are residing at the bridegroom's farm at Johnstown.

Guests attended from Foxboro, Johnstown, Stirling, Melrose, Toronto, Port Colborne, Consecon, Brighton and Wooler.

Previous to her marriage, the bride was the honored guest at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Cecil Harry and Miss Joan Harry as hostess; and at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Jamieson with Miss Carol Jamieson as hostess.

The bride's gift to her maid of honor, a cornflower vase; to her bridesmaids, pearl necklaces with matching earrings; to the pianist and soloist, cornflower rose bowls; to the waitresses, cornflower vases and to her bridegroom, a leather travelling case. The bridegroom's gift to his bride, flash cameras; to his groomsman, ushers and ring bearer, ties, tie pins and cuff links.

Christ Church Evening Branch W.A. Holds Successful Bazaar

Christ Church Parish Hall presented a most attractive appearance on Wednesday afternoon with yellow, green and rust garlands decorating each booth; while clusters of autumn leaves and gilded cones and sprays of orange-tinted flowers adorned the walls, and windows, and baskets of white and bronze chrysanthemums beautified other focal points, for the afternoon tea and bazaar sponsored by the Evening Branch of the W.A.

Mrs. J. B. Creeggan, wife of the rector, Mrs. Everett Smith, wife of the assistant rector and Mrs. A. J. Bongard the president of the branch, received the guests, and Mrs. W. Edwards, and Mrs. E. Green acted as treasurers for the afternoon.

The tea room was a picture of loveliness with its windows decked with autumn sprays of colored leaves and red cedar boughs accented by frosted pine cones; while pendant sprays of cedar with silvered cones, peach colored rosettes adorned the pillars. From strategic points baskets of bronze and yellow 'mums mingled with cedar sprays, enhanced the over all theme of bronze green and gold.

PRETTY TEA TABLE

The tea table was prettily arranged with yellow and bronze mums in a blue bowl flanked by tall branched silver candelabra with green and yellow candles and silver services, with Mrs. G. E. Winter; Mrs. E. Hickey; Mrs. E. H. Ingram; Mrs. Ann Cooper, Mrs. L. Mason and Miss Luella Morton pouring tea and Mrs. Stevens as tea hostess. Mrs. E. Green, Mrs. A. Swain and Mrs. A. C. Reid, were in charge of the tickets.

The little guest tables presented a flower-garden appearance with their linen covers in yellow, peach and green centred with the lacey partition tray of little cakes and sandwiches.

Those in charge of replenishing were: Mrs. J. Milnes and Mrs. F. Goodfellow while Mrs. L. Donnely and Mrs. S. Beggs were in charge of the refreshing cups of tea and Mrs. J. Milnes of the tea room.

Those who served included Mesdames: E. Cooper; A. Sumner; G. Burton; E. Pope; S. Beggs; J. MacDonald; F. O'Connor; J. M. Gentzler and J. Spencer.

Convening the kitchen Mrs. F. Markle; Mrs. J. Lang and Mrs. C. Musclow.

FOXBORO W.A.

Foxboro W.A. also had a fine assortment of articles including doll clothes; Christmas decorations; snowmen; dolls in crochet outfits; bridge cloths, nicely embroidered; aprons and jams sets; warm nighties in pink and blue; baby sweaters and aprons. In the homecooking section of this booth were sausage rolls; angel cakes; cup cakes; Christmas cake squares rich with nuts and cherries; date squares; Swedish cakes; butterscotch tarts, nut topped; pumpkin, apple pie and cheese pie. There was also a "Sweetie" section with delicious chocolate fudges; candy creams; cocoanut chews, and divinity fudge. Those in charge were: Mrs. J. Churchill, Mrs. J. Hill, Mrs. H. Gay, Mrs. G. Stephens, Mrs. H. Ashton and Mrs. F. Kinsella.

The variety booth convened by Mrs. A. C. Reid, Mrs. Long, Mrs. H. Luttrell and Mrs. S. J. Bull, was filled with Christmas corsages, bath salts, Christmas gift cards, sleeping dolls, costume jewellery, Scripture wall plaques, leathercraft pins, leaves, Bambi, squirrel, elves, teapot stands, pot holders, fancy handkerchiefs, bridge cloths, aprons of all color, crib quilts, crochet afghan, towels and pyjamas.

LUSCIOUS PIES

The home cooking booth which extended across the width of the hall, was literally overflowing with luscious custard, apple, cherry, lemon, and berry pies; taffy and lemon tarts, nut-filled cookies, cup cakes with colorful icings, layer cakes with mounds of boiled icing decked with coconut, coffee rings, loaf cakes, jam-jams, jam tarts, orange muffins and silvered cups of mixed candy. Convening this was Mrs. W. Lancaster, assisted by Mrs. H. Eaton, Mrs. A. Bayley, Mrs. K. Smith and Mrs. H. Rose.

The country store, convened by Mrs. J. Fleming, displayed a variety of marmalades, pickled beets and cucumbers, soups, plum jam, apples, mixed pickles, canned fruits.

On the plant booth were pretty African violets; some in mauve bloom, some just started; tall Sansivari; foliages; and jig-saw puzzles.

The fish pond was in charge of Miss Mary Moon, where the children, true fans of Izaak Walton, enjoyed themselves.

COUNTY HOME DISPLAY

Outstanding among the booths was that of the handicraft by guests of the Hastings County Home, where woven mats and round, square, hexagonal, and in colors of pink and white, House where woven mats in white, mostly fringed, while some were woven with dairy-like floral centres, and some made by a left-hand worker whose right hand had been seriously injured in a fire. Stuffed animals, of little dogs, and other animals; a captivating little white poodle with black-tipped bone held been the work of a lady of 92 years of age. There were Coca Cola bottle tops with crochet tops as teapot stands in pretty colors, white, blue, green and mauve, and mixtures of all shades; realistic sunflower pin cushions; flower garden quilts; square patchwork quilts and one with yellow border Those convening included: Mrs. K. Yorke; Mrs. L. Barber; Mrs. K. McMullin; Mrs. M. Eastcott, and Miss D. Rousebom.

A dainty and successful tea and bazaar, with appreciative thanks going to the conveners, Mrs. Belle Wells, and Mrs. A. Swain; and to the decorating committee, Mrs. G. Cherry, and Mrs. L. Domosly.

Question: Would you, please, send me a recipe for Italian Spaghetti and Meat Balls. Also if possible, one for chicken pie with dough crust on top only. M.F.

Dinner Menus

by Mary Moore

FRIDAY

ITALIAN SPAGHETTI with MEAT BALLS

(Serve 6 to 8) The Meat Balls: One pound of ground beef, 1 egg beaten, 2 peeled cloves of garlic, minced, 1 tablespoon parsley, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 cup soft bread crumbs, ½ cup grated processed cheese, 2 tablespoons fat or cooking oil. Combine all ingredients except fat. Shape into balls 1" in diameter (about 16) or 2" (8). Brown them quickly in the hot fat, turning so that they are browned on all sides. Italian Sauce: One-quarter mashed onion, 2 peeled cloves garlic, minced, ½ cup cooking oil, one 6-oz. tin tomato paste, 3 cups chopped fresh tomatoes or 1 No. 2½ tin of tomatoes, 3 cups hot water, 3½ teaspoon salt, speck of pepper, ¼ teaspoon powdered cloves, 1 teaspoon sage or oregano. Saute the onion and garlic in cooking oil in frying pan till golden brown. Add all remaining ingredients and simmer for 1½ hours, uncovered, stirring frequently. The last half hour add the Meat Balls. Spaghetti: Add 1 tablespoon salt to 12 cups boiling water. To this add one 8-oz. pkg. spaghetti as the water is boiling, as it softens pushing the spaghetti down in the water and covering. Cook uncovered for approximately 9 minutes, stirring occasionally with a fork, until spaghetti tests done. Drain and rinse, pile on heated platter, and pour on sauce with meat balls and serve immediately. Pass grated Parmesan cheese to sprinkle on top.

Please see column of December 1st, for filling for Chicken Pie (with puff paste) but you would like the crust to be made of

BAKING POWDER BISCUITS

(For top of Chicken Pie) Two cups sifted all-purpose flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons shortening, 2-3 (about) cup of whole milk or 1-3 cup each evaporated milk and water. Sift the dry ingredients, then cut the shortening into them, until the mixture looks like coarse corn meal. Add enough of the milk, while stirring with a fork, to make a soft dough that can be handled readily. Turn onto a lightly floured board and knead lightly for about 30 seconds. Roll or pat into a sheet about 1" thick and cut into rounds and lace on top of hot chicken pie filling and bake at 450 deg. Fahr until the filling boils and biscuits are done — about 15 or 18 minutes.

Foxboro W.A. Holds Successful Afternoon Tea, Colorful Bazaar

A most successful tea and bazaar was held in Foxboro United Church Sunday School hall, recently, sponsored by the Woman's Association under the convenership of Mrs. W. Rombough, Mrs. G. Priest, Mrs. G. Meyers, Mrs. C. Hubble and Mrs. C. LaRue.

Mrs. R. F. Darke gave the invocation, welcomed the guests, and declared the bazaar officially opened.

Mrs. R. F. Darke, wife of the pastor, and Mrs. M. Jamieson, president of the W.A., extended a warm welcome to the many visitors. Mrs. F. Prindle and Mrs. H. Elliott were in charge of the selling of the tea tickets.

The hall was beautifully decorated with different colored crepe paper streamers, artificial autumn leaves, baskets of flowers and potted 'mums.

The various nicely decorated booths did a thriving business during the afternoon.

FINE HOMEBAKING

The home-baking, in charge of Mrs. C. Bamber, assisted by Mrs. G. Wilson and Mrs. H. Shetler, displayed a lovely array of cakes, cup cakes, tarts, cookies, pies and buns.

The fancy work booth and the variety booth were both in charge of Mrs. H. Stewart, assisted by Mrs. W. Rombough, Mrs. J. Stewart and Mrs. S. Hayton. The fancy work consisted of crochet work, pillow cases, luncheon cloths, towels, tea towels, baby knit wear, mitts and stuffed teddy bears.

The variety booth displayed jewellery, cosmetics, doll clothes, hand-painted dishes and other items.

Mrs. E. Morgan was convener for the apron booth, assisted by Mrs. Ag Gough. There was a lovely display of aprons in all sizes and styles.

The country store, convened by Mrs. J. Ewing, assisted by Mrs. E. Sills, featured all kinds of groceries, canned goods, vegetables and various other articles. A lovely array of African violets and house plants was also on display.

The candy booth, in charge of Mrs. L. Moore, assisted by Mrs. G. Bradshaw and Miss E. Johnston, consisted of home-made candy and popcorn and did a thriving business with the school children.

Mrs. C. Arthurs was convener for the parcel post, assisted by Mrs. R. Scott and the touch-and-take table was convened by Mrs. J. Herbertson, assisted by Mrs. H. Beatty.

The fish pond in charge of Mrs. C. Hubble assisted by Mrs. B. Reid and Mrs. A. Mann, was the centre of activity as the school children flocked in to try their luck.

Mrs. N. Pennington was convener for the Christmas card table, proceeds of which would go to Group 2 of the W.A.

LOVELY TEA ROOM

The tea table was lovely with its white linen tablecloth with a lovely potted 'mum as a centre-piece flanked by candles. Each guest table was appointed with a white luncheon cloth and centred with a small vase of 'mums.

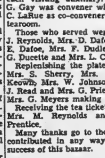
Those presiding at the tea services were: the presidents of each visiting auxiliary, Mrs. G. Gay was convener with Mrs. C. LaRue as co-convener for the tearoom.

Those who served were: Mrs. J. Reynolds, Mrs. D. Dafoe, Mrs. F. Dafoe, Mrs. F. Dudley, Mrs. G. Ducette and Mrs. L. Carter.

Replenishing the plates were: Mrs. S. Sherry, Mrs. D. McKeown, Mrs. W. Johnson, Mrs. J. Read and Mrs. G. Priest, with Mrs. G. Meyers making the tea. Receiving the tea tickets were: Mrs. M. Reynolds and Mrs. Prentice.

Many thanks go to those who contributed in any way to the success of this bazaar.

Christening Rite Held at Christ Church



On Sunday afternoon in Christ Church, Heather Leah, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burton, 335 Albert St., was baptized by Archdeacon J. Geoghegan.

Godparents were Mrs. Donald Wright, Wright Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Murry Arnott, 149A Charles St.

Following the ceremony tea and christening cake were served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burton to several friends and relatives who were present at the christening.

Mrs. A. W. Fry, Gananoque, grandmother of the baby, and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Tyron, of Gananoque, were among those present.

Mrs. Burton was assisted in serving tea by Mrs. Donald Wright and Mrs. Murry Arnott.

GOOD MANNERS

By Mrs. Beckman

DISCOURTEOUS TO REFUSE TO ACCEPT GIFT

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Will you please tell me if I was wrong, as my husband says I was, or if I was right, as I think I was? Last week my sister-in-law came into my house and went directly up to my 20-month-old son and handed him a box of lollypops. She then turned to me and handed me another box for my other children. I immediately declined to accept either box, because I do not allow my children to eat candy until they are about five years old, and even then only occasionally. (My dentist is amazed at the good condition of my children's teeth, not one cavity for any of them.)

At the moment I thought nothing wrong about what I did, because, since she is a member of the family and not a stranger, I thought I could be honest with her instead of just polite. I also hated to waste her money and felt that she probably could give the candy to one of her grandchildren who eats candy. Well, to sum things up, she was highly insulted and left my home a hurt. Was she so wrong? — Reader

R — I agree with your husband that you were in the wrong in "declining to accept" your sister-in-law's present to your children, suggesting she give the candy to one of her grandchildren instead. There was no courtesy in what you did, and I can understand her being hurt by your attitude.

At present, given with a courteous spirit, should be accepted with courtesy, thanked for courteously, whether or not the present is welcome. Certainly it is not kind for us to say, "I decline to accept it. Why don't you give it to someone else!" Couldn't you perhaps have said, politely and gracefully, "Thank you so much for your kind thought of the children, and for the gay-looking lollypops." No use to go into any explanation about your children's teeth, or what you were going to do with the boxes of lollypops. About the husband would enthusiastically and gratefully approve of this gesture); and (2) Do profit by this experience. In the future accept kind gestures and gifts with proper courtesy . . . even though it takes some quick thinking, alert response, and social graciousness.

Mrs. R. S. — Roy wants to marry a career girl.

Roy S. — This is the third time they've interfered.

Mrs. R. S. — My son is 29 and is considering marriage to a girl he has known for the past year. You might think that at his age he should be sufficiently mature to choose a wife, but frankly I'm afraid he isn't.

Roy is interested in a girl who openly states that she doesn't care for homemaking or child rearing. She says she wants to put her children in a nursery school as early in life as possible and go on with her career. She says she likes children, but would go crazy if she were tied down and felt that she probably could give the children to one of her grandchildren who eats candy. Well, to sum things up, she was highly insulted and left my home a hurt. Was she so wrong? — Reader

R — I agree with your husband that you were in the wrong in "declining to accept" your sister-in-law's present to your children, suggesting she give the candy to one of her grandchildren instead. There was no courtesy in what you did, and I can understand her being hurt by your attitude.

At present, given with a courteous spirit, should be accepted with courtesy, thanked for courteously, whether or not the present is welcome. Certainly it is not kind for us to say, "I decline to accept it. Why don't you give it to someone else!" Couldn't you perhaps have said, politely and gracefully, "Thank you so much for your kind thought of the children, and for the gay-looking lollypops." No use to go into any explanation about your children's teeth, or what you were going to do with the boxes of lollypops. About the husband would enthusiastically and gratefully approve of this gesture); and (2) Do profit by this experience. In the future accept kind gestures and gifts with proper courtesy . . . even though it takes some quick thinking, alert response, and social graciousness.

Mrs. R. S. — Roy has definite views about marriage and I feel that Roy would be making a big mistake to marry such a girl. He's sure that she'll change after marriage, but she looks to me like a very determined type. This is the third girl he has been serious about — and they've all been odd in some way.

Roy S. — Things have really gone too far when my parents try to veto my choice of a wife at this late age. This has happened before and I feel that I might have been happily married for years if they hadn't interfered.

The first girl I was interested in was a political type, but I was beginning to convert her to conservatism when my parents stepped in and messed things up. The second girl was kind of unconventional in her manners and style of dress, but she might have changed also — if given a chance.

This latest girl has some pretty off-the-beam ideas about marriage but I think she also has wonderful qualities. She is only 22 and she needs to settle down and enjoy married life. Then she'll become a real woman and will want to take care of a home and children. My parents want ready-made perfection for my types.

The Council: Neither Roy nor his parents seem to have recognized the fact that there is only one thing seriously wrong with his marrying an up-and-at-'em career girl, an unconventional dresser or a political radical — and that is that he apparently doesn't care for any of these types.

Men have made successful marriages to all three types, but only when their tastes ran in those directions. Roy seems to go for girls with characteristics he does not like and then proceeds to map a campaign to change them.

Most mature individuals recognize that the attempt to change others is a pretty futile proposition. Who is not recognized with that persons who want to change others have some fairly severe problems and conflicts of their own. Usually, such an individual is trying to achieve a sense of power or wants to triumph over some inner difficulty. He feels inadequate in the face of his own need for change and projects some of his own supposed-failings on his would-be victim.

The fact that Roy goes out of his way to find girls who are unacceptable to his parents and then seems dissatisfied with his own choice, indicates that he feels he falls short of his parents' ideals for him. He shares these ideals and, at the same time, wants to rebel against them and assert his own individuality. But he won't assert his individuality by simply accepting or rebelling against these standards unless he finds some deep confidence in his own personality.

When Roy feels ready to love a woman exactly as she is, he will know that he has arrived at the inner strength to accept himself as he is. Before that time, he is not ready enough to marry no matter what his numerical age.

Joanne Woodward Favors 'Apartness' in Child-Rearing

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This may come as a shock to the women's magazines, but Joanne Woodward has her own formula for rearing the child she expects in April: Apartness.

Don't get her wrong. She loves children. And she plans to give the tyke plenty of loving care. But she adds:

"I agree with the author of 'Where did you go? Out. What did you do? Nothing'. He said that parents are the natural enemies of children, and I think he's right. Certainly they're all right as parents. But when they try to be a big brother or big sister, it's ridiculous.

"I remember how my father would sometimes say, 'well, today we're going to spend some time together.' So we'd take a walk or something and we'd both be glad when it was over.

"It's silly for parents and children to spend all their time together. Can you imagine anything duller than listening to the conversation of a seven-year-old all day? Or how dull he must find it to listen to his parents talk all day.

"Let each side have their own lives. They'll both be happier that way."

You can tell by this that Joanne is a strong - minded girl. And she isn't failing for that line about California's being "a great place to raise children." She and husband Paul Newman plan to make their permanent home in New York City and come here only to make films.

"People are always telling me how great it is to be found and be children," she said. "Well, I was brought up in the south where we had a warm climate and large yards to play in, and I found I had little to do. There's plenty to do in New York."

The Newmans will be heading east as soon as he finishes The Philadelphian. She has wound up her role in The Sound and the Fury and will sit out her pregnancy in New York while he's in a new Tennessee Williams play. She is delighted with the arrangement "because I think separations are the greatest danger to Hollywood marriages."

Six Teams Enter Int. C League

Six teams entered the OHA Hastings - Northumberland Intermediate "C" hockey league at a group meeting held in Madoc last night.

Five "C" teams which will participate are Madoc, Marmora, Havelock, Campbellford and Bancroft. The other clubs decided to allow Lakefield, an Intermediate "A" club, to enter, making it a compact six-team group. Lakefield will play a complete schedule but will draw a bye into "A" playdowns and will not take part in the league playoffs.

Jack Devine was named league convener and chaired last night's meeting.

The schedule will open on December 19 and each team will play 20 games. The first four teams in the final standing will participate in the group playoffs and the eventual winner will continue on in the Intermediate "C" playdowns.

The team finishing in first place will have its choice of opponents in the semi-finals, which will be three-of-five affairs. The finals will be four-of-seven, time permitting.

Panel Clashes Over Sports Professionalism

OTTAWA (CP)—Professionalism ruining hockey? Will the current great Canadian game go the way of its predecessor, lacrosse?

A professor, a political leader and the president of the National Hockey League had clashing opinions Thursday night in a panel discussion on: "Is professionalism ruining Canadian sport?"

Professor John Farina of the University of Toronto school of social work also took the opportunity to lecture Canadian sports writers, whose reports of professional sports he described as "nauseating brainwashing."

Clarence Campbell, the NHL head, extolled the benefits professional organizations have brought hockey in sponsoring junior teams, building arenas and interesting millions in the game.

PEARSON CHAIRMAN

Lester B. Pearson, chairman of the Citizen-YMCA sponsored discussion before an audience of 600, said roughness bred by professionalism was a main reason for the decline of lacrosse.

The Liberal party leader, who once played lacrosse and semi-professional baseball, said: "Let's hope the same thing doesn't happen to hockey."

Professional hockey was becoming unnecessarily rough, according to one member of the audience, who asked Campbell: "Why are rules against slashing and boarding not more strictly enforced in the NHL?"

After the audience had clapped its approval Campbell replied: "Different standards are necessary for different classes of hockey."

Rule enforcement did not have to be so strict in the professional game as in junior play.

"You must set the standards of strictness according to the conditioning, equipment and experience of the players," he said.

Professor Farina, turning on sports writers and broadcasters, said these reporters, "if not actually lackeys of the promoters, are hardly objective in their appraisal of the current sports picture, as their very jobs represent vested interests."

The sports reporter should take a role similar to that of a drama critic, for that is what professional sports was—entertainment.

Professionalism was ruining Canadian sport in several ways, according to Farina and two panelists who lined up with him—Mrs. Jackie (MacDonald) Gelling, former Olympic track and field star from Toronto and now an Ottawa school teacher; and Wing Cmdr. J. K. Tett, RCAF director of physical fitness.

TEX COULTER REPLIES

Accompanying Campbell on the negative side was Tex Coulter, former Montreal Alouette football tackle and now a sports writer. He said newspapers are in business and have to turn a profit. But entertainers cannot put a professional sport on what the readers wanted and it encouraged interest in sport by participatory and indicated a goal to strive for.

The professor said professional sport had a valid function, but it was remote from development of good character. Recreational sport with its emphasis on participation rather than skill, did develop character.

"The most important incentive to sport should be to have fun," he said.

Mrs. Gelling said professional sport li detrimental in that it edges amateur sport off the sport pages and out of stadiums.

Wing Cmdr. Tett, once a competitive swimmer, c o n p l a i n e d that many youngsters can tell the "names and numbers of every player and yet not play any game themselves."

Russia's Team Fast and Skilled

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Russia's America-bound hockey team is so fast and skilled that many amateur rules it could compete with the best pro teams in the United States and Canada, an American hockey official said Thursday.

"Under pro rules, of course, National Hockey League teams would be just too tough for them," said Don Clark, manager of the U.S. national team which played the Russians on a European tour last winter.

The Russians return the visit this winter, playing in seven cities. The 1959 U.S. national team, in training at the University of Minnesota, will be the opponent in three games.

Clark described the best Russian players as fast skaters and slick passers—high-grade in all technical parts of the game.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Mooning over the Macs chances of whipping the Whitby Dunlops during ten days in a hospital bed, we have come to the conclusion that tonight could very well be the night.

If the Ikemen can flash the brand of goalgetting play that has characterized their last four outings when they racked up 21 goals, they could well be the first club in the league to make the upsurging, unbeaten Dunnies say "uncle."

They have the potential to do it. Last Saturday night they tossed a gochalmighty scare into the Whitby faithful when they reared from behind a 4-1 third-period deficit to not only tie the score but come within a butterfly's skip of snatching victory from certain defeat.

Unlike the self-appointed swami of the Hockey News, one Frank Orr, who edits in his spare time down Cornwall way, we have the utmost faith in the McFarlands, and believe that, albeit with a little help they will be worthy representatives of Canada at the forthcoming world tournament scheduled for Prague in March.

Orr's ego reached the bursting point this week, for did he not from his swaxy sportswriting serie in Cornwall, crash the front page of the Hockey News with a five-column bauxite, "Canada's Third Tourney Reps Too Weak," with dropheads to the effect "the Macs are not good enough to win in their own league, Hildebrand is on the way out and the defence and netting poor."

Orr's best sportswriting buddy in his typewriting forays at rival teams, players and people connected with hockey is that ole busybody, Dame Rumor. They are closer than burrs in a horse's tail.

The one that drew the caustic comment from McFarlands' manager, Drury Denyes, "The guy must be nuts," was Orr's ace-in-the-hole vaporing that playing coach Ike Hildebrand was on the way out.

"There is nothing farther from the truth," said the Macs' manager. "Where Orr gets these pipe dreams from I cannot imagine. Nothing has been done, nor dreamed of about letting Ike go. I personally have never spoken a word to Orr on the matter, nor for that matter on the club.

Wrote Orr: "Apparently the players aren't giving their best for Hildebrand and as one Eastern manager puts it, 'They have a lot of old pros and you cannot teach an old dog new tricks'."

Orr strikes a true note in his comment, "the league is much improved over last year, Whitby has a strong club, just as good as a year ago. Cornwall has greatly improved its defence and added youth to the forward lines, the Hull-Ottawa Canadiens, despite the loss of super-stars Billy Carter and Ralph Backstrom, have practically their Memorial Cup team back, all a year older and that much more experienced. Kingston has added defencemen and some potent scorers. It is a three way affair with no easy spots for any of the clubs."

Orr charges the attacking divisions have "failed completely to unload this year," and paints a dismal picture of the champion's offensive strength. For his information the Macs have scored 36 goals in their last six times out, three of the scores being 12-3, 9-2 and 9-3.

Personally, along with a lot of others, we refuse to be drawn into any argument with this down-east chanticleer. He is basing his opinion on what has happened thus far. He will not admit potential. That he will discover for himself.

The Macs are staggering along under a heavy schedule load and being a firm believer in the fact that one swallow does not constitute a binge, we firmly believe the Ikemen will emerge from their early-season cocoon, the championship butterfly that swept aside all national opposition last season and brought to this city its first Allan Cup.

They should be in top form for tonight's till against the Dunnies in a game that will be another ding-dong dandy. We shall miss the epic, being in Toronto in round-table conclave with the brass and representatives of the Ontario Minor Hockey Association.

VOLLEYBALL TOURNEY

Ontario School for the Deaf will be a hive of activity Saturday afternoon when the annual COSSA girls' volleyball tournament will be held there.

-Gravenhurst, representing the Georgian Bay district, will participate in both the junior and senior "B" divisions. Unlike other years, this tourney is for "B" schools only. The "A" tournament will be held in Barrie this year. Trenton High School will represent the Bay of Quinte district in both junior and senior sections in that tournament.

Four Bay of Quinte teams will participate in tomorrow's tourney here. In the junior section OSD and Northling will clash with the winners meeting Gravenhurst for the Central Ontario championship.

Meadoc and Tweed hook up with that winner going against Gravenhurst for the senior "B" title.

The first game Saturday will start at one o'clock. Play is expected to last until around 4.00 p.m. and all district fans are urged to attend.

Canadiens Hard Pressed To Stay On Top Of NHL

Detroit Red Wings Held Lead Three Times on Forum Ice But Settled for 4-4 Draw

By BEN WARD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Those pre - season predictions that Montreal Canadiens would walk away from the rest of the National Hockey League look shaky these days.

Canadiens are in front by a slender margin with four clubs breathing down their necks.

Detroit Red Wings Thursday night battled the Habs to a 4-4 tie in Montreal Forum, where the defending Stanley Cup champions used to tear other hockey teams to shreds. It was Habs' fourth straight home game without a win.

HOWE SHOWS WAY

Wings had the lead three times, beginning with a 2-0 edge in the first four minutes of the opening period when Gordie Howe and Norm Ullman put shots past Jacques Plante.

Bernie Geoffrion and Jean Beliveau got Montreal back into contention later in the period only to have Howe send Wings ahead again in the dying seconds.

Beliveau's second goal squared things in the second, but two minutes later Alex Delvecchio made it 4-3 for the visitors. Dickie Moore got that one back after 10 minutes of hard pressure play.

Montreal threatened in the third, outscoring Wings 10-5, but Terry Sawchuk put on a sparkling performance in the Detroit nets before 14,555 fans.

COULD LOSE LEAD

Canadiens still have to fight their missing power this weekend to stay on top of the heap. Wings and New York Rangers are tied for second place just two points behind the champs. Chicago Black Hawks and Boston Bruins are three points away.

Aboard a plane Habs don't have to worry about is Toronto Maple Leafs on the bottom five points behind.

Montreal plays host to Chicago Saturday night and visits Boston Sunday night.

In other weekend action Detroit is at Boston Saturday afternoon and New York visits Toronto Saturday night. Sunday night Toronto moves into Chicago and Detroit is at New York.

Criticize Demand Of Players for Radio-TV Share

CHICAGO (AP)—Owner P. K. Wrigley of Chicago Cubs and vice-president Chuck Comiskey of Chicago White Sox sharply criticized a demand by major league players for a 2-per-cent share in club revenue from TV-radio.

Wrigley said some clubs, even with additional revenue from telecasting and broadcasting, are losing money.

"What is proposed is not even profit - sharing. They (players) want a share of the revenue whether there is any profit or not."

Comiskey said "as far as the White Sox are concerned, we feel the demands are so ridiculous and unreasonable that we're not even going to discuss it with the players."

Cornwall Chevies Move Into Third Place of Eastern Group

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The underdogs had their day in both divisions of Ontario Hockey Association senior A hockey Thursday night.

Cornwall Chevies replaced Hull-Ottawa Canadiens in third place in the eastern division by defeating them 6-3 while in the OHA-NOHA group, North Bay Trappers now share last place with Sudbury Wolves after a 7- win over Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds.

Six players scored two goals each in the two games.

At North Bay, trappers' George Gosselin and Ches Kozyecny scored in one-two style in both the first and second periods. Tony Pesta added a single and Clelan Morrison scored a pair in the third.

Greyhound scorers were Jim McBurney who tallied in the second and got the game's last goal late in the third, Gary Vess, John Lumley and Jim Farelli.

At Cornwall Chet Melski scored the first goal for the hosts at 2:29 of the first and tallied again in the second while singles were by Reg Grigg, Guy Henri, Gord Haughton and Roy Laplante.

Twenty-year-old Claude Richard kept his place in the top 13 scorers with two goals for the Kerrs.

The other Canadiens goal was by Guy Black.

Belleville McFarlands have amassed 45 individual scoring points for their players in the last two games and the second-place eastern division club will have a chance to prove wether it has caught fire when it plays first-place Whitby Dunlops tonight at Belleville.

Billy Martin and Al Cicotte Traded to Cleveland Indians For Ray Narleski, Don Mossi

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Tigers have given up fireballed Billy Martin and pitcher Al Cicotte for Cleveland's famed relief twins, Don Mossi and Ray Narleski, plus infielder Ossie Alvarez.

This is the first major deal of the off-season. It gives Frank Lane the sparkplug he has been seeking for Cleveland and brings to Detroit a mound duo with a reputation as baseball's best one-two relief punch.

The Tiger bullpen has been inadequate for years and the owner, all staff, despite the 30-game performances of Frank Lary, Jim Bunning and Bill Hoeft in recent seasons, has produced a giant headache for the front office.

HATED TO LOSE HIM

"We hated to give up Martin," said general manager John Mc-Hale, "but we feel Narleski and Mossi will win more games for us than Billy did."

Martin, 30, acquired last winter in a 13-player deal with Kansas City Athletics, hit .302 and batted 42 runs in 131 games. He played second most of the time, a position he had played only occasionally since he broke into the big leagues with New York and Yankees.

Lane, the Indians' general manager said in mid-season 1958 he was after Martin to play second base.

Narleski and Mossi reached the major leagues at the same time; sparked the Indians to the American League pennant with one whirlwind relief job after another.

EFFECTIVE HURLER

Mossi, who will be 29 before the 1959 season, gets under way, had a 7-4 record and a 3.58 ERA last season. Narleski, who will be 30 later this month, won 13 and lost 10. He had 102 strikeouts and early in the season was one of the league's most effective hurlers.

Cicotte, nephew of Eddie Cicotte who pitched years ago for the Chicago White Sox, joined the Tigers in 1956. Working both as starter and reliever for the last-place Tigers, he had a 3-4 record.

Alvarez is a slick fielder with a solid minor league hitting background. He hit .282 in Detroit's 27 games with Washington last season and batted .290. He was traded to Cleveland a few weeks ago in a straight swap for catcher J. W. Porter.

Norris Suffering From Advanced Heart Disease

NEW YORK (AP)—James D. Norris, former president of the International Boxing Club, Thursday was ruled too sick to make an appearance before a grand jury investigating corruption in boxing.

Acting on a medical report, Supreme Court Justice Jacob Markowitz quashed a subpoena calling for Norris to appear before the grand jury. He held that for Norris to appear "would endanger his health and life."

Justice Markowitz based his decision on a report by a court-appointed physician who said Norris is suffering from "advanced heart disease."

The physician is Dr. A. Wilbur Duryee, a New York cardiologist.

In his report to Justice Markowitz, Dr. Duryee wrote in part:

"My medical judicial opinion heart disease with a markedly enlarged heart and in a state of decompensation."

Petes Second Despite 6-5 Loss To St. Michael's

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

The league's top scorers played big part in all three games in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series Thursday night but the results made only one change in standings.

St. Michael's Majors' 6-5 win over Peterborough Petes coupled with Barrie Flyers' 5-1 loss to St. Catharines Teepees resulted in St. Michael's replacing Barrie in third place.

Despite 13-3-0 record leaves them, well in front, Petes are second.

In the third game Toronto Marlboros defeated Hamilton Red Wings 5-4 and now are three points ahead of last-place Hamilton.

THREE FOR MAHONEY

Bill Mahoney of Petes was the night's big scorer as he fired three goals and assisted on another. He still is five points behind Brad Stan Jones, another Petes' Wayne Connelly who are tied at the top with 29 points.

Mahoney got a goal and two assists and was matched by Milan Miklas, first-place scorer Chico Maki of Teepees fired one and assisted on two as the game and the clubs were tied 4-4 after the second.

Pete Laurie, St. Catharines took a 1-0 first-period lead on a goal by Wayne Hillman assisted by Teepees and Ray Dupuis with Fitzpatrick scoring the second period scorers.

Fred Hills, recently in from Edmonton Oil Kings of the Alberta junior league, Miniks and Marlies were St. Catharines third-period scorers.

Cubs started well at Hamilton with a 2-1 lead in the first. Their scorers were Ed Cooke and Ray Fenwick with Jim Noyes netted for Toronto with three minutes left.

In the second Marlboros' Jim Murchie, Morrison, Martin and Hey scored before Don Wilcox got his first of two goals. Wilcox was the only scorer in the third.

Hamilton's Dennis Rathwell came off the ice on a stretcher after Dobby Hall checked over a major for kneeing. A preliminary examination indicated no bones broken.

LISTON-KING FIGHT

CHICAGO (AP)—Sonny Liston of Philadelphia, rankid among the top 10 heavyweigh, contenders will meet Howard King of Reno, Nev., in a 10-round television fight in Chicago, Monday. Wednesday night, Dec. 3. Liston is rated No. 9 in the current Ring magazine listings and No. 10 by the National Boxing Association.

Ottawa Rough Riders used these plays to upset Montreal Alouettes 16-15 in the eastern finals of Big Four football semi-final and advance into the total-points final against Hamilton Tiger-Cats. Top is Ottawa's End Sweep. Quarterback Russ Jackson (12) fakes to halfback Dave Thelen (88) who goes over centre. Jackson fades back, hands off to half Bobby Judd (90) who sweeps around right end. Guards Kaye Vaughan (55) and Hardiman Cureton (53) pull from line for blocking duties. Half Don Pinsey (89) blocks left defensive end and flying wing George Brancato (87) goes down deep to draw the defensive tertiary from action. Left end Bobby Simpson (70) and tackle Tom Jones (61) block at line and move into secondary. Bottom is the Quarterback Option play. Jackson (82) fades to Thelen (88) over centre, then runs parallel to the right side of the line. He can cut off-tackle, continue toward the right or lateral to Judd (90) skirting the end, depending on action of the defensive end. Pinsey (89) helps tackle Milt Graham (65) in blocking duties. — (CP Photo)

Riders, Heralded as Strong Contenders for Big Four Title, Did Not Live up to Notices

BY BERNARD DUFRESNE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Heralded in training camp as strong contenders for the Big Four championship and, hopefully, for the Grey Cup, Ottawa Rough Riders ended the 14-game schedule a so-so team, but with a brilliant young Canadian rookie quarterback.

The team was hot and cold all season, winning with some regularity at home, five times in seven games, and squeaking through once on the road for a 6-8 record.

This undistinguished season represented a come - down for Riders who lost our for first place in 1957 to Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the last game of the schedule. This year they made third place, baffled Montreal Alouettes with some fancy ground play to win 29-12 in the sudden-death semi-final and were squashed 38-7 by Tiger-Cats in the opener of the total-point final series.

Riders meet the defending Grey Cup champions at Hamilton this Saturday and there isn't an observer around the Big Four circuit who will give them any hope of overcoming Hamilton's big point spread.

The semi-final was a stunner. Riders went to Montreal with an unenviable string of 11 straight defeats since the Als moved into Molson Stadium.

Coach Frank Clair started with Ross Jackson, 25-year-old homebrew from McMaster University and he dazzled the Als with a mixture of end sweeps and quarterback option plays. Spotting by line coach Bill Smyth also played a big part in the victory.

Discovery of Jackson was the only real bright spot for Riders this year. He could turn out to be the No. 1 signal-caller in 1959, an unusual situation in this age of import quarterbacks.

Clair, given an unprecedented five-year contract when he joined Riders in 1956, already has talked in terms of finding an American Quarterback for next year who could add a play some other position, as offensive or defensive halfback.

Jackson took over the starting assignment from Hal Ledyard, in his third year with the club from the University of Chattanooga. Ledyard was called from the reserves after Tom Dimitroff, second-year import from the University of Miami of Ohio, broke a leg in mid-season.

The Canadian rookie got the starting call in the 12th game of the schedule and lost to the first-up Toronto Argonauts. In the next game, at home, he sparked Riders to a 14-8 victory over Tiger-Cats.

Until then, Jackson had made only brief appearances — either when all was lost or when Riders were well ahead—and each time had thrilled the crowds with his exciting running on option plays.

Perhaps his only deficiency was his passing, but it improved considerably with each game and by season's end he had the third-best percentage of completions in the league.

Perhaps the biggest single factor in Riders' unspectacular showing was inconsistency from week to week, both on defence and offence. Some backfield imports, described by Clair at the outset as potentially the best he had ever coached, did not measure up.

There was not much to shout about, statistically-speaking, except for the fact that Riders were the least scored - against team in the league. They had only one man among the top 10 scorers and he was no threat to the leaders.

Even the attendance for home games was down, to 114,700 from last year's record 118,000. Despite a high of about 8,500 season ticket-holders.

Riders and Ticats were participants in an innovation for the Big Four... playing one of their scheduled games, Sept. 20, in Philadelphia. Hamilton won 29-14 before a crowd of about 15,000 in the 102,000 - seat Municipal Stadium.

CARDS DROP HOUSTON

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — St. Louis Cardinals are abandoning the club that started the farm system in baseball. They are doing it because Houston was not able to advance to triple A classification and because they feel they can't operate in a city that has major league ambitions.

Severing of relations with Houston, announced Thursday, ended a union that started in 1921 when Branch Rickey started the farm system in baseball. The franchise will be offered for sale for $100,000. This will include 18 players.

BACKACHE May be Warning

Backache is often caused by kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backaches, lowbacked rest or that tired-out and heavy-headed feeling may soon follow. That's the time to take Doctor's Kidney Pills. Doctor's combination of 6 diuretic ingredients. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Get Doctor's Kidney Pills now.

WALLBRIDGE

LOBA Lodge Holds Election Of '59 Slate

WALLBRIDGE — Wallbridge L.O.B.A., No. 1168, held its monthly meeting on November 10th, with a good attendance. Six members of Verone Lodge, Belleville, were present.

After the regular meeting the Worthy Mistress asked Sister Pearl Holmes to take the chair for the election of officers for the year 1959. The results were as follows: Past Worthy Mistress, Sister Mary Anderson; Worthy Mistress, Sister Marjorie Woods; Deputy Mistress, Sister Margaret Reynolds; Junior Deputy Mistress, Sister Shirley Stewart; recording secretary, Sister Doris Sherman; financial secretary, Sister Marie Kingston; treasurer, Sister Ethel Nicolson; chaplain, Sister Susan Marshall; guardian, Sister Georgina Evans; director of ceremonies, Sister Annie Dickens; lecturer, Sister Helen Lane; second lecturer, Sister Greta Kingston; pianist, Sister Frieda Mair; inner guard, Sister Vera Bunnett; outer guard, Sister Mary Clapp; second committee, Sister Iva Bixley; third committee, Sister Georgina Evans; fourth committee, Sister Mabel Harris; fifth committee, Sister Pearl Rupert.

Auditor is Sister Pearl Holmes; sick and visiting committee, Sister Margaret Hinchliffe; degree captains, Sister Margaret Hinchliffe; press reporter, Sister Mabel Harris.

After the election Sister Holmes was presented with a gift for the fine way she conducted the ceremonies and Sister Holmes presented each member of Welcome Lodge with a gift and thanked them for assisting her in the election of officers.

Lodge was closed and refreshments were served by the lunch committee.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Saturday, November 22

Aries (March 21 to April 19) — By going to those seasoned elders, especially in government and politics, you will get the best advice that will take you far in your career, give you the key to solving today's problematical affairs. See that you speak clearly and concisely.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) — While you may doubt the wisdom of advice given you by a too serious and at times somewhat unsympathetic individual, you will find it to be excellent. Be guided accordingly.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — This is one of those days when you may have to have long conversations with everyone, and while it may seem like just so much yacking, many fundamental and important things will be settled thereby. Data gathered P. M. have an enjoyable time.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — A good day to complete all those chores imposed by do. during work week. Let most of the day be utilized in cleaning, re-arranging of furniture, gardening, etc. P.M. get throat in shape, get recordings in order, etc. new codes.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — A fine day to enjoy the company of proven and charming friends, and to work towards mutually beneficial ventures. Plan your day wisely, taking in time for luncheon, dinner, creative efforts.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — The home should be the centre of activity today and much attention should be given your loved ones. Also your surroundings to make more beautiful and practical.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — See your dearest pals and relatives today for best results. Contact by phone, write or visit them in person. Discuss possibilities for a corporate venture and get started on it.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — You will get splendid ideas from an executive you had not even thought noticed you. Be sure you stand firm in supporting him or her in some way, and you will have reason to be thankful for. Be ethical and smart.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Deepen your understanding of more advanced ideas and systems now and your goals will be that much nearer to you. Look to the Highest Power for inspiration and then study prayerfully, meet the key persons.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Family members are more interested in your ideas now and give co-operation to see that you have real success in your ventures. Also, see that you give moral support to them at right time and beautiful harmony can reign and be fruitful.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Put your fine mentality to work now in the proper directions. It is only necessary to show willingness to start afresh on mutual ventures to get the co-operation of associates and friends. Act, and quickly.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — A most clever and ingenious fellow worker has a most worthwhile idea to share with you, provided you are practical and willing to work earnestly. Be so, and you'll please all concerned as well as satisfying yourself.

If your child is born today ... The delightful child born today is full of good sense and practical traffic. Be sure you do not stifle him or her in natural expressions. Give a most thorough education, stressing the subject of advanced psychology, and specializing in some scientific field best suited to temperament and mentality. Pay attention to inspired thoughts of your progeny and make use of them, to benefit the world at large.

Sunday School Lesson

Christianity and Joy

By ROY L. SMITH

It may be that it is because they put the cemeteries along-side the churches for so many years, or it may have been the length of the sermons, but for some reason it has become common to associate religion with melancholy and piety with joylessness.

Jesus of Nazareth, on the other hand, went through life insisting that men should rejoice. And He himself could usually be found in the near vicinity of a company of people that were giving vent to their instinct for fun.

RELIGION IS SERIOUS

It goes without saying that good religion must be very serious. It is dealing with the essence of life. But serious-minded people can be joyful. The scientist among his test tubes may be experiencing vast joy and satisfaction at the same moment that he is making a record of his experiments. The surgeon in the midst of a delicate operation, is full of satisfaction as he discovers the cause of the pain and removes it.

The Uniform Sunday School lesson for November 23: "JESUS AROUSES OPPOSITION," Mark 2:1 through 3:6.

There is a disposition to think that joy expresses itself only in laughter, and that only the hilarious are joyful. Somewhat in the scripture mention is made of the mother in travail who, having suffered much pain, rejoices in the quiet satisfaction that a child has come into life. But no one ever thinks of a mother of a new born babe becoming hilarious. Her joy is too deep for that.

OPPOSITION TO RELIGION

It is probably true that the chief cause for the opposition that is manifested toward even good religion today is the false impression that many people have that it is opposed to joy.

It is a fact that religious leaders and religious teachings have been generous in their warnings against those types of fun and hilarity which carried with them disastrous after effects. It is perhaps because of the fact that the preachers have had to spend so much of their time patching up the bonnes that have been wrecked as a result of alcoholism that the most of them are to be found in the camp of those opposed to the use of alcohol. But no true teacher of Christianity has ever been opposed to joy because it was joyful.

One that we have recognized the affinity between good religion and unashamed joy, we will have solved a long list of spiritual problems.

INVITES OPPOSITION

It is true, unfortunately, that there are those among us who love evil rather than good, darkness rather than light, shame rather than honor. We need not try to trace down the reasons for this strange preference, but it urgines to deny that it exists. Good religion which insists upon high moral sandards can expect opposition from those who make money out of low moral practices — who depend upon the lewd ,the brutal, the coarse and the vicious, for their livings. The forces of evil would be entirely satisfied, if the Church never attacked any evil on this earth, but was content to indulge in theology at the expense of social morals.

Wallbridge

WALLBRIDGE — Since the weather has been fine, the farmers are getting along with their fall ploughing.

Wallbridge W.I. held their monthly meeting in the Orange Hall on Friday night. Since it was "family night" a large crowd attended.

The school children with their music teacher, Miss Pulman, gave some splendid singing. Mrs. C. Holmes was the guest speaker.

After the meeting refreshments were served.

Cheese factory is closed for another season.

Wallbridge ladies are busy attending bazaars at different places and are also busy preparing for our own to be held in the Orange Hall on November 26th.

This neighborhood is sorry to hear Mrs. Cecil Sine has sold her farm and is moving to Belleville shortly. The family will be greatly missed in all church activities as Mrs. Sine was an active member of Wallbridge W.A. for which she has been secretary for a number of years; also in W.I. and W.M.S. work. Wallbridge will miss the family not only in the church, but also as neighbors.

WEST ABANDONS SPACE TALKS WITH RUSSIANS

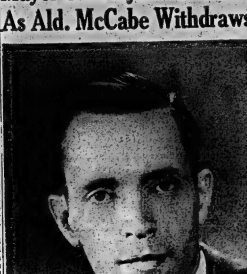
Take-It-or-Leave It Proposal Advanced

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — The United States and its supporters have abandoned all attempts at outer space negotiations with the Russians and today pushed a take-it-or-leave-it proposal.

The 20 associated nations—including Canada—decided to act on their own after talks broke down between the U.S. and Russia over makeup of a committee to make recommendations for UN discussion, of peaceful exploration of outer space.

The proposal already had UN General Assembly's political committee called to submit a new draft without further talks with the Soviets. The revised draft was handed out late Friday night.

The Western plan, which diplomats hoped would win Soviet approval despite the breakdown in talks, calls for an 18-nation study group that would lay the groundwork for a permanent UN space committee.



Canada would be a member of this group. The formula includes most of the 11 nations contained in the abandoned draft and would adds several candidates favored by the West.

This list is composed of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union, the major powers; Belgium, Italy and Sweden from Western Europe; Czechoslovakia and Poland from the Communist bloc; India, Iran, Japan and the United Arab Republic from the Asian - African group; Argentina, Brazil and Mexico from the Latin American group; Australia and Canada representing the Commonwealth and interest in outer space.

The tentative negotiations collapsed Friday after Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin stood fast by his demands for three Soviet satellites on the smaller side and attempted to dictate who the Western members should be on the list of 18, giving Russia a probable six votes, included the same four major powers plus Poland, Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Sweden.

Zorin was reported to have told U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge that the Russians would agree to naming Canada and two other Western countries, provided they were Argentina and Mexico.

Mayor G. B. Hyde Re-elected As Ald. McCabe Withdraws

Mayor Gerald B. Hyde, who has served one term as Chief Magistrate of the city, has been acclaimed to serve another year in office. He along with Ald. Effie McCabe were nominated for the mayoralty but Mrs. McCabe withdrew before the deadline and announced she will seek re-election as an Alderman. Qualifications for civic office do not close until nine o'clock this Saturday evening.

There were nineteen nominated for the office of Alderman and two for the Public Utilities Commission seat and at noon, ten had qualified, ... remains unfilled as last year's aldermen. Those who have qualified were Robertson Collins, barrister, Jack R. Ellis, production manager for Wilson Concrete Products, Ralph A. Graham, barrister, Frank V. Grandame, ... supervisor, Gilbert Hoffman, Mrs. Effie A. McCabe, housewife, Douglas Moxam, contractor, Joseph E. Roth, upholsterer, Donald J. Whalen, Real Estate Broker, and George Wishart, Research official.

W. Harry Rollins has qualified for the Public Utilities Commission seat. Don McNevin was also nominated for this post.

The Public School Trustees, who have qualified so far are: Ward four — Bruce Bishop, salesman; Ward four — Francis P. Clarke, accountant, Geoffrey Paget, Metallurgist; Ward five — Lyle A. Tangelberr, CNR engineer; Ward six — William Townsend, manager; Ward seven — Mrs. R. Sproule, sheet metal worker.

None has qualified for Separate School Trustees, although one has been nominated for each ward in the city.

Rugged Policy Proposed By West German Officials

Claim Tanks, Fighter Planes Should Be Used

BERLIN (AP) — West German officials today advocated a tough Allied policy for Berlin including the use of tanks and fighter planes if necessary, to maintain Western links with the city.

There was no indication that the Soviet Union might carry out its announced plans to turn over to the Communist East German government control of Allied communications to Berlin in an effort to force the Western powers to abandon their positions in the former German capital.

Several ambassadors were reported summoned to the Soviet Foreign Ministry in Moscow today "to receive an important document," presumably on Soviet intentions for Berlin.

ONLY ROUTINE

However, the Dutch, Belgian and Austrian ambassadors were summoned to the ministry and they denied reports that business not involving Berlin.

Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev launched a drive 12 days ago to end the occupation and get the Allies out of Berlin.

Officials in Bonn, the West German capital, feared that a Soviet withdrawal from the Potsdam agreement would lead to Allied withdrawal from West Germany's mutant East German regime. The officials warned that such a move would jeopardize the standing of the Communist regime and probably touch off the loss of West Berlin and in the killing of the hopes of 17,000,000 East Germans for freedom.

Moscow has said it will give East German authorities control over Allied military traffic to West Berlin even if the Western powers themselves do not agree. The West thus would have the choice of dealing with East German controls of trying to ignore them on the highways between West Germany and Berlin.

Some officials in Bonn favor legalizing East German controls. They want the West to use tanks and other heavy planes if necessary to force their way through East Germany.

There have been no indications the Allies are considering dealing with the East German regime or trucks without granting recognition and by insisting the East Germans are not only the agents of the Russians.

Talk of Defence Integration Unrealistic If U.S. Bars Canadian Equipment - - Pearson

NEW YORK (CP) — Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson said today it would be virtually impossible for Canada to remain aloof from any "major" conflict in which the United States became engaged.

He also told the second annual dean's day symposium at Columbia University that conflict between Canada and the U.S in the economic field could make full defence co-operation between the two countries more difficult.

And, apparently with the CP 105 jet interceptor in mind, he added that it is unrealistic to talk of complete defence integration if Canadian military equipment is good enough only to be produced in the U.S "cannot be used in your country because pressures by your own industrial producers are strong enough to prevent it."

Canada has tried to interest the U.S. in the Arrow, whose production fate will be determined next spring by the Canadian government.

Mr. Pearson, speaking on Canadian - American relations, said there is bound to be friction because ties can chafe as well as bind.

"The trouble with this situation is that it is too often ignored in the U.S and too often exaggerated in Canada," he said.

Close Canadian - American co-operation in defence was desirable because of today's dangerous world. But this co-operation emphasized the fact that "strong and cherished independence" in Canada was qualified by an interdependence that while perhaps not unique was certainly an effective basis for Canadian freedom of action.

This defence and strategic relationship is, indeed, so close as to make it virtually impossible for Canada to remain aloof from any major—I emphasize major—conflict in which the U.S became engaged," Mr. Pearson said.

When that fact was related to the absence of complete agreement on all quistions of foreign policy — the failure of which might bring common defence plans into effect—you will understand our worries."

The statements were included in the text of a speech issued to the press before delivery.

Million Dollars Pours in for Springhill Fund

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

When disaster struck the little Nova Scotia coal mining town of Springhill for the third time in three years, hearts and purses opened across the continent.

People acted spontaneously to help the families of the 74 dead miners and the town whose economy was shattered by the closing of the colliery.

Canadians and Americans responded generously. Some contributions came from Europe.

Since the first shock of the disaster Oct. 24, more than $1,000,000 has poured in. And it's still coming.

HOPE FOR MORE

"We hope that contributions will continue to come in," says R. M. Dingwall of Montreal, national chairman of the fund organized to handle the money.

"The need is still great."

Representatives in each province co - ordinate the work of newspapers, radio stations, and television stations. Special chartered banks were authorized to accept money.

A woman pledged two weeks' salary; athletic teams who turned over their gate; variety shows and bingos boosted the total. Radio and television stations in Montreal and in Cold Lake and Red Deer, Alberta raised more than $18,000 with marathons.

Hollywood's film community voted to turn over $500 collected for victims of the Quemoy shelling.

Sherbrooke University in Quebec promised a special free education for a miner's son.

HULLA HOOP CONTEST

Mayor George Nelms of Otawa is to take on Mayor Ralph Gilroy of Springhill Nov. 25 in a hula hoop contest in tyler funds.

A. V. Roe (Canada) Limited, Toronto aircraft parent company, gave $100,000. So did the federal government.

Sydney Steel Corp. government, which voted $50,000 itself, barely managed to get the money legally allocated. Many of the dead miners had been members of the Canadian National Congress for the Advancement of Coloured Peoples. Delegation in South Africa.

Cuban Army Defeats Rebel Attack on Mine

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban army has defeated rebels in a battle for a U.S. nickel mine and turned back a strong attack elsewhere, a communique said.

The government announcement Friday night said more than 153 rebels were killed while the army lost three men.

The army launched an offensive around Nicaro, on the north coast of Oriente province, to clear the area of rebels led by Raul Castro, brother of rebel leader Fidel Castro.

On Oct. 24 the U.S. Navy evacuated 50 American women and children from the nickel mill at Nicaro after fighting around it by rebels and army troops. About a dozen American men remained to run the $100,000,000 plant.

The offensive cleared the rebels from the plant's mine 17 miles away and also reoccupied the other mine at Oeujal, eight miles southwest of Nicaro, the communique said.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synopsis: — The current in a series of minor disturbances moving from the northwest across the mid-western United States lies in Ohio this morning and will continue rapidly eastward to the eastern seaboard. Gale or moving downover the province to the northeast of this storm centres with cause a continuation of variable skies and scattered snowflurries throughout the province. A similar disturbance is forecast to move along the same path Sunday with no change in overweather pattern over the weekend.

Temperatures will show little change with highs near 40 in the south and about 30 in the north. Snow amounts are expected to be very light except in areas exposed to heavier flurries blown in from the lakes.

New Charges Of Treason Laid

JOHANNESBURG (Reuters) — Thirty persons today were re-indicted on charges of treason and will be tried without jury before a special court in Pretoria Jan. 19.

The defendants are among 91 persons whose mass treason trial ended last month when the prosecution withdrew its indictment.

The rest of the 91 defendants will go on trial April 20.

The 156 accused are all that are left from the original 156 accused—white, Negro, Indian, Asian and Negro —cited in the original treason indictment.

Under the new indictment, the first group of 30 are charged with having endangered the existence or security of the state and of conspiring with the intent to overthrow the state by violence and to substitute a Communist or other form of state.

The charges against the second group are in connection with the African National Congress for the Liberation of the Discriminatory Legislation in South Africa.

Napanee Man Killed

NAPANEE (CP) — Gerard Walsh, 22, of Napanee was found dead beside a wrecked car Friday on a county road at Hay Bay, about six miles south of this Kingston area town. The car, which Walsh had borrowed from a friend, apparently hit a culvert. There were no witnesses.

Sees Proof Churches Are Prepared For Bold Approach to World Peace

CLEVELAND (AP) — Pronouncements of the fifth world order study conference, which came out for disarmament and recognition of Red China, "give evidence that the churches are ready to take steps forward in a bold approach to world peace."

That is the view of Rev. Edwin T. Dahlberg of St. Louis, president of the National Council of Churches which sponsored the conference here.

Dr. Dahlberg commented after the four-day conference wound up Friday:

"It is to be hoped that our government and the United Nations will take to heart the meaning and findings of this conference."

The conference message was directed, however, not to the government but to the churches making up the national council. Delegates to the conference represented 3 Protestant and Orthodox communions.

The "message of the churches" urged that steps "be taken toward the inclusion of the Peoples Republic of China (Red China) in the United Nations and for its recognition by our government."

Four Large Ontario Centres Give Acclamations to Mayors

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Two Ontario cities and two of the province's largest towns received acclamations in municipal election Friday.

J. W. G. Langmuir at Brockville, R. G. Newkirk at Chatham, A. W. A. White at Galt and Leonard Deacy, Oshawa raised more than $18,000 with marathons.

Brockville's city council was returned by turn over $500 collected

Oshawa, which has its vote for council Dec. 1, Mr. Clifford operated City Dairy with its city limits.

Qualifying deadline comes tonight for centres which held nominations Friday and may cut this short.

Fort William's two women candidates, Catherine Seppala and Mrs. Dorothy Pickup—are both city council members who have served contentiously for weeks. Three men are nominated as possible opponents — Hubert Limbrick, Frank Williams and J. Joe Seney. The adjoining city of Port Arthur already has a woman mayor, Mrs. E. M. Wishart.

Stratford's seven nominees for the Mayor Drew Dr. ... who may not run, along with Lawrence Feick, Bert Davies, John Macpherson, C. E. Meier, Robert E. Mountain and Arthur G. Skidmore.

North Bay's Mayor Merie Dickerson is opposed by Morris Brown, John Kennedy and C. E. Rennick. All four have qualified for the election which is scheduled Dec. 8, a week later than in most centres.

Hanbury has a two-way battle in sight with Ray R. Jeppson and Mayor Ernest Lawrence Gilbro. At Belleville, where a former Conservative MP, Jack Forrester retired a year ago, Mrs. Effie McCabe was nominated to oppose Mayor Gerald B. Hyde.

At Cornwall, Mayor L. G. Lavigne was nominated along with Albert Dupuis, Dr. Maurice Lamarche, Nick Kaneb, Lawrence Keen, Adrien Marleau, James Mullin and Mrs. Marion Earl.

Four were named at Brantford where Mayor M. Sherman is ... tirine—Norman Boyd, Lloyd Hogarth, John Pocock and Charles Al-Ward.

One B.C. Power Commissioner Has Resigned

VICTORIA (CP)—One of the British Columbia power commission's three commissioners has resigned following last week's dismissal of general manager W. Briggs, Premier Bennett said Friday.

The premier announced the members and terms of reference of a royal commission appointed to inquire into the operations of the power commission.

He said H. H. Griffin, the commission's top legal adviser, had submitted his resignation but would remain on the staff. A. D. MacLeod had been persuaded to stay on.

Dr. Gordon Schrum, head of the physics department at Simon Fraser University and B.C director of the B.C Research Council, will be chairman of the royal commission. Its other members will be Justice John Dunnett Smith and William M. Anderson, a director of Simpsons-Sears Limited.

Prices Changed While Goods on Shelf, Claim

Diefenbaker Sees Student Exchange Creating Commonwealth University

NEW DELHI (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker told a University of Delhi convocation today he hopes a new Commonwealth system of exchange scholarships will be in full operation within two years.

He said the program launched at the Montreal Commonwealth conference will provide "in effect a university in the Commonwealth."

The plan of exchanging 1,000 students and teachers "will unify wisdom and tolerance among the various peoples of the Commonwealth."

Canada has undertaken to provide for one-quarter of the students and supply one-quarter of the teachers needed for the program in other countries.

The Canadian leader spoke after receiving an honorary degree of doctor of laws—an honor given by the university to two other Canadians in recent years, former prime minister St. Laurent during a similar world tour in 1954 and Dr. Wilder Penfield of Montreal.

The citation read by vice-chancellor Dr. S. Radhakrishnan said the prime minister "a great friend of India, a great son of Canada, is an active worker for peace."

Vice-Chancellor Dr. S. Radhakrishnan, India's vice-president, said Canada could serve as a bridge between the new and old worlds.

Diefenbaker called on university students to uphold liberal arts in the face of the demands of modern sciences. The launching of satellites and attempts to reach the moon faced universities with a special challenge.

"These achievements have been won as a result of the completion of scientific institutions, of highly trained scientists, engineers and technicians. At no time should there be any subordination of scientific study to technics."

General Motors Production Brought to Halt

OSHAWA (CP) — Production stopped at the General Motors plant here Friday night after 38 hours and 15 minutes of the chassis department walked out.

A company spokesman said it was a "work disruption" and did not appear to be a strike. The entire shift of 2,500 men was affected.

Clifford Pilkey, president of local 222, United Automobile Workers of America (CLC), said the workers were dissatisfied because no agreement had been reached in company-union contract negotiations.

He also said some workers claimed supervisors, foremen and office workers were working on car production. He gave no decision concerning this but said it would be raised when bargaining resumes Monday.

The UAW has called a membership meeting for Sunday to discuss the strike action. After Friday night's meeting a large group of workers went to the union hall and they were addressed by Mr. Pilkey.

Report May Not Be Published Until Autumn

OTTWA (CP) — A novel plan for subjecting proposed price increases to the pressures of public opinion was outlined Friday by members of the royal commission on price spreads.

The commission then completed 30 days of public hearings and adjourned to study some 17,000,000 words of written and oral evidence. Its report may not be published until next autumn.

Jean Marchand of Quebec City, secretary-general of the Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor, urged federal and provincial governments to set-up "conciliation tribunals" to hear applications for price adjustments by producers, processors, distributors and industry generator. Retailers and consumers would be excluded at first.

The tribunals would awaken the "conscience of the masses" to pricing developments.

Minor Hockey

The Bruins scored four goals in the last five minutes of play to defeat the Black Hawks 6-2 in one of five peewee hockey league games played this morning. The other four contests were close, low scoring affairs.

Fraser Ritchie scored two Bruin goals while singletons were by Carl Hasan, Ivo Marcormack, Gary Rutherford and Mike Brennan. Don Hickin and Hanna had assists. James Pringle and Gary Lucas tallied for the Hawks with Jimmie Pulmer getting one assist.

Canadiens squeezed out a tight victory over the Rangers to account for the morning's lone shutout. David Hurst fired the Hab goal with Harry Tuchmayer selling up the play.

Maple Leafs and Barons played to a 1-1 stalemate. Ivo Skinner with Larry Wiley assisting, scored for the Leafs while Paul Stinson was the Baron marksman, assisted.

Two goals by Ron Poste gave the Browns a 2-2 deadlock with Quinte. Don Adams assisted on one of Poste's goals. Perry Soule and Robert Fletcher responded for Quinte with assists going to Rickey Fletcher and Don Adams.

Red Wings came up with a 3-1 decision over the Macs. Wing goals were scored by Bruce Christopher, David Halsey and Larry Stewart, all being assisted. Rod Salter fired the Macs' goal with Stephen Hunter assisting.

Hospital Plan To Aid Work of Rehabilitation

KINGSTON (CP) — Federal Health Minister Monteith today told rehabilitation work will be greatly abetted by The Ontario's hospital plan.

He made the prediction in an address at a luncheon attended by more than 200 doctors who attended a one-day symposium on rehabilitation, sponsored by the Rehabilitation Foundation for Poliomyelitis and the Orthopedically Disabled.

Legion Honors Its Minor Soccer Champs

The Canadian Legion Branch 92, held a victory celebration yesterday evening for its championship minor soccer team in the Legion Hall. The Legion soccer team is the only minor soccer team which is sponsored by an organization four-team league. It is also the only team which completed the season undefeated with the regular goalie, team captain Bruce Seamer, going the entire season without a goal scored upon him.

Lloyd Doran, recreational director for the city, presented the championship trophy to the team captain following a brief address in which he expressed the hope that the soccer league would grow to include more than the current group of one hundred boys. Norman Carter, president of the Quinte Minor Soccer League, and Les Digby, who was the prime organizer of the league in 1950, presented Soule and Robert Fletcher with the team emblems. Bill Heasman, branch president, gave the support. Bob Blair for his coaching, and the ladies, Mrs Blair and Mrs. Heasman for the suppers.

Members of the team included: Carl Boomhour, Russell Post, Graydon Spott, Bill Rushlow, Dave Reid, Jim Champagne, Hal Middleton, Tom Stinson, Garry Williams, Allen Campbell, Lorne Hall, Duane Sawyer, Bill McCormack, Keith Taylor, Doug Manyati, George Campbell, Doug Day, Robert Fletcher, and Bruce Seames.

It is expected that Trenton and Batawa will be entering teams in the league next season, and that Picton and Napanee will also be starting teams to play in the Quinte Minor Soccer League.

Lloyd "Red" Doran, recreation director for the City of Belleville, presents the Bill Harvey trophy, emblematic of soccer supremacy in the Quinte Minor Soccer League, to the Legion team captain, Bruce Seames. This marks the third time a Legion team has won the coveted award.

PERRY SINE
Frankford

After a lengthy illness, an aged and highly respected resident of Frankford, Perry Sine, died at his home on Friday evening. He was born on the sixth concession of Sidney township, 91 years ago, his birthday being on November 29th., and with the exception of 11 years spent in Saskatchewan, he had resided in the Frankford community. For many years he conducted a successful farm in Sidney township and in later years before retirement was a carpenter. He was well known and highly respected in his community.

A member of Frankford United Church, he is survived by one sister, Mrs. Howard Dafoe, of Frankford, two grandchildren, Grant and Ross Lott of Halloway Bay, one uncle, Miss Phyllis Sine, at home.

Resting at his late residence, Frankford the funeral announcement appears elsewhere in this edition.

German Team Wins Jumping Contest at Fair

TORONTO (CP) — A German team of jumping horse riders, performing to near - perfection Friday night, easily won the Royal Winter Fair's international team challenge Prix des Nations Trophy to complete its North American sweep of four championships.

The victory was paced by the sensational performance of Fritz Thiedemann, who combined with his 11-year-old horse Finale to clear a total of 22 obstacles over a 46-foot course in two clean rounds.

The Canadian team upset a powerful United States squad to take second place in team standings. Mexico was fourth. Cuba trailed far behind.

Mrs. W.J. Doyle Dies at Ottawa, Ill Long Time

Mrs. Irene Doyle, wife of the late William John Doyle, died Thursday evening, November 20, in Ottawa, following an illness of some months duration.

Born in Wooler, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Aitken, she spent her childhood in Smiths Falls where she received her early education. Later she graduated Queen's University, graduating with a B.A. degree. Following graduation she instituted the High School Course at the Ontario School for the Deaf and taught there until the time of her marriage to William John Doyle of John Lewis Company Ltd.

She was a member of St. Michael's parish and a past president of the Catholic Women's Institute and took a keen work in this and various other organizations proved her diversive talents for planning and leadership. In April 1939 she was elected vice-president of the newly-inaugurated University Women's Club and became the second president in May 1940. During subsequent years she served the club in many capacities, her most recent contribution being the completion of the constitution. She also gave outstanding service on the executive of the Women's Canadian Club and served as president from 1946 to 1951.

Here again she drew up and implemented a new constitution to meet the contingencies of changing times. She next established her efforts towards a long dreamed - of project — the formation of the Belleville Theatre Guild. Here was the nature foresight and consistent driving force which conceived and backed this new movement, which even now provides the means of pleasant educational leisure to a large and varied group. The esteem in which she was held in this field was witnessed by her presence on the Regional Executive of the Dominion Drama Festival.

In addition to these activities she has been very much in demand during the past twenty years as a speaker and public teacher in Belleville secondary schools, where staff and pupils alike hold Mrs. Doyle in high regard and esteem.

Herself possessed of courageous initiative and adventure, she had the rare gift of stimulating this same enthusiasm in others. In fact even in her simplest conversation she seemed to leave the lot of those about her a little bit better than it once was.

A large group of friends and acquaintances as well as her own family, will mourn Mrs. Doyle's passing. She is survived by four sons, William R. of this city, Thomas J. of Sudbury, Dr. John A. of Ottawa and Kevin M. of Toronto by one daughter, Mrs. Sheila Mrs. H. T. Jewson, of Galt, and also by two brothers, Edward Aitken of Smiths Falls, Ont.

The Moira River Conservation Authority will take advantage of the provincial-federal winter works program and has tentatively approved of a $15,000 program to be carried out during the coming winter.

When it is learned that the winter works program was being considered by municipalities as well as an emergency meeting of the municipalities and the tentative program was approved.

Fifty per cent of the labor costs will be paid by the federal government, 25 per cent by the province with the Authority to pay the remaining 25 per cent.

Although details of the program have still to be worked out, Authority fieldman Michael Cleary stated that the winter program would cover work at two conservation areas in Thurlow township, work on roads, clearance of right of ways, improvement of the extensive woodlot and pasture improvement demonstrations and possibly tree planting.

The winter assistance program normally operates from November 1st to December 1st to April 30th, but in the case of conservation authorities it is hoped that the period can be extended to May 15th to allow for tree planting next spring.

TWO YEARS' WORK

If the authority program tentatively planned by the Authority is carried out, Mr. Chubb said it would mean that two years' normal work would be carried out in a few months. The Authority has now approved an expenditure of $2,000 to the end of December, following which the picture will be reviewed. The authority will work with the welfare officers in the respective municipalities, as well as the unemployment insurance officials, to assure that the most needy persons are engaged in the winter work.

The entire program would mean that as many as 20 men could be given continuous employment for the entire winter period, while if severe weather conditions interrupted employment for as high as 30 men would be employed during the shorter period to get the work done.

Need Another Nomination For Councillors in Sidney

A second nomination meeting will have to be called in Sidney township to get enough candidates to the 1959 positions of councillor on their five-man council.

At the township nomination meeting held Friday noon, Harley Hamilton was acclaimed reeve, while Gerald Irvine stepped up from council to fill the nomination meeting for councillors will have to be held. This year's reeve Ken Hazlett declined to run after ten years on township council.

The reeve and deputy reeve in Thurlow township yesterday received acclamation but there is a possibility of an election for councillors and also for school trustees.

Alfred Wickett won acclamation for another term as reeve while Harry Pound had no opposition as deputy reeve and Ross Dafoe for re-election.

In the South Thurlow School Area Gordon Ray and Dougal McLean received acclamation but in North Thurlow School Area Alton Goodman, Arnold Dilts, Garnet Denyes and Borden Brough were nominated. Three are to be elected.

Candidates have until nine o'clock tonight to qualify.

IN MEMORIAM

MILLER. — In loving memory of our dear mother, Christina Miller, who passed away three years ago, November 22nd, 1955. The grandest years shine on earth's dark shore
Of the love we have left behind
We are sure was sudden, the shock severe.
To lose from one we loved so dear.
Memories are treasures no one can share.
Where troubles are no more.
Sadly missed and mourned so well.
As time goes on.
Loving remembered by daughters Lena and Jean and Jean of Peterborough and families.

"TODAY IS THE PUPIL OF YESTERDAY"

(Author's Name Below)

"Miracle" drugs are not perfected overnight. In 1929 Dr. Alexander Fleming noted that Penicillium Notatum would inhibited certain bacterial growth. It then took many more years to perfect it so that it could safely accomplish its wonderful work.

Millions of research dollars are spent on every new drug before it can be released for use. Often expected benefits do not occur and the money is entirely lost. Modern prescriptions can produce almost miraculous cures, but equally amazing is the fact that they cost so little for what they accomplish.

MARMORA

Former Residents Celebrate 60th Anniversary

MARMORA — Mr. and Mrs. George Eady, of Long Branch, celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on November 16th, receiving congratulations from Queen Elizabeth and scores of friends.

The couple, aged 82 and 81, were married in England, coming to Canada with their two eldest children now deceased.

On arriving in Canada they settled in Marmora where the husband was employed for many most of the family claim Marmora as their birthplace.

They have lived in Long Branch for a number of years where Mr. Eady worked as a driving licence examiner.

The anniversary celebrations were quiet due to Mr. Eady being a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital, Toronto, where the family met and at which two daughters, Mrs. Percy Halsted, Mary Frances and Sister Rosanne, presented a cake topped with a date "60."

After this the family and Mrs. Eady returned to the home of their daughter, Mrs. Vernon Green, at 1 Lowell Street, where several friends called to extend congratulations.

THE GOLDEN YEARS

Prepare Now for Your Retirement By Following This 'Cutdown' Plan

By THOMAS COLLINS

"Countdown" on retirement: Age 35 — go see the doctor. If you're in the front office and bucking for the vice presidency next five years will be the rough ones, and you'd better read a couple of books on philosophy because you're going to need some. If you're another guy earning $6,000 a year in an ordinary job that won't get better, the next five years will be the best young men start telling you how to do it. And it's going to make y o u sick.

Age 36, 37, 38, and 39 — good. Still the rat race, but fun. But don't gulp. Sip it slowly, but sip it all. For a man, even with a couple years of the job, these are wonderful years.

Age 40 — you've your 60th birthday go ask about your health insurance to determine that both you and your wife will be insured beyond 65. With a private policy you can't be cancelled on your policy. At age 60 start going to your doctor every six months for a checkup, and see that your wife does the same . . . Make a will, if you haven't one, and review it every two years. There are multiplying circumstances here — make a will . . . Check on your pension to see if your wife can get part of it after you die, when you must sign papers to that effect. Get this from your company a projection on what your pension will be after 65 . . . Appraise all your wealth, including savings accounts, government bonds, stocks and bond deposits, stocks, bonds or whatever-you-call-'em if you might profitably lump it into two or three safe 4 per cent investments. And be done with it . . . Teach your wife what she must know about money if you die.

Age 62 — go to the west coast on your vacation (for the sun, not because you went south). Start making friends at least 10 years younger than you are. Start going to need them as your contemporaries start going to the graveyard . . . Identify yourself with some church if you haven't already become so. It's later than you etc., etc.

Age 63 — this is the crucial year. Decide now whether y o u will stay at home or move at 65, while you're at it see a realtor, show somewhere if you can. You will wonder again if you don't. Don't. Whether you're at it, get some honest man to appraise the actual worth of your home. If you move one, and another honest man to estimate what it'll cost to re-s e l l it when you decide to move . . . Buy a new, standard-make car that you can pay for before 65. It'll likely last you as long as you want to drive . . . Buy for two, not where you'll live but where your survivor will. Start lining up a job if you want one after 65, and start working part-time on the weekends and evenings if you must . . . If you want no job, start getting familiar with whatever activity you intend to follow — music, painting, writing, hobby, charity, politics, whatever . . . stop bucking for vice-president, raise . . . Start your leave-without-pay to your vacation (of at least three weeks) in the year in which retirement will be.

Age 64 — you've had it. Accept the fact . . . cut your standard of living to what the age-65 income will be, banking the surplus. . . Start inviting the grandchildren to spend one night a week with you, if they live close. Start inviting your children and their families to spend their vacations with you . . . buy, and pay for now, a good wardrobe of long-wearing quality clothes that can be mended . . . Set about converting any uncovered life insurance to what you and your wife need more than death-protection . . . start giving all help to the upcoming young man in your company so he can roll out the red carpet for you when you come visiting after 65 . . . Get it out from under your feet . . . tack your last vacation to Florida or Bermuda, leave early and quickly, and duck the retirement party.

TO TRAIN OFFICERS

TORONTO (CP) — Twelve future review officers in Ontario's safety driver demerit-point system are to take a two-week's course at the University of Toronto. The course will include lectures on detection of problem drivers, operation of the points system, case review, enforcement of regulations, appeals, handling of special cases such as alcohol and diabetics.

Ross Burtt, Jas. MacDonald Qualify for Mayoralty Race

TRENTON — Two candidates for mayor, eight for two vacancies on the Board of Education and two for the Public Utilities Commission will run for municipal elections to be held Monday, December 1. This was announced by clerk-treasurer O.W. Larry last night at 9 p.m. when qualifications closed.

The town's present mayor, Ross Burtt, will seek re-election and running against him will be Councillor James MacDonald.

Aldermen Ken Lange and Wm. Whitley were the only two to qualify for the board of control. They are: Paul Tripp, Mrs. Elizabeth Bedford, John A. Tyrrle, Ronald Birkett and Robert Barlow.

For the Public Utilities Commission Bert Atkinson and Dan Whitley were the only two to qualify. Atkinson is at present the chairman of the PUC and Mr. Whitley will seek office to elect him to his first year on the commission.

At 8:40 p.m. last night only six had qualified for town council and when a letter was received from Councillor Ray Fox stating he did not intent to seek qualification it appeared there would be no election for council. However Lloyd Weese and Councillor Whitley decided they would qualify during the remaining 20 minutes to make an election possible.

Trenton voters will also be asked on election day to state who they or not they are in favor of a staggered term for councillors, that is three of the councillors would be elected for two year terms and two for one year, and this is approved by the tax-payers this year only three council seats will be vacant in December, 1959.

The elections will cost the town about $1,200 in administration fees, etc.

EIGHT TO SERVE LIFE

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Eight Negro boys, the youngest 14, were sentenced to life in prison here Friday after they pleaded guilty to raping a 25-year-old white mother.

All Merchants Will Be Urged To Join Body

TRENTON — Letters will be sent out to all merchants in Trenton asking them to join the newly formed Trenton Merchants' Association, the executive of the group were told this morning when they gathered at the Twin Elms Dining Room in a breakfast meeting at 7:30 a.m.

The president of the group, John A. Lyttle, had listed all the names of the various businesses and industries and handed the list over to Doug Whitley for further action. The letter had been drawn up by the Secretary, Jean Phillips and will tell the merchants of the group and its aims. Along with the letter will go a cheque to be signed by the merchant and returned to the secretary. The cheque will be made out for $10, the amount of dues for the coming year.

Various methods of advertising the group were discussed and among them were stickers for cars, an advertising flyer for Christmas shopping and also members to say they are members in their newspaper ads.

MAN WINDOW CONTEST

The motto for this month will be, "Make Trenton your Christmas town" and in conjuction with this a window competition will be held. Three prizes are offered will be $25, second $15 and third $10. Judges for the window will be Mayor Ross Burtt, Chief of Police Jack Taylor and Miss Hazel Farley.

The executive also decided to hold a "Get Acquainted Dance" on Wednesday December 10, to be held in the Queenway Hotel if arrangements can be made. Door prizes will be given away. President John Lyttle appointed Ben Minared as chairman of the dance committee and Doug Whitley and Ernie Jones members.

It was suggested at the meeting that there is a potential membership of about 350 in Trenton and this would include industries as well. It was decided however that only one industrial representative would be allowed to sit on the group's executive.

KEEP PARKING LOT

Doug Whitley reported that he had contacted Mrs. Florence Kernohan the use of her lot on Dundas Street west for a parking area. He said that they had formed him that she had not made up her mind but would be done with the lot when it is cleared of the fire debris, but will let the association know within the next few days. It is expected crews will be finished clearing the lot next Wednesday.

The nine members at the meeting also decided they would not take over the old duties of the former Chamber of Commerce, chiefly because of the expense entailed.

Two Quebec Cars Collide

TRENTON — Two late model cars met on the corner of Dundas Street West and Dufferin Ave. yesterday and total damage to the two cars was estimated at around $500. Both drivers were from the province of Quebec.

Andrew Kardos, 49, of Montreal, driving a 1957 car, told Trenton police he had stopped for the red light on the corner while being wet and Dundas West when the other car ran into the rear of his vehicle.

Leopold Clement, 40, of Lenoxville, Quebec, driving a 1958 model car, told the police he was approaching the corner when he saw the other car stop but was unable to stop his car fast enough due to the pavement being wet and slippery. He apparently swung to the right in trying to avoid a collision but hit the right rear of the Kardos vehicle.

Damage to the Montreal car was to the right rear fender, trunk lid quarter panel and tail pipe, and was estimated at $200. To the Lenoxville car damages were caused to the hood, grille, bumper and right front fender and were estimated at $300.

The accident was investigated by Constable Bruce Westfall.

Chilly Breezes Reduce Activity At Market Here

Not too many people were selling today in the chilly breezes which swept across the multi open market square this morning. As usual for this time of year, there was a goodly supply of apples on hand, most varieties priced around 15c to 75c a basket or $2.50 a hamper, with the exception of Talman Sweets, which have not been too plentiful, selling at 25 cents a basket and $3.50 a hamper. Cider was available at a dollar a gallon, which price has held fairly constant throughout the season.

"Mums added a gay note of color to the market. Hothouse ones, they were selling at $3.00 to $3.50 a dozen.

Eggs were priced at: extra large, 55 cents; grade A large, 50 cents; medium, 45 cents. To the homemaker who bakes, 35c, $1.00, and $1.30 for one, two, four and eight-pound tins, respectively.

Fowl was selling at 45 cents pound with chickens priced at their usual 30 cents a pound.

Potatoes sold at 50 cents a basket or $2.25 a hamper; cooking onions were 60 cents a basket and Spanish onions were 10c a pound.

Carrots were selling at 6c a pound and turnips at 10c a bunch. Turnips of good quality were priced at 10 cents a bunch, 6c, or $1.25 a bushel. Large squash were selling between 25c and 50c apiece.

Christmas cake was seen on the indoor market as the first items this season, priced at 65c a pound.

Horseradish roots were available at 10c a bunch. Fresh bunches for a quarter. Fresh sauerkraut was also available, priced at 25 cents a quart.

Young kittens were available in light tiger stripe patterned coats, providing the prospective owner could catch them.

Acclamations Likely in Towel And Hungerford

Acclamations both at the village of Tweed and in the township of Hungerford are indicated following Friday's nomination meetings in both municipalities.

At Tweed incumbent Douglas Spencer, and Edgar Jones were nominated for reeve, while James Halpenny, Wallace Moffatt, Robert A. Wood, Tracey Quinn, Jack Rashotte, George Hughes and R. W. F. Fleming were nominated for councillors.

There will be no election for council with Messrs. Halpenny, Quinn, and Rashotte of this year's council returning. Robert Wood is retiring and Wallace Moffatt will take his place.

Sam Curry received an acclamation uillities commission, and George Owens had no opposition as member of the Consolidated School Board.

In Hungerford township James Klinkin received acclamation as reeve while Lloyd Vardy as deputy reeve, although Vincent Hairy was also nominated for the position.

Council nominees were Arthur Bales, Earl Alexander, Fergus Cassidy, R. Clarence Graham, Harvey Meeks, Thomas Gaffney, Bernard Hunt, Vincent Haley. It is indicated that Mr. Hunt, Mr. Haley and Mr. Graham will decid to council by aclamation allable, priced at 25 cents a quart.

UNLOCK "TREASURE STORE OF POWER"

Interesting, indeed, is the announcement by Canadian Westinghouse at Hamilton that it has developed apparatus which will transmit 600,000 volts 650 to 700 miles.

This, says a report on the Hamilton firm's achievement, will unlock "Canada's treasure store of water power resources in remote areas."

This announcement comes just two days after James S. Duncan, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, told the Gordon committee of Canadian government organizations that Hydro would have to spend $280,000,000 a year for U.S. coal by 1980 if nuclear power is not then available.

The Westinghouse announcement appears to offer a third alternative to the use of coal or the use of uranium.

Of course, much depends on the location of the "treasure store of water power resources in remote areas." These resources are probably located in the hinterland of Quebec, but might still be within the range of Westinghouse's new apparatus. We would expect that Ontario, too, has some undeveloped resources in the far north. Ontario Hydro engineers moved to the St. Lawrence as the last major undeveloped water power resource, but we have before expressed our belief that this might have referred to sites within reasonable distances of areas where the power would be used. The Westinghouse announcement might alter the picture.

It is interesting to note that only a week or so ago an official of the Ontario Hydro, reporting on a trip to the Soviet Union, stated that the Russians were transmitting power at much higher voltages than those used in Ontario. Ontario Hydro Commission lines carry up to 230,000 volts. The Russians, if our memory serves us aright, were transmitting at almost double this voltage. The Westinghouse apparatus will transmit power at close to three times the present peak voltage used in Ontario and is regarded, we are told, as a major breakthrough in power transmission.

DRUG FOR ATOMIC SCIENTISTS

Biologists at Chalk River are experimenting with a drug which may protect man against atomic radiation. Dr. H. B. Newcombe, head of the biology division of Atomic Energy of Canada, said that research to date has been only with rats and tests are still in the preliminary stage. No claims are made about the effectiveness of the drug for humans; still there are hopes it may eventually be developed to the stage where it would provide some protection against highly radioactive particles.

Amongst such highly radioactive products would be the dust raised by an atomic bomb, but its application to wartime emergencies would not, perhaps, be its most important use. Atomic and hydrogen bombs would still pose a terrible threat. A drug of this nature, however, which would protect human beings would be invaluable for use in the event of accidents at atomic power plants and other atomic installations. Only the other day a Yugoslav scientist who had been exposed to radioactivity in the course of his experiments died. A drug of this nature is as necessary in the atomic age ahead of us as was a parachute during the early days of aviation.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR THE MARINES

An unnamed spokesman at the El Toro marine corps air station in California has us green with envy.

A jet fighter overshot the airfield, crashed on railway tracks and was hit by a train. Jet fuel exploded into flames. Yet no one was severely injured.

The identified marine spokesman summed the situation up in one sentence.

"It'd say the good Lord had his arm around a lot of people."

People who tell things to the marines could hire a battery of writers and hold a month's rehearsals and still never come up with a sentence to match that one in a contest for picturesque language.

SASKATCHEWAN OIL

This year has seen a steadily growing total of oil production in Saskatchewan. Before the year end there is every prospect that there will be well over 3,600 wells capable of producing.

A year ago on Nov. 6, the Department of Mineral Resources reported a total of 3,123 wells capable of production, and on Nov. 12 this year, the total had grown to 3,599, an increase for the year of 477 wells.

A year ago there were 165 natural gas wells capable of production and this year on Nov. 12 the number had grown to 191. (Moose Jaw Times-Herald.)

EYES

By EDGAR A. GUEST

Eyes are never half so bright
Or never half so fair,
Nor seem to dance with such delight
As when the love light's there.

And, oh, how sad those eyes appear
When love's beyond recall!
Those eyes, bedimmed by many a tear,
Are leaden as the pall.

'Tis love, that makes the eyes so bright;
'Tis love, the sparkling wine
That fills the soul with pure delight
And makes the mind to shine.

Letter To The Editor

Urges Rendition Of Handel's Messiah

Editor,
Ontario Intelligencer:
Has Belleville a musical society or union? The reason I ask is, I wondered if the Christmas production of Handel's "Messiah" is to be rendered during the coming Christmas season. There is no better way in which to celebrate the beauty and glory of Christmas than by rendering the "Messiah."

On a visit to England last December, I was privileged to be present in Durham Cathedral when the "Messiah" was beautifully rendered. I feel that a similar performance could easily be given here in Belleville by the choirs of the various churches. It would give a lovely send-off to the coming Christmas season. Sir John Stainer and Sir Joseph Barnby were famous in giving Oratorios of this nature at Christmas with full orchestra and massed choirs. Many with many others, I feel that Christmas without the "Messiah" leaves the sacred festival rather hauntingly incomplete.

Japan Builds High Tower

Japan Reports

The world's highest independent steel tower, patterned after Tokyo, will be officially opened on December 22, the birthday of Crown Prince Akihito.

The giant tower, 1,085 feet tall, will be 333 feet higher than Eiffel Tower in Paris by 86 feet. Four television stations will transmit from a 328-foot observation deck included in the structure. There will be a restaurant, a planetarium and a six-story science museum in the centre of the lower part of the structure, it is said.

At the suggestion of many Japanese citizens, the unique structure will be called the Tokyo Tower.

What a Landlord Japan Times, Tokyo

An Ueno-area landlord has kept the monthly rent of 33 tenants at 18 yen ($5 at current exchange rate) for 18 years even though all the others have doubled or tripled their rents.

The landlord, who owns two storey affairs of seven rooms each. His tenants actually asked him to raise the rent, but Mr. Hanshiro Yamaguchi refused when "threatened" by rumors that the rate would be "the houses are getting old."

The ultra-generous landlord doesn't even bother to ask his tenants sublets a room for $30 a month. Nor will he accept rent from any tenant who is ill.

He Loves Terrible World

Cape Breton Post —

Long before his son Charles became famous for winning a portion on a television quiz program, Mark Van Doren was famous among his better-educated people as a poet and inspiring teacher. Professor Van Doren (of Columbia University, New York) now has written his autobiography and it is a passage that achieves the paradox of being both humanly revealing — all the more so as it is written in the third person — and intellectually impersonal. Van Doren personally has found life happy on the whole, and for no good reason, I am happy."

A Lift for Living

Harvest of Human Nature

By DR. RALPH W. SOCKMAN

As we in the United States approach our national season of Thanksgiving, our minds go on a pilgrimage. We turn from the industry surroundings of the present to the rustic scenes of the Pilgrim Fathers. Our spirits are inclined to leave the paved streets for the quiet countryside. Our thoughts go back from the things man has made to the things God has made. Our human natures hear the call of nature and our voices raise the song of "harvest home."

Living in a great city, among towering structures, I would join you in a journey back to the basic simplicities of life, back to faithful old Mother Earth that feeds her children with the fruits of her soil. I would look with you at the fertile fields stretching from the hills of Vermont to the plains of Texas, at the animals nourishing their young, at homes echoing with children, and barns filled with food, at birds which sow not, nor reap, nor gather into barns and yet somehow are fed by their Heavenly Father. These are the roads our minds travel toward Thanksgiving Day. My thoughts go back to the Ohio farm where I was born.

Nevertheless, we must be realistic. When we try to get back to the simplicities of the soil, so many factors intervene. In our modern machine age, we do not seem to deal so directly with the God of the harvests as did the Pilgrim Fathers. Living close to the soil, they were conscious of the Divine Partnership. They reaped what they sowed and ate what they raised. When God's Providence was bountiful, they were prosperous.

But with us, it is not so simple. So many human elements come between us and the fruits of our labors. We raise our crops, but their value depends on distant markets and trade agreements between nations. Our fathers in a simpler day lived by the labor of their hands and the sweat of their brows, but our living is determined by the labor of hands in far-off factories, and by the sweat of brows we have not seen. Our agricultural ancestors worked with nature; we work more and more with human nature. And in these human factors there is so much uncertainty that many question whether it is still true that "whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap."

"CAST THY BREAD"

Our situation calls to mind a puzzling passage of Scripture, which almost all of us can quote, but which most of us do not seem to believe. It is this: "Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days."

Think of what probably lay behind that odd saying of Ecclesiastes. Picture the Nile River at flood, inundating the fields of an Egyptian farmer. It is time to sow his seed, but over his land lie the muddy waters of the ancient stream. Shall he wait until the waters recede? If so, he may delay till the time of sowing be passed. Finally, rather than wait too long, he rows out in his flat-bottomed boat and casts the seed upon the waters. Some of it is carried away by the swirling currents, but some is deposited by the falling waters in the fertile silt left by the flood. Despite some loss, the ancient farmer thus found that it paid to cast his bread upon the waters.

When we talk about sowing and reaping, we need to remember we are dealing with a society that is fluid, and often even flood. In working with human nature we must be even more patient than in handling nature, though I confess my admiration for the fortitude of the farmers in drought-stricken, flood-ravaged regions. But in sowing seeds in human nature we may have to wait more than seven years for a good crop.

I think of a mother who raised a crop of three boys. When I first met her, she was worried about those lads. They did not seem to be showing results of her good teaching. She thought her work had been in vain. That mother has passed away. But I wish she could see her son now. (Perhaps she does.) They are showing the harvest of her sowing.

The way to trust God's harvest is not to keep our eyes on every deed or gift to see whether it is paid back. If the farmer knew for a certainty how many bushels of grain he would harvest for every speck of seed he puts into the ground, he would never develop the patience, the resourcefulness, or the thrift which make good farming. If the fisherman were dead sure in advance how many pounds of fish he would catch, there would be the sport of it? If you gave to a friend as much as he would match in return, would you call it friendship? If the Pilgrim Fathers had been guaranteed a safe crossing and a sure harvest we would not be observing Thanksgiving Day.

Days and Customs of All Faiths

St. Clement's Early Letter

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Sunday, Nov. 23 — The earliest known Christian writing outside the New Testament is a letter written by St. Clement, the fourth Pope, to the troublesome Christians in the ancient city of Corinth. Nowhere in the letter does the author identify himself, but scholars in general accept the idea that Clement was the Pope. It is just a plea to the Corinthians to stop fighting among themselves and to send him some assurance that they are getting together as Christians they should. The Roman Catholic Church sees in this letter evidence that in the very earliest times (around 100 A.D.) the Bishop of Rome had extraordinary oversight of all Christendom.

Nineteen centuries later, one great value the letter has to us is that it tells us something we would not otherwise know about St. Paul and his missionary journeys. Clement says Paul "taught righteousness unto the whole world and reached the farthest bounds of the west." This one statement has given rise to the speculation that St. Paul preached in Spain, and, which is less likely, that he even got to Britain Isles, which were at that time under Roman occupation. and accessible to anyone who was as arduous a traveller as St. Paul was.

Clement is the patron saint of blacksmiths, because of the tradition that he was himself a blacksmith. Legendary, elaborated on some slender thread of fact, has it that he was the first man ever to shoe a horse. Because of this folklore, part fact and part fantasy, English blacksmiths used to celebrate St. Clement's Day with great processions in which they carried an effigy of "Old Clem" in a chair with a wooden anvil in front of him, and tongs and hammer in his hands.

There is another legend, not really so ancient because it did not appear until 300 years after his death, that Clement was martyred by being bound to an anchor and thrown into the sea, and that once a year on Nov. 23 the waters receded for three miles and showed that his body had been delivered by angels in a marble mausoleum at the spot where he had died. S.O.S.

Today or Thursday — Through La Share Our Surplus program Church World Service will in 1958 distribute more than 300 million pounds of U. S. Government surplus food to the people of 20 foreign countries. This program goes on throughout the year, but it has become the custom to turn the spotlight on it at the Thanksgiving season.

Today in Washington Cathedral, in Champaign, Ill., and in St. Francisco Cathedral there will be huge regional gatherings to express thanks for the abundance God has given to America, and for the privilege of sharing it with the needy and oppressed of other lands. Similar services on a smaller scale will be held in state capitals and local communities. Some, however, will be held, on the United States' Thanksgiving Day instead of today.

Church World Service works only through the churches. It acts as intermediary agent, collecting money from the churches and food from the government. The food is provided free; the money is used only for distribution costs. Everything received at services today and Thursday will augment S.O.S. finis. One dollar will deliver more than 300 pounds of food to a foreign destination.

Weddings

RONALDSON — SMITH

St. John's Anglican Church, Ameliasburg, was the setting on Saturday, November 15, for a quiet but pretty wedding when the Reverend William Llewellyn united in marriage Elizabeth Ann Smith, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Smith, of Belleville, to George Gordon Ronaldson, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Donaldson, of Millbridge, Ontario.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length dress of white brocade with white accessories, and corsage of red roses.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Betty Ferguson, sister of the bridegroom, was attired in a grey street-length gown with white accessories and corsage of red roses.

Mr. Elton Ferguson, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was groomsman.

After the ceremony a reception for the immediate families was held in Belleville at the home of the bride, where a buffet table was appointed with a lace cloth and centred with a three-tier wedding cake.

The bride's gift to the matron of honor was a pink leather, engraved jewel case bearing the date in gold lettering. The bridegroom's gift to his groomsman was a travel clock.

Previous to their marriage, the young couple was entertained at two parties, one at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Ferguson, Cooper, and one at the home of the bride's parents, with Mrs. Don Anderson as hostess, and at a presentation by Lydia Lodge 330, when the bride-to-be was presented with a three-decker tid-bit holder.

The young couple will make their home in Millbridge, Ontario.

MESSENGER — FIRE

CAMPBELLFORD — St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Campbellford, was decorated with red and white mums on Saturday, November 15, on the occasion of the wedding of Elizabeth Gertrude Fire and Robert John Firie and the late Mrs. Firie, and Thomas Messenger, son of Mrs. Arthur Messenger and the late Mr. Messenger, all of Campbellford. The Rev. J. C. Moloney officiated.

The nuptial music was played by Miss Marie Croson, the soloist, Miss Muriel Heagle, sang "Ave Maria," "On This Day" and "O Perfect Love."

Given in carriage by her father, the bride wore white French velvet fashioned on princess lines, with lily-point sleeves and full chapel train. Her shoulder length veil was caught to a crown of seed pearls, and she carried a white pearl prayer book with a white orchid and stephanotis.

The maid of honor, Miss Rosemary Firie, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaids, Miss Juna Irwin and Miss Nancy Wright, were identically gowned in French velvet in waltz-length princess style dresses with matching accessories. They carried muffs of white lace over satin with sprays of red roses.

Mr. Robert Barrette of Oshawa, attended the bridegroom. The ushers were Messrs. Claude Paul and Dante Pace of Campbellford.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the Sky View Lounge, Havelock, Ont., Mrs. Edward Forestell, aunt of the bride, received in a turquoise navy crepe dress with similar colored accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother also received, wearing a two-piece teal blue dress with ash rose accessories, mink furs and a corsage of tea roses.

For a wedding trip to points west and the United States, the bride wore a red wool suit with black Persian lamb collar, black bag and shoes with white half gloves and a corsage of white orchids. Upon their return the couple will take up residence at 171 Front St., Campbellford.

Out-of-town guests were present from Chicago, Calgary, Brighton, Eastamore, Trenton, Oshawa, Hastings, Foxboro and Stirling.

REDNER — PURVES

On Saturday, November 8th, at 2.00 p.m. a pretty wedding was solemnized in Calvary Temple, Belleville, by the Reverend Laurie L. Price, assisted by the Reverend Hope Smith, pastors of the Temple, when Miss Laura Jean Purves, of Foxboro, B.R. 1, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Purves, became the bride of Ronald Bernard Redner, of R. R. 1 Carrying Place, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Redner of Carrying Place.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length dress of white brocaded satin with pink snapdragons and ferns interspersed. She wore a matching pink velvet jacket. She adorned the chancel rail and white satin bows the guest pews.

Mr. Mervin Saunders, church organist, accompanied the soloist, Mr. James McKay, of Carrying Place, in his rendition of "The Lord's Prayer," before the ceremony, and "Together with Jesus" during the signing of the marriage register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her bridal gown of floor-length white velvet net over satin, featuring a fitted satin bodice having a matching bolero with round, Peter Pan collar with scalloped seed pearl edging. Her bridal headpiece of net circular net trimmed with wide lace edging was held by a multi-colored sequin headdress. The graceful skirt was accented by a white satin cummerbund and she carried a white Bible crested with pearl, Sweetheart roses and fern with satin rosebud-knotted streamers.

Mrs. James McKay, of Carrying Place, sister of the bridegroom, as matron of honor, was attired in a street-length gown of midnight blue velvet fashioned with fitted bodice, scooped neckline and three-quarter sleeves. She wore white, feathered headdress, white gloves, and carried a crescent-shaped bouquet of white and pink 'mums and fern.

Miss Margaret Lott, of Belleville, as bridesmaid, was attired in a dress similarly to the matron of honor, and carried similar flowers.

Little Miss Joy Redner, sister of the bridegroom, was attired in pink and demure in her dusty-rose velvet frock with pink floral headdress, and carrying a basket of baby 'mums, pink snapdragons and fern.

Master Stanley Purves, brother of the bride, was natty in his navy blue blazer and grey trousers.

Mr. Jerry Wager, of Peterborough, attended the bridegroom, while Mr. James Redner, and Mr. Gordon Redner, of Carrying Place, brothers of the bridegroom, ushered the guests.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the Hotel Quinte club room for 85 guests at the bride's mother, as the bridegroom's mother, received the guests. The former was attired in sapphire blue lace over a tiered, sheath style gown with winter-white accessories and corsage of white 'mums mingled with bronze and silver tips and fern; and the latter in a slate grey metallic striped gown of sapphire blue accessories and corsages of white 'mums tipped with bronze and silver.

The bride's table with white damask, was centred by a three-tier wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom beneath an arch of pink and white roses, and misted about the base with pink tulle. The bridal bouquets and flower girl's basket, accented the oval table.

For the wedding trip to the United States, via Windsor and Detroit, stopping at Niagara Falls on the return trip, the bride chose a two - piece ensemble of pink and beige Scottish tweed; pink accessories, black purse and shoes and corsage of pink Sweetheart roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Redner will reside at 141 King Street, Belleville, Ontario.

Guests were present from Trenton, Frankford, Batawa, Toronto, Peterborough, Port Colborne, Brookfield and Bancroft.

The bride, prior to her marriage, was honored at a cup and saucer shower held at the home of Mrs. Lorne Ash, Foxboro; at a kitchen shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bergard Hollinger, of Foxboro; at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Lott, Belleville. Also at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miller, opened the meeting. The secretary's and treasurer's reports followed.

The room count for the month was won by Mrs. V. Rolund's room.

The guest speaker for the evening was Mr. A. Ward, honorary president of the Association for the Mentally Retarded Children. Mr. Ward gave an enlightening talk on retarded children and explained the needs for a special school for these children which has been now organized in the city of Belleville. At present it is just a one-room class with another room opening in January 1959. It is expected that more people will be enlightened as to their needs and give all the co-operation possible.

After the meeting adjourned refreshments were served by Mrs. Latham and helpers.

This - - - and That

By HARRIET STEVENS

We were driving home from work one day this week at noon when an unusual incident occurred at one of our main intersections. The traffic was at its noon's busiest and, of course, there was the added need for care on account of the children walking and riding bicycles. At the centre of the intersection a little girl riding her bicycle lost her shoe. Whether her foot slipped on the pedal or not we don't know. In any case, the little girl did what anyone would probably do — she acted from instinct. The shoe dabbled on the pavement and the bicycle rider completed a swoop right at the centre of the intersection to retrieve the lost shoe.

It was a minor incident, simple and natural thing. It was so because there was a momentary lull and nothing to do with anything happened, not even the screech of tires burned on the pavement. From the time of the incident until we reached home, we kept thinking how easily it happened and might have happened, all because of a loose shoe.

In our mail we receive many circulars that have to do with the avoidance of accidents and little points are made to the children with, but we never recall having seen it mentioned that they should see that their shoe laces are tied. We are happy to mention it in case the children of our readers might become careless with loose shoes and bicycles.

According to the latest population statistics published by the United Nations, the world population is now increasing at the rate of 1.8 per cent per year (47,000,000 each year). At this rate the present total of 2,737,000,000 will be doubled by the end of the century.

The increasing proportion of the elderly and the diminishing proportion of children are creating a new form of society in the countries of Western Europe and North America. By 1960 the over-sixties in Sweden and Great Britain will constitute one-tenth of the total working power. If intellectual, emotional and personality changes are a feature of increasing years, what is to be the pattern of society? Such thoughts suggest that a study of those who seem to have reached successful old age is essential."

"Such thoughts" are receiving more and more attention throughout the world and this is just one more field in which the World Health Organization and Unesco are taking an important role. There is an interesting city within a city in Denmark. There is a community within a city of Copenhagen called "De Gamlies By" or "The Old People's Town." We are told that the way of thought in this special community is "Old age is relative and depends not on years but on companions." It is primarily an institution but the occupants are encouraged to live as independently as possible. They belong to clubs, play cards and games, the municipal library is popular and lectures by a seventy-year old librarian, they look after vegetable gardens, the flats are ivy covered and the streets are attractive. Often concerts are given by the various groups of entertainers and musicians.

The Danes, however, not seem to us to respect any age these days but it is significant and a comment on the most serious thing the Chinese have held 'old age' in veneration and respecting of their history.

Sophocles lived to be 90 and wrote some of his most famous works after 75. Titian, Goethe and Verdi also did some of their greatest work after 75, 85 and even 90. The new science of old age is seeking the answers to many questions in a world where population and preparation for war constitute serious threats to peace. The question is asked in a recent issue again from The UNESCO Courier. So many readers have asked about this remarkable publication that T & T is happy to suggest that they write to the Queen's Printer, Ottawa for their subscription(s). It is a magazine filled with fact and authoritative information.

Our second thought is taken from a letter to the editor. Eugene Makuzd of France writes that he feels that there is a great need for a "Primary School Leaving Age" (he says it should be 14). "Help", he pleads, "to develop among young people the knowledge of living a brotherhood for which you stand. Help them to see that true problems of the world—and subscriptions will pour in." People all over the world are in need of peace. "This I know without being told. The time to live as I grow old. Tis time short pleasures now to hold."

Of little Life the best to make And manage wisely the last stake."

Recent Resident Feted by Surprise Party

A most enjoyable surprise party was held Thursday evening at Avondale School for Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Hendricks who have recently moved from the community to Belleville.

On entering they were greeted by a rousing, "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," and "For He's More We Get Together."

A suitable address was read by Mrs. J. M. McLean, after which a barrel-back tapestry rocking chair was presented by Mrs. J. Stewart, for which both appreciated their appreciation.

The remainder of the evening was spent in bridge and euchre, with Mr. J. Stewart, master of ceremonies, presenting high prizes for euchre to Mrs. P. Boulton, Tom Anger, consolation Mrs. H. Arkenlin, Irwin Knight, Bridge, Max McLean.

Refreshments were conveyed by Mrs. T. Anger and Mrs. S. Longo. During refreshments, a presentation of a Past President's pin for Home and School was made by George Day to Mrs. Lyle Jones.

Former residents of Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Smith, of 2713 Oakwood St., Erie, Pa., are celebrating their golden anniversary this month.

Stories of Famous Hymn

By HORACE B POWELL

"O LOVE DIVINE, THAT STOOPED TO SHARE"—

O Love divine, that stooped to share
Our sharpest pang, our bitterest tear!
On Thee we cast each earth-born care;
We smile at pain while Thou art near.

Though long the weary way we tread,
And sorrow crown each lingering year,
No path we shun, no darkness dread,
Our hearts still whispering, Thou art near.

When drooping pleasure turns to grief,
And trembling faith is changed to fear,
The murmuring wind, the quivering leaf,
Shall softly tell us, Thou art near!

On Thee we fling our burdening woe,
O Love divine, forever dear;
Content to suffer while we know,
Living and dying, Thou art near!

Here is a hymn which reminds us of the Saviour's readiness and willingness to share the cares and burdens of earth-dwelling men and women and to heal their suffering just as He did when He lived among them nearly 2,000 years ago.

The American poet Oliver Wendell Holmes composed the hymn in 1859 and Sir Henry Williams Baker, English churchman, supplied the music seven years later. Mr. Holmes was one of America's literary giants of the nineteenth century and his poems are popular through all the world. He also wrote the hymn, "Lord Of All Being, Throned Afar". Few of his admirers are aware of the fact that he was a man of medicine as well as a man of letters. Some of his best-loved poems were written in mid-century while he was serving as professor of anatomy and nursing at Harvard University. He was born at Cambridge, Massachusetts in 1809 and was a child of the manse. It is said that Dr. Abiel Holmes, D.D., was a Congregational minister.

Oliver attended Harvard, was graduated there in 1829, and spent several years in post-graduate medical study in America and in Europe. He seemed to enjoy his writing more and more as the years passed, and he was a prolific writer of books and collections of poetry when he was called heaven-ward, one day in 1894.

Going Places

Civilized Extortion Practised To Perfection in Gay Paree

By SHIRLEY AND BOB SLOANE

As everybody knows, it pays to have a working knowledge of the language of any country you visit. Here are some of the French terms, otherwise known as fractured English, we found most useful in our recent visit to Paris:

1. "Le Discount." Pfiancially, this phrase can be as valuable as Groucho Marx's secret word. The proper parlaying of it can get you gloves, handbags and perfumes more cheaply than anything but the Welcome Wagon.

The Canadian dollar currently is worth about 420 French francs, except when you actually pay in dollars, when it is worth considerably more. Depending on how good any given merchant's relations are with his Swiss bank, which pays him a better than the going rate in France, he will reward you "un discount" ranging from 20 to 40 per cent off the posted price if you pay in foreign money.

Some places will do this for cash dollars but all will be tempted by travelers' and personal checks. Since traveler's checks net $1 per $100 and one did not encounter a single shop that was not delighted to accept personal checks, for shopping purposes it seems extremely desirable for the artist to put all his spending money in his checking account. (No tax is also avoided this way).

Even hotels allow 10 per cent account for payment in foreign funds. Unspent francs cannot be converted into American or Canadian money, so it is wise to arrange no more than is needed for taxis and taxis. (What coins you're stuck with will make a pretty necklet.)

CANADIAN MENU

2. "Le steak and french fries." This, of course, is French for "un bifteksauharicand avec pommes de terres soufflees," which is what most Canadian and American tourists order in the exotic Parisian restaurants because it sounds so French. Waiter captains speak English so well that most visitors sense enough to do so.

So much for today's French lesson. Some other facts the Canadian in Paris should know:

It is unthinkable to have breakfast anywhere in your hotel but in your room. The management discourages breakfast in the dining room in no uncertain terms and if you ever tried it the headwaiter would undoubtedly wither you with a look that would make it unlikely you would every try again.

The local snack is not left in rooms, but you can get it if you call for it. Toilet tissue is hard enough so that you'd be well advised to bring your own. Disagreeable hotel custom is the provision, on request, of terry-cloth bathrobes.

The telephone service is not as bad as you've heard. It is simply inaudible. Static and antiquated amplifiers make it a 50-50 proposition that you will hear anything if you do get your party, which, in all fairness, you usually do.

You can get late fashions in the smart shops, but not the very latest. Couturiers get a two-year patent on their most current styles.

Drinking water is palatable and safe in Paris, even though Parisians rarely drink it. Restaurants serve bottled water—automatically when Canadian tourists walk in.

You won't hear the storied tail horns of Paris. A ban on horns except for emergencies is strictly enforced.

Most menus are handwritten, with flat house specialties in red ink.

Seine soup a disappointment. They taste like clams, only not as good.

A quick way to reduce francs to dollar equivalent is to divide by 400 and knock off a couple of zeros. Thus 20,000 francs is roughly $50.

QUESTION:

My teenage daughter spent a month on a ranch where they served butterhorns "out of this world". Do you have a recipe that would fit such a description? Also maybe a refrigerator cake recipe. The carriers seem to prefer this type of sweet to iced cakes . . . Incidentally, your '58 Hot Cross Bun recipe is wonderful . . . made a batch at least once a week. — A. J. H.

SATURDAY

Italian Spaghetti with Meat Balls (see Friday); Chef Salad with French Dressing (see Wednesday); Assorted Fresh Fruits: Bananas, Bartlett Pears, Red and Green Imported Grapes, McIntosh Apples; Assorted Cheese; Crackers; Coffee.

ANSWER:

Hurrah for both of us!

BUTTERHORNS:

One-half cup scalded milk, 2-3 cup butter, 1-4 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 package granular yeast, 1-4 cup sifted flour, Add sugar, salt and 1-2 cup butter to hot milk and cool to lukewarm. Add cake yeast which has been dissolved for 10 minutes in 1-2 cup lukewarm water with 1 teaspoon sugar. Add slightly beaten eggs and beat well. Add flour gradually to make a stiff dough, mixing until dough's well blended and soft. Knead on lightly floured board until dough is smooth and elastic and squeaks. Place ball of dough in buttered bowl, cover and allow to rise until doubled. Divide dough into four pieces. Roll out one-fourth at a time 1-4-inch thick. Cut in wedge-shaped pieces and roll up wedge, starting with wide end. Moisten point and seal. Place point side down on buttered sheet and brush with melted butter. Let rise in warm place until light and doubled. Bake at 425 deg. F. for 20 to 30 minutes. The total amount makes about 40 butterhorns. Try these hot with unsalted butter!

Would you like to try an

ORANGE COFFEE CAKE:

In an 8"-square cake pan melt 3 tablespoons butter, sprinkle with 1-4 cup brown sugar and cover that 2 oranges, peeled and sectioned with membrane removed.

BATTER:

Mix 1-3 cup scalded milk stir 1-3 cup sugar, 3-4 teaspoon salt, 1-4 cup shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Meanwhile soak 1 package granular yeast in 1-2 cup lukewarm water with 1 teaspoon sugar for 10 minutes. Then stir well. Sift into lukewarm milk mixture Stir in 1 beaten egg, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla and 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour. Stir for about 2 minutes or until well blended. Turn this batter into pan prepared with oranges and spread evenly. Cover with damp cloth and let rise in warm place until doubled. Bake at 375 deg. F for about 25 minutes. Turn out of pan at once, let hang until all syrup drains from pan over cake.

The Experts Say

Trying to Educate Public To Buy More Brown Eggs

By EDNA USHER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — Housewives buy more brown eggs, there might be fewer sawdust chicken dolls.

So says the Canadian Association of Consumers, which is trying to educate a public that prefers white-shelled eggs into buying more of the brown.

The preference for white eggs also may be increasing the price, says Mrs. Russell Buchanan, Toronto, chairman of the CAC's Ontario committee for consumer problems.

"Farm housewives tell us the white-shelled eggs are laid by a smaller breed of hen than the brown-shelled variety," said Mrs. Buchanan. "The smaller hen is more difficult to rear, more highly-strung, and when its laying days are over, a poorer specimen for the table.

"Eggs in brown shells are just as good as those in white shells and there is no difference in nutritional value.

"If the public will buy brown eggs, the farmer's job will be easier, which could eventually be reflected in a lower price."

KEEPING COOL

The CAC is also urging retail stores to keep eggs cool.

"With winter approaching, it is likely that eggs will be stored unrefrigerated in over - heated basements," Mrs. Buchanan said, "and under those conditions they can deteriorate fast."

Reports the department of poultry husbandry at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, found that eggs kept at 50 degrees Fahrenheit retained their A grade after 10 days, while similar eggs kept at 70 to 73 degrees were grade B after 10 to 12 three days.

Grading is based on firmness of the yoke and quality of the albumen, and on size and weight.

"Chances are that if eggs are kept unrefrigerated in the centre aisle of some supermarkets, they aren't getting the grade of egg you pay for," she said.

The Buchanan committee handles numerous problems, ranging from garters to contests.

November brides, or any other brides who have made a date for a wedding, should ensure that confetti flingers shop carefully.

"Rice should be avoided — confetti—or for throwing and the other for decoration — and they are not interchangeable," said Mrs. Buchanan.

Under-aged wedding guests can't be fetti marked "color fast" the bride and groom may find confetti has run from the paper to their clothes.

And as the garters question, a CAC member complained her garter wouldn't stay up because of nylon. Mrs. Buchanan's committee checked stores and manufacturers.

"Apparently it was an isolated case, but we are watching the situation," said Mrs. Buchanan.

GOOD MANNERS

By Mrs. Beeckman

ACKNOWLEDGING INTRODUCTION TO MUCH-OLDER MAN

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Yesterday I went to see ita-party with a dear friend of mine in her home. I was seated, talking to a woman to whom I had just been introduced (I am in my early forties, and I should say she is about the same age), when the host came to us with a distinguished-looking man. In his middle eighties I should say. The host introduced him to us. The woman with whom I had been talking immediately rose as she said "How do you do," but I didn't rise, believing a woman isn't supposed to rise when a man is introduced to her. I must say I felt awkward and am still confused as to what I should have done. — Reader

I'm so glad you wrote me about this, so you will do the proper and courteous thing next time. What you should have done was to rise at once to acknowledge the introduction, and thus show honor and respect to this elder gentleman.

If the gentleman had been a contemporary of yours, you would not, of course, have risen . . . but the courteous and gracious courtesy is that a woman should rise, when a much older man is introduced to her. Obviously the woman with whom you were talking has this feeling of honor and reverence for an older person, either an innate feeling with her or one that she charmingly cultivated. Now here's your chance to cultivate it!

ARE SHOWER GUESTS ALWAYS WEDDING GUESTS?

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My wedding is to be in several months, a church wedding, very formal, quite large. Several showers are to be given for me. I did not think I was invited to the wedding had anything to do with invitations to showers, but I am doubtful-to-be, but my cousin, who is much older than I, married, and is generally in high social circles of stiquet, insists that no one should receive a gift for a shower who is not on the list of wedding guests. Right? — Bride-to-be Right! Etiquette is naturally the proper procedure, since a guest at a shower is always expected to bring a shower present, and it would certainly be embarrassing if she would be expected to bring a present to the bride-to-be to whose large wedding she is not to be invited.

USHER-PROCEDURE AT A WEDDING

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My sweetheart and I are going together to a large, formal church wedding, and I would like to know beforehand what we should expect as to being escorted up the aisle. Should we be escorted by an usher? — Marie T.

Yes, by invitation for a large, formal church wedding you will find that there will be enough ushers that you will be escorted by an usher. In other words, first the usher will come to your mother, offer his right arm, escort her up the aisle, and then another usher will offer you his right arm, and you and he follow your mother and the first usher. However, you may find that so many guests arrive at the same time and your mother arrive, that an usher may escort your mother, and you will follow them.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of the actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

John G. — She should give me a second chance.

Lillian G. — He's no better than a jelly fish.

John G. — My wife and I have been married for ten years, but have been separated for the past year because of my mistake.

It really wasn't my fault, but I got involved with a woman who had wrecked more than one home in the past. She was the type that doesn't care whom she hurts as long as she gets what she wants. My wife found out about it and finally we broke up our home. Shortly after that the other woman found someone else she liked better and she went off with him.

I realize that I have been 100 per cent in the wrong and I want to make amends, but my wife will not forgive me. I have been trying for years and I find I need and want my family. I feel that my wife is only being selfish to me but to our four children by not giving me a second chance.

Lillian G. — It is very funny to hear John talk about my cruelty. Did he think of his cruelty when he hurt me and the children just to satisfy a whim of his?

Does John think he is doing me a great favor when he says he will come back now that the other woman has disillusioned him? What a compliment- Now that he is alone and miserable he wants to come back and have me coddle him and forgive him like a little boy who has been naughty at school. Does he expect me to turn my feelings off and on like a faucet? When we broke up our home I went to live in my mother's large home. The children and I are very comfortable there now. I don't see any reason to move again just to have them live with a father who has proven that he is no better than a spineless jelly fish.

The Council: Lillian sounds quite vindictive and we believe that her attitude is going to be very harmful to her children. Yet there is undoubtedly a good deal of justice on her side and John should recognize that this "child-take" was not a simple or trivial one and cannot be rectified by a simple apology and request for a second chance.

John appears to be a very children person and his wife's accusation that he merely wants to be "babied" now that he is down is given like a little boy is probably justified. Lillian should recognize clearly when he puts the blame for his misdeeds on the woman. He obviously doesn't think of himself as a mature human being with the power to decide between right and wrong and follow through on his own decisions.

John further reveals his childishness when he makes a bid for his wife's pity and acts like part of someone who is going to "try to be a good boy now." He points out the injustice that is being done to the four children, but we have a notion that to him his is a bit of bogey calculated to play on his wife's guilt feelings on that score. If his concern for the children were uppermost in his mind, John would present his arguments to a family counsellor, not election number.

It is up to John and Lillian to recognize, however, that the children are the Number One problem in this case. The children are probably less "comfortable" than Lillian believes in Grandma's big fatherless house. There is no question that they need their father — but not as the victim of a vindictive mother. John must find a way of growing up and Lillian should find a way of forgiving. They should seek outside professional help if they can't arrive at a peaceful solution by themselves.

STIRLING

District High School Holds Annual Commencement

STIRLING — The Stirling-Rawdon District High School held their annual Commencement in Stirling Theatre on Friday evening.

Principal John L. Good was chairman for the evening and James R. Johnston, chairman of the Stirling-Rawdon District High School Board, assisted in presenting proficiency awards.

The program opened with a piano interlude by Misses Linda Sine and Barbara Woodbeck.

The valedictory address was given by Miss Eleanor Stapley daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Stapley, Front Street, Stirling.

Eleanor won the King George High School Alumni Centennial scholarship valued at $400. This was founded in August, 1958, at the Stirling centennial celebration, when a large number of former students returned to the village.

SCHOLARSHIP PRESENTED

Mr. Percy McGuire, Belleville, made this presentation. Eleanor had the highest standing in grade 13. She also was awarded the Women's Canadian Club (of Belleville) scholarship, valued at $100, for grade 13 French. Mrs. R. S. Fairman, president, presented this award.

Eleanor was also awarded the MacLean's magazine gift of a year's complimentary subscription. She was also eligible for the Manly Macdonald scholarship but was unable to accept it because she had already won other scholarships. However the University Woman's Club provided a French-English Dictionary and Mrs. Gordon Bailey, French teacher at the Stirling High School, made the presentation.

A one-act play with a good moral, entitled "No Greater Love," was presented under the direction of Mr. R. C. Hay-Ellis.

Members of the cast were: Grandmother Cain — Mildred Morton; her son, Les Cain — Gerald Danford; his sister-in-law Judith Cain — Sandra West; Hel. en Johnson — Sally Fox; Doctor Jimmy Cain — Paul Bridges. Prompter was Carol Ray; makeup was applied by Barbara Woodbeck.

A group of grade 9 girls under the direction of Mrs. B. Glenginning, sang three selections — "Singing On Our Way," "Santa Lucia," and "Gypsy Air." The girls were: Marilyn Anderson, Carol Beckett, Faye Cooney, Diane Mcadam, Gail Morrow, Linda Marrow, Margaret Morrow, Mariel Mumby, Wenda Neil, Rosalyn Rodgers, Martha Scholten, Pauline Stewart, Sandra Wannamaker, Fairlie Warren, Mary Ellen Warren.

The shields for proficiency were awarded as follows: grade 13, Alger Shield — Eleanor Stapley; grade 12, Morton Shield — John Sager; grade 11, Bastedo Shield — Mildred Morton; grade 10, Wright Shield — Jack Bailey; and grade 9, Duffin Shield — Anne Reid.

The high standing scholarships of the high school district valued at $20 and $10 for grade 13, went to Eleanor Stapley and Sally Coombes respectively; grade 12, $12 and $10 — John Sager and Barbara Woodbeck; grade 11, $12 and $10 — Mildred Morton and Janice Coombes; grade 10, $10 and $5 — Jack Bailey and James Gray; grade 9, $10 and $5 — Anne Reid and Gerald Malloy.

PROFICIENCY PRIZES

The grade 13 proficiency prizes were awarded to Linda Sine, John Sager, Barbara Woodbeck, Bernard Ashley, Joanne Reid, Barbara Hadley, Barry Hewton, and Rose Cotten. For grade 11, Ryan David, Rasburn Scott, Dawn Hubel, Joan Shipley, Gail Van Wyngarden, Spencer Brown, and Ralph Carlisle.

The grade 10 Intermediate certificates were awarded to: Byron Aide, Jack Bailey, Paul Bridges, Margaret Brooks, Robert Clarke, Marilyn Conley, Shirley Cotton, Lyle Couch, Claire Craighead, Gerald Danford, Gerrit Deburyn, Douglas Fitzpatrick, Connie Fry, James Gray, Joe Hagerman, Joyce Harry, Ronald Heath, Hugh Hoard, Gail Jeffs, Allan Johnston, Bernice McCurdy, Garry Mason, Robert Noble, Grant Reid, Janet Reid, Diane Richardson, Elspeth Robb, Heather Rodgers Buckler, Kenneth Sarron, Harold Sarten, Glen Stewart, Jean Tompkins, Ellen Trenear, James Wallace, Allyn Warren and Wendy Warren.

PRESENT HONOR DIPLOMAS

Grade 13 Honor Graduation diplomas were presented to: Bill Bailey, Bruce Beckett, Grace Clarke, Sally Coombes, Margaret Dracup, Alex Fleming, Mary Ellen Long, Bill McKeown, Malcolm Reid and Eleanor Stapley.

Eleanor Stapley won the Hon. J. R. Cooke Scholarship, of $50 for best eight papers in grade 13 and the Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Lawlor Memorial scholarship of $50.

The Dominion - Provincial Student-Aid Bursaries of $250 and $100 were awarded to Sally Coombes and Linda Sine, respectively. Keith Hansen, president of the Students' Council, presented $50 bursaries to Bill Bailey and Grace Clarke.

The Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire awarded Allan Fletcher of Stirling public school the General Proficiency prize for grade 8. Mrs. Herbert Wood, Regent of IODE Chapter, presented Margaret Dracup with $100 as assistance to a deserving student.

Miss J. Schmidt presented the volleyball champion award. Members of the winning team are: Jean Tompkins (captain), Truss de Buryn, Shirley Flood, Joan Fraser, Gail Jeffs, Bernice McCurdy, Helen Morrow, Anne Reid, Thelma Stewart, Linda Wellman, Sandra West and Jean Zuidema.

Stirling High School junior girls' volleyball team were the Bay of Quinte district (COSSA) volleyball champions, Junior 'B' at the Jamboree held at OSD, Belleville.

Foxboro

FOXBORO — Mr. and Mrs. Bill McWilliams, Picton, were Wednesday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stewart.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gunn, Bayside, were recent guests of Mr. Harry Lott.

Mr. Milton Thompson and friends of Hamilton, were Thursday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Armstrong.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Watson, Peterborough, were weekend guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stewart.

Mrs. S. McCurdy, Belleville, and Mrs. W. Tuffs were Sunday guests of Mrs. Lorne Brough. They spent the afternoon in Stirling at the home of their brother, Mr. Elmer Post, who is ill.

Mrs. L. Vandewater left on Friday for Toronto to visit her sister, who is a patient in the hospital.

Friends of Mrs. Howard Ketcheson will be sorry to hear she underwent an operation in Belleville, General Hospital. All wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Will Hodgin was a holiday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Prindle.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Woods, Madoc; Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Fleming, Alex and Edmund, Springbrook; Miss Rosanne Vandevoort, Belleville; Mrs. Alex Fleming, Wallace and Helen, Ivanhoe, and Mr. Howard Arnold, Forest Mills, were Sunday dinner guests at the Chappelle home.

Several from the village are attending the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto this week.

Mrs. James Reynolds and Mrs. Don Johnson, were Monday guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hollinger.

TIPS

by JOHN WETTLAUFER

Most people know that the TV aerial on their roof is necessary, but many people do not realize that this "lightning" rod requires occasional service to keep it up to peak efficiency.

For example, the terminals to which the lead-in wire is attached become corroded by moisture, dirt and soot which causes them to short circuit and affect reception. With a new antenna this usually occurs within a year or two but more frequently in areas where heavy industrial smoke is present.

Lead-in wires, too, suffer from old age . . . the insulation deteriorates and admits moisture which interferes with proper reception.

Putting TV aerials in top condition is a relatively simple and inexpensive job — but it can be a tremendous improvement in television performance. CIRCLE TV SERVICE, 362 Coleman St., will be glad to give you a free estimate. Just phone WO 8-6791 or in Trenton EX 2-7669.

Dutchies Have Three of First Four on Top

SUDBURY (CP)—The second-place Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen, last year's league champions, have three men in the first four places of the OHA-NOHA scoring race.

The outsider is Jimmy Connelly of Chatham, leading goal-getter in the league, who stands one point behind Dutchie wingers Butch Martin and Jack MacMaster, who each have 20 points. Bill Wylie, centre for Martin and MacMaster, also has 19 points.

Martin has scored eight goals and 12 assists in nine games and line-mate McMaster, a rookie, has marked six with 14 assists. Connelly has scored 12 and picked up seven assists. Wylie has eight goals and 11 assists in 10 games.

The statistics include games Friday night.

Don Head of Chatham tops the goalies with 18 goals against in 12 games for an average of 1.5.

Tiger Jones Beats Calhoun By Decision

NEW YORK (AP) — Ralph (Tiger) Jones survived a wild three-swinging attack by Rory Calhoun Friday night to win a unanimous decision in a ten-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

A penalty by referee Ray Miller against Calhoun for a low blow in the eighth cost him the fight. Jones weighed 138½, Calhoun 163.

In a wild 10th round, Calhoun battered Jones around the ring with a savage attack. At one stage Jones missed a punch and fell on all fours but it was not a knockdown.

The decisive round was the eighth where Calhoun appeared to have slugged his way to a decisive edge only to have the round taken away from him by a hook to the body that Miller ruled illegal.

With that eighth round in Jones' favor, referee Miller and judge Bill Forst voted the fight for the Tiger 5-4-1. Judge Bill Hecht scored it 5-3-2 for Jones. A switch of the eighth would have put Calhoun on top.

Guelph Biltmores Now Tied for Third Place

GUELPH (CP) — Barrie Flyers and Guelph Biltmores have spent the last three weeks swapping positions in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A race.

They met again Friday night and Bills came out on top 3-1 to push Flyers back down the ladder to fifth place.

Biltmores now are tied in third place with Toronto St. Michael's Majors. They are 13 points behind the powerful first-place St. Catharines Teepees, who enjoy an 11-point margin over second-place Peterborough Petes.

Biltmores' victory Friday was only their second of the season on home ice. After a scoreless first period, they fired two goals in the second. Don McGregor and Red Gilbert were the marksmen.

Tom Maloney put Flyers within striking distance in the second minute of the final with a long drive past goaltender Don Rich. George Vitalis then scored to clinch it.

Goalie Norman Jacques was a standout for Flyers as Bills fired 14 shots at him in the second period.

One Suggested Rule Change Soundly Backed

MONTREAL (CP)—A proposal by Montreal Alouettes for three rule changes in a bid to make Canadian intercity football more open and exciting has received favorable reaction as far as one recommended change is concerned. That proposed change is to have the scrimmage mark made 20 yards from the sidelines instead of the present 12 yards. This would mean the ball would have to be scrimmaged 20 yards from each side of the field.

Mixed reaction greeted the other two recommendations:

To give punt receivers 10 yards leeway instead of five; and/unlimited blocking for interference, eliminating blocking privileges and halfbacks.

Alouettes general - manager Gorman Kennedy says he plans to recommend the changes to a pre-Grey Cup executives meeting in Vancouver.

The recommendations are to be placed before the Big Four rules committee and if approved passed on to the Canadian Rugby Union.

NOT NEW

Representatives of two of the country's predecessors to the Big Four say the Montreal proposals are not new.

Lou Thomson, managing director of Toronto Argonauts, said he wondered why the committee had to be there expressing views on suggested changes which are not new.

Herb Capozzi, general manager of the B.C. Lions, said he had already voted in favor of the new scrimmage marks.

Argonauts and Lions are against unlimited blocking by linemen.

Hal Patterson, managing director of Edmonton Eskimos said he favors the scrimmage mark change but "not so much about the blocking.

Eskimos were against more than one receiver being downfield. It would be "a wide-open game for all."

Sam Berger, president of Ottawa Rough Riders, said the Montreal plan "will go along with the recommendation concerning the scrimmage marks.

Berger personally favored the blocking proposal but could not speak for Ottawa officials. He could see no sense in giving punt receivers 10 yards.

FAVORS ALL

Ken Preston, general manager of Saskatchewan Roughriders favored the three proposed changes.

Hank Parliament, president of Winnipeg Blue Bombers, expressed satisfaction with the proposed changes. He said:

"Increasing the punt protection to 10 yards is a good idea. It might make for more interesting runbacks and laterals but would likely cut down the net gain on punts.

"Unlimited blocking for linemen would make little difference. It would definitely be a backward step to reduce the present blocking of backs.

Ireland Moves Into First Place Of Golf Tourney

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Ireland and England were fighting again today. This time it was on the golf course.

Scene: The lush 7,16-yard, par-72 Club de Mexico golf course where 62 players from 23 countries entered third-round play of the international golf championships and Canada Cup matches.

Ireland was in first place. England was only four strokes behind in the team standings. The Irish-English match, last to tee off today, was the feature.

Harry Bradshaw of Dublin, playing the steadiest and best golf of the tournament, took over the individual lead Friday and shot his team into the No. 1 spot. Bradshaw and teammate Christy O'Connor, veteran Ryder Cup players, lead the United States team of Ben Hogan and Sam Snead by two slim points—286 to 288.

HOGAN HAS TROUBLE

Bradshaw shot a 72, second straight two-under-par 70 Friday while Snead turned in a 71 and Hogan, having putting trouble, was one over par with 73. This gave Bradshaw a two-stroke edge in individual standings.

Snead and Colombia's surprising Miguel Sala, who led the opening round, were tied for third.

Argentina's Leopoldo Ruiz and Scotland's Eric Brown tied for fourth with 14, followed by Ken Nagle of Australia, Hogan, Angel Miguel of Spain and China's Chen Ching - po, all with 145. O'Connor was next with 146 tied by several, including South Africa's Gary Player.

Canada's team of Al Balding of Toronto and Henry Mariell of Edmonton were tied in 13th place for a 304 total with Brazil, Belgium and New Zealand. Balding shot 75-81—187 and Mariell carded 76-75—147.

The two-member team with the lowest score wins the Canada Cup Trophy. The individual winner becomes international champion.

Mel Ott, All-Time Top Home Run Hitter, Dies in Hospital

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Mel Ott will be buried today.

Some of the big games in baseball were expected to attend funeral services for the National League's all-time top home run hitter.

Ott, 49, died Friday. Doctors had tried for a week to check complications from injuries he received in a car collision Nov. 14.

Ott went into major league baseball as a boy. At the age of 16 he joined New York Giants and played for 22 seasons. He was later named to Baseball's Hall of Fame.

The crackup near Bay St. Louis, on Mississippi's gulf coast, killed the driver of the other car, 50-year-old Leslie Curry Sr., and severely injured Ott's wife Mildred.

Mrs. Ott is still under treatment for injuries. She was transferred from a Gulfport hospital to a New Orleans hospital.

Ott was brought to a local hospital Thursday when his condition became worse because of a kidney malfunction.

Only Thursday, Leo Durocher was spotted as a power slugger by Coy. He was announced as a good possibility to Giants manager John J. McGraw.

McGraw brought Ott to New York as a catcher, but later converted him to outfielder. Ott went on to break scores of records before retiring in 1947.

Ott managed the Giants between 1942 and 1948. He managed Oakland, Calif., in the Giants' farm system, for two seasons before he batted Babe Ruth and Jimmy Foxx.

His National League record for runs scored (1,859), runs batted in (1,860) and bases on balls (1,708) still stands.

Ott played in 2,730 games and finished with a lifetime batting average of .304. He was in three world series and 11 all - star games. He was enshrined in the hall of fame in 1951.

Those inspired Leo (The Lip) Durocher to make his famous statement of "nice guys finish last."

Durocher was managing Brooklyn Dodgers at the time. He was before a Giant-Dodger game in 1946 and Durocher was talking to newspaper men. The Dodgers were in contention for the pennant and the Giants were in last place.

"Why can't you have more feeling for human weakness," someone asked Durocher.

The Lip pointed across the field to Ott.

"There's one of the nicest guys in the world," he snapped. "But he's in last place. Nice guys finish last."

Ott never managed a pennant winner. The best he did before being replaced in 1948 by Durocher, was a third-place finish in 1942.

Robert Young's Show Turned Out in Brisk Three Days

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Robert Young's set had broken early but he said he would have to hurry through lunch to get back on time.

What's this? The man is not only the star of Father Knows Best but owns a big chunk of the TV series. Still, he was taking no chances about holding up production.

That's the kind of a guy Bob Young has always been, and it's improbable he would change now.

Bob's show, for example, is turned out in a brisk three days. Sometimes the schedule is stretched to five days—"and then there's heck to pay."

KIDS A PROBLEM

"When you're dealing with kids, you sometimes have delays," he said. "We still have one of them in school, and that means he can't work for three hours of the working day. And the kids must quit at 5:30, while we often shoot until eight or later."

Bob said it was not unusual to get 35 set-ups (different camera angles) a day in TV, compared to five or six on a major picture. This explains why Father Knows best is hit.

"I had the best training in the world," he said. "When I was at M-G-M, I spent my early days doing one 15-day picture after another. In one year, I did seven of them."

Bob was this year's winner of the best-actor Emmy from the TV academy. I asked if it had any effect on his career, as the Oscar sometimes does for films.

"I don't think so," he said. "In pictures, you can immediately raise your asking price for the next picture. But in TV, you're stuck in a series, and that's that. There's nothing whether the award has improved your standing."

Rangers Have Chance To Match Longest Win Streak

Sport Slices

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Want a chance to see your favorite hockey teams in action-where you can flip your'ild, say what you like, and get away with it, providing you don't back it up with a machine gun?

President Armand Duffy and his gallant band of Booster clubbers will be sending two unofficial delegates to Prague, Czechoslovakia come March next year, where the McFarlands will battle Europe's finest for the world hockey title.

Two lucky guys, or dolls, or one of each, will either clutch free tickets to Prague, or $1,000 in crisp, crunchy bills following the hockey game here between the Macs and the Cornwall Chevies on December 19.

Duffy and Boosters make no bones about the importance of this venture. They stress in no uncertain terms it is by far the most important project undertaken by the club to date.

Furthermore, they state, it is their final appeal to fans and other citizens, and want to put it across in a big way. Duffy told this corner the club had some $4,000 in the kitty and needed $4,000 to reach the objective of $10,000. The Boosters' expect to realize $1,000 from other funds-raising sources, but the lion's share must come from the overseas draw.

Between three and four thousand tickets is a lot to sell but Duffy and the gang believe in the loyalty of city and district fandom and are confident they will reach their objective. This is the second draw of its kind. Bob Clarke won the first and elected to take the one thousand iron men.

"This is definitely our last approach to the public," Duffy stated. "There will be no more tag days, draws or whatsaweyou to raise funds for the overseas fund. This is the big one and we are banking on it and the public to help us put over our drive for the $10,000 objective."

The tickets can be obtained from any Booster Club member or at the Front Street shops of Jack Diamond and Don Stanton. Both these gentlemen will be delighted to accommodate potential ticket buyers, and if they care to purchase a little merchandise on the side, that will be welcomed, too.

Meanwhile, how about getting into the ticket swim? There are only a few days left, so go peak, and that's a important one to the Mac Overseas Fund. How about a buck for luck, both for yourself and the team?

Despite the fripe that is appearing in hockey journals written by those who have little or no knowledge of the McFarlands' set-up, Duffy and his Booster assured Manager Drury Denyes and the team of 100 per cent confidence, and that they were behind the club all the way.

That was a nice gesture, Duffy, coming at a time when a lot of the "outside experts" are taking pot shots at the club because they are not mowing down the opposition by 20-1 scores on each and every appearance.

There are a lot of folks who disagree with the outside gloom spreaders who cannot see the Macs through the vapor surrounding their own clubs, but who agree with this department there is nothing wrong with the McFarlands that a little co-operation, team-play, conditioning, fight and will-to-win won't cure.

They came from behind last season to win on more than one occasion, especially in that seventh game with Kelowna. They have not lost the trait of discounting obstacles and breaking them aside to go on to victory. Of that we are sure.

Better, by far, to have any ineptitudes, play faults, or other characteristics detrimental to the club as a whole, show themselves in these early-season doldrums, rather than in mid-January when the team should be at its peak.

"If it's a nice day and we're winning they let the coach out for a while!"

Coach Phil Watson Thinks Team Best Club in National Hockey Loop at Present Time

By RON ANDREWS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Coach Phil Watson says his New York Rangers are the National Hockey League's best club right now. Few hockey fans will argue with him.

Rangers, winners of their last five games, are in the midst of their longest winning streak since they took seven straight 17 years ago, in the 1941-42 season. They have a chance this weekend to match that last streak with games tonight at Toronto and on Sunday against Detroit Red Wings in New York.

In their streak they have bowled over the leading Montreal Canadiens twice, 6-3 and 2-1, Boston Bruins twice, 5-1 and 4-2, and Toronto Leafs once, 7-4.

SURPRISED COACH

"This team has even surprised me," Watson says. "They really want to win. They've been slashing like hades, bumping and they've had plenty of bad old zip. That's why we won our last five games."

Watson figures the line of centre Larry Popein, right winger Andy Bathgate and left winger Dean Prentice is the best test in the league. They scored 12 of the 20 goals the team racked up in its five wins.

There's little doubt that Bathgate, who leads the individual scoring race with 25 points, five more than Chicago's Eddie Litzenberger, has been the New Yorkers' leader. But Watson doesn't think it's a one-man effort.

"Every one of my guys has been doing his share," Watson says. "I don't want to praise them too much, though, because I've done it before and the bubble burst as soon as I opened my mouth."

TOP FIVE BUNCHED

The league's six teams head into the weekend action with only three points separating the top five. Canadiens are first with 21. Rangers and Wings are tied for second with 19 apiece. Bruins and Chicago Black Hawks have 18 apiece. Toronto is last with 15.

Other weekend games are: Detroit at Boston this afternoon; Chicago at Montreal tonight; Toronto at Chicago and Montreal at Boston Sunday.

The standard is so tight that should Hawks win both their weekend games and the other teams split theirs, Chicago would be in first place Monday.

Cleveland Barons Swamp Indians By 15-4 Count

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The way they played, Cleveland Barons should have skated off with the prizes after Friday night's American Hockey League game against Springfield.

A crowd of 10,586, largest to see the Barons play at home in two years, turned out and saw a lopsided 15-4 victory for Cleveland's attack. Following which prizes were awarded to fans who was held.

Cleveland's total of 15 goals was one short of the AHL record set by Buffalo against Philadelphia 11 years ago.

Art Stratton had two goals and three assists and Dale Rolfe had two goals and two assists to lead the Cleveland attack. Springfield's Ken Schinkel scored one, making the 18th straight game in which he has had a goal, assist or an assist.

It was only other game, Rochester Americans climbed out of the cellar by whipping Providence Reds 5-3. Claude Maraska and Guy Rousseau each had two goals for the winners.

Chatham Maroons Continue Leading Ways in West Loop

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The No. 13 jinx shattered the Chatham junior record in Canada Friday night.

Whitby Dunlops, unbeaten in their first 12 games in the Ontario Hockey Association eastern senior A league, were downed 5-3 by Belleville McFarlands.

It took a good club to trip Dunlops. McFarlands are defending Allan Cup champions and are to be favored later this season to seek the world hockey title Whitby won for Canada last spring.

The loss left Whitby undisputed division leaders with 20 points, seven ahead of Belleville.

In other senior A action Chatham Maroons continued their league-leading OHA-NOHA ways with a 6-3 win over Windsor Bulldogs. Sudbury Wolves and North Bay Trappers banked into the cellar with a 7-1 whipping.

Bulldogs' loss left them in fourth place with nine points, one behind Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds and six behind Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen.

BELL BESTS LONG JOHN

McFarlands outdumped and outmuscled Dunlops and in a battle of goalies Gordie Bell emerged the winner over Long John Headerson.

Playing coach Sid Smith powered his Whitby men the way by scoring their three goals, one each in period. Al Dewsbury and Paul Payette scored early in the second to put Belleville ahead 2-1. Smith's second in the game period was only a divider between another by Payette and a single by Davey Jones. Lou Smrke and Smith scored in the final period.

At Chatham Don Head, top goaltender in the OHA-NOHA division, registered his fourth shutout in 12 games. Jimmy Connelly led the home - team onslaught with three goals. Norm Defelice had third place in the individual scoring race.

Fred Pletsch, George Aikex and Ted Hampson got the rest of Chatham's scoring. Maroons outshot Windsor 30-20.

Peter Cooper Leading Pack In Golf Match

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Peter Cooper of Lakeland, Fla., shot into the West Palm Beach invitational open golf tournament lead Friday with a blazing nine-under-par 63.

The competitive course record for the West Palm Beach Country Club gave Cooper a two-stroke edge on Wesley Ellis Jr. of Aldecress, N.J., who had a 68 for 132. Cooper's 36-hole score was 68-63—131.

Bert Weaver of Beaumont, Tex., who matched Ellis' 68 on opening day, slipped to a 70 and was deadlocked for third at 134 with Mike Souchak of Grossingers, N.Y., who had a 69 to go with his first round 66, over the 6,745-yard course.

Shatto, Faloney Head List Of All-Star Offensive Team

By WILF GRUSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — Quarterback Bernie Faloney, selected as a passer until Hamilton Tiger-Cats adopted more passing patterns this year, and halfback Dick Shatto of Toronto Argonauts head the list of players named to the 1958 Canadian Press Big Four all-star offensive team.

Faloney ended the five - year reign of Montreal's Sam Etcheverry as the team's quarterback. Etcheverry was switched from the last-place Argos' fighting for a playoff berth until the second-last game of the season to the only unanimous choice on either offensive or defensive unit.

Hamilton, runaway winner of the Big Four's regular schedule, in its bid to repeat as Grey Cup champions, placed 11 men on the league-five on offence and six on defence. The coaches, football writers and sportscasters of the league cities who plucked the dream teams for CP chose the best players from Montreal Alouettes.

Ottawa Rough Riders, upset winners over the Als in the league semi-final playoff, gained seven positions in the offensive section. Argonauts won three offensive berths but the team's weakness on defence was reflected in the selection of none of the Toronto defensive team.

The selectors, whose votes were weighted to give equal ballotting strength to each league city, put 11 men on the offensive because of a tie for the centre position. They were unable to decide between veteran Tom Hugo of the Alouettes and Norm Rauhaus of the Argonauts, one of the two native-born Canadians named to the offensive team.

In 1957, when Hamilton depended primarily on a hard-hitting ground attack for its striking power, Faloney was beaten out as all-star quarterback by Etcheverry. This season the Ti-cats' ball - handling magician showed his prowess as a passer and finished with the best passing record in the league.

Shatto's playing was one of the few bright features for Argos: He was the second leading ground gainer in the league, averaging 6.3 yards a carry, and was third in the scoring race with nine touchdowns for 54 points.

Picked with him for the offensive team backfield were flying wing Ron Howell of Hamilton, Gerry Mcdougall of Hamilton and Joel Wells of Montreal. Howell, the other native-born Canadian named on offence, was one of the top deep pass receivers in the league. Mcdougall topped the rushers for the second year in a row and Wells, a speedy and tricky ball-carrier, finished third in the ground-gaining race.

The selectors picked three players for both squads—Hugo, Curcillo and Barrow of Hamilton and Jacki Simpson of Montreal. Three hometowners earned all-star rating on defence — safety half Bobby Simpson and end Pete Neumann of Hamilton and end Doug McNichol of Montreal. It was the sixth time Bobby Simpson has been chosen as an all-star in his nine seasons with the club.

Guard Vince Scott of Hamilton once again was returned on the defensive team. Scott gained all-star ranking for the eighth year in his 10 years in the league.

Pete Neumann, Montreal's brilliant pass-catching end and defensive halfback, was picked over the defensive lineup this year. He was out of action for several games with a knee injury.

Macs Hand Whitby First Defeat In 5-3 Thriller

Net Four in Second Period For Third Straight Win; Paul Payette Leads Attack

By GARRY ALEXANDER

Belleville McFarland thrilled a capacity house at Memorial Arena last night when they finally defeated the Whitby Dunlops 5-3 in a terrific battle of the champions, ending the Dunnies' undefeated string at 13 games.

This was the McFarlands' third victory in as many starts this week, indicating they are hitting their stride after a rough start. The Macs are solid in second place with 10 points, seven behind the Dunlops and five ahead of the third place Cornwall Chevies. A very clash with the Chevies in Cornwall Sunday afternoon.

Belleville spotted Whitby a 1-0 lead in the opening minute of last night but roared back to take a 4-2 lead by the end of the second intermission. The club split a pair of goals in the third set. The contest was one of the best and hardest fought games ever played in Memorial Arena in some time as both clubs went all out for victory. An estimated 2,500 fans almost tore the roof off the arena as the Allan Cup champs looked full value for the win with the 5-3 score a true indication of the play.

Choosing a star on the victorious McFarland club would be a difficult job as the entire squad went through with an inspired performance. Tops on the list would be Paul Payette, who scored two goals, had one assist and skirmished like a dynamo to confuse the Dunlops' line and again, Lou Smrke, who scored the picture goal of the night in the third after Whitby had cut the Macs' lead to 4-3. Nordie Hall who played another strong game in goal. Al Dewsbury who, fired the lying goal and got the Macs rolling early in the second and Dave Jones who broke a 2-2 tie late in the second, rate high on the list.

Eddie Martineau in the "Winner" crown had a pair of assists to head the Macs in that department. Single assists were divided among Johnny McLellan, Ray Hough, Ken Crawford, Bart Bradley, Fiori Goegan and Bev Wette.

PAYETTE SCORES THREE

Coach Sid Smith scored once a period to account for all the Whitby markers. Harry Edgar, Ted O'Connor and Tom O'Connor each scored once apiece and John Henderson made the victors earn every goal they scored.

Penalties were scarce as the clubs played it rough but clean. Referee Gord Fevereau assessed four to Belleville and three to Whitby but neither club drew a sentence in the third as the Dunlops battled grimly to pull out a win and the Macs fought just as hard to preserve their margin.

The tempo of play was tremendous from the first whistle and Ike Hildebrand's crew tested Henderson on the first Whitby rush four times in the first two minutes. Marineau had returned from a hooking penalty before Dunlops opened the scoring, Smith deflecting Sinden's shot from the right boards by a surprised Bell at 3:05.

Smith was rewarded for tripping at 9:13 and the Macs swarmed all around the Whitby net but could not score. Marineau got his second penalty at 15:04 but no damage was done while he was away. The clubs skated even after the first period with Whitby holding a 1-0 lead.

Belleville lost little time in tying the score as the middle beat got under way. Dewsbury's drive from the blueline at the 1:25 mark found the far corner at 1:25. Treen and Dewsbury went off together at 3:23 and while they were away both clubs scored. Payette gave Belleville a brief 2-1 lead at 4:00 when he took Brown's pass near the goalmouth and found an open corner. Tiffany-one-second later Smith got the disc from Tom O'Connor six feet in front of the Belleville net and slammed it home for a 2-2 score.

Paul Payette climaxed a beautiful three-way passing play with Marineau and Brown at 10.42, collecting Brown's rebound off Henderson's pad and firing it home to put the Macs ahead th stay. Dewsbury and Smith served minos together at 10.57 and at 13.23 Payette did the spade work and Dave Jones pulled the trigger for a 4-3 Belleville lead. - Marineau started the play.

Both goalies came up with great saves in this period and the Macs missed several other good chances. Dewsbury rushed through the entire Whitby club once only to have his shot hit a goal post dead on. Sinkie also worked in for a beautiful scoring chance and had his drive bounce off a goal post.

Whitby cut the lead to 4-3 at 6:47 of the third as the action continued at a terrific pace. Smith, skating near the Belleville end, relayed Ted O'Connor's shot across in front of Bell and Harry Edgar the corner webbing.

PICTURE GOAL

But at 8.33 Lou Smrke completed the scoring with a picture goal. Henderson out of the net and flicked the puck home as Smrke battled for possession. Whitby battled grimly in the final minute but Bell played well and his mates backed him with strong forechecking stopping Whitby before they could develop into scoring chances.

Ike Hildebrand and Johnny McLellan were recipients of awards previous to last night's game in their fine play. Ike's "Al" Hardy presented Hildebrand with the Carling "Player of the Week" award for the week of November 9-15. Jerry Chamberlain presented McLellan with Adams' "Hat Trick Trophy" for his three-goal performance this last Tuesday night against Hull Canadiens.

'Punch' Imlach General Manager Of Toronto Leafs

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Maple Leafs' famous Committee of Seven stepped into the background today and asked George (Punch) Imlach to whip their last — place National Hockey League club into winning form.

Imlach, who joined Leafs in the summer as assistant general manager, took over as general manager with "complete authority" to make any changes he feels will get Leafs into the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Stafford Smythe, chairman of the seven-man committee which has master-minded Leaf affairs since the spring of 1957, said Imlach would get an entirely free hand.

SEVEN REAL QUESTIONED

"We're not satisfied with the performance of the players or even of coach Billy Reay," Smythe said. "It will be Imlach's responsibility to correct this."

Leafs last had a general manager in the 1956-57 season when Hap Day ended his career with the team. Two months later he — player Howie Meeker was given the job but the committee fired him before the next season opened, citing his "inexperience."

Until Smythe's announcement Friday night the club was operating with two general managers — Imlach and Frank (King) Clancy.

Imlach said he wasn't especially worried about his new responsibilities.

"Changes have to be made and they will be made," he said. "Now that I'm solely responsible for this hockey team I intend to make them. There won't be any ducking the issues.

"If I'm going to be shot I'd rather be shot as a lion than as a lamb."

The new Leaf boss has spent more than 20 years in hockey but did not rise to prominence until last season when his leadership as manager and coach sparked Springfield Indians into the American Hockey League finals after the first time in many seasons.

CALLED PUNCHY

Imlach, 40, started out with the Young Rangers, a Toronto junior club, and recalls falling asleep at classes in Riverdale Collegiate after dawn hockey practices.

He was with a Toronto Goodyear team that won an Ontario Senior A title when he picked up the nickname "Punchy," since shortened to Punch. During a playoff game he was flattened by a bodychecker, got up dazed and led a rush on his own goal before the coach put him in timeout.

Imlach played with a Canadian army team at Cornwall during the Second War and later moved to Quebec Aces of the Quebec Senior Hockey League where he began his coaching career.

Gerry Goyer Has Goal, Assist As Packers Defeat Russians

MOSCOW (CP)—Three second-period goals and stout work in the Canadian net by Montreal's Dave Gatherum enabled Kelowna Packers to win their first game against Russia 4-3 Friday night.

They defeated a picked Moscow team considered hockey-holsterpoed—to even their score in the Soviet capital with a record of one win, one loss and two ties against assorted Moscow clubs.

The Packers consisted of several players who had skated against the Canadians in earlier games.

The Russians got off to a fast start as Victor Fryaznikov scored a goal at 2:21 of the first period with an assist from Yuri Krivokrasov.

But Packers evened it at 7:25 with a goal from Greg Jablonski with an assist by Gerry Goyer.

BIG SECOND PERIOD

Neither side could score again in the first, but Packers cut loose in the second period, outmanoeuvring the Russians to score three big goals and preventing the Soviet forwards from at all.

Kelowna's Moe Young pushed the puck into the Russian net after only nine seconds with an assist from Goyer.

Twenty - two-year - old Goyer came through on the Packers' 10:55, scoring unassisted.

Brian Roche connected at 17:30 with an assist from Gerry Makshinski.

With the mounting pressure from the Canadians, the Soviet coach pulled goalie Vyacheslav Sidelnikov and replaced him with Evgeni Yerkin at 12:30 of the second period.

RUSSIAN PRESSURE

Trailing 4-1 at the start of the final period, the Russians went on the attack in earnest to trim the Canadians' lead. Defenceman Sky slammed in to score at 4:56.

The crowd began roaring for Russian goal. Nikolai Soetnikov accomplished this at 8:29 but did not rise to prominence until last season when his leadership as manager and coach sparked Springfield Indians into the American Hockey League finals after the first time in many seasons.

ORDER INQUEST

SIOUX CITY, Iowa (AP)—A coroner's jury has recommended a grand jury investigation of the death of Los Angeles boxer Nate Simon after a fight here. Simon, a lightweight, collapsed after the ninth round of a scheduled 10-round bout Thursday night with Danny Davis of Minneapolis. He died in a hospital here the next day.

Andy Bathgate Reaching Peak Of NHL Career

By JOE MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (CP)—Andy Bathgate is reaching the peak and has a "very fine" chance of winning the National Hockey League scoring title this season, says coach Phil Watson of New York Rangers.

"He's getting better every year, he's getting smarter, he's shooting more accurately and he's working a little harder," said Watson.

"He started off well, and that encourages him. He's got five games—and isn't hurt—he has a very fine chance of finishing on top."

Bathgate now tops individual scoring by five points while Rangers, having won five straight, are tied with Detroit two points behind league - leading Montreal Canadiens.

The clever right - winger finished third last season—behind Dickie Moore and Henri Richard of Canadiens—after a foot injury forced him out of five games and caused him to be used sparingly in five others.

"We're not a powerhouse like Montreal," said Watson. "I have to use Bathgate for penalty-killing duties and chores at times, and that tends to wear him down."

Juniors Drop 12-0 Decision To Peterborough

PETERBOROUGH — Peterborough Latons shutout Belleville Lambert-Rollins 12-0 here last night for the second centre to rack up their third OHA Junior "B" victory in as many starts. All three wins in the Central Ontario grouping have been by one-sided scores as they lead the league.

Following a tight 1-0 first frame, the home squad threw in six unanswered goals in the middle heat and added five without a return in the third.

It was a fairly fast fray, with the winners controlling play and the losers having trouble getting untracked. Goalie Long was sharp in the home cage but didn't have too many hot stabs to handle.

Play was pretty clean the first two periods but got quite rough near the finish of the third. Several fights breaking out and five players drawing match penalties, three to Petes for players leaving the ice during scrimmages, though they did not join in the fisticuffs. Belleville got 12 of the 22 penalties.

Following a major to Titterton, for charging but quite rough to injure, Mann and Nicholls squared off and continued fighting to all majors and misconducts. Norton, Barnes and Watson drew misconducts for Petes on the bench.

Sparking the Peterborough attack in a great showing was Terry Titterton. Wakely with a five-goal chore, as well as two assists. Ron Mann and Bob English each fired in two markers, singles going to Dave Atwell, Mick Nicholls and Bill Collins. High is assists was Frank Daly with four. Other Petes on the scoresheet were Bob Crombes getting two each, and Nicholls, Wetzel, Atwell, Collins and Barnes one apiece.

A slim crowd of barely 200 fans turned out to watch the second home game of the young schoolboys.

Teams: Belleville — DiPietro, Titterson, Dietz, Wright, Rowbotham, Boutilier, Mann, Latchford, Kerrulish, Elliott, Goyer, Mercerlay, Hull and Fuller.

Petes — Long, Armstrong, English, Coombes, Vilneff, Watson, Nicholls, Wetzel, Daly, Neill, Wakely, Daly, Horton, Barnes and Crombes.

Referees, L. Williams and A. Trent.

Baltimore Colts Favored to Beat Los Angeles Rams

NEW YORK (AP) — Baltimore Colts are favored to defeat Los Angeles Rams in their National Football League game Sunday.

The Colts, with seven wins and one loss, are tied for the western conference by four points. The Rams (5-3) are tied for second spot with Chicago Bears.

The Bears meet the Lions at Detroit in the other important western conference game. Cleveland Browns, eastern conference leaders, are home to Philadelphia Eagles.

New York Giants are given the nod by three points over Washington Redskins. The Giants must keep pace with Cleveland till they get another crack at the Browns Dec. 14 in the season windup.

In other games, San Francisco 49ers and Green Bay Packers play at Milwaukee, and Pittsburgh Steelers hope to move up on the Giants with a victory at Chicago over the Cardinals.

WELLINGTON

C.C. of C. Rep. Gives Talk to Board of Trade

WELLINGTON — About 50 members of the Board of Trade met in the Legion hall Tuesday evening. The guest speaker was Mr. Robert F. Richardson of Toronto, representative of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. He gave a most informative talk on "The Promotion of Industry."

He stressed among other points, feet to go overboard in trying to attract too far in industry as there was the water, sewerage and such to think about. It would be better to try to attract several smaller industries, he said. This was followed by an open discussion.

The tourist industry was also touched, as this is the second largest industry in Canada. Wellington is an ideal tourist vacation spot. He concluded with the fact any Board of Trade is only as strong as the members who support it. Wellington members were urged to "stand behind your Board of Trade."

Mr. Richardson was thanked for his helpful remarks.

The "Industrial Promotion" cards, sent by the Trade and Industry Branch of the Planning and Development branch of the Ontario government are now being filled out in regard to property available, locations, and water.

At the close of the meeting the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion served a buffet luncheon.

The date and place of the next meeting will be announced at a later date.

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

By WINIFRED WILSON

ROUGH-LEGS IN FLIGHT

Birds can often be identified by their manner of flight, and hawks are no exception to this rule. Each species of hawk has its own characteristic way of flying as well as its distinctive appearance in silhouette. Hawk migration is fairly late in autumn, and the rough-legged is one of the last to leave our land. A daylight traveller, it may be seen by any of us in large bands flying in an orchard.

Food habits have much to do with dates of migration. As roughlegs catch their prey in open grassy areas they are able to remain in any district as long as the ground is free of heavy snow and by soon as thawing takes place they return to their breeding grounds in the Arctic. This means that we should watch out for them passing in migration from now until the end of the year, and again in early April. They need the winter from our southern border to the southern states.

Although when hunting they fly low, in migration rough-legs soar high, making use of air currents. They belong to the group known as buteos: Hawks with broad wings and broad, rounded tails. They are the only hawk representatives of this group that habitually hover over one spot with beating wings. This trick of stopping suddenly to look for prey reveals a bird as a rough-leg.

HUNT BY MOONLIGHT

Hunting takes place most often around dawn or dusk, or on moonlight nights, as this hawk is reputed to being nocturnal like the owls. It is smart enough to know that these are the times when small mammals are most lively. On the ground, mice, voles, meadow mice high on the diet list, otherwise rats and other small rodents are taken. Somewhat in the manner of a marsh hawk, the rough-leg quarters over the ground, fortunately flapping and gliding as his keen eyes search the meadows.

Like grouse, screech owls, and some other hawks, he has rough-legs, and a few distinct colors — or "phases". As the bird passes overhead in migration, the underside is what interests us. One is the light phase, shows black mark at the crook of the wing (known as the "wrist"), black "fingers", a wide black band at the end of the tail, and a dark spot, also in the dark phase looks all black except for the half of the wing nearest the rear, and the tail.

Stirling

STIRLING — On Friday evening Principal John Good and Mrs. Good entertained 30 guests at their home following the close of the High School Commencement. Guests included the staff members of the school and their wives, also Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. B. Belshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Shaw and daughters, Stirling, and Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Fairman and Mr. and Mrs. P. C. McCuaig, of Belleville. All enjoyed a social time and the hostess served refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conley recently entertained Miss Flossie Rosebush and her brother, Ernest.

Mrs. Laura Fowell and son, Reginald, left Stirling Saturday to return to their home in Vancouver, B.C. They have been in Stirling for the past three months following the death of her sister, Miss Della Caldwell. Mr. and Mrs. Harper Rollins spent a few days with relatives in Toronto.

On Saturday, Mrs. John L. Good entertained a number of relatives from Perth and elsewhere to a delightful dinner party in honor of Mr. Good's birthday.

On Tuesday evening the IODE sponsored a smorgasbord supper under the direction of the Regent, Mrs. H. Wood, and her committee. Mrs. Wood was in attendance at the community hall to enjoy the array of delicious food.

cousin of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmore of Carmel.

The adult group of Carmel held a pleasant evening on Friday. The men catered the lunch and Mr. McCrea cooked the programme.

A good crowd attended church on Sunday afternoon.

Your Car

Take It Easy When Car Cold

BY EUGENE MILMOE

When your car has been standing all night in frigid temperatures, how do you treat it in the morning? Before getting under way most motorists will allow the engine to warm up easily so that all circulates fully to lubricate and position precision parts. Fine — but it's only the first precaution. Frame, axles, springs, shock absorbers, tires . . . all are affected by extreme cold, too. When stiff and brittle they are especially subject to cracks and breaks. And, just as engine oil becomes congealed in freezing weather, transmission rear axle and wheel-bearing grease thickens, too — takes time to heat up and get out that it will perform efficiently.

The idea, then, is to give the engine a few minutes to heat up . . . and when you move the car, baby it along for a few miles until all parts and lubricants have had a chance to warm up.

* * *

B. P. asks: I wanted a rich window adjustment for cooler winter starts, but the dealer says if it is too rich, it can cause engine damage. How?

(A) Raw gas can wash down cylinder walls, thinning protective oil with it. Scoring, scratching and plating of engine parts can result.

T. I. writes: When the very best oil is always used in an engine, do you get more mileage with the oil filter?

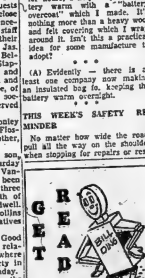
(A) Regardless of the grade of oil used, the filter usually needs changing at least every 5,000 miles — more frequently under adverse driving conditions.

* * *

Frosh J. H.: What brings on a loud bang or shot from the muffler? About a week ago, this happened a few times . . . then it didn't occur again until yesterday morning.

(A) Muffler explosions which are felt and heard are most likely due to a troublesome or failing condenser.

* * *



S. V. asks: In very cold weather, when my car is idle for hours, I help keep the battery warm with a "battery overcoat" which I made. It's nothing more than a heavy wool felt covering which I wrap around it. Isn't this a practical idea for some manufacture to adopt?

* * *

(A) Evidently — there is at least one company now making an insulated bag for keeping the battery warm overnight.

Garden Notes

You Can Repair Your Own Trees

By FLORA M. SAVILLE

Major tree repair is rightly considered work for an expert but if you have a tree that must be repaired or lost and have not the price of a tree surgeon it is possible to do it yourself.

Sometimes infection is by careless damage at the bark and at other times it may start in a crotch. Rabbits may collect and decay and the rot spread from the debris to the bark and on into the inner tissues. When it is examined it is usually found that the damage is much greater than supposed. However, when the wound is cleaned and treated it is possible to save the tree, even if it looks hopeless.

All of the decayed wood must be cleaned out thoroughly with a chisel until sound wood is exposed. After this the raw surface is cauterized, or burned over with a blow torch. Paint over this with an asphalt tree dressing which you can buy at your garden supply dealer.

If the cavity is in the lower trunk of the tree it will be fairly rigid and you can use cement for the filling. It is not the ideal filling material but it is easy to obtain, mix and apply. Where the cavity is higher this would not be suitable as the wind rocking the tree would crack the cement.

CEMENT SHRINKS

The work must be done while the temperature will remain above freezing for a few days and nights. When the cement does it will shrink from the wood. The crack, or crevasse between the wood and cement must be filled with asphalt and the whole surface of the cement covered with it to seal out moisture. This will prevent moisture entering, to freeze and crack the cement.

It is possible to mix tree asphalt with three parts sand for a more elastic fill or you may use hardwood sawdust in the same proportion but it is difficult to mix.

This is a good time to prune away any damaged weak or dead branches. They put back no countless harmful fungi and the winter winds carry them to new locations where the spores will remain in their dormant period and they again spread disease and pests.

Have you neglected to clean up the rock garden this fall? You should trim back dead iris, coreopervivens, sedums, and the dyanthus. Many small bulbs also have not started new roots may be transplanted.

WHY IS WINTER
THE BEST TIME-
—for repairs, maintenance, renovation and general clean-up work around your home or place of business?
In the winter men and materials are more readily available, and small jobs get better attention and can be more economical during the cold weather lull. This applies particularly to building and renovation jobs.
HOME IMPROVEMENTS CAN BE FINANCED
—by Home Improvement Loans under the National Housing Act, available through your bank . . . up to $4,000 and up to 10 years to repay.
FARMERS
—inquire about Farm Improvement Loans backed by the government and available through your bank . . . up to $5,000 and up to 10 years to repay.
PLAN TO HELP YOURSELF AND AT THE SAME TIME HELP YOUR COMMUNITY TO INCREASE EMPLOYMENT THIS WINTER. CALL YOUR NATIONAL EMPLOYMENT OFFICE FOR ADVICE AND ASSISTANCE

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Sunday, November 23, 1958

Aries (March 21 to April 19) — Steer clear of arguing today, particularly concerning some novel system for which you have no regard. Be broadminded and study it well before making critical remarks. In this way you do not lose a valuable friendship.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) — You feel somewhat cantankerous today, so be on your guard not to utter unwise words or act a bit erratically, even though in fun, or you hurt someone you really admire. Indulge in self-analysis and self-embellishment instead.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — Meditation upon what is best for you is preferable today to getting nervous and making others in your sphere likewise. Also, be sure to do kind, generous things for others that will please and give you a sense of well-being.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — Here is one of those fortunate days when an ignorant person whose ego is highly inflated will give you quite a tongue lashing. Don't let it bother you, but keep a quiet and calm exterior. And be sure not to argue back.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — You are in the mood to give a good scolding to someone who truly needs it, but this would only ruin your nervous system and not help the stubborn soul at all. Go about your business quietly instead, making sure to obey all rules.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) — A day this when everyone both near and far, seems to disagree heartily with all of your ideas and plans. It is better to be off by yourself under the circumstances and either keep busy at work or do some fine meditating.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — One of those strange days when personalities crash and clash, inhibition is all wrong, and there is a sense of heaviness. Just keep working away doggedly and pretend all is well.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — This is one of those days when other persons seem to get on your nerves, and it is important that you get off by yourself somewhere and meditate, take the treatments that will build up your health and give you solace of mind.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Your labors have been great lately, so let this be a Sunday for rest, as God intended. Read a paper and get into those classic and philosophical books that feed your soul and give the mind excellent mental food.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) — Peace and enjoyment are uppermost in your mind today. See that you get them, inexpensively, for if it is necessary to be extravagant. Get in touch with good pals of many years and review friendships and former happiness.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Let the home be the center of your activities today, and you may wish to put aside to enjoy every moment there, you can increase harmony and thankfulness. It is truly your earthly Paradise. Be happy.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — Be very careful while out driving or walking today. Also, be sure you have weighed your words before uttering them, or you can easily lose the love or friendship of some dear ones. Be gentle and thoughtful.

If your child is born today . . . The unusual child born today will be quite different from the ordinary type, and for this reason a careful training will be necessary for your gifted progeny. Thoughts are almost radical and visions of the future quite extraordinary. Hence, the best schools and most enlightened educators should have the care of this child in their hands to channel the positive genius properly.

Monday, November 24

Aries (March 21 to April 19) — A.M. is rather a confusing time since one moment you want to splurge out and buy accessories or other luxuries and the next you feel you should save your money. Get budget set up properly and combine the two.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) — You certainly want to and should change several things around in your establishment, but in so doing, take care you do not upset a disturbed member of the family, or there will be arguing and ill feelings for some time to come.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — A private worry could have you so upset you fail to go to that important conference or keep a date of real value, if you permit. Think positively instead and operate in most efficient fashion for worrying solves nothing.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — A day to be impressed on your associates and comrades that you admire them for themselves first, their accomplishments second, what they can do for you last of all. Try to combine your hunches with practical plans.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — An executive feels that you are too analytical and deliberate and would have you act in more flighty fashion. Avoid such criticism and do as you think best, without letting it disturb your fine mental balance. Be poised.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) — A fine day for getting into the world of action and putting your ideas across constructively. Read your paper first for good suggestions. Don't waste time on small matters but dig right into the big concerns that have you inspired.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — Look well into that new deal, your savings, etc., or newcomer could really cause you to be bankrupt in no time flat. Know what it is you really want, and work objectively.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — If you are diplomatic, a tiff between an associate and an official need not involve you in any way. Then go about improving others with your friendliness and show that you will more than meet them halfway in some venture.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Stellar influences are such that you can complete some important work provided you have the willpower to stave off those persons who would make you waste time. Or take great pains with labors, or there might be accidental damage.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — You can certainly enjoy yourself if you do not take offense at the words of some financier who would have you acting precipitously. Assert yourself for a change and you will find this releases energy and relieves tensions.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — A fundamental desire appears not to be imminent simply because some associate has fallen back on his or her word. Don't let this floor you, but retain equilibrium and say nothing, and all will eventually work out nicely.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — Be particularly careful while driving or walking today. Also, be sure to show proper personal bow practical and aesthetic you can make your surroundings, though you lack bile capital to invest in such. Be smart.

If your child is born today . . . The wonderful child born today has the fine mentality that will permit him or her to have colossal ideas of constructive merit, yet also be able to work out the finest minutiae connected with same. Give a good training in academic and practical subjects as well as in advanced psychology. Much success is denoted here, especially in fields of finance, engineering, government and civics.

Ottawa Youth Stabbed To Death; 5 Are Charged

Knife Plunged Into Heart During Gang Fight

OTTAWA (CP) — Five teenagers have been charged with murder in the death of Robert O'Leary, stabbed through the heart in a gang fight early Sunday.

They were to appear today in police court.

O'Leary, who would have been 21 today, was left dead in an Ottawa gutter following the gang clash, sparked by a young girl's flippant remark in a restaurant argument earlier.

A blood - stained steak knife, eight inches long, was found nearby.

Six ten-agers were picked up near the scene after a policeman arrived and scared off the fleeing fighters. Eleven others — including two juvenile girls — were rounded up at their homes. After about 17 hours of questioning, murder rap was laid against five of the 17 teen-agers.

THE ACCUSED

Charged were William Robert Post, 19, and his 16 - year - old brother, James Montague Post; Joseph Gerald, 18; James Mackmott, 17; and Thomas John Drain, 18.

Detective Inspector Ab Cavan said he does not recall so many were being charged in Ottawa in connection with a single slaying.

The fight scene on Somerset Street near Bronson Avenue in west-central Ottawa is only seven blocks from Lansdowne Park, where old youth was kicked to death in 1955 by fans outside a church in May last year.

O'Leary, born in Ottawa and raised by Mr. and Mrs. Alexander O'Leary, was wearing a cast over his left wrist when he was stabbed. The wrist was broken in a neighborhood football game. Until that injury he had been a laborer and truck driver for a construction firm here.

POLICE ACCOUNT

Police gave this account of the events culminating in the gang brawl:

O'Leary, another youth and two girls were in a restaurant when they began to exchange remarks with another group of youths.

One of the girls with O'Leary referred to the rival group as "a bunch of punks."

Words threatened and the proprietor ordered one group to leave, allowing O'Leary's group to stay.

When the O'Leary party left, the other group was waiting outside. But O'Leary and his friends escaped in a car before a scuffle could start. They drove to a party in Eastview, at the Ottawa River, but returned to Somerset shortly with reinforcements.

The two factions clashed outside a Somerset Street restaurant.

When a policeman drove up in a car, Eastern Block Boy Scout Irishman found O'Leary lying face down on the pavement. An autopsy showed a knife had severed an artery at the top of his heart. He had died almost instantly.

John Sweet, 102, Of Campbellford Dies Saturday

CAMPBELLFORD (CP) — John Sweet, at 102 the oldest resident of Campbellford, 2 miles east of Peterborough, died Saturday in Toronto.

Mr. Sweet was a native of Napanee. Interviewed on his 102nd birthday last March, he said he remembered when Campbellford, which now has a population of more than 3,000, consisted of one store and a handful of houses, and supplies were carted from Belleville by oxen. He worked as a farmer, miner, blacksmith and storekeeper.

Yen for Security Seen Threat to Canada's Future

MONTREAL (CP)—Dr. O. M. Solandt, one of Canada's top military scientists, says a growing demand for security threatens to slow down Canada's growth.

And the threat is not only to national spirit, but to our pocket books as well," he told the fall convocation of Sir George Williams College Saturday night.

"Too often nowadays a man is measured by what he possesses and not what he has achieved.

"A job is rated in terms of a pension plan and hospital insurance rather than in terms of opportunities for personal development or for finding new fields to conquer.

"Now the demand for security is strong and if it cannot be contained within reasonable limits there is a real danger that this quest will drain our energies from us as a nation."

Of the international situation, Dr. Solandt said there is a "really great threat" of a total atomic war.

"The West has become increasingly dependent upon the use of atomic bomb, particularly because it has used its conventional armed forces while the Soviet has strengthened and re-equipped its armies."

TITO CONDEMNS RED CHINA IN BITTER ATTACK

'Commune System' Is Not Favored

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (Reuters) — President Tito condemned Communist China Sunday for being "against political coexistence" and said the Peiping regime's newly-formed communes had "nothing in common with marxism."

It was the Yugoslav leader's first direct attack on the commune system, a drastic administrative reorganization in which millions of Chinese are being recruited for communal life in industry, agriculture and other forms of labor.

Tito told a cheering crowd of 10,000 persons in Slovenia he believed the current Soviet bloc campaign against Yugoslavia would "last a long time."

Attacks against the "Titoism" often spearheaded by Communist China, criticize Yugoslavia's decision "to take an independent "road "to"socialism" free from obligation to either the Kremlin or the West.

AIMED AT RUSSIA?.

Tito said the leading role Russia played in the bitter campaign launched against Yugoslavia "was unfortunate, probably aimed at "some others."

Observers said this presumably referred to the Soviet Union itself.

Tito was speaking after opening a new 80-mile highway built by 50,000 youth workers in the first Communist "youth brigade" operation since 1952.

He complained that the Soviet attacks on Yugoslavia with German propaganda during the war years said they were aimed at splitting Yugoslavia's Communist leadership from the people through "various slanders."

Attempts were being made to "unify and negate Yugoslavia's wartime efforts but Yugoslavs "have the monolithic rock," the president said.

His complaints would not break ities with Western countries nor would it stop being a socialist country.

Pope John Will Be 77 Years Old Tuesday

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII will be 77 Tuesday and many hope he will be reminded it's his birthday, Vatican aides say.

He has been too busy in his first month as pontiff to make any preparations for the day. He may, at the last minute, call in one or two friends for a birthday lunch.

His three brothers and a sister, the last of a family of 12 children, will not be here. They, and hundreds of townsmen from the village of Sotto Il Monte and his province of Bergamo, are coming next day. By special request, Dec. 5 instead to give him a birthday present.

With an energy that belies his years, Pope John has held to a work schedule that allows only six hours sleep a night.

He was born Nov. 25, 1881, the son of a north Italian sharecropper.

$15,000 Loss In Garage and Wing of House

KINGSTON (CP) — A nurse driving past saw flames sweeping the roof of Dr. D. A. C. Bingham on Highway 33 early today and sounded her horn to awake four persons in the house.

Dr. and Mrs. Bingham and two guests escaped before the fire destroyed a wing of the house and a garage. Loss was estimated by the owner at $15,000.

Coat of Winter White Covers Wide Swath of the Province

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Toronto received its first coat of winter white today as a storm left over a wide swath of Ontario.

The weather office in Toronto said three inches of snow fell in the Muskoka district, two inches was dumped at Wiarton on the Bruce Peninsula and one inch had been recorded in Toronto up to 7 a.m. EST.

The snowfall extended as far north as Muskoka, reached east to just touch Ottawa and dipped south to Clear Creek, 40 miles west of London on Lake Erie.

Snow started to fall at Toronto's Malton airport at 4 a.m., and was expected to peter out well before noon.

In southwestern Ontario rain showers turned to damp snow in the morning but the fall stopped at Clear Creek before 9 a.m.

The forecast for the afternoon was cloudy with a few snowflurries.

Provinces to Urge Subsidy To Cover Railway Pay Boost

OTTAWA (CP) — Provincial representatives will support a federal subsidy to take care of a wage increase for railway employees, it was learned today as the cabinet met to hear an appeal against the latest freight rate increase.

The proposed federal aid would be a substitute for a 15-per-cent freight increase authorized by the board of transport commissioners, and which is being appealed by all provinces except Ontario and Quebec.

Informants said the subsidy proposal would be brought before the cabinet at today's session. It would be suggested in the form mainly of compensation for the low level of the Crownest Pass freight rates on western export grain.

The grain rates are fixed by a 1925 parliamentary statute.

Gale-Smashed Tug Steams To Port With All Hands Safe

OWEN SOUND (CP) — The gale-smashed tug Helen M.B. was reported steaming to Owen Sound under her own power early today after being missing since Saturday.

P. H. Gould, head of the Waubaushene firm that still owned the vessel was "out of danger" and had reported by radio.

Cove Island is at the tip of the Bruce Peninsula between Lake Huron and Georgian Bay.

The 108-foot ocean-going tug was missing for about 18 hours before signals late Sunday night from Cove Island were first picked up by the crew of seven in good shape.

Rescue ships had been standing by to go to the aid of the tug which was in the Lake Huron area drifting in northern Lake Huron with her engines broken down.

Messages from the tug Sunday night reported the steering gear and radio had been smashed by the waves. Crew members had rigged up an emergency steering system and put the radio transmitter back in operation after the wind diminished late on Sunday.

The vessel left Goderich Saturday for Owen Sound, encountering a large sow in tow. It was off the west shore of the Bruce Peninsula when a gale struck in the early hours Saturday.

At 8:26 a.m. the Rogers City station heard a distress signal from the passage. Last score 3 a.m. trying to save tug and barge. Pilot Captain Alfred Pye, Clarence Courtenmanche, failed out before it could give the tug's position.

Three planes from the RCAF Search United Air Force guard searched Sunday. The scow was found near South Thunder Island but there was no sign of the Helen M. B. and the search was resumed until late Sunday night.

Owen Sound, Ont.

The Helen M. B. carried two lifeboats and a life raft. It was built in 1937 from steel hull of a tug, the Helena, which sank near Chicago three years ago.

She was salvaged by the Waubaushene Navigation Company, Limited Midland. One of the largest tugs on the Great Lakes, she is powered with 900 horsepower engines.

West Powers Still Unable To Agree on Berlin Policy

BERLIN (AP) — The Western powers were reported still unable to agree today on a policy of unified action toward the Communist challenge in Berlin.

There were many indications that the United States, Britain and France were finding it difficult to agree on a plan of action to counter Premier Nikita Khrushchev reveals a proposal for dismantling the four-power regime for the city.

Khrushchev declared two weeks ago that Russia was ready to pull out of the four-power setup and leave the West on its own in Berlin if the West refused to make a deal.

The West's dilemma is how far it is willing to go to maintain the East German satellite. Despite official denials, reports persisted that the British and the Americans and in Bonn that the British see West Berlin as a liability, not so the Americans, French or West Germans.

The West German government in Bonn is opposed to any West-ern deal that would let the Communists build a wall around the Western sectors of Berlin, 110 miles behind the iron curtain.

An official at U.S. headquarters here indicated there had been no Western decision because "after all the Russians haven't announced what they are going to do."

"Our thinking on the matter and the thinking of our Allies is still crystallizing, but when a decision is made there is no doubt that we will be in agreement."

Coldwell Leaves

OTTAWA (CP)—M. J. Coldwell left by air Sunday for New York to take up his assignment as chairman of a United Nations commission which will study community planning in India.

The 69-year-old CCF leader will spend about a week in New York for briefings on his assignment and then fly to India.

DE GAULLE WINS FIRST ROUND OF ELECTIONS

Premier's Foes Made Poorest Showing

PARIS (AP)—Premier Charles de Gaulle won another strong endorsement from the French people in the first-round voting Sunday for the new National Assembly. With most constituencies heard from de Gaulle's coat-tails, outright foes of the premier made the poorest showing.

A strong swing to the right was accompanied by a Communist decline, although the anti-Gaullist Communists were still the strongest single party, the Union Dudica, a Communist leader, declared. Left flight is the runoff next Sunday.

The de Gaulle side scrapped such non-Gaullist foes as former premiers Pierre Mendes-France and Maurice Bourges-Maunoury. Both lost their assembly seats on the first ballot.

A new Gaullist party, the Union for the New Republic headed by Information Minister Jacques Soustelle, scored the best individual success after the Communists.

This was the trend although only the 465 deputies from mainland France were elected by a majority vote over all ballots cast. The remainder will be chosen in runoffs next Sunday between the two highest in the pluriality.

The interior ministry gave this breakdown of the results:

Communists, elected 1 deputy, 2,838,816 votes, 19.2 per cent of the vote.

Socialists, 2 deputies, 3,603,958, 17.4 per cent.

Independents, mostly rightists, 24 deputies, 2,816,716 votes, 13.6 per cent.

The remaining votes were scattered among 14 other parties and groups.

The Communist percentage compared with 25.6 in the general election of 1956, and the pro-Gaullist percentage with their peak strength of 3,500,000 votes in 1951. They held the main rival of the old assembly which had 625 deputies.

Canadian Naval Officers, Ratings To Join Yacht

OTTAWA (CP) — Britannia's going to be a busy place when the Queen comes to Canada next summer.

By Britain's special permission, a dozen or so Canadian naval officers and ratings will be added to complement of the royal yacht Britannia for the visit of Queen and Prince Philip in June and July, it was learned Saturday.

After long negotiations, the Royal Canadian Navy got invitations and said it will be all right for Canadians to join the royal party. It is known whether the Canadian sailors will go aboard in Britain or Canada.

The royal yacht, more than 400 feet long and with its own radio and aerial specially hinged to allow the craft to pass beneath bridges on the St. Lawrence Seaway, will reach Montreal in the last week of June, it is understood.

There will be a national ceremony when the yacht passes through the Seaway canals, and will be prelude to the official joint opening ceremony to be attended by President Eisenhower. The Canada-United States section will likely take place in the area of Cornwall Island.

The program for the royal visit is still in the planning stage. Arrangements are being made with the objective of giving the public every opportunity to see as much as possible of the royal couple who will be in North America from mid-June to late in July.

Three Toronto Controllers Walk Out of Banquet

TORONTO (CP) — Three city controllers walked out of the annual banquet of the Native Sons of Canada Toronto assembly No. 107, after their hosts refused to play, God Save the Queen when the toast to the Queen was proposed.

Joseph Cornish, William R. Allen and Mrs. Jean D. Newman left the banquet right after the loyal toast had been argued for half an hour while 150 guests waited at the tables.

The three were to have been guests of honor.

Albert Brohman, entertainment committee chairman, told the controllers the Queen would be played at the end of the dance. "We'll play God Save the Queen when the toast to the Queen was proposed.

Asked by President J. A. Pickard said the Native Sons had received a letter from Prime Minister Diefenbaker's office saying God Save the Queen is a prayer for her majesty.

"I don't sing my prayers," Mr. Brohman said. "I'm not a politician by Controller Cornish. "If feel you are not aware of the significance of Canadianism."

The Native Sons, which make Canadian birth a prerequisite for membership, contend that O, Canada, not God Save the Queen, is the national anthem.

Mr. Pickard was cheered when he said: "We're not anti-British. We are simply loyal Canadians."

Parkyakarkas Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Harry Einstein, 54, who rose to radio fame as the Greek funnyman, Parkyakarkas, died of a heart attack today backstage at show business gathering.

Einstein had spoken at a Friar's Club testimonial dinner for Jerome Ball and Desi Arnaz.

Say Boston Man Has Bonds Taken From Banks Here

FBI Arrests Executive In Canadian Bank Cases

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—The government has charged a Boston executive with receiving several bonds, taken in multi-million-dollar robberies of two Canadian banking firms.

Bernard J. Ishaya, 45, president of Industrial Relations Associates Inc. of Boston, was arrested at his New London home Sunday by agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

He appeared here before U.S. Commissioner Robert E. Alcorn, who bound him over to a federal district court under $5,000 bond.

Eshaya is charged with violating a statute forbidding the knowing transportation of stolen property.

Special FBI agent Edward J. Mc-Guire Gaullist arrested the stolen bonds as collateral for loans at New London banks. He said $78,000 in stolen bonds had been recovered from the banks.

DENIES CHARGE

Eshaya's lawyer denied the government's charge that the father of five children had entered into a "devious scheme" to get money from the Canadian Bellitro, plc-tured Eshaya as "an unfortunate tool of shadowy figures."

"He obtained the bonds from an equally well-respected man in Montreal," the lawyer said, "and not name the other man.

The government said the bonds were part of a $1,789,400 burglary of the vaults of the Bank of Montreal early this year, and a $2,250,000-or burglary of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Canadian authorities said $732,-000 had been recovered from the former robbery after raids had been conducted in Switzerland, New York City, Miami and Montreal. Six persons have been arrested.

The Brockville burglary may have netted far more than the estimated $2,250,000 — possibly up to $10,000,000. At least $7,000,-000, mostly in registered securities, has been recovered.

Eshaya, was a union organizer before he entered the labor business, New London authorities said. He helped organize the AFL-CIO Trades Council there during the war and was later active in labor work in Boston and Providence, R.I.

ON TWO COUNTS

Eshaya was charged with two counts of attempting to dispose of the securities. The maximum penalty on each count is a $10,-000 fine or 10 years in jail, or both.

In the Montreal robbery, bandits crashed a side door through their own alarm system to ward off intruders.

Chief Inspector Alex Paul Pelletier, 50, of Montreal, was gleaned from inquiries subsequently made of those about the Montreal case. Pelletier was sentenced May 13 to five years in prison after pleading guilty to illegal possession of $1,000,000 in stolen bonds.

He earlier had been charged with stealing the entire amount.

The amount taken in the Brockville robbery was originally determined exactly because, much of the loot came from safety deposit boxes rented by the bank kept no records.

CAUGHT IT BIGGEST

During the trial last week of one of the accused robbers, a bank manager testified he lost $10,000,000 figure and said the theft was probably the biggest single robbery in North American history.

A bankbook discovered in the debris led to the arrest in Montreal of Rene Martin, 23. Martin pleaded guilty to burglary charges Thursday and faces sentencing Nov. 28.

Social Worker Hires Detective To Kill Wife of Man She Loved

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)— Barbara Ann Gaskins, 25, was charged with hiring a man to kill the wife of a state highway patrolman she loved, police said. She allegedly hired for $500 turned out to be a detective.

The intended murder was not committed and the high-way patrolman was not implicated.

Miss Massey, a social case worker with an outstanding record at Wake Forest College, was released under $1,000 bond after arrest Saturday. She goes on trial Friday at Charlotte.

The warrant for her arrest charges she conspired to have Richard Ruth "to murder one Frances Smith," mother of two children, for $500.

Police gave this account:

Miss Massey asked a man in Charlotte about two weeks ago to suggest someone for the job of killing Mrs. Smith. The man she asked was a police informer who notified Detective Ruth.

Ruth met Miss Massey Nov. 15. He carried a hidden tape recorder. She gave him a $500 check.

Believe Mother Killed Children, Then Herself

QUEBEC (CP) — An autopsy is to be performed today or Tuesday on a young mother to help determine whether she was responsible for her own death and the deaths of her two children in Saturday's blaze.

Killed by bullets from a .32-calibre revolver were Mrs. Francoise Legarre, 26, and her children, Denis, 6, and Richard, nine months. The shootings occurred shortly before 2 p.m. in the Legare apartment in the upper-town district.

The children's father Marc Legare, chief Alma Gulliemin said he was satisfied Mr. Legare was not responsible for the deaths. He said there are strong suggestions Mrs. Legare shot the children then turned the gun on herself.

Strikers Plan Motorcade to Queen's Park

SUDBURY (CP) — Strikers at the International Nickel Company here are planning a motorcade to Queen's Park at Toronto in an effort to bring pressure on Premier Frost to intervene in the dispute, their union announced Sunday night.

The motorcade is scheduled to leave the 200-mile journey Thursday morning. Plans were outlined by officials of the 14,000-member United Steelworkers Local Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.) here and in Copper Cliff, attended by about 1,500 miners.

Following one of the rallies Sunday that included more than 1,000 bearing placards and shouting slogans marched through city streets.

MEETS WITH NASSER

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Maj.-Gen. Carl von Horn of Sweden, chairman of the United Nations truce supervision organization for Palestine, met with President Nasser Sunday. Diplomats here are reported to be pressing von Horn to reactivate the Israeli-Egyptian armistice commission, which the Israelis have boycotted since 1956.

City and District News

SIX RIBBONS WON BY PONY TEAM FROM THIS CITY

Mr. John R. Bush came home from the Royal Winter Fair at the Toronto with six ribbons won by his team of hackney ponies. Mrs. Bush, who took first place for ponies driven by a field of seventeen, while Mrs. Norman Smith of Brampton, drove the team to a first place in an entry of eight teams. In by-the-500 Scheme, Harness Pony Stakes, Mr. Bush had the honour to finish third among eighteen other entries and the top three horses came from the farm of Percy Graham.

In the harness pony, maiden class, Mr. Bush finished third, second among fourteen in the Pony Gig Class and first in the Owner-to-drive class in which there was an entry of fifteen ponies.

This was a signal honor to Mr. Bush as he has only been competing in the big time for about five years and some of the best drivers in the province were in the class. He was congratulated personally by the judge after the competition had been completed.

DARTS INTO PATH OF MOTORCYCLE

Two-year-old Stephen Meens, 121 Stanley Street, suffered severe lacerations to his left ear, head and face when he darted out from behind a line of parked cars and into the path of a motorcycle.

The accident occurred Sunday morning on Church Street opposite St. Michael's Church.

Police said the lad darted out from the east curb from between a line of parked cars and into the path of a northbound motorcycle driven by William S. Wood, a North Park street.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY HOLDS FIRST WORKSHOP

The Hastings County Historical Society recently held the first in a series of monthly workshops.

Fourteen members worked at the indexing of Surrogate Court Records (1846-1880) and at the indexing of W. C. Mikel's "City of Belleville History". The indexing of Mikel's book will make more readily available the vast amount of valuable information contained in this 15 year-old book.

The Society will hold its next meeting at 236 George Street on December 9th at 7:30 p.m., and all interested persons are welcome.

BELLEVILLE DRAWS CHESS MATCHES WITH BROCKVILLE

Playing a South-Eastern Ontario Chess League "double-header" on Saturday afternoon, Brockville and Belleville drew two matches, 5-5, both in their team-age expert, A. Kaloiay, who finished ninth in the Canadian Open this year, defeated Fred Recorded victories on the four top boards in both matches. Kaloiay defeated H. S. Ellis twice, K. Pugi took two from W. Eisele of Brockville, S. Rich won two from Y. Armengaud and K. Sedlacek won both his games, with T. Meeus. However, Belleville players recorded double victories on four boards, W. Hinderle defeating J. Fleischmann, B. May beating M. Farrelly, F. Gardiner defeating Mrs. J. Fulford and D. Batchelor beating J. Hutton. In the first match, held at home in Brockville defeated H. Wolf of Belleville, while R. Suykens of Belleville beat V. Englesakis of Brockville, to make the score 3-3. In the second match, the results were reversed, H. Wolf of Belleville and V. Englesakis of Brockville being the winners, and again the match ended in a tie.

Belleville and Brockville are now tied in the standings, with two wins, two draws and a loss apiece. Kingston has won two and lost nine.

CHANGED STORY ABOUT BEING HIT

A report of a hit-and-run accident on the Oak Hills Saturday in which a motorist was supposed to have been struck by a car, turned out to be a hitch hiker having gotten tired of walking. It was stated today by Provincial Police.

The hitch hiker, who was reported to have been slightly under the influence of liquor had told police he had been struck by a car, but an examination showed no injuries and the story was later changed.

Queen's Motor Hotel Receives Hines Recognition

TTHACA, N. Y. — The Queen's Motor Hotel has received national recognition in the new (1959) edition of Hines Directory, "Lodging for a Night" just off the press.

It is the only motor hotel in Belleville included among 4,500 selected lodging establishments "Recommended by Duncan Hines" out of nearly 100,000 lodging places in North America.

Roy H. Park, vice — president, Duncan Hines Institute, Ithaca, N. Y., said, "We are happy to give deserved recognition to this establishment by including it in a selected group. This establishment is one of four out of 100, for our listings of selected lodging places number only 4 per cent of the total in America." This marks the beginning of the third year for the new Duncan Hines book just out in "Adventures in Good Eating." (384 pages) which lists 4,500 of the best places to eat.

Mr. Park explained that the listings in the books are "authoritative and unbiased" and are based on "thorough inspection by the field inspectors and surveys by the staff in the Institute headquarters staff. No establishment ever pays for a listing."

The Queen's Motor Hotel is owned and operated by Mr. J. N. Yanover, well known business man of Belleville.

MINISTER DEPORTED

Bridge Street A.O.T.S. Club Elects Officers

The November meeting of Bridge Street A.O.T.S. Men's Club was held on November 18th, with the Christ Church Anglican Men's Club members as guests. President Ray Gunsolus presided at the head table while all enjoyed a "potluck" supper.

Taylor Franklin, as sergeant-at-arms, kept everyone "in line" and switched to items that all participated in the sing-song, or checked on draw numbers and so led to the enjoyment. Ed Buchanan, with Dave Vice at the piano, led in group singing, for relaxation.

Glen Shaver conveyed congratulations to Ed Buchanan and Rex Chaplin and Don Stanton, with November birthdays, and to Harry Arendsen, Dr. Sam Cronk and Bryson Leslie, whose wedding anniversaries are this month.

Art Clare welcomed and introduced the guests of the evening: Archie MacDonald, Rev. Everett Smith, Don Creswell, Phil Harris, James Wright, Gord Pringle, Oliver Owens, Norm White, Howard Hill, Alfred Cooper, W. J. Coleman and Charlie Sloan.

Vic White thanked the ladies for their splendid assistance in preparing the supper tables.

A new slate of officers for 1959, suggested by the nominating committee, were elected:

OFFICERS FOR 1959

Hon. President, Harry Davis; president, Everett Fairman; vice president, Doug Courtney; treasurer, Harry Mackie; secretary, Rex Chaplin.

Ward Hamilton led in the devotional period, selecting a chapter from the Book of Revelation, after which John tells of God's promise for the future.

The meeting was the ceremony of initiation on the newest member, Dave McLintock.

Ray Gunsolus, in closing, Mr. Leslie Lennox, of Christ Church Men's Club, was introduced by Everett Fairman. His theme was "Stewardship." Mr. Lennox has many constructive ideas on stewardship, ways of encouraging others to help others, to give more of their time and talents to the church, thereby increasing the fellowship. His thoughts were climaxed by this poem:

"TAKE TIME"

"Take time to think; it is the source of power.
Take time to read; it is the fountain of wisdom.
Take time to be friendly; it is the road to happiness.
Take time to laugh; it is the music of the soul.
Take time to love; it is too short a day to be selfish.
Take time to pray; it is the price of success.
Take time to love and be loved; it is a God-given right.
Take time to pray; it is the greatest power on earth.

GM Workers In Five Cities Take Strike Vote

TORONTO (CP) — Workers at General Motors plants in five Ontario cities voted today on whether to give the United Auto Workers (CLC) executive power to call a strike.

Union spokesmen said results of the voting would be announced Tuesday in Toronto.

The UAW and GM are scheduled to resume contract negotiations here today. They were reported near a deadlock when talks broke off last week.

The 7,000 workers' contracts at the assembly plant at Oshawa, engine plant at Windsor, Diesel Limited, London, Frigidaire Products at Toronto and McKinnon Industries Limited at St. Catharines, a wholly-owned GM subsidiary.

First Snowfall Of Year Visits City, District

Snowshovels were brought out for summer storage today as the city and district were visited with the first real snowfall of the year.

"Starting during the early morning hours the fall soon covered the streets, making driving hazardous for all. Only during areas where traffic failed to cut through to the pavement.

By mid-morning however, the snow had turned to slush on the streets and sidewalks but in the north said highways were quite treacherous along the less travelled routes. However, no serious accidents were reported.

Provincial police reported the highway transport had gone out of control on Highway 401, east of Merrywille but no one was injured.

West Diplomats Predict Big Majority for Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) The United States today predicted that the United Nations go ahead without the Soviet Union if the Russians refuse to take part in a proposed international study of outer space co-operation.

The proposal was made by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who told the UN's 82-nation political committee that he had been unable to reach agreement with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian Zorin in private talks.

Lodge said he hoped Zorin would vote for a revised 20-nation resolution which embodies many of the elements in a rival Soviet plan. He added, however, that failure of the Soviet Union to agree should not halt UN action.

Lodge said he hoped Russia would co-operate but "if the Soviet union does not take part, I do not think that is a reason to falter."

"We can still do useful work."

Western diplomats predicted an handsome majority for the 20-nation proposal with or without Soviet support.

Some Asians and Africans expressed doubt that the Russians would sit on the committee, which would report back to the assembly next year on what the UN should do to promote international co-operation in the scientific and peaceful use of outer space.

The committee would consist of 18 countries — three Communist, three neutralist and 12 pro-Western. Zorin has demanded that Communists and neutralist countries together should equal the total of pro-Western countries.

New Theory May Lead to Serum Against Cancer

BEAMSVILLE, Ont. (CP) — A cancer expert says a new research theory may lead to a serum to prevent, control cancer.

Dr. R. M. Taylor, executive director of the National Cancer Institute and the Canadian Cancer Society, told a workshop conference here Saturday:

"While it is still very much in the experimental stage; and isn't subscribed to by many others studying cancer problems, if it (the theory) can be proved there is a way to make a serum to give practically everyone immunity may be developed."

The theory, he said institute workers, is that tumor factors from which cancer develops are present in everyone, but some persons have a natural body defense which prevents their development.

Studies indicated a virus may be the root of all cancer but much doubt still had to be done.

Dr. Taylor said the institute at Toronto was concentrating on the virus theory but it is too early to make definite conclusions.

The meeting Saturday was the first under a new district setup in which workers from the counties of Lincoln, Welland, Haldimand, Wentworth, Norfolk and Brant took part.

FALL FATAL

LOUDER FIRE ALARM

East week Captain Cecil Ellis, chief of the Trenton Fire Department stated the first few minutes of a fire can mean the difference between disaster and a minimum loss. Most persons will agree with this, especially the volunteer firemen and the regulars. But there is another thing which is felt to be almost as important and that is to get all the firefighters to a fire as quickly as possible. It takes more than two men to fight a fire in a building once it has started its way up through the walls and partitions.

At one of the last house fires there was talking to a volunteer firemen who had been sitting in Bert's Barber Shop. He stated he noticed the trucks were gone. On inquiring he found there was a fire in a house on the east side of the river and that the bell had been rung. By the time he arrived at the scene of the fire the blaze was out.

What happens to one it can happen to others as well and if only 5 mins hearing the bell fire are not near their home or business phone to be called there is per cent of the town's voluntary force is not on hand to help if needed.

Then, if they do hear the alarm, they have to either call the fire station to find out where the fire is or wait until the man on duty at the station calls them. This all takes precious minutes lost in the time it takes to make a call through to the hall.

It has been suggested that a louder fire alarm be considered and that perhaps an air or electric horn be used in addition to the near future.

We have heard these electric horns in use in other towns and they are very effective. The penetrating and far-reaching and they also be so used to alert firemen exactly where the fire is. This would eliminate the time wasting method of calling them or having them call in to the station.

DIVIDED INTO SECTIONS

This is the method other fire departments equipped with an electric horn use. The entire city is divided into several sections, as many as a dozen needed for the system to be effective. One central point of the section is recorded on a list and given a number. Take for example Section five could be the post office corner on Dundas Street west, and section 21 could be the corner of Main Street and North Murray Street, and so on until the whole town is covered in these sections.

Then if a fire breaks out in a post office the man on duty at the hall would give the post office blasts on the electric horn, pause for about 30 seconds and give a second five blast. The second time is done to make sure the firemen get the count right. When he hears the five blasts he knows where the fire section is and proceeds as fast as he can to the post office corner and from there he can easily find the fire and be helping with it seconds

Car Runs Into Side of House Out of Control

TRENTON — A car went out of control early Sunday morning when the driver said he was blinded by oncoming headlights, snapped off a hydro pole and ran into the side of a house on Marmora Street. The mishap occurred early Sunday morning.

The driver of the 1950 model car, Henry J. Wilce, of 71 West Street, complained of bruises to his legs and chest following the mishap. He carried no insurance on the vehicle.

Damages to the car, which was said a complete write-off, were estimated at $500. The hydro pole broken off in front of 18 Marmora Street and two street lights, $200. A no-parking sign damaged, $10. The curb in front of the Presbyterian Church, $25 and the post at the corner of the verandah of 20 Marmora Street, $50.

Two men from the electrical division of the Public Utilities Commission were called out to repair the line and restore the power to the residents of the street. Because of the broken pole and wires some 500 households said they were without the last part of the late on Sunday.

The driver told police he was proceeding east on Dundas Street when he had turned left onto Marmora Street when the headlights of an approaching car blinded him and he swung to the west side of the street.

The police report shows that the car went over the west curb on the driveway south of the Presbyterian Church, travelled about 14 feet along the boulevard where it hit a No-Parking sign and bending the steel post flat to the ground and sheared off the metal sign at the top of the post. The car continued north another 27 feet and hit a curb in front of the church, went another 46 feet, still on the boulevard, where it hit a hydro pole breaking it off and two street lights. After hitting the pole the car continued on for another 14 feet, crossed the sidewalk and came to a stop on the north east corner of the verandah of 20 Marmora Street.

after the alarm is given.

If the fire happened to be a big one say the west portion then two long and one short blast would be sounded on the electric horn. This would tell the volunteer the fire is in section 21 at the corner of West and North Murray and then to the fire on Ramsay.

It is understood the electric horn is the most efficient and inexpensive manner in which to call firemen and dispense them quickly to the scene for towns which do not have a volunteer fire department.

The sections and the numbers for each fire station are compiled by each fireman but lists are also made up and given to each member of the fire department as well as placed in convenient places.

MINE TOLL RISES

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (CP)—The death toll in the Springhill mine disaster rose to 75 Sunday. William Stevenson, rescued a few minutes after the entire cave-in Oct. 23, died in hospital here.

Town Briefs

TRENTON — The first real snow of the season came to Trenton this morning, and a light wind from the north gave it an almost blizzard effect. But the wet and sticky snow clung to the trees and telephone wires, turned rooftops, awnings and car tops white. Normal heavy morning traffic helped to keep the roadways clear of snow except in places where cars did not touch the snow lay quite heavy.

WILL DISCUSS ISSUES

Tonight at 8 p.m. the ratepayers of Trenton will be given a chance to hear the candidates for the various civic offices and the campaign for the local election gets underway. At the ratepayer's meeting, to be held in the Community Centre Hall, each candidate will be given an opportunity to tell the voters his ideas on what should or shouldn't be done. The present council officers will be seeking re-election. They are Lloyd Worrall who polled 1,003 votes in last year's election, Vago Lange who polled 1,029 votes and Charles Hilton who received 974 votes. Councillor Joe Gould, who led the polls last year with 1,249 votes will not run. Although he was nominated he did not appear at the town office last Friday to qualify. Councillor Ray Fox who was also elected not to run, last year he polled 993 votes. Councillor Jim McDonald, who will be seeking the top post on the town council that of mayor of Trenton polled 1,249 votes last year when he ran for council. Mayor Ross Burtt, who will seek re-election as chief magistrate of the town was not opposed in the polls last year.

BRIDGE IS OPENED

The town bridge opened Saturday evening around five to two-way traffic and to all weights. It had been expected to open sometime on Friday but because a small job under the bridge turned out to be a larger one than first thought the double trial fie had to be kept off for another day. It is not expected the bridge will close down again during the present repair period.

British Empire Dairy Show Here Will Have 170 Entries

Al Duggan, inspector of dairy products for Central Ontario; Jim MacMillan, chief dairy grader for Central Ontario, and Jack Bain, London, assistant director of Dairying for Ontario, judge cheese at the British Empire Dairy Show to be held in Belleville Wednesday and Thursday.

One hundred and seventy entries of cheese, including one entry from Wisconsin, are entered in the British Empire Dairy Show being held this week at Belleville city hall market room. The show is being held in conjunction with the Central Ontario Cheesemakers' Association annual convention.

The 170 entries, up considerably from last year, include 117 entries of mature class cheese, 17 entries of square cheese and 19 entries of stiltons.

Judging of the cheese is expected to be completed by Tuesday noon with placement of trophies and other wards to be made in time for the official opening of the show Wednesday morning. Convention sessions are being held at the Hotel Quinte Wednesday and Thursday with the cheesemakers' annual banquet scheduled for the Masonic Temple Thursday evening.

Population Here To Jump Jan. 1 To 28,032 Total

O.. January 1st, Belleville's official population will jump to 28,032, an increase of 6,638, it was noted today by city Assessment Commissioner Leighton Thompson.

Population of the city now is given as 21,394, an increase of 317 over 1957.

A result of annexation to become effective January 1st, 6,277 persons in Thurlow and 1,361 in Sidney will become Belleville citizens.

At the same time the city area will be increased by approximately 3,500 acres.

Group Prepared To Open Mine At Springhill

SPRINGHILL, N.S. (CP) — Mayor Ralph Gilroy said Sunday he is "encouraged" about Springhill's economic future.

He said three small companies have expressed an interest in locating here and that an independent group of Nova Scotia coal men are ready to take over the lease to the coal fields and open up a new mine. Names were not disclosed.

Mr. Gilroy said: "These things are encouraging. I am hoping there will be more."

The report list its main industry Oct. 23 when an underground upheaval wrecked the Cumberland Railway and Coal Company's No. 2 colliery, trapping 174 men.

Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation, which controls the Cumberland Company, said earlier it would put a new lease to any group willing to operate here. Silence has announced it is pulling out.

The toll rose to 75 Sunday, one month to the day after the upheaval, when miner William Stevenson, died in hospital. He received internal injuries and a broken arm and leg.

$45,000 Worth Of Jewelry in Showroom Taken

TORONTO (CP)—About $45,000 worth of jewelry and other goods were stolen from a warehouse and showroom during the weekend.

Goods taken from Consumers' Distributing Company in north-central Toronto included $15,000 worth of diamond rings and $10,000 worth of wrist watches, police reported today.

Industrial diamonds worth $20,000 were stolen after a door was forced at Boyles Brothers Drilling Company in north-west Toronto.

HOLD SEAMAN

HAMILTON (CP) — Immigration officials said Sunday night they are holding a Swedish seaman who jumped into Hamilton Bay while his ship started a journey towards Toronto. The man, picked out of the water by harbor police, was taken to hospital and placed under guard pending investigation.

THE ARENA PROBLEM

Last Monday evening the City Council, by a vote of 8 to 6, shelved a proposal that $215,000 should be spent on alterations to the Belleville Memorial Arena. Some members of Council who voted against the proposal pleaded for an opportunity for further study. Here are some facts which may prove useful.

Firstly, as Ald. Robertson Collins said, Belleville citizens have a considerable investment to protect, $128,976.99 to be exact, not including interest on two issues of debentures, now paid off. Of this total $40,000 plus interest was put up by the taxpayers when the arena was purchased by the issue of two-year debentures in 1947. The taxpayers have contributed approximately $39,000 more, through the levy of a mill on the tax rate in 1956 and again in 1957. The remaining $50,000 has come out of the arena's operating profits. A statement of these profits for eleven years of operation places them at $38,753.24, but actually they were larger, since some capital expenditures were treated as operating expenditures. In round figures, therefore, we can say that the arena's operating revenue for eleven years has exceeded operating costs by almost $50,000, or by an average of around $4,500 a year.

This rosy picture, unfortunately, is misleading. The arena's operating profits came in the first seven years, at a time when arenas throughout the province were prospering. For the past four years there have been deficits, totalling $28,370.64. There is no good reason to expect that this trend will be suddenly reversed.

When the arena made a profit, it was largely as the result of revenue from hockey. Now that it has deficits, the reason for receiving as much as it should from this source. This is not just a local condition. When arenas were privately owned, the general arrangement was for a fifty-fifty split of the gate with hockey clubs. The expenses of operating hockey clubs have soared, as the result of long trips, of expensive equipment, of high salaries for players. Arenas cannot get much smaller percentages of the gate. At Kingston, we understand, the arena receives 30 per cent; at Pembroke last year the arena's share was 20 per cent. But if Belleville arena had received 20 per cent of the Macs' gates last years, it would have almost tripled its "take" from senior hockey. The arena got $6,000 of the Macs' gate of $85,917.50. Even when it is considered that the hockey club paid $5,143 for help which would have come out of the arena's share of the gate under the type of arrangement general a few years ago, it is evident that this situation is highly unsatisfactory.

The reason why the arena's share of the gate was so low was that the arena commission operates the hockey club here and if it had put a bigger share of the gate receipts into the arena's coffers with one hand it would only have had to take them out with the other to meet the club's deficit.

From this it may be concluded that the arena should not operate the hockey club. Most people will agree with this in theory. Putting theory into practice is not so simple. No private organization will operate the club here. If the arena did not run it, there would be no senior hockey. Without a club the commission would have had to look elsewhere for the $6,000 it did receive from this source, in addition to which Belleville would have missed a lot of exciting hockey and the valuable publicity accruing from being the home of the Allan Cup champions.

If there is a solution for this dilemma, it is not one which can be worked out in Belleville alone. The plain truth is that Belleville, and cities of comparable size, cannot afford to operate professional hockey teams if accounts do not receive a fair share of the gate. Since most arenas today are municipally owned, failure to receive a fair share of the gate results in deficits which must be met out of taxes. But failure to operate a hockey club at all would only add to the amount of red ink on the arena's books.

Besides being homes for a hockey team operated to provide "spectator sport," community arenas also provide community services. Here in Belleville 700 hockey players operate in minor leagues, with 134½ free hours of hockey a week, valued at about $3,000 for a year. The Recreation Commission pays $250 to provide children with two hours of free skating a week. Children can skate on Saturdays for the nominal fee of ten cents. It is services like these which must justify expenditure of the taxpayers' dollar.

It might be argued that figures like these suggest that the operation of the arena should be continued, but no further investment made in it. Unfortunately this is impossible. The seating is so bad that repairs must be made. There is an investment to protect.

Removing pillars and installing a new roof, and lighting would cost $83,000. Preparing for new seats would cost $43,700, plus an additional $30,000 for the seats themselves. This would add 300 seats and it might be possible to raise the price of admission. The total of $147,000 looks high - - but some expenditures are unavoidable in any event. Perhaps Council and citizens generally might consider the advisability of undertaking this work, leaving the renovation of the front and the addition of 800 more seats, at a cost $63,500 in abeyance.

Faith Moved a Mountain

By Elizabeth Partridge in UNESCO Features

Binayak is a story of courage and faith. It is the record of 100 men who set out to move a mountain. . . .

Eight years ago you would have said that Binayak — a cluster of villages, 5,000 feet up in the Himalayas — was just bordering on the Dark Ages. Its tiny houses clung to the rock face and, on cold nights, the people huddled together for warmth — often with the dark fear of evil. Hunger was another companion since the average family in Binayak earns only about $30 a year (it used to be about $30) a year.

Then in 1950, an old man spoke up in Binayak, Guru Gopal Dutt Walia, a retired schoolmaster and a Sanskrit language buff. It is a vision was that of the Twentieth Century. Therefore, we live here in almost limitless poverty and ignorance, both of which belong to the past," he explained. "Let us build a school where our children may learn the new sciences so that they can turn the climate to our scant soil to good account for the future."

Incredibly, the frail old man persuaded the men of Binayak to begin levelling the Himalayas. Working with only a few tools — we must have an even site" and in Binayak there is nothing but mountain crags. Today so n o n e knows who first did it — a couple of chapathis (wheat cakes) a day. But every evening — after a back-breaking day in the terraced fields — some hundred m e n would look up and shovel and pick by inch, cleared away a small peak. When the site was levelled, the stones were carried up the boulders they had been out of the rock and with them built a massive supporting wall. This work took more than five years.

Next they laid the foundations of a school for 75 pupils, "because we should share our n e w learning with the other villages in the valley," s a i d Guru Walia. Then they applied to the forest service for leave a n d climbed five miles to cut down the pine-trees granted them. Men — and the women, too — carried back the heavy logs which were to become the beams, doors and windows — golden and pungent with fresh resin.

Finally the people of Binayak gave up ian acres of mountain terraces — earth is more precious than gold in these parts — raised it — so that the new school might have its site to stand on. Today it is to Binayak's credit that every one of the sons of the village, to a dot, though that is not usual in these Himalayan districts.

Now Guru Walia's pretended vision is partly realized. Children with bright enquiring eyes attend the new school there, though many have to climb a tough eight miles to do so. But many things are still lacking — there are no science laboratories — the work still lag tools of the Twentieth Century which Binayak needs to bridge the gap between the Dark Ages and today. Binayak's faith may move mountains; it cannot produce test tubes and chemicals.

There the story might have ended — but for a chance meeting between Guru Walia's lawyer nephew, Jai Dutt Walia, and a Dutch botanist, assigned by the UN Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) to work in this region on a horticultural mission. Fifty-year-old Dr. Frederik Kortenhorst was moved by the story of Binayak and, a few months later, when on home leave, he carried out a voluntary lecture tour.

Soon he had Dutch, French and German schoolchildren, and also students at Oxford and Cambridge the story of Binayak; they begged to be allowed to help. "On one condition," said this t a l Dutchman. "You must realize that neither Binayak nor India are beggars. They don't want your pity or your charity. If you want to help them, send them the smallest coin would be wasted. Binayak needs tools, blueprints, reeds of letters from European boys and girls who match hers and girls wrote that they had given up celebrating class promotion with a feast and instead were saving the money towards Binayak. Dr. Kortenhorst organized a "Binayak Exhibition", persuaded their schools to collect their handicraft and presented some 100 pounds to the fund.

When they heard this, Indians asked if they might help swell the collection, and instead were invited to open a savings institution in Bombay — the Sir Kikabhai Premchand Foundation — ably presented 375 pounds towards the fund. Large and small contributions — from Iran and Norway are now coming in. Soon it is hoped to begin work. Almost all is available so that Binayak may provide adequate training facilities for its people. Equally important, is the understanding and friendship which is growing between East and West, the links that are being forged between young people in India and others in far-off Europe.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

WANTS

I have what many a millionaire never has — wants! He may have many things that money will not buy — if say — things that cannot be bought with money. Wants, however, are not confined to mere money. They are everywhere. A child with its big eyes, as it sits on Croesus, but doesn't know it!

We are rich if we have a universal love for all mankind. Certainly wealth is not measured in terms of currency. Wealth is what you have in your heart, hidden from all curiosity and seeking. During this Christmas season many will be the wants of many, but the rich are who will reap the simple and heart-born wants will be the happiest of all.

We have wants at different stages of our life, but perhaps these most cherished will be those that will live on long after we have mingled with the dust of earth. We all have some sort of wants, and if we are wise we shall not place any great stress upon those wants which we have dreamed and speculated upon, but rather upon the wants of our Heavenly Father, and then we want it transferred far a n d wide to all citizens.

The last of earth, represented by a very great New York business man, has interested me for many years. His elaborate tomb in Paris was the result of a dream when on home leave, he carried out a voluntary lecture tour.

Soon he had Dutch, French and German schoolchildren, and also students at Oxford and Cambridge the story of Binayak; they begged to be allowed to help. "On one condition," said this t a l Dutchman. "You must realize that neither Binayak nor India are beggars. They don't want your pity or your charity. If you want to help them, send them the smallest coin would be wasted. A MOTHER'S WAY

By EDGAR A. GUEST

A mother makes a lot of fuss
When children start to play;
Says they kick up such a muss,
Keep her working all the day.
Never gets a minute's rest,
Always overturning chairs;
Says the children are a pest
And the worst of all her cares.
But he's noticed many a day
She is sad when they're away.

Through the house, oh, how they run,
Rumpling rugs where'er they go;
A mother's work is never done;
Chairs are lined up in a row,
Dust is flying everywhere,
Curtains rudely thrown aside;
Children never seem to care,
Back and forth they run to hide.
But he's found when they're away,
She would call them back to play.

Never knew a mother who Didn't scold her romping boys
For the mischief that they do
And their clatter and their noise.
Seems it always is her way
Just to scold, as mothers will;
But she always dreads the day
When the house is hushed and still.
Seems she'd rather work all day
Than have her little ones away.

To Your Good Health

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

THREE MAJOR FACTORS ABOUT THE HEALING OF A WOUND

Many readers have asked questions about healing.

One letter says, "My son had a cyst on his back removed over two years ago. It's closing very slowly. The doctor said maybe he was good to it again by operating but we do not want him to."

Another, about an abdominal operation which is scarred very slow as the other — "what is your opinion or advice?" — Mrs. J. H.

There are three major factors in healing. When tissue is cut, nature responds promptly to repair the damage. The blood carries a number of materials to the site of the wound. How does nature know how to do it? I don't know, any more that I know how nature directs it to turn our mashed potatoes into warmth, and and soft boiled eggs into flesh and muscle, and a glass of milk in bone plus energy and tissue. Nature does, that's all.

Now the three important factors are these. First, wound needs heat when infection interferes. Heat is nature's way of it has to close a large gap rather than a small one. And it won't heal at all if there is much infection.

A torn, gaping wound obviously will take more time as the system has to create a bridge across the gap. Sometimes it can be closed an incision, takes a great palne to heal and leaves no wound close together.

Where a cyst has been removed, sometimes the empty area left is rather wide. Even more important, it is a nest for all foreign matter, and may have been infected.

Infection — destructive germs — interferes with the formation of "fibroblasts," which are the sprouts that turn into scar tissue.

LIKE A DRAINAGE TUBE

A cyst which takes two years to heal is as if all blocked over which is infected inside. The body keeps trying to expel the infectious material, and a "sinus tunnel or "fistula" through the wound. It is like drainage tubes, the walls of the wound cannot heal solidly together. You're familiar, I'm sure, with the "drainage tube" which sometimes is left in after abdominal or other wound to provide an escape vent.

If I had a wound that continued to drain after removal of a cyst, I wouldn't wait two years to have the thing opened up, cleaned out, and reclosed, with the city league last season and the boys are out to sustain their reputation this season. The following officers were elected: hon. president, Pat. Jordan; president, Jack Dowrie; vice president, Ed. Thomas; secretary - treasurer, T. Dolan; manager, W. Brittion; coach, W. Phillips; committee—Jack Brittion, R. Symons, Joe. Colloily, Leo. Barrett, and Jim. Barnes.

Strength for The Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

BALANCE IS IMPORTANT

There is a place in life for sentiment. A person without sentiment is indeed a person without love. Many people, however, will be entirely devoid of sentiment, hard, and with a low estimate of humanity, simply put up these attitudes as a defense against tender feelings they have, which they feel must definitely be kept in leash lest they go all out and make fools of themselves.

The whole of life largely revolves itself into a matter of a nunction of which is to give one the power to balance himself. Although life we have to strike a balance between this situation and that, between our critical faculties and our sentiments. If we are wholly critical, the world comes to hate us and with reason. If, on the other hand, we give ourselves wholly to our sentiments, we come first to distrust ourselves and at last to despise ourselves, and to despise ourselves because of our weakness. We are driven inevitably to think about weeping over everything and doing nothing to make wrong situations right.

Sentiment is a sacred trust conferred upon us by God. We can make a proper or improper use of it. We use our sentiment properly if we glorify God, serve our fellow men, and enrich our own natures.

Balance . . . balance . . . balance. This is immeasurably important.

Gross Weight

Montreal Star

A lot of members of the dairying set are going to be furious over revalution of the standard at line practice of booking them statistically at 50 pounds for computing load weights, which they can only be balanced by the envy of the grosser breed to whom the statistical 160 is but normal.

Once Hippos Paced Strand

Manchester Guardian

The remains of several hippo skeletons have been found at the corner of Trafalgar Square, London, not far from the Admiralty Arch. They are not particularly old in geological terms, but they are buried around them — they were dug out about 25 feet below street level in the staff at the Natural History Museum considers that the animals lived in Britain only a hundred thousand years ago. Mail and St. James' must have a break in the ice age. Remains of trees of types now found in Africa, Mesopotamia and India have been found among the hippopotamus bones.

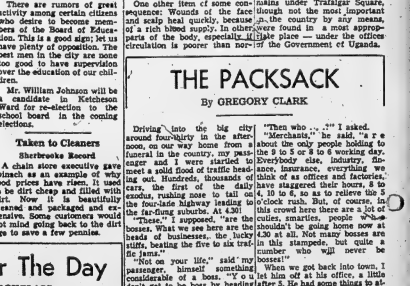
Just how much of Whitehall was then under water is a matter for conjecture, but it is reasonable to suppose that the Strand has been built at least on the flobd banks of the river as it ran in those days, and the Mall and St. James' must have been a swamp — the haunt of the stealthy-trunked elephant. The hippopotamus was quite common throughout England in the interglacial, the latter half of the pleistocene, as Dr. Anthony Sutcliffe explained to members of the Mammal Society recently: It has been found at sites as far north as Stockton-on-Tees and North Wales. Everyone seemed to agree that the remains under Trafalgar Square, though not the most important in the country by any means, were found in a most appropriate place — under the offices of the Government of Uganda.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Driving into the big city around four-thirty in the afternoon, on our way home from a funeral in the country, my passenger and I started to meet a solid flood of traffic heading out. Hundreds, thousands of cars, nose to tail on the four-lane highway leading to the far-flung suburbs. At 4:30 p.m. "Peter," I suppose." was the theme. What we see here are the heads of businesses, the lucky sprits, beating the five to six trade the jams."

"Not on your life," said' my passenger, himself something considerable of a boss. "It's a bad sign if you have to be home by 5:30 for dinner. Means you haven't got to be."



"Then who . . ." I asked.

"Commuters," he said. "There is about the only people holding to the 9 to 5 or 8 to 6 working day. Nine-to-five class, typing, finance, insurance, everything we think of as offices and factories, have staggered their hours, 8 to 4, 10 to 6, so as to relieve the 5 o'clock rush. But, of course, in this crowd here there are a lot of doctors, dentists, people who shouldn't be going home now at 4:30 at all. Not many bosses are left in the campers. Only a number who will never be bosses."

When we got back into town, I left him at at his office, a little after 5. He had some things to attend to.

SUET IN BRAWL, DIES

MONTREAL (CP) — Maurice Lauzon, 37, died in hospital Saturday night of injuries suffered in a night club brawl on midtown St. Lawrence Boulevard. Police held a 36-year-old waiter for questioning.

Another 10-mile section of Highway 401, between Highway 30, north of Brighton and Highway 33, north of Trenton, will be opened for traffic next Tuesday. This brings the completed mileage of 401 to a total of 230 miles.

The new Brighton-Trenton stretch of the trans-provincial four-lane controlled access freeway adds an important section that, linked with the Trenton-Marysville section, completes the by-pass of Trenton. It was built at a cost of $2,000,000. Construction included three structures, one an interchange at the Wooler Road. Two additional structures to carry north and south traffic over 401 are proposed as future work.

Materials used in the construction of the 10-mile stretch included 1,700,000 cubic yards of earth excavated, 691,000 tons of granular material, 30,600 cubic yards of concrete and 82,500 tons of asphalt.

Historical Society Will Discuss Proposed Demolition Of Present Court House

The executive of the Hastings County Historical Society will hold a general meeting Wednesday evening in the Belleville City Hall Council Chambers, to discuss what action the Society should take regarding the proposed demolition of the present Court House.

The meeting was sparked by County Council's tentative decision to replace the present building with a more modern structure.

Starting time for the meeting will be held at 8:30 p.m., and the basis for discussion will be the following motion:

"Resolved that this Society regrets to hear of the contemplated destruction of the Hastings County Court House and its replacement by a building less characteristic of the history of the County, and urges the preservation and renovation of the present building."

Mr. J. N. Brown, Bancroft of Reeve and present chairman of the County Council Finance and Public Property Committee, will be present to answer questions. Other members of County Council also have been invited to attend.

Prior to the general meeting all interested persons will be taken on a tour of the building. They are asked to meet in the Court House vestibule at 7:45 p.m.

Although everyone will be allowed to join in the debate at the general meeting, only those persons holding a 1958-59 Historical Society membership card will be allowed to vote on any motions introduced.

Those unable to attend may make known their view on the Court House situation by contacting the Historical Society, 236 George St.

The following is an account of the history of the present County Court House written by Mr. Gerald A. Boyce.

OLDEST IN USE

The Hastings County Court House is one of the most beautiful and historic buildings in the County. It is also one of the oldest.

The main section was commenced in 1837 in preparation for the separation of this County from the Midland District of Upper Canada. The architect was Thomas Rogers of Kingston, while the builders were Messrs. Robert Matthews and David Duff. Thomas Parker, the chairman of the magistrates and Public Officers of Hastings County, was chairman of the Building Committee, which also included John Turnbull, Henry Baldwin, Anthony Marshall and Francis McAnnany.

The cornerstone for the building was laid on May 30, 1838, with the assistance of the Belleville Masonic Lodge. In the cornerstone was placed a written document, a copy of which has been kindly presented to the Hastings County Historical Society by Macaulay Pope of Toronto.

The introduction to this document explained that it was being "left by the People of the County of Hastings as an historical record, connected with the rise and progress of this portion of the Province of Upper Canada should it ever meet the sight of man. It is the record, the nature of their institutions, and their firm hope that it may please an all bountiful Providence long to protect and guard them, and to continue them under the mild and beneficial Constitution of Great Britain".

The memento then listed the public officials of Hastings County, the town of Belleville and the Province of Upper Canada.

USED IN 1839

The Court House was first used after the County was separated from the Midland District of Upper Canada in 1839. The first judge was Benjamin Dougall, while J. W. Dunbar Moodie (the noted author and husband of Susanna Moodie) held the office of Sheriff, and Edmund Murney was Clerk of the Peace and County Crown Attorney.

Among the promising young lawyers to appear before the bench in the first years of our Court House was a young Kingston lawyer, John A. Macdonald, who represented the old Commercial Bank in legal matters.

Then, on July 1, 1867, when the good ship "Dominion of Canada" was launched with this same Macdonald as captain, the Court House Hill was the scene of the local celebration. This Hill has been the scene of many oldcountry celebrations as well, among them the Armistice Celebration on November 11, 1918.

In 1910, an addition was added to the north end of the original building, but so in keeping with the design and construction of the earlier section was it, that it is almost impossible to see where one leaves off and the other begins.

Now, Hastings County Council has tentatively decided to demolish the Court House. Unless Council changes its mind in the next few weeks, our chief link with the days when Ontario was known as Upper Canada and the population of Hastings County was only 13,000, will be gone; and the shades of Macdonald, Moodie, Murney and their many successors must seek a new home.

Hold Shower For November Bride-To-Be

STIRLING — Mrs. William Montgomery entertained ladies at her home in honor of Miss Patsy Donohoe, a November bride-to-be. The hostesses were Mrs. Elwood Haggerty.

The group enjoyed several contests and games. The bridal chair was decorated in pink and white and confetti showered the guest of honor as the confetti filled balloons popped.

Mrs. Burton Woodcock read an appreciative address and Patsy received a large corsage of millenaous gifts, for which she expressed grateful thanks.

The hostesses served dainty refreshments and all wished the bride-to-be every happiness in her new home at Elliot Lake.

FIRE KILLS CATTLE

BRANTFORD (CP) — Twenty head of pure-bred holstein cattle and several hogs died Saturday when fire destroyed a large barn on the farm of Fred Thompson near here. Also lost in the blaze was hay, grain and implements. Damage was estimated at $15,000.

HOTEL BURNS

HARWOOD (CP)—An unoccupied 36-room hotel in Harwood, 15 miles north of Cobourg, burned to the ground Sunday. The building has been condemned for the last three years. No estimate of damage was available.

Eleven Seeking Seven Seats Open on Aldermanic Board

With Mayor Gerald B. Hyde and Public Utilities Commissioner W. Harry Rollins returning to office by acclamation, Belleville voters will go to the polls on December 1 to elect seven aldermen, one public school trustee and one separate school trustee.

At the deadline at nine o'clock Saturday night eleven nominees had qualified to run for the seven aldermanic posts open.

All of this year's aldermen completing their terms of office are up for re-election with new faces in the field being Walter J. Elliott, Joseph B. Roth, Ernest Gibbs and Jack Ellis.

School trustees in all but two wards, one public, and one separate, were returned by acclamation.

There will be an election for public school trustee in ward five with Francis P. Clarke and Geoffrey Paget both qualifying to run, while for separate school trustee in ward seven Joseph Ellard and Jack Barrett will battle it out at the polls.

Qualifications for the various municipal offices were:

Mayor — Gerald B. Hyde.

Public Utilities Commissioner — W. Harry Rollins.

Aldermen — Robertson Collins, Jack Ellis, Ralph Graham, Grandame, Ernest Gibbs, Mrs. Effie McCabe, Douglas Moxam, Joseph B. Roth, Donald J. Whalen, George Wishart and Walter E. Elliott.

Public School Trustees — Ward 1, Mac Smith; Ward 2, Gordon H. Trill; Ward 3, Bruce Bishop; Ward 4, Francis Clarke and Geoffry Paget; Ward 5, Lyle A. Langabeer; Ward 6, William Townson, Ward 7, John R. Sproule.

Separate School Trustees — Ward 1 Gordon Cooney; Ward 2, Goldie Fitzgibbon; Ward 3, Carl Casey; Ward 4, Paul Mercier; Ward 5, George O'Brien, Ward 6, John J. E. Barrett; Ward 7, Joseph Ellard, and Jack Barrett.

Again this year two public meetings are planned to allow aspiring candidates to tell who they are and what platform they will support.

Tuesday night the Belleville Chamber of Commerce is holding its annual municipal night at the Belleville Collegiate auditorium with proceedings getting underway at 8.15 p.m.

Wednesday night is the annual West Street Debating Club "Bun Feed" when candidates will face the Foster Ward critics.

Army, Navy Air Force LA. Holds Meeting

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans in Canada No. 46, held its monthly meeting in the Memorial club rooms, Front St., on Monday, November 17. Presiding was Comrade Galbraith.

After the opening with two minutes' silence, and presentation of the flag by the standard bearer, Comrade C. Clark, the meeting was declared open for business.

The chairman of sick reported that two members, Comr. Mrs. Agnes Hurst, had been hospitalized in Belleville hospital and Kingston, but had returned home for a period after which she will again go to Kingston. Also Comrade Agnes Browning, who was taken ill while in Toronto and taken to St. Joseph's Hospital some time ago. All members are hoping for a speedy recovery.

The chairman of welfare reported on a situation that had been taken care of earlier in the month. The chairman of entertainment reported a long list of banquets coming along in December. While the work is primarily veterans, the sympathies are extended to civilian tragedy, such as Springhill, when a motion was passed to donate $25. A motion was also passed to make the usual donations for Christmas to three hospitals in Kingston for veterans' comforts, also veterans in Belleville Hospital. The meeting was adjourned until the third Monday in December.

A social hour was spent enjoying light refreshments.

DIES IN AUTO

HERSHAW (CP)—Andrew Wesley Johnston, 34, of Clinton was found Sunday in a wrecked car on Highway 4 a mile north of here. The car was in a ditch, smashed against a tree.

Women's Activities

W. M. C.

FRANKFORD — The Women's Missionary Council of Frankford Full Gospel Tabernacle met on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Carl Andrews.

The president, Mrs. Gerald Curry, welcomed everyone and opened the meeting.

Mrs. Fred Miller led in prayer, and Mrs. Doug. Flood gave the secretarial report. Parcels have been sent to the Bible Schools at Moosonee, Ontario, and Peterborough, and to Home Mission Fields. There are 46 pounds of S. S. literature to the west Indies.

Miss Marjorie Forbes gave the treasurer's report.

The president told of the WMC display and where articles were distributed. The Scripture reading was from the book of Ruth, each WMC member giving the spiritual truth from each verse. Requests were given and a time of prayer followed.

Refreshments were served and a time of fellowship was enjoyed.

Wedding

GRAHAM — LLOYD

A quiet, but pretty wedding was solemnized recently at "Alameda", home of Mrs. George R. Graham, Trent Road, by Archdeacon J. B. Creegan, rector of Christ Church, Belleville, when Shirley May Lloyd, of Belleville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Addison Lloyd was united in marriage to James Hamilton Graham, Trent Road, son of Mrs. G. K. Graham and the late Mr. Graham. Yellow roses and white 'mums formed a lovely setting for the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, wore a charming gown of white chantilly lace and net in ankle-length with matching lace jacket. Her crown, holding her fingertip veil of tulle illusion with lace trim, was encrusted with seed pearls. She carried yellow roses.

The reception was held at "Alameda." Trent Road, where the bride's table was adorned with yellow roses, and four-tier wedding cake.

The bride's mother, received wearing a gown of navy blue net with corsage of yellow roses, and the bridegroom's mother assisted, gowned in popder blue with corsage of yellow roses.

For the wedding trip to Chicago and Cleveland, U.S. the bride chose a navy blue suit with matching accessories, powder blue hat and gloves and corsage of yellow roses.

The young couple are residing on Trent Road.

Showers honoring the bride were held at the home of Mrs. Addison Lloyd, and at a community shower held at the home of Mrs. Sullivan both of Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Kirby are pictured cutting the wedding cake following their recent marriage in the Church of St. Michael the Archangel, Belleville. The bride is the former Miss Claire Marie DuLong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emile DuLong of Moncton, New Brunswick. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Henry Kirby, of Belleville, and the late Mr. Kirby.

KIRBY — DuLONG

Standards of large and small white chrysanthemums and tall deep yellow adorned the altar of the Church of St. Michael the Archangel, Belleville, when Claire Marie DuLong of Belleville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emile DuLong, Moncton, New Brunswick, became the bride of Alan Kirby, of Belleville, son of Mrs. Henry Kirby, and the late Mr. Kirby.

Miss D. Grant presided at the console of the organ, and accompanied the soloist, Mr. Robert Burke, who sang during the signing of the register, "Ave Maria," and "On This Day."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charming in a full-length bridal gown of white Chantilly lace over satin fashioned with fitted bodice, having a scalloped neckline accented by seed pearls and sequins, and short sleeves accompanied by long gloves of matching Chantilly lace. The full skirt featured two panels of nylon net embroidered with flowers, extending to the hemline end. She wore a double crown studded with pearls, rhinestones, and iridescent sequins, with shoulder-length veil of plain net with embroidered edge. She carried a white Bible crested with an orchid encircled by ivy leaves, and white satin streamers.

Miss Joyce Forestell, of Belleville, was maid of honor, wearing autumn green taffeta in sheath style with small and large back bow and short sleeves; long gloves of matching material; green feather hat and shoes, and carrying a bouquet of white and yellow mums.

The bridesmaid, Miss Gillian Kirby, sister of the bridegroom, was gowned in orange ice, with feather hat, matching shoes, and carried a similar bouquet of white and yellow 'mums.

Mr. Denis DuLong, of Moncton, N.B., brother of the bride, was groomsman, while Messrs. Peter Gander, of Belleville, and Michael Kirby, of Belleville, brother of the bridegroom, ushered the guests.

The wedding breakfast was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Belleville, and the reception in the afternoon at the home of the bridegroom. The bride's table was centred by a three-tier wedding cake with pink and white roses, and topped with a tiny cluster of rose buds with silver leaves. Tall candles in silver holders and low bridal bouquets added a pretty accent to the nuptial effect.

The bride's mother, for her daughter's wedding, wore a medium blue suit with black pencil line, large, black velvet hat with pink trim and pink and black accessories, and corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother, also wore a blue suit, with navy accessories, while felt hat with white feather trim, and corsage of white carnations.

For the wedding trip, the bride chose a grey and black tweed suit with three-quarter sleeves; patent leather accessories, white gloves and hat, with corsage of red Sweetheart roses and tiny white 'mums.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirby are residing in Belleville.

Those attending were from Moncton, N.B.; Toronto; Hamilton; Woodbridge, and Belleville.

Previous to her marriage, the bride was entertained at a surprise shower given by Miss Joyce Forestell at the home of Mrs. Clarke Savage, Belleville; also at a chicken supper at the home of Mrs. Henry Kirby at Belleville. Gifts were received at all. This past summer the bride was employed in the secretarial staff of the Northern Electric, department 2533, of which the bride is a member.

Several telegrams were received by the bride and bridegroom bearing expressions of good wishes from her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Canning of Moncton, N.B.; and her godmother, Mrs. Frank Murray of Prince Edward Island.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hamilton Graham are shown cutting their wedding cake following their recent marriage. Anglican W.A. Meets at Christ Church

The members of all branches of the Anglican Church in this district, gathered together in Christ Church on Thursday evening to hear Miss Saylo speak of her work with the families in the remote parts of Western Canada, as far north as the Yukon, and to see slides showing scenes of the territory and families among whom she works.

Archdeacon J. B. Creegan took the devotional part of the program, and Miss Dora Hollonby was the pianist.

Mrs. H. Pitt welcomed the members of the W.A. and guests to Christ Church on this special occasion.

Miss Saylo is on tour during the winter months, and will be in England for part of that time. She explained that Caravan work extends right across Canada from Nova Scotia to the Yukon, three vans are now in operation.

The Caravan work for Miss Hazell and Miss Sayle, who have worked together on van work since 1923, must end in October because of the inconvenience of travel. Snow begins to fall at about the end of September in the Yukon, which ends the early yearly plan of work. Roads are fairly good now as compared to 1923, when these two ladies first arrived in the area to begin their work, and there is tremendous increase in numbers of families to this part of Canada in the last few years. Many maintenance workers, and development employees have arrived, and there is far removed from Church life, they look forward to the Church Van, and welcome their visit as over they ask when they will come.

POSTAL S. S.

The Sunday School by Post plays a great part in the teaching of the children of these families. Parents who have been Sunday School by Post children themselves are most anxious to see the Caravan workers arrive so their children may enjoy the same privilege they had as children.

Miss Sayle had slides showing the hazard of forest fires in the North, and the damage done on the slent and ready to vaporize. Such fires cost many millions of dollars each year. The pasture summer the city of Whitehorse was alerted for just such a crisis, but fortunately the workers were able to "hand-fire" and save the necessity of evacuating (or, as one child told Miss Saylo, "Evaporating").

There is a great deal of work to be accomplished, and Miss Saylo hopes that there would be young women considering this important work for the near future. God had blessed the work, and provided the workers and financial help to carry on and the future looks very promising for all.

Miss Sayle was warmly thanked by Miss Pitt for her talk.

The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Everett Smith.

The Afternoon Branch of the W.A. of Christ Church served a refreshing cup of tea and cookies, convened by Mrs. McLaughlin.

Friends Mark 84th Birthday

Mrs. Charlotte Clark was honored with a surprise birthday party Wednesday by a group of friends both old and young. Although it was her 84th birthday she is alert in everything she does.

The ladies presented her with two dozen red roses, and later enjoyed cards with 1st prize being won by Mrs. Westfall; 2nd by Mrs. Bernice Lundberg; 3rd by Mrs. Charlotte Clark, and the travelling lone hand prize by Mrs. T. Stewart.

A delectable luncheon was served. To highlight the evening, the lighted birthday cake was brought in to the table while everyone singing "Happy Birthday" to her. She's a Jolly Good Fellow," all sincerely wishing that all their 84 birthdays they would feel and look as well as Charlotte

Top Secretary Must Be Able to Take Criticism

VANCOUVER (CP) — Many girls perhaps do not know how to utilize a good secretary, says Ruth Harris, who was here conducting a two day finishing school for top administration secretaries.

"A good secretary does not exactly dig up in every filing cabinet, said Miss Harris, herself a former lugboat company owner, economist, author and social secretary to Mrs. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

"A good secretary acts like a lady, thinks like a man, dresses like a woman and works like a dog.

"And she has at least five years training in the business world plus top-notch stenographic techniques.

"The average top secretary has more capabilities than she ever has a chance of showing. The best bosses spends training her for additional responsibilities is time well spent because it helps him for other work."

Miss Harris further advises business heads that they can often find their future executives among the present secretarial staff, and to make sure the secretary receives information she needs in her ordinary duties. They should point out her errors tactfully and give her constructive criticism.

ICE CAUSES DEATH

GERALDTON (CP) — Mrs. Mary Buchanan, 22, of Nakina was killed Friday when a car driven by her husband Donald skidded on an ice patch and overturned on the Nakina Road, 11 miles north of here.

Mayor Gerald Hyde and Earl Yateman, president of the Arts and Crafts Club, admire the brushwork of one of Belleville's oil painters. The picture was but one of many displayed at the club's annual exhibit, tea and sale.

Third Annual Exhibit Held By Arts, Crafts Club Here

The third annual exhibit, tea and sale of the Belleville Arts and Crafts Club was held Saturday afternoon and evening in the Kiwanis Hall on Dundas Street. An excellent and varied display of the products of the many talented local painters, handicraftsmen and woodcraftsmen was tastefully arranged by the club members. Opened by Mayor Gerald Hyde, the exhibit averaged on two floors, had oil paintings and some very good examples of driftwood art on the tables where the tea was also served. The lower floor contained the balance of the exhibit with many fine examples of woodcarving, ceramics, metal working, leather working and photography.

The Arts and Crafts Club, which is sponsored by the Belleville Recreation Committee, has been holding its classes and work groups in the Prince of Wales school. An expanding school program has forced the group out of this location. However it is anticipated that the club will be able to resume activity in the city-owned building on the northwest side of the Pinnacle street city parking lot. Proposed use of this building is use the facilities of the club, which has a membership of over 175 persons.

South African Addresses University Women's Club

On Thursday evening at the Kiwanis Centre the University Women's Club heard an interesting talk on the problems and customs of South Africa. The guest speaker, Mr. W. F. van Eyssen, is the information adviser attached to the office of the High Commissioner of the Union of South Africa in Ottawa.

Mr. van Eyssen said that it is difficult for Canadians to form an accurate picture of South Africa because of the many reports and statements appearing in the press.

The two official languages of South Africa are English and Afrikaans. There are also three thirty different languages, and this is one of the country's greatest problems. Mr. van Eyssen said that Canadians, for the most part, are sympathetic towards the racial problems of South Africa due to lack of knowledge of the real issues involved. He said that he wished that Canadians could be given the benefit of the doubt and accept apartheid. S. Africa's segregation problem is complete. It differs from that of the United States, as they are living with a group that is heterogeneous, not homogeneous and that are for the most part not civilized.

Witchcraft and ritual murder are still common occurrences, and these are a fear to the white population. The whites are afraid that if equal rights are given to the natives all civilization may be lost and the white man will lose his identity. At the same time the natives are well treated. Homes for them have been built at the rate of one hundred thousand in the past five years. There are six thousand native schools accommodating 1.3 million students. Although compulsory education for the natives cannot be enforced it is hoped that within the next ten years ninety per cent of the eligible native population will be in school.

The manufacturing industry is the main source of revenue for South Africa today. In the Orange Free State there are coal deposits are converted into oil in an unique process. Here also are the largest uranium ore deposits in the world. Eight million dollars worth of rock lobster is exported annually and one hundred and forty thousand tourists are catered to each year. Forty million dollars worth of car parts and vehicles are imported annually from Canada.

Mr. van Eyssen illustrated his address with film and some very colorful slides.

Mr. van Eyssen was introduced by Mrs. P. G. Allan and thanked by Mrs. S. Lipson.

Before the lecture, the president, Mrs. John Haig, conducted the regular business meeting.

GOOD MANNERS

— By Mrs. Beeckman

SHE WON HER INVITATION-PRIZE TO THE SIR-PER-LOAFE BANQUET!

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I am thrilled that I have won an invitation to a $100 per plate banquet! Of course I want to do the right thing, but since I've never been to this kind of occasion before, I'm not sure what the right thing is. Am I a matter of fact? I'm not sure whether or not I should go, since I don't smoke or drink or dance. When I lived at home I never did any of these, and now that I'm married, my husband isn't for any of these either. (I am in my middle thirties.) If you approve of my going to the banquet, must I wear a formal dress? — Reader

Of course, of course, go to this banquet . . . it will be a wonderfully interesting experience for you, and I'm sure you'll have a fine time. Don't worry about that time. Your letter shows that you are a delightful, easy-going person, and there is no reason in the world for you to be the slightest self-conscious or anxious about what to do. Just be graciously natural. Nowadays no one will pay the slightest attention to whether or not you smoke, drink or dance, a lot of people today don't do either, and make no mention of it. The important point is not to be at all self-right-eous about it. If you are offered a drink, just graciously say "No, thank you" . . . never, "No, thank you, I never drink (or "never smoke")." At even a dance-dance it's never a 'must'; that anyone dance (and perhaps this is just a banquet, not a dance-dance). I should very much that you would be expected to wear a formal evening dress . . . my advice is that you wear a simple dinner-dress, black or dark-blue. (These darker shades are more becoming to you and will make you feel more comfortable; or a lighter shade (but not too light) if you prefer. No hat.

When you enter, you'll be directed where to check your wrap. Then ask at the entrance desk for the number of your table. I'm sure you'll find that everyone at your table will introduce herself or himself, as you graciously do the same. Then have a good dinner talking . . . just know that they will be interested in what you say, as you will be interested in what they say. And do have a wonderful time . . . that's what the hosts of the banquet want to have you have!

SHOULD REPLY TO LETTERS OF CONGRATULATION

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Recently I was given an important promotion by my company, and there was a very nice newspaper article about it in our largest local newspaper. I received quite a few letters of congratulation. I did not really think about answering these until today, and now I'm wondering if it is necessary for me to answer them. Is it? — Dave

Most certainly, sir, you should answer these kind letters of congratulation. Please do this at once. Anyone who has taken the thought and effort to write a letter to congratulate you on your promotion, surely deserve the courtesy of a grateful reply from you. And this procedure-"courtesy, besides being helpful in your own growth, may well be an important feature in your next promotion!

SPEAKING TO, INTRODUCING, WRITING TO MINISTER WITHOUT DOCTOR'S DEGREE

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

How should one address or introduce a minister who is not a Doctor of Divinity? — L.

A Protestant minister who has no doctor's degree for example (D.D., Doctor of Divinity) is spoken to as "Mr."; Mr. Brooks. He is introduced as "Mr." And a letter to him should be addressed to:

The Reverend Peter Brooks.

When he is being presented at a banquet or meeting, or on radio or television, he should be introduced as The Reverend Peter Brooks, usually with the mention of his church.

HE SHOULD TAKE A GIFT TO THE BIRTHDAY-GIRL

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My son and I are going to a birthday party soon. She was told that she could invite a boy friend and she tells me that she and the boy friend she has invited are each going to bring a birthday gift to the girl for whom the party is being given. I was invited to be by party by a girl friend of mine, and I hadn't planned to take a birthday gift, as my girl friend told me she was taking a present. What about this? — Bob

It's a birthday party . . . remember? . . . and anyone who accepts an invitation to a birthday party, whether a direct or indirect invitation, should take a present to the party. Your sister's boy friend has the right idea. I don't want you to go to that birthday party empty-handed and see that the other guests are presenting gifts to the birthday guest of honor. Your present need not be an expensive one . . . use your imagination and choose a thoughtful item, perhaps a fun-present!

Have Cookies — Will Travel

by Mary Moore

Your young people away from home miss your baking. I know because my own told me so.

A parcel packed to the brim with confections that will travel could be made and shipped now.

Sift flour onto a pastry board and make a well in center; place butter-egg mixture in well and gradually work flour into it until thoroughly mixed, then flour hands lightly and knead until smooth. Roll out about 1-3" thick and cut in desired shapes. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet at 350 deg. Fahr. for 15 minutes. Watch these and remove as soon as they are lightly colored with gold.

MOCHA COCOANUT PATTIES

This delish cookie and half candy. Combine and cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, till sugar dissolves and mixture comes to a boil 1 1-2 cups light brown sugar, firmly packed, 1 1-2 cups cocoanut, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon instant coffee and 1-3 cup water. Boil 1 minute over moderate heat, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Stir in until melted one 6-oz. package semi-sweet chocolate chips and 1-8 to 1-4 teaspoon almond extract. Drop by rounded tablespoon waxed paper on cookie sheet and chill in refrig. Wrap each one for shipping.

HOLIDAY FRUIT DROPS:

Three and one-half cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon each salt and baking soda, 1 cup each brown sugar, packed, candied cherries, halved, and cut-up pitted dates, 1 1-2 cups coarsely chopped pecans, 1-2 cup buttermilk, 2 eggs, unbeaten, 1 cup part shortening or lard. Sift flour with baking soda and salt. Mix shortening or lard with sugar and eggs until creamy. Add buttermilk and flour alternately blending well. Stir in pecans, cherries and dates. Refrigerate for 1 hour or more. Drop by rounded tablespoonfuls onto a greased cookie sheet, leaving space between. Bake at 400 deg Fahr. for 8 to 10 minutes until done. Note: To decorate, before baking add a pecan half or a piece of candied cherry to top.

Dinner Menus

by Mary Moore

MONDAY

Tomato Juice; Stuffed Braised Beef Heart; Bread and Butter; Pickles; Oven French Fries; Buttered Peas; Glazed Strawberry Pie with White Cream Cheese; Coffee.

TRAVELLING NUT BARS:

Two and three-quarter cups sifted all-purpose flour, 2 1-2 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2-3 cup shortening or butter, 2 1-4 cups brown sugar, 2 eggs, 1 cup chopped walnuts, 1 6-oz. package semi-sweet chocolate chips. Sift flour with baking powder. Melt shortening or butter in a large sauce pan. Stir in brown sugar and cool to cool slightly. Beat in eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add flour mixture, chopped nuts and semi-sweet chocolate. Blend well. Into a greased 10 1-2 x 15 1-2 x 3-4" pan Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for 25 to 30 minutes. When almost cool cut into squares. Approx. 4 3 1-2" pieces. Wrap individually for mailing.

SHORTBREAD (Sabia)

This is an excellent keeper, but each piece should be wrapped separately for shipping. Six tablespoons each butter and sugar, 4 hard-cooked yolks of eggs, grated rind of 1 lemon, pinch of salt, 1 cup sifted all-purpose flour. Mix butter, sugar, sieved egg yolks, lemon rind and salt to a smooth paste. Add flour and work to a soft dough. Roll out on floured board to 1-4" thickness. Cut into fingers. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet at 325 deg. Fahr. 20 minutes.

CENTENARY — The November meeting of the Centenary WMS — WA was held in the church hall with Mrs. Byron Harder, the president, presiding.

After a short business period, Mrs. Harold Hancock led in a study on "Mexico", under the convenership — Evangelism was taken by Mrs. Harder; Agriculture, by Mrs. Lloyd Pearson; Health, by Mrs. Mac Nobes; and Education, by Mrs. Dawson Douglas. Mrs. Hancock closed with prayer.

W. A.

Mrs. Reg. Edmondson, president of the W. A., opened the W. A. meeting with the theme song, after which Mrs. Gilbert Sills led in the devotional period. She took as her theme, "Armistice". Mrs. Edgar Ray read the Scripture, while Mrs. Ira Alkens read a paper on "What Armistice Should Mean to Us".

As long as there is a man or woman living who has made a sacrifice on behalf of peace-loving people of this world, Armistice should be observed and honored.

Mrs. Sills closed with a poem and prayer.

Final arrangements were made for the bazaar and tea.

Letters of thanks were read and a number of visits reported.

Mrs. Edmondson closed with the benediction and Mrs. Lloyd Pearson served light refreshments.

English Nurse Gives up Trip In Milk Wagon

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (CP)—A 25-year-old English nurse has decided to stop here for the winter after completing 1,000 miles of a journey across Canada in a horse-drawn milk wagon.

Audrey Goodchild of Seaford, Sussex, arrived two weeks to reach here from Gali, Ont., behind her 10-year-old horse, Bill. Her travelling companion is a German shepherd dog, called Jade.

She made up her mind to travel across the country while working as a nurse in a hospital at Brampton, Ont. After the horse plodded down the main street of Port Arthur, finishing a stretch of the Trans - Canada Highway, she found a job for the winter in the Port Arthur General Hospital.

SLEPT IN WAGON

Miss Goodchild said she slept in a bed only three times during the first stage of her milk wagon tour. At other times, she slept in the wagon.

She said in an interview, that the trip wasn't too bad.

"The bears were a bother, though. One of them gave Bill a fright one night and he hasn't liked them since.

"I don't like the idea of crossing the Rockies for that reason. They tell me that the bears are bigger than ever out there and much more fierce than the ones we've met so far."

However, she hopes to stop next winter in Banff, Alta., in the heart of the Rockies.

Miss Goodchild is all in favor of the causes of cruelty power. Bill, she said, "seems to know exactly what to do without being told."

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of the actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Emily J. — Barbara does not hide her dislike of people. Barbara D. — I'm no hypocrite.

Emily J. — Barbara and I are close friends in our middle 20's. We have grown one another since we were kids and now we do a lot of dating together. We usually get along very well, but she has one characteristic that I don't like.

Every now and then Babs takes a violent dislike to somebody. Sometimes it is a man, sometimes a woman. She treats that person like dirt and it embarrasses me very much. I feel that even if she doesn't like somebody she should make an effort to hide it.

There is one girl in particular that Babs hurts very much. This girl, Jean, is quite wealthy, but she is very shy and sensitive. I wanted to be friendly with her, but Babs said something to her that it is not good taste to show your money all over you.

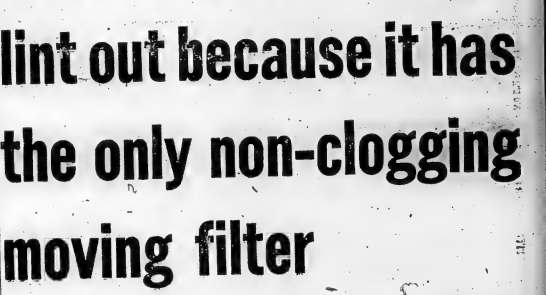
The Council: Unfortunately, most individuals who pride themselves on being honest with others when it hurts the other fellow — are a lot less honest with themselves. They are very gentle when their own feelings are involved.



Life presents most of us with few deeply evil characters. Occasions for "villonel dislike" are few and far between in the normal course of events in the life of an emotionally mature person. The person who finds many such occasions would do well to look within himself.

Barbara would do herself a real service if she gave up typical adolescent the - faults of others and sought the reasons for her own resentment and hostility. We believe that if she is honest with her self and carefully analyzes her feelings when that dislike of another rises within her, she will find envy at the root of it.

We think it very likely that she will find envy of Jean's wealth and fine clothes at the bottom of her unpleasant feelings. From a rational point of view there is no reason why she should object to Jean's overdressing. It is simply none of her business and there is no reason for her to be embarrassed by it.

Emily is being very foolish and doing herself harm by allowing herself to be drawn into Barbara's emotional tangles. She has undoubtedly given up many potentially happy relationships by allowing Barbara to steer her social life.

She's helping to write our Bank Statement...

and lending money to Build Houses...

JUST fifty cents a week . . . yet the regular deposit of this young lady at one of our school wickets makes her a "valued customer" of "MY BANK".

She's one of more than two million Canadians saving at the B of M. Their deposits run into the billions. To be exact, this year-end — October 31st — total deposits amount to $3,033,149,350.

But just put in the B of M's "total deposits" is only half the picture.

What's happening to her deposit?

Well, along with the deposits of the other two million, her money is being lent to build houses, buy tractors, cut lumber — to do a thousand and one things.

How?

Through hundreds of thousands of bank loans, the B of M is employing this youngster's deposits, with many others, to finance the operations of business and industrial enterprises of all kinds and sizes . . . of farmers, fishermen, oil-men, miners, lumbermen and ranchers . . . of citizens of every calling . . . of provincial and municipal governments and school districts. Total B of M loans now run to no less than $1,416,518,876.

Yes, when you save your money at the B of M you not only keep it safe and earning interest for you, but you make a sound investment for yourself in Canada's growth now and in the years ahead.

MOUNTAIN VIEW

Young Couple Honored by Community

MOUNTAIN VIEW — A good number of Mountain View residents gathered recently in the basement of the church to honor the Tecent wedding of bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McMurter, who now reside in Sarnia. The bride was formerly Yvonne Poste, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Poste of Mt. View. The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy McMurter, who were also present, reside at Belleville R. R. 2.

The minister of the church, Mr. W. H. Farrow, acted as chairman.

Grant Sprague and Marion Morris, winners of the boys' and girls' hula hoop contest which was held in the afternoon were present and entertained the audience by demonstrating their ability in this popular sport. Each scored over 400 at which time the contest was stopped and each awarded a prize.

Everyone joined in community singing, led by Janice and Hilda Joyce, with Bob Barber at the piano. This was followed by a piano solo by Bob Barber; a duet by Janice and Hilda Joyce; a reading by Mrs. R. Lough and another duet by the Joyce sisters containing advice to the bride and the bridegroom to the tune of "Jingle Bells".

Following the program, Mr. Seymour Hamilton presented the bride and bridegroom with a white leather Bible from the Sunday School which Yvonne had always attended and also acted as pianist for several years.

Miss Janice Joyce read an address and Seymour Hamilton, Bob Barber and Hilda Joyce presented the newlyweds with a T.V. swivel chair; a coffee table and a step table on behalf of the community and church. There were also some individual gifts.

Yvonne and Ralph thanked their many friends for the lovely gifts and invited all who could to visit them in their home in Sarnia. Refreshments were served by the ladies in the friendly atmosphere characteristic of Mt. View gatherings.

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, MONDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1958

Woman Qualifies In Kingston to Run for Mayor

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Belleville re-elected its mayor, Gerald B. Ryde, by acclamation Saturday. It is the sixth Ontario city to name its mayor without a vote in year-end elections.

Mayor Hyde got back into office unopposed when the only other nominee, Mrs. Effie McCabe, chose to contest a seat on city council.

Other cities which had already elected a mayor without opposition were: Chatham, Garnet Newkirk; Galt, A. W. A. White; Guelph, D. E. Hastings; Oshawa, Lyman Gifford; Welland, Gabriel J. McCoomb.

Two women were among the four candidates who qualified for Fort William's mayoralty race before qualifications closed at 9 p.m. Saturday. Mrs. Dorothy M. Pickup and Mrs. Catherine Seppanen, both with city council experience, are running against Hubert M. Emerick and Frank Mihalchuk. Mayor Hubert Badanai is not a candidate for re-election. He is Liberal MP for Fort William.

KINGSTON CONTEST

A woman also qualified at Kingston, Ont., Mrs. Marion R. East entering the field against Mayor Frank P. Boyce and William T. Mills.

Britain Is Standing Firm With U.S., France Against Recognition of East Germany

LONDON (AP) — Britain is standing firm with the United States and France against any official recognition of East Germany.

But there is a feeling in London that the West might safely go farther in unofficial dealings with the East Germans on a practical level if Russia scraps its share of the four - power regime of Berlin and turns traffic controls over to its satellite.

The British clearly appreciate the anxieties in Washington and Bonn over the danger of slipping into recognition of East Germany if the West is forced to work with the Soviet satellite in administering West Berlin.

But many responsible observers note that West Germany itself deals with East Germany on its factual basis which has involved diplomatic recognition.

East Germany pulled to the office for inter-zonal trade in Berlin, for example.

On the other side, there are those who warn that such an approach to the problem could spell gathering. What would happen, they ask, if the East Germans rejected the idea of serving as "agents."

There is no question in London about the purpose of the threatened Soviet move regarding Berlin. Despite some differences in opinion over how to deal with it, the British are in agreement with the United States and France that it primarily is a test of Western nerves.

There is speculation here that Allied firmness in the decision to stay in Berlin may have been one of the reasons for the delay in Khrushchev's announcing official Russian proposals.

It was widely felt here that the Russians would not force any large-scale clash on the Berlin issue at this time.

If the Soviets are contemplating a course which would call for major Western action, such as an airlift to Berlin, the British feel they have, with their Allies, made three things clear to Moscow in advance:

1. They will not officially recognize East Germany even if the Russians hand over to the East German all administration controls over the supply of Western troops in Berlin.

2. They will stay in their sector of Berlin.

3. The three Western powers will treat Germany as determined to guarantee the freedom of West Berlin.

Prime Minister At Birthplace Of Colombo Plan

COLOMBO, Ceylon (CP) — The birthplace of the Colombo plan greeted Prime Minister Diefenbaker today on his arrival for a three-day visit to this lush and humid island.

Prime Minister Solomon Bandaranaike welcomed him at the airport on his arrival from New Delhi as the leader of a country "which has been very generous to us in the assistance she has given with no strings attached."

The Canadian leader, garlanded with orchids from Bandaranaike's son Anura, replied that he has come "to better appreciate your problems and possibly make some contribution to their solution."

The temperature was 85 degrees as the RCAF plane landed after the six-hour flight from the capital of India.

CHILDREN CHEER

Along the drive into the city, the road was lined by Canadian flags, with them uniformed school children waving paper flags and cheering.

Diefenbaker paid formal calls on Governor General Sir Oliver Goonetilleke at his residence, where the Canadian leader is staying, and later called on Bandi ranaike. Tonight he was to attend a reception given by the Canadian high commissioner and later a dinner given by the governor-general.

Before leaving New Delhi after a six-day state visit to India, Diefenbaker told reporters he is planning to seek Canadian engineering help India's development plans.

Record Is Set For Attendance At Winter Fair

TORONTO (CP) — The biggest Royal Winter Fair on record ended Saturday with Germany and the United States taking a large share of international horse jumping honors and a small Irishman named Paddy Sherr. There was an unexpected $2 a pound for his grand-champion baby beef steer.

Thousands packed the horse and agricultural exhibition at the eighth-day fair, a mingling of top-bat sophistication around the show ring and down-to-earth displays from 18,000 farm entries.

No attendance figure was available but officials indicated the fair attracted the largest crowd in its 46-year history.

William Steinkraus, leading rider in the U.S., rode Kentucky Esprit to the individual international riding championship on the final day. He cleared 8 jumps to defeat riders representing Mexico, Cuba, West Germany and the U.S. and Canada.

Earlier, a three-man team from Germany also captured the five-country team challenge trophy. Second place went to Britain, second and the U.S. third.

Young James Wetlaufer of Spanish Ranch, says he wants to be a motor mechanic instead of a farmer, received $1,000 for his Aberdeen Angus steer. The 720-pound animal was purchased by the $250 Queen's Guinea award from among 200 Aberdeen Angus entries. A groceteria bought the steer.

Frank Chapel of the U.S., riding Trail Guide, and Tom Gayford of Toronto, who rode Prince Beau to individual honors at a show in New York two weeks ago, tied for second place in the major individual contest here Friday with four judges voting. Chapel was awarded a Canada Elder west of Toronto riding Prince Beau to individual 11 faults in th. four-man elimination jumpoff.

Ghana and Guinea Declare Agreement to Merge States, Hope Other States Will Join

ACCRA, Ghana (Reuters) — Ghana and Guinea, "inspired by the example of the 13 American colonies," Sunday declared their agreement to "constitute our two states as the nucleus of a union of West African states."

In a second declaration, Ghana agreed, subject to parliamentary approval, to grant a loan of £10,000,000 ($28,000,000) to newly independent Guinea.

Leaders of the two countries said they hope other states now under foreign rule will join the union.

Guinea, formerly a French colony, got its independence last September by voting against the new constitution proposed by Premier Charles de Gaulle.

FORMERLY BRITISH

Ghana, formerly the British colony of the Gold Coast, gained its independence in March, 1957.

The declaration said Ghana and Guinea had agreed as a first step to adopt a union flag, develop the closest contacts and harmonize defence, foreign and economic policies.

The next step will be the drawing up of a constitution.

These moves were "not designed in any way to prejudice the present and future relations of Ghana with the Commonwealth or Guinea and the French community," the declaration said.

It was issued after talks here between Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana and Sekou Toure, the premier of Guinea.

EYES MANY STATES

Nkrumah has long envisaged and worked for a West African federation that would include Nigeria, Sierra Leone and Gambia. Others mentioned as possible members are the Ivory Coast, Togoland, French West Africa, French Equatorial Africa, Spanish West Africa and the Spanish-held island of Fernando Po, off the southwest Nigerian coast.

Ghana has a population of more than 4,000,000 and covers 91,843 square miles. Its produce is mainly agricultural.

Guinea, with a population of 3,000,000 is known for its bauxite — the ore from which aluminum is made.

TWO STATEMENTS

Nkrumah and Toure signed two joint declarations on their agreement.

The first said: "Inspired by the example of the 13 American colonies, the leaders of the countries of Europe, Asia and the Middle East to organize in a regional manner. . . We the prime ministers of Ghana and Guinea, on behalf of our respective national assemblies, have agreed to constitute our two states as the nucleus of a union of West African states."

Bishop Dignan Dies at Soo In 67th Year

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Most. Rev. Ralph Hubert Dignan, Roman Catholic bishop of Sault Ste. Marie since 1934, died here Saturday. He was 67.

Most Rev. Alexander Carter, 47, former pastor of the Holy Family Parish, Montreal, was named in December, 1956, coadjutor with right of succession to the see of Sault Ste. Marie.

Born here in 1890, Bishop Dignan attended St. Peter's Separate School and London Collegiate Institute. He continued his studies at St. Michael's College, Toronto, and received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Toronto.

In May, 1915, he was ordained priest and appointed curate of Immaculate Conception Church, Windsor, Ont. Until his appointment as bishop, he never left the London diocese.

MOVED TO CHATHAM

From Windsor he was transferred to St. Mary's Church in London, also as curate. He then became pastor of Blessed Sacrament, a new parish in Chatham.

During eight years there, he erected three schools, one in Chatham, and two in outlying districts.

Father Dignan was then transferred back to the Immaculate Conception Church in Windsor as pastor. There, he was largely responsible for the organization of the Roman Catholic Children's Aid Society in Essex County, with headquarters in Walkerville.

Bishop Dignan spoke French fluently, an ability which stood him well in his northern dioceses.

Four Men Killed

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE, Man. (CP)—Four men died Saturday night when their station wagon crashed head-on with a trailer-truck west of here.

Two other men, also passengers in the station wagon, were injured, one critically.

Dead are Kenneth Raymond Hall, 20, of Portage, Kenneth Marvin Whillsdi, 20, of Moose Jaw, Sask., and Cooper Thomas Beak, 18, of North Stowe Market, Suffolk, England.

Name of the fourth was withheld pending notification of next-of-kin.

John Martin of Winnipeg was critically injured. Also in hospital, but not critical, is Gregory Rouble of Windsor, Ont.

Strikes, Threatened Walkouts Disrupt Airline Services, Curtail Auto Production

CHICAGO (AP) — Strikes and threatened walkouts disrupted service on some airlines and curtailed production in many parts of the United States today.

One major airline company, Trans World, was closed for the fourth day by a strike of 6,700 machinists. More than 12,000 other TWO workers around the world were made idle by the walkout, which grounded nearly all the company's 200 planes.

The federal mediation service sent one of its negotiators to Kansas City, TWO headquarters, to seek to reach an agreement between the company and the International Association of Machinists.

Two other major airlines, Eastern and American, faced walkouts today and Tuesday. Eastern Airlines said the strike called by 600 flight engineers today may shut down service throughout its system, including flights between Montreal and New York.

A strike has been called against American Airlines at issue in both disputes.

Chilly Weather Apparently Kept Many Drivers at Home

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Twenty-seven persons died accidentally in Canada during the weekend, 21 in highway accidents.

The toll was fewer than that of last weekend, when 41 perished, 31 in traffic mishaps. Chilly fall weather apparently kept many drivers at home.

A Canadian Press survey between 8 p.m. local time Friday and midnight Sunday showed this count by provinces, with fatalities in brackets:

Nova Scotia 4 (0); New Brunswick 2 (0); Quebec 4 (3); Ontario 11 (11); Manitoba 4 (4); Alberta 1 (0); Saskatchewan 2 (1).

An avalanche accountedfor the two Alberta fatalities, a highway accident for all four in Manitoba.

ONTARIO LIST

Ontario deaths:

Gerald Walsh, 22, Napanee, found dead beside a wrecked car Friday night on a country road near Bay City miles south of Napanee.

Charles A. Read, 24, Toronto, killed early Saturday when his car struck a hydro pole in central Toronto.

Michael Schaefer, 68, of Pointe-au-Baril, killed on the Queen Elizabeth Way Friday night when struck by a car.

Joseph Andre Gauvin, 19, Quebec City, killed when struck by a car as he and three companions walked along a highway near Clinton, 30 miles northwest of Stratford.

Bernard Monague, 13-year-old Indian boy, who died of exposure Saturday when trapped inside a car which rolled off a dock on Indian Island in Georgian Bay.

Mrs. Mary Gray, 50, Waterdown, killed early Sunday on Highway 400 when a car in which she was a passenger was struck from behind by another vehicle, rolled over several times and caught fire.

CAB BLOWS UP

Victor Waller, 30, a Port Arthur cab driver, and James Mar-tin, 57, a passenger, also of Port Arthur, killed when Waller's taxi blew up early Sunday.

Mrs. Alma Ledger, 39, Toronto, was killed when a motor car dived after she was injured in a four-car collision 20 miles west of the city.

Andrew Wesley Johnston, 24, of Clinton, found dead Sunday in a wrecked car on Highway 4 a mile north of Hensall. The car was in a ditch, submerged in a stream.

Mrs. Mary Buchanan, 52, Nakina, killed Friday when a car driven by her husband, Alfred, overturned. 11 miles north of Geraldton.

Two Men Killed When Taxi Cab Blows Up

PORT ARTHUR (CP) — Two men were killed when a taxi cab blew up under mysterious circumstances.

The victims were Victor Waller, 30, driver of the cab, and James Martin, 57, a passenger. Both are from Port Arthur.

Police said they could not advance any reason for the explosion Sunday unless Martin, a pensioner, was carrying dynamite with him.

The top of the car was blown off, striking overhead power wires and plunging part of the city into darkness.

Martin was dead when police arrived. Waller died shortly after admittance to hospital.

The wrecked cab will be under police guard until experts arrive from Toronto to investigate.

Diefenbaker Ends Six-Day State Visit to India

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker flew to Ceylon today on a six-day state visit to India.

He told reporters at the airport he is looking to more Canadian engineers to help India's development plans.

Prime Minister Nehru, cabinet ministers and foreign diplomats were on hand to see Mr. Diefenbaker off.

After Mr. Diefenbaker left, Nehru talked informally to reporters. Referring to reports and stories in Canadian morning papers saying Diefenbaker had offered his good offices to help settle the Kashmir dispute between Indian and Pakistan, Nehru said that during the talks with the Canadian leader, the word—Kashmir wasn't mentioned.

PM "LEARNED MUCH"

Diefenbaker had refused comment prior to leaving. "We discussed in general international affairs . . . and on the basis of discussions, I learned much."

The newspaper speculation was based on discussions at a private luncheon Nehru gave Diefenbaker at his Teen Murti home. They spent more than two hours together.

Just before stepping into his car, Nehru said: "I was surprised to see the papers this morning. I do not think that during our talks of the past four days even the word Kashmir was mentioned."

Berlin Situation Has Look Of Diversion by Russians

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

There's more than meets the eye in the crisis over Berlin, perhaps by the time it simmers down—the West once again will be blinking with astonishment at some real significant Communist victory.

As it did several times before, the Berlin situation has the look of a diversion, and an important one.

This time it's not Quemoy in the Formosa Strait, the Communists have the initiative in Berlin.

Berlin's situation has existed for a long time. Why, then, a crisis now?

On the basis of past experience Berlin crises are not brought up deliberately. The first big one came in 1948 and lasted 11 nerve-racking months. Stalin manufactured it. When the clamor died away, the world suddenly realized the red revolution was all but ended in China. Chiang Kai-Shek had been chased from the mainland.

The next noteworthy Berlin crisis began in 1953, lasted only a few months. Then — as now — Russian tempers were only a few months away from an all - union Communist party congress. Such congresses are the traditional time for unveiling important decisions and changes in Soviet and external affairs. The 20th congress two years ago was the one that shocked Stalin as a bere-

The 21st party congress is set for January. From Soviet press hints, it may be the occasion for Nikita Khrushchev to finally nail down his one-man dictatorship. It also will be a platform for telling the Russian people what's ahead for the next seven years — more years of waiting for promises to be fulfilled while the U.S.S.R. builds world power.

Such internal considerations alone, however, would not seem sufficient for a full-blown Berlin crisis.

The game would be worth the candle, however, if the Soviets provided cover for a new, and unanswerable move, possibly by gaining a measure of control over the flow of Middle East oil to the Russians, there are several promising Middle East situations in an arena that has been the supply of the U.S. and Canada.

Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic straddles both pipelines and the Suez Canal, is rapidly becoming more and more involved with the Communist economically, Iraq's revolutionary regime is a lightning rod.

Communists are heavily infiltrating the country. And in Jordan, the throne could be toppled at any moment.

CRISES SPECIALISTS

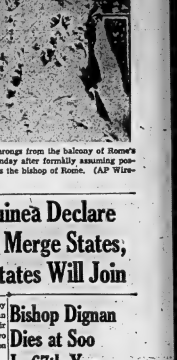
The Communists already have demonstrated their facility for engendering crises in the Arab East. What they are up to right now is anybody's guess. Here's one—but - fetched, by any means:

An Arab explosion caused Israel to move militarily Nasser likely would capture the U.A.R. as gravely threatened. He might seek Russian protection.

Such protection might mean a Soviet base on Arab soil, at the very least a Soviet-Arab joint government recognized by the West. The Russians then would be in a position to exert pressure on one of their primary aims—shutting off all military bases on foreign soil. They would have a base of their own to surround with an area whose resources could mean life or death for industrial freedom in Western Europe.

POISONED BY MEAT

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Forty-one persons died in the village of Ziaabadeh near Meshaad, West Iran, after eating poisonous camel meat, the newspaper Keyhan said Sunday. The paper said the camel died after being bitten by a snake and its owner sold the meat to villagers.



Typical of the attitude of the deer herd at Aberdeen Proving Ground towards the Army's might is this 90-pound buck deer who refuses to move as a tank travelling more than 20 miles an hour thunders down the road. For the Army's expanding herd has harassed operations on the military base. Deer break into buildings, wander through barrack areas looking for handouts, cause an automobile accident a day and force fire trucks to clear them off runways so planes can land. (AP Wirephoto).

Fear Clashes Will Result

PORT COLBORNE (CP)—Possibility of picket - line clashes at the strikebound International Nickel Company developed Sunday out of decisions of the 1,200-member local of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.).

The union renewed its request that the company start all maintenance work on company property be done by union members. Supervisory personnel have been doing the work during the nine-week strike.

Trouble may arise from a union decision to prevent non-union employees from entering plant properties if the company refuses to grant the request.

The Pros try ballooning lingerie in Canada. Ann Trimble, the big 160-pounder who sings in church, asks tickets to strawberry festivals in Western Ontario and coaching the bruising Hamilton Tiger-Cat football club try, coach of Edmonton Eskimos, three-time Grey Cup winner, is having trouble with his heavy lineup. Canada of the National Football League this season. But Big Jim is making the try lasting pay off—one thing Cup and on the payoff for another.

It all starts when Trimble, a rugged tackle in his playing days with Indiana, watched Pro Baltimore clobber Montreal Alouettes 38-12 in the 1956 Cup final. That performance gave Trimble the idea—maybe, you had to play hard-rock football to win.

BRUISING GUTTER

Trimble, already much of rugged individualist, became the toughest club in the country. Favorite pastime was to soften up Big Four rivals in the first half and roll up points in the last 30 minutes.

But Trimble didn't stop there. He's signed Oklahoma used two fullbacks Normie Kwong and Johnny Bright as power plunging. Trimble employed the twin fullback formation with Gerry McDougall and Charlie Gilchrist in 1957 that paid off with a Cup victory. This year, with more passing and fancy dan stuff thrown in, Tiger - Cats overpowered Big Four teams during the season and continued the pattern in the playoffs against Ottawa Rough Riders.

Again, the try pattern was starkly evident.

Try is creating something of a sensation this year with what Americans call the Chicago Cardinal triple wing-T formation. It is nothing more than a variation of the basic short punt pattern.

Try has the ends split wide exactly 15 feet outside the tackles so as to free-man line. The halfbacks and a fullback try and flanked behind the ends, giving the Cardinals five potential pass receivers who can move downfield.

On the Tracks

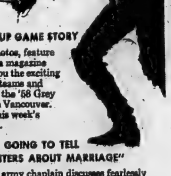
BALTIMORE (AP) — Internationally acquired a bright outlook for next year's triple-crown class in Saturday by romping off with the Pimlico Futurity, horse racing's second biggest prize this year.

The dark brown colt won with Willie Shoemaker aboard against eight other two-year-olds competing for first prize of $121,415.

Rico Tesio was second and Black Hills third.

NEW YORK (AP)—Jacob Grumet, state investigation commissioner, said Sunday he has ordered an inquiry into the conduct of public officials at Jamaica Race Track.

The Long Island track in the same line acknowledged that about 100 of its parimutuel employees have been subpoenaed to appear before the commission today.



Grumet would not comment on reports that the investigation probably would be expanded to Aqueduct and harness tracks in the metropolitan area.

Marshall Cassidy, director of racing for the New York Racing Association, said:

"We have no knowledge of any wrongdoing of such a nature as contained in the statement reported to me concerning fixed races."

Unitas Stops Los Angeles; Browns Win

NEW YORK (AP)—Johnny Unitas, a colt with a heavy-calibre passing arm, is healthy again and he shot down the title bid of the Los Angeles Rams Sunday, pacing Baltimore to a 3-7 victory. It was Colts' eighth win in nine National" Football League games. Baltimore now leads the western conference by two games with only three to play.

Unitas looked it Sunday, shaking loose for a 88-yard touchdown run on the opening kickoff, then coming back in the same quarter with a 43-yard score on a punt return as the Browns whipped Philadelphia Eagles 28-14. Cleveland, with a 7-4 record, leads the eastern conference by one game with three remaining.

Baltimore's appearance in a pro title game would be its first. If Cleveland can win a division title, the game would be played at Cleveland Dec. 28.

New York Giants stayed a game behind Cleveland with a 30-0 victory over Washington Redskins, and Pittsburgh Steelers, another game to the rear, hung on to the Giants' tail with a 27-20 triumph over Chicago Cardinals.

In the west, Chicago Bears took over sole possession of second place by beating Detroit Lions 24-20 while Los Angeles faltered. The Lions' loss eliminated the defending world champions from title consideration. San Francisco 49ers moved past them into fourth place with a 23-14 victory over the last-place Green Bay Packers.

Saskys Win Junior Crown

MONTREAL (CP) — Saskatoon Hilltops, capitalizing on two fumbles by Notre Dame de Grace Maple Leafs and a pass interception defeated the Montreal squad 18-14 Sunday to win the Canadian junior football crown.

Fierce tackling and a 20-degree temperature led to 14 fumbles, eight of them by Montreal. Saskatoon recovered six NDG bobbles while the Maple Leafs grabbed three of the westerners' miscues.

Two hilltop touchdowns were carried over by Bud Curtis and the third was scored by Garnet McKee on a pass from quarterback Bob Shiels.

Montreal came fighting back in the third quarter with two converted touchdowns.

NDG marched 89 yards to score the first touchdown, Bob Shink going over from the one-yard line and also kicking the convert.

End John Schaffer got NDG's other touchdown on a 39-yard pass-and-run play with Bob Anderson. Shink converted.

Wants National League Extended

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Western Hockey League official has suggested a start on a western division of the National Hockey League that would stretch from Winnipeg to San Francisco.

Rod Polle, general manager of Edmonton Flyers, said in an interview the main drawback to the proposal is the lack of adequate arenas in Edmonton, Vancouver and Seattle.

He said the western division would have teams in Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton, Vancouver, Seattle, Portland, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

A $7,500,000 arena will be completed in Los Angeles in June and will seat 16,000, he said.

Contacted in Seattle, WHL president Al Leader said he thinks Polle's plan is "great."

"It's a move long overdue and I can't see why it shouldn't become a reality."

Kelowna Beats Em 5-1

Russian Hockey Players Told Must Do Better---Or Maybe

MOSCOW (CP) — Russian hockey players have been told they'll have to do better than they did against Canada's Kelowna Packers last week.

The Soviet press and radio Sunday demanded better team execution and coaching methods following Saturday's 5-1 defeat of a select Moscow team by the Packers in the last game of a five-match exhibition here.

The victory, greeted with cheers and applause from a crowd of 15,000 in the Lenin Sports Palace, gave the Canadians their second win against one loss and two ties.

"Old Canada's still the land of the hockey players," coach Jack O'Reilly shouted elatedly after the game.

The Russians seemed to agree with him.

ROOM TO IMPROVE

Echoing complaints raised against Soviet football players and coaching following a 5-0 loss to an English team a few weeks ago, the newspapers said there was obviously room for improvement in Russian ice hockey.

Komsomolskaya Pravda said the Canadians were outstanding in their ability to maintain high speed with precise, fast plays. It added that Russia has a wealth of young players who need "courageous training" to teach them to use the same powerful style.

Moscow radio blamed poor team selection for the defeat.

Referring to forthcoming visits by Russian players to the United States and Sweden, the broadcast said the lessons of the game "must be taken into account."

Anatoly Tarasov, trainer of both the Moscow army and Russia's national teams, said the Canadians played more as individuals than did the Russians.

ADMIRES TECHNIQUE

"The Canadians are magnificent ice hockey players," Tarasov said in an English - language broadcast by Moscow radio. "One cannot help admiring their brilliant technique, their accuracy, their tight defence. Our teams have much to learn from them.

Heard Game Via Telephone; Cost Was $45

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—A San Francisco 49er football fan found a way to follow his favorite team Sunday.

Visiting in New York City, the San Francisco man telephoned a radio station here and asked the announcer to place the phone's telephone next to a radio speaker.

The station was broadcasting the San Francisco game with Green Bay Packers at Milwaukee.

For more than 2½ hours the man fed nickles, dimes and quarters into a pay telephone. When the game ended a 33-12 victory for San Francisco, the man thanked the announcer for his trouble declined to give his name, and hung up.

Based on rates made available by the telephone company in New York, the call was estimated to have cost $45.

Dutchmen Roll in High Gear With 2 Wins Over Weekend

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen got rolling in high gear at the weekend in their quest of first place in the OHA-NOHA Senior standings.

Saturday night they nosed out the league-leading Chatham Maroons 3-2, their first win in three starts against the leaders this season. They followed that up with a 4-3 win at Windsor Sunday against the Bronco-team Bulldogs. The double victory left them three points behind Chatham which has 22.

In the league's other weekend game, the Sarnia North Bay Trappers lost 3-2 to the Greyhounds at Sault Ste. Marie. It was the second defeat in two nights for the cellar - dwelling Trappers who got a 7-1 trouncing at Sudbury Friday.

ON ROAD TRIP

The Trappers, who have won only three games in 13 starts, set out this week on a tough road trip which takes them to Windsor Tuesday in the night's only league game and then on to Kitchener-Waterloo Wednesday and Chatham Friday.

Ken Laufman was the big man in Kitchener-Waterloo's weekend doings. He scored one goal Saturday night and then tallied a pair against Windsor. Butch Martin and Jerry Theberge scored the other goals against the Maroons. Jack McMaster and Bill Saunders, the latter on a rink-length dash, got goals against Windsor. Right winger Jim Connelly scored both Chatham's goals. Erwin Grosse and Murray Costello were Windsor scorers.

Al Rollins Gets Hawks, Stamps in Hot Water

CALGARY (CP) — Al Rollins, former National Hockey League goaltender with Chicago Black Hawks, says he has obtained an injunction against two hockey teams he claims are preventing him from making a living as a hockey player.

The injunction was signed Thursday by Mr. Justice H. W. Riley of the Supreme Court of Alberta.

It prevents Calgary Stampeders of the Western Hockey League and Chicago Black Hawks from "representing to anyone or any professional hockey team that they own or have the right to the services of the plaintiff as a professional hockey player . . ."

Rollins said he filed a statement of claim for $25,000 damages naming the Calgary and Chicago clubs as defendants.

The claim said "the defendants have conspired together to prevent the plaintiff from earning a living and taking advantage of his skill as a professional hockey player. The defendants have improperly represented to the plaintiff and others that the defendant, Chicago Black Hawks, own or have the right to the services of the plaintiff as a professional hockey player.

PREVENTED FROM SIGNING

"As a result of the representations the plaintiff has been prevented from signing a contract to play professional hockey for the balance of the 1958-59 hockey season."

Rollins, who played for the Stampeders last season and Chicago for five years before that, said at a press conference Calgary has declined to offer him a contract for the 1958-59 season and refuses to let him deal with any other club.

He said last year's contract with Stampeders contained a clause that he would be offered either personally or by mail a copy of a contract for the 1958-59 season.

"I received a letter from Stampeder manager-coach Gus Kyle last summer containing a salary figure which I considered unacceptable," Rollins said. "This cannot be considered a proper offer of contract. Salary conditions were mentioned at the bottom of a personal letter dealing with an entirely different matter."

William Dickey, counsel for Rollins, said Black Hawks were named as co-defendants because Rollins' 1957-58 contract with the Stampeders stipulated $1,000 of his salary would be paid by Chicago in the form of a bonus.

Dickey said a defence has not been filed by the defendants.

In Montreal, Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, said nobody has prevented Rollins from getting a job.

Rollins has had plenty of opportunities for getting a job but has never done anything about them, Campbell said. He had refused to report to Calgary.

"Rollins can have a job with Calgary any time he goes down, but can't dictate his own salary.

Junior Teeps Hammer Cubs; Irish Win

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

The way Stan Mikita is helping St. Catharines TeePees burn up the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A'race this season, his native Czechoslovakia might like him home for the world hockey championship in Prague next February.

The 165-pound centre, who has lived in Canada for 10 of his 18 years, scored two goals and set up two others Saturday night as the TeePees hammered the fall-end Hamilton Tiger-Cubs 7-2. That was the 16th win in 16 starts for the TeePees who hold a commanding 13-point lead in the seven-team league.

Toronto St. Michael's College extended its unbeaten streak to five straight games Sunday with a 4-3 victory at Toronto over Peterborough Peter Mat put the two teams in second-place tie. Guelph Biltmores and Toronto Marlboros played to a 4-4 tie in another Sunday game. It was Guelph's sixth tie in 16 starts.

Mikita, a Chicago Black Hawks prospect in his third junior season, brought his total scoring points this season to 33 with his four-point showing. He leads the league scorers with his 18 goals and 17 assists. A crack baseball player who learned his hockey in St. Catharines where he jumped from midget to Junior A rank, Mikita scored 47 points on 18 goals and 31 assists in his first OHA season and 78 points on 31 goals and 47 assists last year.

Other goal scorers for TeePees were Don Grosso, Fred Hilts, Doug Robinson, Chico Maki and Ted Wright with one apiece. Stu McNeil and Larry Jeffrey got the Hamilton goals.

Standout play by goalie Cesare Maniago helped St. Michael's to its triumph over Peterborough. Jack Costello scored two goals and Darryl Sly and Bruce Draper one apiece for the college crew. Bill Mahoney tallied twice and Hugh McGonigal once for Peterborough.

Bill Connelly of Peterborough, Mikita's chief rival in the scoring race, added one point to his total by assisting on Mahoney's first goal. He now has 11 goals and 19 assists for 30 points.

Sonny Osborne bagged three goals and Garry Begg one for Marlboros against Guelph. Ernie Kraft shot two and Jack Gilbert and Jean Ratelle one apiece for the Biltmorers.

Barrie Flyers, idle during the weekend, are at Peterborough tonight while Marlboros and St. Michael's play in Toronto.

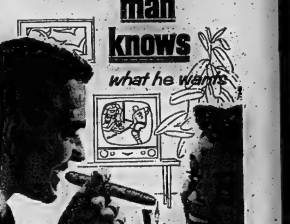
Larks' Star In the Making

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Alouettes may in a few years have a halfback who'll make Big Four Football League fans forget such past greats as Virgil Wagner and Alex Webster.

He is John Ciasnovic, an 11-year-old who scored 35 touchdowns in 15 games this season, his first in football—with Montreal Alouettes of the Little Big Four, a service club - sponsored city league for 10-to-12-year-olds.



Saturday John, a fleet pounder, scored five touchdowns as his team defeated Verdun Argonauts 33-18 in the first game of a two-game, total-point series for the league championship.

Of course John may be classed as an import to Canadian football. He was born in West Berlin of Russian - Yugoslavian parents and has one more year to go before he can apply for Canadian citizenship.

OAKES GRAND PRIX

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—John Behra, French Racing ace, drove his three-litre Ferrari car to victory in Venezuela's 755-kilometre (469-mile) Grand Prix road race Sunday. His unofficial time was four hours, 45 minutes, 58 2-5 seconds. The victory earned him $5,000 of the total prize money of $25,350.

Delightful Day on a Game Farm

Typical of the days of mid-fall, the morning was foggy. Despite difficult driving conditions, we reached the game farm about nine o'clock.

As always, we were greeted uproariously by the dogs in the kennel and our old setter trotted over, as much to boast of his freedom as to get acquainted. The manager was waiting for us so, after a quick cup of hot coffee from the thermos, we assembled our gear, whistled for the dog, and started out through the cover.

We had moved only a short way across the first fallow when the dog began to make game. On a cautious circle was enough; suddenly he applied the brakes and came down on point.

There is something about a dog on point that does things to you. Regardless of how many years you have spent in the field, how many thousands of points you have honored, that first point of the day is a heart-warming experience.

Tingles and goose pimples run up and down your spine, your senses seem to take on an extra awareness, and your heart picks up its beat and seems to climb out over your Adam's apple. All confirmed gunners react in this way; if they don't, they should stop hunting.

This time was no exception. One glance at my partner, himself a veteran of all too many seasons, showed that he too was far from calm. His eyes glowed with anticipation and his face was slightly flushed under its coating of tan.

In accord with understood agreement, arrived at through many seasons of gunning together, he walked in on one side of the dog. I on the other. With a rauscous cackle, a big ringneck rooster exploded from the grass about 20 feet ahead of the dog.

Typical of his breed, the big bird towered — 20, 30 feet, almost straight up; then he leveled off and headed for the woods. He didn't go very far. Both guns cracked in the crisp morning air and the bird tumbled back to earth. On command, the setter galloped over, picked him up, and trotted back, tail wagging with every step. Somewhat reluctantly he placed the bird in my outstretched hand.

Finding no more birds in the open swale, the dog swung over into the brushy wood lot. Then the fun really began. His first find was a little hen, light, strong, and incredibly fast on the take-off. She corkscrewed her way up through the hardwood growth, aged as a grouse, and my friend brought her down with a beautiful shot just as she cleared the tree tops.

FASTER THAN RINGNECK

This particular game farm differs from most. It is in rolling country and much of it is in hardwood growth. The birds are a cross between Mongolian and Chinese, not as large as the average ringneck but much, much faster. In wooded conditions which cause erratic flight, they make wonderful shooting.

Our morning's shoot netted us ten birds. These were turned over to one of the employees to be picked and dressed for the table. This done, we settled ourselves in the welcome warmth of the "club room" to enjoy our sandwiches and coffee.

In the afternoon the farm manager had a treat in store for us — a driven-pheasant shoot. Directly behind the farm buildings stands a wooded hill, and a great many of the farm birds use this hill as a safe retreat. The farm manager showed us our shooting stations and then disappeared up the hill with two little cocker spaniels at heel.

We did not have long to wait. We heard his shout of warning and out from the trees and hill the rooster, winging it for all he was worth for the safety of the sweet below his head pond. What's more, he made it, cackling derisively, I know that I shot a good six feet behind him. Driven pheasant fly exceedingly fast.

Not all of the birds were so lucky, however. Six of them were added to the day's bag, all retrieved by the big setter who seemed to enjoy the shoot as much as we did. Content, he would watch the wooded hill eagerly. Should we miss a bird, as we did all too often, the look of disgust he gave us all but curled our hair.

While the last birds were being readied for the table, we put away our gear and indulged ourselves in a bit o fstimulating medicinal tonic to ease our nerves after the rigors of the day's efforts.

At last, birds, dogs, guns, and gear were packed in the car. The tab was paid — a surprisingly light one, considering the fun we had and the booty we took with us — and we settled down in the heated car for the long drive home. It is my honest opinion that nowhere in the upland shooting can you find a more satisfactory and thoroughly delightful day of sport than on a well-run regulated shooting ground.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

The mighty have fallen and the supposed mighty are beginning to shake summer cobwebs from their championship frames and cheering the bruins of hockey that swept them to the ultimate in amateur heehey, the Allan Cup.

The gents gnawing their finger nails, looking with envious eyes at the back room are the wise chappies who believed the Macs' 5-3 victory over the world champions, Whitby Dunlops, last Friday night was a flash in the pan—a comeback from something or other.

It was no comeback. It was the McFarlands getting the feel of their championship stride and hitting hard when the hitting was good against a foe that through newspaper columns has under-rated them since the season began.

Whilis it was expected the Macs would hit their stride sooner or later the dimstivers fell from grace that greeted the hitherto unbeaten Dunlops of Whitby was far more precipitate than that over their worst "bad-winters" expected. The outstanding and brilliant 6-3 triumph over the Dunlops by the McFarlands apparently settled the grease on the skids for the mighty Dunlops, for on Saturday they were held to a 3-3 tie by the last-place Kingston Merchants while yesterday they bowed 3-1 before the fast-skating Hull-Ottawa Canadiens on the latter's ice.

And while on the subject of the Hull-Ottawa Canadiens, it is to be hoped that the new hockey suffered by that club's high scoring star Bob Boucher, is not as serious as was at first expected. Boucher was accidentally stuck by a teammate's stick during one of the weekend games, but gamely finished the pastime, although he could not use the eye. This is the second injury of similar nature in two years for the Canadiens, Claude Rioux suffering the loss of an eye, during a game with Belleville one last season.

The weekend games shuffled the standing somewhat, Hull-Ottawa vaulting over Cornwall into third place with 13 points, six behind the second-place McFarlands, who in turn are six points in arrears of the Dunlops. Cornwall has eleven and Kingston seven in the order named.

The Belleville-Cornwall tussle was a battle of the goalies after the Macs had sallied it away just twenty-three seconds after Referee Lorne Gordon had hooked opposing captain on the official pincels. From then on the Belleville defence shut up tighter than a hen-pecked clam. Gordie Bell and Gerry Devaney, the two regular snipers, gave spectators little action. Although Devaney let one Belleville blast from the stick of Barton Brudiger get by him in the final frame.

Bep Guidolin, former Mac star, was the Kingston hero Saturday night as the Aberdeen Limestoners came up with a dazzling performance against the Dunlops. El Beppo got both Kingston goals—and he will likely be travelling at top speed again against his old gang when the McFarlands and Macs hook up in another typical Kingston-Belleville battle here tomorrow night. Bep pulled the game out of the fire for Kingston, his second marker coming with less than two minutes to play.

Incidentally Kingston gave their veteran defenceman, Joe Levandoski, his unconditional release Saturday night and an unconfirmed Kingston story has it that Joe might join the McFarlands. There was but one morsel of news the story this morning outside of Arena Commission chairman Claude Tice remarking, "there is nothing in it, to my knowledge."

Kingston manager Wally Brabin stated Saturday that two more players might get the axe, since he feels the club is not playing up to its potential. He felt the new players signed, with those of last year, should give Kingston a team that should be anywhere but last place. It proved back in fine style Saturday to hold the mighty Dunnies to a two-all tie.

Redskins Win Int. Title

FOTET WILLIAM (CP) — Fort William Redskins, in their fourth consecutive attempt for the title, captured the Canadian intermediate football championship Saturday with a 10-0 victory over St. Francis Xavier University of Antigonish, N.S.

Last year the Redskins were beaten 27-21 by Shearwater Flyers at Halifax.

Backfielder Bruno Grobelny, Lakehead scoring champion, went over for the lone touchdown. Eddie Kruppa converted and added the three singles.

The fast-moving game, played under gruelling conditions on an icy, snow-covered field, kept the 2,700 enthusiastic fans on tenterhooks.

The outcome was in doubt until the third quarter when Grobelny dived over for the nine-yard line. He FIVE DOWNS EACH

Each team tallied 20 first downs. Fort William had a 287 to 262-yard edge in rushing. St. Fx had a slight lead in passing completing seven of 18 attempts for 90 yards while Redskins were good on five of 18 for 78 yards.

Kruppa opened the scoring in the second quarter. His third-down punt bounced over the deadline.

The Nova Scotia team's greatest threat came in the final quarter when the advanced ball from their own 30 to the Redskin 16 before being stopped. Quarterback Ray Guerreville carried the ball at least two-thirds of the way.

The association took the action to prevent the repeat of a case where a young Toronto girl, Abigail Hoffman, played in the Toronto Hockey League for three years at a boy. The masquerade was discovered in 1955.

Boston Bruins Move Into Second Place In NHL Race

Win From Canadiens, Wings Over Weekend; Leafs Get 2 Ties Under New Manager

By BEN WARD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

George (Punch) Imlach has been the general manager of Toronto Maple Leafs for only 48 hours and already he appears to be a magician.

Magic is about the only explanation for his club's sudden upsurge in the National Hockey League. The last - place Leafs skated like demons to tie the red-hot New York Rangers 3-3 Saturday night and battle to a 3-3 draw with the black Hawks in Chicago Sunday night.

The blue - and - white players acted as though they were in terror of losing their jobs in the general shakeup which Imlach hinted at Saturday. He's the first general manager the Leafs have had in nearly two years.

In other weekend NHL action Boston Bruins pulled off two wins, beating the league-leading Montreal Canadiens 2-0 Sunday night and Detroit Red Wings 2-1 Saturday. The Wings beat Rangers 3-1 Sunday night and Canadiens took Hawks 5-1 Saturday.

BRUINS IN SECOND

Bruins have moved into second place, replacing the slumping Rangers who have been riding a five-game winning streak before the weekend collided with Leafs. Wings are a point behind Bruins. Rangers, Hawks and Leafs trail in that order.

At Toronto, Andy Bathgate, the NHL's leading scorer, put the tying goal past Johnny Bower at 19:36 of the second period. The teams battled through the third period without scoring.

Ranger goalie Gump Worsley had luck riding with him for the third period and Leafs hit the bouncing three pucks off the goalposts after pulling Gump out of the nets.

Larry Popein gave Rangers an edge in the first period but Bobby Pulford and Ron Stewart clicked for Toronto in the second.

STEWART FIGHTS, SCORES

free-for-all which halted play 20 minutes.

Black Hawks Ted Lindsay was the chief battler, taking on Bert Olmstead and Stewart and getting two major penalties and a Dominion misconduct. The brawl with stewart led to the general fight.

Billy Harris and Olmstead got the other Leaf markers with Ed Litzenberger, Bobby Hull and Danny Lewicki scoring for Hawks.

Bruins combined defensive brilliance with goals by Vic Stadnik and Norm Johnson to shut out the Hawks. Goalie Don Simmons kicked out 26 Canadien drives.

The Montreal goalie's valley record set up Maurice Richard for the 600th goal of his NHL career but Simmons blocked seven shots by the Rocket.

HAWKS JINX

Saturday afternoon Stasiuk and Don McKenney produced the victory margin as Red Wings cracked stone wall Wings goalie Terry Sawchuk had erected against them this season. He had held Bruins scoreless for 125 minutes and 14 seconds of the slumping ace before McKenney beat him in the first period.

Red Kelly got the 150th goal of his career for Wings.

Bobby Hull batted in New York where 15,038 saw them during Rangers' home stand this season. Norm Ullman scored two for Wings after Bathgate had tied it on a breakaway in the second period.

New York pulled Worsley out of the final moments of the game but the move backfired when Andy Bathgate popped one into the open net.

Leonard had eight shots on goal Saturday night in Montreal and Hawks' Glenn Hall stopped all but one to bring giant groans from the 14,290 spectators.

But Hall couldn't handle shots by Claude Provost, who scored twice, Jean Beliveau, Ralph Backstrom and Richard came off. The only Chicago goal came off the stick of Tod Sloan.

Bears Whip Indians 5-3; Reds Triumph

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hershey is the only American Hockey League team with two regular goalies. And it's paying dividends during the Bears' drive to overtake the leading Buffalo Bisons.

Monday night, goalie Gil Mayer of the Bears was forced to leave the game in Springfield early in the second period. He was hit on the bridge of the nose.

Under ordinary conditions, Hershey would have been forced to use a spare netminder provided by the home team. But the Bears are carrying Bobby Perrault, acquired from the Quebec League.

Perrault did a fine job and Hershey went on for a 5-3 victory. Arnie Kullman scored two third period goals for the winners.

HARRY HUMLEY HOT

The fast-climbing Bears moved to within four points of the Bisons, who were defeated by Cleveland 3-2. In the other game, Harry Lunkley registered his second straight shutout as Providence beat Rochester 4-0.

Eddie Mazur's tally at 8:13 of the final period gave Cleveland the victory. Gerry McNamara played a spectacular game in goal for the Barons, stopping 39 shots.

Lunkley saved on 23 as Providence moved out of the cellar. Zellio Toppazzini, Larry Leach and Paul Larivee scored for the Reds in the second period.

Lunkley blanked Cleveland 2-0 Saturday night. In other Saturday games, Buffalo and Hershey battled to a 2-2 tie and Rochester trounced Springfield, 6-2.

Minor Hockey

Goals were scarce in the banian section of the BMHA Saturday morning with five games played and but one of the ten teams scoring over three goals.

Brewers and Bruins battled to a shutout, 3-0 over Quinte. Dennis Hull, Bill Moffat and Mitchell Hull scored. Goalie Bill Moffat and Goalie Bob Ethier and Gord Gulry picked the shutout.

The Macs shaded Red Wings 3-1 on goals by Bob Ridley and Stan Woodcock. Art Lunn fired the lone Wing goal.

Bruins also won 3-1 over the Black Hawks. Brian Robinson and Brian McBride scored the winners' goals with Dr. Bill Bell and Jerry St. Dennis drawing assists. Manley Hy replied for the Black Hawks.

Rangers and Canadiens fought to a 3-3 deadlock. Goalie of the day. Canadien marksmen were Bill Phillips and Carl Boonshower with Dennis Bay getting a lone assist. Dan Lucas and Jack Hargreaves fired the Ranger goals with Woodcock getting one assist.

Barons took a 3-2 decision over Maple Leafs with Walter Clare potting two of the victors' goals. Mike Cushane scored the other. Bill Allin and G. Wordle collected a goal each for the Leafs.

Spain, Ireland Share World Golf Honors

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The dramatic victory of an ignored Spaniard and an underrated Irish team in Sunday's Canada Cup finals has been called further proof the United States and the British Isles no longer rule the world of golf.

Not only did Angel Miguel win the individual world's championship and Ireland the team trophy, but a list of the leaders rounded like a United Nations roster.

The Canadian team was 17th in the final standings. Henry Martel of Edmonton, who shot 74-73-77-78—304, ranked 36th in individual placings, tied with Dave Thomas of Wales. Al Balding of Toronto was farther back with a 76-81-77-80—314.

The matches ended dramatically, and victory went to a man no expert considered even a minor threat.

PLAYOFF AFTER 36

Young Miguel and stocky, 45-year-old Harry Bradshaw of Ireland battled to an unexpected tie with 72-hole totals of 286.

Without rest, Miguel and Bradshaw went into a sudden-death playoff. They were even for two holes. On the 185-yard third, both sliced their drives into the spectators. Both balls bounced back into play on the green.

Miguel sank a spectacular 25-foot putt for a deuce. Bradshaw missed by inches and the Spaniard, new world's golf champion, was mobbed by many of the 12,000 fans.

Bradshaw's consistent play and the steady Christy O'Connor combined to give Ireland the best team score, 579, and a victory in the Canada Cup matches. ..

HOW THEY STOOD

Behind Miguel and Bradshaw came Flory van Donck of Belgium with 287; Miguel Sala, Colombia, 288; Eric Brown, Scotland, and Frank Phillips, Australia, 289; Ben Hogan, U.S., and Gary Player, South Africa, 291.

Spain was second in the team competition with 580, followed by South Africa 58, Australia and Scotland 588, England 593, Argentina and Australia 594.

McFarlands Roll In High Gear; Blank Cornwall 2-0

Score First in 23 Seconds Then Never Look Backwards Hull-Ottawa Shades Whitby

Belleville McFarlands completed their sweep of a victory over every team in the OHA Eastern Senior "A" circuit in six days at Cornwall yesterday afternoon when they blanked the Cheviers 2-0 for their fourth consecutive victory.

The Macs, 11 points behind Whitby just last Wednesday morning, have consolidated their grip on second place and are now six points back of the Dunlops. Whitby has a 14 points to Belleville 18. In other weekend action Kingston and Whitby tied 2-2 while Hull edged Whitby 3-1 to take over third place, with 9 points.

Belleville won Sunday's game over Cornwall in the first minute of play when playing coach Ike Hildebrand scored at the 23 second mark of the initial period.

The clubs battled through fifty minutes of scoreless hockey after that before the Macs wrapped up the decision with an insurance goal at 9:36 of the third heat.

Gordie Bell, given excellent support by the red-hot Macs, scored in a strong game between the pipes to blank the Cheviers and record his second shutout of the season. He has allowed only three goals in the Macs' last four games.

The fixture was strictly a battle of the goalies as Gerry Devaney in the Cornwall cage dueled Bell all the way. Both netminders came through with spectacular saves time and again.

Defence Louis LeCompte handed out six minor penalties to back fence and the Cheviers and Cornwall helped the Macs complete their scoring.

Defencemen Marcel Goyette of the Cheviers was thumbed for holding at the end of the third period. Centre Bert Bradley and linemates Dave Jones and Lou Ezzhe started for Cornwall and at 9:36 Bradley gunned the rubber home with his two teammates assisting, to give Belleville a 3-0 lead.

Cornwall fought desperately to get back in the game and made Bell earn his shutout when Dave Jones of the Macs forced a minor for holding at 14:37. The Cheviers forced a faceoff in the Belleville zone with about 30 seconds to play and replaced Devaney with a fifth attacker but Bell and his mates hung on to preserve the well-earned 2-0 victory.

Hildebrand had set the Cheviers back on their heels from the opening faceoff when he took a pass from defenceman Al Dewsbury and whipped it home for the 1-0 lead.

Belleville drew four of the seven penalties in the first twenty minutes while Cornwall drew the odd one of three in the second. The teams divided a pair in the third period with Goyette's, his third of the game, proving costly.

The Macs had six defencemen dressed for the game with forwards Wayne "Winnie" Brown and Keith MacDonald nursing injuries. MacDonald hurt a leg in Wednesday's game against Kingston while Brown suffered an arm injury Friday night against Whitby.

Belleville faces another four-game week beginning here Tuesday night with Kingston providing the opposition. The Macs will play host to Cornwall on Friday then hit the road for games in Whitby Saturday night and in Hull, Quebec, on Sunday afternoon.

BELLEVILLE — goal, Bell; defence, Ragian, Dewbury, Bolicy, Bendel, Coegan, Crawford; forwards, McLellan, Menard, Smrke, Hildebrand, Bradley, Jones, Payette, Manreau, Bathgate.

CORNWALL — goal, Devaney; defence, Servias, Goyette, Labelle, Ernst; forwards, Henri, Clair, McLay, Malatt, Grier.

Tigers Brush Aside Ottawa, Eastern Choice for Grey Cup

By W.R. Wheatley
Canadian Press Staff Writer

HALTON (CP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats, satisfied with an authoritative if not particularly impressive display, brushed aside Ottawa Rough Riders Saturday and for the second successive year became the people's choice of Eastern Canada for the Grey Cup title.

The Cats struck in the first and fourth quarters to take the game 19-7 and romp away with the two-game, total-point eastern final 44-14.

Hamilton's 35-7 win the previous Saturday in Ottawa made the Big Four League champions prohibitive favorites to complete the expected mopping-up.

Any hope the Rough Riders had of wiping out a 28-point deficit were squelched in less than six minutes of play. Steve Oneschuk kicked a field goal from the 35-yard line and Gerry McDougall, the Cats' big, rugged fullback tore through a yawning hole in the Ottawa line and raced 63 yards for a converted touchdown.

There was no more scoring until the opening minute of the third quarter, when Ottawa cashed in for the only times of the game. Quarterback Russ Jackson found running room, with Cats covering every potential pass received and snaked his way through the open spaces for an 18-yard touchdown run.

ROUND OUT SCORING

Hamilton quarterback Bernie Faloney quick-kicked for a single in the last quarter and Cam Fraser punted for another. Between the two singles Faloney whipped a touchdown pass to Billy Graham from 11 yards out.

Oneschuk converted both Hamilton touchdowns and Garry Schreider made good on his one convert attempt for Ottawa.

The Tiger-Cats leave Wednesday by plane for Vancouver. In Empire Stadium there next Saturday, amid all the hurrah and excitement of a Grey Cup game, they will try to make it two in a row over Winnipeg Blue Bombers, Western champions. Hamilton won 32-7 last year in Toronto.

Coach Jim Trimble of Hamilton uncovered no new tricks Saturday in a comparatively easy masterminding job. The spectacular passes of the game were circumscribed attractions for the crowd of 12,071.

ROUGH GAME

With indications a few grudges were being settled here and there, the bits of undercover work brought penalties for roughing and clipping to both teams.

But out in the open game a one-man field march by coach Frank Clair of Ottawa and a rough-touch out-of-bounds charging job by the Riders' Giles Archambault.

Clair just about blew his top in the third quarter. Referee signaling handkerchiefs fluttered to the field as Jackson chased back 16 yards to the Hamilton 50, got away a short shovel pass to Ron Gaudian, the Ottawa halfback gestured to the left and reached the Hamilton sideyard line.

Thinking the play was being run, Clair pranced out on the field to argue. But the penalty was wiped out. A new one—15 yards was slapped on the Riders because of Clair's jaunt.

CHARGED OUT OF BOUNDS

A few plays later, Archambault, rumbling along, chased Ron Howell into touch. Archambault kept right on going, charging into Howell with enough force to send both of them tumbling over the Hamilton bench. The flutter of excitement quickly died down.

The Riders, picking up 20 first downs to Hamilton's 12, were able to muster few penetrating drives.

The Riders amassed 225 yards along the ground to 198 for the Cats. Passing yardage was 137 to 96 in Hamilton's favor. Jackson and Hal Ledyard, the former doing most of the passing, completed only nine of 29 passes for Ottawa. Faloney tried all but one of Hamilton's passes, completing eight of 16.

Louisiana State Only Unbeaten College Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Louisiana State and California, ragamuffin teams last year, were riding in college football's high society today.

Last year Louisiana State managed a mediocre 5-5 record this year they possess the only undefeated-untied record among major U.S. college teams.

They will be hosts in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans. Their opponent won't be known until next Saturday.

California, which had a miserable 1-9 record in 1957, had been consigned to the scrap heap for 1958. The Bears lost their first two games this season, then they got the hang of the split-T formation which Pete Elliott installed last year and lost only one more game, wrapping up the Pacific Coast conference title with a 16 15 win over Stanford.

California meets Iowa, the Big 10 champ, in the Rose Bowl and once again will be underdogs.

Here is how other major bowls shape up at the moment:

Orange Bowl—Oklahoma (5-1) vs Syracuse (5-1).

Cotton Bowl—Texas Christian (5-1) vs opponent to be chosen, probably Air Force Academy.

The Gator Bowl which ranks practically even with the others, has a wide choice, but probably won't know until the Sugar and Cotton bowls are filled.

Quebec Hockey

The "haves" gained ground at the expense of the have-nots" in the Quebec Hockey League Sunday.

Montreal Royals maintained their three-point margin at the top of the heap by defeating last place Chicoutimi Saguenens 4-2 and second-place Quebec Aces went three points ahead of third-place Trois Rivieres Lions by downing them 2-1.

Industrial Hockey League Results

Hillcrest Wreckers and Sports Centre ranked up high-scoring victories in the Industrial Hockey League over the weekend. Sports Centre hammered Bell Telephone by an 11-4 score while Hillcrest whipped Circle TV 8-5.

Don Goyer and Bert Faulkner each scored three times for Sports Centre while Ken Savary potted a pair. Singletons went to Larry Weeds, Frank Donovan and Bill Storms. LeRoy Morden, Bud Payette and Eric Sheppey denied the twins for Bell Telephone.

Hillcrest rode to victory on three-goal performances by Wayne Fox and Junior Day. Jack Hughes, Bill Vesterfelt and Ron Allkens added one goal apiece. Cam Bukard and Garry Gow each scored twice for Circle while Ross Parks had the other goal.

Referees were Harry Morgan and Tod Hurst.

Bob Boucher Suffers Severe Eye Injury

OTTAWA (CP) — Bob Boucher of the Hull-Ottawa Canadiens, 27 year - old offspring of Ottawa's famed sporting brothers, suffered a severe eye injury Sunday in an OHA Senior "A" Eastern Division game against Whitby Dunlops.

Doctors said it will be two or three days before extent of the injury will be known exactly. There was a hemorrhage in the right eyeball, described as "very serious."

Boucher suffered the injury accidentally from a teammate's stick early in the third period. He finished playing the game although he could not see with the eye.

Bombers Meet Cats for Cup After Victory Over Eskimos

By AL VICKERY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

WINNIPEG (CP) —John Varone, primarily a shooting back and defensive linebacker, took the offensive slack Saturday to help Winnipeg Blue Bombers to a 23-7 victory over Edmonton Eskimos in the third and deciding game of the Western football final.

The victory carried Winnipeg to Vancouver for next Saturday's Grey Cup tilt with Hamilton Tiger-Cats, the winners of the Big Four Football Union playoff. Hamilton won the cup last year, defeating Winnipeg 32-7 in Toronto.

Varone, first-year import fullback from University of Miami, scored only two touchdowns during 18 league games. He doubled his output in the three-game final, scoring two touchdowns in each of the first and third games. Varone's second touchdown in Edmonton 30-7 but lost the second by the same score at home Wednesday night.

Coach Bud Grant, who has taken Bombers to the Grey Cup in his two years as head man after several years as a star Bombers end, said he intends to believe Hamilton can be "any tougher than Edmonton."

MEMORABLE GAME

Varone, who played more than 60 minutes of offence and defence, said the win over Edmonton was one of the biggest thrills he had ever had in football.

Aiding Varone in the scoring on the snow-covered field Saturday were quarterback Jimmy Van Pelt, who kicked two converts, a field goal and two singles, and fullback Charlie Shepard, with three singles.

Shepard, suffering a rib injury, confined his activities to punting. Jackie Parker, used sparingly due to a rib injury, accounted for Eskimos' lone touchdown when he romped for a four-point scrore just after Bombers had built up a 21-0 lead. Parker took a pass from Canadian quarterback Don Getty just over the scrimmage line and outdistanced Winnipeg defenders to the goal line.

TRIBUTE TO QUARTER

Edmonton coach Sam Lolo felt van Pelt's passing won the game for Bombers.

"When we stopped them on first down, van Pelt got them the first down by passing on the next play and that was the ball game. He had lots more time to get the ball away than we did. His protection was excellent."

Van Pelt completed seven of 13 forwards for 93 yards. Halfback Kenny Ploen threw one incomplete but latched on to all three losses his way and picked up 43 yards. Leo Lewis took three more for 39 yards.

Bomber backs marched for 253 yards along the ground, with Varone carrying 24 times for 92 of the total. Rick Potter, filling in at fullback for Shepard, added another 85 on 15 carries and Lewis 43 on nine attempts. Bombers totalled 24 first downs to Eaks' nine.

Eskimos were minus 11 in the rushing department, with Johnny Bright and Normie Kwong held to only 11 and eight yards respectively. Getty hit receivers on 19 of 27 passes for 184 yards, preferring to go to the air in an effort to get back in the game after Winnipeg struck for an early converted touchdown.

Fumbles played a big part. Eskimos lost three of their miscues while Bombers got back only one of their three.

WEST INDIES LEAD

BOMBAY, India (Reuters)—The Cricket Club of India Sunday was 143 runs behind the West Indies with nine wickets in hand at the close of play on the third day of the match here. The West Indies was dismissed for 196 — lowest score of the tour so far—in just under four hours. Replying, Cricket Club of India made 53 for one wicket.

USED CAR FACTS

TO SHOOT ON SIGHT

ORANGVILLE (CP) — Police officers are to use a "tranquillizer gun" in this town's campaign against the spread of rabies. Town council Monday gave chief John Traynor authority to shoot any dog running loose in sight. Chief Traynor said a gun similar to the one used last spring to subdue the sea lion that escaped from a London, Ont., zoo will be used.

The top 20-feet of the mainmast of the royal yacht Britannia had to be cut down to allow the sleek craft to pass under bridges when she brings the Queen and Prince Philip to Canada next summer to open the St. Lawrence seaway. Her other masts had to be hinged too, which proved difficult as they were designed to have the height and shape to properly display the flags, including the personal standard of the Duke of Edinburgh.

In her bright private sitting-room aboard the Britannia, the Queen can relax or work on correspondence and speeches as she crosses the ocean for her third visit to Canada. The Britannia is used frequently by the royal couple and is always kept in spotless condition for their voyages.

British Empire Medal Awarded Brave Rescuer

OTTAWA (CP) — The bravery displayed by a Merrittton, Ont., man in rescuing a United States couple from their blazing automobile last April at the risk of his life has been rewarded by the award of the British Empire Medal.

The Canada Gazette announces award of the medal to MacKenzie Hartounian whose citation says his "prompt and decisive action undoubtedly was the means of saving two lives."

The Gazette's account of the incident:

"On April 5, 1958, an automobile driven by Furman A. McClelland of Niagara Falls, N.Y. collided with a car driven by Nat Goodwin. After striking the Goodwin car, it swerved across the intersection, rolled over and burst into flames.

"Mr. MacKenzie Hartounian who witnessed the accident, ran toward the overturned, burning car to rescue Mr. and Mrs. McClelland who were injured in the collision and unable to help themselves. He shouted for assistance from nearby onlookers but no one was willing to risk his life to assist him.

"Mr. Hartounian pried open the door of the car and dragged Mrs. McClelland to safety. Mr. McClelland was trapped but Mr. Hartounian persisted in his efforts and after several attempts he managed to pull the man to safety.

"Seconds later the car exploded."

2nd Sidney

2nd SIDNEY — Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Curtis, Mrs. Bob, Pearson and Linda were guests of the former's daughter, Mrs. Ted Price, and Mr. Price of Belleville, on Sunday for dinner and the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Dunkley of Mountain View, were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Arden Gilchrist on Friday evening.

Mrs. Hilchie Ketcheson, Mrs. William Vateman, Mrs. Clayton Curtis, Mrs. Vera Sine, Mrs. Don Sandercock and Mrs. Ernest Curtis attended the bazaar, tea and sale at Frankford United Church on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Lesley Hanley of Toronto, spent Tuesday afternoon with her cousin, Mrs. Alva Meyers.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Paro and son of Campbellford, were supper guests of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. Alexander on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. W. Jeffrey and Mr. Alfred Reid had supper with his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Chatten of Hilton on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Curtis are staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sickle for several days with Thelma while her parents are visiting their daughter, Muriel, her husband and family in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Rose and Mr. and Mrs. Blake Hearns of Frankford were recent supper guests of Mrs. Morris Sickle.

Rawdon

RAWDON — The Sunbeam Mission Band of Mount Pleasant-Rawdon United Church convened in the church hall for their October meeting with the leader, Mrs. Harry McAdam, in charge.

There were 21 children and two adult visitors, Mrs. Herbert Smith, Auxiliary president, and Mrs. Percy MacMullen, in attendance.

Jim Summers presided and Pauline Johnson gave her report.

The Mission Band hymn was sung followed by devotions. Brenda Williams read the Bible lesson. The offering was gathered by Larry Jeffs and Glenn Spencer and dedicated by Shirley Potts.

The program, arranged by Kenny Smith, consisted of: a solo by Freddy McAdam, and a vocal duet by Pauline Johnson and Linda Summers.

The leader announced that $41 was realized from the bake sale. She asked the children to bring their mite boxes to the December meeting. She then reviewed the various chapters of Kenya and concluded the last chapter, thus closing the study on Japan.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen introduced the new study book, "Hero Pairs of Shoes," by Mac Ashburn. This book contains stories about Alaska, Toronto, Labrador, Hawaii, United States, Korea, Haiti, Puerto Rico, Trinidad, and Mexico. The object of this study book is that by teaching the children about people of other lands, they will learn to think of them as friends.

Mrs. MacMullen then read the group a chapter from the primary Mission Band book, "Here Comes Dirk," written by Audrey McKim for children 6 to 8 years. It is a warm hearted story of a six-year-old Dutch immigrant.

Mrs. MacMullen also suggested the children have a special project, such as gathering discarded nylons for the Japan Welfare Service. She explained that in Japan they have 21 workshops where 426 widows are employed, while 1,825 women work in their own homes. Damaged nylons can be made into knee-hose, or by re-weaving, they can be fashioned into corsages, flowers, butterflies, stuffed toy animals, yarn and cushions.

She said a widow can earn about $37 from a 10-pound parcel of discarded nylons.

Mrs. MacMullen displayed the Japanese cut-out pictures and the Japanese folder which the children of the two schools had made for her to display at Presbyterial and Sectional rallies. She then thanked the children of the Mission Band for their co-operation.

Penny Smith graciously thanked Mrs. MacMullen for her message.

The service closed with a missionary hymn and prayer.

CRASH DAMAGES

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two families of victims in the 1956 Grand Canyon air collision will get a total of $320,000 damages. The jury verdicts were against Trans World Airlines and United Air Lines, whose planes collided with a loss of 128 lives.

MADOC

Madoc Village Civic Officers All Acclaimed

MADOC (Special) — Acclamations were in order all along the line at Madoc village Friday when the entire council, public utilities member, and school board trustees were returned without a contest.

Reeve Murray Smith will head council another year. He received an acclamation when Tom Burnside, also nominated for the reversalty, withdrew.

Councillors are: Tom Burnside, Kenneth West, Percy Gunn and Walter Armstrong. Dorian Stewart and Percy Derry were nominated but withdrew.

Public utilities members will be Tom Rupert with school board trustees being George Fox, John Bristol and George Devolin.

LAUNCH HUNGER STRIKE

LIMA, Peru (AP)—Eight students are on a hunger strike at San Marcos University. They struck to back a demand for re-opening of the dental school, closed Oct. 1, when teachers turned down a student demand that the student government be allowed to reorganize the faculty.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"Herbert's so proud! He refuses to borrow anything from the neighbors."

WOMAN LAWYER DIES

EDMONTON (CP)—Mrs. Gertrude E. Bury, 81, one of Canada's pioneer lawyers, died in hospital Saturday. One of the first women in Canada to address a jury, she graduated in law from the University of Alberta. She was born in Picton, Ont.

KILLED IN FRONT OF HOME

PORT ARTHUR (CP)—Robert Patrick Fortney, 6, was killed Friday when struck by a car after slighting from a school bus on Highway 17A, directly in front of his home near here. The Grade 1 student was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Fortney.

Scoharie

SCOHARIE — Miss Norma Foster and Mr. Ross Foster were guests at the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Jack May for their son and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. Tom May.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Baxter, Lindley and Jean were recent Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reg Scott, Foxboro. Mrs. Baxter and Jean spent a day with her mother, Mrs. Walter Scott, Foxboro. Regret to report Mrs. Scott fell while working in her flower beds and broke her wrist. All wish her a speedy recovering.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Huff motored to Toronto on Friday and spent the weekend with their daughter, Louise, and other relatives and friends.

The ladies of the Live Wire's Circle were favored with a beautiful bright autumn day for their tea and bazaar at Deer Hall on Wednesday afternoon. The hall was nicely decorated for the capacity crowd of ladies who enjoyed the bountiful lunch so capably served by the waiters. Bazaar items sold quickly and the ladies were well pleased with the success of their efforts.

Misses Norma Foster, Mary Lou Black, Mary Huff and Rebecca Chapman, Mrs. Ralph Stone, Mrs. Harry Foster, Mr. Clarence Calnan and Ross Foster were among those who attended the Junior Farmer Church service at Deroosterville United Church on Sunday evening. At the fireside hour in the hall, Miss Kay Hoenan, provincial president, showed slides of her trip to the British Isles. The Juniors served refreshments afterwards.

A number from here attended the shower for Mr. and Mrs. Tom May (nee Joan Brummell) at the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Jack May on Friday evening. Tom and Joan received many lovely gifts for which they expressed sincere thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kerr, Rhonda and Kathy, spent the dinner hour Sunday with Mr. Harr, Foster and Ross.

Mr. Clarence Calnan is spending a few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. Graydon Calnan, Enniskillen.

GIFTS PRESENTED

This community presented Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lloyd (nee Lorraine Breakenridge) with a beautiful electric frying pan and a pretty milk glass candy dish in honor of their recent marriage.

Mrs. William Lloyd visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Belch, Belleville, on Saturday evening.

The Provincial Hospital Plan and YOU

When does the new Provincial Hospital Plan come into effect?
On January 1, 1959.

Is there an insurance plan designed especially to supplement it?
Yes. Mutual of Omaha has a new Sickness and Accident Plan offering many extra benefits not covered by the Provincial Plan.

What are these extra benefits?
The new plan reimburses you for the cost of private or semi-private room care, over and above the standard or ward costs covered by the Provincial Plan. And most important are the surgical, medical and nursing care benefits included in Mutual's MOST COMPREHENSIVE PLAN.

The new Provincial Hospital Plan will affect nearly all of us. But do you know how it will operate . . . how much it will cost you . . . what benefits you will receive? For the answers to these and many other questions, return the coupon below. We will send you, free of charge, complete details about the Provincial Hospital Plan . . . plus full information on the first insurance plan designed expressly to supplement it.

Write to: B-11/34

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Tuesday, November 25

Aries (March 21 to April 19) — Every opportunity is present to see how you can add materially to your income and abundance by adopting very practical systems. Set up a sensible budget. And if your health is not up to par, see a doctor. Look into recordings of all kinds.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) — A day for thinking of own personal needs. Make sure your appearance is as charming as possible, invest in new clothing or beauty items. P.M. is good time to meet interesting persons and lan the future more wisely.

Gemini (May 2 to June 21) — You have a habit of flitting about from interest to interest, never quite completing any of them. But P.M. is the ideal time to decide exactly what it is you want out of life and to determine to carry through in that direction unswervingly.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — A fine day to contact your most loyal and progressive comrades. Express your desires, hopes and dreams. Listen to their ambitious longings and then unite in cooperating with one another in attaining them. Action.

Leo (July 23 to Aug. 21) — Practical affairs of scope and magnitude should be first in your thoughts and actions today. Impress others with your wonderful capabilities and artistic genius. Fine support and prestige can be yours, which you so richly deserve.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) — Any new systems that have been before been alien to you can be looked into and adopted this day for greater success in the future. Nobody should remain in a rut, and you have it in your power to expand mightily.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Anything connected with finance can be very favorable for you this nice day. See those experts who will give you excellent ideas and map out a fine course to follow in the early future.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Be certain to discuss important matters with most influential associates in friendly fashion. And while you are somewhat spiritualized, it is best to compromise here and there for the very best mutual results.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Dig right into all that work that awaits you until it is finished to entire satisfaction. It is possible to clear the path now for more successful activities in the future. Help fellow workers. Take care of your health, too.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — If attuned properly astrologically, you will arise feeling most happy and full of life. Then you can be appreciative of friends, associates and have a most enjoyable day combining business with pleasure. Be gay.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — It is best to be practical for all affairs today, although your sire most happy in the world of inspiration and art. But it is imperative you think in terms of dollars and cents right now. Do so!

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — Get an early start on making calls, shopping, visiting today. Then a good time to clear your desk of reports, letters, etc. Put important affairs in order. P.M. is then fine for having fun having fun with comrades and cronies.

If your child is born today . . . The splendid child born today will always look into the reason and purpose of anything that he or she is to embark upon, plus demanding that the maximum efficiency and order be present always at all time of activity. Hence, always take time to explain things to your delightful youngster, and the chart is then very fine for successful enterprises of the most interesting and fascinating kind.

Crowe Wrongly In Dismissal Teachers' Report

Claim Professor Was 'Victim of Injustice'

TORONTO (CP)—Dismissal of Prof. Harry S. Crowe from the faculty of Winnipeg's United College is denounced in a report by a two - man committee of the Canadian Association of University Teachers which investigated the incident.

The report says Prof. Crowe is a "victim of injustice" and was dismissed "more than a shred of evidence" by authorities of the United Church which made "grossly improper use of a letter written by the professor to a colleague.

At Winnipeg a statement by the college's board of regents called the report "a highly prejudiced and biased" document with "unsound and incorrect conclusions."

The 76-page report made public Monday night, says Prof. Crowe was wronged and should be invited by the college board of regents to resume teaching at the rank he had when dismissed and at a salary in keeping with his ability and length of service.

WOULD RETURN

Authorities at the college did not comment on this section of the report but Prof. Crowe said at Winnipeg that, if invited, he would return to part of a general rectification involving assurances with regard to academic freedom and academic tenure and academic freedom."

The letter, written by Prof. Crowe from Boston, Ont. where he was on loan to Queen's University, fell first into the hands of Dr. W. H. Lockhart, principal of United College. It was the principal issue of decision by the college regents July 2 to dismiss the professor. The letter was subsequently filed him summarily after an exchange of communications on salary and contract terms.

No details of the letter, described by the principal as a "profoundly disturbing" document, have been made public. Those who have read it say it contains criticisms of faculty members.

Dr. Lockhart's reading of a personal advice addressed to him and later discussing it with the regents was "an invasion of the personal privacy of the report says. It calls the dismissal action "an unjust and unwarranted advocation of the security of academic tenure to which he (Prof. Crowe) has a right."

It describes the handling of the situation by the board and Dr. Lockhart as "tactless and arbitrary."

HANDLED INVESTIGATION

The investigation was carried out by Vernon C. Fowke, professor of economics at the University of Saskatchewan, chairman of the special committee, and Bora Laskin, professor of law at the University of Toronto.

The committee was set up by the CAUT in the midst of the dispute over Prof. Crowe's dismissal which was addressed to W. A. Packer, acting professor of German at United College.

An unidentified person intercepted the letter and remailed it.

FIRE OUT

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The world's worst oil well fire of 1958 well blaze which cost seven lives and millions of dollars, was extinguished Sunday night after more than five weeks' work. The wells were set afire by an explosion Oct. 15 on the Continental Oil Company platform in the Gulf of Mexico about 60 miles south of New Orleans.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synopsis: An intense storm centre moving across the plains states overnight giving near blizzard conditions with winds reaching to 50 mph. The centre is expected to pass north of Lake Superior tonight, spreading snow, heavy at times with considerable blowing and drifting, through a large part of central Ontario. Amounts are expected to range from two to four inches.

Increasing southeasterly winds will bring rain to Southern Ontario, preceded by a period of snow, tonight. Most of the area west of this system is expected to be flood over near Southern Georgian Bay and Southern Ontario Wednesday, causing a sharp drop in temperature later in the day. Blustery northwesterly winds will develop Wednesday.

WINNIPEG (CP)—Prof. Harry S. Crowe says he is pleased with results of an investigation into his dismissal by United College.

The college says conclusions reached in a report on the investigation are "unsound and incorrect."

Prof. Crowe was dismissed last September after a letter he had written to a colleague was received by college principal Dr. W. C. Lockhart.

A committee of the Canadian Association of University Teachers issued a report in Toronto Monday night saying the professor had been a "victim of injustice." It said the college should invite him to return.

In a strongly-worded statement issued two hours after the CAUT report was released the college board of regents gave no hint it would consider rehiring the professor.

WOULD ACCEPT

Prof. Crowe said in an interview that if he were invited to return:

"I would accept as part of a general rectification involving assurances with regard to academic freedom and academic tenure.

"I am very pleased that the CAUT report is so impressive and with such extensive documentation and that it comes to the conclusion it does."

Since his firing Prof. Crowe, 36, has remained in Winnipeg continuing as an instructor at the University of Winnipeg extension officer training corps and lecturing active army and militia units on military history.

The board's statement said: "The board of regents of United College regards the report of the Canadian Association of University Teachers and its committee as a highly prejudiced and biased document. It is impressive in the attitude body which was not in possession of all the facts. The board considers that the conclusions in the report are unsound and incorrect."

CRITICIZES METHOD

The statement criticized the CAUT committee's method of operation and said the committee "heard evidence in the main from persons having a strong bias opposed to Professor Crowe's position."

The committee report did not contain the original letter written by Prof. Crowe which gave rise

Govt. Will Not Implement All Borden Report

CALGARY (CP) — Arthur Smith, Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Calgary South, says the government has no intention of implementing all recommendations of the Borden royal commission's report on energy resources.

Mr. Smith, chairman of the commission's study of conservation on oil and gas, said Monday he consulted with acting Prime Minister Green by telephone over the weekend and reported findings of the talks in the house of commons in mid-afternoon.

"The cabinet made it quite clear to me that many recommendations of the Borden report will meet certainly with opposition the statute books," he said in an interview.

Experts Sift Virtual Mine Field As Blasts Raze Fireworks Plants

RANDOLPH, Mass. (AP)—Demolition experts today sifted cautiously through a virtual mine field left by a nearby blast that reduced two adjacent fireworks factories to rubble.

One man was killed Monday, another man and a woman were critically injured and six others, including four firemen, were treated for burns and glass cuts.

The dead man, a 40-year-employee of the Rockland Fireworks Company, was John Vizdelis, 64, of Boston. In critical condition were Lewis Bernstein, 32, one of the family of nine brothers that owned the firm, and Mrs. Emily

NORTH AMERICA CAN BE DEFENDED SAYS PARTRIDGE

Manned Interceptor Always Required

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (CP) — North America can be defended well enough from air attack to survive and win a war, says Gen. Earle Partridge, commander-in-chief of the North American Air Defence Command.

He made the statement to Canadian reporters Monday as he and his deputy, RCAF Air Marshal C. Roy Slemon, discussed exhaustively the present and future strength of NORAD.

Gen. Partridge and Air Marshal Slemon stressed that the manned interceptor will be required in the air defence system "for as far into the future as we can see."

Air Marshal Slemon said new manned interceptors now are "the escapable requirement" and that the supersonic Arrow jet being developed in Canada will be the highest performance fighter available in North America until the U.S. F-108 is ready in 1960.

VOICES AVRO VIEW

At Toronto, where Avro Aircraft Limited is pressing ahead with the Arrow program although the Canadian government has not yet decided how to buy the plane, Fred Smye, Avro board chairman, Monday dominated the Arrow as the logical air defence choice for the years preceding the ICBM.

"The F-106, the Arrow and the F-108 are modern jets of new planes," he said. "What's more, they complement each other and together they can fill any reasonable order for the Arrow, including the order of NORAD."

Air Marshal Slemon said here Monday he thought the Arrow had a higher performance rating than the F-106. But he added that NORAD does not recommend specific types of planes either to Washington or Ottawa.

At Ottawa there was no immediate defence department comment on the Arrow.

Air Marshal Slemon made it clear that NORAD has not recommended to the Canadian defence department that it maintain interceptors.

MOVING NORTH

Air Marshal Slemon said the air defence of the north is being pushed northward as more radar for the control of interceptors is installed. At present any bombers attacking North America over the top of the regions would be engaged on a line running from Inuvik to Frobisher Bay.

Gen. Partridge said the air defence system is superior to what it was a year ago and that he has a higher degree of confidence in it.

There are some 200,000 personnel in NORAD's 22 fighter squadrons—nine of them RCAF—21 Nike missile batteries, 33 ships and 144 stations of all kinds.

The American Bomarc ground-to-air missile will be introduced into the Canadian air defence system in 1961 and SAGE, the new electronic system, will help control NORAD interceptor operations in the triangle east of the Great Lakes.

Gen. Partridge said NORAD has never had a real scare over Canada. He said he and a briefing officer said there is no record of Russian bombers or missiles crossed the Distant Early Warning line in the Canadian Arctic.

EXPENSIVE CAMPAIGN

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Republican state committee received reported Monday it went $868,000 into the red in financing the campaign of governor-elect Nelson A. Rockefeller and a host of running mates. The Democratic party's state chairman, Michael H. Prendergast, said the Democratic deficit would be "less than $400,000."

Doubt Proposal to Get Armed Convoys Past Red Blockade Of Berlin Can Be Carried Out

BERLIN (AP) — Western experts Monday night studied—many with grave misgivings—proposals to ram armed convoys through any Communist blockade of West Berlin.

Talk of tank-led convoys and armored trains to break through some Western officials in the event of an East German blockade of this isolated city.

It is one proposed answer if—as expected—it goes to the Russians transfer to East Germany control over Western lines of lines to West Berlin.

The West Germans are pushing an alternative plan under study by the United States, Britain and France for accepting East German controls on a non-recognition basis.

I think it is an impossible idea that the Western powers . . . can threaten war with the control of the regime in East Germany," said West Berlin Lord Mayor Willy Brandt in a radio interview Monday.

The West German foreign trade office sources said the get-tough policy is gaining support among Western Allies. That's what the West Germans want.

Some of the "get-tough" thinking supposes that the East Germans and the Russians would back off from armed Allied convoys rather than clash with the West. But the prospect that the Communists might start shooting makes many sluggish.

To understand why, it is only necessary to look at the practical military problems of running a gauntlet past the Red Army lines behind the Iron Curtain. The bulk of supplies for Western garrisons come in on a railroad from West Germany. The military trains usually have a dozen accessory cars pulled into West Berlin from the West German border by Communist engines.

Armored trains would not have much chance of breaking through if the East Germans decided to leave some of freight cars parked on the rails.

Soviet Premier-Foreign Transport Minister Erich Kramer put it bluntly in an article published in the Communist youth newspaper Junge Welt.

East German Communist Boss Ready to Make Berlin Deal

BERLIN (AP) — Walter Ulbricht, the East German Communist boss, today said his regime is ready to negotiate with the Allies about their access to isolated West Berlin.

Ulbricht's declaration bore out the belief of many observers that Communist Russia and its satellites are not to drive the Western Allies from Berlin by force or even by threat into negotiations the Reds could label as recognition of the East German regime.

At the same time Ulbricht asserted that the Allies have no legal right to be in Berlin, that "there is . . . no legal basis for Western troops . . . to be stationed on powers in Berlin."

He said there is no reason to fear that the Communists will blockade the city because, as he put it, there exists the possibility of negotiations.

When the Russians carry out their threat to withdraw from the four - power occupation control of Berlin, the Red regime acts is expected to be a transfer to the East Germans of control over the surface and air routes used by the Allies to supply West Berlin with its daily life.

Ulbricht, first deputy premier of the East German government as well as party first secretary, made his statement in an interview with the London Daily Mail. It was published today by ADN, the official East German news agency.

Ulbricht said he believes the Soviet note about the Berlin question will be delivered to the Western powers some time this week. He gave no concrete clue as to how far the Soviet Union intends to go.

Two Executives Of Gas Company Fined $1,150

TORONTO (CP)—The Northern Ontario Natural Gas Company and two of its executives have been fined a total of $1,150 in costs but the magistrate said Monday "there are no moral guilt findings."

President Ralph K. Farris of Vancouver and Executive Vice-President Charles Spencer Clark of Seattle were charged with trading in shares of the company without first filing a prospectus with the Ontario Securities Commission. They were fined $500 and costs each.

He agreed with defence counsel that the offence was minor, it was no moral wrongdoing and the fines should be small. He added: "In fact, the people who bought stock made a good profit and the commission has the future of the stock might have been different and they might have lost."

INCORPORATED IN 1954

The company was incorporated in May, 1954, with authorized capital of 4,000 shares without par value. On Dec. 31, 1955, the company's balance sheet was split 100 for one, the magistrate said.

Commission regulations require a prospectus to state the officers and directors of a company and their interest, the firm's capital structure, the amount of stock already issued, a list of the shareholders, a balance sheet and other particulars.

When the prospectus was filed the company already had 1,338 shareholders.

Dismissed were two other charges against the two executives, one of them a similar charge against company official Matthew Evans of Toronto.

The dismissed charges dealt with failing to provide sufficient particulars in the prospectus eventually filed.

MOTHER REMANDED

BRANTFORD (CP)—Mrs. Alice Hill, 38, was remanded to Dec. 1 Monday on a charge of murder in connection with the Nov. 17 axe-slaying of two of her six children. The bodies of Nola Hill, 11, and Donald Hill, 9, were found in their home on the nearby Six Nations Indian reservation.

LIVELY BATTLE OVER CYPRUS SHAPES UP IN UN

Outer-Space Debate Results in Deadlock

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) — The United Nations bowed out today from any solid participation in the field of outer space and turned its attention to a simmering issue in the borders of the Middle East.

Conclusion Monday night of the general assembly political committee's space debate—resulting in a Russian-projected committee being named to think the matter over in the next year — cleared the decks for the taking up today the problems involving Cyprus.

The Greek and Turkish delegations here are expected to provide most of the fireworks in the Cyprus debate at the session. The United States has disclaimed any direct interest, and the Soviet Union is expected to sit back and enjoy the fight shaping up.

Adding to the color of this year's Cyprus session at the UN is the presence of the black-bearded, richly-robed patriarch of the Greek Orthodox Church in Cyprus, Archbishop Makarios. This religious leader was exiled by British authorities for several months to a remote island in the Indian Ocean. Later he was invited to come from Greece itself the campaign for absorption of Cyprus.

BRITAIN'S VIEW

The British position is that Cyprus should be granted self-rule under the demands of the Greek Cypriot population. Because about two-fifths of the island's total would leave in jeopardy the Turkish minority, the British delegation here is expected to back a solution somewhere between. The British delegation, apparently keeping in mind the fact that Cyprus is important to the Anglo-NATO base in the Middle East, has asked Britain's UN members to pass a resolution endorsing British attempts to seek solution.

Greece has asked the assembly to "exert moral pressure" to oblige everyone of us (the three interested powers) to discuss this problem within a framework which the United Nations will fix."

Turkey has tabled a motion which asks the assembly merely "to refrain from extending support or encouragement to violence in Cyprus and to urge particular emphasis on radio broadcasts by the Greek Cypriots used by the Greeks to inflame passions on the island.

Underlying the issue is the fact that Britain, Greece and Turkey, the three NATO and North Atlantic Treaty Organization which prizes the island's position, have denied the population jurisdiction.

Any connection with the outer-space issue, the UN has already made it clear, can be put far off position as a result of Russia's stubborn refusal to accept any proposal the general committee now named to study all aspects of the penetration of outer cosmos.

The U.S. motion creating this committee was passed Monday night by a vote of 54 to 9 with 18 abstentions. It provides for eight major meaningless because of the implied Soviet veto in the nine opposing Moscow-like votes.

Suggest Hydro Workers Receive 3 Per Cent More

Union Leaders Consider Report, Strike Possible

TORONTO (CP)—A conciliation board's majority report today recommended a two-year wage contract with wage increases totalling three per cent for 10,000 Ontario Hydro workers.

Union executives, who had earlier indicated the dispute could lead to a strike vote, immediately went into conference, and said a statement would be issued later.

The majority report, signed by chairman Judge W. F. Lane and commission nominee R. V. Hicks, called for a 1½-per cent increase retroactive to April 1 and a similar increase next April.

The minority report by union representative Andrew Andras of Oshawa recommended increases of 3½ per cent in a similar contract.

Under provincial labor law the Ontario Hydro Employees Union, a division of the National Union of Public Service Employees (NUPE), is free to strike seven days after release of the conciliation board report.

RE SHUTDOWN

The commission's assistant general manager of personnel, C. H. Scott, said a strike "wouldn't necessarily" result in a shutdown of the giant public power agency. He said supervisory staff could maintain the province's power supply.

The commission, with 18,500 employees including construction workers and temporary employees, has refused to submit disputes to arbitration as are fire and police departments. Nor has it the option of locking out workers to inhibit strikes by public employees.

The union appeared before the conciliation board on behalf of 4,000 salaried workers, 1,000 operating engineers and linemen, 3,700 maintenance men and 1,000 hundred construction workers.

A 'SNUB IT'

A commission offer of a one-per-cent wage increase was described by union officials as a "snub."

Hugh Lindon, a division of the National Union of Public Service Employees (CLC), represents about 1,000 workers at the 1,000 working-at generators and transformers, 3,700 maintenance men and several hundred construction employees.

They asked for a six-per-cent increase for salaried workers and $1.25 cents an hour for hourly-rated workers. The union says the present rate for a Group 1 tradesman is $2.35 cents an hour.

Hydro officials say the one-per-cent offer coupled with a three-per-cent cost-of-living bonus paid in 1958 is equivalent to 8.52 cents an hour total increase.

Hydro employs about 32 companies showed hydro rates for tradesmen 12 to 15 cents lower than the companies checked.

PLAN CONTEST

OTTAWA (CP) — The biggest model airplane contest in Canada opens Monday. The RCAF announced that the three-month contest will be open to teen-age boys, with 42 major awards to be given for best models of eight RCAF aircraft. Grand prize winner will be flown to Europe as an RCAF Comet for a two-week tour of RCAF squadrons in France and Germany.

Diet-Conscious Canadians Open Up New Markets for Dairy Industry

KITCHENER (CP) — Diet-conscious Canadians are opening new markets for the Canadian dairy industry, E. A. Lewis of Ottawa, president of the Canadian Dairy Council of Canada, said today.

He told the annual meeting of the Associated Milk Foundations that the dairy industry does not believe increased sales of milk and milk products in recent years are not due entirely to a price reduction of two cents a quart.

"We are all aware," he said, "that consumers are becoming increasingly diet-conscious and it could be claimed with considerable justification that the lower fat product is, in fact, opening up new dairy markets and also that it is largely responsible for the decline in the rate of total sales which might otherwise have occurred."

Scientists appeared to be free from agreement on the alleged relationship between excessive dietary cholesterol and coronary ailments. Medical associations had advised against any "radical" changes in our diets until more conclusive evidence, one way or the other, was available.

Mr. Lewis said distributors in the dairy industry were concentrating the sale of fresh milk with a fat content of two per cent to meet competition from other products.

"Results in some markets have been spectacular. In the brief period that the lower fat products have been sold, they have increased to the point where they represent as high as 15 per cent of total sales of fluid milk on certain markets."

LETTER CARRIER STOLE HIS OWN MONEY IN MAILS

WAUSAU, Wis. (AP) — Eighteen months, probation was ordered Monday for a former letter carrier who, by his own admission, took money from the mails.

Judge Patrick Stone ordered the probation for William Lotarski, 35, who has made restitution for thefts totalling about $75.

The judge was told that among the envelopes Lotarski looted were some containing money his wife had mailed to pay household bills.

Cabinet Meets To Decide Rail Rate Question

OTTAWA (CP)—Six days away from the deadline for a crippling rail strike, the cabinet comes to grips today with the question of what to do about it.

It has a day-and-night session with representatives of the railway unions and operators of transport commissioners.

Barring disallowance by the cabinet, it is due to go into effect Dec. 1, which is the date set for a strike or 130,000 railway employees of the major railways.

MAY SETTLE

If it becomes effective that date, the railways are prepared to settle with the 13 unions representing the workers. The unions have agreed to take the basis of a 14-cents-an-hour wage increase recommended by a conciliation report of a federal conciliation board.

The railways asked for a six-per-cent increase for salaried workers and $1.25 cents an hour for hourly-rated workers. The union says the present rate for a Group 1 tradesman is $2.35 cents an hour.

Hydro officials say the one-per-cent offer coupled with a three-per-cent cost-of-living bonus paid in 1958 is equivalent to 8.52 cents an hour total increase.

Hydro employs about 32 companies showed hydro rates for tradesmen 12 to 15 cents lower than the companies checked.

PLAN CONTEST

OTTAWA (CP) — The biggest model airplane contest in Canada opens Monday. The RCAF announced that the three-month contest will be open to teen-age boys, with 42 major awards to be given for best models of eight RCAF aircraft. Grand prize winner will be flown to Europe as an RCAF Comet for a two-week tour of RCAF squadrons in France and Germany.

Sub-Dividers Will Pay all Costs of Services

A by-law calling on sub-dividers to pay all costs of services for building lots, thus protecting the borrowing power of the municipalities by reducing debenture costs for local improvements, was tentatively approved by city council in committee last night.

The recommendation was presented by Alderman Lee Bigby, chairman of the planning committee, who said that the move to have sub-dividers pay costs of services was taken by many municipalities across the province.

"They just had to do it or go broke," he commented.

He said this idea was not to discourage sub-dividers but was more or less a trial measure which could be changed if so desired. The move would have no effect on sub-divisions already approved but would serve to protect the municipality from there in.

The move would call for sub-dividers to pay for sidewalks, sanitary sewers and roadways before selling the lots. Previously these charges have been paid for by local improvements which served to increase the tax bill. Not covered by the by-law would be the cost of storm sewers, street lights, curb cuts, and any other items which are normally paid for out of the general rate.

The by-law would have an escape clause which would allow sub-divisions in special instances to come to city council to have their individual cases reviewed.

He is survived by his wife, the former Gladys Rayfield, two daughters, Mrs. Jean Hinchcliffe, Cadwell, of Belleville, and Mrs. Hobey (Caroline) Holliday of Saskatoon, and one son Ronald of Meaford. There are five grandchildren.

Frequency of Tag Days Causes Long Debate

The frequency of tag days in the city was given consideration by city council last night after a request for two tag days for next year were received.

The requests for tag days next year were from the St. Julien Chapter of the I.O.D.E. and from the Boy Scout Association.

Mayor Gerald Hyde noted there had been complaints about the frequency of tag days in the past, and the nature of the questions asked when canvassers approached local citizens for contributions to the United Appeal.

He said, however, that it was difficult to draw a line as many of the tag days traditional in the city were annual appeals such as the Poppy Fund, the Salvation Army Christmas appeal and the Boy Scout apple day.

No action was taken on the request after it was suggested by Alderman Dr. James Forrester that the matter be deferred until the first of the year and in the meantime council give the matter of tag days considerable thought.

Louis Knack Named President Of H-S Group

TRENTON — Louis Knack was elected president of the Marmora Street Senior School Home and School Association at the monthly meeting held at the school recently.

Mrs. J. Bunting, the retiring president, conducted the installation of officers. Those taking office beside Mr. Knack were: D. Senik, first vice-president; J. Allanson, second vice-president; Mrs. Mario Marchese, recording secretary; Mrs. V. Bigwood, corresponding secretary; Mrs. T. Joicey, treasurer; Mrs. W. McDonald, Mrs. Colin Crews, Mrs. Clifford Miller, Mrs. G. R. Williamson, and Mrs. F. Vessey, executive officers; Mrs. Pope, teachers' representative; Mrs. Ingram, auditor; and convener; Mrs. W. J. Beale, membership convener.

Mr. Knack thanked the members for electing him to office. He also thanked Mr. Bigwood, Senior School Home and School had a big job ahead and he hoped that as many parents as possible would attend the meetings.

Mr. Bunting expressed thanks to the retiring executive, which was seconded by Mr. Henderson.

A. S. Robson, school principal, congratulated the new executive and new members of the association, and said that it would be a pleasure for the teachers to work with them. He then thanked the retiring executive for their excellent work during the past year, and introduced Mrs. Knack and others were present.

Mr. Robson said that the rotary plan was in use in organizing classes for the 302 students at present attending the school. Although the school now had a completely modern gymnasium, new cement work and a new fire alarm system, there was still real need for room for manual training and household science classes.

Members of the Association then followed students in an imaginary day at school with each teacher came forward and explained the methods of instruction they used. Mr. Pope the social studies teacher, gave an interesting talk on the television comprising questions on Prince Edward Island, and the early British and French settlements.

Hazel Bennett, physical instructress, described a typical class for girls in the gymnasium and showed how they developed co-ordination and skills. Mr. Henman, physical instructor, gave a short talk on the training in skills and safety he gives his students.

Mrs. Spencer spoke on music, and gave a preview of some of the interesting adventures in music that her class will be taking this term.

Guidance classes were explained by Mrs. Walker, who said that in these classes the students were encouraged to study their aptitudes, and to learn co-operation and adjustment to others.

Mr. Robson spoke again, envisaging a new school on the west side of the North River which would be needed in the near future to accommodate the ever-growing number of students.

The principal was thanked by Mr. Knack, who said everyone had gotten a great deal from Mr. Robson's interesting talk and also from the teachers' demonstrations.

Skating Sessions Prove Popular

TRENTON — In the six Sunday afternoon public skating sessions for the children there have been 4,840 take advantage of this particular activity. The average per Sunday has been 710. The largest number, 1,030 p.m. until 4.30 p.m., the tiny tots under 8 years use the ice. Parents may accompany the young ones at this time. Any older children who cannot skate or are learning may also take to the ice at this time. From 4.30 p.m. until 5.30 p.m. the children under 16 take their turn.

In the evening the Adults' Skating Club takes over at 8 p.m. for one hour. Admission is free and anyone wishing to join this group is welcome to register on any Sunday evening. The registration fee is only 50 cents. The weekly dues are also 50 cents. No one under 16 is allowed in. This policy has encouraged many young couples as well as middle-aged ones to dust off their blades and come out for two hours of healthy recreation.

Ratepayers Here Candidates for Civic Offices

TRENTON — Some 400 voters turned out last night to hear the candidates in next Monday's civic elections in Trenton at the Ratepayers' meeting held in the Community Centre Hall.

Mrs. J. Bunting, retiring president, conducted the meeting, then clerk-treasurer C. W. Larry told the audience this was the 12th year he has acted as chairman for such a meeting in that 13 years he said there has been many changes.

"Tonight", he said, "I am surprised to see so many turn out for the meeting. I hope it is a sign which means greater interest by the people of Trenton in civic affairs.

"The past 12 years", he continued, "have been a great promise for Trenton, in that time eight new industries have established here. Not only do they pay taxes, have also lost four industries in the same period. But besides the new industries, the biggest thing there are also many new faces in town.

"It is hoped", he said, "that we will have 60 to 70 per cent turnout at the polls next Monday. The greatest number to appear at the polls in the past 12 years has been 51 per cent."

Clerk Larry called on each speaker in turn to address the meeting. The mayor and councillors were then formed the council for 1958 gave a report on their activities and the work of their committees during the past year.

The first speaker of the evening was Mayor Ross Hurst, who is seeking re-election again this year. The other speakers were as follows: (in order of appearance) Councillor Joe Gould; Councillor Charles Hilton; Councillor Vaga Lange; Councillor Jim MacDonald, who will seek election as mayor this year; Councillor Lloyd Worrall, (Councillor Ray Fox was present for the meeting), Howard Aziz, Bill Bellhouse, V. Graham and Lloyd Weese, all seeking seats at the town council table. The Rev. Mr. Farnham, Coun. Ross Burkholder, Bert Atkinson, Robert Barlow, Ronald Bedford, Russell Birkitt, John Lytle, Paul Trapp and Doug Whitley are seeking seats on the school.

Following the speaker Mr. Larry thanked the audience for giving such close attention to what the different candidates had to say and added that he could not recall a meeting in the past years with such interesting reports.

Heating System Ready to Use At Gardens

TRENTON —The long-awaited heating system will officially be put into operation at Trenton Community Gardens this Wednesday night when the Trenton Lions' Club will entertain the "A" champions, the Napanee Comets, come to town. The local Flyers will have their work cut out for them as the visitors are one of the strongest sides to enter into this category.

The heated Gardens should help to increase the attendance at the games. Many area fans will be pleased to hear of the heaters that have been installed and ready for operation.

The intermediates, under new playing coach Lloyd Taylor, have been coming up with impressive showings of late, and with proper vocal support the club could pull the upset of the season with a resounding win over the powerful Napanee squad.

In the visitors' line-up will be no less than seven former senior "A" players, including Prince Lennox Les Douglas, former playing coach of the Kingston Senior "A" club; playing coach Walt Gerow, who has seen action in the American Hockey League, as well as senior circles, Jack White, A. Calhoun, Bob Landry, who have also participated in laster company.

U.E.L. Assoc. Hears Talk by Noted Historian

The Bay of Quinte Branch, United Empire Loyalists' Association had as guest speaker for their meeting in the city last week author-historian, Edwin C. Guillet of Toronto.

Mr. Guillet was born in Cobourg, Ontario where he received the inspiration for preparing himself for a career of bringing to his fellow citizens a greater knowledge and understanding of Canadian history.

Following his university training, during which degrees and honors were acquired, he spent some twenty years in the teaching profession. During this period he found time for extensive research into the early history of Canadian life as the foundation for more than a dozen historical books, most of which have been accepted by Government boards as required reading.

One of his books titled "Early Life in Upper Canada" is a thick volume of 700 pages and several hundred illustrations. It may well be regarded as the best chronicle of our early days and their times that are available to students of today.

In recent years Mr. Guillet has been with the Ontario Government as curator-historian in the department of Public Records and Archives and it was from this experience he based his address upon last Wednesday evening.

For a goodly number of years what is known as Canada Day had now become one of his chief governmental activities was the obtaining of pictures, books, documents and other records for the archives he was serving same for coming generations. Mentioning a few, he referred to the pictures of the homes in the Port Hope district of eleven generals by Bunk Kane of important and outstanding men of early days.

He then referred to what historical societies are doing, citing Niagara-on-the-Lake as having microfilm copies made of discussions and resolutions of the Legislature. These are filed in Toronto, so that in case of a local fire or disaster Gazette records may be reproduced.

Other organizations should dig up local documents, pictures of important events, and so forth for preservation. This information might be adopted by Women's Institutes and other groups.

In the Rice Lake region a number of sketches by members of the Rubidge family or pioneers have been found in private homes. These pictures go back to 1870 times and depict climber slides and illustrate activities now forgotten.

A memorial to the pioneer Hayward family was a Canadian artist of no mean ability. His flowers pictures and miniatures were displayed at Simpson's in connection with an exhibition held in the hundreds of dollars per unit. Last year Mr. Guillet found in a small shop in London, England, two of Hayward's pictures, they were cleaned up were found most beautiful.

Mr. Guillet offered the suggestion that the Bay of Quinte Branch U.E.L. divide up into booths, each member contributing five families in his locality and list the historical documents in their homes, such as sketches, pictures, documents, in fact anything of interest historically.

The guest speaker was introduced by Captain A.C. Rogers of Picton and most suitably thanked by Col. H. C. Burleigh, M.D. of Bath, who said he has for a long time had this kindred interest.

The meeting was presided over by president I.L. Col. William A. Deveren and in addition to members of the Branch was attended by several members of local historical societies.

Killed in Accident

TORONTO (CP) — One man was killed and four others injured in a two-car crash in Maple Township, north of here, Monday.

Dead is Louis W. Hershorn, Toronto dress manufacturer. In hospital at Newmarket are George S. Welch, St. George Murnaut 30, and Evelyn R. McCade, all of Newmarket, and Michael Goodman, 45, of King City, Ont. Hospital officials said they were "progressing satisfactorily."

Police said the collision was mainly attributable to a snow-packed road.

Madoc High School Graduates Advised to Look for Sound Values in Choosing Work

Choice of a life's work which will bring inner satisfaction rather than one which will pay the most money, was the advice give to graduates of the Madoc High School at the annual commencement exercises held Friday evening.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Vernon Ready, Principal of Kingston Collegiate Institute, who compared a high school graduation certificate to the Charter of Freedom He stressed the following points: 1. Freedom to work; 2. Freedom to play, 3. Freedom from ignorance and 4. Freedom from prejudice.

In choosing life's work Mr. Ready advised graduates to look for sound values, to choose work which will bring inner satisfaction and enjoyment rather than a vocation which offers merely the highest pay.

Students should at all times be themselves, he urged.

He need to make good close friends who will share sad times as well as glad times, he emphasized by the speaker. And if trouble and fear of failure come, retreat from another racial group. This aids in breaking down prejudices.

In accepting their graduation Scrolls, Mr. Ready urged that graduates must at the same time accept responsibility.

Valedictorian for the graduating class was John Cram, honor graduate. Mathew Hinkin, Ralph Phillips; Martha Pitts, Pauline Hinkin; Patricia Spry and Bevis Tufts.

The program included numbers by the high school choir, vocal numbers by a male quartet consisting of Darrel Pepper, Bruce Moore, Douglas McGowan and Larry Slickwood.

Also presenting special numbers was the girls' double trio consisting of Brenda Hall, Pat Quinn, Judy Wood, Myra Moorcroft, Donna Post and Evelyn Ash.

Douglas McGowan, president of the students' council, spoke briefly, while the school drum and trumpet band offered selections. Mary Atkinson and Eileen Brownson gave readings.

The graduation class with the class of 1959 acting as hosts to the graduating class, concluded the program.

Members of the Madoc High School staff assisting Principal C. A. Howse, Mrs. D. Hinkin, Miss M. Bateman, Mrs. R. Fleming, Miss M. Fonesca, Mrs. M. Gray, Mr. K. Healey, Mrs. A. Lindburn, Miss G. Raney, Miss J. Smith, Miss L. West and Mrs. J. O'Riordan.

New Font Dedicated At Carrying Place

The Church of St. John, Carrying Place, was filled to overflowing for the dedication and blessing of the memorial font last Sunday. The font has been given in loving memory of a former Rector, The Reverend Arthur Strother, by his widow, Mrs. Eva Strother of Belleville. It is very worthy of the beloved Priest in whose memory it is given, and is exquisitely carved in quarter oak. The design and workmanship were carried out by The Globe Furniture Company of Waterloo, Ontario.

The dedication was performed by the Venerable J. R. Creegan, Archdeacon of Ontario, and Rector of Christ Church.

Mr. Strother was held in high esteem by all members of the community and it was fitting that the congregations of the other Anglican churches in the parish of Ameliasburg were present for the occasion; as also were the members of the Carrying Place United Church.

The service on the morning prayer was conducted by the Rector, the Reverend Geoffrey Rennison, the scripture lessons were read by Mr. S. F. Fuller of the United Church, and the sermon was given by the Archdeacon.

The service was fully choral and the choir under the direction of them "From all that dwell below the skies".

The sacrament of holy baptism was administered by the Archdeacon at the font. There were five candidates who received this sacrament at the new font. The children baptized were Heather Leah Miller, Stephen Douglas Brindlow, Raymond Harvey Jamieson, Susan Gail Jamieson and Kathryn Lynn Jamieson.

Garbage Collection in Annexed Area Discussed by Council

Annexed Area Residents to Vote in City

The annexation to the city of Belleville of suburban areas in Sidney and Thurlow townships, as apparently put many residents in the annexed area in a quandary as to whether they will be rural or urban voters in the forthcoming municipal elections.

Just to put the matter straight, residents in the annexed area will vote the city of Belleville sections with ratepayers eligible to vote for both council and school trustees.

Alderman Effie McCabe at the 2315 city council meeting noted that many residents in the annexed area were not aware that they would be voting in the city elections.

As result of annexation approximately 3,500 names in the annexed area were added to the voters' lists.

Thurlow Twp. House Damaged, Loss Is $2,500

Believed to have been caused by overheated stove pipes, fire in a shingle roof caused approximately $2,500 loss at the farm home of Norman Martin, 40th concession Thurlow township.

Neighbors carried most of the household furniture to safety while Belleville firemen were able to bring the fire under control within an hour of being called to the scene.

The fire is thought to have started upstairs in the unused brick farm home. Firemen quelled the blaze to the upstairs and to the attic and were successful in preventing the blaze going out through the roof. Water for fighting the blaze was obtained from a nearby creek.

STEEL NEGOTIATIONS

NEW DELHI (AP)—India is negotiating with the Soviet Union to buy 215,000 tons of steel at an estimated price equivalent to $21,000,000, the minister for steel told Parliament today. Payment would be in rupees and the Soviet Union would buy Indian products with them, he said.

Collection of garbage in the annexed area commencing January 1st when the suburban areas of Sidney and Thurlow township will become part of the city, was the big topic of discussion at the city night committee meeting of council.

The garbage collection contract is held by Mr. Morley Smith, who back in 1953 was awarded the five-year contract running until the end of 1959.

Terms of the agreement with Mr. Smith to collect garbage in the annexed area, without additional cost to the city.

The crux of the matter, however, is that at the time of writing the contract there was little thought either on the part of the city or Mr. Smith that the annexation program would be as extensive as to take in an additional 6,000 persons in the suburban area.

Should Mr. Smith said be appreciated the terms of his contract he nevertheless would appreciate being compensated in the event of new collection of garbage next year in the annexed area.

Mayor Gerald Hyde said it was up to council to decide whether it should "get tough" with Mr. Smith or whether it could be lenient and assist him in some way. He agreed with Mr. Smith that at the time of writing the garbage collection contract there was no thought that the annexation program would be as ambitious as it turned out to be.

Mr. Smith estimated that the minimum operational expense for collection of garbage in the annexed area for the next year would be around $17,000.

General feeling of council was that the matter should not be decided by the 1958 council and that garbage collection should come up for review early in the new year.

ANCIENT LAND

Iran, long known as Persia, is called the "land of the Persians and Medes" in the Bible.

Nurses' aid, Miss I. Gilchrist, makes preparations for taking Beeby's first donation to the Red Cross blood bank. Anxiously watching are son Graham, who has donated six times, and husband Fred, who has contributed ten pints. During yesterday's donor clinic 211 pints were received for the regional blood bank in Toronto.

Inaugural Blood Donor Clinic Under New Plan Held in City

Last night and yesterday after- noon marked the inaugural Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic in Belleville under a new plan which is coming into effect across Ontario by early next year. Under this new plan the province is divided into several different territories with London, Hamilton, Toronto and Ottawa serving as blood bank centres for these areas. Instead of local units donating blood to the local Red Cross society, as in the past, this plan all blood will be collected by a special blood donor unit, which will travel from point to municipality to another collecting the blood. Contributions are then forwarded to the blood bank centre for that area. The zone hospitals then receive a monthly shipment from the central bank according to their varying needs. This allows the central bank to absorb fluctuations of light and heavy demand by area hospitals.

Each municipality is asked to fill an annual levy or quota which is set according to the particular community's requirements over the previous year. In Belleville the annual quota is estimated at 1,500 pints. This is expected to be collected during four or five blood donor clinics throughout the year. These will probably be one-day affairs since the new travelling unit is capable of collecting sixty pints an hour as compared to thirty-five every two-hours under the old local unit method. The Red Cross travelling unit presently consists of a registered nurse in charge, Miss C. E. Ellis of Toronto, six nurses' aids, one technician, and three drivers. These people were assisted yesterday evening by many local people from the St. John Ambulance Society and the Scouts Ladies, the Court Rangers both chapters of the IODE and the local Red Cross society.

Many Belleville people attended the affairs and numerous many of them are regular contributors and some of them were new to the operation, such as Mrs. Fred Beeby, of Ritchie Street, who attended with her husband and eldest son, Graham, both of whom are regular donors. Fine and efficient help is given by the nurses in accordance with the number of times a donor has contributed. The highest recorded list night was a thirty-seventh contribution and the highest recorded recorded number of pints donated by a local person remains at eighty.

Many local firms, who were canvassed by Rod Cameron, chairman of the donor clinic committee, gave close to one hundred per cent participation including three first Rigga Motor Sales, W. Trimmle Machine, and Morton's Body Shop of Belleville, who have 100 per cent of their eligible employees donating. Despite an excellent turnout from present donors the local clinic requires more donors. Blood is one item which cannot be synthetically reproduced nor adequately substitutes for. It has to come from human beings and the local Red Cross blood unit will be looking for more of them to turn out at the next donor clinic this coming February.

The clinic held in the Kiwanis Club rooms under the local leadership of Mrs. A. H. Ketcheson, clinic director of the Belleville Red Cross Society, assisted by Mrs. W. E. Lewis.

Tatham Company Gets Contract For New Library

The Tatham Company Ltd. of Belleville will be awarded the contract for the construction of the new addition to the Corby Public Library, it was announced today by Mr. Linton Reed, Library Board chairman.

The Tatham tender at $100,750 was the lowest of nine bids received.

Council approval of an expenditure of $100,000 has been given the library board, and to have the cost of the new addition come closer to this figure an amount of $3,000 for landscaping and walks in front ure has been taken out. To the resulting figure of $97,750 will be added the architects' fees, bringing the total to $103,215.

The library has a capital reserve fund of $2,000 which will be used to reduce the overall amount, leaving $1,215 still to be raised to bring the amount to within the debenture figure. This amount will be made up in the 1959 budget from the city.

Today Mr. Reed said he was confident the new library work would commence on construction by the end of May. The contractor sets the completion date 125 days after commencement of work.

"We're hoping to have the building completed by next June," Mr. Reed said.

Arthur Duncan Will Give Talk to IAPA

The Belleville-Trenton section of the Industrial Accident Prevention Associations will hold an industrial safety meeting quet Thursday evening in the Club Canara. Guests and members will represent industrial organizations of the entire central Ontario area. Guest speaker for the event will be Arthur Duncan, public relations officer of the Bata Shoe Company, Mr. Sam Colterjohn, section chairman of the association, will preside and a widespread committee is assisting in arrangements.

Those assisting in the organization of the function include vice-chairman Fred Bridge of the Stewart-Warner Company; Howard Hannon International Harvester Co.; J. Hamback, personnel manager of the Lake Ontario Portland Cement Co., Picton; Ronald Durward, manager of the Canada Wire Company, Picton; E. Wickerson of the Mead Johnson Co.; R. Harden, Bakelite Company; G. W. Paget, Deloro-Stellite Ltd.; B. Ward and Williams and Wilkins, Trenton and Mr. Harold Flow of Cobourg divisional secretary of the organization.

Arthur Duncan, well several years ago worked on the reporting staff of The Ontario Intelligencer, is well known in district sports circles. He lived for a number of years in Stirling and for the past 18 months has been at Batawa, where he is public relations officer for the Bata Shoe Company.

May Put New Electric Works In City Clock

The possibility of new electric works being installed in the city hall clock to get the 80 - year old timekeeper back in operation is being investigated by city manager Drury Denyes.

The passage of time has put the old clock out of commission to the extent that costly repairs are needed to get it back into operation. In fact, following an inspection by an E. B. Wood, it was recommended that new electric works be installed.

However, last night at council several aldermen were of the opinion that city hall caretaker George Crocker could get the old clock in operation.

"He has repaired it before and he can do it again," was the comment of Alderman C.D. Tice.

IT MAY SNOW "TWICE AS GOOD"

"Isn't it snowy, Tommy!"

"Yes. I hope it snows twice as good this tonight."

It was Monday. Slush was oozing past the seams of shoes unprotected by rubbers, which were hiding in some dark corner where they had hibernated during the summer. Snow not yet turned to slush was gliding down with the unerring accuracy of a guided missile, aiming for that opening between shirt front and coat collar which should have been protected by a scarf, but was not.

But there was a certain glow to the day and it was generated by that glad cry, "Isn't it snowy, Tommy!" With an exclamation mark. Definitely no question mark about the reply, either. "I hope it snows twice as good as this tonight." How many of us can say as much in such a short ten-word sentence? Look at what it tells us. That the snow is welcome. That more snow would be even more welcome. And that there is a good chance that more snow will be forthcoming.

How many of us, Sunday morning, were able to greet that first snowfall of the year in this glad fashion? How long since most of us felt our hearts leap at the coming of winter? Where did we lose this glad acceptance of change, this zest for new experiences? For there was a day, surely, when all of us hoped that it would snow "twice as good" by night.

Spring, they say, is for lovers, for the young in heart. It just isn't so. All of us know how to welcome spring. But only the young can greet winter with equal enthusiasm. Oh, to be sure, there are some who are older who welcome the snow for certain specific reasons, because it will provide good sliding, or because it brings a promise of a sheltering blanket for fall-planted wheat, or because it will make profitable an investment in snow plowing equipment, or because it will provide a proper setting for the arrival of Santa Claus and thereby give impetus to Christmas shoppers. But how many of us can really say that on the first damp, cold, sloppy winter morning our visions of crisp, sunshine-filled days to come are strong enough to overcome our present feeling of discomfort?

For too many of us the days when it may snow "twice as good tonight" are past.

NOTHING TO DO?

It is amazing how many people can wander about in their own little rut in life without being aware of what is going on around them. They will do a day's work, then go home, have supper, and complain that there is nothing to do. One finds this complaint quite common with people in larger cities and especially with people who have moved from larger municipalities to smaller ones. The strange thing about this situation is that there actually are quite a lot of things happening about them but they just do not perceive or appreciate these seemingly insignificant occurrences.

Other people, no matter what happens, large or small, can readily find something to be interested and delight their intellect. This becomes most evident in their interest in the more commonplace incidents in life. They can find something wonderful in the mere chirping of a cricket or the patter of raindrops on a windowpane.

This extraordinarily keen perception, however, is not something with which a person is born, psychologists and geneaologists are fairly sure of this, but is developed by a person as he grows up. The more congenial is his environment to the appreciation of the things, people, and life around him, the more he grows to appreciate them. Then, too, a person can always grow into a greater awareness of those about him simply by making it a point to be interested in and observant of, the world about him.

As some song lyricist once wrote "the best things in life are free." It is up to the individual to find them, however.

GIVE AWAY SAVINGS

According to the Royal Bank Magazine some banks in Florida are trying to stimulate savings by "give-aways." One bank offers a nylon umbrella to anyone opening an account for $100 or more. Another offers a set of highball glasses, still another, an illuminated clock. It might be observed that some trust and savings companies in Canada and the U.S. are following a similar practice.

Of much more value to the saver than a merchandise gift would be an ironclad guarantee that the rate of inflation would not gnaw away the value of his savings. (Edmonton Journal.)

ON LOSING A GAME

By EDGAR A. GUEST

Though man should always play
To win,
When he is forced to choose
That game he should not enter
In
Which he can't bravely lose.

For he who ventures for a gain,
Whatever be the stake,
Must sometimes find his skill
In vain
And failure's losses take.

So throw the dice or pitch the card
Or run the speedy mile,
And then if failure bumps you hard
Just take it with a smile.

For poor the man, whate'er his name,
Who all is said and done,
Who cannot play a losing game
And still enjoy the fun.

HISTORIC BELLEVILLE

(Article 56 contributed by the Hastings County Historical Society.)

THANK YOU!

Last Wednesday evening, local residents had the privilege of hearing one of Ontario's foremost historians, Mr. E. C. Guillet.

The author of numerous historical books, among them the history of Toronto, 1793-1943" and "The Valley of the Trent", Mr. Guillet is currently a research historian in the Ontario Dept. of Public Records and Archives. It is his job to tour the province in search of early paintings, sketches etc., that illustrate the province's history.

In the past year, he has uncovered a great many very interesting articles, which will be of interest to all those who are interested in Canadian material still at large as there was presently contained in all of the Province's archives.

The truth of this statement has been borne out by the experiences of the Hastings County Historical Society.

In recent months, the Society's collection has grown by leaps and bounds, and rapidly, thanks to the kind donations of numerous members and friends.

Of special interest was a collection of documents the Society ten days ago by Mrs. Jack Sargent of R. R. 5, Belleville. This collection included land deeds, voters lists, accounts and correspondence dating back to 1822. Most important, it contained two percy early "Intelligencers", one of 1837, and the other of 1838. Since the contents of these papers will be discussed in future articles, it will suffice for the moment to say that they are extremely significant, being the earliest local papers known to the Society.

A second very significant donation was made by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wallbridge family through County Registar W. W. Hurst. Philip Edmund Wallbridge saved early photographs and stereoptican slides of Belleville, dating back to about 1857.

Other generous gifts of books, pictures, and papers have been received from the following: Mrs. James Beaumont, (Miss Edward County), Mrs. F. Bell, Mrs. Ada Bonnett, Mrs. George Elliot, Miss J. Tickell, Miss A. Bayburn (Tweed), Mrs P. W. Wallbridge, Mr. Tom Denyes, Mr. Elmer LaBarr, Capt. G. A. Lochead, Mr. A. Nightingale, Mr. T. Bannan, Mrs. Cameron Wallbridge, Mr. T. G. Wrightmeyer and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Scott.

Articles for the proposed museum have been donated by Mrs. James Beaumont, Mrs. F. H. Bedell, Mrs. A. Matthews, Mrs. P. W. Wallbridge, Mr. T. Bannan, and Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Pigden.

Need a World Language

By Alfred Fabke in the Milwaukee Journal.

Establishment of a common language for the entire world has been the dream of centuries, but so far all efforts have failed.

Now comes Prof. Mario Pei of Columbia university with a proposal to achieve a world language by compulsory government action.

Something drastic must be done, he says, because the confusion of tongues is getting worse. The congress of Vienna in 1815 had no language problem, everybody spoke French. The old languages are still with us, also two — English and French. But the UN has 5 more, plus the languages — English, French, Spanish, Russian and Chinese — and the number of working records is still a backlog from 1946-49.

English speaking people should not flatter themselves that the peaceful penetration of English throughout the world is continuing. On the contrary, says Prof. Pei, in his new book, "One Language for the World" (Devin-Adair), English is losing ground. Russia "forces the replacement of English teachers with those of Russian in the satellites states." Asia has awakened. "Ceylon made English an official language in favor of Singhale and Tamil, India chooses it with two Urdu and Bengali; India not only drops English road names out of Hindustani, but also finds in the secondary schools, and this despite the fact that Nehru advocates the continuation of the English language tradition for practical use."

In the growing linguistic welter, mankind speaks 2,796 "natural" tongues. In addition there are 700 "artificial" (about 600 artificial or "constructed" languages, such as Esperanto, Ido, etc., which at one time aimed to become world languages but which are now forgotten) and represent the most active propaganda for constructed languages are for Esperanto and Interlingu, according to Dr. Pei.

Which of the many contenders shall be chosen as the future world-wide medium? A second language which growing generations "must" learn in addition to their respective mother tongues? Pei professes to be neutral. It is his idea that it does not matter too much what language is chosen. The point is that it must be chosen by common consent of all nations, and that then it must be made compulsory, in all schools from kindergarten up.

How to common consent to be obtained? "The first step would be a proposal by one of the governments for the setting up of a linguistic commission to select the language to be used to serve the world, and an advance guarantee by the other governments to abide by the decision of the commission."

Pei forsees that the leading candidates are English and Russian, may be deadlocked, so that there is a good chance for a dark horse minor language. Why not Esthonian or Portuguese? Whatever is picked what language or dialect will emerge in the "world" tongue? Pei thinks that the eighth or ninth ballot should tell the story. But "international" or "constructed" languages also will present their claims. Latin has its places for basic English and perhaps even for "pidgin" English and Haitian French.

Prof Pei is optimistic: "If the world language can be put into operation by, say, 1965, it will be spoken in the year 2000 by the majority of the population of the entire globe . . . The international language will then begin to strict the use of the national tongues. Writers will prefer the new language to their own, as access to world markets without the use of difficult and expensive translations. Advertisers will prefer it for the same reason."

Will the national languages eventually die out? Prof Pei says that they seem to be doomed, though they may linger for a long time. Latin, Greek and Gaelic can hardly be made to talk, despite difficult and persistent compulsion. "Let today's adults do what they want."

There may have been wolves in Hastings County this reason, but so far only one hunter has brought in a pelt to claim the bounty.

For the first time in over a decade two brothers will sit in the sessions of the county council when it opens the December session on December 5th. They are Joseph David of Monteagle and Herschel and reeve William Davis of Tudor, Wicklow and Methuen township. The former was appointed reeve of Monteagle and Herschel townships following the resignation of reeve James A. Anderson in order to assume the duties of treasurer of the municipality. Not since the days when the late Henry Denyes was president in succession of clerks have two brothers sat in council. At that time the brothers by the name of Nicholson were members; they represented both political parties and they contributed much life to the sessions of council at that time.

Misplaced Tolerance

Cluery Abertson

A Calgarian has been convicted twice last year of impaired driving. He was fined both times. Each time he appealed.

While his licence was still under suspension he was convicted third time of impaired driving, and sentenced to gaol. He is unsafe premises and in large department stores, theatres and other crowded buildings in which city by-laws forbid smoking.

So I asked the editor of it here why and wherefore of this restriction, since so many of the customers strolling and lounging around the picture gallery appeared to be the sort of arty people who were just busting for a smoke.

"Well," he said, "in the first place, I don't want a haze of smoke to obscure the pictures. Second, I don't want people to throw cigarette ends on the floors and rugs, not to mention ashes and even a few cigar stubs. I would have to employ a cleaning staff to keep going over the place constantly; just to keep it presentable.

"And third and last me, among those interested in art are a lot of gabby people who would gather in here in a mob of each. But if they can't smoke, they don't hang around. The people with enough money to buy good paintings don't waste time gabbing and posturing. They come in, look, buy, and walk out. as, you might say, between smokes."

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

LEARNING FROM THE HUMBLE

The great of this earth are not fastened to pedestals, put on ornaments and made conspicuous in many a public way. We can leave that to the "high and mighty" and to the example of warriors. We pass the genuine great on our walk to the work of the day. Who is to know their destiny or identity?

The humble in this life are not proud. They have no desire to exact anything from another that already belongs to that one. The low and humble often put us to shame because of their fine example of unselfishness and goodness of character. They are the ones who do the largest percentage of the work of the world.

We can learn from these contemporary and potential friends of ours, who pass us silently on the street, in buildings and on trains and buses. It is not difficult to imagine many of these people as among the potential great. Here and now, the way it works is that if there are enough conscientious workers who take a promising item, that writer may become famous, but entering greatness is another matter!

The great books teem with the humble. Many of these go to their graves, however, unheralded and unknown. Some of the heroes of literature are those of humble origin, but nevertheless true to the type. As in life a great character never dies. There is some humble spot in every piece that makes it chosen for immortality! And that is not matter what the masterpiece may be — a book, a painting, or perhaps in the humble poet, T. L. E. Keats, Robert Frost, or Poe.

We can learn more and more from the humble, for they live a more natural life, and often the more inspiring. Greatness is more than an "item."

Strength for The Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

TRY IT

The word "sympathy" means "the capacity to suffer with another."

When we sympathize with a person, we enter in some measure, at least, into his suffering. We identify ourselves with him and his troubles.

Jesus was, of course, the most sympathetic person that ever walked, and He was this just because He was able completely to put Himself in another person's place. When He met a leper, He Himself became a leper When He met the blind, He was as the blind man. He took the sin of the whole human race upon Himself, but long before that, on hundreds of occasions He was identifying Himself with the sinner. Even though He Himself was sinless, grow.

To Your Good Health

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

RHEUMATIC FEVER VICTIM SHOULD AVOID A RECURRENCE

Today's letter upset me a bit, Um frank to admit.

"Dear Doctor: Could you write an encouraging word for people whose hearts are badly damaged by rheumatic fever? I am 46. A surgeon after my condition would not respond to an operation. My family doctor, who has known me for 16 ears, says I constantly answer for my endurance. She didn't know I was going to this surgeon. J. E.S."

The damage from rheumatic fever is not like the damage from a coronary occlusion or "heart attack." With rheumatic fever one (or sometimes several) of the heart valves is damaged.

With a "heart attack," an artery leading to the heart muscle becomes clogged (occluded) and the muscle suffers.

Thus they are quite different problems even. A pump may become damaged, or the engine that runs the pump may be damaged. The heart muscle is the engine that runs the pump."

Today we'll limit our discussion to the rheumatic fever damaged pump. Rheumatic fever is a nasty disease because it often (but by no means always may not) recognize the illness when it first strikes. It's afterward that the damage occurs. A heart valve becomes inflamed as the inflammation of tissues, scar tissue forms, and interferes with the valves' proper function. If there are further attacks of rheumatic fever, each one may cause more damage.

So, for anyone who has had rheumatic fever, the only answer is that there are special precautions against a recurrence. In the last few years we have learned to give medication about once a month in ward of rheumatic fever. I thank God for our ability to do that.

Penicillin is almost the person in the 40's, with the damaged valves! Sometimes surgery can help the valves' improvements not. But with or without surgery, you can do things that help.

THERE ARE TWO ALTERNATIVES

Medication

Medication is only one of the two alternatives. The other is learning how to conserve one's energy — or rather, how to become very efficient with the minimum of exertion gets a maximum amount accomplished.

The American Heart Association sponsors excellent courses in conserving with defective hearts. In some cases university may give a short course (three or four one-day classes) showing how a lot of things can be done in inexpensive tricks or household gadgets can reduce the amount of strain on the heart by as much as where from 50 to perhaps 60 or 80 per cent. Putting shelves at the right height, rearranging the kitchen, learning to do the "easy way" — these things save steps, save reaching, save stooping, and save the heart!

I myself have known cases in which just taking such a course has been the difference between a woman who was an invalid most of the time, or a women who could take care of her house by using her head and saving her heart.

It sounds too simple to be significant. However, the results are tremendous and all out of proportion to the small effort it seems simplicity of the idea. I urge Mrs. E.S., and all like her who have damaged hearts, to look up the American Heart Association in the phone book (some places maybe it will be listed under the name of the state heart association) and find out about these classes. They do more good for the price (ranging from no cost, to possibly $25 to $100 for new household equipment) than anything else I can think of.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can diabetes be caused by epilepsy? L.M.E."

No. Diabetes may be aggravated by a inflammation of the brain, or hidden, case may be precipitated by it, but not caused by it.

Note to M.D.S.: Hodgkins Disease is not contagious, and we have no reason to think, either, that it could be caused or be affected by the father's condition. Some treatments related to the disease but we do not yet have a cure.

Mayor Played No Favorites

Isaac Hunter in the Montreal Gazette

His Worship The Mayor Paul Leveque of Cap de Madeleine, a pleasant village on the road to Shawinigan and not far from the latter town, is the man of the hour in my book.

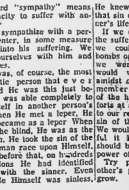
And I think every right-thinking citizen, angler or not, will be with me in praising the prized of Mr. Leveque when they learn the facts. For, in his capacity as magistrate, Mayor Leveque had a case before him where a man charged with jack-lighting deer, he fined the sportsman $100 and ordered the confiscation of the violator's rifle.

When the accused declared he had no money to pay the fine, his magistrate declared he did have the money and he would pay his fine or go to prison. What's so extraordinary about all this? Well, you see, the accused was Claude Levesque, the mayor's 21-year-old son.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

At an exhibition of paintings in an art dealer's gallery yesterday, I was surprised to see "No Smoking" signs posted here and there, sternly displayed all over the premises. Now, in the name of good sense, why should anyone be prevented by almost every kind of commercial enterprise you can think of, even in unsafe premises and in large department stores, theatres and other crowded buildings in which city by-laws forbid smoking.



So I asked the editor of it here why and wherefore of this restriction, since so many of the customers strolling and lounging around the picture gallery appeared to be the sort of arty people who were just busting for a smoke.

"Well," he said, "in the first place, I don't want a haze of smoke to obscure the pictures. Second, I don't want people to throw cigarette ends on the floors and rugs, not to mention ashes and even a few cigar stubs. I would have to employ a cleaning staff to keep going over the place constantly; just to keep it presentable.

"And third and last me, among those interested in art are a lot of gabby people who would gather in here in a mob of each. But if they can't smoke, they don't hang around. The people with enough money to buy good paintings don't waste time gabbing and posturing. They come in, look, buy, and walk out. as, you might say, between smokes."

Kiwanis Club Members Hold Ladies' Night

The Belleville Kiwanis Club members honored their "better halves" last night when the annual president's banquet and ladies' night was held at the Club Canara.

It was E'gals affair, with the ladies, in their prettiest finery, holding the spotlight. They were wined, dined, feasted, entertained and presented with gifts, during what may be considered one of the highlights of the Kiwanis Year.

Special guests on hand for the festive occasion were Lieutenant-Gov. of Division 6A, Bill Carey and Mrs. Carey of Fort Hope; Lt.-Governor elect, Charad Smillie and Mrs. Smillie of Kingston; and representatives of out-of-town Kiwanis Clubs and other service clubs in the city. Close to 130 people were in attendance to enjoy the turkey dinner, special entertainment, and good fellowship.

The festivities got underway around 7:30 when the head table guests, who included the Lt.-Governor and Lt.-Governor-elect and their wives, and members of the 1958 and 1959 executives, were "piped" in by piper John Haggerty.

The invocation was given by Padre Alf McDonnell and the head table and special guests were introduced by president-elect Gerry Wishart. Following the dinner a sing-song of old favorites was led by Joe Mackay, with Mrs. Grace Calvert as pianist.

A toast to the ladies was proposed by Bob Freestone, after which the the men serenaded their "lady fair" with "Let Me Call You Sweetheart".

Mrs. Lydia Tripp, wife of vice-president-elect George Tripp, gave the toast response.

LT.-GOVERNOR SPEAKS

A brief address was given by Lt.-Gov. Bill Carey, who expressed his appreciation for the support given him during his year of office, and voiced the hope the same support would be given Lt.-Gov.-elect Charlie Smillie.

"It's been one of the best years of my life", he stated. The Lt.-Governor also brought greetings from Governor Ken Hibbard.

Presentations were then made. Mrs. Charles Lusk, wife of the president, was presented with a gift on behalf of the club for "being a wonderful club secretary all year." Presentation was made by secretary Will Mills.

Mrs. Lusk expressed her appreciation for the gift and said she hoped the next "president's lady" will have as rewarding a year as she has had.

The second presentation was made by treasurer Hal Floyd to Mrs. Erma Reid, president of the Kiwanis Ladies' Auxiliary.

TELLS OF AUXILIARY WORK

In her response Mrs. Reid expressed her thanks for the cooperation she had received during her term of office. She then gave a brief resume of the Auxiliary activities, which included sponsoring the Keyette Club, and dressing dolls for Eric Cooper's Toy Project. She reported a total of $952.95 was raised this year by the 74-member auxiliary. Mrs. Reid then introduced the president-elect, Laura, Ryde, and those of the director's present.

A special presentation on behalf of the Inter-Service Club Council was made by Rotarian Ernie Garrett to Kiwanian Mark Vanner. Mr. Vanner serves as secretary for the council from 1954 until last spring.

Entertainment, arranged by director Don Rose, was then presented by seven talented young people. The program consisted of trombone solos by John Tooth, accompanied by Mrs. Calvert on the piano; vocal solo by Rita Vincent, a vocal duet by the Allen sisters, Sylvia and Patricia, and a vocal duet by Sheila and Barbara Tusky, with piano accompaniment.

Special entertainment was provided by John Foley, the "Charlie Chaplin of Magic," who kept the audience amused and amazed by his feats of sleight of hand. John, a senior student at the Ontario School for the Deaf, was introduced by Don Kennedy. He was given a standing ovation at the conclusion of his "act."

Those who assisted the young magician were Bill Gaudaur, Bob Freestone, Hal Floyd, Mrs. Erma Reid, Mrs. Charles Lusk and Mrs. Charles Smillie.

PRESENTS REPORT

Highlight of the banquet was the report presented by Charles Lusk.

In his address, Mr. Lusk gave a resume of the club's accomplishments during the past year, plishments during the past year, theme of "dedicated community service." Among them was the inauguration of the Elmer Safety campaign in all local elementary schools.

He noted an outcome of the club's efforts was the Police Commission's decision to secure a traffic safety officer to coordinate city traffic safety.

President Lusk also noted the club's activities in supporting Eric Cooper's annual Toy Project, and in assisting with local welfare cases in conjunction with the Salvation Army. He reported a committee is now studying what further assistance the club can give the Home for Retarded Children at Plainfield.

He reported a total of $3,000 had been raised for club projects this year. A net profit of approximately $2,400 was realized from the Kiwanis Travelogue Series.

PRAISES CHAIRMEN

Pr sident Lusk paid tribute to all the committee chairmen who "have done such an excellent job all year," and presented roses to the following: Gord Harland, Reis McGibbon, Ralph Graham, Don Brindle, Bill Slade, Staff McKenna, Merk Vanner, Will Mills, and Hal Floyd.

"It has been an honor and a privilege to serve as president during the club's 25th anniversary year," he stated. "Any success we've had is due to you fine members."

In closing, he urged local Kiwanians to continue to support their club "to the full extent of their ability," its new president, Gerry Wishart and the 1959 executive.

Remember the Kiwanis motto is 'We Build,' not they build," he concluded.

President Lusk was then given a standing ovation, and the meeting was adjourned.

Gifts to the ladies were distributed by directors Bob Brain, Roy Dulmage, Bill Slade, Don Stanton, Don Templeman, and George Tripp.

Dancing to the music of Charles Kammer orchestra, concluded the evening.

STONE HONORED

THE HAGUE (AP)—Departing Canadian ambassador Thomas A. Stone, dean of the diplomatic corps in The Netherlands capital, was presented today with a silver cigaret box by the chiefs of other missions.

Belleville Branch of St. John Ambulance Committee: Front row: Mrs. C. D. Ashley, Cadets; Dr. J. S. Stock, chairman; Mrs. B. Haynes, nursing. Back row: William James, secretary; Dr. K. M. Douglas, vice-chairman; William Turner, public relations officer. Mr. George L. Tripp, treasurer, absent. Charter of Branch held by the chairman.

St. John Ambulance Committee Receives Charter to Operate Branch

The first meeting of the local committee for the Belleville Branch of St. John Ambulance was held in St. John rooms, 294 Front St., and a charter was presented to the committee to operate a branch of the Order of St. John here in the Belleville district. This area was previously an administrative area of the provincial headquarters in Toronto. The charter was presented by Lt.-Col. I. M. R. Sinclair, OBE, MC, DSO, Provincial Commissioner for St. John Ambulance.

The committee is as follows: Dr. J. S. Stock, chairman, Dr. K. M. Douglas, vice-chairman, Dr. K. M. Douglas, past treasurer, George L. Tripp; public relations officer, William Turner; secretary, Wm. James; nursing liaison, Mrs. B. Haynes, nursing supervisor, and cadet division, Mrs. C. D. Ashley, Provincial Cadet Officer.

The order of St. John, the world's oldest existing welfare organization, dates back some 800 years, and has continuously served the Canadian people since the latter part of the nineteenth century. Today, as always, the tradition of St. John is carried on, and the Canadian branch of St. John Ambulance regularly conducts first-aid courses in hundreds of communities and instructs thousands of people yearly in the proper method of administering to the sick and injured. In addition to these far reaching courses, St. John is responsible for first-aid training for the civil defence.

First aid promptly and efficiently rendered at the scene of an accident could save the life of, or minimize the suffering of a member of one's own family, a friend, or fellow workmen. The St. John Ambulance first-aid course consists of a minimum of six two hour weekly instruction periods, equally divided into one hour lecture and one hour demonstration and practice session.

The instruction is provided by a medical doctor or a certified first-aid instructor, at a nominal cost of $3 per person for the complete course. The "safety conscious" attitude that develops from taking this training often helps to prevent accidents in the home, on the highway, and in the office and factory. No one can afford the loss of income, or the expense, that might result from an accident.

Anyone over seventeen years of age is eligible to enrol for the first aid training course, while for those under seventeen years of age, simplified courses are available.

A copy of the latest edition of St. John Ambulance text book "First Aid to the Injured" and a triangular bandage is provided for each student for study, and practice during the course, and for reference purposes afterwards. In this course the students will learn by listening, by lecturing and "by doing it yourself," how to properly care for any kind of injury. It will learn how to give artificial respiration to victims of drowning, electric shock, suffocation or asphyxiation from any cause. It will learn how to treat burns, as well as developing the skill to treat a great variety of other less serious injuries like sprained ankles, bruises, cuts, stings, poison ivy contamination, foreign objects in the eye, embedded fish hooks, food poisoning, to care for a person who has suffered a broken bone, to control bleeding and prevent infection developing in a wound.

EXAMINATION CONDUCTED

At the end of the course an examination is conducted by a physician. The test consists of a number of questions on the theory of first aid as well as the proper treatment of an imaginary injury.

Successful students receive a certificate or higher award in accordance with the following scale:

1st examination, certificate; 2nd examination, voucher; 3rd examination, medallion and 4th and subsequent examinations, labels.

It is recommended that a refresher course be attended at least once in every three years, and if the student does not pass an examination for a five year period, his previous record is declared invalid, except when a medical excuse is given.

For any further information, write or phone the local branch secretary, William James, R.R. 1, Belleville. Telephone Woodland 2-5342.

District Rotary Governor Pays Official Club Visit

"Put your thoughts into action"—is the challenge which "Rotarians must meet" said Edgar L. Ruggles, District Governor of Rotary International, at the weekly dinner meeting of Belleville Rotarians yesterday noon. He was guest of the annual district governor's visit, the president of the Bird-Arena Club. Invited guests of local Rotarians to remember the high ideals of international Rotary in placing "Service above Self." Cautioning his listeners that the literal meaning of communities, the graduate civil engineer from University of Saskatchewan urged them to constantly appraise their local projects to ensure that the club's capacity for active community service was not being dissipated on fields where other organizations or groups had adequate programs.

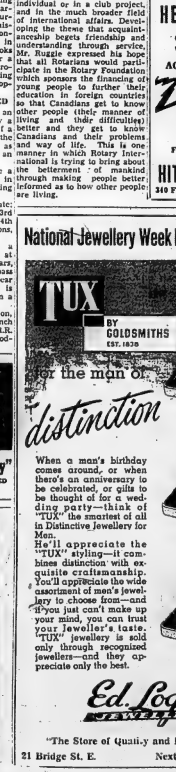
The speaker, the father of three, featured at the beginning of his address to compliment Virgil James, editor of the Belleville Rotogram, weekly circular, as having one of the most outstanding records of Rotary bulletin in the district, which includes southern Ontario. He called attention to illustrate the confidence which Rotarians have placed in the reliability and accuracy of Mr. James' reporting.

Mr. Ruggles gave a brief history of Rotary International, mentioning its humanitarian aims started by men who were not satisfied with the social conditions existing throughout the countries and were prepared to take action to alleviate these problems. He suggested that those present remember the boldness is a vital part of Rotary and apply this characteristic in planning Rotary work, meaningful to both themselves and their community.

QUEENS FOR EXERCISES

The speaker, in his quiet, yet forceful manner, outlined the importance of attendance by conscientious Rotarian—amongst his fellow club members, emphasizing those who were with from day to day, in community groups, either as an individual or in a club project and in the much broader field of international service. Developing the theme that acquaintanceship begets friendship and understanding through service, Mr. Ruggles expressed his hope that all Rotarians would participate in the Rotary Foundation which assists the financing of young people to further their education in foreign countries so that Canadians get to know other people (their manner of living and their difficulties) better and they get to know Canadians and their problems and way of life. This in a manner in which Rotary International is trying to bring about the betterment of mankind through making people better informed as to how other people are living.

Joe Demeza introduced the speaker, a Cobourg resident, and Harold Mott made the motion of thanks. President Jack Vanover made a presentation of a traveller's kit to Mr. Ruggle to commemorate his visit to the Belleville Rotary. A sing-song was held during the meeting with Morgan Flanagan leading and Ernie Burnham at the piano, Robert G. Lanning was awarded a birthday cake. Herold Mott introduced the guest, Mac McLean, an ex-member, and Mr. Ruggles expressed their wishes for a "bon voyage" as Mr. McLean is moving to Toronto, by Jack Vanover presenting a red carnation to the former Rotary president. Jim Casey opened the meeting with grace.



5-Point Buck Runs Into Car Near Kaladar

JOHNSTOWN — Mr. and Mrs. Everett Clapp, of Johnstown, were motoring home from Tamworth on Friday night, between 10.30 and 11 p.m. on highway No. 7 between Kaladar and Actinolite, when suddenly it seemed from no-where a five-point buck appeared before the headlights of their car. Apparently bewildered, the deer turned and disappeared from view, only to bound in front of their automobile again.

From the resulting collision there was some $300 damage to their new Ford.

The buck was thought to be stabbed, but while Mr. and Mrs. Clapp were trying to flag down a truck on the highway, it ambled off into the bush. The game warden looked for the deer, but with no success.

Ironically, Mr. Clapp, along with some of his friends, spent a fruitless week hunting for these animals several weeks ago.

Minor Hockey

The Red Wings went on a scoring spree in one of four squirt hockey games played prior to the Junior "B" fixture at Memorial Arena last night, whipping the Barons 15-4.

J. Blakely paced the Wing scorers with five goals while two each went to T. Herrington and G. Robinson. Single goals were divided among T. Mullen, P. Peoples, R. Tomazos, D. Chambers, J. Beatly and K. Mullen. Baron goals were scored by G. Sharp, J. McKenzie, D. Herrington and D. Hunter.

Gerry Lague came up with a three-goal hat trick to give the Rangers a 5-1 victory over the Bruins. Philip Denyes and Rickey Brown scored the other Ranger goals. K. MacDonald tallied for the Browns.

Maple Leafs squeezed by the Bruins 4-3 with Mike Smith and H. Wishart accounting for all the winners' goals. Smith scored three while Wishart bagged the other two. Stephen Caseiman lifted two goals for the Bruins with A. Bradley and S. Muir getting the others.

Black Hawks took a 7-3 victory over the Canadiens. Mike Joyce and Wilson Hall scored a pair of goals each. S. Miller, I. Samston and Randy Cooney lifted one apiece. Canadiens went to Ron Hanna, Paul Goodman and Ron McGillivray.

Lively Election Campaign Starts At Deseronto

A hotly contested election in the town of Deseronto is expected on Monday, as there are contests for the positions of mayor, reeve and council.

Contesting the mayoralty are incumbent Harry Sweetman and Ross E. Neal, former town auditor. The reeveship will be contested by the present office holder H. F. Alford and former reeve and mayor A. S. Walker.

Qualifying to run as councillors are H. Stubbs, H. Howard, C. Gill, A. Marks, A. Cockerham, John Neal, Percy Knight, Jack Spence, Jack Therrien, S. McAllister, Jerry Lott and Morris Detlor.

The hot contest in the East Hastings county town is the outcome of dissension within council ranks earlier in the year which saw the resignation of Mayor Dr. D. C. McVicker and later Mayor A. S. Walker.

HILLIER W. I.

HILLIER — The Hillier W. I. held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Westerhof with a good attendance.

Due to the absence of the president, Mrs. Arthur Wesley, speaker, took the chair, and conducted the meeting. Greetings were extended the ladies.

Mrs. D. Boyle read the correspondence which was duly considered and a motion carried to remember the confined in the community. The Hillier W. I. pledge in full will be carried this and the balance of money will be sent in favor of Prince Edward County Hospital fund.

Mrs. Fenlind was asked to replenish the card box and present bill. Plans to visit the County Home for their Christmas meeting were completed.

The meeting was under the direction of Historical convener, Mrs. A. Wannamaker, who introduced Mrs. H. J. Lewis, guest speaker. Mrs. Lewis visited last year her native home in Wales she was the first member of the first W.I. in Wales and was able to bring a wealth of knowledge of the W.I. work there. Much historic information was imparted concerning Wales which was most interesting especially learning by first hand the history of their W.I. work.

Mrs. Wannamaker thanked Mrs. Lewis for her splendid talk on behalf of the group.

Mrs. Wannamaker also reported on prices paid for household commodities in 1822 and taken from her grandfather's journal give the price range of hogs sold in 1859-71 which brought $6. per 100 pounds live weight; apples were sold at 20 cents per bushel; oats 43 cents per bushel; women's fine shoes $1.50 per pair; farm laborers received 75 cents per day and board while domestic help received $4. per month with board; interest on mortgages ranged from 8 per cent to 10 per cent.

The sales table and towel exchange was well patronized.

Mrs. Morley Wannamaker gave a reading. Mrs. Jordan won the bird contest, put on by president.

Mrs. Westerhof, Mrs. R. Eggleton, Mrs. Morley Wannamaker served refreshments. Those contributing to success of the evening's entertainment were thanked by Mrs. Sherman Foster.

Pretty Persian Lamb

By ALICE ALDEN

Very different from the Persian lamb is the supple, silky lightweight African broadtail Persian lamb that has made this fur popular all over again. The new coats are so youthfully styled that lamb has become the fur for the young, smart woman. Instead of for the mature woman who wanted a warm fur coat without too much consideration for styling. This one goes smartly through the afternoon into an after-dark setting. Framing the face is a ranch mink collar.

Politics Attracts 220-Pound Widow Who Worked on Roads

SUDBURY (CP)—A 220-pound widow who used to work with road gangs has jumped into politics to run for reeve in nearby Rayside, a rural township of 3,500.

She's Mrs. Malvina Labine, 65, and one of her campaign issues is the condition of township ditches.

"They use light, dusty sand in the culverts," Mrs. Labine said in an interview. "I built my own with my own two hands and I used muck—it costs more than sand but it stays where you put it."

A leader of township women, she sees no reason why she can't lead the men.

"They'll find they can't kick me around where I don't want to go. I'm too heavy for that. I've never been on the school board—I had to quit school myself when I was 13—but I think I know something about kids. In 27 years I had 20 kids."

BUSY WOMAN

While rearing her children Mrs. Labine operated a farm and market garden, kept a dairy herd, worked at times as a laborer on township roads and as a caterer "cooked sit-down meals for 300 at a stag."

When her husband died 18 years ago she found herself in debt and "ready to do anything for honest money. So now I can do anything."

When the farmhouse became too small for her growing family, Mrs. Labine and three of her daughters built a new one with $148 worth of advice and assistance from a carpenter. They finished the two-storey, eight-room structure in 30 days.

Founder and first president of a women's organization in the township's village of Astida, she helped get a new Roman Catholic parish established and led a fund drive for a rectory that was built before the campaign was a year old.

OPPOSES TEACHING

Her opponent is Reeve Tyne Castonguay, a former school teacher who is finishing his first term of office.

"He may be well educated, but it doesn't take a bachelor of arts degree to be reeve. It's the way you treat people that counts. The speeches—they won't bother me. I just get up and let 'er go."

If Mrs. Labine rides to victory, it will be over the milky way of human kindness—rather than the dirt road she claims is travelled by some politicians.

She once got 500 loaves of bread at a bargain price and delivered them at cost to her neighbors.

ALWAYS AROUND CHILDREN

Born on a township farm, Mrs. Labine has spent all her life with children. In 1906 she came to Sudbury to work as a children's nursemaid. Five years later she married blacksmith Joseph Labine and by 1938 had 20 children of her own.

Nine years ago, with only two of her 16 surviving children still at home, she became foster mother to a six-year-old girl. Now there are eight wards of the children's aid society living with Mrs. Labine and her grown-up son and daughter.

"It was quiet around the house with no children around," says Mrs. Labine.

Women's Activities

ROSE HALL W.A.

HILLIER — The Rose Hall W.A. members met in the Sunday School Hall on the evening of November 13th with a splendid attendance. The president, Mrs. A. Wannamaker, welcomed the group and opened the meeting. Psalm 33 was read, silent prayer and Lord's prayer and thoughts on Remembrance Day were also given.

Mrs. Channel gave the financial report and different items of business were duly arranged.
